We hold this truth to be self evident, that all men are created equal, but in order to leave no possible room for doubt about it we insist upon the dress coat at all formal affairs.

Rapid growth of the finger nails is a sign of good health.

Snakeskin.

When the snake sheds his skin the skin of the eye comes off with the rest. Transparent in most parts, the skin over the snake's eye is perfectly transparent.

Oldest Apple Orchard.

What is said to be the oldest apple orchard in America is in the center of the ancient town of Manzano, eighteen miles southwest of Estancia, Torrence county, N. M., and forty-five miles southeast of Albuquerque as the crow flies. Many of the trees are more than six feet in circumference, but are still fruitful and vigorous, although neglected for generations.

Mustard.

Mustard used to be eaten whole and dry instead of in paste made from mustard flour.

The Cold Spots.

The "cold spots," meaning thereby the surface areas peculiarly susceptible to cold, are principally the nape of the neck and the lower part of the back of the head, the front of the abdomen and the shins.

English Trout Fishing.

In most English rivers trout fishing begins on March 1, but in Suffolk and Essex trout may not be caught before April 10.

The Anemone.

The anemone is named from two Greek words signifying "the wind flower," an allusion to the habit of this plant of living in an exposed situation. According to one classical legend, the flower originally sprang from the blood of Adonis. According to another, it sprang from the tears of Venus at the death of one of her many lovers.

Ex-Governor of Wyoming Endorses Pe-ru-na.

As a Catarrh Remedy. As An Excellent Tonic.

"I have such confidence in prominent personal friends who have used and endorsed Peruna that I feel justified in assuming that it is a valuable remedy for catarrh and an excellent general tonic."—
John W. Hoyt.
Victoria Flats.
Washington, D. C.

The Magnificent State Capitol Building of Wyoming.

Responsible People.

PEOPLE occupying positions of high responsibility and trust are always very busy people.

They have little or no time to devote to side issues.

It is therefore very rare that such people are willing to write testimonials for anything.

Then again there is a natural diffidence in giving public endorsement to any commercial enterprise on the part of people who are much before the public.

Rare Endorsement.

It is thus that it is very rare that public officials, like governors, congressmen, consuls, senators, etc., give public endorsement to a proprietary medicine.

It is therefore a great triumph that Peruna has the unqualified endorsement of so many men in official position.

Scores of public officials of national reputation have enthusiastically declared in favor of Peruna in public print over and over again.

A Startling Fact.

There is no way to account for such a startling fact as this except that Peruna has extraordinary unusual merit.

After all, people high and low, are constituted very much alike.

Natural Enthusiasm.

When a person has been really helped in getting rid of some chronic malady, after other things have failed, it is quite natural for enthusiasm to lead people to make a statement of the fact.

For great services, gratitude is natural.

This is the only way that it can possibly be explained why it is that so many persons prominent in public, diplomatic and social life give testimony for Peruna.

Actual Benefit.

Peruna promptly relieves.

This is the explanation.

Catarrh is a disease difficult to relieve.

A great many of the doctors fail to relieve it.

Gratitude Results.

A few bottles of Peruna cure a chronic malady of many years standing and it is almost impossible to repress the natural feelings of gratitude which spring up.

Catarrh of Head and Throat.

Mr. Joseph Reiss, 3424 N. 14th street, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I had catarrh of the head and throat, but through the use of five bottles of Peruna and two bottles of Manalin I was cured.

"I think that Peruna is the best tonic that I have ever used and I would advise all catarrhal sufferers to use Peruna."

Catarrhal Fever.

Mrs. W. K. Good, Broadway, Va., writes:

"When I was fifteen years old I had catarrhal fever and for nine years I have had catarrh of the head.

"Through neglect it went to my throat and nose. After consulting you I used Peruna for four months as directed, and I am entirely well and have my natural health.

"I cannot praise Peruna too highly. It will do all that it is recommended to do."

Pe-ru-na Relieves Catarrh.

Mr. L. Clifford Figg, Jr., 2929 E. Marshall St., Richmond Va., writes:

"As soon as I get a cold I send for a bottle of Peruna, and it soon drives it out of my system.

Despaired of Being Cured.

"For several years I was not entirely well, and despaired of ever being cured, as I had used numerous remedies that my friends advised. I doctored for two years without any improvement.

A Last Resort.

"As a last resort I tried Peruna, and am pleased to say that in a short time I was completely cured.

"I have not been troubled for over a year. I am pleased to endorse Peruna, as it saved me a world of suffering."

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms — the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a simple bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

Depository ..... JOHN S. COOK & CO.
Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 160 acres (80 acres) of some of the best proven mines, land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims situated two and one-half miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Laguna) the richest in the world; and the Broadway and Beauty lode claims situated three and one-half miles north of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bond and Daisy Mines near the Zeon group in the Diamondfield section second only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has outcroppings equal to anything in Goldfield, showing fine surface values and without doubt rightly named, "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and will with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

A GOOD LOCAL AGENT WANTED

Partners of the Tide

...By... JOSEPH C. LINCOLN, Author of "Cap'n Eri"

Copyright, 1905, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

They might have followed him then, but Captain Edward Taylor came up. A man of experience alongshore and one of the town's selectmen, his words carried weight. "Don't let him stir," he commanded. "Dynamite boxed in as he's got it in that hold is sure to explode, and he knows it. The least shock 'll do it if the fire doesn't. Come back to the hill. Ex, you'll have to go with us."

That settled it. Fighting, pleading, swearing, Captain Titcomb was carried by main force along the road toward the hill by the bridge. Long tongues of flame were spouting from the Diving Belle's main hatch. Up in the village the schoolhouse bell was ringing.

"Don't let anybody go near the wharf," ordered Captain Taylor. "Warn 'em as fast as— What's that?"

There was a scuffle on the road below, two or three shouts, the sound of running feet.

Ira Sparrow rushed up the hill. His voice trembled.

"He's got through! We didn't see him in time!" he panted.

"Who?" asked several voices.

"Brad Nickerson. I'm afraid he's goin' off to the schooner."

Captain Titcomb gave a spring that almost cleared him. The tears came into his eyes.

"For the Lord's sake," he begged, "are you goin' to let that boy kill himself?" Then, bending forward, he shouted: "Brad, Brad! Don't go nigh her for your life! The dynamite's aboard!"

The crowd was still. Every one listened. There was no reply, but they heard the rattle of oars in a dory's rowlocks.

* * * * * * *

When Bradley came out of the kitchen after the "burglar" had made his confession he shook hands with Captain Eri, bade the latter a laughing good night and went up to his chamber. It was a long time before he fell asleep. He heard a steady hum of conversation from the old maids' room and knew the sisters were going over the astonishing events of the evening. Once Miss Tempy came to his door to ask in a whisper if he knew just how old Captain Titcomb was. "Oh, about forty-eight or fifty," he answered, smiling to himself.

He had fallen into a doze and was dreaming a confused medley in which the sisters and he were chasing Sam Hammond from one room to another, while Gus locked the doors in front of them, when Clara's scream of "Fire!" rang through the house. He sat up in bed, not sure whether the cry was real or a part of the dream.

But the next moment he heard footsteps on the stairs. "Fire!" screamed Clara, rushing through the hall. "Oh, Brad, get up quick! The Diving Belle's all on fire!"

He was cool, surprisingly cool, as it seemed to him, when he thought of it afterward. His first move was to run to the window, open it and lean out. At first he saw nothing but the black night, the stars and the lights on the horizon. He noticed, too, how salty sweet the wind smelled as it blew from the flats at the foot of the hill. Then he saw the puff of flame on the schooner in the harbor.

Barefooted, bareheaded, dressed only in his trousers and shirt, but struggling into his jacket as he ran, he sprang down the stairs. The sisters caught at his arm and cried something or other, but he did not heed them. Clara called after him that Captain Titcomb had gone to the schooner. He stopped for an instant to ask her to rouse some of the neighbors and send them to the wharf. As he came out into the yard he noticed vaguely that there was a light in one of the rooms of the Baker cottage.

He took the same route that his partner had taken, but made better time. It was evident that the fire had been seen by others, for as he crossed the bridge the schoolhouse bell began to ring. It came to him like a flash, but too late, that he might have saved half the distance by taking one of the skiffs in the inlet and rowing straight out past the point.

There was a shouting crowd on the hill above the bridge, but he could see no boats about the Diving Belle and wondered why. Part of the crowd on the hill came running to meet him.

"Who's that?" shouted some one—Ira Sparrow, he thought.

Bradley did not answer. "Who is it?" cried Ira again. "Stop!"

The junior partner did not stop. "Squealer" Wixon got in his way and caught at his jacket. Bradley tripped him up, jumped the rail fence by the roadside and ran across the fields. He heard "Squealer" shouting his name.

The wharf was empty. Not a man was there. He reached the stringpiece, caught at the painter of one of the dories alongside, and, pulling the boat toward him, jumped in. Luckily the oars were lying on the thwarts. He picked them up and, with his knife, cut the painter.

And then he heard the captain's voice calling to him from the hill: "Brad, Brad! Don't go nigh her for your life! The dynamite's aboard!"

Like his partner, Bradley had forgotten the dynamite. Mechanically he put the oars in the rowlocks and sat motionless. The captain had stopped shouting. It was very still. He heard the bell ringing in the distance and the gurgle of the tide among the piles under the wharf. A whiff of smoke from the Diving Belle blew across his face, and he turned and looked at the schooner.

He remembered reading in the Boston Herald a month or so before of a wrecking vessel that had caught on fire off Long Island somewhere. She, too, had dynamite on board, and her skipper and the mate had saved her by throwing the explosive overboard. But they were on deck when the fire started. He looked at his own vessel, the schooner that he and the captain had longed for and worked for and petted like a baby. Then he set his teeth and began rowing.

The crackle of burning timber was plain as he scrambled over the Diving Belle's rail. The flames were pouring up from under the covering of the main hatch, and the smoke was rolling thick from the cabin companion. He would have given anything for an ax, but the only one on board was by the wood box in the galley below. He caught up the boat hook that was in its rack by the bulwark and clung to the hatch.

He put the point of the hook under the heavy cover and began prying the latter loose. It gave a little, slipped back and then pulled over the cleats. With the hook he got a firm grip upon its edge and turned it over with a clatter. The smoke belched up in a cloud, but as it cleared he fell upon his knees and peered below.

The fire was almost amidships, among some loose planks and an empty tar barrel. These were burning fiercely, and the beams of the deck were blazing above them. But the dynamite chest was farther forward, beyond the bulkhead, which was only beginning to burn, and he could see there was just a chance of reaching it if he was quick. With the dynamite once out of the way help from the shore might save the schooner. He drew a long breath and put his hands on the edges of the hatch.

Then he heard a faint voice calling for help.

He thought for a moment that he must be going crazy, but the voice called again. "Help!" it wailed. "Somebody help!"

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me only for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Gold.

Although the output of gold constantly increases, yet the value of the precious metal does not fall.

A Wicked Worm.

The worm Testudo navalis has cost shipowners more money than all the wrecks that ever happened. Especially in tropical seas this worm destroys all wooden vessels.

The Teeth.

A few drops of tincture of myrrh in a glass of tepid water, used as a gargle, will help to sweeten the breath. Serupulous care of the teeth and of the digestion will generally correct impure breath at once.

Greek Theaters.

During the entr'actes of the Greek theaters boys sell dates, figs, bread and wine in the seats.

Paris' Great Arch.

The grand triumphal arch in Paris, begun by Napoleon, is 147 feet by 75 feet at its base and 162 feet high. The central archway is 95 feet high and 48 feet wide. The inner walls are inscribed with the names of 384 generals and 96 victories.

Gold and Silver.

Gold was known much earlier than silver and was at first the cheaper of the two metals, but the price of silver was lowered by the discovery of silver mines in Cilicia, Spain, and Laurium.

Parchment Paper.

Parchment paper may best be softened by spreading or rubbing with or dipping into a mixture of glycerin and calcium chloride, which will affect not merely the surface, but enter the pores. The distinctive indifferent character of the paper is not altered as by oil, which causes a stiffening of the paper, only to be softened by heat.

OTTAWA, LARDER AND OPASITIKA LAKES SYNDICATE

CONTROLLING 2,800 ACRES

A syndicate is hereby formed for the purpose of acquiring by purchase for the sum of fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000.00) and one hundred thousand shares in a Company to be hereinafter formed at the discretion of the subscribers, with an authorized capital of One Million Dollars, divided into One Million Shares, at par value of One Dollar each, to acquire the mining rights in certain lands in the District of Nipissing, Province of Ontario, and also in the Province of Quebec.

In order to raise the sum quickly, five hundred and fifty syndicate shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars per share, will be sold with the understanding that each syndicate share of One Hundred Dollars will entitle the holder to one thousand shares, par value One Dollar, fully paid-up and non-assessable stock in the Company, when the Company is organized.

This special offer applies only to the first five hundred and fifty shares, and no more will be sold at that figure.

Fifty-six of these claims are situated directly opposite Larder Lake, just over the Quebec boundary, and are composed of three and one-half square miles adjoining the Lake Opasitika and include the height of land ridge.

Nine claims of this property are situated north-east of Larder Lake and adjoining the now famous Dr. Reddick claims, and five claims are situated to the south of the Lake on the Juno Creek and next to Mr. Fitzpatrick's claims. He was one of the original prospectors in that locality. As gold is being found on claims in this district which assay $6,000.00 per ton, this certainly is an opportunity to get in on the ground floor, as the company will be capitalized at $1,000,000, of par value one dollar per share.

These shares will be taken up quickly, and as soon as same are subscribed for, the syndicate will meet and choose from among themselves a directorate and decide on the future operations of the Company.

All subscriptions should be accompanied by check, payable to the order of Messrs. James K. Paisley and D. O'Connor, Jr., who will act as trustees for the syndicate.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent one one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sure Cure for Sciatica.

Sciatica is really inflammation of the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body.

This passive inflammation is the product of a run-down condition, and in every case you may be sure the nerves are worn down fine.

The pain is the cry of the nerves for more food—for richer, redder blood.

Rubbing on a greasy liniment can't help very much—you must treat the blood and rebuild the nervous system.

This can be promptly done with Ferrozone.

No builder of nerve force is more powerful.

No tonic so quickly fortifies the muscular system, imparts such strength, such endurance and vigor.

Any traces of Uric Acid and rheumatic poison are quickly driven out by Ferrozone. The fowered condition of the system is changed into a reserve of vigor that defies further attacks of Sciatic.

Marvellous in its preconstructive and rebuilding power, quick to give relief, absolutely sure to cure,—where can you find a better treatment than Ferrozone? Sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes; try Ferrozone.

SAVED BY CLEAN HANDS.

Thrilling Incident of the Days of the Paris Commune.

Frederic Villiers' "Peaceful Personalities and Warriors Bold" contains a striking and somewhat bloody tale of the terrible days of the Paris commune. An unnamed Englishman tells the story of himself and Archibald Forbes, the great war correspondent: "There was a good deal of fighting in the streets at the time, for the Versailles troops were pressing hard upon the communists. One afternoon, in a street not far from where we were sitting, I was rounded up by a party of rebels and made to work erecting a barricade, when I found another Englishman pressed for the same business. It was Forbes, the war correspondent. We chummed together at our distasteful work, which we were compelled to do or risk being shot for spies.

"Presently the barricade was attacked by the Versaillieists, and the communists, after a sharp fight, were driven helter skelter down the street. Forbes and I ran with them. Presently he shouted, 'Dive into that wineshop on the left!' I immediately did so, and Forbes, catching hold of me, pushed me through a shop to a back yard, where we found a pump. 'Now,' said he, 'wash your hands quickly and let me have a turn.' After our ablutions he hurried me back into the street. That simple incident of washing my hands saved my life, and I always remember it with gratitude.

"We had hardly gained the street before we were roughly arrested by the victorious troops, who would not listen to any explanation, and were hurried along with many other prisoners till we came to a blank wall, where a halt was made. About a dozen of us were made to stand in a line with our backs to the wall. 'Hands up!' cried the officer, in charge.

"The poor devils who had soiled hands were told to remain. Forbes and I were the only men who were allowed to fall out, for our hands showed no sign of barricade work or soil of powder upon them. Before we realized what had happened the rest were riddled with bullets. It was a ghastly sight."

A COMICAL LAWSUIT.

Odd Revenge of the Whimsical Count De Lauraguais.

The Count de Lauraguais was one of the most singular characters of a whimsical time. He was full of oddities and had a reckless spirit of daring. The boldness of his language and action once drew upon him the displeasure of Louis XVI., who banished him from Paris, but he came back on a festal day and was seen in the very face of the court walking about a race course. The king winked at the escapade. Such a culprit was incorrigible.

But one of the most absurd of his antics had to do with the Prince D., a very dull courtier, against whom he had a grudge. One day the count replied very gravely to a physician, asking if it were possible for a person to die of ennui.

"Such a thing," said the doctor, "would be very singular and very rare."

"But what I want to know," said the count, "is whether it would be possible."

"Well," answered the doctor, "a long continued state of ennui might induce some disease, such as consumption, and in that sense it might cause the patient's death."

On this the consultation was written down and signed at the count's request and the fee paid.

Next he went to an advocate and asked whether he could make a legal complaint against a man who by any means whatsoever had formed a design against his life. The advocate assured him that there was not the least doubt of it and in his turn signed a declaration. Armed with these documents, the Count de Lauraguais instituted criminal proceedings against Prince D., who, he declared, had formed the design of tiring him to death!

Of course the suit ended in laughter, but he had had the satisfaction of telling the world how his enemy impressed him.

The Art of Skip Reading.

Skip reading is an accomplishment of our own time. An ordinary man or woman of today can extract all the requisite information out of a newspaper in less than five minutes by the exercise of this new sense for it is little else than this. The eyes race down a column, pick up instinctively an essential word here and there, and the brain fills in the intervals intelligently, producing a precis which is sufficient for the purpose.—London Graphic.

—The Kirkfield lift lock opening seems to have disarranged the schedule of many of our local boats. The Otonabee, however, is not affected.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds Strengthens; it brings real, genuine heart help.

If you would have Strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen those Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

50% IN ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 760 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Kadamacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum value of millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fifteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 50 to 300 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 50 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs on our ore values are shown ranging from $16.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, show values up to $800 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of mining our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore, similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ore egoes $9.00 to $13.00 per ton; our ore averages $20.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. The par value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $40.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our mill shows a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $2.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares is Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to the properties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purpose mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

RICHEST MAN IN THE WITNESS BOX

J. D. Rockefeller Takes the Stand While Secret Men Guard Against Possible Assault on Him by Granks---What Fine Should be Imposed.

Chicago, July 6.—With his attorneys and eleven officers of the Standard Oil Company, including Wm. Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller, the so-called richest man in the world, faced a federal court room filled with attorneys and spectators and deperadoes today. He will be submitted to an examination conducted in person by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, who has it in his power to hold the oil king for contempt of court.

It was believed by those interested in the case that when Mr. Rockefeller raised his hand and accepted the oath he would tell all he knows concerning the financial relations between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the holding company of New Jersey.

Whether he will lay bare any of the financial secrets will be determined when Judge Landis propounds his questions.

FEAR AN ATTACK.

Marshals lay hid unobserved throughout the building, while Government secret service agents were also stationed about, so as to provide against any possible attempt to injure Mr. Rockefeller.

The final acceptance by Mr. Rockefeller of the subpoena issued for him by Judge Landis and his appointment to appear in court today marks the culmination of an exciting series of events in Standard Oil litigation and the final chapter of a spectacular search for the oil magnate.

After a hair drought battle before a jury in Judge Landis' court, a verdict was returned finding the Standard Oil Company guilty of violating the anti-rebate laws, and it was then incumbent on the judge to assess a fine against the corporation, it being within his discretion to place the penalty as high as $28,000,000.

WHY PUT IN BOX.

Judge Landis after reading over the entire testimony, covering thousands of typewritten pages, concluded he could reach no satisfactory decision as to the amount of the fine unless he knew positively how large the resources of the defendant company and whether it is owned by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Judge Landis found there was no alternative but to call upon the officers of both companies.

The greatest difficulties was experienced in reaching John D. Rockefeller, president of the New Jersey corporation, with a subpoena. The search was prosecuted for more than a week by scores of deputy marshals as dexterously over the entir eportion of the United States. Mr. Rockefeller was finally found at Pittsburg, Miss.

Canadian Press Well Represented

These Who Visited Kirkfield to Describe Opening of Canal.

On Saturday one day a crowd as ever set out for a day of duty and pleasure combined took the steamer Sovereign from Lindsay to report the opening of the grand new lift lock. The party consisted of press correspondents from all the leading newspapers of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. They were: Messrs J. A. Garvin, Ottawa Journal; Ed. Granger, Toronto Globe; Chas. Blue, Toronto Globe; Thos. King, Toronto World; T. Findley, Ottawa Free Press; — Noakes, Ottawa Citizen; M. Sauvelle, La Patrie; E. Cinq Mars, La Presse; P. Brousseau, Le Temps; W. A. Orangemen Attend All Saints' Church

Last night George St. was crowded with people who gathered to see the big Orange turn out from Orange turn out from Orange Hall on Simcoe street, to All Saints' church on their annual church parade. The church was packed to the doors and Rev. Mr. Major, the rector, preached a stirring and patriotic speech. On their return to the hall after service was over the procession was over the length of two city blocks. After the 57th Regiment Band, clad in their private and natty uniform marched the Nassau Boys of Jubilee Lodge Prentice Boys, No. 457 and the local lodge of True Blues. Then came Diamond L.O.L. No. 80, J. W. Bell Memorial L.O.L., Jubilee L.O.L. No. 178 Smith, Col. Sanderson L.O.L. No. 321 Dawser's Corners, Wellington L.O.L., No. 457 Nassau. The members marched two by two clad in their colors and regalia.

Quinlan Pitched Record Game on Saturday

Clever Local Twirler Scores a No-hit Game at Riverside Park Against Port Hope---Peterborough Wins Good Ball Game.

A record for baseball was created Saturday at Riverside Park, when "Prune" Quinlan the clever pitcher for the locals, clearly demonstrated that as a ball artist, he has no equal in this city, and that Surplus and other crackerjack twirlers that have performed here, have nothing on him, when he performed the difficult feat of pitching a no-hit game against the heavy-hitting Port Hope team. The game was a pitchers' battle from start to finish and fast for a balloon ascension of the locals in the fourth, when the Port Hopers scored their three runs. The local twirler would have scored a shut out. The game was replete with fast plays. Harry Burridge, the clever local catcher, gave great assistance to Quinlan and his fine throws to the bases kept the runners hugging the cushions like sticking plaster. Jack Conners no match, was there with his little bat and made the longest hit of the game. "Conny" Burns showed good judgment on the base and scored two of the locals' tallies, by his fast running. Callahan also did some good batting. Jimmy is clouting the ball hard this season. The whole team, with the exception of the blow-up in the fourth, played good snappy ball. Manager Johnston has strengthened up the weak places, and now has one of the best balanced teams that ever represented Peterborough, and judging by Saturday's game, the best in the Midland league. That the fans are beginning to appreciate the good work of the local team, was shown by the large crowd present, despite the threatening weather.

The game by innings:

Batteries—Quinlan and Burridge; Surplus and O'Neil.

THE NEW KIRKFIELD LIFT LOCK OPENED FOR CANADA'S TRADE

Postmaster-General Lemieux Amid Much Enthusiasm Opens the Great Steel Structure Over Which Grain Will Soon Be Carried to Atlantic Seaboard

The magnificent Kirkfield lift lock is now open and in perfect working order, and on Saturday for the first time on record Peterborough men and women travelled by steamer for Lindsay and Lake Simcoe. This huge structure completes another important stretch of the Trent Valley Canal.

At 7.20 many of Peterborough's leading citizens boarded the G. T. R. flyer for Lindsay. To this train were attached the Government private car conveying the Dominion Government officials and a C. P. R. car from Ottawa bringing the representatives of the leading Canada's leading newspapers. Among those boarding the Peterborough station were: Hon. Senator G. A. Cox, Hon. J. R. Stratton, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., R. R. Hall, M.P. Superintendent McCallum, J. M. Kilbourne of the Lakefield Portland Cement Co. (who had come that night from Montreal on purpose for the trip), Col. H. C. Rogers, W. G. Morrow, A. B. Stratton, D. Shook of the Peterborough Lumber Co., Dr. Bradd, W. H. Meldrum, F. H. Dobbin, F. Yorkume, W. S. Davidson and others.

AT LINDSAY.

As the train pulled into the station at Lindsay it was greeted by cheers and the inspiring strains of music rendered by 45th Regiment Band. A heavy rain was falling and most of the visitors had to take cabs and busses to the wharf where quite a lively scene was presented. The wharves were busy, as some five or six steamers, from the Esturion down to steam launches lay alongside. The start for Kirkfield was somewhat delayed pending the arrival of the steamer Stony Lake. Shortly after 9 o'clock the Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster General, Hon. Mr. Coulter, Deputy Minister of Railway and Canals, Mr. Johnston, Manager of the Dominion Bridge Co., Montreal, Senator McHugh, Lindsay, Col. Sam Hughes, M.P., Lindsay, together with the canal officials and their guests boarded the steamer Stony Lake. The steamer Sovereign was comfortably filled. The steamer made good time along the stump lined Scugog River. The press correspondents were greatly pleased with the beauties of Sturgeon Lake. In due time Fenelon Falls was reached, when the steamers and their contents were locked through. Then Balsam Lake was passed and the canal proper, i.e. the long stretch, partly artificial, and partly composed of the Talbot River was passed. One beautiful view is seen as one travels up the Talbot River. The Government has erected a lofty and massive concrete bridge across the stream. The bridge, a single arch, is so high that on approaching by steamer all the country behind it is shut from view, except a vista of the river seen through the arch. About 1.30 Kirkfield was reached.

KIRKFIELD LIFT LOCK.

To enable our readers to fully appreciate the immensity of the gift lock, the following statistics are appended:

Height of lift, 48 ft. 6 in.

Dimensions of pressure — External diameter of cylinders, 8 ft. diameter of ram, 7 ft. 6 in.

Working stroke, 48 ft. 6 in.

Depth of water in chambers, 8 ft.

Height of guide tower, steel, 94 ft.

Dimensions of chambers, two each, 140 ft. long by 33 ft. wide.

Depth of chambers, 9 ft. 10 in.

Approximate weight of water in each chamber, 1,385 tons.

Cost of structure, exclusive of concrete walls and breast walls, $298,000.00

On arrival at the lock the steamer Stony Lake was quickly hoisted to the level of the further stretch of the canal which leads directly into beautiful Lake Simcoe.

THE SPEECHES.

There must have been from seven to ten thousand people lining the steep bank. For fully half a mile on each side of the lock were hundreds of carriages and horses that had conveyed the crowds from all parts Mr. McLaughlin, the defeated candidate, Victoria County, introduced the speakers. He remarked that the Kirkfield lift lock does not complete the Trent Valley canal. He then introduced Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. for West Peterborough. Mr. Hall on rising was greeted with great applause. He said in part; "The opening of the lift lock means much for the whole Midland District. It means that an eight foot water way connects Orillia and Barrie with Lindsay, Peterborough and other towns and villages lying in the Trent basin. Steamboat communication is opened up with nearly one thousand miles of shore line on lakes and rivers. This will be of immense advantage to farmer, manufacturer and merchant, but the advantage will be immeasurably increased when the waterway is opened at both ends. All that now remains to help one to complete this waterway is to canalize about 23 miles of the Trent River and 14 miles of the Severn River. Plans are well under way to make of an accomplished fact. We have running through the centre of Ontario as great a national freight rate regulator as the Erie Canal. Grain from Midland to Montreal can be brought by barge cheaper than by any other route. The building of a ship canal which will permit ocean liners to run to Fort William is a dawning view but the completion of this waterway will permit 750 ton barges from the west to the Atlantic seaboard. (Cheers).

Hon. Randolph, Postmaster General, was then greeted by hearty bursts of applause. He is a typical Frenchman and speaks with a marked accent. He, on behalf of himself and Mr. Coulter, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, thanked those present for the reception. An organist member of the Government and acting for Hon. Sir W. Laurier the cause here to the heart of the greatest English speaking province of Canada. His own ancestors passed through this part of the country on the first tour of inspection of the canal route. The city of Quebec will rejoice in the completion of this great canal. Champlain would have liked to live to see the completion of such a work as this canal. In the opening of this great lock we are climbing some 50 feet towards the level of the Georgian Bay, the great thoroughfare between the great Northern Lakes and the seaboard. The Trent Valley Canal was begun some 70 years ago, with a continuous waterway of 150 miles. The canal has connections reaching to Port Perry, and the beautiful town of Lindsay. Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Rosedale and Lovesick and other places were now connected by the canal. During the past fiscal year $2,775,000 was spent on the Trent Canal. The speaker then went on to speak of the Manchester Canal. Thomas Jefferson had said that the Erie Canal had been built a hundred years too soon and now the State of New York is spending $100,000,000 to enlarge that same canal. Peterborough pays $1.25 per ton on coal from Buffalo. It is delivered in Pittsburg for 15 cents a ton cheaper, and with the completion of the Trent Canal Peterborough will be saved $32,500 a year on coal freights alone. Mr. Kilbourne had $61 him his company would save $30,000 a year in freight by the T. V. Canal. He then deprecated the idea of militarianism in Canada, but said our efforts must be directed to the advance of trade. (Cheers).

Col. Sam Hughes, M.P., said this is hardly the place to enter into a discussion of the development of the country. He congratulated Mr. Lemieux on his succeeding Samuel Champlain who was one of the greatest men Canada had ever seen. With the completion of the canal grain can be shipped from Kirkfield at 3 cents a bushel to Montreal. He agreed with the last speaker on militarism that has been the curse of many countries. The time, however, has not yet arrived when we can do without a nucleus of a military men. He congratulated the Ghit Government on getting the the canal open and finishing up the good work set by their predecessors. (Laughter and applause).

Mr. George Grant, M.P. North Ontario, then gave a short address being followed by Mr. Christie, M.P. for South Ontario.

Hon. Senator Cox was then called on and drank applause. Mr. Cox expressed the pleasure it afforded him to be present and see the progress made in the canal work. The Hon. Mr. Lemieux had personally promised him that the canal was to be pushed to its earliest completion. Even with the completion of these canals there are still vast possibilities in the way of canal transportation by way of Canada's canals.

Hon. J. R. Stratton said that as on all public occasions the most important speakers are left to the last. The press has always endeavored to tell the truth. We hope and to see the T. V. C. opened. On behalf of the press he thanked the people for their attendance and hearty applause.

TO LAKE SIMCOE.

After the speeches the three steamers proceeded by canal to Beaverton, which little town nestles beautifully on the shores of lovely Lake Simcoe. After passing through many miles of swamp land canal Lake Simcoe was reached.

In due drime the pretty little town of Beaverton was reached. Here all aboard the steamers took the G. T. R. and arrived in Peterboro about 10.30 after a most pleasant and instructive trip.

Council in Favor of Living Statuary

London, July 7.—In spite of the representations made by the recent deputations from religious bodies, the Finance Committee of the London County Council decided yesterday to take no action in regard to the displays of "living statuary" at music halls.

The decision was only arrived at after strenuous opposition from several members of the committee, but the majority in its favor was a large one.

East Ward People Want Foot Bridge

Council Will be Asked to Give Relief to Those Crossing River.

At tonight's session of the city council a petition largely signed by residents of the East Ward will be presented. This petition is the outcome of a wholesale summonsing of people by C. P. R. detective McQuiry charged with trespassing on the C. P. R. tracks. A majority of these people are charged with walking on the C. P. R. bridge. Should this system of using the bridge as a short cut be stopped it will mean a very long walk as the next bridge over the river is at Hunter street. This will mean that those living in the 6th Ward who work at the Matthews Co.'s establishment, or in the vicinity of the C.P.R. will have a mile further to go at least. This brings up the correspondence between the C. P. R. and the city several years ago, when there was a proposition to have a foot bridge constructed alongside the railway bridge, similar to that at the Smith street bridge.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Japanese Fired by Uncle Sam

New York, July 7.—According to a March despatch to The Herald all of the Japanese working on the fortifications at Guam and the Cavite naval stations have been discharged, including experts who have been in the service for many years.

It is asserted by officers stationed at Manila, the Herald declares, that the orders for the action come direct from Washington and are peremptory.

When interviewed Rear-Admiral Hemphill and other naval officers denied that any extraordinary preparations were under way.

Women Will Gather a Mile of Cents

Topeka, Kan., July 7.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church at Lakin, Kansas, have conceived a novel plan of raising money with which to liquidate a mortgage. The object is to gather a mile in cents, and to do this there was given to each member a narrow strip of paper a foot in length. Each foot will hold just 16 cents.

It is calculated that when the mile of cents is received the sum of $844.48 will have been raised, the exact amount of the interest and principal of the mortgage at the time.

The Lakin women have figured out that it takes just 84,448 cents to make a mile if they are laid in a row.

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 780 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Radamacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum valu eof millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fofteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 30 to 200 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 10 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs on our ore values are shown ranging from $16.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, shows values up to $800.00 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of mining our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore, similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ore egoes $9.00 to $13.00 per ton; our ore averages $20.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. The par value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $40.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our will show a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $4.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares is Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to the properties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purpose mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Showing the Successive Changes in the English Language.

Few scholars even are aware of the great changes through which the English language has passed in successive centuries. Following are specimens of the Lord's Prayer as used at various periods in English history:

A. D. 1158—Fader ur heune, hale weide beith thi neune, cumin thi kuneriche, thy will beoth klon in heune and in erthe. The euryeu dawe briend, gif ous thilk dawe. And vorsif uer detters as vi yoursilfen ure dettours. And lene us nought into temtation, bot delyvor ous of, evel. Amen.

A. D. 1300—Fader ure in heavene, halewyn be thi name, thi kingdom come, they wille be done as in hevene and earthe. Ous urche days bred give us to daye. And forgive oure detes as we forgive oure dettoures. And lead us nor in temptation, bote delyveour us of yvil. Amen.

A. D. 1370—Oure fadir that art in heunes, hallowid be thi name, thi kingdom come to, be thi wille done in earthe as in heune, geve to us this oure breed oure other substance forgene to use oure dettis as we forgauen to ourdetouris, lede us not into temptation but delyeur us yvel. Amen.

A. D. 1524—O oure father which arte in heven, hallowed by thy name. Let thy kingdom come. They wyoll be fulfilled as well in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this daye oure dayly brede. And forgive us our trespaces even as we forgive our trespacers And lead us not into temptation, but delyver us from evell. Fyr thyne is the kindome and the power and the glorye for ever. Amen.

A. D. 1561—Our father which are in heaven, santified by thy name. Let thy kingdom come. Thy will be doue, as in heauen, in earth also. Give us today our superstantial bread. And forgive us our dettes as we forgive our detters. And lead us not into temptation. But delivere us from evil. Amen.

A. D. 1711—Our father which are in heauen, hallowed by thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heauen. Give us this day our dayley bread. And forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thyne is the kindome, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

If you can smile when your rival is praised, you have tact.

There is always a demand for the man who does his best.

As a rule, other people are the best judges of your importance.

Our opinions are like our visits—more appreciated when not forced upon people.

Drifting with the tide is a slow way to get anywhere; the tide flows both ways.

The aggressive man is usually only a polite way of referring to your quarrelsome friend.

Don't air your family skeleton. People know enough about it when it is kept locked in the closet.

The most aggravating kind of a person to live in the house with is one who always has his own way and yet goes around with an abused air.

Schopenhauer on Anonymity.

Anonymity is the refuge for all literary and journalistic rascality. It is a practice which must be completely stopped. Every article, even in a newspaper, should be accompanied by the name of its author, and the editor should be made strictly responsible for the accuracy of the signature. The freedom of the press should be thus far restricted, so that what a man publicly proclaims through the far sounding trumpet of the newspaper he should be answerable for, at any rate with his honor, if he has any, and, if he has none, let his name neutralize the effect of his words. Rascal, your name! For a man to wrap himself up and draw his hat over his face and then fall upon people who are walking about without any disguise—this is not the part of a gentleman; it is the part of a scoundrel and a knave.

Why Books Are Gilt Edged.

Have you ever wondered why the top edge of your books is sometimes gilded and the other edges left plain? The explanation of this is very simple. When a volume is placed on the shelf of a bookcase the top side is obviously more exposed to dust than the others. The object of the gilding therefore is to save the pages from being soiled, for were it not present the dust would cling to this top edge and the appearance of the book would to a great extent be spoiled.

Precept and Practice.

A child walking with his tutor stole an apple from a stall in the street. His instructor, having witnessed the theft, gave his young charge a severe lesson on the heinousness of stealing and then, snatching the apple from him, quietly ate it himself. This is the abridgment of the greater part of all history.

The Post of Being a Man.

Even though you be hard pressed and violently attacked by the enemy, still it is base to give way. Hold the post assigned to you by nature. You ask what this post is? It is that of being a man.

Fate.

"Marie, how does it happen that I just now saw you giving your sweetheart my cake and wine?"

"I don't understand it either, for I covered up the keyhole."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Ivory as a Tonic.

"Some physicians," said a druggist, "give an infusion of ground ivory and milk in the spring to stimulate and strengthen listless patients. It is a good remedy, for all I know to the contrary. Certainly it is an ancient one."

He opened a medical magazine and pointed to this quotation from Schroder's Zoology, a work published in 1637:

"Elephas (elephant)—His teeth are only used in medicine and vulgarly called ivory. The virtues: It cools and dryes, moderately binds cuts, strengthens the inward parts. It is good for the jaundice, it takes away pains and weakness of the stomach, it heals the epileptic, resists poysons, drives off spring melancholie. The dose is half a dram."

His Was Harder.

It was in a country tavern, where a newly arrived commercial traveler was holding forth.

"I'll bet my case of samples," he said, "that I've got the hardest name of any body in this room."

An old farmer in the background shifted his feet. "Ye will, will ye?" he drawled. "Waal, I'll have to take ye up. I'll bet $10 against your samples that my name'll beat yourn."

"Done," cried the salesman. "I've got the hardest name. It is Stone."

The old man was game.

"Mine," he said, "is Harder."

Starting It Early.

Starting with his bride on their honeymoon, a man entered a railway office and, as always in the past, bought only one ticket.

The bride noticed the oversight at once.

"Why, you bought only one ticket dear," she said.

"That's so, dear," he answered. "I forgot all about myself."—Tit-Bits.

An Expert Accountant.

"Do you not think, Miss Smiles," he pleaded, "that in time you might learn to love me?"

"Possibly," the girl replied. "If you could render me a statement of what you are worth, Mr. Giles, I might learn to love you. I'm very quick at figures."—London Mail.

The Test.

"Come in here, I wish to tell you a piece of gossip Mrs. Smith told me."

"Is it good?"

"Is it? I had to promise not to tell a soul before she would tell me."—Houston Post.

The easiest thing in the world is to make mistakes. The hardest is to profit by [illegible]

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms — the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a simple bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

A Good Stock

THE GOLDFIELD RED HILLS M. & L. COMPANY

was organized expressly for developing a lease on the September claim of the Red Hills Group and on the strike of the great Florence-Mohawk vein. They have their shaft down 220 feet, cutting well mineralized vein matter, and two shifts of men with a good 18 h.p. Gasoline Hoist still pushing the shaft down.

The last 100,000 shares were sold in one week. Act quickly and get in on one of the best things in Goldfield. Only 700 feet from the great Little Florence and on the strike of the vein.

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Bank of Goldfield, Nevada.

This company owns 1 claim (80 acres) of some of the best proven mineral land in the Goldfield district, consisting of the Accidental and Accidental No. 2 lode claims, situated two and one-half miles south of the great Goldfield Consolidated Mines (comprising the Mohawk, Goldfield, Combination, Red Top, Jumbo and Lucania) the richest in the world; and the Excelsior and Bentley lode claims situated three and one-half miles south of the Consolidated and about one and one-half miles northwest of the Great Bond and Daisy Mines next to Zeo group in the Diamondfield section second only in richness to the great Mohawk portion of the camp.

The company has also succeeded in securing the Sure Thing lode claim (20 acres) in the Cuprite district, which has outcroppings equal to anything in Goldfield, showing fine surface values, and without doubt richly named, "Sure Thing."

All of these claims are located in the same mineral belt as the other noted mines of Goldfield that have astonished the world by their production of millions in high grade ore, and will with the same development give equally profitable returns.

The money derived from the sale of this stock will be used at once for the active development of the property and the fact that all the directors are residents of Goldfield with years of successful mining experience who will give their personal attention at all times to the progress of the work goes to show that the first issue of 100,000 shares will meet with a quick and ready sale at the initial price of 10 cents per share.

We advise immediate action if you wish to participate in the vast profits of this Bonanza Mine.

Stock will be listed as soon as feasible on the Goldfield and San Francisco Stock and Exchange Boards. Would therefore advise purchasers to buy in board lots of 1,000 shares when convenient to do so.

A GOOD LOCAL AGENT WANTED

Partners of the Tide

...By... JOSEPH C. LINCOLN, Author of "Cap'n Eri"

Copyright, 1905, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

Bradley jumped to his feet and ran aft. The door at the head of the cabin stairs had been left open when the partners went home the previous night, but Bradley had pulled the sliding hatch shut. Now the hatch was pushed back as far as it would go, and the door was shut tight.

"Who is it?" shouted Bradley, stooping to the opening between the top of the door and the hatch. The dense smoke in his face made him cough.

"Help!" the voice came up through the smoke. "It's me—Hammond!"

The junior partner started back. "Hammond?" he repeated. "Hammond?" And then in a changed voice, "What are you doing aboard here?"

"I came after my things. I forgot about the spring lock. Quick! Oh, quick!"

"Came after your things! You lie! You came to set this fire!"

There was no reply for a moment, only a gasping, choking sound in the smoke. Then the voice began again. "Let me out!" it screamed. "I'm dying! Brad Nickerson, you want to murder me! Durn you, let me out! Oh, please, Brad! For God's sake, please!"

Bradley stood upright and looked about him. His beloved schooner or the dory when he boarded the schooner, and the boat had drifted away. Hammond, half drunk when he left the wharf, had bungled the knot with which his dory was fastened, and that, too, was gone.

"We'll have to swim!" cried Bradley. "Jump quick! She's going to blow up!"

Sam sobbed in sheer terror. "I can't make it!" he screamed. "I'm too weak. I'll drown."

"You've got to make it. Jump! I'll keep close behind you."

Hammond caught at a shroud, stepped upon the bulwark and stood there, turning a white face first toward the shore and then back at his companion. There was a muffled rumble from the hold. The bulkhead had fallen.

"Jump!" shouted Bradley. "Jump!"

Sam threw up his arms and leaped from the stern. Bradley cast one glance over the poor Diving Belle, ran to the rail by the foremast and dived into the water.

At that moment, before his head appeared above the surface, there came a dull roar from the schooner's hold. She rocked like a rowboat among breakers. A flame burst from her hatches and fo'castle and streamed to the top of her foremast, every rope of which caught fire. Her entire bow was a great torch that dipped now this way, now that.

Hammond, swimming for his life, yelled with fright. Bradley, caught in the current made by the sucking of the Diving Belle, was for a moment unable to make any headway. Vaguely he wondered why he had not been killed. And then the foremast crashed above the head and the noisy hatching block-the big four-legged swinging tackle, that cut into the air—whirled, striking him on the forehead.

He remembered almost nothing of what happened after that—nothing except fighting to keep afloat and the long-continued cold of the water.

* * * * * * *

Captain Tillman on the hill had fought and struggled and pleaded to be allowed to go to his partner's aid. But Captain Taylor said, "Better one than two," and most of the others agreed with him. "Squealer" Wilson was going through the crowd, telling all who would listen that if he had not had some fellows at his house "settin' up" playing cards the fire would not have been discovered. As the blaze grew brighter and Bradley could be seen running about the schooner's deck, Alvin Bearse volunteered to go with his skipper and attempt a rescue, but they would not let him try. In whispers people were asking one another how long it would last.

"We'll have to swim! Jump quick!"

the sneaking enemy who had set her on fire and who was responsible for all his troubles—which? To force that cabin door meant that the flames in the hold would have time to burn through the bulkhead and then— He heaved a long sigh, and with that sigh he said goodby to the Diving Belle. He turned and rushed to the main hatch.

The prisoner in the cabin heard him go and screamed choking curses after him. But Bradley had gone only to get the boat hook. He came back with it and began the attack upon the door. That door was built of tough wood, almost new, and the captain's lock was new also. The boat hook only tore off splinters and chips. Finally the hook broke just where the iron joined the handle.

Sam had ceased to yell and beg his rescuer to hurry. His cries changed to coughs and strangling moans. Then he was silent altogether. Bradley, desperate, threw down the broken boat hook and ran about the deck hunting, by the light of the fire, for something heavy, something that would break that lock. He picked up the stout beam, re-enforced with iron, that they slung over the vessel's fore quarter when they hoisted heavy chains on board.

It was so clumsy that he could scarcely carry it, but he stepped back by the wheel to get a start and, running forward, threw it against the door. The double oak panels cracked lengthwise. Three times he hurled the battering ram, with his own weight behind it. At the fourth attempt the door burst inward and he fell across it.

"Sam!" he shouted. "Sam, come out!"

But Hammond did not answer. Shutting his eyes and holding his breath, Bradley descended the cabin stairs. Hammond was lying unconscious at their foot. The junior partner dragged him to the deck and away from the smoke. Then he shook and pounded him savagely. After a bit the fellow opened his eyes and gasped.

Then Bradley left him and ran to the main hatch. One glance showed him that the schooner was doomed and that the dynamite might explode at any moment. The thin bulkhead was a wall of flame and was shaking like a sheet of paper in the fierce draft. Black smoke, powdered with sparks, was vomiting from the fo'castle. The Diving Belle was on fire from stem to stern.

Hammond yelled wildly from the after rail. "The dory's gone!" he shouted. "My dory's gone! Where's yours?"

Bradley had not stopped to fasten

OTTAWA, LARDER AND OPASITIKA LAKES SYNDICATE

CONTROLLING 2,800 ACRES

A syndicate is hereby formed for the purpose of acquiring by purchase for the sum of fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000.00) and one hundred thousand shares in a Company to be hereinafter formed at the discretion of the subscribers, with an authorized capital of One Million Dollars, divided into One Million Shares, at par value of One Dollar each, to acquire the mining rights in certain lands in the District of Nipissing, Province of Ontario, and also in the Province of Quebec.

In order to raise the sum quickly, five hundred and fifty syndicate shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars per share, will be sold with the understanding that each syndicate share of One Hundred Dollars will entitle the holder to one thousand shares, par value One Dollar, fully paid-up and non-assessable stock in the Company, when the Company is organized.

This special offer applies only to the first five hundred and fifty shares, and no more will be sold at that figure.

Fifty-six of these claims are situated directly opposite Larder Lake, just over the Quebec boundary, and are composed of three and one-half square miles adjoining the Lake Opasitika and include the height of land ridge.

Nine claims of this property are situated north-east of Larder Lake and adjoining the now famous Dr. Reddick claims, and five claims are situated to the south of the Lake on the Juno Creek and next to Mr. Fitzpatrick's claims. He was one of the original prospectors in that locality. As gold is being found on claims in this district which assay $6,000.00 per ton, this certainly is an opportunity to get in on the ground floor, as the company will be capitalized at $1,000,000, of par value one dollar per share.

These shares will be taken up quickly, and as soon as same are subscribed for, the syndicate will meet and choose from among themselves a directorate and decide on the future operations of the Company.

All subscriptions should be accompanied by check, payable to the order of Messrs. James K. Paisley and D. O'Connor, Jr., who will act as trustees for the syndicate.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent one one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Sure Cure for Sciatica.

Sciatica is really inflammation of the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body.

This passive inflammation is the product of a run-down condition, and in every case you may be sure the nerves are worn down fine.

The pain is the cry of the nerves for more food—for richer, redder blood.

Rubbing on a greasy liniment can't help very much—you must treat the blood and rebuild the nervous system.

This can be promptly done with Ferrozone.

No builder of nerve force is more powerful.

No tonic so quickly fortifies the muscular system, imparts such strength, such endurance and vigor.

Any traces of Uric Acid and rheumatic poison are quickly driven out by Ferrozone. The lowered condition of the system is changed into a reserve of vigor that defies further attacks of Sciatic.

Tweed Man Badly Hurt.

The first accident this season at the Rathbun Co.'s saw mill, Tweed, occurred recently, when Mr. Simon Cournoyer, son of Mr. Peter Cournoyer of Stoco, had his right hand very badly lacerated by one of the saws. Three fingers were almost severed close to the hand and the fourth was severely torn.

Boy Hurt by Cow.

Alex. Pigeon, the ten year old son of Mr. George Pigeon, Kirk street, had a narrow escape Saturday morning. He was driving two cattle at the corner of Aylmer and McDonel Sts. when he became entangled in the rope attached to one of the cows. He was dragged five downwards along the road about a hundred yards. The cow also trampled on him. It is not yet known how serious his injuries may be.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

[illegible] for the cure of the above symptoms conditions, as advertised by the [illegible] leading teachers and practitioners of the several schools of medical practice, has been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That it is thoroughly true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Rev. E. A. Pearson Gives First Sermon

Rev. E. A. Pearson, late of Toronto, but now pastor of George street Methodist church, preached his first sermon in his new charge yesterday morning, when there was a large congregation present to hear the new minister. Mr. Pearson is a very forceful, earnest and interesting speaker, and seemed to give very general satisfaction.

Big Time at Millbrook on the 12th

Speaking of the big Orange demonstration to be held in Millbrook on Friday next, and in which the Peterborough lodges will participate the Millbrook Mirror says:

"Preparations are being made to accommodate all who visit Millbrook on the 12th. We expect the celebration here to be one of the best in the Dominion.

"Three large churches are getting ready to serve meals.

"Four large hotels will also be ready with a good bill of fare.

"The committees are all hard at work getting everything in good shape, so that a grand time may be expected by all who visit this pretty town on the 12th of July next.

APPLICATION FOR ENGINEER'S POSITION

Referred to Fire, Water and Light Committee to Report to Council---A Temporary Engineer To be Appointed---Remoddeling is at a Standstill---Midnight Session

The City Council held a lengthy session in Committee of the Whole last night with all the members present.

Ald McIntyre, chairman Property Committee, reported that all matters in connection with remodelling the old fire hall for city office purposes are at a standstill. Mr. Belcher had done nothing yet in the way of furnishing plans for this work, and he could not get him to take action.

Ald. Bradburn suggested that if Mr. Belcher does not submit this work within a week an architect be brought down from Toronto to do this work in connection with that for the new public library.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That if aldermen cannot present complete plans for remodelling of the old fire hall by next Monday night, work remodelling the ground floor only, as planned by Ald. McIntyre, be proceeded with by the other.

This motion was lost.

This motion was lost on Chairman McIntyre's hands to expedite this as much as possible.

TREASURER'S SALARY.

Ald. Tovey, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that City Treasurer Adams is asking for an increase of salary, stating a necessary increase of salaries to his two daily clerks, which leaves his pay considerably less than that paid to his predecessor. It was understood when he assumed office that he should have an increase.

This was referred back to the Finance Committee to submit a definite proposition on this matter and also in connection with an increase for the tax collector.

DELEGATIONS.

The mayor raised the question of sending delegates to the conventions of the municipal associations.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Lemy,—That the mayor attend the Dominion Municipal Association to be held at Port Arthur.—Carried.

Ald. Elliott moved in amendment that no action be taken in this connection, but he could not give a reason.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That the mayor, two senior members of the council, and city clerk attend the meeting of the Provincial Association of Municipalities to be held at Toronto.

The Mayor offered that he would be away on this occasion, and this name was accordingly withdrawn and the clerk and Aldermen Johnston and Tovey were appointed delegates to this convention.

TWO MORE LAMPS.

On motion of Ald. Morgan, the question of putting an incandescent lamp on Hunter street, opposite the English church and one in the centre of Hunter street bridge.

MUST USE SHELTER.

On motion of Ald. McIntyre, seconded by Ald Elliott, the city carters will be informed that they must not stand on the streets, and will be expected to use the shelter provided by the city for them.

FOR ENGINEER

The following applications for the position of engineer in the fire hall and related duties were opened:

J. H. Berkwood, city, no salary stated; S. T. Wainwright, the old engineer, $700 a year, an advance of $100; Geo. Jewell, city, no salary stated; F. T. Courthope, city, $15 a week; H. A. James, city, $575 a year; Norval Jameson, city, no salary stated.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Morrow,—That the application of engineer in the fire hall be referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to make a temporary appointment, and report to council as to a permanent appointment.

Ald. Phelan moved in amendment, seconded by Ald Morgan,—That the city engage the old engineer, Sam Wainwright, at the salary he was getting, $600 a year.

The amendment was put and Ald Stevenson's motion carried.

The council here went into regular session at 11.30.

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Tovey submitted the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of a number of accounts, and that the chief constable be paid $1.12 in connection with the seizure of butter made on the market.

That on the request of the Board of Police Commissioners the secretary of the board be paid $50 a year, the same as last year.

The report was adopted.

FOR NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

Ald. Tovey moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the sum of $4,600 be paid the Board of Education for the North Ward school.—Carried.

BUSINESS CONFIRMED.

The report of the business transacted by the Committee of the Whole on Friday evening, in connection with the Bell Telephone Company's agreement concerning underground wires and other matters reported in another column was adopted.

WEAVING CO'S BYLAW.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That a by-law be passed three times in the three issues of three times in each of the three papers, granting the public Rail the by-law granting for a free site for the Canada Weaving Company and a fixed assessment for ten years, will be voted on next Thursday.—Carried.

ELECTRICAL POWER FOR CITY.

Ald. Stevenson moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That the mayor and clerk be authorized to apply under the seal of the corporation to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario for the transmission and supply of electrical power or energy to the corporation of the City of Peterborough. And for the requirement on behalf of the city of such lands, water privileges and other property, and the construction of such work as may be required therefore.—Carried.

BELL CO.'S BYLAW.

A by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement with the Bell Telephone Co. re the burying of their wires underground passed its several readings.

This agreement is published elsewhere, and which amended as moved on by the council will have to be referred to the Bell Company's solicitors at Montreal before being ratified.

OTHER BYLAWS.

A by-law appointing W. J. Green, tax collector, and one appointing T. Q. Quartermaine, gold clerk for the polling on the Colonial Weaving Co.'s by-law, passed their several readings.

By-laws for borrowing money for payments of granolithic walks and sewers passed their necessary readings.

A by-law to authorize the execution of an agreement with Daniel Mahony for handling river dredgings at 11 1-2c a cubic yard passed its readings.

VICTORIA PARK FOUNTAIN.

Ald McIntyre offered that action should be taken to have the fountain in Victoria Park put in proper working condition. This was left in Ald McIntyre's hands with power to act.

MILK TESTS.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the Board of Health be requested to establish the results of milk tests as soon as possible.

Council adjourned at ten minutes to one.

Former Local Man In Ottawa Race

Much Interest Is Centered In Ottawa Marathon Race—A Race of General Interest.

Much local interest is centered in the Ottawa Marathon race, a race of general interest. Arthur Burns, who recently won the seven-mile race at Seattle, Wash., in 39.25 2-5, will be a competitor with Tom Longboat Burns, who is a former Peterborough man, holds records not only in the Pacific Northwest, but British Columbia, Eastern Canada, and New England. He lives at Calgary, B.C., where he is now preparing for the international race.

Terrified Woman Had Man Arrested

Quebec, July 9.—When the ocean liner SS. Dominonian arrived in port last night, a most pathetic scene was witnessed. A tall young woman of distinctly refined appearance, carrying a babe in her arms, ran from the shipside across the deck to where the immigration officers stood, frantically crying out: "He wants it but he shall not get it. I shall do with it sooner than give it up to him." The officers promptly reached the woman's side, and she pointed to a man who was parading her, and said: "There he is; have him arrested. He has been hunting me for years." The provincial police were communicated with, and the man was taken into custody. He gave his name as Higgins, and said he was an electrician, and resided in Montreal.

From the story the woman told, she was a girl wed treated by Higgins (when she knew him in London, and he has for some time been living in Montreal, but she learned that she was a passenger on the Dominion and came to Quebec to again, as she claims, haunt her life.

The girl left last night by train for Toronto, where she will join her father, who has been a resident there for some years. Her mother was a passenger on the steamer with her; Higgins is still in custody here.

Oakwood Outers Go To Idyl Wyld

A large excursion from Oakwood Methodist Sunday school and from Lindsay came in by special train on the Grand Trunk yesterday and sailed on the new steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld. The Otonabee Navigation Company representatives met the excursion at the G.T.R. depot with special cars on the street railway and conveyed the passengers to the street railway wharf, where the steamer awaited them. At Idyl Wyld a program of sports was run off and the party returned about seven p.m., when the street railway cars and them at the lower wharf and brought them up town.

Montreal, July 9.—The condition of Lilly Lynn, the victim of the murderous assault committed by G. A. Greenhill at Melbourne last Wednesday, is still very critical. The report that she had fully regained consciousness is denied by the doctor. She sometimes appears to recognize those standing about her, and when she does, she becomes very excited.

Toulon, July 9. — The battleship Hoche has had a narrow escape from destruction. Fire broke out during the night near her powder magazine, and in order to prevent the spread of the flames the battleship was sunk in her anchorage, opening the one in which the battleship Iena was wrecked by an explosion with great loss of life, in March 12th last.

Local Engineer Dies In Wreck

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, a Lakefield Man, Known Here, is Killed

In reference to the recent accident on the C.N.R., near Rainy River, it has been learned by The Times that a man well known in this county, and some five years ago an engineer on the local division of the Grand Trunk, is dead. The despatch states that Mr. Hamilton had died in a Winnipeg hospital as a result of the injuries sustained.

Mr. Hamilton's friends reside at Lakefield, his father's name being William Hamilton. They reside a short distance south of the cement works. Deceased was about thirty-eight years of age. He was well known here, and was a member of Peterborough lodge, No. 111, I.O.O.F., and unmarried. The body will be brought east for burial.

AMERICANS DON'T LIKE THIS LAW

It Requires Those Moving to Canada to Register as U. S. Citizens Every Year

MAY LOOSE CITIZENSHIP

Thousands of Americans Scattered Throughout West Will Find It Difficult To Register

Winnipeg, July 9.—Very general indignation is expressed throughout western Canada by Americans over the enforced registration of native and naturalized citizens of the United States who desire to preserve their citizenship in the Republic. It means annual registration to preserve citizenship. Consuls all over the West received their instructions and copies of the new law on July 1st. In Winnipeg less than two hundred Americans registered during the first week, though Consul Jones says he received many enquiries by letter, phone, and wire, many of them from very remote points in the North-West. There are estimated to be more than 60,000 Americans, native and naturalized, scattered over the four North-West provinces of Canada, many of them in the far Peace River and Athabasca country, who would absent of the law in the ordinary course for a long time. Jones says there is no fund for advertising the terms of this law. There is no consul in the North-West except at Calgary, two thousand miles away from remote points where Americans dwell.

Leading Americans in Winnipeg say they propose to see this new test and don't believe it applies to native born Americans. The secretary of the American Association of Winnipeg was refused a certificate because he was a naturalized American formerly from Canada, and has since exercised citizenship in Canada.

Local Man Is Honored on Ship

Mr. J. J. Turner Takes Prominent Part in Sports Whilst on Ocean

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., yesterday gave The Times a friendly call during which his recent trip was discussed. In response to questions asked Mr. Turner stated that he left Peterborough on June 7th, and sailed for Montreal by Allan Liner Virginian. He returned by the new magnificent C.P.R. steamer Empress of Ireland, arriving in Quebec on July 4th and left Peterborough July 6th. He left Liverpool at ten o'clock Friday night, and was at Quebec the following Friday at 12 o'clock noon. A special train brought the passengers to Montreal. During the voyage Mr. Turner was elected chairman of the sports committee aboard ship, for Dominion Day celebrations, when games of all kinds were played. The games in fact were continued during three successive days. Mr. Turner was also chairman of the concert committee. During the voyage he addressed two meetings of the passengers, one in the second cabin and one in the steerage department. In these lectures Mr. Turner told the passengers all about Canada and its resources. He was asked to speak on them. Mr. Hendrie, premier of British Columbia also, Mr. Brent of Victoria, and Hon. Adam Beck of London, Ont., to address the proposed meeting on Dominion Day. Mr. Brent moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. Brent that a vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Turner. Mr. Turner was presented with a silver souvenir spoon for the efforts he had made during the voyage. Mr. Turner noted that now the custom house officers reach the steamers at Rimouski to examine baggage. Mr. Turner brought with him from London a steamer named Hodges.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Bulls Creep Into The Toronto Papers

The Outside Correspondents Cannot Stand The Ozone of Our Northern Lakes.

That the correspondents of some, at least, of the papers represented on the Sovereign during her historic trip last Saturday to, and over, the Kirkfield lift lock, must have succumbed to the effects of our dark country ozone is shown by their reports in yesterday's Toronto papers.

The Globe has a large picture in yesterday's issue of the new Kirkfield lift lock which that sheet, the Dominion Government's organ, describes in large type as "The new Lakefield life lock."

Again the Toronto Mail & Empire says somewhat thusly, in describing the entrance of the steamers into the lift lock, "Amid the cheers of thousands and the music of the band, the steamer made a descent of 50 feet." Now a little further on, in quoting Hon. R. Cemieux's speech, the latter gentleman is reported to have said, "We have now ascended some 50 feet to the level of Lake Simcoe and the Georgian Bay, etc."

We have no quarrel with these papers of antagonistic political views, but their representatives certainly cannot stand the whispering and invigorating ozone of our Kawartha Lake system.

Baby Fell Into Pail And Was Drowned

Parry Sound, July 9.—An eighteen months old son of Moses Schmidt, of Conger township, a short distance from this place was drowned Saturday afternoon in a pail of water.

The mother put a small quantity of water in a pail and went for hot water, leaving the baby, which had just begun to walk, in the room, and on her return she found that the baby had fallen into the pail head first.

There are two rinks invited to visit Millbrook next Thursday afternoon and the players are requested to arrange for the same.

The schedule for today is:
Cottrel vs Dr. McKercher.
McIntyre vs Dier.
Karr vs Johnston.
Medd vs Symonds.

RICHARD HALL GIVES BUILDING FOR LIBRARY

Two Large Stores on Simcoe Street, West of Old Ontario Bank, Will be Deeded the City---The Council Will Erect New Front and Furnish Building for Public Library Purposes

The city fathers met in Committee of the Whole last night, when there were present:—Mayor R. F. McWilliams and Aldermen Stevenson, Morrow, Leary, Bradburn, Phelan, Tovey, Duncan, Morgan, McIntyre, Elliott, Johnston and Wilson.

Mr. Richard Hall addressed the council and proposed to give his two stores on Simcoe street, formerly used as a dry goods established under the name of Richard Hall & Son, for the purpose of a public library, providing the City Council erect an up-to-date fronting and furnish the building according to requirements. Mr. Hall also expects the city to maintain the building.

On motion of Ald. Stevenson, Mr. Richard Hall's offer was accepted with profuse thanks and many speeches in appreciation of Mr. Hall's magnificent offer.

On motion of Ald. Stevenson a very hearty and unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hall for his generosity to the public interest.

The property is a portion of the estate of the late Mrs. Nicholls, of which Mr. Richard Hall is a trustee.

UNDERGROUND WIRES.

The city and Bell Telephone Co. are again endeavoring to reach an agreement for the laying under ground of all telephone wires for the following streets: On George street, from Sherbrook to Brock; on Brock street, from Chambers to George; on Hunter street, from Aylmer to Water; on Simcoe street, the east end and west of George; on Charlotte street, from George 150 feet west; on Chambers street, from Hunter 150 feet north. This work to be done by June 30th next. The draft agreement as accepted by the company's representatives and those of the city, was however, amended, on Ald. Morrow's resolution to provide that should the company fail to put the streets in as good a condition after construction of conduits as before, the city shall do the work and the company pay for the same.

Under this agreement the city reserves to itself any rights they now have or may hereafter get, and any agreement or any part thereof may at any time be terminated by the Board of Railway Commissioners should the city show good reason for such action.

Ald. Stevenson suggested that the agreement should be amended to compel the company to, should they tear up either macadam or asphalt roads for repairs at any time, to replace the streets in the same condition as they found them. This was agreed to by the council.

The city solicitor and Mr. F. B. Kerr, the company's solicitor, were then authorized to draft the above amendments and submit the amended agreement to a committee composed of his worship and Aldermen Morrow and Stevenson for approval.

Council in Session

The council then went into special session.

A request for a foot bridge across the Otonabee river in connection with the C.P.R. railway bridge, was referred to the Board of Works.

A number of communications were referred to their respective committees.

Mr. Boyce's letter re Aylmer St. drain, published a week ago, was referred to the Legal Committee.

FILLING IN WANTED.

Mr. Middleton invited the council to fill in under the old wooden sidewalk on Water street, paralleling the Goose pond, from Edinburgh street north. A new concrete walk has been laid here considerably east of the old wooden one.

Ald. Wilson thought the property owners should fill in this spot from the present sidewalk to their property themselves. He and others have had to do such work, and he could not see why an exception should be made in favor of Mr. Middleton and neighboring property owners.

This matter was left in the hands of the Board of Works.

Local County Man Gets Good Position

Mr. J. P. Sullivan, of Emismore, Prov. Inspector of Sep. Schools

An Ottawa despatch says:—J. P. Sullivan, B.A., of the Ottawa Model school staff, it is announced, has been appointed by the Provincial Government inspector of separate schools for the province. He will probably have supervision of the upper Ontario district in which a large number of Separate schools have been erected during the past few years. Mr. Sullivan was born at Emismore, some 40 years ago, and was educated at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, the Ottawa Normal school, the Ontario Normal College, Hamilton, and Queen's University, Kingston, of which he is a B.A. He has had a wide experience as a teacher, having spent some 21 years in the schools room. He was appointed principal of St. Patrick's Separate school here in September, 1895, and for two years held that position satisfactorily. In 1897 he was appointed on the staff of the Provincial Model school, where he has been engaged for the past ten years. On his retirement recently to accept the position of Separate school inspector for the province of Ontario, the teachers of the Normal and Model schools presented him with a valuable gold chain.

Heavy Fines at The County Court

Allan Elmhurst Fined $20 and Costs For Assault—Still another $20 Fine

When County Magistrate Edmison held his court in Havelock the first case tried was that of Allan Elmhirst, charged with having assaulted Dan McQuaig, on Saturday, June 29th. It seems that McQuaig was driving, and when he came to Elmhirst's house, Elmhirst jumped into the rig, pulled McQuaig out and started to abuse him. The magistrate found Elmhirst guilty and fined him $20 and costs to be paid in ten days or thirty days in jail. Elmhirst had a counter charge against McQuaig for abusive language but the magistrate thought it was half just for spite and dismissed the case. Elmhirst having to pay the costs.

Frank and Fred Varley of Belmont, were fined five dollars each for disorderly conduct at the railway station. These men were charged with assaulting Roy Gregory of Havelock and will each have to pay another heavy fine, amounting to twenty dollars.

"There's a Reason"

Beware of Mercury

You May be Using this Harmful Drug and Not Know it.

A favorite method of administering this deleterious drug is in cathartic pills. Beware of "quick-result" articles, they may do more harm than good.

Drastic cathartics will weaken the strongest. With old people they are a positive menace to life.

Merely to restore normal bowel action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends.

To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so efficacious, as the vegetable pills of Dr. Hamilton, which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, butternut and dandelion: they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr. Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels; this is nature's own method and the best one.

Mr R. Hannoby, of French River, Ont., writes as follows; "I was inclined to bilious attacks and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills greatly stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been just splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper, 25c per box or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

A CLEVER BURGLAR.

How He Fooled a Man Who Thought He Couldn't Be Robbed.

"B. P. Hutchinson used to say no burglar ever could get into his house without waking him," said a central station detective the other day, according to the Chicago Record-Herald, "but it remained for Chief Simon O'Donnell to put one over the famous trader.

"You know, Mr. Hutchinson was famous in Chicago's commercial life years ago and was known popularly as 'Old Hutch.' He prided himself on the fact that burglars never had got into his house and often boasted of the fact to his intimates. One day while he was at lunch with Chief O'Donnell and a number of other friends the company fell to discussing a crime that had been committed the night before.

"'I'd like to see anybody get into my house,' Mr. Hutchinson said. 'Why, I hear every tick of the clock all night.'

"'I'll bet you a dinner for this crowd,' said the chief, 'that I can produce a man who will enter your house and you will not know of his visit till morning.'

"Mr. Hutchinson accepted the wager, and it was agreed that he was to let the chief have a latchkey, so that the burglar could get in without being disturbed by some patrolman. Mr. Hutchinson also agreed to leave some article of value in the parlor where it could be found readily. The chief said the robbery would be committed within the following week.

"Three days later Mr. Hutchinson awoke in the morning and discovered that both sheets of his bed, which had been in place when he retired, were gone. So was a little antique clock he had left on the mantel. He hurriedly dressed and hastened after breakfast to the chief's office. O'Donnell saw him coming and, as he entered the office, greeted him with:

"'Mr. Hutchinson, I have two sheets and a clock that belong to you. We will have the dinner today.'

"The burglary was done by a former criminal who at the time had reformed. He did the job at the request of the chief. How did he get the under sheet? He rolled Mr. Hutchinson over, rolled the sheet after him and then rolled him back."

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

The Australian water lizard walks erect.

The tree frogs of South America sing as musically as birds.

Sheep in time of famine eat the wool from one another's backs.

Gamecocks sometimes take to catching mice, which they devour greedily.

An eagle can live twenty-eight days without food, while a condor is said to be easily able to fast for forty days.

A decapitated snail kept in a moist place will, it is claimed, in a few weeks grow a new head quite as serviceable and good looking as that which was taken away.

The chameleon's eyes are situated in bony sockets projecting from the head. By this curious contrivance the peculiar little animal can see in any direction without the slightest motion save of the eye.

He Enjoyed It.

Dick—Did you really enjoy your stay in Paris? Jack—I came home in the steerage.

A ROASTED RAT.

It Appears In Many Guises, According to a Japanese Legend.

In olden time, runs a Japanese legend, a Buddhist priest became acquainted with a daimio's courier who on his journeys to and from Tokyo would often stop and spend the night at the temple. He seemed to be a man of remarkable intelligence, with whom it was a great pleasure to converse upon all sorts of subjects. One night, as the two were talking together, the courier said:

"I thank you for the many favors you have shown me since we became friends, but tomorrow morning I must bid you farewell and never see you again."

"Why must that be?" asked the priest.

"I will tell you the whole truth," answered the courier. "I am not a man, but a fox. For the purpose of deceiving the daimio I assumed human form. One of his retainers, however, became suspicious and learned my secret. He has made a trap and baited it with a roasted rat in order that he may capture me on my return journey and put me to death. Alas, it will be impossible for me to escape!"

The priest exclaimed in astonishment: "Can it be true that you are a fox? This is a strange story. Since you know all about the trap, why do you not leave the bait untouched?"

"Because it is impossible for a fox, when once it smells roast rat, to keep from tasting it."

"Why, how is it," asked the priest, "that you, whose wisdom is more than that possessed by most men, can throw away your life for the sake of eating a roast rat? Among men, even a fool would know too much for that."

The fox answered, with a bitter laugh: "Ah, it is only a roast rat that can lead a fox astray. But men, though well aware of the danger, are caught by their love of pleasure, of strong drink or of gold. To obtain these they not only throw away their own lives, but they bring ruin upon their families and their country.

"These temptations are only other forms of roasted rat."

THE WORST OF ANIMALS.

A Striking Portrait of Man With Schopenhauer's Compliments.

Man is the only animal which causes pain to others without any further purpose than just to cause it. Other animals never do it except to satisfy their hunger or in the rage of combat. No animal ever torments another for the mere purpose of tormenting, but man does it, and it is this that constitutes that diabolical feature in his character which is so much worse than the merely animal. I have already spoken of the matter in its broad aspect, but it is manifest even in small things, and every reader has a daily opportunity of observing it. For instance, if two little dogs are playing together—and what a genial and charming sight it is!—and a child of three or four years joins them, it is almost inevitable for it to begin hitting them with a whip or stick and thereby show itself, even at that age, the worst of animals. The love of teasing and playing tricks, which is common enough, may be traced to the same source. For instance, if a man has expressed his annoyance at any interruption or other petty inconvenience, there will be no lack of people who for that very reason will bring it about. This is so certain that a man should be careful not to express any annoyance at small evils. On the other hand, he should also be careful not to express his pleasure at any trifle, for if he does so, men will act like the jailer, who, when he found that the prisoner had performed the laborious task of taming a spider and took a pleasure in watching it, immediately crushed it under his foot. This is why all animals are instinctively afraid of the sight or even of the track of a man, that animal merchant par excellence! Nor does their instinct play them false, for it is man alone who hunts game for which he has no use and which does him no harm.—Schopenhauer.

The Falling Leaf.

The falling of a leaf is brought about by the formation of a thin layer of vegetable tissue at the point where the leaf stem joins the branch of the tree. After the leaf ceases to make starch and sugar for the tree this tissue begins to grow and actually cuts the leaf off. It is therefore not a mere breaking away on account of the wind bending the dried stems, but an automatic severing of the member no longer useful. The falling of ripe fruit is dependent upon the same process.

Willing to Conform.

"Richard," said his prudish wife in an undertone, "it is all right for you to avoid elaborate ceremony in introducing the guests to one another, but I wish you would not say, 'Mr. Throgson, shake hands with Mr. Wigmore.' I do not approve of that style of introduction."

"All right, Amaryllis," heartily responded the host. "I'll cut that out. Hello, Flatbush! Awfully glad to see you. Mr. Flatbush, wiggle fingers with Mr. Skimmerhorn."

Catarrh

To prove conclusively, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms—the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a simple bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

50% IN ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 720 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Radamacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum valu eof millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fifteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 20 to 200 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 10 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs, on our ore values are shown ranging from $36.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, shows values up to $560.00 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of mining our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore, similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ore goes $9.00 to $13.00 per ton; our ore averages $20.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. The par value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $10.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our will show a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $6.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares in Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to the properties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purposes mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

When Hammond appeared on deck there was a great commotion. No one knew who it was. But when he stood upon the rail, with the fire behind him, a dozen shouted his name. Captain Titcomb shouted it and swore. A moment later came the explosion.

Fifty men started for the wharf then, but the captain was far in the lead. He leaped into a dory and pushed off. The harbor was almost as light as day. In the center of the light the two figures in the water were splashing silhouettes.

And suddenly the captain, rowing frantically, was aware that another boat was nearer the schooner than his own. A small skiff, rowed by a bare-headed girl, had come from behind the point and was speeding with long, sure strokes toward the swimmers.

Hammond saw it. "Help!" he shouted, waving one arm. "Help! I'm drowning! Save me!"

The skiff was almost upon him. He reached out to grasp its side. But the rower, though she turned and looked directly into his face, did not stop. She kept straight on, past him.

And Captain Titcomb as he seized Sam Hammond by the coat collar saw Gus Baker lean from her skiff and drag to its low gunwale the helpless form of Bradley Nickerson.

Then, with a hiss and wrapped in a great white robe of steam, the Diving Belle dived to the bottom of the harbor.

CHAPTER XX.

AT 9 o'clock that morning Bradley, with his head bandaged, sat in the rocking chair by the window of his chamber, looking out. On the table beside him were medicine vials, teaspoons and a pencilled memorandum in Dr. Palmer's handwriting; also there were an emulsion bottle and a steaming pitcher of "pepper tea." These last were Miss Tempy's contribution. That lady herself, with a face whiter even than Bradley's own and with fingers that shook until holding a needle was next to an impossibility, was seated in a chair by the door, pretending to sew. Every now and then she looked up, seemed about to speak, and then, seeing the expression on the young man's face, remained silent. Occasionally she wiped her eyes with her handkerchief.

Bradley went to the Point that day in spite of his partner's protests and the old maids' pleadings and direful prophecies concerning his health. He was kind, but so firm that they soon saw there was no use arguing.

Ira Sparrow took Bradley and Captain Titcomb to the Point in the Yo and I. Bearse, Ellis and some of the other men went with them. On the way Bradley and his partner discussed the situation. The work on the barge was going on as if nothing had happened, although the news of the firm's loss had been telephoned to the life saving station early that morning. Barney Small met them as they climbed over the Freedom's rail. He was very sober and shook his employers' hands with silent sympathy.

"I told the boys to turn to," he said. "I didn't know what your plans was, but I wan't goin' to quit till you said the word."

"Much obliged, Barney," said Bradley. "Call all hands aft. I want to talk to them."

The men came in groups, soot streaked and perspiring. They gathered in the waist, whispering to each other and glancing askance at Captain Titcomb and Bradley, who stood upon the raised deck by the wheel. In most of the grimy, sunburned faces there was a friendly concern. All looked embarrassed and awkward. When the whole crew was standing there, silently waiting, Bradley came forward.

"Fellows," he said, "when Cap'n Titcomb and I took the contract to get this barge off the shoals we risked every dollar we had. More than that, we mortgaged our new schooner to raise money to pay you with. She was burned last night, and, as the cap'n said, there is no insurance. The little money we have on hand belongs to the people who took the mortgage. We couldn't pay you for another week's work. So, then, either we must give up the contract—which will ruin us and drive the firm out of the wrecking business for good—or we must come to you with another proposition. I think every man who has worked for us knows that we don't play favorites. Every fellow knows that he'll be treated fair so long as he does his work. But this I want to say: We'll stick to those who stick by us. We shan't forget our friends. And this is our proposition: To the men who will volunteer to help us get this barge afloat, we will pay $4 a day—instead of $3, as you're getting now—when we float her and get our money. If we fail, you get nothing, and so do we. If we win, you win. We can float her if the weather holds good. What I'm asking is that you share our chances. It's up to you. What do you say?"

Bradley stopped and put his hands in his pockets. The men shuffled their feet and looked at each other. One or two of them whispered behind their hands. Then Barney Small snatched his rusty cloth cap from his head, ran edgilt, to the dock and jumped upon it with both feet.

"Stage is ready for Orham, South Orham, West Harwich and Setuckit Point!" he shouted. "All aboard! Come on, you lubbers! Have axe and Bradley and Cap'n Eri get to work—her of 'em!"

Alden Bearse struck the cook-stove deliberately, mounted Barney on the back. "You first-class sea-lawyer!" he cried. "I'm in!"

"Me, too!" said Ira Sparrow.

"Thirteen and accounted for!" shouted Seth Taylor. Ellis simply nodded and stepped forward. Others followed. Thumbs were thrust.

That settled it. There was a cheer, and the men began pushing each other out of the way to join the volunteers. In a few minutes there were only five who had not come forward.

And after that came work, work, work. The men were organized into day and night gangs. Bradley commanded the former, Captain Titcomb the latter.

The partners hired the Yo and I to do what she could of the work the Diving Belle had been engaged in. The lack of the schooner was a great handi-

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs there is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, ask Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Never fill a lamp quite full, or when it is brought into a warm room the expansion of the oil will cause it to overflow, and the result will be decidedly unpleasant.

Soda used in the laundry should be dissolved before the garments to be washed are placed in the tub. Yellow stains, which soon form holes, are caused by soda touching wet linen.

Saucepans should be kept clean on the outside as well as inside. To prevent the smoke from sticking rub the outside of a new saucepan with fat before placing it on the stove. Wash with hot water and soda.

If possible leave a wet umbrella open to dry so that the silk will not rot or crease. If it cannot be left open, turn it upside down, so that the moisture will not collect at the ferrule end and so rot the silk while evaporating.

The colored frock or blouse that has become faded with frequent launderings or from wear in the sun may be bleached to a clear white by boiling in cream of tartar water. The correct quantity to be used to make the garment a pure white is a teaspoonful of the powder to a quart of water.

Perfumed Pillows.

Since those extra little pillows have become so frequently met with as a part of bed furnishings pine and lavender pillows have both become more popular.

Both of them when made for a bed are incased in strong muslin covers, over which the pretty little white slip is drawn.

For couches, of course, darker and more serviceable materials are used, often for pine pillows a deep yellow, embroidered, in a simple outline stitch, in brown or deep bronze greens. For lavender a light lavender, embroidered in a darker shade, or one of the pretty white cretonnes, covered with blossoms and stripes of lavender, makes an attractive covering, says Woman's Life.

If you are going away and can squeeze just one more thing into your trunk, tuck one of the regular baby pillows in. The pillows where you are staying may be stuffy and hard, and that little pillow is just the thing for a hammock or for the nap that you take in the old orchard stretched out upon rug or steamer blanket, or it may add much to the peace of your nightly slumbers.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Peterborough Historical Society met last night.

—City Council met last night. Particulars on first page.

—A complaint in relation was laid by Peterborough Lodge No. 111 and Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O.F., last night.

—Mr. S. A. Oke on the morning 4th regiment Marathon Lodges Knights of Pythias at Grand Lodge which meets in Toronto today and Wednesday.

—A certain local citizen got lost in a swamp Saturday night whilst on his way to Champaign Park. He called and hollered until found 'Nuff said!

—Over $500 was taken in at the T. A. S. picnic held on Dominion Day. This will go towards the first payment on the debt of the new Roman Catholic church.

—The Review seems to have the courage of its convictions and in its report of the Kirkfield lift lock opening displays Mr. R. B. Rogers' portrait in large size.

—If there are any of the manufacturing establishments in the city that have missed any inserts of copper marked M.S.C. from their premises, Chief Reesor would like to communicate with them.

—Many friends will notice with interest the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Fife, at Kenmore on Wednesday of last week. The groom is Mr. Eugene Emerson, of Cambridge, Mass.

—The encampment thus far has been most encouraging, for the Y.M.C.A. boys camp. A full list will be published today. There will be no excursion from the city on visitors' day as a boat could not be secured.

—St. John's Sunday school will hold their annual picnic down the river to Idyl Wyld on Friday. The Sunday school will hold no sessions during July and August, all the scholars and teachers being given holidays.

—How is it that the Toronto Sunday World, in its report of the Kirkfield L.H. lock opening ignored Senator Cox's speech? Surely the prominent citizen of Toronto, and a former local man when speaking is worthy of a few lines?

—Rev. H. M. Mullins is reported as giving some timely advice to parents as to management and control of their children. This utopian method of bringing children up by advice and kindness is all right in the abstract but the timely application of a good timber strap carries a world of lasting results.

—Mr. E. A. Powers, of Montreal, editor of the Pythian Review, is in the city, introducing the insurance department of the Knights of Pythias into Marathon Lodge. He will attend Grand Lodge Tuesday and Wednesday and will come back to the city Wednesday night, to attend the regular meeting of Marathon Lodge.

—A moonlight excursion will be run on board the steamer Otonabee on Friday evening, July 19th, under the direction of young ladies from the different city churches, and the proceeds will be divided between Children's Aid Society of Peterborough, and the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. The boat will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 7.30 o'clock, calling at Ashburnham and the street railway wharf.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Young Dennistoun Has Passed

In the prime list of Trinity College School, Port Hope, the name of James Dennistoun, eldest son of Mr. R. Max Dennistoun, of Winnipeg, formerly of Peterborough, appears as follows:—

Divinity—Form V. Pinkham, IV., Wesley; IIIA., Bethune, IIIB., Armour; II., Dennistoun; I. C. D. Boyce.

English and History—Form VI., Willis; V., S. J. Pepler, IV., R. K. Pearce; IIIA., Osler; IIIB., Rhodes, II., Dennistoun; I., Cornell.

I'll stop your pain free. To show you first—before you spend a penny—what my Pink Pain Tablets can do, I will mail you free, a Trial Package of them—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Period pains, etc., are due alone to blood congestion. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets simply kill pain by coaxing away the unnatural blood pressure. That is all. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all dealers.

—Dr. Sherin, superintendent of the White Cross hospitals, Chicago, and Mrs. Sherin, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Kennedy, corner of Water and Dublin streets for a few days.

St. Luke's Church Notes

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew meets tonight at eight o'clock.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held tomorrow at eight o'clock.

The annual Sunday school excursion will be held on Thursday, July 11th, to Idyl Wyld, per steamer Otonabee.

Hurdle Jumping Last Night

Last night quite an excited crowd gathered on Chambers street, who watched the trials of a horse endeavoring to jump a hurdle, gradually raised after each leap, in front of Dr. Johnston's office. A good exhibition of horse jumping was given, especially as the horse and its rider had to run up hill.

Mark Street Church Notes

The Epworth League met last night, Miss E. Fowler led the meeting and Mrs. J. Speers had charge of the topic.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet tomorrow at three o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the residence of Mrs. Frank Weir on Thursday afternoon.

The annual excursion of the Mark street Sunday school will be held tomorrow, July 9th to Gore's Landing.

Chemong Yacht Club Officers

At the annual meeting of the Chemong Yacht Club, who as noted in yesterday's Times held their annual meeting at the Club House, Chemong, the following officers were elected for the year:—

Honorary Commodore—Admiral McComb.

Commodore—T. F. Matthews.

Vice Commodore—Howard Hopwood.

Supt. McClellan a Good Host

It was universally conceded by those who took in the Kirkfield lift lock outing that Supt. J. Brunces McClellan is the prince of entertainers and knows how to handle not only large government works under his charge but also how to make guests under his care and invitation at home and thoroughly comfortable. The foreign press representatives as well as those who gather news for our local papers, unanimously voted Mr. McClellan a prince of hosts during his management of Saturday's outing. Nothing was left undone that could have been seen to. Clement Gordon of the T.V.C. acted most acceptably as Mr. McClellan's lieutenant in looking after the guests.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of KNOWN COMPOSITION, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Fire Brigade's Fruitless Flight

The fire brigade Sunday night had what was practically a useless run. Those faithful fire fighters for by no means fancy fees, fled hastily to the residence of Mrs. Tobin on the River road, north ward, to find that an overturned lamp had set fire to a bed and that said fire had been frustrated by prompt efforts of the neighbors. Little damage was done outside the nervous systems of the fire laddies who were, to use a slang expression, "Johnny on the spot in one, two three time."

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Castings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

HAYWOOD WILL BARE HIS LIFE'S HISTORY

Interest in the Great Trial Now Centers in the Accused Miner's Evidence---Bradley Depositions Used to Contradict Orchard's Story

Boise, Idaho, July 10.—The Haywood defence yesterday introduced what it regards as the strongest evidence in contradiction of Harry Orchard's story, in the form of the Bradley depositions. This testimony was taken by a commission appointed by Judge Wood, who is presiding at this present trial.

The defence during the stay of the commission in San Francisco secured the testimony of Bradley himself and several others, expressing the belief that the explosion was due to gas, and declaring that the havoc wrought by it was not caused by dynamite. Orchard declared that the bomb arranged by him to be exploded when the front door was opened, contained about ten pounds of dynamite encased in a large section of lead pipe.

WILL NOT CALL PETTIBONE.

Interest in the trial now centers in the forthcoming appearance on the stand of Haywood, who, it is said, has been the moving force in the Western Federation of Miners for several years, and one of his co-defendants, Charles Moyer, president the miners' organization. The third defendant in the case, George Pettibone, will not take the stand, it is said, until his own case comes up.

"Steve" Adams, whose recent trial for the murder of a man in Northern Idaho resulted in a disagreement of the jury, and who has been variously implicated by Harry Orchard in many of the latter's crimes and alleged conspiracies with the leaders of the Western Federation, is still in Boise jail available as a witness for the defence, but it has been definitely decided that he will not be called to the stand. The prosecution still says it would welcome such a move, as the appearance of Adams on the stand might open the way for the introduction as a portion at least of Adams' confession which he later repudiated.

Viewed in the light of the closing plans for defence and prosecution, there seems little hope that the trial, which has already been in progress for two months, can be brought to an end inside of three weeks. The defence will require at least five or six days yet, for it is announced that Haywood when he takes the stand will be prepared to lay bare his entire life's history.

HAYWOOD WILL EXPLAIN.

Haywood's testimony as to his connection with the Western Federation of Miners will be interspersed with much documentary evidence, and the introduction of this and reading it to the jury will take up much time. The defense expresses its willingness that the cross-examinations of Haywood shall take the widest possible range. The defendant, it is said will not only deny in toto all that Orchard has said as to his connection with any of the witness's crimes, but will offer explanation of the instances where the State has associated Orchard and Haywood, notably the instance of Haywood's part in the deception of the second Mrs. Orchard as to the whereabouts of her husband in 1905.

Haywood's examination and cross-examination can hardly be accomplished in less than three or four days. Moyer may be dismissed in one day.

Falls Foul of a Banana Peel

Old and Respected Citizen Laid up as Result of Some Careless Idiot

Mr. Thomas G. whose name by request, we omit, and who is one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected citizens, is confined to his residence as the result of some careless or selfishly thoughtless person throwing a banana peel on the pavement. As Mr. G. was walking along the south side of Hunter street at a somewhat late hour he did not notice a banana peeling on the center of the granolithic pavement and unfortunately slipped upon this treacherous undoer of men, particularly those of advanced age. He fell so heavily that he was completely stunned. He does not know how long he remained unconscious on the pavement, Fortunately Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball happened along, who, with Mr. Anglesey picked Mr. G. up and got him home. Mr. G. got a very severe shock and had his left hand cut. He must have, unfortunately, thrust forward the hand for protection when falling. It is time our city council should pass a strenuous by-law for inflicting heavy penalties on people who are selfish, foolish or criminally careless as to throwing banana peels on any city sidewalk.

Makes Sugar From Charcoal

Los Angeles Man Produces It at Cost of Less Than Cent a Pound

Los Angeles, July 9.—Charles P. Stewart, a chemist of Los Angeles, claims to have invented a process by which he can manufacture sugar from charcoal and water at a cost of less than 1 cent per pound. Before a number of business men the inventor has given a practical demonstration of his process at his residence.

In twenty minutes the apparatus changed forty-two pounds of charcoal and a trifle over sixty gallons of water into 100 pounds of powdered sugar.

A company with a capital of $8,000,000 has been organized to manufacture Stewart's sugar.

A Dollar For Every Girl Baby

Rich Alton Bachelor Thinks There Are Too Few of Fair Sex

Alton, Ill., July 9.—"Boss" Silvers, the largest individual land owner in Madison County, residing near East Alton, has outdone Mayor Beall and his stork in Alton by offering a dollar for every girl baby born in Wood-River township. Silvers is a bachelor and says that while he has nothing to do with how many he loves girl babies, and believes there should be more of them on the farms around Alton.

Ceremony Over Corner Stone

It has been suggested that when the new armories of this city have been sufficiently advanced in the course of construction to entitle such proceedings, that a formal ceremony be carried out and the official corner stone be laid with due ceremonies.

No doubt the minister of militia, Sir Frederick Borden, and the inspector of the forces of the Dominion, Lieut.-Col. Vidal would attend and take part in the ceremony. Other prominent military men would likely come to the city. This would make a gala day and go a long way towards wiping out the recollections that Peterborough's soldiers have so long been neglected and compelled to take the old former shack. Sometimes however political exigencies cover a multitude of past neglect. This applies equally to either party!!

Mr. Hall's Action Is Appreciated

It was the general opinion yesterday that in his action in giving for the Nicholls' estate the fine property as mentioned in yesterday's issue, to the city, Mr. Richard Hall has not only conferred a favor on Peterborough that has shown keen discrimination in the way he, as trustee of the estate has fulfilled his obligation as such. It is generally known that the late Mrs. Charlotte Jane Nicholls left her will so that the trustees under its provisions have practically unlimited control of the funds. Mr. Hall in giving a full site and premises to the city, as mentioned, has shown that he not only has the interests of the city at heart, but is rendering an honest account of his stewardship.

Mr. Dusty Won The Pigs

It was reported at a late hour last night that Mr. Chas. Dusty, wine clerk at the Queen's Hotel had during his outing at the Dowry picnic, won a sow and a brood of eight little pigs in the drawing there. It is not yet decided whether Mr. Dusty will start in the propagation of swine or sell the pigs he won.

AMERICAN GOODS CROWDED OUT

Exports to Canada Fail to Keep up With Growth

FAVOR HOME PRODUCTIONS

Encourage Local Industries And Duty Excludes Uncle Sam From Market

Washington, July 9.—Remarkable figures regarding the growth and development of the Canadian Northwest and the enormous out of American manufactured goods are contained in reports made to the department of commerce and labor by American consuls in Canada.

They show an almost unprecedented growth in population and production of farm crops, but the sale of American manufactured goods has hardly kept pace with this development. According to the consular reports, Canadian manufacturers are now developing the strength to enter nearly every line of activity dominated by the new Northwest, and while American made goods still dominate the market in many of the large lines and command the best prices, the market is becoming more and more a Canadian market.

HOME PRODUCTION GROWS.

The consumption of manufactured goods is $110 per capita, according to one American consul located in the province of Quebec, and of this amount all but $25 is supplied by home production, the United States supplying something over the balance. This amount of the United States importation to Canada is necessarily growing owing to the phenomenal development of the country, but the home production is increasing at a much greater rate.

From 1901 to 1906 the population of the "prairie provinces" increased from 400,000 to 1,000,000 and the grain crop from 43 million to 260 million bushels, according to the reports made to the government. Between 1897 and 1906 nearly 900,000 immigrants came into the Canadian provinces.

One result of this great growth has been the expanding of markets for goods of American origin in the developing manufacturing interests.

MUCH AMERICAN CAPITAL.

"American capital to the extent of $500,000,000 has been invested in Canada in the last eight years," says one consul.

"There seems to be a growing tendency at this time in Canada for American capital to seek investment in manufactories," says another consul at Winnipeg. "Canada seems again begin to supply the increasing demand.

"The sale of American shoes in Winnipeg and the surrounding country, where the American manufacturers have long held an almost exclusive market, is seriously affected by the new Canadian tariff, according to the Winnipeg consular agent.

"Historically through unfavorable tariff legislation the market is being being destroyed, and, unless remedial legislation is enacted, the American made shoe will disappear from the stores," says Consul Skinner. "There will always be a demand among the well to do for the high grade American dress shoe, but this will become more and more limited until it reaches altogether.

"Already the cheaper grades of American shoes have been forced out of the market. The Canadian manufacturer has become successful competitor on this line, and during a single business boom of competition. This has been largely the result of the 25 per cent duty."

HOME GOVERNMENT ACTIVE.

The Canadian agency state that the home government is trying to encourage the shoe industry through a protective tariff and with evident success.

The tariff is now 30 per cent ad valorem and American cannot enter market. In Winnipeg there is an extraordinary heavy demand for cheap shoes, owing to the great immigrant trade in the city and surrounding country, and the Canadians are successfully pushing cheap shoes, which the American manufacturers cannot duplicate after paying the duty and selling expenses.

The department reports show that Canada's trade policy has built up an admirable system, the invested capital of which is now about $486,000,000, as against $146,000,000 in 1881.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Septuagenarian of Peterboro Here

Mr. W. Arnott Tells of Former Days When Peterboro Was a Village

Mr. Wm. Arnott, who was born 82 years ago yesterday on the site now known as the "Market Square" of this city, is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. McLean, Stewart St. Mr. Arnott some thirty years ago left Peterborough for Guelph where he lived for ten or twelve years. He then moved to Toronto, where for nine or 25 years he carried on a commercial business on Yonge street, retiring a year or so ago. A Times man in conversation with Mr. Arnott learned that this more than septuagenarian's earliest recollection of Peterborough was when as a small lad he lived on the present market square. This plot, excepting three big houses of one story each, was then covered by oak trees. During the Mackenzie Rebellion these three houses were used by the government for storing supplies of the old flint lock muskets, ammunition and other stores. He also remembered when Henry Crown, an escaped slave from the Southern States, long before the American war broke out, came to the vicinage of Peterborough and opened up a barber shop next to where the Peterborough Hardware Company's premises now stand. Mr. Arnott, who was exchanging reminiscences with Mr. Louis Spry, is hale an dhearty and looks like a man many years younger.

Good Opportunity For Safe Investment

A Winnipeg Company Now in Business Wants to Enlarge

The firm of L. and H. Boesenberg, iron manufacturers of Winnipeg, Man., is too well known not only in Manitoba and the Western Provinces but all over the Dominion to require any detailed report. A company is now being formed to acquire the plant, stock-in-trade and goodwill of the firm. Boesenberg. It was thus be necessary to raise sufficient capital to operate and extend the undertaking to the most profitable extent. Messrs. Boesenberg have agreed to take up between 400 shares of common stock of the new company which will then entitled "The Winnipeg Iron and Machinery Works, Limited." The new company will have a capital of $500,000, divided into 2,400 shares of $25 each. Their first issue will be 1,600 shares at $25 each.

Messrs L. and H. Boesenberg have had a long and prosperous experience in the manufacture of various lines of iron work, having begun operations in Germany in 1872. The firm then moved to London, England, and subsequently to Winnipeg, some two years ago. The possibilities of future manufacturing in the prosperous and abnormally growing city of Winnipeg are beyond computation. The city affords cheap power, and the country to be supplied, especially with all kinds of iron work for fencing, ornamental work, creatings, etc., is almost limitless in extent and rapidly filling up with settlers of all nationalities. One great advantage possessed by the Winnipeg Iron and Machinery Works is their ability and facilities to manufacture their useful mechanical device for gate hinges in addition to fence work, etc. The goods they manufacture have been demonstrated to pay a net profit of 60 per cent. For full information as to stock, see large advertisement in this issue or E. Brain, selling agent, 608 Ashdown Block, Winnipeg, Man.

Generous Gift to Sunday School

Last night at Bethany church, Mr. Alfred Johnston announced that Mr. Richard Hall, executor of the Nicholls estate, had presented the church with the sum of $300, for the benefit of the library fund of the Sabbath school. It is needless to say that the gift was very acceptable and much appreciated.

How Advertising Bills are Used

Mr. David Doig left at noon yesterday for Tweed to place the bills, etc., and other advertising, and work up the great Foresters' excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls on Thursday, July 18th. Mr. Doig in conversation with several local men was heard to say, "You know you must see personally to getting bills and circulars placed to make them of any use. In my business I get hundreds of bills and circulars as junk that boys have most likely been paid for distributing but who simply turned round and sold at so much per pound for paper."

RICHEST MAN MADE START ON $50

Rockefeller's Advice is to do Right and Make a Reputation for Integrity---No Success Worthy The Name Not Based on Right, He Declares

Chicago, July 8.—"I started with $50."

The lips of the "richest man in the world," who controls a thousand million, let fall this simple sentence Saturday.

As he stood talking, at the first glance he did not appear remarkable

He was fanning himself with a $2 straw hat with a high crown and a broad black band.

His coat, of rough black material hung loosely from a pair of shoulders slightly inclined to stoop. His trousers were a modest grey. One ornament a pearl scarf pin, was stuck in a black four-in-hand tie.

"Yes, I started in life with $50," said the "modern Croesus," ruminatingly.

ASKED FOR HIS SECRET.

"What is the secret of your success, Mr. Rockefeller?" he was asked.

The cool, grey eyes of the "man of millions lighted up. Raising his hand impressively, he said;

"Do right. There is no success worthy the name that is not based on the right. Make them trust you, not only for your integrity, but for your ability as well. That is all the capital you need. That is all I had. That and $50."

"Have you any ill feeling toward Judge Landis, or against any of the United States authorities, who have compelled you to come to Chicago and testify in this Standard Oil hearing?"

The money kept ticked quietly at the questioner.

"I feel ill toward no man," he said slowly.

Suddenly he looked quizzically at the interviewer.

"I do may have any ill feeling toward newspaper men," he remarked, "although they have been persistent."

RESPECTS THE WORKER.

Then he added:

"I respect every man who has to work, and who is trying to get along."

Mr. Rockefeller had a trying day, but came through the ordeal in a calm and unruffled spirit.

Mr. Rockefeller's day of rapidly moving events began early in the morning. A mild mannered old gentleman, with slight stoop of shoulders, carrying a black walking stick, was seen strolling about the flower beds on the lawn of the Harold McCormick mansion, 68 Bellevue place, at 8.15 o'clock.

A few minutes later he stepped out on the porch, accompanied by his brother, William Rockefeller, and his son-in-law, Harold F. McCormick.

When a big, powerful touring car was run out of the stables and backed up to the porch, Mr. Rockefeller jumped nimbly inside, and was followed by two other men.

The horse-voiced horn of the machin sounded its warning, and the touring car made a graceful, sweeping curve into Lake Shore drive.

Alleged Lindsay Counterfeiters Caught

A Lindsay despatch says that:

"Charles Burke, a resident of this town for many years, was arrested this afternoon by Dominion Detective Parkinson, of Ottawa on the charge of being the head of the gang which for some time has been flooding the country with counterfeit five dollar bills of the Montreal, Dominion and Traders' Banks. Detective Parkinson is dumb, but from other sources it is learned that the Dominion police have been watching Burke for some days. The presence in town last week of Commissioner Sherwood, ostensibly on a holiday trip, caused mistrust, except by a few intimate friends, and this visit of the Chief of Dominion Police was unknown to the people of Lindsay.

It seems that when Col. Sherwood had located his man he left Detective Parkinson to get busy. Parkinson, in addition to landing Burke, secured the complete photographic outfit with which it is alleged the bills been producing the goods.

The counterfeits which Burke is alleged to have issued are poor compared with previous imitations. Not only has he been handicapped by lack of bank note paper but he had to use photography to produce the bills, the results being somewhat crude. However, it was easy to part with the bills in rural districts. Twenty or thirty would be floated in a small village or town in one day, and then the distributor would skip, with the result that hundreds were in circulation in two or three weeks. Burke picked up three or four men around this town to help him with the job. These men scattered, some going east and some west.

Dominion Detective Parkinson, of Ottawa, was in Peterborough several times since he has been working on the case, but the slick men did not stop here at all.

Chief Rogers has now in his possession about $40 worth of Bank of Montreal bills that are bogus and which were circulated here about a year ago. Detective Parkinson also got some of the bills here.

A Times Report Proves Correct

It will be remembered that a few days ago The Times had an exclusive report of the presence in this city, of Commissioner Sherwood of the Dominion Police, who, as noted, solely by The Times, registered at the Snowden House under the "nom de plume" of R. Johnston, Montreal, now several of our readers, not seeing this corroborated later on by our evening contemporaries could hardly believe The Times could have got such information correctly. We can only (not that the news contained in these columns ever requires corroboration) refer our many readers to a despatch from Lindsay contained in this issue, which effectually and emphatically shows that The Times was not only "Johnny on the spot," but correct.

Another Local Girl Becomes A Matron

Another Peterborough girl has left our midst owing to the influence of cupid and concurrent wedding circle. At St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning Rev. Father McCoil united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Miss Eileen L. O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. Patrick O'Donnell, to Mr. Wm. Hutchison, of Toronto. Miss Emma Phelan acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. J. O'Donnell, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride, where the customary marriage feast and congratulations were in evidence.

Local Man Has A Narrow Escape

Last night a friend of Mr. W. Maxwell of the east ward, stopped a Times representative, and told him a story that was later on corroborated by Mr. Maxwell. It seems that the latter young man after crossing the walkway at "Dixons" dam on his bicycle, and just as he was passing over the gully, by night, heard a shot fired. Then another apparently revolver shot was fired. At the second shot Mr. Maxwell distinctly heard the whizz of a bullet passing his head. Before he could alight from his wheel, still a third bullet went humbling past his head. Mr. Maxwell had, just before going home on the wheel, procured a revolver he had left for repairs at a Hunter street gun shop. As soon as the third shot was fired, he pulled out this gun and crammed home a full complement of cartridges to the chambers. He then went on a hunt for his would-be assassin but could find no trace of the man. It is now a question of

Victoria Park Again in Darkness

Last night the lamps in Victoria Park were noticeable by their absence of light. If some of our councillors had daughters who might be in the park by night, and in danger by lack of light, would wake up to the danger of the situation, in this our most central park they might possibly stop from dreaming of future factories and get down to the stern realities of local dangers to be stamped out at no expense to the city. The question is, in a nutshell, "whose duty is it to look after the lighting of this park?" The danger conveyed by the seemingly semi-darkness (by night) conveys more dangers than a newspaper can print but which are without doubt understood by every father of a family in this city.

At the time of writing the above article on the Victoria Park lights last night we noticed that at that time the park was in darkness. The lights, however, were turned on late at night when all danger was passed.

Mr. I. Eastwood Is Now Convalescent

We are pleased to note that Mr. Isaac Eastwood, the local capitalist is again able to be about and was down town yesterday. Mr. Eastwood was in a head on collision between two passenger trains, in which twelve were killed and thirteen injured on his return to Peterborough Friday night, after spending some time in the vicinity of Kenora. The wreck took place at Butler, near Kenora, on Friday, June 28th. Two passenger trains collided with terrific impact. Ten Chinamen, who were travelling on one train, were killed, and a Jap, who was riding in the same car as Mr. Eastwood, also met death. The total number of dead was twelve, while thirteen were injured. Mr. Eastwood was in the smoking compartment when the accident occurred.

Mr. Eastwood, was on his way home from Northern Ontario, where he spent several weeks in connection with the Wyandgo gold mine, on Fish Bay, Lake of the Woods, some 22 miles from Kenora, in which he holds large interests. He brought back with him several lumps of gold, which were presented to him by Mr. Fred Pitts, C.E., who is in charge of the mine, and is one of shareholders in the company. The gold from this Wyandgo mine has been pronounced by experts to be of excellent quality, as was evidenced by the fact that three small lumps, which Mr. Eastwood brought here are valued at about $50.

Freak Weather Conditions In Harvey

Mr. W. Stubber, the well-known cattle buyer was yesterday surrounded at the market weigh scales by quite a crowd to be given his experiences of a July frost in the back country, especially in Harvey town ship. Mr. Stubber told a story of the damage frost had wrought through Harvey and in certain parts of Smith, which is a record in weather conditions in the month of July. He says that there was a heavy frost a week ago last night and considerable damage was done to the crops in the back country.

Mr. Wm. Cheney, who keeps check on the logs passing for Government statistics at $30 a month, at Scott's Mills, three miles north of Buckhorn, says that on Tuesday morning last, the frost was quite thick around there. Small apples were frozen on the trees, also the potatoes and even the raspberries on the bushes.

Mr. Stubber stated that as he and a friend drove along the road almost every tree and shrub showed distinct and undeniable signs of the effects of frost. At Buckhorn the "white frost" could be scraped off boards of the look in handfuls.

About Female Ailments

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated.

Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female disease, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better off the system is without the poisonous accummulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good?

Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes today; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Gravels, Port Au Port, Newfoundland; "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was 'female trouble' and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so.

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

CURE FOR FEVER

A German physician announces a new serum which produces immunity from typhoid fever, and prevents intestinal perforation if injected during the attack. Dr. Bergell, who makes the announcement, says that the discovery has already been taken up by the German ministry of war, which believes that it will be of immense importance in fighting the ravages of typhoid in the army. The importance of the discovery can scarcely be over-estimated, assuming of course that the new serum is what it is claimed to be. There is nothing more encouraging in the history of humanity than the progress of medical science. The story of the warfare against disease and suffering especially in comparatively recent years, is an inspiring one. The pages of romance present no such genuine heroes and heroines as the men and women who have devoted their lives, for the most part without hope of other reward, to the service of humanity, in the tremendous struggle against death and suffering. They are the real dragon-slayers, the real crusaders, the real knight-errands of modern times. Unfortunately, they are very largely ignored or neglected by the people in whose service their lives are so nobly spent. The papers are filled with, and the people go wild over, the doings of prize fighters, lacrosse players and horse racers. The men and women who do things of real worth are scarcely noticed.

ATUOMOBILE FIRE ENGINES

The first city to experiment with automobile fire engines was Hanover, Germany, says the Rochester Post-Express. A complete automobile fire engine service, consisting of engines, hose carts and hook and ladder rigs was purchased in 1902, and according to a report just published by the Hanover authorities service has proved entirely satisfactory. The automobile service for five years has saved the city $14,300, and this fact has inspired several contemporaries to ask for the installation of the automobile fire engine service in American cities.

Because automobiles are more economical than horse drawn fire engines in Hanover, it is by no means certain that such would be the case in this country. In Hanover the streets are admirably paved and mostly flat, the grades being very slight. The buildings for the most part are modern and of what is known as the fireproof type, as the strict construction rules are rigidly enforced. Furthermore, labor, fuel and alcohol are cheap. Altogether, conditions are much as to be favorable to such a service. In many American cities might be just the reverse. But the subject is well worth careful investigation.

TO BE REWARDED

The announcement that the British Government has decided to reward Lord Cromer for his services in Egypt by a grant of a quarter of a million dollars will be well received in all parts of the empire. The grant is a very handsome one considering Lord Cromer's unique administrative ability and the remarkable beneficence of his activities. Although he was practically the absolute ruler of Egypt and the Soudan, and responsible for all their affairs, his salary was only $32,500 a year, probably very much less than he would have earned if he had devoted his abilities to personal and private ends. Moreover, he is probably the first ruler of Egypt since Joseph who has ruled with a single eye to the personal good and none to his personal aggrandizement. Compared with what the country has bestowed on its great soldiers in the past, the grant is a modest one, but it is more in its significance than in its size that satisfaction is to be found. It is a step heavenward. It recognizes that the builder-up, the creator, may be counted a hero as well as the destroyer.

Piquet.

The most complicated of card games is undoubtedly piquet. It is also of considerable antiquity.

Orphans.

Two of the young friends of Bishop Wilberforce of Oxford gave the authorities of the university so much trouble that they won the nicknames of Hophni and Phinehas.

One day, says T. H. S. Escott in "Society In the Country House," they were lounging about the hall at Cuddesdon palace, singing the Lutheran refrain, "The devil is dead," when the bishop suddenly appeared.

He walked very gently up to them and in his most caressing manner, placing one hand on each head, said in a consolatory tone:

"Alas, poor orphans!"

Two Hundred Species of Roses.

There are 200 species of roses in existence, though perhaps not more than fifty clearly defined families. Of these families only two are of American birth. There are thousands of varieties, however, and of these our enterprising rose growers have contributed by far the largest proportion. The eagerly sought black rose is still unpurchased, though a New York florist has a dark red one which in some lights has the appearance of black velvet.

"They're not really discontented," answered the clerk. 'They merely want to convey a favorable impression about what they are used to at home."

The Hymn He Didn't Want.

A young man who was to be married in church to a Miss Way, after a courtship of four years, privately requested the choir not to open the service by singing, "This is the Way I long have sought."

State Regalia Stolen.

Dublin, Ireland, July 9.—A portion of the State regalia, valued at $250,000, has been stolen from Dublin Castle. The safe in which the regalia was kept was forced. The jewels stolen were those used in the ceremony of investure in the Order of St. Patrick, the procession cross, studded with diamonds, and the jewelled sword, which is borne in the procession at the investiture of the knights.

Charged With Murder of Brother

Montreal, July 9.—Michel Sylvestri, of Providence, R.I., is under arrest here on a charge of having murdered his brother on September 12, 1904, by stabbing him to the heart with a screw-driver. Sylvestri was recognized by a Providence man in Montreal, who communicated with Chief Carpenter. When accused he confessed his guilt to four detectives, but later repudiated the confession and states that his only brother died in Italy.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative, month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards
Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

SIREN DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms — the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

50% IN ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 780 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Radamacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum valu eof millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fofteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 80 to 200 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 10 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs on our ore values are shown ranging from $16.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, shows values up to $600.00 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of mining our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore, similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.00 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ore agoes $9.00 to $13.00 per ton; our ore averages $20.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. Th epar value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $40.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our will show a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $8.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATIION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares is Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to th eproperties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purpose mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—One-fifth Cash and the remainder in Four Monthly Payments.

cap, but they had no funds with which to hire a large vessel.

They made their headquarters aboard the barge now. Bradley did not go up to Orham at all. When his day's work was over he ate a hasty supper and tumbled into a berth in the skipper's cabin, sometimes to sleep, but more often to lie awake and plan for the morrow. He was still pale and weak from the effects of the blow on the head, but he would not take it easy, as the captain begged. The worry and strain of the labor were in a sense relief to him—they kept him from thinking of other things.

Each morning the old maids telephoned to the station to learn how he felt and how the work was progressing. Bradley gathered from Miss Prissy's anxious remarks that in the village the partners' failure was regarded as a foregone conclusion. The news made him only more determined to succeed.

Cook & Sons wired daily, and every afternoon a report was sent to them. These reports were growing more optimistic. The barge was eating her way steadily through the shoal, and as she was lightened she moved faster. They watched the cables as a cat watches a rat hole, keeping them always tight. The captain said: "Brad, if I didn't know what was the matter I should b'lieve my old Sunday school teacher was right. He always swore I'd be hung some day, and now all I can dream about is repes."

The captain's energy was something wonderful. A nervous man by nature, he flew from one end of the Freedom to the other, commanding, helping, hurrying. With the men he was always cheerful and sure of success, but once in awhile, alone with his partner, he showed his real feelings. One morning before turning in he went ashore to telephone. When he came back he called Bradley aside and said:

"Brad, Sam says the gov'ment weather folks are 'stretchin' a big storm for day after tomorrow. It's comin' from the south and 'll strike here about then. It's a former, they say. It worries me. I'm more scart of a gale of wind, just now than I am of the Old Harry himself."

The junior partner looked troubled. "Wonder if that's what's distressing Peleg?" he observed. "Peleg has been after me ever since the fire. Says he's got something to tell me."

"He's been pesterin' me too. I ain't had no time to listen to his yarns. Let's see him."

They sent for the weather prophet, who appeared, dirtier than ever. "Look here, Peleg," was the captain's salutation. "What do we feed you for? Here's the gov'ment weather sharp smellin' out a gale, an you ain't peeped. You'll have to put specs on your second sight or we'll ship a new prophet, one or t'other."

Mr. Myrick was troubled. "Now, Cap'n Ez," he protested in an aggrieved tone, "ain't I been tryin' to git at ye-ner Brad for four days or more? I knew there was a blow comin'. She's comin' a-hittin' too. And I don't need no-specs neither."

"Thought Brad, this is the devil and all, isn't it? That'll do, Peleg."

"But, Cap'n Ez, there's somethin' else I wanted to tell you, I"—

"Never mind now. Put it on tea. Git!"

Peleg "got," but with reluctance. He kept looking back and shaking his head. Captain Ezra's face was very solemn. His forehead wrinkled, and he pulled his mustache nervously.

"By crimustes!" he muttered. "We have got to do somethin' quick. I know you don't take any stock in Peleg, but if that gale does come we're knocked higher 'n the main truck. She's loosenin' up so now that a tug might help us. I can git a little one from Vineyard Haven, skipper, engineer and all, for $40 a day."

"But they won't work on spec."

"No. I'm going to Wellmouth to see the bank folks. I'll tell 'em that if they ever hope to git back the rest of the money they lent on the Divin' Belle they must risk enough to pay for that tug. I'm goin' now."

"But you've been up all night. Let me go. You turn in."

"Turn in be durned! I'd sleep about as sound as an eel on a perch hook. I can turn in when I can't do anything else. Goodby. Put in your spare time prayin' for me, will you?"

He went to Wellmouth, saw the people at the bank and, as he said, "talked from his boots up." At 12 o'clock of the following day the little tug put in an appearance. She got a grip on the Freedom's bow and pulled with the tide.

The expected gale did not come that day, but the next afternoon the sky was overcast, and the sun disappeared behind angry clouds. It was blowing fresh when Bradley, worn out, went to his berth at 9 o'clock. He had fought against going at all, but Captain Titcomb said: "Put in an hour or two anyway. I'll call you if you're wanted."

He called him before the second hour was up. "Come on deck, Brad!" he cried excitedly. "That sou'easter's on the road, and it's backin' up the biggest tide ever I saw. 'Tain't high water till 2, but she's pretty nigh as high as usual now."

The junior partner hurried on deck. The wind was singing in the rigging, and the waves were rushing past the barge, slapping furiously at her as they passed. The night was a dead black, and the surf on the ocean side of the Point boomed like heavy artillery.

"I've sent ashore for the day shift," said the captain. "We've got to make our fight now. Looks as if 'twas our last chance, and a mighty slim one."

The dories brought the tired men from the beach. They had worked hard all day, but they were ready to work still harder now. They realized that, one way or another, this was the end of the big job.

The little tug, bouncing up and down on the waves, was throwing her whole weight on the tow line. Alvin Bearse stood by the donkey engine ready to take in every inch of the cable. The partners were in the bow. The buckets were flying from the hold.

"She gained a heap last trip," murmured the captain. "This extry high water and the waves ought to help her like fun. But I'm 'fraid 'twon't be enough, and tomorrer the sou'easter 'll hand with both feet."

Waiting was the hardest thing. A half hour seemed longer than an ordinary day. The wind gained in force little by little. The tide crept up the barge's side. At 1 o'clock it was far higher than it had ever reached before, and so powerful was its rush that the huge hull quivered in its grasp. The water, seen by the lantern's light, was the color of chocolate, streaked and marbled with foam and eddies of foam.

Half past 1. The captain put his watch in his pocket and wiped his forehead.

"I know how it feels when you're waitin' to be hung," he observed. "Thirty minutes for the firm to live, Brad; then"—

A mighty blow from a wave, a trembla and then a roll. The lanterns in the rigging spun around in circles. The men on the deck and below fell in heaps. The Freedom lifted, straightened and then began to rock in her cradle. The cables sagged into heaps. Their silent partner, the tide, had come to the firm's rescue.

Will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion see Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Instinct in Plants.

Climbing plants have two opposing methods of describing spiral growth. The plants that turn to the right in the northern hemisphere reverse this trend in the southern hemisphere, and therefore, for the sake of consistency, it may be preferable to describe the two kinds of spiral tendency as respectively "clockwise" and "counter clockwise," which latter can be shortened to "counterwise." The honeysuckle and the hop turn "clockwise," while the convolvulus and the scarlet runner bean twine "counterwise." Experiments made by growing scarlet runner beans in opaque cylinders, to discover whether the deviation of the twist was innate or merely from the direction of the light, disclosed the fact that the plant possesses an inclination resembling the instinct of animals, of proceeding in a given direction, and resents any attempt to force it otherwise.

Swedenborg in Ruffles and Wig.

Swedenborg was a great deal in London, where he was known and admired and had several good friends, but his small knowledge of English and the impediment in his speech precluded him from any real intimacy. His slight figure, with its fine features and hazel eyes, was well known in the neighborhood of Coldbath fields, where he lodged, and he was often seen stopping to talk to the children, for whom he used to carry sweetmeats. He was always dressed in an old fashioned suit with lace ruffles and wore a full bottomed wig, carrying a sword and a gold headed cane. On Christmas eve, 1771, he had a stroke of apoplexy, and on March 29, 1772, the day he had foretold, he died at the house which he had himself named.—Occult Review.

Antiquity of Tea Smoking.

"With your tea cigarettes," said the antiquary sternly, "you young ladies think yourselves very modern and decadent. But look here."

He took from a portfolio a French print of the seventeenth century that portrayed two men, with cumbrous pipes, charging the same from a box of China tea.

"This shows you," the old man said, "the antiquity of tea smoking. It was a common thing in France 200 years ago. Blegnt mentions it, and Grand d'Aussay in his 'Histoire de la Vie Privee des Francais' describes it in detail. An old vice, a dead vice—for the French found that tea smoking racked the nerves—how very, very foolish you girls are to have revived it."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent one one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Womanly Troubles

Should Not be Allowed to Undermine Health.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the first stages of womanhood appear in a young girl, a great deal depends in getting her over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or consumption.

When she complains of flushed face, headache bearing down feelings, give her a course of Ferrozone which will carry her past the crisis.

In the adult woman if any irregularities occurr, Ferrozone will be found a remedy of remarkable potence and power.

Ferrozone is the ideal regulitor and causes all organs of the body to perform their work properly.

It purifies the blood, tones up the nerves and vital energies. The stomach is strengthened, and digestive and assimilative processes are improved by the good work, of Ferrozone. It regulates the bowels, cures constipation and piles, and replaces disease and decay by health and strength.

There is nothing better for the complexion than Ferrozone. It removes the dark circles from under the eyes, removes and cures all manner of skin eruptions, gives bright ness and brilliancy to the eyes, a rosy tint to the cheeks, whitens the teeth and developes a well rounded, plump and handsome form.

Ferrozone is the ladies' favorite, and should find a place in every household. It is prepared in the form of a chocolate coated tablet, convenient and pleasant to take. Price per box, 50c, or three boxes for $1.125. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. W. Leahy is Cased

On Monday evening at the office of the Big Dipper Mining Co., friends of Mr. Wm. Leahy, presented him with a gold headed cane. Short speeches were made by Messrs. E. White, Waldron and others, all expressing regret at Mr. Leahy's departure from the city. Mr. Leahy made a suitable reply.

Mr. Roy's Rob Roy in Danger

Mr. Roy and his good ship the Rob Roy came near shipwreck whilst passing through the Fenelon Falls lock, en route home from the Kirkfield lift lock opening. It seems that some one connected with the lock made a case of "Molly slipped her tether," whilst manoeuvring the water up the locking through process was in progress. As it was the dinghy belonging to the Rob Roy, and in tow behind was totally destroyed at an expense to Mr. Roy of some $22. It is a matter of congratulation that the lock man's carelessness did not result more seriously.

—Mr. R. Percival Langford, of the firm of McLeod & Langford, general merchants, left last week on a visit to his parents, Major and Mrs. Langford, Peterborough, Ont.—Wolseley Sask., News.

—Mrs. T. O. Elliott and family will leave today to spend the season at "Carleton Hall," Stony Lake. Miss Rene and Dorothy Cochrane, of Bracebridge, will be the guests of Mrs. Elliot for some weeks.

—We are pleased to say that enquiries made last night at Nicholls Hospital, resulted in showing that the condition of Mr. Attrell, who was injured by a fall from a hammock Chemong Park, is somewhat improved.

The Stony Lake Again Busy

The steamer Stony Lake has returned from Beaverton and is again in her regular route on Stony Lake. She left Beaverton at an early hour Monday. A few of those who attended the lift lock opening at Kirkfield on Saturday enjoyed a sail on the the steamer Sovereign on Sunday around Lake Simcoe, Lake Couchiching and other waters, touching at Orillia, Barrie and various other ports.

American Soldier Veteran Here

Capt. F. T. Stewart, who has charge of a company in connection with the National Military Home, at Dayton, Ohio, is in the city, on his annual visit to his sister, Mrs. A. C. Dunlop, corner of Water and Murray streets. Mrs. Brown, sister of the captain, is also here on a visit. Capt. Stewart is in charge of about 200 disabled volunteer soldiers.

The captain was in 1863, on the famous march with General Sherman, from Chattanooga, Tenn., to the sea, and he went through some twelve or fifteen fights.

Mr. Hamilton's Funeral Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, at three o'clock, the funeral of the late Wm. D. Hamilton, who was accidentally injured in the disaster on the C.N.R. at Rainy River, that he died on the general hospital, Winnipeg, on Monday, will take place from the residence of his father, Mr. William Hamilton, Lakefield. He was well-known in Toronto, Peterborough and Lindsay, and was a member of Peterborough Lodge, No 111, I.O.O.F., and of the A.F. & A.M.'s Lindsay, as well as a member of the Mystic Shrine, Toronto. The deceased leaves besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, of Lakefield, four brothers, and one sister to mourn his loss.

Pickpockets On Trial Today

The trial of the four alleged pickpockets whom it is charged by the police, lightened the pockets of several local citizens on circus day, June 25th, of sundry rolls of greenback paper, will again appear for trial before Police Magistrate Dumble at 9 a.m. today. It seems that the police have made enquiries about these men throughout both Canada and the United States, after sending their photographs away broadcast. Still Chief Rogel is "mum" when asked as to answers received. The only satisfaction a Times man got yesterday, in response to his enquiries was, "Wait till the trial is over and you will see."

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Chief of Police Rogel has a Masonic pin, for which he wants an owner.

—A large number of citizens drove out to the Dutro picnic in King Edward Grove yesterday.

—Installation of Officers of Mount Hebron and Hiawatha Encampments, I.O.O.F. of the city Lakes place tonight.

—The enrolment of the Y.M.C.A. boys' camp is still increasing. Half a dozen more have sent in their names.

—The Orangemen of Minden are making a few symptoms to decorate the streets and build a platform at the grove.

—The newly elect officers of Norwood Lodge, I.O.O.F., was installed yesterday evening. Several brethren from Peterborough attended.

—There was nothing doing in police court yesterday morning. Magistrate Dumble is out of the city, as also is City Clerk Armstrong.

—Mr. James McCabe has purchased a motor cycle which has a speed of 45 miles an hour. Mr. McCabe gave the machine a trial yesterday afternoon.

—Jackson Park seems to be the center of attraction these hot nights. Thousands go out to take in the moving pictures and fine ozone laden atmosphere concurrently.

—Mr. J. W. Gardiner, the local auctioneer, will hold another sale at Bruce Lee's livery barns on Saturday afternoon, when 7 horses and 15 head of cattle will be offered for sale.

—At a meeting of the Historical Society Monday night, Secretary T. J. Wallace was elected representative to represent the local society at the convention to be held in Kingston, on July 18th.

—As the Collegiate Institute was closed before the 67th was inspected, the Collegiate Institute Cadets at the close of the summer school term will have their official inspection early in the fall.

—Mr. R. M. Roy has completed a set of four photos of the Kirkfield lift lock opening. They are exceedingly good views and practically every person on the boat and within range can be distinguished.

—That there is quite a number of young ladies who are "willing workers," is in evidence, considering the interest taken in the moonlight excursion which is being arranged under their auspices for the 19th inst.

—Two Sunday school picnics were held down the river yesterday. The George street Sunday school pienicked at Idyl Wyld, going down on the steamer Otonabee, while the Murk street Sunday school spent the day at Gore's Landing.

—Mrs. Gates, who recently arrived in Peterborough, having come over from the old country on the steamship Ottawa, has been engaged as assistant matron of the County Home of Refuge, at Lakefield. Mrs. Gates is a woman of experience in England.

—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Martin, 86 Leslie street, will sympathise with them in the loss they have sustained in the death of their four months' old child, which was buried yesterday morning at ten o'clock to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

—Mr. Geo. H. Howard, immigration agent, would like certain parties who are supposed to have come to Peterborough or vicinity during the past few days, from England, to call at his office, corner of Water and Brock streets, as there is considerable mail matter awaiting them.

A Sermon to Children

On Sunday morning next in Murray street Baptist church, the Rev. J. R. Webb will deliver a special sermon to the children. Parents are requested to turn out in large numbers and bring all the members of their families.

Pertinent Query As To Bonus Bylaw

(To the Editor of The Times)

Sir,—I see that the Colonial Weaving Company are asking for a substantial bonus from the city because they are enlarging their premises. Now Sir, it is only fair to the ratepayers to be told before vote is cast, how many heads of families does this concern employ. Now it seems to me that many dry goods firms on George street employ as many hands as do some of the so-called "manufacturers," who ask help of the ratepayers. How many heads of families does this would-be-bonused concern employ?

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of other equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that has such professional endorsement—and more than any number of ordinary patent nostrums. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Good Opportunity For Investment

Cecil Rhodes Thinks Mining the Best and Safest Business

There is hardly an intelligent follower of contemporary or past news, but who places great reliance on the "say-so" of Dean Rhodes, the late great empire maker of South Africa. Mr. Rhodes was not only a great thinker but an active doer. What he said or thought was pretty nearly a safe bet of accomplishment. In speaking of the mining business Mr. Rhodes said;

"I have made a great study of mining, and have had statistics not only of Great Britain and Africa, but of the world, carefully compiled relative to this proposition. The investigation shows that mining has always offered greater inducements than any business in the world can make quick and great wealth."

The Death Valley Mining Company, fully incorporated, whose stock is non-assessable, own 16 claims, the ores from which run all the way from $16.36 to $147.50 per ton in gold, silver and copper. The company is now going to erect a smelter to reduce the ores of their and other nearby mines, and to accomplish this ture, for a limited time offering treasury stock at $1 per share, on four months' time of payment. For full particulars write The Death Valley Mining and Smelting Co., 622 Dwight Building, Kansas City, Mo.

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

PICKPOCKETS ARE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Slick Gentry Who Did Up Our Townsmen Are Held Over For Further Trial.

Yesterday afternoon the police court was crowded for the fur pleading the portion set apart for prisoners, prosecutors and defendants and the magistrate, from that used by the Sunshine Club and others of the audience. The court was called for two p.m., and promptly on time the magistrate mounted the rostrum.

The first case called was that of John E. Code, who was charged with embezzlement of $92 from the London Insurance Co. Mr. Wood, county crown attorney acted for the prosecution, and Mr. Gordon for the defence.

The first witness called was Edward E. Reid, who said, after Mr. Gordon had laid a complaint against the information as conveyed, said he was assistant manager of the London Life Company's staff at London, Ont. An agent's official appointment was produced by witness, signed by Code and approved by the company. Witness was here last April. Prisoner began to work for the company on Sept. 6th last. Code made his returns to the company until March last. The report for February last was somewhat late. The March return was late and was accompanied by a letter saying he, Mr. Code, had no funds to meet the account.

This letter said practically that, "I am sorry to say I have ruined myself with the London Life, and cannot meet my indebtedness. I hope you won't press my bondsmen on this. I have drivelled too much and thereby spent the company's money."

Mr. Reid tried to get a satisfactory explanation from Code, but could not do so. The total shortage at the 1st of April was $147.92, against which there was a month's salary of $50 and $5 on commissions, leaving a net shortage of $92.92. If Code could not make good this deficiency in April, he was to quit working for the company. He did not make good. This was on a verbal understanding.

To Mr. Gordon, Code's salary for March, was credited on the general account against his indebtedness. Witness could not swear that Code got his salary for February. $18.45 was Code's expenses for March, the prisoner should have had $40 on hand for that month. No salary or commission was paid up Code for the month of April according to the after agreement.

Here Mr. Gordon asked witness, "You were before the insurance commission were you not? And you had a pretty time didn't you?" (Laughter.) "Oh, I don't think that affects this case," retorted Mr. Reid.

Mr. Bates, superintendent of agencies, who made and signed the agreement between Code and the company, had no authority to make such agreement. Mr. Code has not failed to report the collection of any funds of the company. Here Mr. Gordon said he could go no further into the case, as Mr. Parkinson, superintendent of agencies, of the London Life, was not present and no agreement had been made verbally between him and Code.

The result of the case was that Code dug down to the tune and paid up $102.92, but he was denied access to the company's books to prove his indebtedness.

Then the "cause celebre," that of the four alleged pickpockets, Philip Bradford and others were charged with having picked pockets during June 26th, i.e., when the Forepaugh & Sells circus showed here.

The first witness was W. J. Hurl. At this point Mr. Kerr asked that the other witnesses be excluded from the court during the examination.

The first witness, Mr. Hurl, who in reply to a question by Mr. Kerr said that whilst Mr. McDonald was a policeman here, asked that McDonald leave the court during that stage of the trial.

Mr. Gordon appeared for Bradford and Lewis and carried on a strenuous fight for his clients.

Mr. Kerr submitted that some of the constables should be sent out of court but thought that some of them might be necessary to watch the prisoners.

His worship thought that in a preliminary hearing the police should be present. The magistrate then decided that the police should be present at such a time.

Mr. Wood here asked for a ruling of the court.

Mr. W. J. Hurl of Smith, said that on circus day, the had $13 in his pocket, and had about $12 on his way home. He went down to the circus by the George street car, jumping on at Simcoe street. Then a man crowded into him in the car when his hands were up. The man who stopped him said if you weren't smoking I would let you in." Witness then said, he had his money in his right hand pants' pocket, and felt some one going through his pocket. He suspected that some one had gone through his pockets. He saw the man who was pushing him at the time. He then recognized Phelps one of the prisoners as the man who pushed into him. He had three $2 bills, a $5 bill and a $1 bill making $13 in all. Then $5 bill was on the Toronto Bank. The car at the time was "chuck full."

To Mr. Kerr, witness said, on circus day, "I got up at five o'clock a.m., and drove to the city. I put up at the Crown Hotel. I counted my money at 11 a.m." To Mr. Kerr, there was a large crowd trying to get to the car.

As he got aboard the car, he was helpless, as the people ahead shoved one way and those behind him shoved the other way. He was in the car vestibule when he felt a sensation as of some one feeling in his pants pockets. His daughter had just got a seat when he found he had been robbed, and went at once to the police station. He told the police he suspected a stout man with a straw hat of being the criminal. Witness then gave a true agriculturist description of a man he claim ed to have seen on this occasion. The man he had seen was dark complexioned, and about 5 feet 10 inches in height. He had a light moustache. The man on the rear of the car that day, said, "If you want not smoking I would let you in." Here Mr. Kerr asked for a detailed description of the policeman to whom witness made his complaint.

It seems that that night the witness told a policeman that one of the men, then under arrest at the station was the man who had crowded into him on circus day. The man who took his pocket book was on the street car and did it quicker than "it would take to tell about."

Here "Phelps" put on his straw hat and standing up in the dock, was recognized by the witness.

P. C. Newhall in the box, said that on circus day, June 25th, he was dressed partly in police and partly in civilian's clothing. As he came up town after dinner he saw the four prisoners at Lansdowne and Lake streets. They were jostling and pushing people on the cars. Instead of going in the circus, prisoners went along inside the grounds, two ahead and two behind. Shortly after this they left by the new George street. Witness went on some car as prisoners and rode to Brock street, where it stopped. Here Mr. Hartley, a old man got on. Mr. Hartley had his arms full of parcels. Phelps barred his way. Bradford then took something out of the old man's pocket. Hartley then made a kick about his treatment by prisoner. Then a south-bound car came along and Phelps and Lewis jumped aboard of it and the other two were acting suspiciously, their hands being either in or near passengers' pockets. Then they got off at the White House. Witness then went and put on his uniform and went to the corner of Hunter and George streets. Soon a car came along. Phelps was standing on the rear end and Lewis on the front end. The other two men were in the car among the people. He looked right into Phelps face and in one second the white four were out of the car. Then the four jumped out to a trailer of a passing car. Witness followed them on the car to the Exhibition grounds. As Bradford went into the grounds he threw something away. He then missed two of the prisoners.

Witness then after changing his clothes went on another car to the Exhibition grounds. The four prisoners were jostling passengers. Witness jumped aboard with prisoners and rode to the Commercial House where they all got off. Then a car and trailer came along going south. The prisoners got aboard the trailer about 1.55. As the car pulled up Phelps was standing at the rear vestibule at the west side as Hurl and his daughter got aboard. Phelps squeezed Hurl against the other passengers. Bradford then took a buckskin bag from Hurl's friend's pocket. Goodfield then tried another man's pocket. The four prisoners then quickly jumped off the car at the monumental works. Goldfield and Bradford both went into other people's pockets. Goldfield took bank bills from other men and put them in his own pocket. Then as another car came along the four jumped aboard and were jostling and trying to pick pockets all the way along. Witness stayed outside the Exhibition grounds this trip. The four were talking about P. C. McDonald and Detective Greer. Phelps said "That's the same cop as watched us up town." As the car got to Romaine street witness boarded it. Phelps and Bradford got off at Romaine street. After a time a loaded car came along and the four prisoners got aboard. Then the four got jostling and shoving. The prisoners then took the same route as before. As they crossed the G.T.R. at Crescent St., two of them were called by the witness attention to the car conductor. Phelps and Bradford boarded the east side of the car and the others at the west side. Soon, however, the whole crowd sat together. The four then rode to the Commercial House, where Phelps brought a drink. Goldfield took off his chrisite hat and put on a grey hat with red lining and going through a back door, returned and said, "Not a cop in sight." Witness then called on Mr. Larmouth. He then telephoned to the station for assistance. Then P. C. Newharry and Adams came to the spot and arrested the four men. On arrival at the station Witness warned the prisoners that what they might say could be used against them. Henry Lewis said, "I have just got in from Montreal. I don't know these men." In his pants pockets witness found a $10 Bank of Commerce, a $2, two $5 on Dominion Bank, 1 $5 on the Home Bank, and a $1 on the Standard Bank, and $1.37 in U.S. currency. On Phelps in his left hand pants pockets was some $35 or $40 and $25 on in secret pocket. In the next pocket was a $5 in U.S. currency, $2 in Dominion currency and $1 in change or $63 in all. When the officer found the money in the secret pocket, Phelps exclaimed, "Here leave that alone, that's my money."

One of the prisoners said he had only just got in by G.T.R. from Detroit and Windsor and was never in Toronto in the city of Phelps' pants was a $50 American bill. This was after he had said he had not a cent about him. On Raymond was a gold watch and chain, gold ring, two $10 Bank of Montreal bills, one $10 bill of the C.B. of C., one $5 Bank of Hamilton, one $5 on the Bank of Toronto, two $2 bills on the Dominion Bank. Prisoner said he was only in two days, one up and one down. He did not know any of the police men. Harry Goodfield said he changed his hat for a cap as he was going fishing. He said he had just come to on a freight from Montreal. Prisoner said, "You need not search me as I only have $1 about me." Witness then retorted, "Unbutton your under drawers." Witness then found some $25 or $30 tucked away in prisoner's drawers.

Where prisoners had been sitting, Newhall said he found two empty purses, one with the name of J. W. Burns, N.Y., which had the pictures of several actresses. The purse had on it a complete route of the circus as it passed through Canada.

After other evidence was heard, the magistrates held the four prisoners for trial at a higher court.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

INTERESTING POLICE NEWS

Happenings Around the Local Police Station

The police court was well filled by members of the Labor Loathing League and the Pavement Peter Clubs, who were evidently present to see the four, alleged pickpockets, who were arrested June 25, Circus Day. The first case tried was that of Wm. Richards who pleaded not guilty to having been drunk and disorderly. P. C. Newhall testified that prisoner was kicking a door on Hunter steet on Tuesday night and making a great disturbance. It seems that William is the husband of Mrs. Richard, a well known police court character now in jail. The magistrate remarked, when told of this matrimonial fact, "Oh that terrible woman! Possibly Richards got drunk so as to be with her at the jail." The chief then noted that some stolen goods were being looked after and asked that Richards be remanded a week.

The case of the four alleged pickpockets then came up. The chief noted that the crown attorney was not present and that he had had a telephone message from Detective Greer, Toronto, who asked that the case be enlarged. Mr. Gordon, counsel for two of the prisoners, arose and made a marked argument against any such enlargement of the case in question. Mr. Kerr, counsel for the other two prisoners said that with all due deference to justice and the dignity of the court, that these four men had had two postponements of their trial. While the crown has certain recognized prerogatives, in this case not one iota of evidence had been yet shown against his clients. It was to prevent such proceedings as now suggested by Chief Ruzzel that the Habeas Corpus Act was passed to safeguard citizens. His clients, with no evidence yet shown against them, had been remanded twice, for a week each time. He considered that simply because County Crown Attorney Wood was out at his lodge enjoying himself, that it was most unfair and against British fair play, that four men, who had not yet been shown in any way guilty should be held in jail another week without trial. The fact that some Toronto detective had telephoned Chief Ruzzel that he wanted the case enlarged was no excuse for holding four men who are still, in the eyes of the law, innocent. Mr. Kerr made a strong appeal to the magistrate which had an evident hold on the magistrate's mind. Mr. Gordon again arose, and for his clients, noted that Bradford's mother and wife were here at large expense awaiting the trial and that Bradford's child was dangerously ill in the hospital. It was not according to British fair play that prisoners should be held, week after week, without trial, where no evidence as to their guilt had been produced by the crown especially under such circumstances as he related, and asked that the prisoners be discharged. The chief then said that he did not like to take the responsibility of carrying on so important a trial without the county crown attorney being present. The magistrate compromised matters by enlarging the trial until 2 p.m.

Port Hope Guide Is Badly Biased

Peterboro Pitcher Did Manage a No Hit Game Saturday

Commenting on the statement of The Times that Quinnin pitched a no-hit game against Port Hope last Saturday, the Port Hope Guide says.—

"This looks nice in print for Quinn, but it will stand a number of corrections. Unfortunately the Port Hope scorer did not keep an account of the hits but if our memory serves us correctly, Port Hope had two hits. Thompson played a slow one down third base line and it was clearly fouled and he had no trouble in beating it out at first. Surplis sent a hot one down to second base that was not touched by any of the fielders. The Peterborough scorer claimed that it should have been handled by the second baseman, and consequently gave him an error, and did not credit Surplis with a hit. The second baseman, we are all aware, could have touched the ball, but it was travelling too fast to be handled by him, and in this case, the latter

Nicholls' Estate Gift Appreciated

Mr. Richard Hall Thanked for His Generous Gift

The following letter of appreciation for the grant of $1,000 has been sent by the Children's Aid Society to the trustees of the Nicholls Estate;—

July 10, 1907.

Richard Hall, Esq., Trustee of the Mrs. Nicholls Estate;

Dear Mr. Hall,—In behalf of the Children's Aid Society I wish to express to you our profound gratitude for the gift of $1,000 from the Mrs. Nicholls fund. We may close our shelter at any time, and this sum will be of great help in paralleling us to provide for the future in that respect. In the past 15 years we have taken over and put in homes fully 300 dependent children not counting, of course, the much larger number protected and assisted. Although still very much in need of capital for shelter purposes, we welcome your third donation as a good, solid beginning.

Again thanking you on behalf of the society,

I am, sir,
Yours respectfully,
J.H. BURNHAM,
President C.A.S.

Two Men Caught By Big Cave-In

Stampede at One of Montreal's Principal Corners by Landslide

Montreal, July 10.—The caving-in of the earth of the foundation of a building being erected at the corner of McGill and St. James streets resulted in serious injury to two men, yesterday morning. The beams supporting the mass of earth snapped suddenly, and Superintendent Allen and two workmen were buried.

Mr. Allen had his arm and several ribs fractured.

A workman named Alex. Gaul was taken out unconscious, and it is feared that he will die.

There was a big crowd at the corner when the beams gave way, and a stampede followed the breaking of the timber.

Why Colonial Weaving Company Limited, Bylaw Should be Supported

The only concession the company is being given is a free site, upon which to erect their factory and a fixed assessment for the full present value of [illegible] during [illegible] company's buildings will be erected.

Under the bylaw the company are bound to erect a suitable brick building, at least sixty feet wide by two hundred feet long.

The company are further bound, within one year to install in such building thirty thousand dollars' worth of machinery.

The company are further bound to constantly employ at least sixty hands. The present plans of the company would require at least one hundred hands to operate the new machinery which they are installing.

There is no reason why this company should not be given the same aid that has been extended to other factories locating in Peterborough, but even under the present bylaw the company is not being extended the same treatment as has been extended to others in as much as they have to pay school taxes for the full assessed value of their land and of the new buildings which it is proposed to erect.

More favorable terms have been offered by other towns to the company than are being granted by Peterborough. It is only the loyalty of the shareholders of the company to Peterborough that is inducing them to resist the tempting offers of other towns. That spirit of loyalty in our citizens should be encouraged rather than discouraged, especially when it means bringing in $60,000 of new capital.

ARRESTS AT LINDSAY EXPECTED HOURLY

One Suspected Party Has Left Town Suddenly, It Is Reported

Lindsay, July 10.—There are no further developments of importance in the alleged counterfeiting case, although further arrests are expected hourly, and it is rumored that one suspected party has left suddenly for unknown parts. The authorities refuse to talk, but it is apparent that they believe they have secured something pretty good, with probably more to follow. All the arrests so far have been residents of Lindsay for a shorter or longer time.

WELL UP IN YEARS.

Charles Burke, who is in jail here, and at whose house counterfeiting apparatus was found, is a man of about sixty years of age. He has lived here most of his life, and is well known. His character has always been good. He formerly conducted a shingle mill on the river, and is in good financial condition. The mill burned down some years ago and since then he has been living practically retired. He has been a somewhat enthusiastic amateur photographer of late years, according to accounts.

Richard Wynn and Archie Boyeau, the two arrested at the Soo, also belong to Lindsay. Wynn is a man well up in years, probably close to seventy, while Boyeau is a comparatively young man. The Englishman arrested at Montreal was here for a short time, as he was employed as fireman on the G.T.R. One running out of here. His partner, who raided the Montreal police, is a well-known Lindsay man.

THE TOWN IS ASTONISHED.

The detectives are still in behind apparently working on the case. The town is much excited and astonished over the remarkable occurrence, which is a surprise to everybody.

Charles Burke will be up for preliminary hearing on Monday next.

Ontario will prosecute the further investigation into the counterfeiting cases, upon which the arrests were made at Lindsay on Monday.

Chs. Percy Sherwood, head of the Dominion Police Department, visited the J. J. Foy, the Ontario attorney-general, at the Parliament Buildings this morning, and was in conference with the minister for some time.

At the conclusion of the interview Chs. Sherwood said he had asked the attorney-general to take over for the Dominion the cases which were probably of a much wider character than will now indicated, and that he had consented. In view of this the Dominion Government would place at Mr. Foy's disposal all the data and evidence now in their possession.

Western Men Pleased With City

There are now in the city of Peterborough two gentlemen from western Canada, interested in telephone matters. These visitors are ex-Mayor Dyke of Port Williams and Prof. Dagger, who is now connected with the Saskatchewan Government. They are registered at the Oriental Hotel, and are in company with Mr. F. D. MacKay, general manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company.

This is the first time Mr. Dyke has been in Peterborough, and he said that he was delighted with it. He liked the surroundings and the people he had met he considered above the average. He had a chat with Mayor McWilliams, whom he considers a most able administrator.

"Watty" Nesbitt in A Good Position

The Fort Pierce News, Florida, refers to the appointment of an old Peterborough citizen, Mr. W. J. Nesbitt to an important place in the affairs of the county of St. Lucie, and says;—

W. J. Nesbitt this week received notice that this appointment had been made to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. C. P. Platts as superintendent of public instruction for St. Lucie county. This notice came from the secretary of state, and as soon as Mr. Nesbitt's bond is approved, his commission will be forwarded and he will enter upon his duties as superintendent. This will be nothing new for him, as he has performed the duties of that office, during the illness of Dr. Platts, and is familiar with the details. Mr. Nesbitt had previously been chairman of the board of instruction and had held the position for several years."

Japanese Flocking To United States

Buy Tickets for Canada, But Drop Off at Convenient Points

Mexico City, July 11.—Two hundred and seventy-five Japanese landed at Salina Cruz, Wednesday. They are heading for the coal mines in the district of Las Esperanzas.

Joseph X. Strand, a Chinese immigration inspector, stationed at El Paso, who arrived in this city yesterday, stated that Japanese are flocking to the border in great numbers and buying tickets from Juarez through to Canada, to enter the United States. Instead of going to Canada, it is stated, many stop at convenient points in the United States.

The Lindsay Post On Ball Matters

Lindsay Post says: Oshawa has dropped out of the Midland Baseball League, and Port Hope, Cobourg and Peterborough are left to fight it out. The Oshawa team was to have played at Cobourg on Saturday, but disbanded, and sent word to the president that they were dropping out of the league. Port Hope still leads the league, with five wins and two loses. Now's the chance for Lindsay to get in the game.

Board Ship and Forget Infant

New York, July 11.—Hendrick Van Soeck of Paris, Iowa, and his wife almost left for Europe on the steamship Nieuw Amsterdam yesterday without their baby. They had forgotten the infant and had left it at the hotel where they had stopped over night. The baby was not missed until just as the gang plank was about to be hauled in, and the vessel was delayed ten minutes to get the child on board.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Soeck were stopping at the Hotel Amsterdam in Hoboken and yesterday did not leave their room until just in time for a hasty breakfast. They hurried the children up the hotel dining room, leaving the baby asleep. Breakfast over, Van Soeck and his wife quickly packed up their baggage and followed by the three children, hurried to the pier.

The gang plank was about to be drawn in when the party reached the Nieuw Amsterdam. Van Soeck stepped on the gang plank, and as he did so his wife gave a cry of alarm.

"The baby!" she exclaimed, as she fled from the pier back across the park to the hotel.

Van Soeck hastily explained to an officer of the steamship that his wife had gone for her baby, and then he followed her. The woman became hysterical and fainted as she neared across the park. Her husband stopped to revive her, and as she regained consciousness a maid from the hotel came running across the park with the baby in her arms.

Keep Well with Good Food

Proper selection of Food the sure way to get well and keep well. Use

Grape-Nuts

A Mrs. woman says.

"While getting over the grip and with my stomach was so run down I could eat but anything without distress. I found I could take a dish of Grape-Nuts with cream or good milk, and need fault up like I had eaten a fine meal, and yet have none of the unpleasant effects of indigestion. I think people know its worth.

"It seems to me trained nurses and physicians could use it for such good advantage. It is surely the most nourishing and easily digested food I ever tried."

Grape-Nuts food is now recommended by physicians all over the world. They know it contains the delicate proteins of Phosphate of Potash obtained from the field grains. This is the element Nature combines with albumen of the food to build the soft gray substance in the nerve centers and brain, in the human body. The food is in some ways like a stimulant, but does not wear off, for it is a natural rebuilding.

Grape-Nuts can be made into a great many different and palatable dishes. As an illustration; A most delicious mock pumpkin pie can be made from Grape-Nuts after the following recipe; Pour boiling water over 1-2 cup Grape-Nuts, let stand 30 minutes; add 2 eggs, 4 tablespoonfuls of sugar, 2 cups sweet milk, 3 teaspoons of ginger, 1 teaspoon mixed spices. Stir over slow fire until thoroughly boiled. Bake pie dough in deep pan. When done, put on prepared Grape-Nuts, return to oven and brown. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason.

The Time of The Test

To companies as well as to individuals there comes a day of test, when they grow or shrink in the estimation of the public, according as they are able to meet it.

The test of the

LONDON LIFE

Insurance Company, London, Canada,

came with the Insurance Commission's investigation. The result of it was that broadcast throughout Canada this company's name was printed as typifying all that is honorable, safe and fair in life assurance. Correct methods, able financing, honest representations—these are features which have helped build up so splendid a reputation—which make LONDON LIFE policies as "Good as Gold."

JAPAN'S SUCCESS

At this time, when Japan is so prominently in the public eye, it may not be amiss to consider what may be the secret of that nation's wonderful progress. It can be expressed in one word, "Education," and the authority for that statement is no less a person than Marquis Ito, who perhaps more than any other man contributed to the inauguration of the movement, the result of which is amazing the world today. The Japanese were just as courageous, just as industrious, just as indifferent to death, just as loyal to their sovereign thirty years ago as they are today. But they were not so well educated in those things which make for national progress. A generation ago some wise statesmen and a wise monarch saw the time had come when Japan had to arouse herself from the apathy of centuries, and the first requisite for that purpose was the education of the people. There is nothing more astonishing in all history in the way in which this was accomplished. It was first necessary to inspire the people with confidence. This was done by the abolition of the feudal system.; It took England three centuries to get rid of that form of social organization. Germany began the process centuries ago and has not freed herself from it yet Japan accomplished the reform in three years, and without the drawing of a sword. It was a remarkable thing. Then the nation began to go to school. It studied everything from cotton-spinning to Christianity. It studied the art of war, and also the art of taking care of those who suffered from the effects of war. It studied the arts of peace. What a Japanese could not learn satisfactorily at school, he was content to learn in some one's kitchen. Knowledge was what he wanted. He had been told that knowledge would rejuvenate his nation, and he set out to acquire knowledge. Just as when he was told that the honor of his country required him to face certain death on the battlefield he went forward and died, so having been told that his country would become great in proportion as its people became educated, he went out and got an education.

The people of America affect a feeling of superiority over the Japanese. European people do not; but with all the vastness of America and the immensity of the material problems with which we have to deal, we are in some things very provincial, and one of them is the notion that, in some mysterious manner, while people are the superiors of all other people. It seems very difficult for us to get over this feeling in respect to the Japanese. It is not as pronounced in Canada as in the United States, but it is found in both countries. We do not claim to be more honest, more enterprising, more plucky, more anything else, but we think ourselves the superior race. Perhaps we are, but that remains to be proved. Meanwhile we might with advantage take a leaf out of the book of Japan. Knowledge has been shown to be a power in that country; it must be a greater power in our country. We have great problems to deal with, problems different in kind, but no less difficult than those with which Japan has been dealing. We need the kind of knowledge which will enable us to solve those problems. None of them may be mentioned. There is the problem presented by the feudalism of wealth, that arising out of the tyranny of organized labor, that arising from the prevalence of intemperance, that arising from a low standard of public morality. We cannot get rid of these problems by shutting our eyes to them. They are growing more and more serious every day. They are fast unfitting us for competition with the awakening people of the Orient.

PROF. GOLDWIN SMITH ON IRISH AFFAIRS

Prof. Goldwin Smith, in discussing Irish affairs, says that few Irishmen's futures, however theirs would, if left to their own devices, would be free of their members of determination to become free, but whenever he had the chance Mr. Redmond threw against the tyranny of England. What right, privilege, honor or emolument does an Englishman, a Scotchman, or a Welshman enjoy which the Irishman does not share. Ireland has more than her share of representation in Parliament. The last relic of serious inequality was swept away by the abolition of the State Church. The Lord-Lieutenancy, if that is considered a grievance, might have been abolished half a century ago if the Irish Members had not dallied. The laws are the same as those for England, and if there have been coercion Acts they were admittedly necessary to save the country from becoming a scene of general murder and havoc. No law-abiding citizen has been touched by them. Mr. Redmond talks of the Irish hatred of England in 1798. The horrible Civil War of '98 was one, not between England and Ireland, but between the two races and religions in Ireland itself, and it was to the Irish Parliament of Ascendancy that the most ruthless measures of repression were due. The Union, instead of making the Irish people serfs, set them free from the yoke of the Parliament of Ascendancy, under which the mass of them had been groaning, and after a few years of struggle for Catholic emancipation, in which their cause was aided by the best part of the English people, put them properly on a level politically with the rest of the United Kingdom. Grattan, Foster, and Plunket, the three great opponents of the Union in the Parliament of Ireland, afterwards acquiesced in the measure. Plunket most emphatically. What was the conduct of England towards Ireland during the famine years? Was it inhumanity tyranny? Has not the British Exchequer been helping the Irish peasantry at this time in a way in which it has never helped the peasantry of Great Britain? In 1848, when the air of Europe was fraught with revolution, the Irish were called upon by their leaders to rise against the tyranny of England? What was the response?

HE IS CORRECT

Dr Hamilton Proves that Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Catharties.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Loushers, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not gripe or cause inconvenience, system, thereby maintaining a high still they cleanse and purify the standard of health. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail, from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

No More Hair Germs

Falling hair is caused by germs at the roots of the hair. Dandruff is caused by germs on the scalp. Your doctor knows why Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, quickly destroys these germs. Makes the scalp clean and healthy.

Bourassa Resigns

[illegible] July 10.—If Mr. Bourassa, who has attracted so much attention in the House by his speeches the last session, carries his resignation as member of parliament, his intention is to organize and lead a new party in this province. This party, it is claimed, will take in a very large proportion of the Conservative element, and will, in addition, have active support from a certain section of what have ordinarily been accounted portions of the Liberal wing.

Longs for the Warpath

Chicago, July 10.—A despatch to the Tribune from Cache, I.T., says: The old Apache warrior, Geronimo, who terrorized the southwest for many years with his bloodthirsty band, while attending a celebration at Cache under parole as the guest of the Comanche Chief Quanah Parker, made an attempt to escape across the Texas Panhandle into New Mexico. He was captured several hours later. The old warrior had heard of the troubles of the Apaches in Arizona who, according to reports, have threatened to go on the warpath. The chief says he wanted to go with his people and help them fight.

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

50% IN ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 780 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Radnmacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum valu eof millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fofteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 30 to 200 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 10 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs on our ore values are shown ranging from $16.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, shows values up to $600.00 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of mining our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore, similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ore egoes $9.00 to $15.00 per ton; our ore averages $20.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. Th e par value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $40.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our will show a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $9.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares is Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to the properties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purpose mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—One-fifth Cash and the remainder in Four Monthly Payments.

Partners of the Tide

...By...
JOSEPH C. LINCOLN,
Author of "Cap'n Eri"

Copyright, 1905, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

Bradley got upon his feet. "Haul taut!" he screamed. Before the order was given Bearse was back at his engine. The windlass shrieked.

Captain Titcomb roared through his speaking trumpet. The towboat shot forward, then back, her screw thrashing the water. The little You and I bobbed beside her. She was pulling too.

And then a long, scraping, breathless interval. A halt, a shock, and, pushing a wall of sand before her, the Freedom plunged into deep water.

There was no cheering. A subdued murmur, like a sigh, came from the crowd on her deck. Men drew sooty arms across wet foreheads and looked at each other without speaking. She was off the shoal, but far from being out of danger yet. She must be got over into the deep hole behind the Point, where she could safely ride out the coming gale. And to get her into this haven there was only the little tug to depend upon. Could the tiny craft do it in that wind and sea? If not, then the barge would almost surely drag her anchors, would strike again, and then—well, then all the work and the triumph so nearly won would count for nothing.

They brought her up to her anchors out in the middle of the channel. There they waited for the tide to turn. The silence was heartbreaking. Only now and then did any one speak. In clusters by the rail they stared at the big waves and the foam streaks gliding by. At last Captain Titcomb snapped his watch case shut and shouted through his trumpet. The towboat puffed into position. The anchors were lifted from the bottom. The time for the full test had come.

Then the little tug showed what she was made of. Coughing, panting like a bulldog straining at a chain, she pulled at that hawser, and, slowly at first, but gaining headway as she moved in the dead water of the slack of the tide, the Freedom followed her through the channel around the edge of the shoal into the cove and safety. At ten minutes to 4 that morning the last big anchor was sent down.

"There!" shouted Captain Titcomb. "She'll stay where she is now if it blows hard enough to fraishe out a handspike. Boys, the job's done. Knock off!"

They answered him with a cheer that woke the cat from his sleep beneath the stove at the lighthouse.

The tug took them to the Point. They perched all over her, heedless of the cold and the flying spray. The men were wildly excited over the unexpected good luck. They cheered the partners again and again and gave three groans for the "quitters," meaning Mr. Clark and his friends. Peleg Myrick was bearing his concertina to safe quarters in the shanty, and they insisted that he should play it. Peleg protested that it was too wet for music on board that tug, but they threatened to heave the "push and pull planner" overboard if he didn't play.

"Play somethin' we can sing," ordered Bill Taylor.

Peleg struck up a doleful dirge of the sea. It was loaded to the gunwale with wrecks and disasters.

"Belay that!" cried Barney Small. "We don't want no come-all-ye's. That's the tune that soured the milk. Give us a hoe down."

The musician considered; then he burst into the air that every fisherman knows:

"The grub is in the galley, and the rum is in the jug—
Storm along, John! John, storm along!
The skipper's from Hyannis, and he gives us bully mug—
Storm along, storm along, John!"

"Chorus!" bowled Barney, waving his cap. They joined in with a whoop:

"Storm along, John! John, storm along!
Ain't I glad my day's work's done!
Storm along, John! John, storm along!
Ain't I glad my day's work's done!"

Bradley stood by the back door of the big shanty, looking out at the storm. The first sickly light of morning was streaking the dingy, tumbled sky. Inside the building the men were keeping up their celebration. No one had suggested turning in.

Captain Titcomb came around the corner. "There you are, boy!" he exclaimed, with a breath of relief. "Blamed if I didn't begin to be afraid you'd tumbled overboard. Well, son, we did it, by crimus! We did it, thanks to the good Lord for sendin' that whoopin' big tide. Titcomb & Nickerson ain't ready for the undertaker yit. Now you can go up to Orham and tell Gus Baker somethin' wuth while."

Bradley shrugged his shoulders. Now that the strain was over and they had won the thoughts that he had put aside were coming back. He was realizing that the firm's success didn't mean much to him. After all, what did he really care?

"I guess Gus wouldn't be greatly interested," he said.

The captain seized him by the shoulders and spun him around. "Look here, son!" he cried. "What fool iden have you got in your head? What's the matter with you? Wouldn't be interested! The girl that risked her life to haul you out of the drink!"

Bradley shook his head. "I guess you forget that Hammond was in the drink, too," he said.

Captain Titcomb smote his partner a blow in the chest.

"You crazy loon!" he shouted. "Is that what's ailin' you? Do you s'pose she cares a hurrah in Tophet for that scamp? Listen to me! I was closer 'n anybody to Gus when she rowed across the harbor that night. Sam was right under the bow of her skiff. He hailed her. She saw him—looked right at him. But she never reached out a hand. Left him to drown, like the durned rat he is, and went on after you. After you—d'you understand? Does that look"—

"Stop!" Bradley's eyes were ablaze. "Is that true? Say that again!"

"True? Say it again? I'll sing it or swear it on the Bible if you want me to. Why, you ought to git down and crawl to that girl. She's— Hi! Where you goin'?"

There was no answer. Bradley was running at full speed for the beach. A few minutes more and he was in the You and I, heading across the bay through the rising storm and in the dull morning light, bound for Orham.

And behind him from the shanty floated the chorus:

"Storm along, John! John, storm along!
Ain't I glad my day's work's done!
Storm along, John! John, storm along!
Ain't I glad my day's work's done!"

CHAPTER XXI.

GUS rose early that morning. The storm had awakened him. She pulled aside the window shade and peered out at the bare branches of the silver leaf beating and whipping in the wind, at the sheets of rain scudding across the little pond in the pasture, at the whitecaps in the inlet and harbor and at the angry sea outside. will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, as Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Drunken Sailor Rocked the Boat

New York, July 10.—Three members of the steam yacht Yacona, hopping to Henry Clay Pierce of St. Louis, were drowned in the Hudson River early yesterday morning, when a small yawl carrying six of the Yacona's crew and a deckman, were capsized by a sailor who rocked the boat. Four of the party were picked up by a passing tug. No traces have been discovered of the three missing men and the police are convinced that they are drowned. They are Rudolph Johnson, Frederickson, and Harmon Von Herman.

The Yacona came into port Sunday after a week's cruise in Long Island Sound, and Captain McDonough gave several of the crew shore leave. Six of the Yacona's crew came down to the landing at Eighty-sixth street early yesterday after an all-night frolic, and hailed the Yacona for a grouch. There was no answer from the yacht, and in their anxiety to get aboard the sailors induced Appleton, a deckman, to take them out to the Yacona. The deckman wanted to divide the party and make two trips, but against this were only six piled into the yawl and started for the steam yacht. Several times during the trip Appleton warned his boat mates passengers to remain quiet as their movements threatened to overturn the the craft. Within a dozen boat lengths of the Yacona one of the sailors gave the yawl a violent lurch, and she capsized, throwing all seven men into the water.

Woman Kidnaps Three Children

Evansville, Ind., July 10.—A strange woman driving a white horse kidnapped three children of Sam Kapson, a merchant in this city, at noon yesterday. The woman drove up to the Kapson home while both parents were present, and seeing the children in the yard, asked them to get into the buggy and take a ride. They did so, and that was the last seen of them. As soon as the kidnapping became known the police were notified, but up to a late hour last night nothing has been heard from the little ones. The children are 6, 8 and 10 years old respectively.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We tell, and in confidence recommend

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Vote on Colonial Weaving Co. Bylaw

It is now up to the voters of this city to consider how many men are employed at the Colonial Weaving Company's mill, and particularly how many more will be employed, if the city helps this industry as asked by today's election and for said voters to turn out and vote.

Man Hurt in Brick Yard

Mr. George Blodgett who works at Curtis Bros.' brick yard in the East Ward, on Monday sustained a severe accident. It seems that Mr. Blodgett while loading bricks onto a wagon, was struck on the head by three bricks which were thrown to him by a fellow employe, before Mr. Blodgett was ready to catch them. He will have to lay off for a week or so.

Quaker Oats Co. Excursion

The fifth annual excursion of the employes of the Quaker Oats Company will be held on Monday next, July 15th to Jackson's Point, on Lake Simcoe. A special train will leave the G.T.R. station here at 8.45 in the morning and go direct to the Point. Returning the train will start at six o'clock in the evening.

Hubby Was Chief -- Wife Dared Him

Windsor, July 10.—Mrs. Marjim Laporte, wife of the chief of police of Amherstburg, was fined a short time ago for committing an assault and defied her husband to arrest her. She ventured to visit Windsor, and was nabbed by two officers. She was committed to Sandwich jail to serve out her term, as she refused to pay her fine.

His Hand Severely Cut

Quite a serious accident occurred Monday when a boy named Johnston, a son of Mr. Jas. Johnston, had one of his fingers almost completely amputated. It seems that Mr. Ferguson of Bonnycastle street, had been mowing the grass in front of his residence, and going into the house to get a sickle, left the scythe standing upright outside his door. Young Johnston and other boys were playing about the place, and began to throw the grass out up by Ferguson at one another. As young Johnston caught at what he took for a bunch of cut grass, his hand encircled the sharp scythe blade. One finger was almost cut off. His father went to Mr. Arthur Wade's house and telephoned for a doctor, who on arrival, had to insert several stitches.

Drowned by Bathing Dress

Catskill, N.Y., July 11.—Her efforts to swim hampered by a long skirt which she wore while bathing in the Hudson River last evening, Miss Ruth B. Dedrick, aged 16, became exhausted and was drowned in the presence of several girl companions.

Selling Russian Shipyard

London, July 11.—The Russian Government shipyard at Nevski, is to be sold to a group of English capitalists, known as the United Finance Corporation. This decision, which will be in the face of the strenuous efforts of German and American syndicates to get possession of the yard, is said to be due largely to the desire of the Russian Government to promote the growing friendliness between Russia and Great Britain.

Labor and the All Red

London, July 11.—The Daily News publishes an interview with a leading shipowner, whom it asked if the white labor clause difficulty might not lead to the adoption of an all-red route for carrying the Australian mails. The ship owner answered in the negative. Steamships, he says, cannot live by mails alone, except at almost prohibitive cost to authorities, and he emphasized the trans-shipping difficulty in connection with goods and passenger traffic, and the coaling question on the Pacific route.

Shivery Summer in Europe

London, July 11.—Within the Arctic Circle was warmer than London or Paris yesterday. Lapland had seven degrees higher temperature than London, where the thermometer at 8 a.m. registered 56 degrees. Iceland was several degrees warmer than many places on the Irish and Welsh coasts. The only really fine weather was in the south of France, in north-west Norway, and in a few places in Germany. There were, moreover, no signs of the approach of the looked-for anti-cyclone, which alone can save the situation and restrain the rain-bearing coldproducing cyclones that have been sweeping across the British Isles all the summer.

Rev. Dr. Marsh Sees Comet

Rev. Dr. Marsh again saw the comet yesterday morning. The comet is moving rapidly in its orbit around the sun and can be found at the right ascension one hour and forty minutes, and declination of plus 7 degrees, 7 min. The comet is becoming considerably broader, said the doctor. From a faint outline of a tail it can now be plainly seen between two and three o'clock in the morning with a field glass.

—A sail on the new "Otonabee" for three hours and a good program on board on the evening of the 19th. Tickets only 25 cents.

—Get out and vote on the Colonial Weaving Company's bylaw today. Look into this matter and vote as you think right.

—The second Thursday afternoon holiday will be observed this afternoon when the majority of the stores will be closed.

—This is the day that the vote on the Colonial Weaving Co., will be cast. If you think this company is deserving of support get out and vote.

—The annual excursion of Charlotte street church Sunday school was held down the river yesterday on the steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld.

—A Toronto architect has prepared the plans for a house to be built at New Lakefield, for Mr. Thomas McCamus, formerly of Ennismore, at a cost of $10,000.

—There was a large crowd at Jackson Park last evening, in attendance at the band concert and moving pictures. The music and pictures were greatly enjoyed.

—The chief of police has a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles, which were picked up on the corner of Simith and Donegall streets, which he would like to hand to the owner.

—Rev. Dr. Ross of Erie, Pa., will occupy the pulpit in St. Paul's church at both services on Sunday next. During the remaining Sundays in July, the services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Carrie of Forest, Ont.

—Work has been started on the new power-house which is being erected by the East End Cottagers' Association at Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake. It will be located on the brow of the hill, near Mr. McKelvie's Boarding House, Harvalara.

—Housekeepers will find genuine bargains in glassware at the Times Bookstore this week. See our special line of biscuit jars on bargain at The Times Bookstore this week at 50 cents each. Special display of 50-cent articles in south window.

—Mrs. Margaret Hill, of Brighton, fell into her cistern on Sunday, and was drowned before help could reach her. Mrs. Hill was 68 years of age. She was a member of the Methodist church, and was of a quiet, retiring disposition, and somewhat of an invalid.

—The Finance Committee of the town council met last night and struck the rate for the year's taxation at 29 1-4 mills on the assessment. The estimates had been prepared by the clerk, and were carefully gone over, before the rate was fixed.—Lindsay Post.

—The annual civic holiday of Peterborough will be observed this year on Monday, August 12. There will be several excursions to various points by water, but none by rail as the railway companies, according to the new regulations decline to offer excursion rates on that date.

—During the absence of Messrs. Williamson and Dingman at the Y.M.C.A. Camp, Mr. W. S. Maguire, late physical director of the Y.M.C.A., at Revelstoke, B.C., will be acting secretary of the Association. All members are called to be prepared to show their tickets if requested to do so.

—Whilst a special session of the police court was being held yesterday afternoon, and a young man named Ogle, was being tried for embezzlement, the pigs on the market square, being watched or killed, it is not known which, made such a racket that for a few minutes proceedings were practically suspended. Several voices were heard to ask the question in whispers. "Are those Charley Dunty's pigs that he won at the Dourio, purse."

Lindsay Hero Is Recognized

Mr. Sylvester Presents a Gold Piece In Recognition of Merit

Lindsay Post says: The memory of a brave deed performed by Mr. Jos. Bell, of the Sylvester Mfg. Co., who some time ago pulled young Walter Scott out of a gasoline tank, where he lay unconscious, thereby probably saving his life, is still fresh in everybody's mind. The heroic act was certainly deserving of some recognition, and on Saturday evening last Mr. Richard Sylvester generously remembered the brave deed and presented Mr. Bell with a $25 gold piece. The magnanimous spirit shown by Mr. Sylvester, as well as the bravery of Mr. Bell, is deserving of commendation.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "rising" or "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

An Air Ship Seen Over Paris

Sailed For Some Time in Full View Of Large Crowds

Paris, July 10.—An airship was navigated over the city yesterday during a period of nearly three-quarters of an hour in full view of thousands of Parisians, who had not had such a spectacle since the memorable occasion when Santos Dumont succeeded in circling the Eiffell Tower.

The airship was the Patrie, the first craft of its kind built for the French Government, and is constructed along lines developed by experiments made by the Lebaudy Bros. at Moisan. With a crew consisting of two officers and two men of the military balloon corps, the Patrie left the aeronautic station at Meudon, a few miles west of Paris, about 7.30 a.m., and travelled steadily against a fairly strong north-west breeze.

Passing near the Eiffel Tower, it went over Montmartre Hill, then turned southward, and went right across the city, hovered a few minutes over Place l'Opera, and returned to Meudon at nine o'clock. It appeared to be under perfect control, and throughout was navigated not only against the wind, but also broadside.

The highest speed attained was with the wind, of 31 miles an hour. The lowest was against the wind, of 18 miles an hour. The average height maintained was about 900 feet.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements of a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

Park Street Man Went Wrong

The Times was yesterday in receipt of a letter from a resident on Park street in which the writer mentioned the name of a neighbor on that street, who, as said in the letter has been abusing his wife. Now, while the letter received is absolutely genuine and authentic, we do not want to publish the accused's name. We trust that this intimation will be sufficient to keep the Park street man not only sober, but impel him to behave.

Building Great Logging Railway

Will Run Sixteen Miles Inland From British Columbia Coast

Vancouver, B.C., July 11.—The longest logging railway ever built in British Columbia is to be constructed this summer on Theodosia Arm by Mr. Thomas Merrill, a millionaire lumberman of Duluth who has extensive holdings of timber on this coast. Mr. Merrill is now in Vancouver making arrangements for the starting of the enterprise, which will involve the expenditure of a good many thousands of dollars. The railway will run from the coast sixteen miles inland.

The limits to be opened consist of half a dozen crown-granted properties carrying some of the very finest fir in British Columbia. The timber cut from these claims would be exportable only under the $1 tax, and it is not believed that much of it will be sent out of the country in an unmanufactured state. Mr. Merrill is not operating any mill in this province, so it is presumed that the output from these claims will be disposed of to mills in this locality.

Starving Indians Ate Moccasins

Quebec, July 12.—Further details in regard to the death from starvation of a party of 21 Indians in the woods, who en route from Lake Matassini to Roberval, have been received. On the 22nd of March last an Indian named John Bostan found the remains of three of the victims, Thomas Basil Miller, and Big John, about a hundred miles from Lake Matassini. He interred the bodies where they were found. Thomas Basil was a Montagnais from Pointe Bleue, where he leaves a wife and child. Miller was the son of a former chief of the Hudson's Bay post at Matassini, while Big John belonged to Matassini, but was making his second trip to Roberval.

The wife of Miller, who accompanied him, was brought to Pointe Bleue by John Bastin, after a trip of great difficulty, owing to her extreme weakness. Boston reports that the Indians, driven to desperation by sheer hunger, devoured even their comrades' carcasses and the feather scraps with which the quiddities of furs they were bringing to Roberval were bound up.

Double Murder At Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 12.—Peter Forrestel, a well known saloon keeper and sporting man, and Marie Smith, 32 years old, a waitress in a saloon restaurant, were murdered early yesterday. George Hodgson, painter, is accused of the crime. The Smith woman formerly lived with Hodgson, and her refusal to leave Forrestel's place and resume her relations with him, was the ostensible cause of the double murder. Hodgson was arrested a few minutes after the crime was committed. He was covered with blood but declared that he had no recollection of what occurred.

Forrestel was sitting in front of his saloon at Elm and South Division streets at 2:30 this morning, two streets at 1:30 yesterday morning, when it is alleged, Hodgson rushed up and stabbed him with a butcher knife. Forrestel sank to the ground and his assailant again plunged the nine-inch blade of the knife into his body. Hodgson, it is alleged, then rushed upstairs to Marie Smith's room. She was in bed asleep, but was awakened by the bursting open of the door. As she sprang from bed Hodgson, it is alleged, stabbed her twice, inflicting terrible wounds. Forrestel died in five minutes. The woman was taken to a hospital, where she died on the operating table.

Hodgson was arrested and taken to police headquarters. He stated that he had been living with the Smith woman up to two weeks ago. She had promised to leave Forrestel's and return to him but he had been unable to see her since July 4th. Hodgson denied that he had been drinking and had no recollection of what happened for Forrestel.

Forrestel was 60 years old. His brother, Edward J. Forrestel, is one of the four who are in the Buffalo police force.

IF HE IS GUILTY HE SHOULD BE PUNISHED

Orchard's Wife Has a Strong Opinion Regarding Great Criminal

Cripple Creek, July 11.—In Altman, a modest suburb of this city, lives quietly with her four small children the wife of Harry Orchard, whose confession on the stand at Boise makes him at once one of the frankest and most fiendish murderers of the century.

The second Mrs. Orchard, whom the wholesale murderer tricked into an illegal marriage while his first and undivorced wife was still livin gin Canada, shows great indifference about her husband, admitting freely that she married him only to secure a home for her four children who were born to her by her first marriage.

"He was always very kind to me," she said, "and we never had any trouble, not so much as an unkind word until after the strike was called, and then I scolded him for staying out nights."

"What did you think he was doing at night when he stayed out?"

"I did not know. He said he was soliciting funds for the miners' union. I think it is all going to come out my way yet."

"How do you mean? What do you think will be the result of the trial?"

"Oh, I would not say. I would not talk about the result of the trial, but I think the same that I thought at the first. I don't care anything about it, but I have worried and thought about it until I could hang myself for doing it, but I cannot help it."

They say that I said he was in the militia. I did not say that he was, but that it would not surprise me if he was, and I think that before the trial is over it will be shown up that he was around here with a soldier's uniform on, because there were two or three soldiers that used to bother us."

"Did you receive any money from the Mine Owners Association?"

"Yes."

"Where did Orchard get the money to buy the camping outfit that he used at the time of the Independence depot explosion?"

"Oh, he always had money. He used to win it gambling lots of time."

"Would you go to Boise and testify if you were called?"

"Do you think Orchard blew up the Independence depot?"

"I doubt it. I did not know everything that was going on. I don't see how he could, because I know he rode me good-by, between 1 and 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and he said he was starting on a fishing and hunting trip, and going to the Rosebud reservation opening to take up some land. You know the depot was not blown up until early Monday morning, at the time the train came down off the hill with the night shift."

"How do you feel toward Orchard? Would not you go and testify if you could help him?"

"No; if he is guilty of the crimes he ought to be punished, and I would not say anything different from what I have already said to save any man who had done those crimes, whether he was my husband or any one else."

Special Session Of Police Court

Several Boys on Trial For Offences Committed

Yesterday morning a special session of the police court was held to try several boys charged with various offences. Magistrate Dumble seems to be in a position to warn all the culprits of him, when after a full morning session the court he has to hear valerie and hand out justice during the afternoon.

The first case tried was that of a small freckled-faced boy named Sullivan, who was charged with stealing a bicycle from a son of Mr. Rich. Hall. It seems that on Friday night young Hall left his wheel at the east of the armory, and when he went to ride home the bike was "non est." Enquiries were at once instituted. P. C. McDonald was called into detective service to recover the stolen wheel. Not to string out the report too long, it might be said that a friend of young Sullivan the prisoner, gave sufficient information to the officer to impel him to go to Sullivan's home and arrest him.

Several witnesses were heard whose evidence showed that Sullivan had stolen the bike from the armories and after riding it to the C.P.R. station, had returned it to the same locality but not the exact spot it was taken from, in about an hour and a half after the "French leave" had been used.

The boy's mother was in the box and said her boy had been out all night on "circus day." He mother was otherwise beyond her control. Mr. Goodwill, the very able young counsel for the Children's Aid Society, who has most effectively taken Mr. R. M. Dennistoun's part in starting local philanthropic institution, made a strong plea for the boy, whilst not trying by any legal subterfuge or technicality to divert the all seeing eye of justice for the culprit. The magistrate after Chief Ryan had put up a good case against him, gave young Sullivan one of the most pointed and straight heart to heart talks that any small boy ever listened to. He said, in part: "Now, I'm not going to send you to jail. You are a bad and selfish boy. You don't care how much your selfishness bothers your mother. I am going to let you go on suspended sentence. If you ever come here again, remember you will be under the eyes of the police, you will get a sentence that will put you behind the bars for a long time."

The boy, who is not unknown in police circles, seemed to pay no much attention to the magistrates words as a duck would to a drop of rain falling on its back, or a salamander would to the lighting of a lucifer match. After the trial was over, a Times representative heard several of those present at the trial say: "Mr. Dumble is a good hearted man, but he seems to induce rather than but he seems to incline rather strongly towards leniency in cases of incorrigible boys. These boys don't seem to care a —— about these suspended sentence. If they were flogged in public it would stop their thefts."

It might however be added that the law is now in force it is not allow a magistrate to sentence juvenile offenders to the birch still, whilst not wanting the wheels of justice to be moved in the practice of olden days, it does seem that a magistrate in such cases as above described, should be given the option of sentencing such juvenile criminals, or budding criminals to be whipped. A magistrate does not like to take the responsibility of sending a small boy to a place where he, the boy, will be placed with confirmed criminals. Still the seemingly prevalent system of this city of letting wrong-doing boys go under suspended sentence, is becoming a laughing stock among local juvenile offenders. This is not the fault of the magistrate but the too confined limits of the magistrate's powers as set down by law.

After the first case was over and which incidentally the boy's mother practically admitted her inability to manage her boy, four other youngsters were up charged with stealing fruit from Mr. Long, the Hunter street fruiterer. After the case was all in it was clearly shown that two of the four were guilty. They were fined $2 each.

There are estimated to be more than 50,000 Americans, native and naturalized, scattered over the four Northwest Provinces of Canada, many of them in the far Peace River and Athabasca country, who would not hear of this law in the ordinary course for a long time. Jones says there is no fund for advertising the terms of this law.

There is no census in the Northwest except at Calgary, two thousand miles away from remote points where Americans dwell.

Leading Americans in Winnipeg say they propose to see the law tested and don't believe it applies to native born Americans. The secretary of the American Association at Winnipeg was refused a certificate because he was a naturalized American formerly from Canada, and who since coveted citizenship in Canada.

Park Street Man Went Wrong

The Times was yesterday in receipt of a letetr from a resident on Park street in which the writer mentioned the name of a neighbor on that street, who, as said in the letter has been abusing his wife. Now, while the letter received is absolutely genuine and authentic, we do not want to publish the accused's name. We trust that this intimation will be sufficient to keep the Park street man not only sober, but impel him to behave.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Building Great Logging Railway

Will Run Sixteen Miles Inland From British Columbia Coast

Vancouver, B.C., July 11.—The longest logging railway ever built in British Columbia is to be constructed this summer on Theodosia Arm by Mr. Thomas Merrill, a millionaire lumberman of Duluth who has extensive holdings of timber on this coast. Mr. Merrill is now in Vancouver making arrangements for the starting of the enterprise, which will involve the expenditure of a good many thousands of dollars. The railway will run from the coast sixteen miles inland.

The limits to be opened consist of half a dozen crown-granted properties carrying some of the very finest fir in British Columbia. The timber cut from these claims would be exportable only under the $1 tax, and it is not believed that much of it will be sent out of the country in an unmanufactured state. Mr. Merrill is not operating any mill in this province, so it is presumed that the output from these claims will be disposed of to mills in this locality.

Starving Indians Ate Moccasins

Quebec, July 12.—Further details in regard to the death from starvation of a party of 21 Indians in the woods, while en route from Lake Mistassini to Roberval, have been received. On the 22nd of March last an Indian named John Boston found the remains of three of the victims, Thomas Bull, Miller, and Big John, about a hundred miles from Lake Mistassini. He interred the bodies where they were found. Thomas Bull was a Montagnais, from Pointe Bleu, where he leaves a wife and child. Miller was the son of a former chief of the Hudson's Bay post at Mistassini, while Big John belonged to Mistassini, but was making his second trip to Roberval.

The wife of Miller, who accompanied him, was brought to Pointe Bleu by John Boston, after a trip of great difficulty, owing to her extreme weakness. Boston reports that the Indians, driven to desperation by their hunger, devoured even their carbolic antiseptics and the feather strips with which the quebecois furs they were bringing to Roberval were bound up.

Double Murder At Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 12.—Peter Forrestel, a well known saloon keeper and sporting man, and Marie Smith, 32 years old, a waitress in a saloon restaurant, were murdered early yesterday. George Hodson, a painter, is accused of the crime. The Smith woman formerly lived with Hodson and their refusal to leave Forrestel's place and resume her relations with him, are the alleged causes of the double murder. Hodgson was arrested a few minutes after the crime was committed, He was covered with blood but declared that he had no recollection of what occurred.

Forrestel was sitting in front of his saloon at Elm and South Division streets at 1.30 this morning. Ten streets at 1.30 yesterday morning, when, it is alleged, Hodson rushed up and stabbed him with a butcher knife. Forrestel sank to the ground and his assailant again plunged the nine-inch blade of the knife into his body. Wilson, it is alleged, then rushed upstairs to Marie Smith's room. She was in bed asleep, but was awakened by the hurrying open of the door. As she sprang from bed Hodson, it is alleged, stabbed her twice, inflicting terrible wounds. Forrestel died in five minutes. The woman was taken to a hospital, where she died on the operating table.

Hodson was arrested and taken to police headquarters. He stated that he had been living with the Smith woman up to two weeks ago. She had promised to leave Forrestel and return to him but he had been unable to see her since July 4th. Hodson declared that he had been drinking and had no recollection of what happened to Forrestel's.

Forrestel was 60 years old. His brother, Edward J. Forrestel, is a captain on the Buffalo police force.

IF HE IS GUILTY HE SHOULD BE PUNISHED

Orchard's Wife Has a Strong Opinion Regarding Great Criminal

Cripple Creek, July 11.—In Allman, a modest suburb of this city, lives quietly with her four small children the wife of Harry Orchard, whose confession on the stand at Boise makes him at once one of the frankest and most fiendish murderers of the century.

The second Mrs. Orchard, whom the wholesale murderer tricked into an illegal marriage while his first and undivorced wife was still livin gin Canada, shows great indifference about her husband, admitting freely that she married him only to secure a home for her four children who were born to her by her first marriage.

"He was always very kind to me," she said, "and we never had any trouble, not so much as an unkind word until after the strike was called, and then I scolded him for staying out nights."

"What did you think he was doing at night when he stayed out?"

"I did not know. He said he was soliciting funds for the miners' union. I think it is all going to come out my way yet."

"How do you mean? What do you think will be the result of the trial?"

"Oh, I would not say. I would not talk about the result of the trial, but I think the same that I thought at the first. I don't care anything about it, but I have worried and thought about it until I could hang myself for doing it, but I cannot help it.

"They say that I said he was in the militia. I did not say that he was, but that it would not surprise me if he was, and I think that before the trial is over it will be shown up that he was around here with a soldier's uniform on, because there were two or three soldiers that used to bother us."

"Did you receive any money from the Mine Owners' Association?"

"Yes."

"Where did Orchard get the money to buy the camping outfit that he used at the time of the Independence depot explosion?"

"Oh, he always had money. He used to win it gambling lots of times."

"Would you go to Boise and testify if you were called?"

"Do you think Orchard blew up the Independence depot?"

"I doubt it. I did not know everything that was going on. I don't see how he could, because I know he bade me goodby between 1 and 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and he said he was starting on a fishing and hunting trip, and going to the Rosebud reservation opening to take up some land. You know the depot was not blown up until early Monday morning, at the time the train came down off the hill with the night shift."

"How do you feel toward Orchard? Would not you go and testify if you could help him?"

"No; if he is guilty of the crimes he ought to be punished, and I would not say anything different from what I have already said to save any man who had done those crimes, whether he was my husband or any one else."

Special Session Of Police Court

Several Boys on Trial For Offences Committed

Yesterday morning a special session of the police court was held to try several boys charged with various offences. Magistrate Dumble seems to be in a position to earn all the salary coming to him, when after a full morning session of the court he has to hear evidence and hand out justice during a whole afternoon.

The first case tried was that of a small freckled-faced boy named Sullivan, who was charged with stealing a bicycle from a son of Mr. Rich. Hall. It seems that on Friday night young Hall left his wheel to the east of the armory, and when he went to ride home the bike was "non est." Enquiries were at once instituted. P. C. McDonald was called into detective service to recover the stolen wheel. Not to strain sort the report too much, it might be said that a friend of young Sullivan the prisoner, gave sufficient information to the officer to impel him to go to Sullivan's home and arrest him.

Several witnesses were heard whose evidence showed that Sullivan had stolen the bike from the armories and after riding it on the C.P.R. station, had returned it to the same locality but not the exact spot it was taken from, in about an hour and a half after the "French leave" had been used.

The boy's mother was in the box and said her boy had been out all night on "circus day." He also was otherwise beyond her control. Mr. Goodwill, the very able young counsel for the Children's Aid Society, who has most effectively taken Mr. R. M. Denniston's place in this good philanthropic institution, made a strong plea for the boy, whilst not trying by any legal subterfuge or technicality to divert the all seeing eye of justice for the culprit. The magistrate after Chief Reazel had put up a good case against him, gave young Sullivan one of the most pointed and straight heart to heart talks that any small boy ever listened to. He said, in part; "Now, I'm not going to send you to jail. You are a bad and selfish boy. You don't care how much your selfishness bothers your mother. I am going to let you go on suspended sentence. If you ever come here again, remember you will be under the eyes of the police, you will get a sentence that will put you behind the bars for a long time."

The boy, who is not unknown in police circles, seemed to pay as much attention to the magistrates words as a duck would to a drop of rain falling on its back, or a salamander would to the lighting of a lucifer match. After the trial was over, a Times representative heard several of those present at the trial say; "Mr. Dumble is a good hearted man, but he seems to induce rather than but he seems to incline rather strongly towards leniency in cases of incorrigible boys. These boys don't seem to care a ——— about these suspended "sentence. If they were flogged in public it would stop their thefts!"

It might however be added that the law is now in force that does not allow a magistrate to sentence juvenile offenders to the birch. Still, whilst not wanting the wheels of justice to be revolved by the practice of olden days, it does seem that in magistrate in such cases as above described, should be given the option of sentencing such juvenile criminals, or budding criminals to be whipped. A magistrate does not like to take the responsibility of sending a small boy to a place where he, the boy, will be placed with confirmed criminals. Still the seemingly prevalent system of this city of letting wrong-doing boys go under suspended sentence, is beginning a laughing stock among local juvenile offenders. This is not the fault of the magistrate but the too confined limits of the magistrate's power as set down by law.

After the trial was over, and which incidentally the boy's mother practically admitted her inability to manage her boy, four other youngsters were up charged with stealing fruit from Mr. Longe, the Harper street fruit dealer. After the evidence was all in it was clearly shown that two of the four were guilty. They were fined $1 each.

To Wed At Age Of 101 Years

Aged Lover Finally Finds Girl He Wooed Many Years Ago

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—A romance that began 85 years ago soon will [illegible] parcels of land specifically [illegible] sweethearts to the altar.

John H. Brunden, who admits 101 years, has left his home in Tate Springs, Tenn., for London, where he will meet his bride to be, Miss Rose McGuire, who has just turned her century mark. Together they will journey back to this town in Tennessee, where they will be married before a assemblage of "boys and girls," the youngest of whom is 50 years old.

In 1828 Brunden and Miss McGuire lived on adjoining farms in Tennessee, became sweethearts. They were parted when the girl's parents decided to abandon their new home in America and return to the one they left in England.

Brunden went to California long before the gold rush of '49. He returned, and spent a fortune hunting for Miss McGuire. Until recently his search was fruitless.

Doukhobors Are On Road Again

Winnipeg, July 11.—Word has been received here that a small band of Doukhobors are on the march from Swan River, in the north-western part of Manitoba, to Winnipeg. There are less than fifty on the tramp. It is not known at present whether their mission is political or religious, but as advices say, they are dressed. The disgusting scenes of former pilgrimages, which were made in the nude, are likely to be absent. Swan River is 300 miles from Winnipeg.

Expert Says End of Coal is In Sight

Washington, July 11.—Edward T. Parker, the coal expert of the United States Geographical Survey, predicts that at the present rate of consumption the anthracite deposits of the United States will be practically exhausted in 75 years. He urges manufacturers to use bituminous coal. "Hard coal will never be cheaper than it is now," said Mr. Parker. "The production of anthracite in 1906 was 68,648,910 tons. According to one coal expert, the anthracite available for mining in 1901 was 4,765,218,750 tons."

Americans Don't Like Registration

Law Require Those Moving to Canada to Register as U. S. Citizens

Winnipeg, Man., July 11.—Very general indignation is expressed throughout western Canada by Americans over the enforced registration of native and naturalized citizens of the United States who desire to preserve their citizenship in the Republic.

It means annual registrations to preserve citizenship. Consuls all over the West received their instructions and copies of the new law on July 1st. In Winnipeg less than two hundred Americans registered during the first week, though Consul Jones says he received many enquiries by phone, letter and wire, many of them from very remote points in the Northwest.

There are estimated to be more than 60,000 Americans, native and naturalized, scattered over the four Northwest Provinces of Canada, many of them in the far Peace River and Athabasca country, who would not hear of this law in the ordinary course for a long time. Jones says there is no fund for advertising the terms of this law.

There is no census in the Northwest except at Calgary, two thousand miles away from remote points where Americans dwell.

Leading Americans in Winnipeg say they propose to see the law tested and don't believe it applies to native born Americans. The secretary of the American Association at Winnipeg was refused a certificate because he was a naturalized American formerly from Canada, and has since exercised citizenship in Canada.

GROWING CHILDREN

The Period When the Nervous Activity is at its Greatest

A medical journal says:

"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children we cannot speak too strongly.

Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is ever busy receiving new impressions. Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles and the special senses are all under a special course of training. The nervous system is pushed to its utmost capacity, and long is the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In these days people, nothing but harm can come from the use of such articles as tea and coffee.

Bad, then, as this practice is, let us as physicians be progressive in the prohibition. Do not be satisfied by answering "No," when asked as to its use, but let us touch the families we serve, we come in contact, the subtle practice of evil. We speak emphatically, because not only among the poor and uneducated, but among the rich, who should know better, this practice is marvelously prevalent."

A man who tried Postum Food Coffee said that it might be solid nourishment, but he didn't like its taste. He had not discovered the secret of making delicious Postum. After boiling commences allow it to boil fully 15 minutes, not simply to put it on the stove for 15 minutes, but count the fifteen minutes after boiling commences. This brings out the food value and the delicious flavor. It certainly does make the coffee drinker healthy, and has proven a God-send to many an adult whose ailments were not understood until Postum was used in place of coffee. "There's a Reason." Postum properly made has a coffee taste similar to the mild, high grade Javas. Read the little book in packages, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

These Medical Facts

You Can Study With Profit

How few realise that twenty-five per cent. of all disease has its origin in some interference with the function of elimination.

The whole body exists by reason of the transfusion of fluids through its component parts.

Up to a certain point the body has power to reject to destructive elements, but this power is limited.

When it happens that the body is loaded with wastes and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and germ life run riot through the blood.

Serious illness is the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury, no bismuth, no injurious metallic ingredient of any kind.

Such a medicine is the greatest possible assurance to every man and woman of health, spirits and contentment.

Grand results are achieved and famous cures made every day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, as this letter proves.

From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Upper Gullies, Conception Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I must say that I have used them with grand success for three years. They never fail to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples, but now my complexion is clear and ruddy. In more ways than I care to mention have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use."

TIGHT MONEY

If anyone wants to know why it is so hard to get money in Canada just now, he has only to note the fact that the past five years have almost doubled our enterprises. The capital invested in manufacturing has increased in that time to $466,000,000—to say nothing of what has gone into railways, electrics, telephones, house-building, farming, and in fact, into every other form of enterprises. And even so, the expansion is only in the position of being half done. The country has, as it were, bit off more than it can chew, and every one is clamoring at the doors of the banks for money and willing to pay any interest for it. The banks would be delighted to furnish money at the rates and with the security just now obtainable, but they simply have not got it. Under these conditions, the most valuable and secure bonds and stocks keep falling because nobody has money to buy them. What will follow nobody can foresee. If things can move on till all these enterprises are in working order and realizing the expected business, things may gradually right themselves. But should there be a check of any kind, should there be a bad harvest, or should strikes continue, and should all those enlarged enterprises fail to make interest on their new capital, then we shall have a time. The shortcoming of sail and the realizing wherever possible is obviously the policy for everybody. It is imperative with most. Another thing that should be done so far as possible is the importation under safe conditions of capital from abroad. This is a thing our banks could possibly do by placing fresh and tempting stock on the old world markets. The trouble from which Canada is suffering is more or less universal. It is due to gold conditions, which none can control. But it is at its acutest point in Canada because her expansion has been most sudden and because accumulations of capital here are very small in proportion to the country's opportunities.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always, and the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shapp's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." For the Northumberland - Durham Power Company.

The Cobourg World says:—The new lease of the Ontario Government property and water power rights at Healey Falls to the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, Limited, was received by Mr. F. M. Field from the Department of Lands Forests and Mines by registered mail on Wednesday.

It is issued by the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir William Mortimer Clark, under advice of Council, by authority of Ont. Statutes, 1898 Chapter 8 and of the Regulations made thereunder dated 16th Jan. 1907.

The form of LEASE is the printed form adopted for all water power leases from the Government, and sets apart for the use of this Company the three parcels of land specifically described, owned by the Ontario Government in the Township of Seymour, adjacent to Healey Falls, for a period of 20 years computed from June 1st 1907, with the right of renewal for two further and successive terms of ten years. This makes it a Forty years lease, provided the conditions are observed and rental paid. A nominal rental of $10 per annum for the first two years and thereafter 75 cents per horsepower developed with a minimum of $2,-500 is provided for, during the twenty year term. Three thousand horse power is to be developed within two years and the Company are to begin the work necessary for development in a substantial and bona fide manner to the satisfaction of the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines within four months from the first of June, 1907. This period, it is understood, is to be extended another month owing to the delay that has occurred in the issue of the Lease.

The penalty clause is that which appears in the printed Lease form adopted by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, namely forfeiture and cancellation for failure to begin the work necessary for development within the time stipulated and subsequently for failure to supply the power to the extent of 3,000 horse power within the two years stated.

The securing of the new lease on the above terms will be gratifying to those in this district who have invested funds in this undertaking and to the municipalities concerned which are looking for cheap power from this project.

The Company also owns by deeds in fee simple two valuable portions of the Healey Rapids, and also owns the Ontario Government patent of the half mile strip of fifty-six acres of land required for raceway and power works. It will be remembered that the obstruction last autumn of this land patent delayed the Company's operations when the lease was first granted at the request of twelve municipal councils.

The new lease has been granted by the Ontario Government at the request of a large deputation which waited upon the Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, and the Hon. Adam Beck in last January, consisting of the leading manufacturers and business men affiliated with both political parties from the five contiguous lake front ridings, most of whom are shareholders of the Company.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, K.C.M.G., Belleville, is President of the Company, and J. A. Culverwell, engineer, Port Hope, is Managing Director.

The Pope's Humor.

New York, July 11.—A cable despatch to the American from Rome says:

The pope, who is well-known for his good-nature, was persuaded a month while back to have his portrait painted. When finished, however, the portrait did not suit him. When the artist showed it to him, she begged the holiness as an additional favor, to append a few words as an inscription. The pope wrote: "John 3-20."

When the friends of the artist looked up this passage they found the words: "It is I. Be not afraid."

He Ate Paris Green

Cornwall, July 11.—A peculiar story comes from Mission, across the river from here, to the effect that George Price, a young man residing at Ploumbrook, with his parents, is dead, as the result of innocently munching on paris green. Price, it is said, found a package of the poison and asked a friend what to do with it. Jokingly, the other advised him to eat it. Price did so, and going home, became very ill. When he told his father what he had done a doctor was sent for, but before he arrived Price was dead.

He Told Her.

A good highland minister was endeavoring to steer a boat load of city young ladies to a landing place. A squall was bursting. The steering was difficult. One of the girls annoyed him by jumping up and calling anxiously, "Oh, where are we going to?" "If you do not sit down and keep still, my young leddy," said the minister most succinctly, "that will verra greatly depend on how you were brought up!"—Dundee Advertiser.

Good Advice.

Queen—In all simplicity. Do not be ambitious to win a quiet mind, and flourish in all the quietude. Do not overburden closely into the programs of accomplishment. Do not crave so much to be magnificent, but let your spiritual life be formed by your duties, and by the endless which are called forth by circumstances.—Francis de Sales.

Followed a Hunch.

Hardfisted (tragedy)—Remember when I married you.

She—Ahh—haven't you a feather?

"No, I am not."

"Then you should congratulate me upon my success as a salesman."

His View of Nature.

Hartley was once talking to Sir William Gull about the healing power of nature. "Stuff!" said Gull. "When there's not too much nature does not want to cure the man. She wants to put him in his coffin."

The Soft Answer.

Mrs. Benham—You couldn't look me in the face when you came in last night. Benham—That was because your beauty dazzled me, my dear.—New York Press.

San Francisco is Dead

Montreal, July 11.—Mr. W. D. Finley, a well known Boston newspaper man, arrived in Montreal today on his way to the Canadian West and from there to Spokane. Mr. Finley joins the big army of United States journalists who have awakened to the fact that the Canadian West is the most important section of the continent today—and they admit it. He was at the Canadian Pacific Railway offices today and in conversation with friends he met here declared himself unreservedly. "Of the United States cities," he said, "Seattle will be the most important and up to date of them. Spokane will run a close second. San Francisco is dead. It is not so much the earthquake and the fire, but rather the effort of everybody to steal from everybody. Then, too, the great strikes of the past few months have knocked the bottom out of all attempts at getting settled down again."

50% IN ANNUAL DIVIDENDS

The Death Valley Mining & Smelting Co. Commences the Installation of a Smelting Plant in one of the World's Richest Gold, Silver and Copper Fields. An Extraordinary Opportunity for the Small and Large Investor to make Rich Returns.

The mining properties of this company cover 720 acres, located in Kern county, California, in the heart of the Radamacher Mining District, a field of untold riches in gold, copper and silver. These properties consist of fifteen claims, estimated by conservative mineralogists and reliable mining experts from the ore now in sight at a minimum valu eof millions of dollars.

WHAT OUR MINES SHOW.

Our fofteen mining properties are in various stages of development, from open cuts on the surface to shafts from 80 to 200 feet deep, with drifts in the ore from 10 to 100 feet in length.

From assays and smelter runs on our ore values are shown ranging from $16.00 to $147.50 per ton. The Vulcan Mines, adjacent to our properties and in the same vein as runs through three of our mines, shows values up to $400.00 per ton. Every outcropping of veins bear evidence of rich deposits and wherever opened up pay ore is found growing more valuable with depth.

PROFITS PROVED.

The cost of minions our ore is less than $2.50 per ton, and the cost of smelting ore similar to ours, by the system we have under consideration is from $1.50 to $2.50 per ton. The cost of smelting by the Lustre Mining Company at El Oro, State of Durango, Mexico, is $1.50 per ton. They are sixty miles from the railroad in Old Mexico; we are fifteen miles from the railroad in California. Their ores egoes $9.00 to $13.00 per ton; our ore averages $30.00 per ton. Coke costs them $20.00 per ton in gold. It will cost us $12.50 per ton. The epar value of their stock is $10.00 per share. Before they put in their present system of smelting, the stock was selling at $3.00 per share; it is now selling for $40.00 per share. Why should not our stock do as well? It will do as well, and better, for our will show a net average profit of $15.00 per ton.

WHAT IS NECESSARY.

An attempt to operate these mines relying upon outside smelting companies to treat the ore is impracticable. The smelter nearest us at Needles, 250 miles distant. Their charge for smelting our ore is $15.00 per ton; the freight by rail and wagon is $8.50 per ton. We propose to eliminate this prohibitive expense by doing the smelting ourselves.

We intend to install a single smelter having a capacity of 50 tons per day and increase the same to 250 and 500 tons as rapidly as consistent with good business judgment; 50 per cent per annum is not extraordinary earnings for a smelter. We expect to greatly increase the earnings as the capacity of the plant is expanded.

CAPITALIZATION AND STOCK OFFERING.

We are incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The capital stock of our company is $250,000.00, divided into 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. The Articles of Incorporation provide for the non-liability of the stockholders.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand shares in Treasury stock, of which seventy-five thousand shares are now offered for sale at $1.00 per share. We estimate that the sum realized from the sale of this stock will be sufficient to meet all demands on the company for taking title to the properties, development of the ore bodies, installation of the smelter, operation of the plant and all other legitimate outlays. There are no commissions, no promoters' expenses to be paid out of this; no salaries other than for actual services rendered. Every dollar received from this sale will go into the treasury of the company for the purpose mentioned.

This is a straight business proposition to which we invite a thorough investigation.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—One-fifth Cash and the remainder in Four Monthly Payments.

village the storm signals were flying from the pole on the cupola of Cy Warner's observatory. The southeast gale, foretold by the newspapers, had come.

She saw the lighthouse on Baker's beach, a small shadowy dot in the distance. Beyond it was the bay, and miles beyond that lay Setuckit Point. Only the landward end of the long beach was visible through the smears of wind driven rain, but she gazed in that direction for minutes.

Grandmother Baker was still asleep when Gus came downstairs. The girl went into the kitchen, where Winfield, gray mussled and rheumatic, came, stretching and yawning, to meet her. She fixed the fire in the range, filled the teakettle and, putting on her apron, began mixing the rye muffins for breakfast. Every now and then she left her work to go to the window. The storm was growing steadily worse.

Then the reaction came.

The muffins were ready, and she put them in the oven. She went to the sink and pumped the tin hand basin full of water, but before her fingers touched it she heard the yard gate shut with a bang. She thought that "Blount's boy" must be coming with the morning's milk and stepped to the outside door to meet him, lifting the hook from the staple.

The door opened and Bradley Nickerson came in.

He wore no overcoat or oilskins, and his clothes were wet through. The rain poured from the visor of his cap, from his sleeves and the hem of his jacket. His face was dotted with drops, like beads of perspiration. He did not wipe them away, but stood there on Mrs. Baker's cherished ingrain carpet dripping and looking at the girl before him.

She did not seem to notice his condition nor appear astonished at his coming. Her first words were strange ones.

"Oh!" she cried. "Is she lost?"

"Lost?" he repeated. "Lost?"

"Yes, yes. The barge. Has the gale wrecked her?"

Bradley seemed to be waking from a dream. "Oh, the barge!" he answered slowly. "The barge? Oh, she's all right. We got her off."

Gus gave a little sob of joy. Her eyes filled with tears. "I'm so glad!" she exclaimed. "I was afraid"—

He interrupted her by stepping forward and seizing her hands.

"Gus!" he begged. "Oh, Gus, do you love me?"

She did not hesitate nor seem surprised. "Yes," she said simply, looking up at him.

For an instant he returned the look. Then the reaction came. He swayed, sank to his knees and cried like a child, hiding his face in her apron.

And like a child she soothed him, stroking his wet hair and crying silently in sympathy.

"Oh, my dear," he pleaded over and over again, "I've behaved like a foolish child. Can you forgive me?"

She smiled, like the sun shining through the last drops of a summer shower. "It was my fault more than yours," she said. "I was selfish and so silly, but I didn't know—I didn't know."

"But you know now? You're sure?"

The answer was not in words alone and was entirely satisfactory.

* * * * * * *

When he got home Bradley swallowed the last drop of the "pepper tea" provided by Miss Tempy—he was in a mood where nothing short of a gallon would have daunted him—and hastened upstairs to put on dry clothes. When he came down he went through the motions of eating breakfast and answered as best he could the hundred and one questions regarding the floating of the Freedom that the old maids and Clara asked. He had been up practically all night, but was too excited to think of sleep, and, remembering how unceremoniously he had deserted Captain Titcomb, decided to go down to the postoffice and telephone to the Point.

The storm was in full blast by this time. The wind screamed through the treetops, and the thick ropes of rain shot downward with savage force. As he entered the postoffice the postmaster called to him through the little window in the center of the frame of mail boxes.

"Hi, Brad!" he hailed. "Is that you? I jest sent a boy uptown after you. Cap'n Eb has been keepin' the telephone hot for the last ha'f hour. He wants to talk to you the worst way."

Bradley was alarmed. Had anything happened to the Freedom? He entered the telephone closet, stood his drenched umbrella in a corner and gave the four rings which made up the Setuckit Point call.

The wire buzzed and hummed like an overturned beehive. The receiver at his ear wailed and screeched like a banshee. At length a faint "Hello!" answered his call.

"Hello!" he shouted. "That you, Cap'n Knowles? Yes, this is Brad Nickerson. I want to talk with Cap'n Eb. Can you get him for me?"

The life saver laughed. There were more buzzing and humming. Then Captain Titcomb's voice rose above the music of the storm.

"Hello, partner!" it called. "That you? You don't say! Well, this is Titcomb. No; the Freedom's all serene. She'll ride it out as slick as a duck in a bucket. But there's a feller here wants to talk with you. Prick up your ears now!"

Bradley heard his partner laugh. Then another voice began—a drawling, high pitched voice.

"Is that you, Bradley?" it demanded. "This is me talkin'. Do you hear?"

"Yes? Who's me?"

"Me, Peleg—Peleg Myrick. Cap'n Eb wants to know what I'd better do with the dynamite I've got buried under my shanty. I'm scant to death of it."

"The dynamite? What dynamite?"

"The dynamite I took off the Divin' Belle the day afore she was burned. Cap'n Ez ordered me to take it all out, so I done it the next forenoon. What'll I do with it? I've been tryin' to tell you an' the cap'n about it, but you never give me no chance.' Skeesicks is the divil to dig, and if he scratches that stuff up, why"—

"Stop!" Bradley shouted it. "Wait a minute! Peleg, what are you talkin' about? Do you mean there was no dynamite aboard the Diving Belle when she burned?"

"Ya-as. I took it all out that mornin'. What?"—

Again Bradley shouted, "Stop!" He wanted to think. If there was no dynamite aboard the schooner, why—why then the insurance could be collected. If— His heart sank again.

"I'm afraid that won't do, Peleg," he called. "She certainly blew up. I heard her and felt the shock under water. Everybody on the hill heard the explosion and saw it too. No, Peleg. Much obliged, but I guess you must have left some of it."

The wire whirred and sang. Then the drawling voice went on. It said:

"Cap'n Eb wants to know if the explosion wan't pretty small for a dynamite one, now that you come to think of it. He says what about the gasoline tanks?"

The gasoline tanks! The gasoline for the engine! It had been stowed in the bow of the schooner.

The receiver fell from Bradley's hand. He stared at the calendar on the wall of the telephone booth.

THE END.

Souvenirs of a Criminal Career.

A bedroom papered with the flags of all nations is occupied by an artist who has a hankering for oddities. Every nationality under the sun is represented by the colors on the walls, and the effect upon a person when first entering the room is somewhat dazzling. "Those flags," said the artist, "represent a career of crime which has extended over the entire world. In fact, I am an international thief. When I toured Africa, Asia, Europe and Australia some years ago with two other fellow artists we each boasted of our ability in "pinching" towels from the hotels at which we stopped. The fellow who got the lowest number was [illegible] of the other two back to this country. I came in first [illegible] to collect 297 towels, many of which came from world famous hotels. When I got them home I immediately turned them into flags with my water colors and they make cool souvenirs of my criminal career."

Longevity of Car Wheels.

Has anybody ever stopped to think how many miles the wheels of a railroad car travel before they wear out? Statistics gathered from various roads show that perfect car wheels often roll from 300,000 to 450,000 miles before they have to be turned down. Wheels with flaws in them run only about 50,000 to 100,000 miles.

Vain Longing.

Arlnp looked up bitterly from the book he was reading. The words "one touch of nature" had caught his eye and had started a train of thought.

"I wish it were possible," he soliloquized. "I've touched everybody else."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Why Do Women Worry?

First Sign of Failing Health.

Worry is a disease—and it's more—it produces other diseases, because it breaks down the nerves and saps the vitality of the body.

What a pity women don't realize that if they were well—if the blood was nutritious—if the nerves were strong—if all the organs were active—then the little things that irritate and prey on the mind wouldn't receive a moment's thought.

The woman who worries has a poor appetite—she sleeps poorly. If it only lasted for a day or two it might be of small consequence—but she grows limp, miserable, unhappy—worse day by day.

She needs Ferrozone which cures worry by curing the conditions that render worry possible. For nervous, weak women, no tonic is so good; thousands it has cured just like Mrs. M. E. Etherington, of Troy, who writes, "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired, and completely worn out. No doubt it's quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and in fact I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone cures by making good good blood strong nerves and a healthy body.

This is why it gives color, clearness to the skin, buoyance to the step brightness to the eyes—because with good digestion and activity of the body in all its parts there's health. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

Mr. Code Explains Alleged Shortage

In our issue of Wednesday we noted that, in the Code trial, Mr. Code had been refused access to the company's books. We find on enquiry that Mr. Code's full indebtedness, $92.92, was paid over to the company by his attorney, Mr. Gordon, at the time of the trial on the condition that he and his attorney should have full access to the company's books, with a view to showing that much more was owing to Mr. Code than his alleged shortage amounted to.

Mr. Saunders Is Promoted

The many friends of Mr. Saunders who has so long and so faithfully filled the position of accountant of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in this city for some years, will regret to learn that this efficient bank official is leaving the city. Mr. Saunders yesterday received word that he was to be promoted and that he was to fill at the head office of the Bank in Toronto to get full instructions as to his future duties. Mr. Saunders future is very bright and we will materially advance him in responsibility and salary also. His many friends in this city, while losing his charge from their midst, will be glad to hear of his promotion and congratulate him on his ability and consequent success in life.

FELL OFF TRAIN AND INSTANTLY KILLED

Horrible Death of Circus Man Near Cavanville Yesterday on The C. P. Railway

Yesterday morning the body of a man was found lying alongside the C.P.R. track about a mile east of Cavanville. It was evident from the appearance of the body that the man had either fallen off a train, or was pushed off, through accident or design. The Hangrigue circus performed in Havelock on Thursday, and passed over the road during the night on its way to Lindsay, and it is almost certain that the unfortunate victim was one of the employes of the show.

Dr. Gray, coroner, of this city, was at once notified and drove to the spot as soon as possible.

The unfortunate man's neck was broken, his shoulder dislocated and his body literally covered with bruises. He had been thrown or dragged some 50 feet from the spot where he must have fallen from the train. The body was almost nude, the man evidently having been prepared for bed and possibly got up again. It is said that there was some drunkenness among the circus men when they left Havelock, and it is not unlikely that the man may have been a victim of foul play or a victim to drink and consequently thus lost his life.

Dr. Gray has ordered an inquest, which will take place in Millbrook this morning and which will be attended by Mr. Kerr, county crown attorney of Cobourg.

Dr. Gray informed The Times last night that the last word the general manager of the show to be in hand at the inquest. If he fails to obey this summons a warrant will be issued, as a thorough investigation is necessary on account of the serious nature of this lamentable accident or possibly foul play.

Lefebre's Body Not Yet Found

Auburn Mills to be Closed Down If Body is not Found Previously

Enquiries made at a late hour last night at Mr. Curran's grocery store, Water street north, and other places at the north end of the city elicited the fact that the body of the poor little fellow named Lefebre, drowned at Auburn dam Thursday, has not been recovered. It was generally reported that the Auburn Mills would be closed down this afternoon to permit a thorough and satisfactory search to be made. There seemed to be a rumor yesterday that possibly the boy was not drowned at all but this is not absurd for serious consideration.

As noted in yesterday's issue, the boy's uncle was with him within a few minutes of his disappearance and saw his fishing rod a few moments afterwards. Such rumors should not be started to add an element of chance to the prevailing grief of those directly interested.

Many Criminal Operations Annually

Chicago, July 12.—Fifty thousand criminal operations are performed in Chicago every year, and most of them in places advertised for that purpose, according to the statement made yesterday by Dr. Rudolph W. Holmes, 412 North State street, chairman of the special committee of the Chicago Medical society, who has spent a year in an investigation of "private hospitals" and maternity homes.

Dr. Holmes estimated that there are 150 of these hospitals in Chicago, only twenty-five of which have been exposed and had their mail stopped.

The attack in Judge Chetlain's court on the hospital maintained at 279 West Adams street by Mrs. Emma Brendecke, which came under the ban of the postal authorities some time ago, furnished the motive for Dr. Holmes sweeping charges. The investigation of Mrs. Brendecke's practices will be resumed in State Attorney Healy's office this morning, and Judge Chetlain will be asked to grand an order holding the woman to the grand jury. On the outcome of this argument will rest a more widespread investigation by the state attorney's detectives.

WIDE EXTENT OF ILLEGAL PRACTICE.

"Chicago leads the great cities of the country in the extent of its maintenance of 'baby farms' and maternity homes of dark character," said Dr. Holmes. "It is estimated that between 60,000 and 80,000 births are registered every year, and it is conservative to say that for every one of these births there is a criminal operation. The number might be double that. Dr. St. Clair, when a prisoner in the county jail a year ago, said he himself had 5,000 of these cases and never had any trouble.

"The midwives and the doctors who commit these crimes are leagued in a union stronger than any labor organization. They retain lawyers who tell them just how far they can go to keep within the law and what to do if they get into the hands of the law. In most of these places babies are killed regularly and their little bodies are burned. The Dr. McLeod case in Boston revealed that one group of five doctors had performed more than 7,000 criminal operations during one year."

NEW WITNESSES IN BRENDECKE CASE.

New witnesses in the Brendecke case will be examined today by Assistant State's Attorney George W. Underwood. Attorney Saul C. Erbstein, who has been retained as special counsel for the state in the investigation, has discovered several new persons who promise to throw light on the story of the Polish girl who was rescued from the West Adams street house.

POLICE INVESTIGATE GIRL'S DEATH.

The coroner and the police are investigating the death of Karmilla Fodrowicz, 18 years old, 744 West Seventeenth St., who died in the afternoon at the county hospital. She is said to have died from the effects of an abosult committed by a young man whose name she revealed to the police before her death. The police are searching for the young man.

Late W. D. Hamilton Buried With Honors

Victim of Kenora Railway Wreck Gets Last Honors From the I. O. O. F. and Masons

The funeral of the late W. D. Hamilton, who was killed in a wreck near Kenora, was held Thursday afternoon from the residence of the deceased's father to Lakefield cemetery.

The funeral was under the auspices of the Oddfellows and was conducted by Lakefield lodge, which turned out in a body. There was also a very large number of Oddfellows and Masons from Peterborough and Lindsay, and large turnout of railway men from all points along the line, including Peterborough, Lindsay, Toronto, Haliburton and other places. The pallbearers were Messrs. R. Mulligan, Thos. Emmerson, Peterborough; Casement, of Lakefield; McMahon, of Lindsay; Wm. Pilling and Fred Haskid, of Peterborough.

Fishing Guides To Be Under License

Capt. A. Hunter, of Frontenac County, inspector of fish and game in Eastern Ontario, has just returned from a trip to Dion Lake, with Overseer Moore, of Lakefield, and Overseer Lane of Apsley. Inspector Hunter, who has been on a trip through the district, consulting and instructing overseers on enforcing the new regulations of the Fish and Game Act, was in the city on Thursday.

Capt. Hunter will recommend to the department that all guides who engage with parties in the sporting districts, be licensed, and thus hold responsible to the overseers for the enforcement of the act. It seems that Americans come to this district and after capturing more than their legal weight of fish, ship their capture away and thus fool the overseers.

"There's a Reason"

Scandal Items Are To Stay

Gould's Application to Strike Out Portions of His Wife's Complaint is Refused

New York, July 12. — Howard Gould's application to have stricken from the complaint of his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gard, in her suit for a separation certain matter declared to be scandalous and irrelevant, was denied yesterday by Judge McCall, in the Supreme court, so far as the scandalous allegation is concerned, but it was granted as to the alleged irrelevant material.

Mrs. Gould charged her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment, and, among other things, with having caused his agent to change the lock on her mail box. This latter charge is held to be irrelevant. As to the alleged scandalous matters, Judge McCall says; "It cannot be said that they are irrelevant, redundant or scandalous, and so far as the motion bears upon them it is denied.

Those allegations which Mr. Gould was especially anxious to have stricken out were; "More than two years prior to the commencement of this action the defendant caused the plaintiff to be constantly surrounded in the plaintiff's home and wherever sojourned by spies and detectives, whose surveillance of the plaintiff was a harassing annoyance, a wanton and open insult and humiliation of the plaintiff, and was so maliciously calculated and intended by the defendant, and that in the years 1904, 1905, 1906, and down to the beginning of the action Mr. Gould has been so contributing himself as to "openly and notoriously humiliate and bring shame and contumely upon this plaintiff."

The Queen Was Greatly Surprised

At the Size of Canadian Apples Which She Thought Wax

London, July 12.—The King and Queen at the Canadian pavilion at the Dublin Exhibition were met by Hon Sydney Fisher, who showed the royal couple a collection of fruit, specimens of which were so large that the Queen at first believed them to be wax.

She was greatly surprised when informed the fruit was more than a year old, but had been kept perfectly fresh in cold storage.

Police Court Cases

At yesterday's Police Court the first case called was that of John Bailey who was charged with being drunk and disorderly. Bailey admitted having been drunk but not disorderly. P. C. McDonald said that at 7.30 Saturday night he went to the corner of Wolfe and Rubidge streets and found prisoner sitting on the sidewalk. On Wolfe street while under arrest prisoner put his arms round a tree and refused to come along. Bailey struck at him and said, "I will do you up if it costs me $50.

At this poin the old bylaw was produced in its pristine and original style. It seemed, as compared with the modern typewritten foolscap bylaws to cover several acres of paper of vast area. This was looked through to decide whether the officer had a right to arrest the man as he was not interfering with any one at that particular time. The magistrate considered the drunkenness was not an offence in itself. The prisoner was discharged with a warning. The next case called was that of Geo. Eckels who was charged with having indecently assaulted Nellie Brown.

Mrs. Kerr, for the prisoner, declined to elect. Mr. Wood noted that this was a case to be tried "in camera." It was decided to take the case at 3 p.m.

Then the case of the four alleged pickpockets, Phelps, Goldfield, Bradford and Lewis, was on again. The first witness was Luke Francis, of Rubidge street, from whom $40 was stolen on Circus Day! He said that on Circus Day, June 25th, at the C. P. R. station he was watching the parade. He then with Mr. Lynch walked up to the Southern Hotel, and entered it. A man then put his hand on witness' shoulder and said, "Don't be shoving like that. He identified Phelps, one of the prisoners, as the man who did this. He also recognized Bradford as having shoved against him. As he left the hotel he found his pocket book missing. He had th cpocket ebook while at the C. P. R. station. It contained four $10 Bank of Montreal bills and some silver. One of the bills had several blue pencil marks across the face. He identified a $10 bill in the chief's possession by the marks on it, said bill having been found on one of the prisoners. Still another $10 Bank of Montreal bill was identified by a pencil cross mark on the corner. Mr. Kerr then put witness under a long and searching cross-examination which did not seem to change his original evidence. P. C. Newhall then took the stand and said it was Bradford who had had the $10 bill with the cross on it. He and Phelps each had two $10 Bank of Montreal bills. He placed eight photographs before Francis who at once identified Phelps as the man who crowded him. He then recognized Bradford's picture.

Mr. Wood then said he thought there was sufficient evidence to commit the prisoners.

Newhall then said to Mr. Gordon that the prisoners were searched Tuesday afternoon and the money taken from them. Bradford's money was at once tied up in a handkerchief.

The charge of stealing $1.75 from Mr. W. B. Hartley was next taken up.

Mr. Hartley on being sworn, refused to kiss the Bible and by raising his hand took the oath. He stated that he was getting on the street car at Brock street. He had a number of parcels in his hands. Phelps, who Mr. Hartley pointed out, would not get out of his way. Phelps refused to move and so did after the other three got on the car. When Mr. Hartley put his hand in his pocket for the fare his pocket-book was gone. It contained a lot of small change. He also had another purse containing four dollars but they did not get it. The four got off at Central Park. The court did not adjourn until nearly four o'clock not adjourn until nearly two o'clock when the prisoners were committed for trial at the higher court.

INDIAN GIRLS SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

The Money Used To Buy Blankets To Give Away

CHIEFS HOLD POTLACHES

Rivalry Between Head Men Sometimes Ends In Beggary For Both Of Them

Vancouver, B.C., July 12.—Residents of British Columbia are marvelling more than ever at the continuation of the Indian potlach. It is now quite a common thing to read that some chief has held a potlach, and given away hundreds of blankets. But these rumors are hardly believed. Lately, however the Indians have been more indifferent to the visits of the white men who are settled more closely to the Indian villages, and thus true stories of these ermarkable potlaches are now at hand.

Exactly as Carnegie gives away libraries all over the country, so the Indians, whenever they get more than they want of this world's goods, potlach it away to the members of their tribe.

A great feast is held and a program arranged. Usually the auction of Indian girls is the first feature of the program. Girls from nine to fifteen are sold to the highest bidder. They bring from $600 to $2,000, and this money is used to buy blankets to give away or potlach.

The authorities have been notified repeatedly that the sales of the Indian girls take place, but they are not disposed to interfere, as the Indians have been accustomed to auctioning their young girls from ancient times. The only time any comment was caused out of the ordinary was when white girls were sold to white loggers. The investigation which followed came to nothing beyond disclosing the fact that the girls, though white, were half breeds, and that they were quite willing to be sold.

The first item in the program over, some sub-chief collects his tribe around him and gives away in blankets all he has earned during the fishing season. The bigger chiefs then start giving blankets, and the rivalry between chiefs sometimes ends in complete beggary with both chiefs. It is all a question of honor ad ndignity. With the Siwash Indians, a rich chief is of no account, if he hoards his riches beyond a year. He must raise money by hook of crok and the more he raises the greater he is, but only if he gives it all away at the first potlach of his people. Thus it would appear that the white man and the Indian are entirely at variance in such matetrs.

Automobile Lost Race with Stork

New York, July 12. — William K. Brown, a wealthy resident of Great Barrington, Mass., came to New York in his automobile a few days ago to transact business, and yesterday morning he received a telegram that an interesting event was about to happen in his household, and that he had better return as quickly as possible. Consulting the time-tables, Mr. Brown found that by leaving that he could not get a train for hours. A happy thought struck him, and he sent for Arthur Ashley, a chauffeur, to whom he was referred by a clerk in the hotel.

"Great Barrington is 130 miles away," said Mr. Brown, "but we've got to beat that stork. What do you say?"

"I'll do it if the brant's not too big a head to run," replied Ashley.

Terms were agreed on, and like a breath of the wind that big car sped away. But they had reckoned without the speed laws, and the trouble came on 150th street and Broadway in the person of Bergen Pleasman McGinnis, who said they were going at something like twenty-five miles an hour.

Brown and Ashley explained and pleaded and called to mind Mc-Ginnis' didn't care whether they were having the stork or not, and he escorted them to the West 152nd street station. More explanations were made there to Lieutenant Ward. He was sympathetic enough, but was compelled to hold the chauffeur in the customary $100 bail. Mr. Brown didn't have that much money with him, and had to send to the hotel to get it. When it arrived he paid it over quickly, and, turning to Ashley, said: "Come on, we might beat him yet!" To his consternation he was told that Ashley would have to appear in court next morning.

The reception, with supreme flagrant, Mr. Brown abandoned the automobile trip and drove rapidly, but not as rapidly, to the Grand Central station, where he eventually got a train for his home.

At last accounts the result of the race was in doubt, neither of the contestants having yet reached his destinations, and their whereabouts being uncertain.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

George Eckles is Committed for Trial

Englishman Held For Trial at Higher Court on a Serious Charge

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock a special session of the police court was held, when Geo. Eckels, an Englishman, was charged with having indecently assaulted Nellie Brown. Mr. Kerr appeared for the prisoner and County Crown Attorney Wood appeared for the prosecution. The prisoner pleaded "not guilty." Mrs. Brown the first witness, said she lives on Water street. She is a married woman and is 38 years of age. Her husband is away from home. Prisoner boards at the same place. He went to camp with the volunteers early in June. On the 14th of June, with her husband's permission, prisoner took her to Central Park to see the soldiers drill in the evening. Prisoner then took her for a walk, but where she did not know, being a stranger here. They went to a field where the offence was committed. She returned with prisoner to the drill shed and saw her husband drilling.

P. C. Newhall then gave evidence as to what defendant said. His evidence thoroughly endorsed the evidence given by the complainant. Mr. Kerr here objected strongly to a part of the evidence given by P. C. Newhall.

Chief Rowell in the box, said that the young woman Brown said that the thought that when the original information was laid several things not necessary for publication. His information was practically in favor of the prisoner. Mr. Kerr said that the present case submits many cases similar to a recently tried case. Mr. Kerr made a strong appeal for his client. The magistrate thought as the woman was young and a stranger in the city, she might have acted foolishly. There is no doubt but what the fact of her laying the information shows that she must have some case. He then said on the evidence produced he would commit prisoner.

Robert Logie is Under Arrest

Well Known Citizen of Lindsay is Placed in Jail at That Town

A Lindsay despatch says:— Robert Logie, arrested in Toronto yesterday and supposed to be connected with the gang of counterfeiters whose rounding-up last Tuesday caused a widespread sensation, arrived here this evening at 10.25 in charge of Detective Patterson and a Toronto officer. A large crowd, principally of the hoodlum element greeted Logie on his stepping from the car. Logie never jaunty, looked jaded and crestfallen on seeing a number of his old friends. The officers hustled him through the crowd to a carriage and drove rapidly to the county jail. The Logies came from a family of some distinction. Colonel Sands, his grandfather, belonged to the British army and resided in Lindsay during the sixties. Robert's father served in the American army and died in Lindsay some years ago. His mother was a lady of culture and education and highly respected in this vicinity. Her death occurred in March last at an advanced age. Robert and his brother have occupied the beautiful homestead and farm on the east side of the river, the property being the most commanding and desirable one in this vicinity. They are reasonably up to in affluent circumstances, and much surprise is expressed that one of them should become enmeshed with the serious charges preferred. The house was searched today by the police, but it is not known whether or not anything of an incriminating nature was found.

Logie will likely come up before the magistrate for a hearing tomorrow.

The proceedings of the police court in Toronto yesterday occupied only about two minutes. Logie when called to answer the charge stood with bowed head and dejected air, and flag after a few words committed to the care of the police for removal to Lindsay, where all five of the men in the net will stand trial. It is believed in official circles that Burke alone was the maker of the bogus bills, with perhaps some assistance from a Toronto man not yet identified. All the others, Logie, Eveleigh, Wynn and Haynes, were merely, it is alleged, the channels by which the bogus bills were issued.

Good Ball Game This Afternoon

The West Ends and Strathconas will play off this afternoon at five o'clock, at Nichols Oval, for the championship of the Intermediate Bradsell League.

This was decided upon Thursday evening at a short meeting of the Executive. It will no doubt be an exciting game. Both teams are out to win, and a good exhibition of ball is expected. No umpire has yet been decided upon. An effort was made to secure "Conway" Barnes, but he will be out of the city.

HAYWOOD PALE AS HE TESTIFIES

Recovered His Composure After Several Minutes In The Witness Box---Denies Guilt of Murder--Never Made Threats Against Steunenberg

Boise, Idaho, July 13.—William D. Haywood took the oath yesterday as a witness in his own defence and so a lengthy narrative of his life and work as a leader of his fellowmen, which was interrupted by adjournment, denied guilt of the murder of Frank Steunenberg and the manifold crimes charged against him by Harry Orchard.

Haywood was pale and unabashed with nervousness when he took the table of the counsel for the witness stand, and when he began to respond to Clarence Darrow's questions his voice was low and somewhat uncertain, but within ten minutes he had regained his composure and for the rest of the afternoon he was master of himself.

(When he spoke of his boyhood, which began with toil at the age of nine, and gave the history of his family he invoked wife, who sat to the left of the witness stand, began sobbing softly. Her mother and her nurse soon comforted her, however, and during the rest of the afternoon she and the rest of the Haywood folk were quiet, but deeply concerned auditors.

HAYWOOD'S DENIALS.

Haywood's direct testimony yesterday was characterized chiefly by positive denials of allegations made against him by the prosecution.

He denied that he met Orchard until some time after the Vindicator mine explosions.

He denied that he sent Orchard back to Cripple Creek to blow up the Independence Station.

He denied participation in the murder of Detective Lytle Gregory.

He denied suggesting or discussing the Steunenberg murder.

He swore that he never gave Orchard any money at any time, or any place, for any purpose.

He declared that he never made a threat against Steunenberg, when he regarded only as a politician swayed by capitalistic influence.

He repeated a number of incidents when he met Orchard in Denver at the ordinary course of his relations with the federation and George A. Pettibone, and said he saw Orchard for the last time in August, 1905, when Orchard told him he was going to Alaska. Haywood said he chastised Orchard for deserting his wife and children at Cripple Creek, but the latter said they were not his but the children of his wife's former husband. This explains the letter to Mrs. Orchard No. 2, saying her husband was in Alaska.

The direct examination has not reached the connection of Jack Simpkins with the federation and the action of the federation after Steunenberg was murdered when court adjourned.

HAD 22 LAWYERS.

Haywood became a member of the Executive Board of the Western Federation of Miners in 1900, holding that position until June 1901, when he was elected secretary-treasurer, an office which he still nominally fills. His salary is $150 a month. Asked if the federation employed attorneys, Haywood declared that at times it had as high as twenty-two attorneys on the payroll.

The federation, according to Haywood, has always taken an active interest in politics, one of its objects being to meet its friends and defeat its enemies. It has also taken an active interest into labor measures affecting all classes of workingmen, an eight hour law as applied to miners has been secured in nearly every state where the federation is organized. In some cases it became necessary to amend the state constitutions.

Haywood went at length into the political history of Colorado and the causes which, in his judgment, led to the turbulent days in the Cripple Creek region. Of course, the union miners had nothing to do with it. Violence was forced upon them from start to finish.

Toronto Couple Here on Wedding Trip

The following taken from the Toronto Star is of local interest:

Yesterday afternoon the marriage of Miss Kathleen Hamilton, second daughter of Mrs. Hamilton, Madison avenue, to Mr. Ralph Carlton Murton, youngest son of the late Sheriff Murton, Hamilton, took place quietly at the home of the bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. F. H. McCallum. The Rev. T. W. Murphy, Church of the Redeemer, officiated. The bride wore a pretty white coat and skirt of voile de soie, with lace blouse, white plumed hat, and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Edith Hamilton, wore a white embroidered dress and hat, with pink carnations. Mr. Lunsford Robinson, Hamilton, was best man.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding) due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and dyscrasic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine to use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Pleasant Outing for St. John's Sunday School

The annual excursion of St. John's Sunday school took place yesterday to beautiful Idyl Wyld, per the comfortable and commodious steamer Otonabee. The inclement weather up to nine o'clock, threatening another day's rain, seriously affected the attendance of both scholars and intending patrons of this event. However, the sun broke through the unwelcome clouds shortly after nine, and from that hour until the return home at eight o'clock the weather was delightfully acceptable. In fact it would be hard to conceive of a more enjoyable excursion and picnic than that of yesterday under the capable charge of the Smoky schools genial superintendent, Mr. A. Dix, who entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion and saw to it that one and all had a pleasant day's outing.

PROGRAM OF RACES.

After lunch at Idyl Wyld a good program of races for the little folks was run off by Mr. Dix assisted by Canon Davidson, the popular warden and Chairmaster H. J. Davey.

The following is the list of events and prize winners:

Girls, 15 and under — 1st, Madge Graham; 2nd, Cecil Clements; 3rd, Tessie Simmons.

Boys, 15 and under — 1st, Arthur Horsefield; 2nd, April Davey; 3rd, Horace Ballard.

Boys' sack race—1st, Jack Davidson; 2nd, Clifford Thompson; 3rd, Wilfred Armstrong.

Girls, 9 and under—1st, Grace Armstrong; 2nd, Esther Payne; 3rd, Gladis Collinson.

Boys, 9 and under—1st, R. Stevenson, 2nd, Clifford Thompson; 3rd, Cedarik Kyles.

Girls, 12 and under—1st, Vera Collinson; 2nd, Isabelle Nesbitt; 3rd, Maggie Emmerson.

Boys, 12 and under — 1st, Arthur Horsefield; 2nd, Stanley Ballard; 3rd, Horace Ballard.

Consolation sack race—1st, Lottie Moore; 2nd, Margaret Stevenson.

Girls' three-legged race—1st, Bessie Nesbitt and Vera Armstrong; 2nd, Ossie Clements and Madge Graham.

A hearty vote was also tendered the boys, Messrs. Fox, Davey and J. Armstrong, very energetic workers things present for the youngsters.

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue!

Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red.

Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated.

Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness; this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo. O'Hagarty, of Amherst, N. S., writes: "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be without the pills for ten times their price."

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

NATIONAL HONOR AN ASSET.

Speaking at the Canadian Club dinner in London on Dominion Day, Lord Strathcona, referring to the increase of American immigration into Canada, said that one of the factors attracting American farmers was the fact that peace and order were more assured in Canada than in the United States. This is undoubtedly true, and to an extent which opens up a very interesting field for speculation as to future developments along that particular line. It is apparent to the least observant that the times are out of joint in the United States in respect to the phases of national life to which Lord Strathcona has directed attention anew. The existence of peace and order in the great Republic are greatly imperilled. the disclosures made at the Moyer-Haywood trial at Boise, and of San Francisco's shame, being calculated to seriously alarm its most sober-minded friends. And it must be regretfully admitted that the signs do not portend an early improvement in those undesirable conditions. So it would seem that the exodus to Canada from the United States, of people who are attracted by the better order of things prevailing in this country, is not in any sense an ephemeral movement, which will soon subside, but one promising to increase in volume, until it assumes proportions having a tremendous effect on the development of Canada. The situation is one which ought to stimulate us to guard as a priceless possession the reputation we bear as a country guaranteeing to all protection, liberty and order, and all that springs from the blessings of life under the British flag.

CANOEING.

Canoeing is an exceedingly pleasant pastime, and in quiet water a safe one for people, who know enough to keep themselves reasonably still. It is dangerous to many, who practise it, because they are not sufficiently careful. But what we wish to speak of particularly is the risk taken by many persons, who run canoes in stiff currents and when wind is high. This statement is not made by one who has a dread of canoes, but is the outcome of experience in all kinds of waters in all kinds of canoes, from the little hollow log, which is ready to overturn on the slightest provocation to the broad 18 foot boat, which will stand almost any sea. The result of this experience is that no man is justified in taking chances in a canoe in rapid water with ladies or children on board. If a man can swim he can do as he likes about such things, but the tricks that canoes will play, if anything happens to go wrong in rapid water, are such that no one has a right to expose others to the danger that may result.

These observations are made because it has been brought to the notice of the Times that some people in this city are in the habit of running the rapids in the river.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Twin Sisters Marry Two Brothers in Emily Township.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Switzer, Maple Grove, Emily, on Wednesday June 19th, when their twin daughters, Mary Amelia and Rhoda Emma, were united in marriage to Mr. James H. and Mr. Lewis E. Jones, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones, of the township of Tay, County of Simcoe.

At the hour of two o'clock the piano was heard to peal forth the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by the skillful hand of Miss Ella Switzer, sister of the brides, the contracting parties taking their places under a twin arch of evergreens and flowers which was erected for the occasion on the beautiful lawn. The brides were given away by their father, and were attended by two little pages, Master Roy Fee and Ernest Lowes. They each carried a beautiful calla lily, containing the rings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Johnson, of Bethel. The brides were prettily attired in costumes of cream point esprit over Japanese silk. They wore the conventional veils and orange blossoms and carried beautiful boquets of roses and carnations. After the ceremony was performed, the guests, numbering 160, repaired to the dining room, which was prettily decorated for the occasion and partook of the sumptuous dinner there provided. Many and costly were the presents received, showing the high esteem in which the brides were held by their numerous friends. The Bethel church and neighborhood has sustained a great loss by the departure of two such estimable young ladies, they being members of the choir and active workers in the League and Sunday school. Mr. Robinson's (of Peterborough) cab and handsome grey team were in attendance to carry the happy couples to Omemee, accompanied by Omemee's cab and several other carriages, where they took the train en route for Toronto, Niagara and other points amid showers of confetti and flowers. Their future homes will be near Midland city. The brides' going away dresses were of a pretty grey, trimmed with braid and buttons, with hats to match. Their many friends and acquaintances join in wishing them every happiness and prosperity in their new homes. There were guests present from several points, including Toronto, Elmira, Midland, Sunderland, Lindsay, Peterboro, Lakefield, Omemee.

HARD ON HIS FLOCK.

To the Editor of The Times.

Sir,—Apropos of "Valedictories," of which the press is pretty full just now, a good many, although delivered with honeyed words, are, doubtless often pervaded by a very different spirit and might more appropriately be after the manner of a certain minister who spoke as follows:—"Brothers and sisters, I come to say good-bye. I don't think God loves this church, because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other, because you have not paid my salary. Your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples, and "by their fruits ye shall know them." Brothers, I am going to a better place. I have been called to be chaplain of a penitentiary. I go to prepare a place for you and may the Lord have mercy on your souls. Good-bye."

A Good Investment in Nevada Mine

Mr. A. A. Leonard Offers a Good Proposition to the Public.

In this issue appears the advertisement of Mr. A. A. Leonard, stock-broker of Oakland, Cal., in which this gentleman offers for sale what seems to be a good financial proposition. The Goldyke Consolidated Mining Company of Nevada, own a property adjoining the great Copper King claim, which latter is shipping $300 ore. The Goldyke property is no prospect but is now being worked and will soon ship ore. For a limited time only, this stock is being offered for 15 cents per share. The company reserves the right to return all money sent should the stock have been subscribed for previous to its arrival. All the incorporators have pooled their stock so that all monies received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis. It is confidently expected that this mine will be shipping ore within forty days after the machinery is installed. Mr. Leonard considers that this stock now offered at 15 cents a share will shortly advance to 50 cents and 75 cents per share. Those interested should get their orders for stock in at once to A. A. Leonard, 1670 Broadway, Oakland, Cal.

Are Still Booming the War Scare

London, July 12.—The American Government has placed large orders for Welsh steam coal in this country, according to a news agency report. One order is said to amount to 40,000 tons, and it is added that the coal will be chartered in specially chartered steamers to the Philippine Islands and certain rendezvous on the west coast of South America.

According to the same report the underwriters at Lloyd are taking 35 to 60 per cent. to cover the war risks of colliers bound from England to Manila.

PAIN

Pain is the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—eases blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

A BEAR AT KEETWATIN.

Keewatin, July 12.—A two-year-old black bear on a prowling tour of investigation in town came to grief this week from a dose of lead administered by Mr. A. F. Dorchman. The bear was first seen by Mrs. Dorchman in their garden. She went to the back yard to get a pail of chips, and missed their cat missing at something. On looking up there stood a bear not more than sixty feet away. He was followed through the woods by Mr. Dorchman, who sighted him at a distance of thirty yards standing on a rock viewing the town. He took aim but missed. The bear kept moving on and after rounding he got another sight of him and took another shot, this time with effect. The bear made a charge for Mr. Dorchman, who had kept about thirty yards away, and giving a terrific roar he toppled over in his death agony. When dressed he weighed about 200 lbs., and for a few days the citizens had the opportunity of enjoying bear steak, as the meat was in prime condition. This is the tenth bear Mr. Dorchman has killed, and he has not made a business of hunting, either, which is quite a record for so young a man.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

NOTICE! MONEY IN COAL

We offer British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's stock at

71-2 Cents Per Share.

This Company controls 17,000 acres of coal lands in the famous Nicola Valley, British Columbia. They have several seams of coal aggregating some 90 feet in thickness, and it therefore becomes only a matter of development to make these lands worth millions.

There is no investment more solid, safe and profitable than represented by shares in a coal company.

Buy these shares at the present low price. We will sell in 100 to 1,000 share blocks and will have the certificate recorded in any name free of charge, providing payment for the shares accompanies the order, or we will attach the certificate to a draft and forward as you may instruct.

Write us for information.

B. B. MIGHTON & CO.

Mining and Investment Brokers.

Drawer 1082, NELSON, B. C.

ARE YOU READY

To take advantage of the best offer ever made in a Neveda Mine ?

Read the following Facts:

This company owns 5 claims (100 acres) carrying rich deposits of gold, silver, copper and lead. Recent assays show values as follows:—

Number	Gold.	Silver.	Per Cent. Copper.	Per Cent. Lead	Total.
1266	$8.26	1.20	6.44	—	$ 45 76
1265	10.13	—	—	—	10.13
1268	17.98	57 97	—	96.25	178 35
1270	6.30	.65	4.10	—	27 95
1271	2.06	trace	49.66	—	251 31
1272	4.13	trace	10.65	—	57 98
1273	3.09	trace	30.15	—	153 34

There has been over $5,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated. And to make preparations for this the company has ordered me to sell 100,000 shares of the treasury stock at 15c. per share, and last week I sold 12,500 shares so at this writing there is only 87,500 shares left at this price, and when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 25c per share.

The property is at Goldyke, Nev., owned by the Goldyke Consolidated Mining Co. and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $500 ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore, and as the stock is being rapidly subscribed your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order at once for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 15c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock, by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all money received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 60 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the rich values of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 15c. per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from 50 to 75c per share so I consider the investor is lucky to get some at this stock at the present price, 15c.

The JEST THAT RECOILED.

By LOUISE J. STRONG.

Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.

Ellison had sometimes imagined what "might have been" had Millicent Waring been other than the only child of a multimillionaire. What would have been, rather, for he would have encompassed heaven and earth to accomplish it, and in his inmost heart he had felt that the accomplishing would not have been difficult.

At times wild pictures had presented themselves of the possibility of the beastly money taking the proverbial wings, opening for him the gates to paradise, but in his saner moments he scouted such fancies, for with Mr. Waring to the fore there was not the slightest probability of such an occurrence. Instead, he had arrived at a condition where the wings were a necessity to himself if he would retain a rag of self respect. This cherished self respect was suffering considerably now in the yielding that had brought him back, and he had sternly limited himself to a week, even while calculating how often he might contrive to see her in the time without too greatly transgressing convention.

He was hurrying to his hotel to make himself presentable for an immediate call when, as he whipped into the broad, main avenue, a sight presented itself at which he reeled as from a blow in the face. Leaning limply against a doorway he stared, muttering, "Impossible, impossible!"

His wildest imaginings had materialized before his eyes, but he scornfully rejected the suggested explanations of his reason, repeating again and again, "Impossible!"

He was unconscious of the passing throng and too deeply shocked and absorbed to feel surprise when a hand clapped him upon the shoulder and a hearty voice cried: "Hello, old man! When did you blow in?"

Ellison seized the speaker and drew him around the corner.

"Fred," he demanded, "is that Miss Millicent Waring? My eyes tell me so, but I cannot believe them."

"Sure, that's Miss Waring."

"But—but—good heavens! What's she doing in the confectionery shop?"

"Selling, same as other shopkeepers."

"But why? Of course I see she is selling, but why?" He shook the other vehemently.

"Necessity, I suppose, same as the other shopkeepers again," he grinned, winking at a newcomer over Ellison's shoulder.

"Necessity!" yelled Ellison. "You don't mean—you can't mean"—

"Better moderate your emotion, Ellison," the newcomer advised, indicating a bluecoat who was regarding them suspiciously.

"Of course, boys"—Ellison's voice was a murmur—"of course I know you can't mean that she is obliged to do it."

"Why not? Couldn't old man Waring come a financial cropper, same as thousands of others just as astute as he?"

"The world could come to an end," Ellison jeered, but his heart had set up a sudden pounding that dizzied him.

"Comes to an end every day, dear boy, for those money kings when their little card houses tumble. It's a new world for them and their families, too, after that."

"You bet!" exclaimed one of another couple of youths who had added themselves to the group. "Miss Waring is finding it a new world, all right."

Sundry sly winks and nods were exchanged by the four young fellows, acquaintances to whom Ellison had forgotten to give a greeting.

"Where's Mr. Waring?" he asked.

"Oh, he's around. He's plucky. He'll pull it off again some time, I reckon," one said, with a laugh.

"That's so," affirmed another. "But in the meantime there must be bread and butter."

"But wasn't there somebody—or something else for Miss Millicent"—

Fred Wilson interrupted Ellison's indignant outburst:

"Nothing by which she could so quickly and easily rake in the shekels."

"She's pulling them in by the handful, too," said Hughes. "She seems a natural saleslady—has the gift for trade."

Ellison flushed resentfully. "But it cannot be pleasant"—

"Oh, her position has its unpleasant features, of course," Strean interrupted lightly. "Some of the 'climbers' snub her, and disapproval rests on all sides, but Miss Millicent carries it off well. She might have married—that is, I suppose so," he insinuated, with wicked eyes.

"Yes, she might have married while the old man's pile was intact," Forrest amended.

"But she didn't. And a wife with prospective millions and one with nothing but expensive habits and passable beauty are two very different things," Strean asserted.

Ellison turned a furious face upon him and half raised a clinched fist; then, mastering himself, he remarked, "I suppose that's the way the world sees it," and strode away.

The four rascals burst into exuberant delight, digging each other in the ribs and chuckling hilariously as he disappeared down a side street.

Ellison had no coherent thought at first as he tore along. The knowledge that the barrier between them was removed dazed him. But soon he began to turn things over in his mind, to even consider the possibility of his own thousands, which had seemed puerile before, now serving as a foundation for a new beginning on which Mr. Waring might build. The other, the infinitely greater possibility of winning Millicent, he tried to keep in the background until a proper hour for its consideration.

Having at last adjusted himself somewhat to the new conditions, he felt that he could trust himself to see her. They shook hands quietly. There was little opportunity for that for the moment, but there was a humorous yet tender glint in her eyes as she occasionally glanced at his earnest, preoccupied face while she served a bunch of school children.

The four conspirators let her into the secret and departed to spread broadcast the jest, the prank upon Ellison, whose sentiment toward Miss Waring was an open secret. And presently, by twos and threes and in squads, her old friends and former associates began to saunter by. Some purchased of her with simpering patronage, some with a cold nod of recognition, while others passed with haughty, sneering oblivion of her. Some of the smart youths inclined to a familiarity that almost amounted to rudeness.

Ellison noted it all, his heart growing hotter until it burst all restraint.

"Miss Waring — Millicent!" he breathed with low intensity as they were alone for a moment. "I cannot bear this! It may be presumption—improper even, for me to speak here—I cannot help it! I am sure you have long known of my deep love for you, though you cannot realize how it is my very life and soul—I have had so little to offer, I felt I could not presume to ask you to give up for me your luxurious position, to—but I can provide you with a comfortable home, and my whole life shall be devoted to"—

His stammering speech was interrupted by the laughing, bubbling crowd of conspirators, eager to witness his discomfiture.

"Ha, ha! Look at him!" "Oh, the easy mark!" "Has he offered you his purse, Millicent?" "Ha, ha! The idea of Mr. Waring"— "Failed!" "As if"—"Ha, Ha!"

Unheeding the swirl, Miss Waring calmly began counting money from the drawers and piling it in heaps upon the counter. "There," she said at last, "$427.10. That means $854.20 for the hospital from you fellows. You folks who dared me to do this promised to double the amount I took in, you know." She beamed at them sweetly.

"My hat! I never dreamed you'd pull in so much!" gasped Stream. "It's sure up to us, boys! But, oh, Ellison, sonny! Ellison—you—you—!" He doubled with joy. "Your face pays for it all! See it now, don't you? Catch on to it? It was such a chance as comes once in a lifetime! Oh, my! Oh, my!"

Ellison perceived, and turned a blank, mortified face to apologize to Miss Waring, but she laid a gentle, restraining hand upon his arm and again addressed the gurgling, crowing crowd very sweetly, but distinctly, "I claim your congratulations upon my success as a saleslady, and"—(she blushed adorably)—"and also upon my engagement to Mr. Ellison."

Subjective Cigars.

When a man smokes a cheap cigar instead of an expensive or moderate priced one it is not always because he may have his pocketbook to consider," said a New York physician as he recited the following instance in proof:

"An old friend of mine, a former college professor, who resides in the city, smokes the vilest cigars made. He is the best tempered old fellow you ever saw, and splendid company—if it weren't for his cigars. He swears the brand he smokes are as good as Havanas. Once he said to me, 'My friend, believe me, the cigar is what we call subjective, and not objective. That is to say, it is what we think it is, and not what it seems to other people to be. So, you see, my cigars, that cost me only $1 a hundred, are as good as you would call the best and pay maybe $20 a hundred for.'

"It is a great advantage, no doubt, to a man when he looks on all things like a philosopher. I told my professor friend that his cigars might be subjective, for all I knew, but that they were fearful, and I should like it if he would smoke a cigar that was more objective. But he only smiled. The old fellow is so chock full of philosophy that he simply cannot see anything as other people see it."—New York Times.

"He Loved the Children."

Thackeray's words were satirical, and he himself was called a cynic, but the author of "Love Affairs of Some Famous Men" shows what sort of a heart beat in the satirist's breast by quoting from the letter of one to whom the following incident happened:

"In the week following his death there appeared some genial memorial lines in the pages of Punch. Walking down the then unsavory thoroughfare known as Bedfordbury, my eye caught the open page of the popular periodical, and I stayed to read the graceful tribute to the dead moralist. Turning away at length, a poorly dressed man in working garb said to me:

"'I knew that man, sir.'

"'You knew Thackeray?' I asked.

"'Yes, sir. I keep that little baker's shop yonder,' pointing to the opposite side of the street, 'and many's the time Thackeray would come and buy a pound or two of cake of me. I cut it into slices for him, and then, distributing it among the crowd of hungry children, he would walk away and hide in that court over there, that he might have the pleasure of seeing their enjoyment. He didn't know I knew him, but I did. People used to call him a cynic, sir, but it wasn't true. He loved the children, sir, and no man is a cynic who does that.'"

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent one one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

APPEARANCE

Is such an important feature on the table. It makes a heap of difference to the pleasure of the meal whether you have a good or a poor looking Sugar on the table.

St. Lawrence Extra Granulated Sugar

is the whitest and best looking Sugar to be had and besides it has the advantage of being the best quality and greatest strength.

No Appetite

Your Food Disagrees. You're Tired--Lifeless. Skin is Yellow

You'll Feel Worse Every Day Unless You Brace Up Quick. The Best Treatment is Ferrozone.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozone.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago" says Mr. Meehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very run down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Biliousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozone—they all improve—get better health—look better—feel better; try it yourself—sold in 50c. boxes by all druggists.

Newmarket Lacrosse Club here Today

The Newmarket Lacrosse Club is running a big excursion here today, and advices received from that town state that about three hundred supporters will accompany the team. Peterborough will have the strongest line-up of the season, and every man is in the best of shape. The game is scheduled for three o'clock at Riverside Park, and a great brand of lacrosse can be expected.

The Orangemen's Return

When the Orangemen of this district got into the city on their return from Millbrook they were characterized by an even alignment and absence from even a suspicion of their having engaged in the absorption of alcoholic liquors. The Young's Point especially kept their alignment perfectly and walked to the tune of fife and drum in perfect accord.

—Mr. F. C. Hurst, of Toronto, is in the city.

—Mrs. (Dr.) Cameron is visiting relatives in Edmonton.

—Misses Lillian and Eva Orr have gone to Bancroft, Minn., to reside.

—Miss Cecilia Clementi and Miss Amy Clementi spent yesterday at Idyl Wyld.

—Mr. S. F. Whitham, of Brantford Normal school, contractor, is in the city.

—Mr. James E. Fowler spent Monday in Petterborough.—Haverock Standard.

—Mr. Fred Stevens, of Toronto, is spending his vacation with Miss Jas. Garside, Reid street.

—Messrs. Bruce Wilson, Roy Wilson and Bruce Higgins, of Lindsay, were in the city yesterday.

—Mrs. Hammond Lee left yesterday on a month's trip to Toronto and other western towns.

—Miss M. Donnelford has returned to this city after an extended visit with friends in Lindsay.

—Mr. T. J. Watkins and son, Lawrence have gone to Idyl Wyld and Keene to spend a few days.

—Mr. Manley Wilson, of Bridgenorth, is spending a couple of days the guest of Mrs. Jas. Garside.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barrett, of Rochester, N.Y., are spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. James Eastland, city.

—Miss Bessie Clementi, 451 Water street, is spending a few days at Millbrook, the guest of Rev. W. Allen, rector of that village.

—Misses Gertie and Sadie Greenbank are spending a few weeks with friends in Peterborough and Lakefield.—Norwood Register.

—Mr. Theodore F. Bell, of Welland, has accepted a position in Harry H. Jones' drug store, taking the place of Mr. Henry McCaffrey, who has gone to Peterborough to accept a position there.—Midge Review.

—Orillia Packet: The Rev. Dr. Langfeldt returned to Peterborough yesterday. Mrs. Langfeldt and the children go on Saturday.—Miss Lillian Rogers, of Peterborough, is visiting Miss Amy Batley.

—Lindsay Post: Mr. Wm. Rudkins, of Peterborough, inland revenue department official, was in town yesterday, a guest at the Simpson House.—Miss Eva Rodgney has returned to her home in Peterborough, after spending a pleasant visit with Petorborough friends.

—The Orangemen did certainly behave themselves at Millbrook as demonstrated by their good marching after the return train had landed them.

—It was generally conceded yesterday that the local police have made a decided hit in the arrest and trial on June 26. It is generally thought of the alleged pickpockets arrested on June 26. It is generally thought that these men will have their work cut out to avoid conviction.

—Sanitary Inspector Geo. Bell said yesterday that his report of the local junk dealer's committing a nuisance by storing from the stored pig bones for future shipment is much exaggerated. Mr. Bell pays three or more visits a week to these junk yards and has them under full control.

False Fire Alarms To Be Followed Up

Chief Rutherford Will Find the Fools Who Fool the Fire Laddies

Everyone in this city of any standing of age, knows Tom Rutherford—for volunteer chief of our very efficient volunteer fire brigade. Now, Mr. Rutherford, whilst a most good natured man and of long suffering temperament—kept at times to get sore when his men are given unnecessary and unwarranted runs. The chief is sore right down from the crow of his hat to the soles of his No. 11 white shoes over some idiot, who sent in the alarm from Box 21 the other night for a fire that was miles out of the city. The chief got hold of a couple of fellows who saw this smart Alec under get in this "funny work." The first time any one is caught, who with a perverted sense of wit, turns in a false alarm and brings out a lot of hard working and poorly paid, i.e., as far as the brigade services are concerned men, such idiot will probably get know. Jailer Nesbitt and his staff more effectually in a month than he otherwise might have done in a life time. It is a shame for the sake of a senseless one minute joke to call out men who are working for their families to satisfy a perverted sense of humor in the person of a false fire alarmer.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Half Day Trips

Do not forget the half day trips to Idyl Wyld and return every Thursday and Saturday per steamer Otonabee or Water Lily. Leave Wolf Street Wharf at 2.30 calling at Street Railway Wharf. Return tickets 50c. Return h. 3.30.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—The glorious 12th was a big success in this city and district.

—There are eighteen prisoners in the county jail at present, including one woman.

—The annual outing of St John's church Sunday school was held down the river yesterday to Idyl Wyld on the steamer Otonabee.

—Without saying anything to seem like prejudicing justice pro or con. It seems like the alleged pickpockets are strictly "up against it."

—The annual outing of All Saints' church Sunday school will be held on Tuesday next down the river to Idyl Wyld on the steamer Otonabee.

—When out for a walk, have a look in the south window of The Times Bookstore, there is something there to interest every lady who is a housekeeper.

—The officers of Harwood Lodge I.O.O.F., were installed yesterday evening by Bro. Wm. Hall, D.D.G.M., assisted by several visitors from Peterborough.

—The Lakefield Portland Cement Co., is doing a very large shipping business these days. An average of ten cars per day is shipped to different parts of Ontario.

—Many scores more votes would have been polled Thursday had the public in general known what the Colonial Company really amount to. In any event the company got there and they deserve it.

—The Colonial Weaving Company won out, on their request to the ratepayers as was anticipated. May they keep their promises to the voters as well as the said voters backed up their request.

—Bread is still up one cent Notwithstanding promises made yesterday of a sudden drop in prices. Our local bakers ought to have an act of parliament passed changing their names to Rockefeller.

—Whilst some of our local Orangemen may possibly have worn plug hats of the vintage of 1861, the boys looked well, walked well and did the good they purport to every anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

—Rev. Dr. Langfeldt has been requested by the cottagers of Chemong Park, to conduct divine services every Sunday during the season. The first service will be held next Sunday in the pavilion at 4 o'clock.

—Yesterday was the glorious 12th of July. Notwithstanding the rain of the morning hundreds of ardent members of the Order turned out in strong force and followed the fifes and drums.

—The Toronto News of last night contained a large picture showing that at the corner of Yonge and Adelaide streets, the crowds out to see the 12th of July proceedings must have contained many tens of thousands of people.

—Street Commissioner Harry Evans started a gang to work yesterday on the Reid street bridge in front of the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s works. A new concrete deck will be put on. This is one of the bridges provided for by the by-law passed last January.

—For the benefit of those interested in the moonlight excursion Friday evening, July 19th, we are requested to say that encouraging reports are received from those selling tickets. This is for a worthy object and the young ladies should have every support.

—The police of this city from the venerable chief down, including the intelligent work done by P. C. Newhall, in their splendid work done on June 26th, versus July, is a record piece of detective work done that is well worthy of provincial let alone civic recognition.

—The proudest man within the walls of Derry (we mean Peterborough), was the big six-footer, who "didn't do a thing," to that big drum in front of him yesterday. This sturdy son of Orrin certainly did thump all kinds of music out of the powerless heads of his drum.

—An Ottawa despatch says:—The International Railway will be represented by Mr. Henry Holgate, C.E., of Montreal, formerly of Peterborough, on the board of conciliation and investigation, which will enquire into the demands of the freight handlers in Halifax. The latter have not yet named their representatives.

—One of the ladies professedly related to Bradford one of the alleged pickpockets whilst of generous build and, incidentally, attractive appearance, it was afflicted by a reporter of one of our evening contemporaries, wears shoes that are seemingly built for a child of perhaps 13 years. They cannot be over No. 2's at the outside.

—The evidence at yesterday's police court, in spite of the really admirable defence put up by Messrs. Kerr and Gordon for their clients, demonstrated that the police of Peterborough, whilst handicapped by lack of numbers, make up for that deficiency by a superfluity of brain power, and Sherlock Holmes ability to "keep mum" and use what they ascertain to best advantage.

—Dr. and Mrs. Douglas, who are leaving Warsaw to take up their abode in the Northwest, were the recipients of handsome remembrances from the members of the Methodist choir, of which they were members during their residence in Warsaw. Mrs. Douglas was presented with a handsome inscribed fern pot and the doctor with an elegant auto rug.

—Quite a number of those who took in the steamer Otonabee's excursion to Idyl Wyld yesterday under auspices of St. John's church S.S., found it convenient to take advantage of the street car service to the wharf of the latter company. This was especially convenient to those whom the threatening wet weather would have otherwise prevented from going.

A PRETTY MILKMAID

Thinks Peruna Is a Wonderful Medicine.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN.

MISS ANNIE HENDREN, Rocklyn, Wash., writes:

"I feel better than I have for over four years. I have taken several bottles of Peruna and one bottle of Manalin.

"I can now do all my work in the house, milk the cows, take care of the milk, and so forth. I think Peruna is a most wonderful medicine.

"I believe I would be in bed to-day if I had not written to you for advice. I had taken all kinds of medicine, but none did me any good.

"Peruna has made me a well and happy girl. I can never say too much for Peruna."

Not only women of rank and leisure praise Peruna, but the industrious, useful women engaged in honest toil would not be without Dr. Hartman's world renowned remedy.

The Doctor has prescribed it for many thousand women every year and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for his advice, and especially for the wonderful benefits received from Peruna.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada

LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 6,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

PAY HIGH HEAD TAX TO WORK IN CANADA

Chinese Coming to Dominion Again, the Attraction is Big Wages.

MANS LIFE-SAVING AIDS INSTALLED

Track Of a Section of the Canada Northern Ballasted With Gold Gravel--To Save The Dust

Ottawa, Ont., July 13.—The Chinese again are coming into Canada in considerable numbers in spite of the $500 head tax, deemed sufficient at the time of its imposition a few years ago entirely to bar coolies from this country, and effective until recently, not a Chinaman entering the Dominion except merchants and a few others who were exempt.

Now, however, the Chinese coolies have found that the opportunity to work in Canada is worth the payment of $500, and some employers of labor on the Pacific coast also have concluded that the services of a celestial are worth that amount. Consequently, for three months, the Chinese have been entering British Columbia in ever increasing numbers and paying the big head tax. Last month sixty-six of them came in, and forty-five entered who were exempt from the tax, they being merchants or Chinese who previously had lived in the Dominion. It is expected that owing to the great demand for labor in the West immigration of the Chinese will continue steadily to increase until further drastic legislation is enacted.

TO SAVE VESSELS.

As a result of wrecks on Lake Superior and the Pacific coast, in which many lives have been sacrificed and much property destroyed, the marnie department now is engaged in carrying out the extensive installation of aids to navigation. To prevent a repetition of the Valentia disaster on the west coast of Vancouver Island, B.C., two of the most powerful lights in the word lare being placed there—one at Pachena Point, near the point where the Valentia went ashore, and the other at Esetvan. At each of these places there will be installed a powerful fog alarm and a Marconi wireless station. In all, five wireless stations will be established before September, as will also be a number of life-saving stations.

An order for a powerful motor lifeboat has been placed with the New Jersey firm that is building for the United Steats similar vessels. It will have a speed of eight knots, and will be able to live in the heaviest sea. It will be stationed at Banfield Creek. Three surfboats are being constructed for other stations of the west coast of Vancouver Island, and all to be delivered by Sep. 1. A trail is being built from Cape Beal to Carmanah, by way of Pachnea, for the purpose of conveying life-boats to any point where there may be a wreck reported.

BOUNDARY LINE PROBLEMS.

The final location of the frontier line between the State of Vermont and the province of Quebec has given rise to many curious incidents, but so far the advantage seems to be on the side of Canada. The American and Canadian boundary commissioners declare that the harmony between the governments at Washington and Ottawa prevails also among them. They say that the commission has no right to force people to declare their allegiance either to the United States or to Great Britain.

In some cases, people have been living for years, as supposed citizens of the United States, when they really are Canadians. It also transpires that, some years ago, Mme. Haskell, a rich widow of Derby Line, Vt., donated a fine library to the place at a cost of $125,000, and now it seems that half of the building, under the boundary line survey, will it ein Canada and the other half in the United States. It has been concluded, however, not to touch this matter.

GOLD IN TRACK BALLAST.

It is said that every yard of gravel used for ballast on a section of the Canadian Northern Railway, running northwest from Sudbury, Ont., and crossing the Vermillion River, contains from 50 cents to a dollar's worth of gold in the shape of fine dust. In the township of Hanmer the mining camp of the R. H. Ahn syndicate has been testing quietly the gold-bearing gravel with satisfactory results, and Ahn himself is the authority for the statement.

The gold was discovered some years ago, and for a time there was considerable excitement, but prospectors being unable to find it in nuggets, gradually abandoned the quest, although it has been all along known that the precious metal was there in paying quantities, in the form of fine dust. The Ahn syndicate has succeeded in installing machinery which will save this dust, and extensive operations are contemplated in the near future.

Naval Station To Be Restored

Big British Fleet May be Sent To Esquimalt

Victoria, B.C., July 14.—It is reported here that Great Britain is to re-establish Esquimault as a naval station, maintaining a big fleet there.

Want To Raise An Historic Vessel

She was Set on Fire and Sunk for Sending Caroline Over Falls

Kingston, Ont., July 14.—A movement has been started among Thousand Island residents to form a Sir Robert Peel Association for the purpose of raising funds to raise the famous ship of that name and place her on exhibition on the shore of Wellesley Island. On the night of May 23rd, 1839, the Canadian craft was set on fire to avenge the sending over Niagara Falls of an American ship. The Peel sank without much damage from the fire and lies among the rocks forming the river bed, where the Peel dock still stands on the south shore of the island. Severa lyears ago parties succeeded in raising the boat's anchor, which was recently presented to a New York City Museum.

Union Labels on "Her Peek-a-boo"

Logansport, Ind., July 13. —Union labels on peek-a-boo waists, garters, and every other article that women wear is the dictum of the delegates of the International Women's Union Label League, now holding its convention here. Every article that woman wears, from the tip of her pompadour straggling to the comb in her marcelled hair, must bear the union label of union labor. This is the ultimatum that was delivered at the assembly. Then a man stood up.

"I'm with you," he declared, "but how am I to know whether or not the ladies of my acquaintance are wearing the union label?"

One or two feminine delegates tittered, but the majority regarded the questioner with a zero glance.

Desperado Showed Plenty of Pluck.

Denver, July 13.—John T. Thompson, a notorious crook captured in London after a chase around the world, escaped from a train near this city and is still at large. He leaped from a car window while the train was running at a speed of 40 miles an hour. Afterwards, Thompson forced Dr. Hiram S. Cooper to attend him and gave him a $900 diamond pin for his service. He then left the doctor's office, and, with a broken right arm, a broken collarbone, a deep scalp wound, and other injuries, is at large, while all the operatives of the police and the sheriff's department are scouring the city and suburbs for him in automobiles, on foot, and horseback.

Thompson is wanted in Portland, Ore., on a charge of robbing a citizen of that place of $3,000 in cash and was en route to that city to stand trial when he made his thrilling escape from Detective Day, of the Portland police department, who had him in charge.

Local Regiment As Seen By Others

St. Catharines Newspaper Pays The 57th Regiment High Tribute

Now that the train of our local red coats have settled down after their recent trip to St. Catharines, it is of interest to learn what the Star-Journal of that city says of the 57th Regiment. This bright little paper says in part:

The visit of the 57th Regiment the stalwart Peterborough Rangers called forth a burst of enthusiasm such as is rarely seen on such occasions. The officers and men of the regiment came here as utter strangers; they were not much when they departed, but carried with them the warm friendship and the genuine and sincere esteem of all classes of our people. The conduct of the men during their stay here was above criticism and in every way praiseworthy. A good-natured, kindly-natured, fun loving body of sturdy young Canadians, they made the most of every opportunity for sight-seeing and enjoyment.

The effects of such a visit are more numerous and far-reaching than would at first appear. The result from a military point of view cannot but be beneficial and recruiting for the 19th will be greatly stimulated. The exemplary behaviour of the visitors certainly impressed most favorably the older and more staid of our citizens, while the splendid spectacle presented in the city park caused the heart to beat more rapidly in many a youthful breast and stirred to enthusiasm the patriotism that in many cases may have been slumbering. But apart from the military viewpoint, the visit has already had the effect of causing many inquiries by St. Catharines citizens regarding the enterprising city of Peterborough, and a more intimate acquaintance and more thorough knowledge of the resources, industries and possibilities of the city at the foot of the Kawartha Lakes.

Grenoble, France, July 14. — Two members of the Italian Alpine Club lost their lives while on a mountain climbing expedition. They fell over a precipice 1,200 feet high on Mount Mele-Peloux. Their bodies were horribly mutilated and could not be recognized.

THE BOB. IND. ON KIRKFIELD LOCK

Interesting Description of the Opening Ceremonies of Trent Canal Lock Is Given

Superintendent J. Harris McClellan, of the Trent Canal, to whose well employed efforts the opening ceremonies at the official opening of the grand steel work lift lock at Kirkfield, were so eminently successful in every respect, seems to think that the Bobcaygeon Independent, in its description of this event, has "struck the nail on the head." This bright little paper has the following anent this matter;—

"The opening of the lift lock at Kirkfield on Saturday was an occasion of some importance to the Trent Canal project as a whole and locally it was made quite a memorable event. The Kawartha and Trent waters are now open to Lake Simcoe, Orillia, and Barrie, Twenty miles of navigation were added to the 140 miles existing and over a thousand miles of shore line is opened to the benefit of navigation. Hon. Mr. Lemieux represented the Government and made a telling speech The Deputy Minister of Canals accompanied Mr. Lemieux and besides the Government there were some twenty representatives of the Montreal, Ottawa, and Toronto press. The Lindsay Brass Band were in attendance, the water trip to the lock being made from Lindsay, and was greatly enjoyed by all the visitors. On the conclusion of the opening the steamers conveying the parties went on through to Lake Simcoe and landed at Beaverton, where a special train for Peterborough was in waiting.

Kirkfield is the height of land on the Trent waterway, Balsam Lake running south-east through Rosedale and northwest through Kirkfield which is a point 69½ feet above the level of Lake Ontario and 839 feet above sea level.

The lift lock is a huge steel and concrete structure containing two steel chambers which are raised or depressed by hydraulic pressure. As one descends the other ascends, the weight of the descending chamber carrying the other upward. The height of the lift is 48 feet 6 inches. Each chamber is 140 feet long and 33 feet wide. Each is nine feet 10 inches in depth and contains eight feet of water, the approximate weight of which is 1,185 tons. Each chamber is supported by a steel ram seven feet and six inches infull-ameter which works in a cylinder, the external chamber of which is eight feet. The cost of the structure exclusive of concrete walls and breast walls was $298,000.

The Kirkfield lock is unlike the Peterborough lift inasmuch as the superstructure at Kirkfield is of structural steel instead of concrete. These two lift locks are the only ones of the kind on the Continent and the Peterborough one is the largest one in the world. There is one of the same build at Les Fontinetets in France; one at La Louviere in Belgium, and a small one at Anderton in England.

The assemblage at the lock was a surprise, the number being variously estimated at five to ten thousand. After the official boat had descended to the lower level, Mr. R. J. McLaughlin assumed the duties of chairman and the distinguished men present let off speeches. Hon. Mr. Lemieux made a capital speech covering the project in all its well known features."

This report continues with a report of Hon. Mr. Lemieux's speech, but as this was given verbatim, exclusively by The Times, we omit this part of the account.

Saturday Session Of The Police Court

Saturday's Police Court was crowded by members of the Peripatetic Pete Club and Linger Longer League. The first case tried was that of Mrs. Annie Davey, Mrs. Whittaker, W. Cannon and Harry Thompson, who were charged with maintaining a house of bad repute at 24 Parnell St. It seems that P. C. Newhall has had his eye on this resort for some time. On Friday night he kept watch on the place and discovered shortly that his suspicions were justified. At an early hour Sunday morning, just about the time that this officer raided the place. Here he found the alleged keepers whose names are given above. He also apprehended four young men as visitors. The latter four, at Saturday's court were fined $5 each. The keepers were remanded until tomorrow morning for trial.

Oscar Killer, L. Quinlan and Alf. Bell were fined $1 each for stealing cherries from Mr. Henry Cox.

A local livery man then brought action against a customer for non-payment of full charges levied for use of a horse and rig. This case however, was thrown out by the magistrate, as the customer, who had kept the rig out longer than the liveryman had anticipated. The magistrate thought that as the livery man had accepted a certain amount in advance for the rig it was not the place of the Police Court to settle such disputes. The case was dismissed.

John Powers, an elderly man not unknown in certain local dispensaries of wet goods, asked for and was awarded three months in Castle Nesbitt as a vag. John found a good Samaritan who, between the time of his sentence and his trip to the hill, went out and purchased him enough of the herba nicotina to last him for some time.

UNION REFUSED LEAVE TO APPEAL

Metallic Roofing Company Scores Once More in the Courts

THIS TIME IN THE PRIVY COUNCIL

If Metal Workers Put Up Security, However, the Case Will Be Reconsidered

Toronto, July 15.—A despatch from London today is to the effect that the Privy Council has refused leave to appeal "in forma pauperis" to the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' Union, the decision of the jury in the Civil Assizes before Judge McMahon, whereby the Metallic Roofing Co. of this city was awarded $7,500 damages against the union for boycotting the company's products and interfering with their workmen.

This means that before the Privy Council will hear the appeal the union will have to put up securities for the costs. These will amount to probably more than $2,000.

Many points of law have been decided regarding the legal status of the union since the case first came to the courts over five years ago. This latest one will apply on all future cases where unions wish to make an appeal to the Privy Council, and is to the effect that no appeal will be heard unless securities for costs are put up as has to be done by every other individual or corporation which wishes to appeal.

After many tortuous twistings of the law the decision, against which the union wishes to appeal, was granted in October, 1905. The trouble originated in the insistence of the union that certain of the company's employes should either be compelled to join the union or that they should be discharged. Both of these the company refused to do, and as a result letters were sent to dealers stating that after a certain date the union men would handel no goods of the Metallic Roofing Company. As a result of this boycott the company secured a verdict for damages amounting to $7,500 and costs.

Since then, the union, which wishes to appeal the decision opened negotiations with the company to pay them the $7,500 and costs, providing no opposition would be made to the appeal. This the company refused. The union then wished to appeal without putting up securities for the costs, and this the Privy Council has refused to allow.

At the last meeting of the Trades and Labor Council it was decided to assess the unions ten cents per capita to provide funds to appeal the case from court to court. Whether the union will put up the securities to have the Privy Council hear the appeal is a matter which will take some time to decide. So far the judgments have been all in favor of the Metallic Roofing Company.

Japan Preparing For A Big War

Drawings of San Francisco Fortifications Found on Intruder

New York, July 15.—The World prints this version of the arrest of a Japanese at San Diego, Cal., on a charge that he was drawing the fortifications at Fort Rosencrans; The intruder was caught in the very act of sketching the emplacements of four ten inch guns at Battery Wilkerson, and copies of plans he had made of the torpedo casement and the electric machinery connections and keys controlling the mine field of San Diego harbor were found in his possession. The plans included everything which might be of use to a foreign power in case an attack were made at a point on the Pacific coast. According to a military source, he even had records of the sub-calibre target practice made during the present encampment of the Fifth Regiment, National Guard, and the regulars.

It is said that this Japanese had been working in secret with the Japanese servants at the fort, who live in the officers' homes, and that he had in his possession when arrested more than two hundred photographs, giving all possible positions of the guns, beside views and a panorama of the Government reservation, showing in detail the relation of the fortifications to Point Loma, the harbor entrance and the ways of attack by landing parties from False Bay and be west.

Major George Gatchell, in command at Fort Rosecrans, said: "Because of the acute feeling existing on the Japanese question at this time, I cannot make a public statement."

When asked whether it was true as reported that the Japanese had been placed in the guard house, Major Gatchell replied: "I must refuse to answer the question. I cannot tell what has been done; I say, however, that I would certainly destroy any drawing of plates which might be found in the fortifications at San Diego, Cal., in the possession of any person.

"No person, either a citizen of the United States or of a foreign power has any right to make any drawings of any description, or take photographs, of American fortifications. An alien detected in the act of making drawings or taking photographs would be treated in exactly the same manner as would be an American."

The Japanese prisoner has gone so far as to outline the fortifications and approaches on an official map bearing the stamp of the United States geodetic survey. From an official source it was learned that in some manner the Japanese got into the fortifications without being observed. When detected by a soldier he was busy making drawings. The alarm was given immediately and the man was captured after a hot chase. He was immediately taken to headquarters, and confronted by Major Gatchell, who subjected him to a long examination.

The feeling among the Americans was at fever heat and hostile demonstrations were made where the Japanese quarters are. The excitement spread rapidly and thousands of Japanese laborers poured into the city from the lemon groves and railroads. Them seemed to be prepared to use force in case the Americans determined to attack the quarters.

THE LOCALS WIN THEIR FIRST GAME

Peterboro Defeats Beaverton At Lacrosse, Before Big Crowd at Riverside Park Saturday

Saturday afternoon a splendid sized crowd, including a large delegation from Newmarket, gathered at Riverside Park to see Peterborough win their first game this season here, when they defeated Newmarket six goals to 4. The locals led at the end of the first quarter 4 to 1, that were never headed. The second quarter ended 4 to 2; the third 5 to 3, and the final score was 6 to 4. F. C. Waghorne was referee and by handing out several penalties in the first quarter kept the rest of the game comparatively free from roughness. The teams were as follows;

Peterborough (6): Goal, Backus; point, Regan; cover point, Morgan; defence, Dandher, Mean and Smith; center, Munger; home field, McGrath, McLean, MacDonough; outside, Glover; inside, Best.

Newmarket (4); Goal, Hurst; point, Manning; cover point, Graves; defence, Webb, Reeves and Anderson; center, Vandusen; home field, Campbell, Doonan, Dunnmore; outside, Northgate; inside, Skebbing.

Not A Friend Of Morgan's

London, July 14.—J. Pierpont Morgan appeared in the West London police court as a witness in the case of Mrs. Josephine Leslie, who was arrested at Newmarket on July 4 charged with defrauding members of well-known families by false pretences and who represented herself to be a friend of Mr. Morgan.

The latter repudiated all knowledge of Mrs. Leslie. He said he did not write to her advising her to join one of his syndicates and never invited Mrs. Leslie, as alleged, to dine at his son's house. As a matter of fact, Mr. Morgan said, he was in New York at the time of the alleged invitation.

Mr. Morgan was sure that his firm had no customer of that name and he said it was improbable that any of his business friends would speak of investments returning 12 per cent., which Mrs. Leslie said was to be the interested on money invested in the alleged Morgan syndicate.

After the plaintiff, Miss Annie Bryant, had testified briefly that she was induced to give Mrs. Leslie $42-500 on the strength of letters purporting to have been written by Mr. Morgan, promising huge returns, the case was adjourned.

Indian With a Gun Objected to Change

Watrous, July 14.—With a gun pointing at Indian Agent McKenzie's tent at Subaskahing an Indian named Nee Shap Keejick threatened to shoot any Indians who accepted treaty money, and also the agent if he paid any of them.

This was the outcome of the decision of the Indian department to pay the different tribes in the district on their own camping ground instead of asking them to meet in one big camp at Subaskahings as in former years. In the interests of the Indians this was felt to be the better method, as in former years when they congregated together at Subaskoshing they frittered away their money.

The new method, however, has not appealed to a few agitators among them, who liked the big gathering, with its pomp and show, and the visitation of large numbers of whites.

Agent McKenzie, accompanied by Dr. Hinmon, government medical representative, and interpreters have visited several camps making payments during the past couple of weeks, and though grumbling was heard the Indians did not make any demonstrations.

However, when Subaskahing Reserve was reached they were not long left in doubt that something would be done. As soon as the tent was erected Nee Shap Keejick took his position before the entrance and informed McKenzie that if he paid any of the Indians he would shoot him and also the Indian who received the money.

As a result, no payments were made and the agent and his assistants returned to town, and on Tuesday Constables Sherman and Woods went out and arrested the Indian. He was looking down the muzzle of a couple of guns before he realized the situation, and was brought to town. In the absence of an interpreter the case was adjourned.

In former years the Subaskahing treaty grounds were the scene of the greatest gathering of Indians in New Ontario.

INQUEST OPENED AT MILLBROOK

Dr. J. W. Gray, Coroner, Considers Death of Col. Sohults At Cavanville is Very Suspicious

In an undertaking establishment in the village of Millbrook Dr. J. W. Gray, Sherbrooke street, the local coroner, opened up and presided over a coroner's inquest to investigate the cause of the death of O.C. Schultz, of Hargrave's circus, who seemingly was killed by falling off a car about midnight just to this side of Cavanville. It seems that the fireman of an early train Friday morning happened to see the body lying beside the track and on arrival at Cavanville had four section men sent back with a hand car, to find and bring back the body. These men passed the body several times, within a few feet before discovering it. The body had rolled down the embankment and had lodged in a depression, so that it was partly concealed by the rushes growing in that locality. It was resting on hands and knees, only the rear portion of the hips being visible. The man's neck and shoulder were broken and his head badly smashed. He was dead only an hour or so.

When at 8.30 a.m., coroner had had formally opened the court, the jury were selected and sworn in as follows;

JURORS.

Thos. Hunter.
R. J. Fiddle.
J. Hunter.
L. Hutchinson.
R. Downy.
S. Tomobburn.
Asf. Brown.
W. J. Tinney.
N. McGill.

W. Williamson.
Jas. Harper.
John McNeil, foreman.

Doctor Turner was instructed to hold a post mortem on the body, assisted by Dr. Montgomery.

Mr. W. Campbell, assistant manager of Hargrave's Circus, the first witness, said his circus is touring through Canada At showed at Orangeville on Saturday. They showed Friday at Lindsay and at Haverlock Thursday. They wind up their Canadian business in three weeks. They have five sleeping cars, of which some had state rooms. He was in the second to last car. There was a trailer for train crew and detectives. Deceased was in No. 2 car with his wife. It had state rooms but they did not occupy one, simply a berth. His opinion how deceased met his life. Schultz's wife missed him at about one o'clock. Deceased was an important man with the show. His absence would be quite complete act for the show. Whilst talking the matter over with Mrs. Schultz it was decided better for her not to come to the inquest. He then gave the names of the other occupants of Schultz's car.

The inquest was adjourned at noon to be resumed today at 1 p.m., when the medical testimony and post mortem results will be given. The C.P.R. train crew will also be examined this afternoon. Should the evidence on the latter not be fully satisfactory, a car load of the circus people of all grades will later on be brought here, probably from Brampton.

Pay Flying Visit To Their Old Haunts

Kingston, July 13.—A conspicuous figure in the Orange parade here yesterday afternoon was Joseph Hawkey, the wrestler, whom the Johnson police vainly sought at the time of the Frontenac assize bar-tot box trial over four years ago. Hawkey being implicated in that affair.

Not many recognized the wrestler in the procession. He came over with the Orange contingent from Watertown, N.Y., where he has resided since the brawles of 1904. Surrounded by his Orange brethren, there might have been a tilt had any of the Percy Sherwoods men been on hand to attempt an arrest.

Another person who paid a flying visit to Kingston and this old home at Harrowsmith recently, was William J. Shibley, the Liberal candidate for Frontenac in the Dominion election of 1904, and who was at the head of the bogus ballot box scheme. Shibley is still a fugitive from justice. He is living near Auburn, N.Y.

Swindled by a Fake Diamond

Rochester, N.Y., July 14. — George Eilenbeck, a Syracuse traveling man, was separated from a diamond stud and a diamond ring, each worth about $75, and $27 in cash, while coming to this city last night on a New York Central train from Buffalo.

In return for his diamonds and cash, which were real, Eilenbeck got a paste diamond worth about 50 cents. A man who gave his name as Wilson, and his residence as Auburn, was the sharper, and the police of Buffalo and Rochester are looking for him.

"Wilson" sat in front of Eilenbeck on the train, and after they had passed Utica the told Eilenbeck that he had just lost his position as an engineer on the Central, and that he was coming to Rochester to grow the stud so his short front, worth, she said, about $250. "Wilson" said he wanted to go to Butte, Mont., where he could get a good job. He finally offered to let Eilenbeck take his diamond if he would advance him $27. Eilenbeck wished to be fair to the "engineer," and offered to give him his two diamonds and $27 for the stud. "Wilson" took the gems and the cash and they left the train in this city.

Eilenbeck went to Canandaigua and there exhibited his large "diamond stud" to a jeweler friend, who told him that he had been swindled. He hurried back to this city and lodged a complaint with Chief of Police Hayder.

Swims Hours With Woman and Baby

Vancouver, July 13. — For nine hours last night, Chief Charlie James of Squamish Indians swam shoreward in the Gulf of Georgia, burdened by the weight of his daughter and her babe.

From three o'clock in the afternoon until midnight he held them, one on either arm, but by the time he had reached shore at Point Grey, just west of Vancouver, both the young woman and her child had succumbed.

The big Indian's endurance is probably one of the most marvelous tales of the kind on record.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon, six Indians, of whom three men, named were three, were upset from a canoe. Seas were running high and the boat was swamped. The young Indian woman was thrown away from the boat with her child in her arms. The others clung to the craft.

Chief Charlie swam to the assistance of his daughter and grandchild, but was never able to regain the canoe. He struck out for the for the shore with his burden, and all the time he swam had no support of any kind. He is a powerful man for years old.

Special Wrappers For Newspapers

Ottawa, July 15.—The Post Office Department on Thursday commenced issuing to postmasters special newspaper wrappers for the exclusive use of publishers when prepaying postage on second class matter addressed to the United States. These wrappers, which are considerably larger than the ordinary postband, are printed in the denominations of one, two and three cents, and have the following restrictive clause: "This wrapper to be used only by publishers and for the sole purpose of mailing second class matter to the United States."

Three Banks Hit by Lindsay Counterfeiters

Montreal, July 14.—It is said that the Bank of Montreal, the Dominion Bank and the Traders' Bank have all in turn been victimized by the bad money quite recently. In 1905 the bad notes first began to appear. They were Dominion Bank bills of the $5 denomination. A number of the counterfeits were circulated. Then the police began making enquiries, and the production of the bad money was stopped. After a time, when the scare had passed, the mill started up again, this time sending out Dominion Bank bills.

Registration Act Still Troublesome

Kingston, Ont., July 15.—The citizens of America, either by birth or naturalization, living here have been given a surprise during the past few weeks. The new U.S. law requiring all citizens of the United States living in foreign countries to register their names in the offices of the U.S. consuls has caused a number of former residents of the States to visit Consul Vanzant's office for the purpose. But on questioning them the consul found that nearly all of them had forfeited their American citizenship and could not be registered. Most of them admitted having voted in municipal, provincial or Federal elections, and in so doing they either violated the laws of Canada or were enjoying the rights and privileges of British subjects.

Caught the Mayor Made Him Tell

San Francisco, July 14.—Mayor Charles Boxton, as a witness in the trial of Louis Glass, charged with bribing supervisors to procure a telephone monopoly, has told in court the story of his entrapment that fall at the home of Mr. Ryan, who bought for $500 Boxton's supervisorial vote against an ordinance prohibiting child patronage of skating rinks. Only to turn Boxton over to the law.

Major Boxton told how Rudolph Spreckels, Assistant Prosecutor Heney, District Attorney Langdon, Detective Burns and "a dozen others" walked in on him during the "deal" and offered to let him go free if he would "turn on" his confederates and accomplices inside and outside of the board of supervisors.

He agreed and a written guarantee of immunity was drawn up, signed and placed in Spreckel's pocket.

Pale Faced Girls

Thousands Using Successful Cure For Paleness and Anaemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be applied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself:

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed.

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young women to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 15, 1907.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

While native-born Canadians can hardly be expected to be in sympathy with the principle involved in the maintenance of a class of hereditary legislators, the proposal of the British Premier to curtail the powers of the House of Lords by providing that the House of Commons may pass a measure over the heads of the Lords, if it sees fit to do so provided the Lords are likely to remain obdurate in their opposition to it during the whole of a parliamentary term, will not be regarded in the Dominion universally as desirable.

The suggested change is not in accord with the development of the British Constitution under which the two houses of parliament have grown up. Were it if a law is passed to give effect to the Premier's proposal, it will be one of a very small number of instances where legislation has been resorted to for the purpose of defining the powers of either branch of British Parliament. It is quite possible that if such a law shall find a place upon the statute book, it would occupy much the same position as the right of the sovereign to refuse the royal assent to bills regularly passed, which as has been said, exists upon the understanding that it shall never be exercised, and it has never been exercised in point of fact since the reign of Queen Anne. The mere fact that the Commons might override a decision of the Lords might, and doubtless would, have considerable influence with the latter body. It would certainly compel the Lords to justify by argument their hostility to any measure to which they might be opposed. At the same time, speaking only for itself, the Colonist thinks that a better purpose would be served by making the House of Lords more of a representative body and permitting it enjoy the same legislative powers as it now possesses. The proposed change would make the Lords responsible to the Commons, instead of the people, when constitutionally expressed through the ballot, and we may be pardoned if we doubt whether the Cabinet, whose advice in such matters the House of Commons may usually be expected to follow, if any better judge of public opinion than the gentlemen, who make up the House of Lords.

We recognize the anomalous nature of such a body as the House of Lords. If we were beginning a nation anew it never would occur to any of us that we ought to have men appointed to make laws for us and that their sons, or in default of sons, their nephews or some other relatives should exercise that power ad infinitum. Such an arrangement would be thought ridiculous. But the House of Lords is not the creation of anybody. It is a growth. Before the Council of St. Albans which was held in 1213, there was no representative body in England, but there was a parliament, although not called by that name, composed of the clergy and nobility, together with certain other people named by the king. King John first recognized the principle of representation and the Council of St. Albans was the first occasion upon which anything corresponding to the House of Commons assembled in England. The barons and the clergy from time immemorial formed a body, which was able to make and depose kings, and whose assents to new laws had, at least, theoretically, to be obtained. The House of Lords today is the direct descendant of the Witenagemot of Saxon days. It has proved itself the guardian of English liberty on many occasions. So great has been its prestige that even to this day it is under the Constitution the final court of appeal on all questions affecting the rights of the subject. Under these circumstances there need be no surprise if even many people, who hold extremely democratic views, may refuse to accept the doctrine that there is greater safety for the country in the judgment of the few men, who are for the time being the leaders of the House of Commons, than in the matured judgment of the large body of individuals who on the whole appreciate the responsibility of their exalted station and have great interests, which are in many respects identical with those of the great majority of the people.

The civil servants at Ottawa are asking for an increase in salary on the ground that the growing prosperity of the country has increased the cost of living to such an extent that the prosperity of the Dominion has brought poverty rather than good times to them. They are, therefore, asking for more money. The employees on the Welland Canal are in the same position. Although the cost of living has vastly increased, there has been no increase to the men's pay since the opening of the canal, a quarter of a century ago. The canal men's request therefore, for an increase in wages seems only reasonable, and it is hoped that their demands will be considered at the same time as the request of the Ottawa applicants.

Children Saved By Fire Drill

1200 Tots Marched out While Flames Raged in Building

New York, July 13.—Twelve hundred children marched out of their dormitories in the Hebrew Orphan Asylum yesterday just as if they were on dress parade, although fire engine gongs clanged out in the street and the flames threatened one of the buildings of the big institution. The finest discipline prevailed and no one was injured or even badly frightened.

The youngest of the children were marshalled first and led down the wide flights of stairs to the parade ground to the strains of music, while the elder boys served as monitors and saw that there was no crowding and that military discipline was preserved.

Soldiers Acted Like Brutes

Brussels, July 13.—Major Lemair, who served eighteen years in the Congo and who resigned when he was notified that he would be prosecuted for cruelty toward the native soldiery, has refuted by publishing a sensational exposure of the revolting conditions prevailing in the native army. He declares the soldiers are merely brigands, who raid the population, assault the women, and burn villages.

The major adds that when he attempted to protect the natives by inflicting severe punishments on the troops, his disciplinary measures were overruled by his superiors. He insists that the real object of the Congo administration in preferring the charges was to get rid of him.

A LINER'S PERIL.

New York, July 13.—Carrying more than a thousand passengers, the Knon Prinz Wilhelm, one of the splendid liners of the North German Lloyd fleet, last Monday night rammed a gigantic iceberg and was saved from destruction only by instant action on the part of her commander.

In the terrific grinding which came when the steamship's bow smashed into the berg an overhanging mass of hundreds of tons barely missed crashing through the locks even as the screws were churning at full speed astern, in obedience to the quick command from the bridge. When the impact was found to be impossible to avoid.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 13.—The police between Algoma Mills and the "Soo" were yesterday searching the woods for Giovanni Bottino, an Italian, who Wednesday night shot an Italian woman at the former place, inflicting a serious wound from which it is said she will die. The shooting occurred at 9.30, and Bottino immediately took to the woods. He has not yet been captured but it is expected that he will attempt to cross the river near the "Soo," and the police on both sides of the river are on the lookout for him.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of

Great Times at The Gospel Hall

At the meeting in the Gospel Hall Thursday night Mr. Turner of Virgain, spoke on the first four chapters of Revelation. The address was most instructive. Mr. Turner intended to continue the study last night. He was assisted by Mr. Fleming May of Burleroft. Both preachers will be at the hall all day Sunday.

Tug Bob Hall Is Kept Very Busy

The Dominion Government tug Bob Hall, went on Wednesday afternoon from Gamebridge to near Newmarket with scows and equipments for the engineers for that section of the Trent canal. She returned Thursday night to Kirkfield lift lock and left there yesterday with a scow and diver's outfit for Buckhorn lock. She arrived in Lakefield late last night.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

NOTICE! MONEY IN COAL

71-2 Cents Per Share.

This Company controls 17,000 acres of coal lands in the famous Nicola Valley, British Columbia. They have several seams of coal aggregating some 30 feet in thickness, and it therefore becomes only a matter of development to make these lands worth millions.

There is no investment more solid, safe and profitable than represented by shares in a coal company.

Buy these shares at the present low price. We will sell in 100 to 1,000 share blocks and will have the certificate recorded in any name free of charge, providing payment for the shares accompanies the order, or we will attach the certificate to a draft and forward as you may instruct.

Write us for information.

B. B. MIGHTON & CO.

Mining and Investment Brokers.

Drawer 1082, NELSON, B. C.

ARE YOU READY

To take advantage of the best offer ever made in a Nevada Mine ?

Read the following Facts:

This company owns 5 claims (100 acres) carrying rich deposits of gold, silver, copper and lead. Recent assays show values as follows:—

Number	Gold.	Silver.	Per Cent. Copper.	Per Cent. Lead.	Total.
1266	$8.26	1.20	6.46	——	$ 45.26
1268	10.13	——	——	——	10.13
1268	17.98	87.97	——	36.25	178.95
1276	6.20	.65	4.10	——	27.95
1271	2.06	trace	49.66	——	261.91
1272	4.13	trace	10.65	——	57.93
1274	3.09	trace	30.15	——	153.34

There has been over $5,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated, and to make preparations for this the company has ordered me to sell 100,000 shares of the treasury stock at 15c. per share, and last week I sold 12,500 shares so at this writing there is only 7,500 shares left at this price, and when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 25c per share.

The property is at Goldyke, Nev., owned by the Goldyke Consolidated Mining Co., and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $300 ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore, and as the stock is being rapidly subscribed your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order at once for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 15c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all money received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 40 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the rich values of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 15c per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from 50c to 75c per share, so I consider the investor is lucky to get some of this stock at the present price, 15c.

COURT CARDS AND CUPID.

By COLIN S. COLLINS.

Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

"Jack o' Spades," Culbert called him that first morning he had gone to work in the Buckley building. Protests to the effect that his name was John Symonds were of no avail. His name was Jack, and he was as black as the ace of spades, so the name clung.

At first he was angry, but one could not remain angry long with Kingsland Culbert, and in the end Jack wound up by paying him a hero worship that at times threatened to cost the man his position; for with Culbert in the elevator it ran express to the next to the top floor, no matter what the other passengers might threaten.

But Jack had gained the position through having saved Buckley's little girl from a runaway accident, and he merely smiled tolerantly at the complaints and suggested that perhaps the elevator had become unmanageable.

Until Edith McQueen came, Culbert had reigned alone, but after that he was relegated to second place, the only instance wherein, according to Ben Hodgman, the queen outranked both king and jack in the pack.

Miss McQueen was employed by Hodgman & Pettit, whose office was on the third floor, and it was Culbert's habit to drop off at their offices on his way out to lunch and pick up the girl. He had obtained the position for her, and it was understood that they were engaged, though no golden band announced that fact.

Then there came the day when Jack noticed that Miss McQueen had been crying when she came in. Culbert did not arrive until late and his face was drawn and very white. He did not even smile when he nodded to Jack. When he went out to lunch, he stayed twice as long as usual, and when he did return it seemed to Jack that he had had more than the one cocktail he usually allowed himself.

Miss McQueen did not go out to lunch at all, and when her employers had ridden down to lunch together, Jack slipped into the office to ask if he could bring her in something. There he found her with her head upon her arms. Her eyes glistened with tears as she raised her face at the sound of his entrance.

"Don't you want a cup o' tea, Miss Queenie?" he pleaded. "It's sho' good for the headache."

She shook her head with a wan little smile and Jack slipped out again. That night the car passed Culbert's floor twice before it stopped for him. A king had been deposed.

But he was reinstated again because of his evident suffering. After that first day he did not repeat the cocktail episode; indeed, he seemed oblivious to lunch time and never by any chance used the elevator when Miss McQueen might happen to be going out or in.

Jack pondered the situation, but there was only one conclusion possible in his limited experience. There had been a quarrel and both were too proud to speak first.

It grieved him because they were good friends of his, these two, and their quarrel hurt him as much as it seemed to hurt them. More than once he was tempted to speak to one or the other and tell how the other suffered, but a certain delicacy held him back, and he could only miserably wait the turn of events.

Then came Jack's scare. It was a dull afternoon, and he let the elevator drop slowly down. At the ground floor he threw open the door to look up at a huge policeman; not Charlie, who had the beat and who sometimes came in to get warm, but another man, a stranger.

Though he had never had direct dealings with the police, Jack was afraid of them. To him they were not guardians of the peace. They were men who arrested people. When the big man demanded to know which office Miss McQueen was in, refreshing his memory as to the name from a formidable looking document, Jack's heart sank.

"I want to see her about a stolen watch," he added, and Jack's misery was complete. The little chatelaine she had worn had been replaced lately by a more elaborate affair of gold with a long chain. It must be this one that was wanted.

There was only one thing to be done. Hadn't Mr. Culbert got the janitor out of jail that time he had trouble with his wife? Jack ran the car up to the sixth floor and with a vague "To the left" shut the door and dropped down to the third.

He burst in upon Miss McQueen with a face gray with horror and excitement. She rose uncertainly at his call and came into the hall.

He fairly dragged her into the car and shot up to the top floor. Through the lattice guard he could see the officer descending the stairs. Some one had told him where the girl worked, and he was going after her.

Panting with fear, he stopped at the seventh floor and pushed Miss McQueen into Culbert's office, closing and locking the door after him. Culbert looked up wearily from the desk.

"What's the matter, Jack?" he demanded, with a formal bow to the girl.

"Dar's a policeman after her," he explained. "She done stole a watch, and he's after her."

"What are you talking about?" Culbert cried. "Miss McQueen a thief. Impossible."

"He done say he want to see her about a watch that was stole," insisted Jack. "Ah done hear him."

"A policeman wishes to see me?" asked the girl. "About a watch?" Jack nodded. "I think I can explain," she went on, turning to Culbert. "When—when it happened I stopped wearing your watch and used mother's. I left yours on the bureau, and when I came home it was gone. I made a complaint to the police, and I suppose they have caught the thief and wish me to identify my property."

"But what have I to do with it?" he asked.

"I don't know," she replied. "Jack just came after me, his face livid with fear. I supposed that something terrible had happened, that perhaps"—

"I was in trouble," Culbert suggested, supplying the break. "I have been tempted to, but it seemed cowardly to kill myself. What I cannot understand is Jack's chain of reasoning."

"Ain't lawyers for to keep people frum goin' to jail?" the boy demanded. "And ain't you the best lawyer?"

"You cannot expect me to answer 'no' to that," laughed Culbert.

"Dat's it," explained Jack. "I brung her up here to save her."

The two threw back their heads and laughed, and in that laugh the misunderstandings were forgotten. Culbert tucked her under his arm in the old familiar way and unlocked the door.

"I guess I'll go down with you and see the officer," he said. "It looks important to have your attorney."

He threw open the door, and Jack slipped out. There was a soft but significant sound that brought a grin to Jack's face, and then the two followed him into the car.

The big policeman grinned at Jack in most friendly fashion when the interview concluded, and he stepped into the car. On the up trip Culbert slipped a bill into his hand.

"There's a piece of wedding cake goes with this," he said, "but that comes a little later. This is a time, my boy, when the Jack of Spades captured the Queen of Hearts and the King of Idiots."

"Yessir," assented Jack, wondering what it all meant. He knew about the wedding cakes and ten dollar bills. The rest was Greek, but satisfactory because his king and queen were pleased.

His Wedding Fee.

A New England clergyman tells of a wedding fee which lasted ten times as long as any other he ever received and which, he believes, has never been duplicated. The wedding was that of a thrifty widow to an elderly bachelor, who was sadly in need of just the care and the feeding he would receive at the widow's hands. The wedding was a lively one, and as the clergyman was about to depart the bride stepped up to him and whispered:

"I sent Henry over with your fee half an hour ago. He wasn't in a position to give you one, but I told him he could lug it over and that would show his good will. I hope you'll like it. You always have."

When the minister reached his house, he was greeted by his wife, whom the six-weeks-old baby had kept at home that evening.

"The bridegroom brought over your fee awhile ago," she said in a voice shaking with laughter. "I had him put it out in the kitchen."

"That's a pretty place for a wedding fee!" cried the minister as he hurried out to the kitchen, followed by his wife.

There he found his fee—two dozen glass jars bearing neat labels which set forth the nature of their contents—six of "currant jell," six of "spiced currants," six of "grape jam" and six of sweet pickle."

"We laughed over that fee more than any other," said the minister, "but we also had more solid enjoyment out of it than out of any other I've ever received."—Youth's Companion.

He Was Not Theobald.

The gray haired nobleman sat in solitary state before the fire in his ancestral hall. As he meditated upon the past and upon the glory of his ancestors the clock struck the hour of midnight.

The sound brought him to his feet and these words from his mouth:

"It is now exactly twenty years since my only son was sent by me from under my roof tree. Oh, Theobald, Theobald, perhaps I was too hard on you! Won't you come back to me now?"

Just then he heard a footstep in the passage. Hastily opening the door, he discovered a man in the act of leaving the castle.

"Oh, don't you know me?" asked the stranger. "I'm Theobald."

The earl looked at him critically.

"Then why are your pockets full of spoons?" he asked. "And why are you wearing the cake basket as a chest protector?"

Thus was the pretended prodigal discovered, and there was no fatted calf for him. They don't supply veal in jail.—London Tit-Bits.

A Poser.

A professor in philosophy was lecturing upon "identity" and had just argued that parts of a whole might be subtracted and other matter substituted, yet the whole would remain the same, instancing the fact that, although every part of our bodies is changed in seven years, we remain the same individuals.

"Then," said a student, "if I had a knife and lost the blade and had a new blade put in it, it would still be the identical knife?"

"Certainly," was the reply.

"Then if I should lose the handle from the new blade and have another handle made to fit it the knife would still be the same?"

"That is so," said the professor.

"Then, in that case," triumphantly rejoined the student, "if I should find the old blade and the old handle and have the original parts put together, what knife would that be?"

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

HOW TO TEST YOUR KIDNEYS.

If any of your family have been troubled with kidney disease make a test of the urine and satisfy yourself whether you need a good remedy before the disease has caused serious complications.

Tomorrow morning put some urine in a glass or bottle and let it stand for twenty-four hours.

If it shows particles or germs floating about, is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish sediment, then your kidneys are diseased.

Commence at once to take Ferrozone to arrest these unnatural conditions.

Ferrozone is especially intended for the immediate relief and cure of kidney and bladder troubles and its health-giving properties will be felt at once in new blood, healthy circulation, and general strengthening of the system.

Ferrozone quickly corrects urinal disorders, headache, and pain in the back. It improves the appetite, digests the food, makes it nourish the nerves, makes them strong and enduring, and fits one for lots of hard work.

Don't be misled by cheap, so-called kidney cures offered by dealers for the sake of extra profits. There is only one safe and reliable specific for Kidney, Bladder, Liver and urinal troubles, and its name is Ferrozone.

Refuse point blank to accept a substitute, and insist on your druggist supplying "Ferrozone;" price 50c. per box at all dealers.

Mr. Curtis has a Bad Fall

On Saturday afternoon as Mr. Albert Curtis, a son of Mr. William Curtis, was working on a scaffolding on Edinburgh street, he had the misfortune to fall off to the ground a distance of some 20 feet. He unfortunately alighted on a stick of timber and had his back seriously hurt.

Miss Thompson Making Good Run

Miss Birdie Thompson of this city now stands in third place, in the No. 8 District in the World's London, England free trip. She had on Saturday night polled 253,505 votes and was about 30,000 ahead of the next competitor, Mrs. Munn of Alliston. There seems to be no doubt but what this Peterborough girl will enjoy a free trip to London.

Rev. Bruce's Good Move

Yesterday evening Rev. A. H. Bruce, pastor of the Park street Baptist church inaugurated his new policy of only preaching sermons limited to 20 minutes duration, during the summer months. This is a step in the right direction as it takes a very eloquent preacher to hold the undivided interest of a congregation for long whilst ladies are surreptitiously using handkerchiefs and puff on their faces and men are feeling rivulets of perspiration running down their backs.

Fish Inspector is Busy

That Mr. John Watt, fishery inspector of the waters between Lakefield and the local lakes in the qui vive for law breakers was acknowledged by at least four fines imposed last week. These fines were levied for the taking of undersized fish. The maximum fine for this offence is $5. It might be stated that returning a fish less than 24 inches in length and bass less than 10 inches is illegal. The inspector finds many anglers who, even when the camera fiend grins, throw back undersized fish. He believes that there is no reason why he should do it and another not, and states that intends enforcing the law in all cases that come under his observation.

Terribly Sudden Death

Miss Isabella Rose Expires Early on Sunday Morning

Miss Isabella Rose who has resided with her brother Mr. Alexander Rose, at the corner of Downey and Hunter streets, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. The deceased had been known to have suffered from heart trouble for some time past, so that her terribly sudden carrying off is undoubtedly due to this disease. Her death was come as a great shock to the large circle of her friends and acquaintances, among whom she was very highly esteemed.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at one o'clock from the late residence of the deceased. Interment will take place in the Lakefield cemetery.

Caught Lunge in Canal

On Saturday morning Mr. Samuel Edwards who resides on the other side of the canal bridge on the Warsaw Road, went out for a row and before six o'clock had landed a 13 lb. lunge in the canal above the bridge, which measured 38 1-2 inches.

Lunge Caught by Worm

Heretofore Unheard Of Catch in the Angling Line

Whilst fishing for minnows at the mill a few days ago Mr. E. P. Young noticed a commotion under the lock gate near by. Putting on a bass hook he baited with a worm and cast his line in deeper water. A big tug at the bait, then a fast line, and he had a five-pound muskinonge hooked, and landed him safely in his launch. He was a remarkable catch as lunge rarely run into the lock and no one ever heard of one biting at an angle worm before.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels, (as mucous diarrhea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those peculiar weaknesses, ulcerations and irregularities incident to womankind. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nervine. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulas of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Lakefield Party Beaten by Flies

Lakefield News says: Dr. W. A. Baker returned home on Friday last, after spending six weeks in the James Bay District. The doctor was on a trip over the Lurder Lake and Lake Abitibi gold fields, and at one time was 225 miles north of Cobalt. The party was forced to return owing to the black flies and mosquitoes. Dr. Baker brought home with him numerous samples of ore rich in gold.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

COL. SCHOLTZ DEATH BEING INVESTIGATED

Coroner Gray of This City Holds Further Enquiry As to How Circus Professor Was Killed

At yesterday afternoon's resumption of Dr. W. J. Gray, the county coroner's inquest, held at Millbrook on the death of Col. Scholtz, killed off Hangrauve's Circus train near Cavanville Friday night, the first witness called was Dr. Turner of Millbrook. This talented and experienced silver-medalist of Trinity University, said that the body then at Elliot's undertaking rooms, Millbrook, was that of a man 5ft. 7in. and about 60 years of age. No special marks of identification were found. The marks of traumatic sign of violence were a puncture of the scalp which did not enter the skull; lacerated wound 2 3-4 in. near the ear; punctured wound behind the margin of the ear, one-half inch in length. This was considerable infiltration about these wounds, which had sand in them; A contusion above right eyebrow 1 1-2 inches long. Contused and lacerated wound 3-4 inch long in the nose to the bone; contused wounds on left cheek; The skull and tissues about the eye were blackened as was the eyeball; Traces of hemmorraghe from ears, nose and mouth; abrasion on back and over left hip; also on knees and shins; little finger of right hand broken. On dissection, back of scalp were found hemmorhage beneath and above temporal muscle; A fraction of skull visible from ear canal on right side; besides other head injuries found internally the surface of the brain was covered with blood; many clots; on removing brain many clots found beneath. Actual brain substance not injured. There was a fraction of the skull from the canal of ear almost straight across, about one sixteenth of an inch wide. No splinters of skull found. Blood vessels of brain torn. Spinal bones not displaced but hemmorhage found lungs were discolored. Head normal but cardiac cavity filled with blood clots. Ribs on right side badly fractured, they being 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th. The collar bone was fractured. On opening abdomen the intestines were found discolored. The liver was normal. Stomach partly filled with food, but walls decomposed. Kidneys were congested.

John McGill, C.P.R. conductor on the circus train said that as the circus train from Havelock arrived near Peterborough semaphore, he heard a man yelling to stop. He went back and found a middle-aged man with his foot caught in the strips of a culvert. The man was under liquor. He helped man release his foot and walked him to. This was at 10.35 p.m. Man said he had been shoved off circus train. Secret service man took him in charge. The man said that in the morning he could point out the party who shoved him off the train. There were four secret service men on rear caboose. Did not see any of the circus men drinking. Nothing happened at Indian River. Heard no trouble on the platform or carousing. On arrival at Lindsay saw the man caught in cattle guard at Peterborough. Did not stop between Peterborough and Munroes. No report of missing man made at Lindsay. Had not seen body of deceased. Did not go through the circus cars nor heard any disturbance on them.

Mr. Campbell, assistant manager of the circus, recalled, said there were 18 men and women on car deceased rode on. Never saw deceased drunk. He was married and 65 years old. Deceased was with Forepaugh for many years. Was married for many years and never quarrelled with his wife. They have children in New York city. Did not think deceased would commit suicide. Deceased and wife slept together that night in berth. No night watchman on the car. Has identified body as that of Col. Scholtz. His opinion is that Sholtz went to rear of car for relief and fell off. Has no reason to think of foul play. Had some conversation with Mrs. Sholtz at 12 o'clock. She slept with deceased that night, he being next car window.

The next witness was a C.P.R. brakeman on circus train. He did not see anything unusual that night. Another brakeman on the same train gave similar evidence.

The inquest was then adjourned until tomorrow at one p.m.

MORE ARRESTS MADE AT LINDSAY

Counterfeiters are Being Picked Up

One Maker Of The Queer Arrested at Lindsay and Another one Scooped At Port Hope On Above Charge

A Lindsay despatch received yesterday says that George Miller, of that town, a highly respected young man, press room superintendent and a shareholder in the Watchman-Warder, has been arrested in connection with the alleged Lindsay forgery cases. The information against him is vague and covers the widest possible kind of alleged offence, and extends back some years. It appears that the authorities claim that the present issue of forged money is a follower of the bad money of the Montreal and Dominion banks a couple of years ago, and that the same parties are implicated.

Mr. Miller was at Pleasant Point on his holidays when taken in charge Friday night by Constable Thornbury. He was brought before County Magistrate Moore and remanded until Thursday next. A strong effort is being made to secure bail for him.

The evidence against Mr. Miller is not known to the public, but his life has been an exemplary one. He is very popular in town, a well-known local baseball player, being in charge of the Oriental Baseball team, and generally esteemed. Great sympathy is felt for his wife, said for his own people in the trouble that has come upon them.

Port Hope, July 14.—Jack Goslin, well-known in Port Hope, was arrested here yesterday morning by Chief Bond on a warrant issued in Lindsay, charged with passing counterfeit notes. He is believed to be concerned in the Lindsay gang of counterfeiters. The chief of the Lindsay police force took him to Lindsay during the afternoon. Goslin is a former resident of Lindsay.

CHEESE MAKING ON SUNDAY

An Absolute Necessity That Work Be Continued

REPORT TO THE PREMIER

Factories Must Be Reconstructed Or Equipped With Better Facilities

Toronto, July 16.—Messrs C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; George A. Putnam, Director Dairy Instruction, and G. G. Publow, Chief Instructor, Eastern Ontario, have prepared a report for Premier Whitney on the question of Sunday work in connection with the manufacture of cheese. They say in part;

"In Western Ontario, out of 218 factories, 68 are manufacturing cheese on Saturday night; in Eastern Ontario less than one-quarter of the one thousand factories are taking milk on Saturday night and manufacturing it into cheese. In the majority of cases where milk is taken in on Saturday night, it is found impossible to properly complete the work before twelve o'clock. The work is, therefore continued for a period of from one to four or five hours in the beginning of the Sunday. It will be seen that, in the future, to handle the milk at present made up on Saturday night and Sunday, either the factory must be reconstructed on equipped with better facilities, or the patrons must put in additional appliances at home; and provide ice supplies.

"If the law against doing any work in cheese factories during any of the hours of Sunday were strictly enforced at once, there would, of necessity, be a very large waste of milk on the farm in addition to the increasing of the Sunday work on the part of the producer to a very large extent.

"Having considered the question from all standpoints and obtained opinions from many persons interested in the question, we beg to recommend that, for the present year, permission be granted to continue the Saturday night work in cheese factories until not later than 6 a.m. Sunday morning. In this connection we might state that, in the great majority of cases, the work can easily be completed by 2 a.m., but in some cases beyond the control of the maker, it may be found impossible to make up the cheese at so early a time."

"Further, we would suggest that early notification be given to the dairymen of the Province (owners of cheese factories, makers and patrons), that it will be necessary next year to fully comply with the requirements of the Sunday Observance Law, and that they should now make arrangements whereby either the patrons of factories shall now begin to make provision to keep the milk at home under proper conditions or utilize it at home, or that the factories shall make such provision as may be necessary to enable them to handle the milk on Monday morning."

FOOLISH GIRL IN THE POLICE COURT

East Ward Girl Gets A Severe Reprimand

A Wholesome Warning Both To Easy Going Mothers and Their Daughters as to Late Hours on Streets

A special session of the police court was held before Magistrate Dumble yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, when a well dressed, and respectable appearing girl of apparently seventeen to eighteen years of age, who lives on Rogers street, east ward, was charged by the local police force, as represented by Chief Ruzzel, with vagrancy. This girl it seems was seen by P. C. Meharry, to be out at 12 o'clock Sunday night on Aylmer street near Zion church, with two young men. The policeman of course stopped to make investigations as to this seemingly unauthorized presence at such an hour of a girl, with these men. As soon as P. C. Meharry drew near the two men fled, as gallant knights, of old or late, would not have done leaving the girl to face the music. The girl died into the Zion church yard and tried to hide in a shed.

This fully confirmed the vigilant officer's suspicions and he followed her up. On taxing her, Meharry asked who she was and what she was doing with the men at that hour. She began at once to evidently prevaricate. She said she lived at 257 Woodbine avenue, that her name was Flannery and that she lived at a certain street number in Ashburnham, P. C. Meharry, who has a wide acquaintance with the many streets of the city recognized that she lied, and whilst at first intending, under ordinary circumstances, to simply compel her to go home passed the girl under arrest.

In his evidence at yesterday afternoon's court Meharry, gave the notes practically as predescribed, adding however several items not for publication and that might also hinder the girl in her hoped for promises of better conduct in future.

Whilst all due pity is due to this poor young creature's case and the whole evidence could not be given here, the trial, could it be detailed, would be a vivid warning to too many easy going mothers of girls and poor foolish young girls who allow themselves to be out late at night on the streets with or without men. The magistrate told her she could go this time but if she ever appeared in the court again she would be sent to the Mercer Institute, Toronto, for several years. The girl's father who was present and seemed to keenly feel the position his daughter was in, and himself in consequence, said that when the girl was a child she used to play about with a boy named Flannery. This he seemed to think might have suggested the name the girl gave to P. C. Meharry. She, however had had nothing to do with Flannery of late as far as the knew.

WILL BURKE AND LOGIE TURN KING'S EVIDENCE?

It Is Said That They Have Confessed to the Counterfeiting and Have Implicated Others

Lindsay, July 16.—Charles Burke, the alleged counterfeiter, was remanded for a week yesterday morning in the police court. Burke did not appear, Chief of Police Vincent merely coming before the magistrate and asking for the remand. The prisoners Winn and Boyeau are expected to be brought from Sault Ste. Marie today, and Eveleigh, it is expected, will arrive from Montreal on Thursday.

HAVE THEY CONFESSED.

That Charlie Burke and Robert Logie have confessed and will plead guilty to the charges which have been laid against them, that it was on the information obtained from them that George Millar and Jack Goslin were arrested; and that other sensational arrests of prominent citizens, are likely to follow, are the outstanding features of the counterfeiters' case here, according to rumor of an authentic nature. That these are not far from the facts of the case was admitted by one of the officials yesterday morning.

It is understood that the confessions point to Miller in a case of two years ago. At that time Millar, it is said, went to Belleville ostensibly for the purpose of purchasing a small printing press with which to start a job printing business here with his brother.

It was alleged that while he was there he passed several counterfeit bills, but when the merchants who had been victimized were confronted with a picture of Millar, they failed to identify him. Owing to insufficient evidence the case was dropped.

Now, however, Burke and Logie are claimed to have stated that Millar not only assisted them with their presses, but at one time sent them a package of copying ink from Toronto. It is also said that Jack Goslin was an accomplice of Millar's at that time.

SYMPATHY FOR MILLAR.

Great sympathy is felt here for young Millar.

"If bail had been grounded," said a prominent citizen, "fifty thousand dollars could have been raised easily."

Millar was one of the owners of the Watchman-Warder, in company with other prominent business men. His father is a retired farmer and was one time reeve of Emily township in Victoria county.

A remarkable feature of the case is the fact that of the several men who have been arrested, six have never been known to drink liquor, and none of them, it is said, have any pronounced bad habits.

Priests Being Assembled

Elections in Rome Excite Enemies Of the Church

Rome, July 16.—The results of the municipal elections in Rome are profoundly significant and may prove to be the beginning of a new departure in Italian politics. The eelctions have been a triumph for the popular Liberal party. The victory has been described as one against the domination of the priests, a sequel to the glorious day when the Italian troops in 1870. Rome at last, they boast, is Italian. The anti-clericals have won the Capitol and all Italy should rejoice.

After the election crowds of boys paraded the streets preceded by red flags, shouting "Death to the Pope and the kingdom of the priests." Poor, aged ecclesiastics who happened to be in their way were mobbed and beaten. Twelve students of the College of the Propaganda Fide, all foreigners, were attacked, kicked and spat upon. Italian priests cannot get any redress, but the case of the foreign students has been taken up by the diplomatic body, and will very likely have an issue.

The government remained passive while the elctions were taking place, not entirely passive, because every press telegram describing the excesses of the Liberals has been carefully suppressed. Now it is showing a tendency to ecome anticlerical. The Bishop of Narni in fact has been indicted for lese majeste, an unprecedented and unjustifiable act, which is unlikely to have an issue, but is significant of the altered times and has given great pleasure to the Socialists.

Naval Base at Esquimalt

Victoria, B.C., July 14.—Rumors circulating from London are gaining currency here to the effect that the British admiralty intends re-establishing Esquimalt as a naval base. The contemplated action is said to be a consequence upon the decision of the United States in ordering the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific coast. A further reason adduced is the immense distance of the British China squadron from the Pacific shores of Canada, as illustrated recently by the cruiser Monmouth, which could only carry enough coal to proceed to these waters at half speed.

A draft of 50 blue jackets has arrived to augment the crews of the sloops Shearwater and Egeria, and other detachments are expected.

Weds His Stenographer

Chicago, July 15.—The girl did her work well.

When her employer asked to take her out for an auto ride she said "No."

When rich men flattered her and envious acquaintances said things that are so hard for a girl to hear and endure, she said nothing, but kept on working at her typewriter.

And today she is mistress of a $25,000 home in Oak Park, with servants to do her bidding and a husband who adores her.

This is the romance of pretty Frances Anderson, a stenographer, who, after a remarkable courtship of three years, has become the bride of the man who employed her—Frank H. Heidler, wealthy president of the Fink-Heidler Lumber Company, in the heart of the west side lumber district.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Fishing in Great Lakes

Present Season Promises One of the Largest Catches

Cleveland, Ohio, July 16.—For the past decade there has been a gradual falling off in the quality of fish in the Great Lakes. This year, however, the nets of the fishing companies all along the chain of lakes, have almost invariably been overrunning with fish when lifted. The present season promises one of the largest catches of fish recorded in many years. The usual output of the lakes for several years past has been close to 150,000,000 pounds annually, of which Lake Erie produced over half. During the spring sixty per cent of catch is blue pike, while perch, herring and whitefish make up the remainder. In the summer season eighty per cent of the catch is herring, with blue pike, perch and whitefish composing the remaining twenty per cent. The success of the fishermen, who fish every day during the season, contradicts the supposition that the lakes supply of fish is giving out. The increase in the catch this year is doubtless due to protection of fish given by the various State laws, prohibiting fishing during the winter season, and to the law regulating the size of the mesh of the nets. The Government spends thousands of dollars each year in propagating fish in the Great Lakes, which supply about half the fish consumed in the United states. Although the supply was greater this spring, yet the price practically was unchanged owing, the dealers say, to the high price of meat, which caused a greater demand for fish.

SUBMARINE WORK NOW MADE SAFE

Invention of English Naval Officer—Ingenious Oxygen Generator Enables Men to Rise to Top

London, July 16.—Two officers of the British navy, Commander Hall and Staff Surgeon Rees, have invented an apparatus which, it is claimed, will remove the present danger to crews working submarine boats. If it is designed to enable the men to escape from a vessel even if it is filled with water or poisonous gases.

Experiments carried out by the admiralty at Portsmouth have proved, it is stated, that the apparatus will fulfill what is claimed for it. It is likely to be adopted soon by the British fleet.

The invention resembles a diving helmet with a jacket attached. It contains an ingenious oxygen generator, the chief feature of which is that the oxygen may be breathed and rebreathed repeatedly several hours because the carbonic acid of the respired air is absorbed by a special substance called oxylithe. The apparatus also has the qualities of a life buoy, and the wearer, when under water, can, by a simple manipulation, rise to the surface rapidly and float until rescued. The apparatus can be hung handily within the submarine boat and can be donned in thirty seconds.

Even in the most poisonous fumes of chlorine gas which the sea water generates when it comes in contact with the batteries of submarine boats, the wearer can live for an hour and twenty minutes. Commander Hall says that he does not want to keep the patent secret, and there is no reason why foreign governments should not use the apparatus.

Are Animals In Heaven?

Berkeley, Cal., July 16.—"I should be greatly surprised if dogs, horses and in fact all the higher animals did not have souls," said John McTaggart Ellis McTaggart, fellow and lecturer in moral science at Trinity College, Cambridge, Eng., in an interview today.

Dr. McTaggart arrived in Berkeley last night to give a course in philosophy at the University Summer School and he is now comfortably located at the Faculty Club after a hurried trip from England. "I am a strong believer in the immortality of the soul," continued Dr. McTaggart, in answer to a question, "and I firmly believe in the theories that have been advanced by Professor George Howison of your own university. He is of the opinion that dogs have intelligence and that all intelligence has everlasting life. We have often corresponded on the subject.

"It is hard to say just where the line is drawn between members of the animal kingdom that have souls annd those that have none, but it is certain that the higher members of the animal kingdom are immortal."

One of Dr. McTaggart's books, "Some Dogmas of Religion," has been thoroughly discussed before the Philosophical Union of the University, and the English scholar has been invited to give an address on the theories contained in his work before the Philosophical Union on August 31.

This Couple Tramped It

Detroit, July 11.— Mary Campau, aged 17, of Belle River, Ont., while visiting relatives on the Canadian side of the river here, crossed to Detroit last Sunday. On Belle Isle bridge she engaged in a flirtation with William Berney, aged 19. It was love at sight and they decided to get married as soon as Windsor could reach Flint, Mich., where he had a job in view.

They walked the 70 miles and on reaching Flint they were arrested as vagrants. Berney was sent to jail for five days, the girl is held for examination.

Can Flog Horses If no Blood Drawn

Montreal, July 14.—Montreal was indignant yesterday over the decision rendered in the recorder's court Friday afternoon by Recorder Dupuis, in which he allowed two men, proven to have beaten a team of horses until huge welts appeared on their backs, to escape any kind of punishment. Recorder Dupuis astonished the officers present in the court by allowing hoodmen their freedom on the ground that the horses had not been unduly flogged, as blood had not been drawn. He remarked that when a man was sentenced to be flogged, the stipulation was "until blood is drawn," and that similarly when it was necessary to flog horses the operation could be continued until blood is drawn.

Grimsby Men In the City Mayhem By Capitalist

Messrs. C. T. Farrel and W.F.Randall en Route to Ottawa

Yesterday afternoon a well-known capitalist of the east ward and another citizen had a "come-to." To settle their dispute it was decided to adjourn to the box stall of a stable situated to the rear of a Dunster street hote. Here the door of the stall was closed. A wordy dispute followed, which quickly led to blows. Blows led to a closer mixup when the capitalist, it is alleged caught the other fellow's finger between his teeth and got busy with the canines. The other fellow was then downed and put out of business so far as further resumption of the fight was concerned.

It is altogether probable that police investigations will pend on almost assured arrests.

Telephone Bill Signed

Generally Desired Removal of Local Bell Co. Poles Now Assured

For many months The Times has made a strong and persistent fight towards agreement by the City Council of the practically philanthropic and locally patriotic suggestion made by the Bell Telephone Company, that they, the latter company be allowed to remove their forest of ugly poles now standing in our most crowded streets, by placing their wires underground.

The Times, as noted, has fought consistently for passage of this agreement which was drafted by the company's local manager and solicitor, and the mayor and city solicitor, and accepted by the company, then engaged by the City Council, and sent to the head office of the company, was yesterday received by the local solicitor, Mr. F. D. Kerr, signed and completed so far as the Bell people are concerned. Mr. Kerr sent the agreement to the civic authorities, to be signed and sealed with the corporation's seal.

This means in the fewest words that the present unsightly, but under existing conditions absolutely essential, decoration (?) of our streets by wire laden cross-arms and wires will disappear as though the underground gnomes and fairies had considered the city's troubles and our firemen's danger whilst attending fires in central parts of the city will be lessened by many per cent. It is to be hoped that the City Council will bear the good of their constituents in mind and "stand not on the order of their going," as to signing the agreement.

$1 Apiece for 385 Kisses

Trevorton, Pa., July 14.—When Mrs. Andrew Lucasko was led from church into the home of her husband yesterday, one of the wedding guests proposed that each man kiss the bride, and give $1 apiece.

The bride and husband agreed to the proposition, and soon the young woman was overwhelmed with kisses.

She eventually had $385 on a plate, very man in the company contributing, and several more than once. None asked for credit.

Ottawa, July 16.—Mr. T. Nosse, Japanese consul-general, has received word that Admiral Baron Yamamoto left Boston yesterday evening, arriving in Montreal on Tuesday morning. As he has only six days in which to make connection with his steamer on the Pacific coast, it is probable that he will proceed westward at once.

London, July 16.—A despatch from Odessa says that seven persons have been killed and many injured in an explosion in a secret bomb factory in that place.

Local Moneyed Man and Another Citizen Scrap in Box Stall

Yesterday two of the leading citizens of Grimsby, Ont., were in the city en route to the capital. They were Mr. C. T. Farrell, P.M. of Union Lodge A.F. & A.M., who carries on a large boot and shoe establishment in that renowned fruit distributing point, and Mr. W. F. Randall, who is well known to most of our local fruit dealers as one of the largest fruit handlers in the Grimsby district.

Mr. C. T. Farrell was the guest of Chief of Police G. d. Ruzzel, he being a relative of Mrs. Ruzzel. These prominent members of the order which seems to take interest in those who "travel to the East," are on their way to Ottawa to be attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M., which meets there this week.

Mr. Randall is a member of the Grimsby fruit firm of Randall & Fulcombridge, whose firm labels are often seen here, especially during fruit season.

A Sad Funeral Cortege

Poor Little Jack Lefebre is Laid to Rest From Life's Cares

Yesterday morning a sad and solemn cortege followed the last mortal remains of poor little Jack Lefebre, from his parents' residence 672 George street to the Roman Catholic cemetery, stopping en route for the ceremonies in St. Peter's Cathedral.

It will be remembered from a former issue of The Times, that the little poor little 12-year-old boy was hiking at Auburn dam, Thursday morning, with his friend H. Brown, during the momentary absence of the latter the boy fell in and was drowned. The body was found floating in the Otonabee about ten o'clock Sunday morning. All day Saturday and Saturday evening a diligent search was continued, but no trace found until about ten o'clock Sunday morning by two little boys from Ashburnham, who were walking over the dam. The little boy's body was floating and had been stopped by the dam across the river, just above the Quaker Oats Co. dam.

Newmarket Bad Losers

Tolagoo Team Try Turpitude To Discry Defeat

In reference to last Saturday's lacrosse game played here and given in detail in yesterday's Times it seems that the little town of Newmarket who buy their silver and theatre there and their carpets and furniture in Hogtown, have sent the following account of their defeat to the Toronto papers;

The Tolagoo Lacrosse Club have earned a reputation in past seasons for being good losers, taking defeat when it fell to their lot, without any kicking. Today, however, indignation is not a strong enough term to express the feelings of the Newmarket people. The treatment received at Peterborough yesterday, was the most brutal in the experience of lacrosse here, and Newmarket is one of the oldest lacrosse centers in Ontario. With two exceptions, the whole team are battered from their knees to their heads. There are three seriously injured, one with a broken jaw, one with a broken cheek bone, and Dunsmore with a gash in the scalp requiring four stitches, and no penalty inflicted on the player who did it. It is time for the C.L.A. to act. Weatherone's work as referee is said to have been very bad."

Those who saw the game know how much falsehood there is in the above untrue, exaggerated and ridiculous statements to get failure forgotten.

Pickpockets Get No Bail

Alleged Dips Elect to be Tried by Judge Miller Who Will Try Them on July 29th

Yesterday afternoon at five o'clock his Honor Judge Weller held a special session of court to enable the alleged pickpockets, arrested here on circus day, June 25 to elect as to whether they preferred to be tried by him at his earliest convenience or held over until the fall assizes next November. Mr. Kerr appeared for Phelps and Goldstein, and Mr. O'Connell for Bradfield and Lewis. Bradford's mother and his wife are still in the city and present at yesterday's trial.

Mr. O'Connell, after his honor had set Monday, July 29th for trial, for both counsel for the prisoners, pleading for trial by him, made a strong appeal for bail for Bradford, one of his clients. This was peremptorily refused by Judge Weller, thus effectually shutting out all use of similar plea for bail for the other prisoners.

At the same session the Englishman Eckes, defended by Mr. Kerr was also acquitted by Judge Weller that he would be tried July 29th. It will be remembered by our readers that Eckes was given a preliminary hearing a few days ago and committed by Magistrate Dumble on a charge of having committed an indecent assault on Minnie Brown, a young English married woman living on Water street. The assault is alleged to have been committed by prisoner whilst the young woman's husband was drilling at Central Park with the 57th Regiment.

Impure Blood

Clogs the Kidneys
Slows the Heart
Flags the Brain.

Weakens Every Part of the Body
Causes Organic Diseases.

Just as strength is the natural outcome of pure blood, so is debility and sickness the result of impure blood.

To know how quickly, how surely Ferrozone cures, to see how it rebuilds and restores, you have only to read the following letters—read them carefully—see if the symptoms resemble yours.

Miss Evelyn M. Gaetz, of Kingston, writes: "I have had an attack of blood disorder which broke out in horrid looking pimples. They were ugly, red, disfiguring blotches that ruined the appearance of my face. I tried all sorts of medicine, but the pimples didn't leave. I was recommended Ferrozone and gave it a trial. I noticed an improvement after the second box, and kept up the treatment which finally cleared my skin. As the result of Ferrozone I have a clear healthy complexion and can recommend it to all other young women similarly affected."

Another young lady well known in society circles of Springfield, who derived exceptional benefit from Ferrozone, says: "I felt it my duty to make known the value of Ferrozone. My trouble was poor, weak blood, and as a consequence my lips were pallid, and my cheeks had no color. I wasn't at all strong, and required a bracing tonic. Ferrozone soon brought color to my cheeks, improved my appetite and made me stronger than I have been in years. I favor Ferrozone because it is so simple to take and works so quickly."

No blood remedy exists that has the power to cure, to heal, to restore like Ferrozone; try it, 50c per box at any drugstore.

THE TIDE IS CANADAWARD

The New York Herald's Omaha correspondent wires it that during the first half of April 428 persons from Nebraska and Iowa moved across the border and became citizens of Canada. They carried seventy-nine carloads of household furniture and their combined property was worth $324,865. The movement Canadaward is so great that the United States census bureau reports that the middle western states have not gained in population in five years, despite the thousands of new settlers who have arrived from the east. According to this census the outgoing settlers just about balanced the incoming ones—and the principal destination of the outgoing settlers was western Canada.

The New York Herald's informant points out that the men going into Canada, into Nebraska and Iowa are not those who have made failures and are moving along, hoping for something to "turn up." On the other hand they are "the best farmers in the country." They have means and are good farmers and are the very sort that will thrive in Canada. Uncle Sam's loss is Canada's gain. For long the United States drew off thousands of our people, but the tide is turned in our direction now.

JAPANESE LOSSES IN THE WAR

One of the charges brought against the Japanese by the correspondents serving in the field by the Japanese armies during the late war with Russia was that the commanders of the Mikado's forces never allowed a correct list of the men lost by land and sea to go forth. Until recently outside nations have not known what was the loss to the island empire in terms of men slain in the land and naval engagements of the war, and now the true figures come out through a peculiar circumstance.

On May 1st there was celebrated at the Yasukuni shrine in Tokio the third and last great ceremony in honor of the souls of the dead patriots of the war. Because the Emperor had decided that no man's soul shall be slighted because of politic paring down of the list of casualties the ceremony which took place on May 1st was all inclusive. It took in those to whom further honors were done, those that died of their wounds after the termination of the war and, by imperative order of the Emperor, those non-combatants who lost their lives in the discharge of their duties in both branches of the service.

A total of the souls worshipped at the three ceremonies gives the complete toll of the war as far as the Japanese war and naval officers have been able to verify the records. It is as follows; Souls worshipped, first ceremonial 28,-686, second ceremonial 29,877, third ceremonial 34,431, total 84,848.

This worship in honor of the souls of the dead soldiers and sailors in Japan partakes somewhat of the nature of Memorial Day save that the religious element in the ceremonies is stronger. Shinto and Buddhist priests both conduct services of an impressive character, and usually high officers of the army and navy stand forth in turn before the multitude of worshippers and read eulogistic addresses to the spirits of the dead heroes, addressing them as if they were present and participators in the rites. At the last services Admiral Togo and the Emperor himself conducted one of the services, and the Empress and Prince Imperial lent the dignity of the imperial presence to the second.

No complete list of the casualties suffered by the Russians has ever been published. One authority has it that the Russian dead and wounded during the war amounted to 388,560, but of this number he does not specify how many were killed.

Britain Faces Trouble With the Yellow Races

London, July 14.—The weekly reviews comment gravely upon the Japanese-American situation. They express relief that the immediate tension appears to have been relieved, but they foresee that it is not impossible, in the more or less distant future, that the same problem should confront Great Britain that now confronts the United States.

The Spectator publishes a thought full article in which, although it minimises the idea that war between Japan and America is wholly incredible, it admits with reluctance that the situation contains many elements of anxiety, saying it is unlucky inevitable that there should come a conflict, some time or other, out of the Anglo-Saxon resistance to the flooding of Japanese immigrants in the territories bordering the Pacific ocean. The colonists of Australasia, Africa and Canada are as anxious as the people of California to exclude the yellow races.

With all respect towards Japan, the Spectator is unable to withhold its sympathy from the colonists. It says circumstances have forced the Americans to be the pioneers in working out the problems, but it is impossible to foresee how soon another series of accidents may not bring Great Britain face to face with similar difficulties.

Consequently the paper expresses the most earnest hope that the British public and press will do their utmost in their power to assist in the promotion of a peaceful and enduring solution of the American-Japanese problem, the government by the tactful influence of an ally, and the press by the avoidance of any comment that might prove to be an embarrassing precedent in the future.

"With all sympathy and admiration for Japanese aspirations and the Japanese themselves we must admit," the Review concludes, "that Great Britain's first and last duty is to her own flesh and blood."

Two Little Robbers Show Rare Resources

Easton, Pa.—Annie Liphart, aged 10 years, and her brother Johnnie, eight years old, children of Frank Liphart, of Phillipsburg, N.J., ran away from home last Sunday, and, after five days of adventure, returned home and confessed to the police, who were upsetting them concerning several thefts. The children went to Hokendaqua and visited an uncle. After he had learned that they had run away he gave them 83 cents to return home. They arrived in Easton on Tuesday, walked about the city all day and at night slept in the open doorway of a building.

Their needs during the day were supplied from a $5 bill which they stole from their uncle's house. He did not discover the theft until they had departed.

Wednesday the children in passing the home of Robert Foose, of the south side, removed a folding screen from a back window and entered the house, where they stole a watch. The robbery was reported to the police. The children went back to Hokendaqua after the robbery and remained there until today, when they came home.

Here they waited one of the south side cemeteries, stole flowers, made them into bouquets and went from house to house selling them, and took any further opportunities to steal. At another place they took a $2 bill.

Dynamite in Strike.

Johannesburg, July 14.—The dynamite outrages arising from the strike situation throughout the mining regions continue.

The first fatalities occurred yesterday, when Kilfoil's hotel, at Boksburg, was blown up. Three men were killed and several were injured.

An attempt also was made to damage the Jumpers Deep mine.

A native was caught in the act of placing a stick of dynamite at a point where its explosion would cut off a number of white miners in the underground workings.

The strikers will appeal to Premier Botha to form the strike commission to arbitrate the differences between them and the men.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Sharp's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. (Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always, and the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling organic nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Sharp's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." 1,200 Japs on the Way to Canada

Honolulu, July 14.—The steamer Kumerick with 1,200 Japanese passengers is ready to sail for Vancouver. The charterer, M. Oriyama, has deposited $25 for each passenger with the ship's agents to comply with the Canadian immigration law, which requires that every Japanese immigrant must possess $25.

A number of Japanese who paid fare cannot be accommodated on the Kumeric and these threaten to garnishee the fund. Oriyama has been refused a passport to Seattle by the consul here.

There has been over $5,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated. And to make preparations for this the company has ordered me to sell 100,000 shares of the treasury stock at 15c per share, and last week I sold 12,500 shares so at this writing there is only 7,500 shares left at this price, and when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 25c per share.

The property is at Goldyke, Nev., owned by the Goldyke Consolidated Mining Co., and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $800 ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore, and as the stock is being rapidly subscribed your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order at once for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 15c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all money received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 40 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the rich values of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 15c per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from 50c to 75c per share, so I consider the investor is lucky to get some of this stock at the present price, 15c.

MILTON'S MOTHERS.

By W. F. BRYAN.

Copyright, 1907, by E. C. Parcells.

Bess gazed through the open window, out past the school yard with its well beaten earth, trampled hard and smooth by the play of generations of children, through the orchards, now pink and white with the promises of fruition, down to where the river wound its silvery length between green banks and tiny islands.

It would be hard to give it all up, and yet before her on the desk was the formal communication from the school board of Milton township notifying her that her services would not be required during the ensuing term.

The note was cold and formal, but for weeks past she had known of the battle being waged against her. The only objection was her age, but every mother with a marriagable daughter or son had urged this objection upon the school board. Milton township was not overwell stocked with young men, and this girl from the city, with her self possessed ways, her stylish clothes and her bright face, constituted a menace to the mothers.

For once they united in a common cause and urged Bess' removal. The dimple in her chin, the soft color of her cheeks, the laughing brown eyes, the rippling hair and the delicious curves of her throat each constituted an objection that found common expression in the cry that she was too young to manage the young men who formed the upper class in the winter term.

"There's Jed Stroughton," urged Mandy Mills. "Why, he's two years older'n she be. And him trottin' over to her house every evenin' t' git help with his Latin! What does the boy want of Latin anyhow? Of course it was the teacher he wanted. When I was a girl and taught school, you c'n remember I used to whale the boys good. They never had a chance to flirt with th' teacher then."

Si Judson, chairman of the board, told himself that that was in part responsible for her continuation in a single state of blessedness, but Mandy was the sister of the editor of the Banner, and Si wanted to be town clerk at the next election.

So each of the other members had been approached, and the result was the letter that lay on the desk in front of the girl. Had she been re-engaged she might have spent the summer in Milton. Now she must go back to the hot city and haunt the teachers' agencies until something else offered for the coming year.

Slowly she rose to her feet and went to the door. At the threshold she paused a moment and looked around. Her eyes filled as her glance swept the empty benches and the ghastly white walls with the faded maps. She had been happy hre in Milton. She was looking at her schoolroom for the last time.

She slipped across the road to Judson's house and delivered the keys into the keeping of the grim faced Mrs. Judson.

"I should like to say goodby to Mr. Judson," she faltered. "He has been very kind to me this winter."

"I sent him over to the Center," his mother said stiffly. "Si ain't got no call to be gaddin' about with young girls. 'Tain't decent."

She closed the door with a nice shade of emphasis that just avoided a positive slam, and Bess turned away toward the river. She loved the river. It was both companion and comforter, and as she reached the bank she sank into a little nook formed by a screen of bushes, and the tears that had been sternly repressed all day flowed unchecked.

When she had first come she had looked forward to the long summer days which she would spend by the river. Then she had been full of enthusiasm, and there was no question in her mind as to her continuance in the position. Now, just as the river seemed at its best, she was going back to the city. She recalled with a shudder her struggles of the year before. Her father had died just after she had graduated from college. When the small estate was settled it was found that he had lived up to every penny of his income. There was just enough left to pay his outstanding debts and leave a couple of hundred dollars for the girl. The half of this had gone for board while she sought a position. The rest, together with her small savings, must go this year. She had commenced the drudgery of life. She could meet it bravely, but it tore her heart to leave the river and the country that she loved so well.

She should see the river in town, she knew, a broad, silent stream, covered with shipping and discolored by the tides and refuse. It would be a gray ghost of her old friend, a tantalizing reminder of the river she had lost. She was still sobbing when a sharp staccato bark resounded and a small terrier bounded into view.

Bess rubbed her eyes confusedly. The dog was fawning upon her in a very paroxysm of joy. Surely it would not be Tony, and yet—on the glistening collar plate she read the name "I am James Harvey's Tony. Tell him he's lost me." Tony was a ghost from her other life, and she threw her arms about his wiry little neck and buried her head upon his shoulder.

James Harvey, coming softly up to see what game the dog had tracked passed a moment to contemplate the picture. Another instant he had sprung forward.

"Where did you drop from, Bess?" he demanded. "I have been searching the four corners of the globe for you."

"I have been right here," she said steadily as she offered a cool, soft hand. "I had to do something, so I decided to put to use my only talent. I am—or, rather, have been—the teacher of district 4."

"And the terror of every mother with a son or daughter of marriageable age," he completed, with a laugh. "I have been hearing about you, but 'the teacher' never like Miss—"

"They are all wrong," she cried bitterly. "I did not want their sons, nor to disappoint their daughters. I just wanted to be left alone to earn my living, and they would not do it."

"I understand," he said gently. "I studied in old school 4 myself when I was a shaver. This is my home town, you know."

"You came from Milton?" she asked. "Somehow I thought you had been born in the city."

"I am a traitorous son," he laughed. "This is my first visit here since I left for college. I have bought up the Milton pulp mill and am going to settle down here for the summer. I suppose you realize that you are a trespasser on my land this very minute?"

"It won't be for long," she smiled adly. "I am leaving for town in the morning to find a school for next year."

"Why not stay here?" he urged. "Bess, you must know that I love you, dear. I felt I ought to wait until you left Bryn Mawr before I spoke, but I thought you understood."

Scarlet flooded her face. She had thought she understood, but when the crash came Harvey had given no sign.

"I was in Europe when your father died," he went on. "I was on a pedestrian excursion, and word did not reach me until well toward the end of summer. Then I hurried home, and you had left no trace. May I say now what was in my heart then? Will you marry me, dear?"

She restrained her impulse to yield. "It is not because you are sorry that I have lost the position?" she demanded.

"It's not a question of sympathy," he said. "It is love—love that was born long ago."

"Do you know," she said pensively, "I was trying to realize what it would mean to go back to the city and leave the river behind? I have grown very fond of the river, Jim."

He took her in his arms with a happy laugh. He was familiar with her oddity of expression and knew that, while she spoke of the river, there was a deeper reason.

"Now let the alarmed mothers set their minds at rest," he said as he settled himself with his arm about her. "A most dangerous person has been made harmless by Dan Cupid. I think I am a public benefactor to Milton."

"You are more than that to me," she whispered contentedly as, with her head against his shoulder, she looked out across the silvery blue water and realised that through it she had found peace and the man she loved.

Nutmeg For Neuralgia.

The superstitious man thrust two fingers down his collar and brought forth a string which was tied around his neck. Attached to the string was a little round dark ball.

"A nutmeg," he explained. "I wear it for neuralgia. Never heard of that cure for neuralgia? Best ever. I found it out from an old negress in South Carolina. I was suffering a thousand deaths from neuralgia. The old woman went to my wife and said:

"'Why don't you get a nutmeg and put it around his neck?'

"My wife laughed, but came and told me about it. I was suffering so terribly I was willing to try anything, so the old woman got a nutmeg, strung a little blue ribbon through it and gave it to me. I put it around my neck, and in a little while the neuralgia was gone. I left the nutmeg around my neck for a long while, thinking perhaps that particular one given me by the negress had some special virtue. Then the ribbon split and I lost it.

"This happened years ago in the south. Last week I got neuralgia again, worse than before, if that could be. I nearly went wild until my wife said, 'Why don't you try another nutmeg?'

"And I did. With the same result. It wasn't an hour before the pain was gone.

"I can't explain it. I have asked doctors, and they say they can't explain it, but they say also that because they can't explain it is no reason they should disbelieve in its efficacy."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

She Shut the Door.

The ardent Frenchman looked tenderly at the fair young mistress of his soul. "Je t'adore!" he murmured.

"Maybe I'd better," she returned. "You can't never tell who's listening in this yere house."

You can keep the sun off you with an umbrella, but you can't make a living by holding it in one hand and working with the other.

Care of the Bathroom.

The care of the bathroom is simplified wonderfully if each person leaves it as clean as it was found. In one house where there is a single maid to do all the work the bathroom shelf holds a small bottle of kerosene oil and a soft linen cloth, and the merest rub leaves the tub immaculate, the smell of the oil being quite gone after opening the window for a moment.

A Drawer For Scraps.

Every woman knows the value of a scrap bag to hold bits of silks, ribbons, lace and other "leftovers" from dressmaking, which may be useful for patching or for some other purpose.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it others feel, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Canoe Sailors Nearly Drowned

Messrs. Silcox of Rochester, and Cooper of Toronto, had a close call from sudden departure to the great mystery of unknown realms, a few days ago. Whilst sailing in a canoe near Viamede, Stony Lake. They upset near Otter Lake and were rescued from death with difficulty. People who go out sailing (we mean with a sail hoisted) in a canoe, except after long teaching and practical knowledge are, as a rule sure customers for an undertaker and mighty poor policies for an insurance company.

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Rev. J. C. Davidson leaves this morning to inspect the parishes of Campbellford, Warkworth and Hastings.

—At yesterday's session of the Police Court a local citizen was assessed $5 and costs for having been drunk and disorderly.

—The excursion rate on the Foresters' excursion from Peterborough to Niagara Falls has been reduced 20 cents on the return trip.

—The excavation for the Bell Telephone Co.'s new office building has been completed and the foundations were started yesterday morning.

—There was no meeting of the City Council last night, and it is not likely that any of the committees will meet this week, unless the Board of Works has something to do.

—Mr. W. Churchill Livingston, of Toronto, has been appointed police magistrate of Brantford, succeeding P. M. Woodyatt of that city, dismissed yesterday "in the public interest."

—The Minden Echo says: Some of the small boys of the village chased a skunk across the bridge, and were trying to kill it by the riverside in front of Mr. Fleming's a few evenings ago. Oh! Oh!

—According to charter the Scarlet Chapter opened at four o'clock Sunday at the Orange hall, Simcoe street. After the usual formalities the worshipful companion in charge adjourned the meeting to meet tonight.

—A very large crowd took the Quaker Oats special train yesterday morning at the G.T.R. station for Jackson Point, near Orillia, where the annual picnic was held. There were between 500 and 600 people on board.

—The senior teachers' examinations which have been in progress at the Collegiate Institute for some days, were concluded yesterday morning. The examinations for matriculation scholarships will conclude on Wednesday.

—The meeting of the Mark street League was in charge of the Literary Committee Monday evening. The subject was "Our Pledge," and was read by Miss Howson. Special music were rendered by Mrs. J. Smith and the president, Miss B. Orowe.

—The chief of police has received a communication in which the names of Henry McClung and David Rutledge, of Peterborough, are mentioned. If these gentlemen will call at the police station they will learn of something to their interest.

—Next Friday, July 19th, will be visitors' day at the Y.M.C.A. camp at Clear Lake and all parents and friends are invited to come and spend the day with the boys. The Millbrook Sunday school's are running an excursion that day up the lakes, and arrangements may be made with them for special rates.

Irwin-Breckenridge

A quietly solemnized wedding was performed last Wednesday evening at the residence of Rev. Mr. Keith, pastor of Knox church, when the latter gentleman united in the holy bonds of matrimony Mr. Geo C. Irwin of 198 Charlotte street, and Miss May Breckenridge of this city. Owing to the illness of Mr. Irwin's mother the wedding was celebrated very quietly. The happy couple have settled down at 198 Charlotte street. George's many friends have congratulated him on joining the great army of benedicts.

Dr. Gray Recovers His Horse

On Friday night a valuable and valued horse belong to Dr. J. W. Gray, which was stabled at the Driving Park, under charge of Mr. Wm. the well known trainer of Millbrook, escaped from the grounds and was seemingly lost. Last night the doctor received a telephone message that the horse had been located at the farm of Mr. H. Hayes at Mount Pleasant, into whose premises the horse had strayed and where it was well looked after, whilst Mr. Hayes tried to find to owner. The horse will be sent in by Mr. Hayes today.

Express Companies Will Close Early

It now seems that, in addition to local merchants, many of whom count on the hair's sales to make returns, firms presumably in the capitalistic class are joining the early summer months' closing deal.

The Canadian and Dominion express companies have decided to close their officers at seven o'clock every evening during the months of July and August, except on Saturday evenings, when the companies will keep open until eight o'clock.

No Judgement Yet in Stabler Case

The assault case of Stabler versus Stubbs came up before his Worship County Magistrate Edmison yesterday morning. After hearing considerable evidence judgment was reserved until Saturday.

This is a case where one man was not only called a "liar," but his opponent remarked as far as could be gathered, "You are a liar and your father now in H——, was a liar before you!!!" This is possibly an indiscrete remark to make to the son of a man who was in life a respectable citizen, beloved by all who knew him, and in the ordinary course of human custom and use of muscle driven fists a cause for almost assured trouble.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

ARE WOMEN INVOLVED IN LINDSAY SENSATION

Many Rumors Afloat There---Miller's Arrest Said To Be On Suspicion Only---Question As To Who Will Try The Cases---One Man Wanted Yet

Lindsay, July 17. — Prominent citizens deplore the unenviable notoriety forced on the town by the recent arrests on charges of counterfeiting. From end to end of the fair stretch of farmland, known as Victoria County, the story of the alleged counterfeiters is on everyone's lips. "Disgraceful," a business man remarked concerning the undesirable prominence being given Lindsay. Last evening was band night at Victoria Park. Every group on the park, it would be safe to say, discussed the remarkable developments of the past week. One young man vouched for it that he was afraid to leave the town to go on his holiday for fear of creating suspicion. This merely instances the number of rumors spread and how easily they are formed.

ARE WOMEN IMPLICATED?

A report spread yesterday stated that two or more women were implicated. This has not been confirmed. Other wild rumors are flying.

Regarding the detention of Miller, some say that it is merely on suspicion. His almost irreproachable character previous to his arrest makes it hard for his acquaintances to imagine him guilty. He had rented a cottage for the summer at Pretty Pleasant Point on Sturgeon, and there he lived with his wife and child, coming up on the boat in the morning and going back again after his day's work was done.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION.

Counterfeit bills are scarce around town, but are eagerly sought after as souvenirs. Some of the bills are a trifle shorter than the real bills. It is thought that expert lithographers and photographers might have been implicated.

Four of the prisoners probably will appear before County Police Magistrate Moore, and the others before Town Police Magistrate Jackson. All depends on whether the offence, if any, was in the town or in the county. Burke's house is in the town limits and Logie's just outside. If cases are made out against the prisoners in the preliminary hearing, they will probably be remanded to the fall assizes, commencing on September 15th.

SAULT PRISONERS ARRIVE.

Lindsay, July 17.—Wynn and Bouyea unexpectedly arrived from Sault Ste. Marie yesterday morning on the 11 o'clock train from Toronto. Detectives Parkinson and Rogers accompanied them. There was no scene on the occasion of Logie's homecoming, as contrary reports were thrown out as to their arrival. Both looked dejected as they alighted from the train at the G.T.R. station, and walked to the back in waiting. They were not recognized until they were ready to get in the back, when a flurry of excitement occurred among the few present. They were not handcuffed, but walked quietly beside the detectives. Wynn was dressed in brown corduroy velveteens and wore a slouch hat. He looked a typical farmer with his long black beard. Bouyea had his cap pulled down over his eyes and wore glasses.

They were immediately driven up back streets to the county jail. There are now in the Lindsay jail Burke, Logie, Miller, Goslin, Bouyea, and Wynn. Eveleigh will complete the septette. He will be here shortly. The train was late in arriving, being delayed on the way by an accident to the engine.

PROVES A FAILURE

Many Indiana Cities Have Tried Experiment

A MIGHTY COSTLY PLAN THEY SAY

The Municipal Ownership Question Receives Several Very Nasty Knock-out Jolts

Indianapolis, July 16.—Twelve Indiana cities, reckoned among the most progressive in the state, have been wrestling with municipal ownership for periods ranging from five to ten years, and the cumulative result as finally summarized shows that they may be divided into three classes in respect to causes that have operated to make the experiments obnoxious to many of the taxpayers.

The first of these causes, is incidental to the form of municipal government under which the cities operate, for the plants have been made the prey of the political spoilsman in both parties, and incompetency of management has brought about waste and a generally increased burden of taxation.

The second and most humiliating cause, which, however, has been the exception and not the rule in the government of the cities, is grafting in small things, taking rakeoffs for favors, permitting bills of men who have "pulls" to run indefinitely, placing insurance on parts of the plants that could not possibly burn, selling or giving away bye-products of the plants and not accounting to the cities, and keeping the books in such a bungling and unbusinesslike way, either purposely or through ignorance, as to make it impossible to trace errors to the persons responsible for them.

The third and most discouraging factor is incompetency and a seeming inability to adop the methods in the management of municipal utilities that the prudent man would require in his own business. Frequent changes of employees account for this to a limited extent, but the main reason seems to lie in the fact that the majority of persons employed in such industries secure employment through some man of "influence" with the powers that be, and looks to that source, rather than to a record of efficiency, for permanency on his job.

As a rule, the people have been quick to reform abuses where they have been found to exist, but in the main the reformers have fallen into some other error of mangement when intrusted with power, and it has come to be regardd as an accompanying necessary evil of municipal ownership that some persons must profit personally at the expense of the city. Three cities have recently permanently abandoned the effort to run their plants, two others have leased their municipal utilities for a term of years because unable to raise money for repairs, and throughout the state there is a growing antagonism to such ventures.

The constitution fixes a limit of 2 per cent to the indebtedness of municipal corporations, and beyond this they cannot go. When the rush for municipal plants began nearly all the cities were dangerously near this limit, and some having passed it, purchased plants on the instalment plan and levied taxes to meet the indebtedness as it came due. As a rule these plants were run down and from the first repairs had to be made as at Washington and Peru. Then, again, those economic devices that private capital is always quick to take advantage of were out of reach of these cities because of the scarcity of money, and the service by comparison was poor and the patrons constantly becoming more dissatisfied.

Some of the developments in connection with municipal ownership in Indiana would be very amusing were it not for the serious consequences that flow from them to that already overburdened individual—the taxpayer. For instance, when the new administration was installed at Anderson the discovery was made that the city was carrying $124,000 insurance on the electric light, waterworks and filtration plants. On an immense water tank, made of cement and assumed to be full of water all the time there was an insurance of $26,000. It couldn't have burned if the whole city had turned out with firebrands and thus attempted to destroy it. The city waterworks was insured for $12,000, with all the probabilities of fire against it. There was $68,000 insurance on the electric light plant, though employees were always present and such a loss by no means probable. The new board reduced the insurance and saved $4,000 in premiums. The secret of this heavy insurance lay in the fact that a member of one of the city boards was the agent for the insurance company that was carrying the "risks."

This city is running its own street cleaning department and the manner in which it is doing it has proved an eyeopener to taxpayers. When the authorities concluded that the city could clean the streets more cheaply itself than by letting the work out by contract, equipment was purchased, but when it came to buying the livestock the money on hand had been exhausted. There were demands for the revenues as fast as taxes were paid in and bonds could not be issued as the limit of indebtedness had been reached. Then a deal with local stock dealers was engineered that affords a pleasing illustration of municipal financiering.

Twenty-eight mules were hired for the season from April to November at a cost of $4,865 the city to feed the mules, keep them shod and to be responsible for deaths and disabling accidents. In order to determine the value of the animals they were appraised and three dealers found them to be worth $212 each, or bout $1,500 in excess of the rental the city pays for seven months. The wags are poking fun at the city administration for this example of municipal financering but the taxpayer is looking at it from a more serious standpoint.

Scholarships Awarded to Roland Palmer and Elsie Kirke—Peterboro Pupils Did Well

The results in the Entrance Examinations from the Public and Separate Schools to the Collegiate Institute were announced yesterday. The number writing this year on the entrance was 184, a slight increase over the number who wrote last year and of these 116 were successful, or a little over 63 per cent.

The scholarships this year were won by Roland Palmer, who took 565 marks, and Elsie Kirke, with 553 marks.

To pass candidates must take 40 per cent. of the marks for each subject, and 60 per cent. of the total. Candidates taking 75 per cent. of the total marks are given honor standing. The total marks possible were 650, necessary for honor standing, 485, and to pass, 390.

The names of the successful candidates in order of merit, with the number of marks obtained, are as follows;—

FORMER CITY MAN KILLED

Mr. George Vanzant Dies as Result of Injuries Received in Accident

The many friends of Mrs. George Vanzant, formerly of this city, will be grieved to learn that Mr. Vanzant died on Sunday morning at his home in Toronto, as the result of an accident on Wednesday last. Mr. and Mrs. Vanzant and family lived in Peterborough for some time. Shortly before they left the city Mr. Vanzant got his hand caught in a machine and had several fingers taken off.

On Wednesday the deceased was helping to excavate a cellar. A wagon was backed up to the edge of the hole and one of the men working on the job, allowed it to slide back. Before Mr. Vanzant could get out of the way the hind wheel caught him across the stomach. The unfortunate man was badly injured and suffered severely until early Sunday morning, when he passed away.

He leaves to mourn him a wife, and two daughters, aged 17 years and 12 years. The funeral was held yesterday to the cemetery at Pefferlaw, York county.

Mayor McWilliams Receives Letter From P. O. Department

Mayor McWilliams has received a letter from the assistant deputy postmaster-general at Ottawa, which will impel the council to act at once, towards ensuring Peterborough a free postal delivery. The letter is as follows, and needs no explanation.

"In connection with the proposed extension of the letter carrier delivery system to the City of Peterborough, I beg to enquire whether the streets are labelled at intersecting points, and the houses numbered? Unless this is done, it will not be possible to put the letter carrier delivery into operation, and I would be glad, therefore, to hear from you in regard to the matter at your earliest convenience."

If the City Council wants the street delivery syst em put into force it is up to them to number the houses and name the streets.

SUNDAY IN YUKON HARD TO OBSERVE

Cessation of Work in the Mines Means a Serious Loss of Precious Time---Lord's Day Association Inclined to Tolerate Certain Amount of Labor

Ottawa, July 17.—A practical solution of the Lord's Day situation in the Yukon seems to have been devised. A good deal of consternation was caused in that region by the ruling that the Act applied to it; the season is so short that the mines have only sixty or seventy working days in the year, and the subtraction from work caused by an entire cessation of work on the Sunday is regarded as serious. If, for example, the forcing of steam into a low-lying "pay drift" is discontinued on Sunday, the soil freezes and a good deal of Monday may be lost. These practical difficulties are being considered, along with a great number of complaints, by the Lord's Day Association.

A CUMBROUS PROCESS.

The situation is that the enforcement of the law rests with the attorney-general. The Yukon has no attorney-general but the Attorney-general of Canada—in other words the minister of justice. The probability is that the local executive will await for instructions from the minister of justice, and that, by the time complaints have been duly made, have been recorded, have penetrated from one official hand to another, have met with the requisite consideration at each stage, have travelled several thousand miles to Ottawa, and have come to the attention of the attorney-general of Canada—the season will be pretty well over.

The view which is favored here seems to be that in the Yukon conditions are so special that rules which are suitable elsewhere cannot be rigidly applied; and that, while actual regular prosecution of the week day labors is to be discouraged, many subsidiary tasks such as the continuance of the thawing process and the repair of heating machinery, are not objectionable. While not officially avowed those views probably prevail in practice, and in the enforcement of the law a middle course is to be expected.

Miss Carrie Spencley Now Mrs. E. Slighte

Pretty but Quietly Celebrated Wedding at Residence of Bride's Father

A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon when Rev. J. G. Potter united Miss Carrie Spencley, daughter of Mr. M. H. Spencley and Mr. Ernest Slighte, in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's father and was witnessed by a few invited guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, was, becomingly attired in a cream nun's-veiling princess gown, trimmed with lace, and carried bridal bouquet. Miss Ada Strain was bridesmaid, and wore a white dotted muslin gown, trimmed with lace. Mr. Wilbert Spencley, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Etta Kemp played the wedding march.

After the ceremony a reception was held at which some sixty guests were present. The house was tastily decorated. At five o'clock the wedding party sat down to a sumptuous repast. The happy couple left on the G.T.R. train for Port Hope and Toronto. On their return they will reside at No. 7 John street.

Correspondent Out In Certain Terms

Thinks Mr. McNamara's Offer to the City Should be Accepted

To the Editor of The Times.

Sir,—I saw in the Review of last night that Mr. M. A. McNamara has made a most generous offer to the city of a large block of land, situated about two miles south of our southern boundary to the city. Whilst Mr. McNamara may have a personal reason for offering this gift to the city, there is no use incarperating criticizing such action as possessing selfish reasons. The main point is this—Would the city gain or lose by his offer? Now I am firmly of the opinion that the city would most assuredly be a great gainer by accepting his offer. Any alderman voting against the acceptance or prompt passage of a by-law to accept his terms would be unworthy of the trust of his constituents.

Yours truly,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Successful Brains

How to make Brains and keep them IN REPAIR

Any man or woman, with little throuble and less expense can make an interesting experiment on Brains.

We all naturally desire to be considered "brainy"—"intellectual."

The Brain and nerves are fed or hurt by the food put into the stomach. If that food contains the right elements and digestion and assimilation are perfect, the Brain will act in the sanest, clearest manner.

If improper, indigestible food is taken, eaten with nervous haste and in excessive quantities, the digestive organs cannot convert it entirely into real sustenance and it lies in the stomach too long and decays.

"Decay" means that bacteria begins to work and these living organisms produce toxic or poisonous matter which is quickly absorbed with what little food has been digested, and carried into the blood.

This poisoned blood goes to the Brain as well as elsewhere and the brain with all its connecting nerves, being the most sensative tissues of the body—the seat of thought and execution of the same—is acted upon the same as when alchohol or any other poison is taken, only in different degree.

Dull, sluggish, half asleep, unable to think clearly and promptly—anything but "Brainy"—is the person so fed. In fact it is not feeding but poisoning, and a brain so treated cannot be successful.

A genuine food for the Brain is GRAPE NUTS. "Why," someone asks. Analysis of Grape-Nuts will show Phosphate of Potash as found in wheat and barley of which the food is made.

This Phosphate combines with Albumen and water in the human body and builds the soft gray filling of the nerves and brain cells; then again the food is easy of digestion because it is cooked at the ories in such manner as to transform the starch of the wheat and barley into a form of sugar, to be seen under a strong glass on each granule of Grape-Nuts.

This sugar was not "put on" or poured over, but equdes during the process of cooking and is really the starch turned to sugar and ready to absorbed into blood.

So with Grape-Nuts we have the food with the right things Nature demands for Brain-building and we also have a food easy of digestion.

Make the trial, it's worth while. It's a profound demenstratable truth.

"There's a Reason" for

Grape-Nuts

Fifty Per Cent. Per Annum Dividends

Smelting of Ore is the Safest and Best Investment Known

As is known to most people, who in this age read the daily papers, fortunes are being made constantly by those purchasing stock in mining companies; still there are mines and mines, and those who invest in the wrong mine often lose. Still let mines be good or bad there is always the ore from both to be smelted, whether dividends are paid to the mine owners or not. Ore must be smelted to extract the metal, whether iron, copper, silver, gold, lead or other. From this smelting a good proportion of the net results must be paid to the smelters, who win out whether the mine owners make or lose. It will be hard in these days to find an intelligent reader of newspapers or magazines who is not acquainted with the wonders of Death Valley, California, that hot section where death and wealth have so long walked hand in hand, ad from whose sun-bleached desert tons of the precious metals are monthly being taken. The Death Valley Mining and Smelting Co. own their own mines in Radamache Mining District, Kern Co., California, seven miles from Johannesburg, thirty from Balarat and twenty-five miles from Wingate Pass. The Yellow Aster mine, the richest in the Golden State, is within seven and one half miles of the Death Valley Mining and Smelting Company's property. This Company will not only smelt their own ores but those of surrounding mines. As the next nearest smelter is 250 miles at Needles distant, the saving in freight alone is a guarantee of the business to be done by this Company and the absolutely assured profits and consequent dividends to be paid in the Company's stock. It is confidently anticipated that the stock of the Death Valley Mining and Smelting Co. will pay 50 per cent annual dividends. For stock and particulars, call on W. K. Hall, Fisca Agent, on write to the Death Valley Mining and Smelting Co., 823 Dwight Building, Kansas City, Mo.

Coroner Gray Very Busy

Coroner Gray returned from Havelock yesterday where he conducted an inquest on the body of a young man named Robinson who was found dead in a house under peculiar circumstances. An adjournment was made till Wednesday at one o'clock when a post mortem will be conducted to ascertain the cause of death.

Coroner Gray leaves today for Millbrook, to resume the investigation into the death of Scholtz, an employe of the Hargrove circus, who was found dead near Cavanville, while en route to Lindsay from Havelock.

BLAIRTON, ONTARIO IS MUCH EXCITED

IRON MINES SOON TO BE REOPENED

Messrs Pearce, of Marmore, Owners of Property Have Refused Offer for The Mine, But Arrangements May Yet Be Made

A correspondent from Blairton writes that that sleepy little hamlet, once a comparatively lively village, but of late years practically moribund, is waking up under the stimulus of the probable reopening of the iron mines there. During the former operation of these mines Blairton saw prosperity. Blairton was one of the most prosperous villages to be seen. At that time there was a forty-sized population, and although men and their families were continually flocking in, still there was a demand for more houses.

The village soon grew from a few houses to fifty, some of them large and of the latest designs. Stores, blacksmith shops, harness shop and other buildings sprung up. Saw mills were scarce in the district and although there was much timber, lumber could not be cut fast enough to supply the demand.

A railroad connected Blairton with Trent river, the road running to the docks at Trent Bridge. This railroad was kept in continual operation even on Sunday, for when there was not ore to ship there was something else. Machinery for the mines came in daily and supplies of groceries and provisions could not be got in fast enough. On the whole it was no hard to get goods to Blairton as it is to Cobalt at the present time. Now was it all work, for nearly every week during the summer there was an excursion to Trent River and from there to Rice Lake or some other place by steamboat. Every evening after work the lake nearby was crowded with boats. The closing of the mines however, placed the seal of failure on Blairton, and the population rapidly dwindled to almost the proverbial one man, a cow and three dogs.

It is now however stated on good authority that the mines will reopen. A few days ago two men representing a large mining company visited Blairton looked over the site of the iron mines, made several experiments and expressed themselves as highly pleased as far as they had investigated. Men are expected to arrive in a few days with a diamond drill to locate the mineral which if all reports are true, is in good quantity.

According to statements of Blairton residents, Messrs. Pearce of Marmora, who own the mine, have refused a large offer, but it is likely that a bargain will be reached after the mine has been better examined.

The mines are situated in the near neighborhood of Blairton, three miles north of Blairton station, and seven miles east of Havelock, and includes about 25 acres.

If the purchase is made and the mines reopened it is likely that a siding will be laid from Blairton station or from Havelock. If it is laid to Blairton station it will be necessary to place an operator there and for all trains to stop at that place.

Meanwhile the citizens of Blairton are living in hopes that the purchase will take place.

Do You Seek Health?

Consult Dr. Hamilton And You Will Be Shown the Way.

Thousands are in the same boat—all sickly, bilious and feeling far from well.

Trouble is, the system is clogged with impurities which need to be cleared away.

Before downright sickness arrives you should cleanse and purify the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

At once you feel their mighty influence building up weak spots, clearing out disease, and putting you again on your feet.

These purely vegetable pills change your tired worn-out condition to one of health and vigor, because they supply the body with nourishing blood that builds up and enlivens the entire system.

Mr. John Whitley, of Stanwood, P. O., Ont., knows the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and says; "I wouldn't be alive today had it not been for Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Last winter I was sick with grippe, and when spring came I was weak, bilious and rheumatic. I used enough medicine to cure twenty times, but I didn't get any help till I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They purified my blood, took the yellow color out of my face, put new tone in my my stomach, and increased my appetite. The bilious attacks and rheumatic pains graduatly departed, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills made a new man of me. I proved their merit, and proclaim them a medicine for all men."

If better health and prompt recovery are important, get Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut today. At all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE ANGLO-JAPANESE ALIANCE

Nothing is more important to remember in connection with affairs in the Far East than the exact terms of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The truth about it is somewhere between the extreme views that it compels Great Britain to join Japan whenever engaged in war with any power, as the former alliance engaged her to join Japan whenever at war with two powers; and the view that it has no relation to any but purely Asiatic affairs.

The treaty is a little vague, like most such agreements. It could be interpreted in either way by a strained construction. It probably would be interpreted by Great Britain in accordance with her own interests, as all treaties are interpreted by all nations. She would have a perfect right to insist that the treaty does not bind her to assist Japan in an aggressive war upon the United States, in which the territorial and special interests of Japan and Great Britain in Asia are not imperilled, except by their own acts.

The paragraph of the treaty in relation to war must be interpreted by those paragraphs of the preamble which state its general purpose. The preamble thus enumerates the objects of the alliance:

"(a) The consolidation and maintenance of the general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India;

"(b) The preservation of the common interest of all powers in China by insuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China;

"(c) The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India, and the defence of their special interests in the said regions."

The paragraph relating to war says:

"If by reason of unprovoked attack or aggressive action, wherever arising, on the part of any other power or powers either contracting party shall be involved in war in defence of its territorial rights or special interest mentioned in the preamble of this agreement, the other contracting party will at once come to the assistance of its ally, and will conduct the war in common and make peace in mutual agreement with it."

It would be for Great Britain to decide whether the San Francisco hoodlums had made an unprovoked attack upon Japan in the sense of this treaty, and whether her territorial rights or special interests as defined in the preamble were imperiled by war with the United States.

THE NATION'S PURPOSE

There is a relation between cause and effect. Nationally things do not merely happen—they come to pass. Destiny is not a matter of chance, it is a matter of choice. It is not a thing to be awaited for, it is something to be achieved. A nation's purpose determines its destiny. What then, should be the purpose of the nation? asks the Brantford Expositor.

The nation's purpose should be loyal in its sentiment, revering the memories of the Canadian forefathers who laid the foundation of the country's greatness, the liberties and perpetuating the institutions of the past, and inspiring renewed devotion on our part in carrying forward to a successful issue the great work in which they gave their lives that the nation might live.

The purpose of the nation should be Christian in its mission, according to a beneficent Providence, the cotrite homage of a grateful people for the lavish resources with which this country has been blessed, but rising above the materialistic, should recognize that the imperishable wealth of the nation lies in its citizenship; to that end developing the moral and spiritual energies of its people, "maintaining, amid all of the perils of a time of prodigal material luxury, respect for industry, reverence for learning and a zeal in the essentials of human freedom."

The purpose of the nation should be Canadian in its aspirations, its people facing the future with resolute determination, prepared to take their stand among the nations of the earth and fulfil that mission to which Canadians may be called. And well may we meet the future with confidence.

Where once our progress was slow and uncertain, today the Dominion pulsates with renewed life, challenging by reason of its remarkable growth and prosperity the attention and exciting the admiration of the world; where once, "between the Provinces there was a spirit of suspicion and distrust, today every section feels the throb of a common patriotism and cheerfully accepts those conditions which are essential to the unification of the confederation;" where once our future was clouded with gloom and apprehension, today before the dullest eyes the vision splendid dawns—the twentieth century belongs to Canada. Its national star is in the ascendant and the Dominion looms before a startled world as the prodigy of the age—the child of destiny.

Will mail you free, to prove its merits, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, foul breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

DOUSED SPOTTER UNDER A PUMP

Dauphin, Man., July 16.—The Government is investigating the ducking of R. Fairbrother, a C.N.R. fireman, and an alleged Thiel Detective Agency spotter on Saturday. Fairbrother was decoyed to the railway shops and bound by a rope to the end of a truck. He was then wheeled to within a short distance of the force pump, and the hose was turned on him.

When Fairbrother received the first charge of cold water he yelled so loudly that his cries could be heard across the river. He threatened. That was of no avail. Then he appealed for mercy; it brought no relief. A well-known conductor stepped forward, and raising a stick over the bound man's head, said: "You have been tried and found guilty of spotting—an offence unpardonable in the eyes of your brother workers. We have introduced the ancient Egyptian order of the bath, and you have been initiated in the first degree."

Fairbrother was then cut down and given twenty-four hours to leave town. As he had no witness he had no case. He left for Winnipeg.

They are Liver Pills

Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They act directly on the liver, make more bile secreted. This is why they cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick-headache. Ask your doctor if he knows a better laxative pill. We certainly do not. If he does, then use his kind.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

$20,000 In Jewels Stolen From Safe

New York, July 16.—According to the Herald private detectives are attempting to solve the mystery of a $20,000 jewel robbery from the private safe in the offices of J. W. Cebulon and Company, bankers and brokers, who failed not long ago for something like $1,000,000. For more than a week rumors of the theft have been current in Wall street, but until yesterday the precautions taken to that end prevented confirmation. It is now disclosed that diamonds valued at the sum mentioned, some of them cut and set and others in the rough, were purloined from a compartment in the private safe in a manner so clever as to leave no clew upon which the detectives are able to work.

The stones were the belongings of Mr. Cebulon himself and by him were kept in a large private safe.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms—the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

There has been over $5,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated. And to make preparations for this the company has ordered me to sell 100,000 shares of the treasury stock at 15c. per share, and last week I sold 12,500 shares so at this writing there is only 7,5ol shares left at this price, and when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 25c per share.

The property is at Goldyke, Nev., owned by the Goldyke Consolidated Mining Co., and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $300 ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore, and as the stock is being rapidly subscribed your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order at once for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 15c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all money received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 40 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the rich values of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 15c per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from 50c to 75c per share, so I consider the investor is lucky to get some of this stock at the present price, 15c.

ADVERTISING PAYS

SPRING BEAUTIES.

By Margaret Richards.

Copyright, 1907, by P. C. Eastment.

"Uncle John!"

No answer.

"Uncle John!"

"Um—hm." He did not put down his paper, but you knew he was listening.

"Do you s'pose any 'spring beauties' have blossomed yet, Uncle John?"

Slowly he lifted his eyes and turned his head to the window. A sky of warm spring sunshine slanted across the bare branches of the old elm; already the lawn was tinted here and there with green. You waited expectantly, your hand on Guy's great black head.

"Too early," and Uncle John disappeared again behind the folds of his paper. At no time was Uncle John's conversation likely to be adorned with any unnecessary words.

You sighed and stood looking out of the window, a wistful, disappointed little girl; looking while the huge Newfoundland dog beside you pushed his cold nose against your hand and licked your fingers with his great, rough tongue; looking while the budding maple bough beckoned and the million tiny little voices of spring called to you and a lovely little path bordered with sweet flower faces unfolded itself invitingly before your mind's eye.

You could stand it no longer. With a happy little cry you ran out of doors and raced with Guy along the path. Breathless and rosy you halted to unlatch the gate. Out of the corner of your eye you saw the front door open, but you pretended not to notice, not even when Uncle John's warning voice floated to you down the pathway:

"You'll get your feet wet!"

On you went, the spring echoes in your ears, the spring sunshine in your eyes, to find your way suddenly blocked by a figure in front. Wonderingly you took your eyes from the glory of a newly leaved maple to see why the figure so obstinately stood in one place.

"HELLO, LITTLE DAME!"

A familiar face laughed down at you.

"Oh, Cousin Grace!" you cried delightedly.

Cousin Grace did not stay with Uncle John and Aunt Martha as you did. She lived with her father and mother in a house quite at the other end of the town. Nor was she a little girl like you, but a beautiful young lady, with bright sunshiny hair and wonderful blue eyes, and when she smiled—the sleeping beauty, you thought, and Cinderella and the beautiful princess in the tower must all have looked like Cousin Grace.

"Where are you going?" she asked, and you joyfully explained. If she would come with you she, too, might pick "spring beauties," you suggested. And, although she laughingly shook her head over the flowers, she, too, must have heard the spring voices, for she turned and followed you along a path that wandered away from the road through clumps of young maples and silver birches.

"This is fine!" you cried, racing Guy to an alder bush, then scampering back again. A memory of past frolics enveloped you. "If only Mr. Ned were here," you mused regretfully.

Cousin Grace said nothing, but the pretty smile faded suddenly from her lips. You regarded her in astonishment. Could it be possible that she did not want him too? Why, she and you and Mr. Ned had always had the greatest fun. Silently reproachful, you raised your eyes to her face, and two tears rolled slowly down your cheeks.

"I wish you wouldn't look at me like that," she said almost sharply.

"But it is your fault. Aunt Martha said so. She said she guessed you were sorry enough, now Mr. Ned has gone to New York, that you flirted so—so—so (you drew a long breath)—so outrageously," you finished, with conscious pride.

"Nonsense!" said Cousin Grace, and you saw that her eyes were very bright and her cheeks seemed uncommonly pink. "Nonsense, Aunt Martha should remember"—

She never finished, for with a short bark Guy made for the little stream, his tail waving frantically as he disappeared behind the rows of alders skirting the bank. One look, and with a glad cry you followed him, skipping from stone to stone in short skirted freedom.

On a rock in the middle of the stream, tall, broad shouldered, his clothing wet, his heavy boots streaked with mud, sized Mr. Ned, his pipe in his mouth, peacefully fishing.

"Hello, little dame! How do, Guy, old boy!" he called gayly, and then he dropped his line and landing net abruptly and, cap in hand, leaped quickly across the stepping stones and [illegible] to Cousin Grace. He had run up from New York for a couple of days' trout fishing, he said, and was so glad to see his old friends, and then they sat on the rocks and talked of such tiresome things as game laws and trout fishing and the greenness of the willows, while you broke off alder twigs and threw them in the stream for Guy to catch.

Suddenly Cousin Grace looked straight up into Mr. Ned's eyes.

"I hear you are very happy in New York."

"Yes," said Mr. Ned.

"Cherchez la femme?" she questioned.

"I see you have found me out," said Mr. Ned.

"Then there is somebody?"

"Yes."

"And you really are to be married?"

"In the fall," replied Mr. Ned promptly.

"Ned"—Cousin Grace put out her hand wistfully, her lips trembling—"I hope you will be happy."

"Thank you, I expect to be," said Mr. Ned. "We shall have a cottage in a pretty suburban town; nothing very elaborate, just a comfortable, homey little place with porches and a little ground. And we shall not be extravagant in the furnishing—just our books and pictures, a couple of good rugs and a few pieces of old mahogany," he ended, smiling dreamily upstream.

"It is late"—Cousin Grace spoke coldly—"and if we are to find 'spring beauties' we must go on." She rose as she spoke and gave him her hand.

So you went on, although the brightness of the spring day had departed—went on and left Mr. Ned throwing out his line and whistling cheerfully.

And then you came to the little path that had unfolded itself before your mind's eye, a path that pushed through the alders and willows and stretched over tiny threads of water that wandered away from the little stream.

It was there that you found them, clusters of "spring beauties," raising their delicate flower faces from the muddy ground. You dropped on your knees beside them. You laid your face softly against them, going from cluster to cluster in an ecstasy of delight. Not until you had plucked a handful of the frail stalks did you remember Cousin Grace.

"I've found them! I've found them!" you shouted. Still kneeling, you turned and looked back along the path, then you rose slowly to your feet.

In the middle of the path stood Cousin Grace and Mr. Ned. She had been crying, for her eyes were still wet, but she looked beautiful now and was smiling as Mr. Ned held her hands and looked down at her.

"You would not listen to me. I had to resort to desperate measures," he said, "and anyhow I wasn't so far out of the way, for I am going to be married in the fall, am I not, sweetheart? You know there has never been—can never be—any one but you," he added as his arms closed about her.

Your eyes grew big with wonder and delight. You did not understand how it had happened. You did not care. It was like a lovely fairy tale. Cousin Grace was the beautiful princess, and the prince had but claimed his own. Wide eyed and happy, you confronted them, while the pale "spring beauties" slipped from your fingers and lay upon the ground unheeded, a silvery, fragrant offering at love's shrine.

Honor the Old Time School.

Never speak or write of old time schools in derision. We are in advance of them in many ways, it is true, and for that we are thankful, but our thankfulness should be largely mixed with humility. Those were the schools of our fathers and grandfathers, and really it must be admitted that they were and are as a body entitled to our respect. They did their best in the light of that tallow candle. Are we doing as well in the brilliant blaze shed upon our path by electricity? They were slow in reaching an objective point in their ancient lumbering vehicles. Do we accomplish as much when we reach our journey's end by the limited? These are questions which the youth and middle ages of our day should ponder.—Western School Journal.

Weighing as a Game of Chance.

No one can live long in Bombay without observing the freedom from restraint that is evident among the users of scales and weights. Scales of all sorts may be seen, some with wooden beams, evidently homemade, others of recognized pattern, on which are used chunks of stone and odd pieces of iron by way of weights. Silversmiths, according to the Indian Textile Journal, still use the red seed of the acacia or the wild licorice for weighing the precious metals, oblivious of the fact that the weight of seeds is not constant and that they may readily be exchanged for others of less or more weight.

"She Isn't Me."

A woman was waiting for her sister in a railway station when a gentleman, looking for his wife and misled by a general resemblance in figure and clothing, stepped up behind her and, laying his hand on her shoulder, exclaimed, "Thank goodness, Emma, it's you!" The name he used happened to be really hers, which made the sudden familiarity even more startling. She jumped nervously. "You're mistaken, sir!" she gasped. "I'm Emma, but she isn't me."—Youth's Companion.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

APPEARANCE

Is such an important feature on the table. It makes a heap of difference to the pleasure of the meal whether you have a good or a poor looking Sugar on the table.

St. Lawrence Extra Granulated Sugar

Is the whitest and best looking Sugar to be had and besides it has the advantage of being the best quality and greatest strength.

Men Require Nerve and Blood Tonic.

How Are Your Nerves?

The daily grind of life burns up a man's vitality faster than he renews it.

He gets shaky, starts at trifles, tosses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

The nervous man is nervous because his blood is so thin his nerves are starved to death.

He needs Ferrozone!

Its first action is upon digestion.

It stimulates secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so it can be at once assimilated.

Hence the blood is nourished, is fortified, made redder, richer, stronger.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferrozone is marvelous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did Mr. Karl E. Newsome of Rothesay, who writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferrozone which saved my life after a severe siege of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I couldn't work, and found that three doctors did nothing for me. My druggist recommended Ferrozone as the best preparation for nervous troubles, so I commenced with one tablet at meals. Every box of Ferrozone I took did me more good than the previous one, and it wasn't very long before I was completely cured. Ferrozone braced up my nerves, gave me a strong, healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvelous restorer and tonic."

Try Ferrozone—sold everywhere by druggists in 50c. boxes.

A GOOD RESULT

Under the operation of the new Pure Food Laws, baking powders now generally bear on the labels a statement of the ingredients. This is of utmost importance because of the harmful ingredients used in many cases.

Royal Baking Powder is known to be the only baking powder made of Royal Grape Cream of Tartar, and this no doubt explains its greatly increased sale here.

Careful housekeepers are taking advantage of the protection which the laws afford, and are examining all the reading matter on the back of the label before adopting any brand for use in the home.

When in place of the words Cream of Tartar the words "alum" "alumina" or "phosphate of lime" appear among the ingredients, they heed the warning and avoid baking powders containing these substitutes.

WHAT HIS WORSHIP DECIDES

Sentences Or Otherwise Duly Delivered

Latest Reports of What Transpires At Our Local Seat of Petty Jystice

At yesterday's session of the Police Court the first case tried was that of Mrs. Davey, Miss Whittaker, Harry Thompson and W. Cannon, who were charged with keeping a house of ill repute. The first witness who lives at 20 Parnell street, said that he recognized Annie Davey, the prisoner, as—well as the other prisoners whose names he did not know. Mrs. Davey has lived at 24 Parnell for some four years. Cannon has lived there about three months and Thompson about three weeks. The general reputation of 24 Parnell is very bad. He then gave particulars of evidence tending to corroborate general opinion. To Mr. Halton, acting for the prisoners, witness said he works at the shovel Works, and is tired of being kept awake at nights by the prisoners who live next door. To Mr. Gordon, who acted for Cannon, witness said Cannon does not work as far as he knows. Another man living at 30 Parnell street next to the prisoner's house gave evidence. He tried to wriggle and squirm so as to avoid telling the truth so much so that the Magistrate said: "You are not candid, you ought to be ashamed of yourself." Still another Parnell street resident testified to the bad reputation of No. 24.

The case was enlarged after several witness had been examined until this morning.

Last night two young men spent the hours from dawning until the sparrows twittered in the trees at, and after, sunrise, in cell No. 6 at the police station. Their beds were not those of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, New York, or the Hotel Cecil, London, either as regards furnishings or comfort. In fact the two had to lie feet to feet on the cold hard, hard side of a pine plank with no Osterman mattress and nary a silk comforter nor silken covered pillows. The two enforced guests of the city were an Englishman arrested by P. C. Newhall for being d &d., and a resident of the city with a wife and family. The latter was charged with non-support and admitted to a Times man that he has not worked since June 24th. This young man seemed to feel his position keenly and protested that should he be leniently dealt with at this morning court he will "Cut the booze out!" altogether and get to work for the family. As the man seemed most undoubtedly in earnest in his protestations and promises, it is to be hoped the court will give him a chance. At the same time, should this be effected, and the man does not keep his promises (as promised) he should get six months twice a year for some time.

The locals are leaving nothing undone to defeat Jimmy Murphy's bunch when they come to Peterborough. Practices will be held regularly.

Smith Farmer Made Bad Guess

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Bert Middleton of the 2nd line of Smith, brought six hogs into the city. On arrival at the market square one of the local hog buyers came up to make a purchase. Mr. Middleton in response to a question, said, "Well those hogs won't go under 1100 pounds. I have sized them up and they will turn the scales at that weight, I'm sure." When the workers went on to the market scales they turned the beam at 1280 pounds. Mr. Middleton asked the crowd to liquidate on learning that the weight above his own computation had put over $8 into his pocket over and above what he anticipated.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Then he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Medicines of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the critical scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. DESERTED WIFE IN CHICAGO

Hamilton, July 16.—The police announced today that Sunfield, the alleged murderer, deserted a wife and four small children in Chicago, two years ago, to follow Mrs. Andrew Rudzyk, wife of the man he is said to have murdered, to this country. Mrs. Rudzyk admits that Sunfield has a wife in Chicago, but denies that she knew him before he came here. Chief Smith says he does not believe the woman had anything to do with the murder.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

IRISH PLEASED BY VISIT OF ROYALTY

Royal Tour Through Ireland and Wales Great Success

WARM POPULAR WELCOME

King and Queen Travelled Almost One Thousand Miles During The Week, Visiting Many Towns

London, July 17.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra, and Princess Victoria were welcomed back in London at the conclusion of a busy week of courtesy and public duty in Wales and Ireland. They travelled close to 1,000 miles by land and sea, visited a dozen important towns, and received a score of loyal addresses. They were driven past tens of thousands of cheering people. At Bangor, when lay the foundation stone of the University College of North Wales, the King spoke impressively of the national need of higher education. At Hollyhead and Kingston the King thanked the public authorities for their reception and complimented their fine display of flags and bunting, referring gratefully to the cordiality of the people, and expressing the hope that these ports might long flourish as the gateways between two progressive and pacific populations mutually respectful.

The royal trip through Ireland was, according to reports, marked by perfect sympathy between the sovereigns and the public, and it is believed that it left an excellent impression on the country.

The pleasantest part of the travelling was the cruise from Kingstown in Ireland, to Cardiff, in Wales. The sail was smooth and the sun shone more brilliantly than on any previous day this year. The King and Queen spent almost the whol eday upon the open deck, using the field glasses frequently to study the beautiful scenery of the Irish and Welsh coasts.

Along the entire coast of South Wales people gathered at the favorable points to watch the passing of the royal yacht, the Albert and Victoria, and its escort of warships. They were first sighted off St. David's Head at 11 o'clock and subsequently from Stannis Head, Tenby, Ilfracombe, Porthcawl, and Seaborder in Glamorganshire. The cliffs between Barry and Penarth were thronged with spectators to see the progress of the royal party up the Bristol channel. The warships anchored in the outer pool off Penarthhead, while the yacht proceeded to position on the eastern side of the port. At Cardiff the King opened the new Queen Alexandra docks as well as King Edward the Seventh avenue.

THE VISIT TO IRELAND.

Dublin, July 17.—King Edward's visit to Ireland was a thoroughly happy affair, very brief, but very successful. From the moment the royal yacht anchored in Kingstown harbor on Wednesday, until it sailed away less than 48 hours later, all conditions and circumstances of the visit were propitious. The weather was bright and tonic, the decorations profuse and the officials and popular welcome graceful and warm. The King, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria conducted themselves in a charming manner, giving the impression throughout of genuine pleasure in their surroundings.

The passage of the visitors through the streets of Dublin and along the road to Leopardstown, where they greatly enjoyed the races must be admitted to have been a personal triumph. The people crowded as closely to the King's carriage and cheered vociferously, plainly evidencing their friendliness in their smiling faces.

King Edward's behavior at the international exhibition was a source of popular commendation. He patiently inspected all the principal exhibits and paid particularly close attention to the products of Irish hands.

STILL NEGLECT WARNING

So-called Sportsmen Heave in and Keep Undersized Fish

Referring to an article in The Times of a few days ago concerning the good work done by Fishery Inspector Watt, it might be mentioned that a few days ago a man who was fishing in Little Lake pulled in several bass, that were not more than six inches in length and instead of putting them back in the water again he carefully placed them in the bottom of his boat, possibly not aware of the law on the point. It is now, after The Times warning, up to notarike of rod and line to recognize the law as to short-sized fish. We gave the law on this point in detail so that illegal fishermen have no excuse.

Pardon for Thompson

Kingston, July 16. — Conductor Thompson of Guelph, sentenced to penitentiary for three years for disobeying orders, which resulted in a fatal railway accident on the G.T.R. near Gourock, has been released. The minister of justice granted him a pardon. He was in the penitentiary about one month. Thompson soon after two o'clock yesterday walked out of the penitentiary a free man. He was heartily congratulated by the prison officers and others. He had little to say beyond the remark; "I don't want to see this place again." His home is in London.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL WAS JURY'S VERDICT

Col. Scholtz Was Killed By Accident, So Said The Intelligent Jury At Millbrook

Yesterday afternoon Coroner J. W. Gray of Sherbrooke street, coroner for this and several adjoining counties, reopened his court to investigate further the "why and how," Col. Scholtz of The Hargreave's circus came to his death whilst travelling last Friday night from Havelock to Lindsay. It will be remembered that the dead body of this man, clad only in his "robe-de-buit" was found about a mile this side of Cavanville. We have already given the evidence as before presented at the inquest. At yesterday afternoon's session, at one o'clock, Albert Elliott, a C.P.R. section foreman at Cavanville, said under oath that he found the dead man near the track about 1 1-2 miles east of Cavanville. The body was eight feet from the rails, in the ditch. The man had only his underclothes on. Apparent injuries were visible. He was present with the coroner took charge of the body. The man was lying on his knees and right shoulder, with his head twisted to the left and his feet to the rack. For some 45 feet there was a distinct mark along the ballast near the track. East of the body was cease near the end of the ties. The ballast was a little rough near the seat of catastrophy. There was no blood or other similar marks to indicate a tragedy. If thrown off the train, it would depend on circumstances, as to how the body was thrown off, judging by evidence as seen by him.

John Robson, chief watchman of the C.P.R., Toronto, said he was on the circus train. He went into the car next the cabbose to see the manner. He then described how a man fell off at Peterborough, as related in Monday's issue. He at first accused a man of pushing this man off. He found next day that the man he referred to was not Col. Scholtz. The next day he was informed that the man who fell off told him he was sober at the time in question. Did not hear any sound of fighting. The circus men had been orderly. He had had experiences with other circuses and this was the most orderly. He knew Col. Scholtz who always minded his own business. The colonel was well liked by all the show people. He first knew of the colonel's death at Lindsay. He had known, in his long experience, men to fall off trains before. A man falling, would light on his feet first to throw him on his head. Scholtz had no grievance for or against any one in the show. Scholtz's wife was told of her husband's death July 12th. The circus cars were not locked up at night. Watchman should look after them. The C.P.R. pays him, not the circus.

Mrs. Scholtz, wife of the deceased, said, "My name is Henrietta Scholtz, and I am 67 years of age. Her husband was also 67 years of age. She was born in Hanover, Germany, as was her husband. They came to this continent when 20 years old. They were married in London, Eng., in Whitechapel church. Her husband was good natured. They have two daughters living out of three born. This is her first season with Hargreave's circus. They had trained dogs on the day of his death, her husband exhibited the dogs. He went to bed before eight p.m. They went to bed together. He was on the inside (or window side) of the berth. He did not drink. Did not notice him get up. She covered him up at about nine o'clock. She woke up at one a.m., and he was gone. Shortly after one o'clock she wakened up a young man and enquired about her husband. He replied, "Why he must be in bed with you!" She then awoke other people to make enquiries. The car door was open. Owing to the heat. Thinks he went out to get cool. She was told he was dead when telegram arrived. She wanted to go to see his body, but was overpersuaded by others. He could have gone up the washroom that night. He had no insurance. She is usually so tired she would not tell of know of his getting past her out of the berth.

Dr. Montgomery of Millbrook, who acted with Dr. Turner in making the post mortem, as stated before, gave evidence showing that the deceased could not have obtained suggested relief by going to the platform, as suggested previously. The bladder was distended. Death was caused by fracture of the skull.

P. C. Raper of Millbrook, then gave evidence.

THE INQUISITION.

The final result of the coroner's jury, was that Col. Scholtz "came to his death through accident." This verdict was signed, sealed and delivered by each and every one of the coroner's jury.

Ten Were Killed Twelve Injured

Awful Avalanche of Debris at London---Three Buildings Collapse

London, July 17.—In the collapse of two buildings on Dundas street, near Richmond street, and directly in the center of the city, London yesterday was visited with a calamity, from which ten persons are dead and twelve more or less seriously injured. Bodies are still being taken from the ruins, and the total of the dead cannot by has not yet been reckoned.

Alterations had been in progress on the three-storey premises of W. J. Reed and Company. Iron pillars were being installed in the third storey. It is supposed that two of them weakened under the strain. When the crash came the big brick building shut up like a jack-knife. It hurled itself in falling against the adjoining store of Hamilton and Long, completely demolishing it.

A two-storey 5-10-and-15-cent store, occupied by Frank Brewster, was separated from the Hamilton and Long store by a lane. The combined force of the two buildings struck the Brewster property, and swept it down in the general collapse. The half of the first storey of the Brewster property still stands on the corner of the lane. A heavy fence, which surrounded the westerly portion of the Reed store, hangs by a thread, as it were, and threatens the lives of those who are engaged in the rescue work beneath it.

The buildings collapsed about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Hamilton and Long store was filled with shoppers. Women and their children went busily and happily about their errands.

Suddenly there was a dull rending of timbers. Then came the report of what seemed to be a tremendous explosion. The three buildings swayed into a mass of plaster, flying bricks, and heavy joists. An immense cloud of dust immediately shut up and around the building. It was so thick that no conception of the extent of injury done to human life or property could be made.

Then, from among the ruins, and from beneath the heaps of brick and timber, came the agonizing screams of men and women in the last extremity. The rescue work began immediately, and the scene of the accident swarmed with men eager to battle with the tons of debris under which lay dead, injured, and imprisoned men, women, and little children. With bare hands, bleeding and bent through contact with the rough masonary, scores of men labored to rescue the living, and recover the dead. The scene was replete with heroic deeds on the part of London's citizens, and many were the sad and pathetic scenes enacted as the work went on.

It was a weird spectacle which greeted the eyes of the onlookers as the oppressive heat of a July night, the street railway officials installed two searchlights in windows on the opposite side of the street.

"This Mr. Hamilton, it's Mr. Hamilton's body," were the cries when the onlookers saw the workmen carefully lift the shattered body from the wreck at 2.25 this morning. The body was that of Tarleton Hamilton, 45 years of age, who lived on Maitland street with his wife and five small children. The body of his wife lay close to his own, but the enormous weight of almost the entire floor prevented the men from taking the body out.

Close to the remains of Mrs Hamilton lay the form of another woman. Her body could not be removed for similar reasons.

For three hours and a half Miss May Hardingham stared death in the face in the cellar of O. B. Graves' store. Some one had ventured near the cellar of the Brewster store, and heard her cries. Fred Mitchell of the London Engine Works, procured a Jersey-bar, and began to attack the arched flooring which sheltered her. "What are you doing?"

"We are trying to get out out," was the reply.

"Oh, don't mind me! I am all right! Look after those who are suffering; I know there must be many of them." Her words were unheeded, and the work progressed.

"Heaven bless you, young man, for what you are doing, but will you get me a drink of water?" she asked.

"Not yet, my brave girl," was the reply, "but just as soon as we can we will."

A correspondent at Havelock advises us that Mr. Geo Armstrong 6 years old, who lives with his father, Titus Armstrong, some miles east of that village committed suicide on July 14th by taking paris green and arsenic. The deceased it is said, left home the night before and his body was found by a younger brother in an old log house.

One of the oldest residents of the Havelock neighborhood, Mrs. Harrison, passed away, July 16th, at the residence of her son Mr. Jos. Harrison, at the advanced age of 86 years.

THE TIMES WILL ONLY GIVE TRUTH

No Public Officer to be Defended or Let Go

KICKERS ALWAYS KICKING

Because Absolute News Does Not Suit Them—May Look For News Just As It Is

There seems to be a lot of "kickers" in this city because a certain policeman happens to be reported in this paper as making an inordinate number of arrests. In this connection, it might be noted, as far as The Times knows, every member of the force is doing his duty conscientiously and persistently. Still it may to the fate (or as Eastern Asia people say "Kismet") that this man mentioned may happen to discover and prove more offences than others, that is his vigilance, and no other officer's fault. As "a freak" was made a few days ago, of a Times representative on Hunter street, concerning this particular officer, we might say that it is of not the slightest interest to us, whether whether Smith or Jones gets credit for arrests or crimes ferfeted out. We simply give such news as we get it and those who object. May possibly, before too long, ask for a suppression of the "whole truth, the hole truth and nothing but the truth, etc." It is up to this journal to proceed as it will along its own rails with no switch acknowledged on its right of way, into the hidding whereby the other fellow may have to ask where he gets all at. The Times gives the truth as nearly as can be ascertained from most reliable sources of information. When we get the truth we will mislead it on our readers no matter whether millionaire or monkey loses thereby.

George Street in Black Darkness

Last night any man or woman walking south on George street from King street to the C.P.R. depot, was as well able to navigate as would a blind man in a 600 feet below the surface mine with a box of recently wetted matches and a candle made of asbestos instead of tallow or wax. The Lord only knows this city has too few police, but this encouragement to thugs is too obvious for further comment. If our light is concealed under a bushel let us change.

THE CITY BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION

Action Taken In The Direction of Securing a Foot-Bridge Across Otonabee South of C.P.R. Bridge ---Partial Filling In to be Done for Water Street Residents

The City Board of Works met last night when there were present:—Mayor McWilliams, Chairman Ald. G. Duncan, and Aldermen Wilson, McIntyre and Johnston.

Mr. Angus McIntosh was present, and for the second time asked the board to rectify what he claims to be a faulty sewer connection with his premises, said connection entering his cellar considerably above the cellar floor.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the city engineer take proper levels of this work, lower the sewer connection to the floor of his cellar, and provide a satisfactory fall therefore.—Carried.

REPAIR WARSAW ROAD.

Reeve Moher of Duaro, was present in the interest of getting the city to cooperate with his township in putting in good shape the Warsaw road from Nicholls Park, eastward to the bridge over the canal. It was pointed out that this road from the bottom of the hollow below the finger post to the summit of the hill beyond is in a deplorable condition, no work having been done on it for several years.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That Mr. Fitzgerald be instructed to put this road in proper shape for travel, at an expenditure of not exceeding $100, and that the Township of Duaro pay one-half the cost.—Carried.

DOWNIE STREET CREEK.

Mr. A. W. Campbell asked for a re-diverting of Downie street creek to its original course through Mr. Blodgett's property. He would cribb the creek providing the city gave him the timbers from the old water course with which to do this work.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That the engineer be authorized to allow Mr. Campbell the use of such timber as is necessary for cribbing the diverted creek through Mr. Blodgett's property, one side only, subject to Mr. Blodgett's agreement to such diversion.—Carried.

NEW SIDEWALKS.

Petitions for a granolithic pavement on Sherbrooke street, south side, from Bethune to Rubidge; on Boncoord street, north side, from Park to the railway; and on Dalhousie street, south side, from Stewart to Rubidge, the petitions for which were on hand in regulation time. The petitions for walks on Boncoord and Dalhousie streets were granted. The petition for a pavement on Sherbrooke street will not be acted on until the petition is so amended as to provide for continuing the work to Park street.

WOODEN CROSSING.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That a wooden crossing be laid to Mr. Wright's house, on eastern side of Jackson avenue to Albert street.—Carried.

NEW FOOT BRIDGE.

The petition for a bridge across the Otonabee from the foot of Murish street for the convenience of east ward residents in that locality was fully considered. It was considered that a foot bridge attached to the C.P.R. railway bridge, south side, would answer the purpose for a time.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the general superintendent of the C.P.R. be communicated with with a view to arranging for an interview with the committee regarding the construction of a foot bridge on the south side of the railway bridge.—Carried.

Should this proposition mature, it is agreed that an overhead thoroughfare across the railway track at the fare across the railway track at the eastern end of the railway bridge would be necessary.

Mr. Elliott will be informed that a properly signed petition will be needed before a sewer is constructed on Bethune street, between Hunter and Brock streets.

TO PAINT BRIDGES.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the question of painting the bridges on Hunter and Simcoe streets, across the creek, be left in the hands of the Board of Works chairman.

QUESTION OF FILLING IN.

The question of filling in on Water street, from the new granolithic walk to the property of the residents there was taken up. It will be remembered that at the locality in question—between Dublin and Antrim streets—the old walk was practically a bridge over a hole of considerable depth.

Ald. Wilson offered that other ratepayers have had to do their own filling in under similar circumstances, and these people should be no exception to the rule.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That the engineer be instructed to remove the old sidewalk on Water street, between Dublin and Antrim streets, and fill in the hole beneath up to a level of the present ground between both walks.—Carried.

On motion of Ald. McIntyre, 190 feet of sewer on Rogers street, south of Hunter, will be constructed.

SHORT CUT TO PARK.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the street commissioner be instructed to have the extension of Ross street, from Dufferin street to east Nicholls Park be properly graded so as to provide a ready entrance into the park for east ward residents.—Carried.

Mr. R. Tudhope Has Passed Away

The residents of and about Birdsall's Station, were shocked on Sunday, the 14th inst., to learn that Robert Tudhope had passed away. Deceased had been suffering for some months from consumption. He was born in Canada 57 years ago. Some years ago he married Miss J Stuart, who, with three small children, survive to mourn his loss.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. A. Thompson of Hastings Presbyterian church, of which deceased was a regular attendant. Four sisters also survive. They are Mrs. H. Davidson of Birdsall, Mrs. S. Fraser of Alberta, Mrs. Williamson of Percy township, and Miss Tudhope of Hastings.

Another Kick re Banana Peels

(To the Editor of The Times)

Sir,—I saw in your columns a few days ago a piece about the too common practice of people throwing banana or orange skins in the guvement. I am glad to see that you have the courage to oppose a practice that is used by too many people. I quite agree with you that only one selfish or selfish enough to throw such dangerous things in the public walks way, should be severely punished.

Now, I am an old man, and should I step on one of those treacherous banana skins I would surely have my leg, arm or head broken. I am not the only one running this danger. Even a young man or woman stepping on a banana peel is almost certain to fall. The man, woman, or child who eats a banana whilst walking along the street, should be made, by penalty to the contrary, compelled to throw their refuse matter on the roadway. I hope you will continue to advocate the passage of a by-law to prevent this menace to the safety of our public.

Yours truly,
ANTI-SELFISHNESS.

Afloat in Sea of Petroleum Oil

New Orleans, July 17.—A vast lake of oil in the middle of the Gulf of Mexico, seventy miles off the cost of Texas, held fast the British steamship Cuban, which arrived here today from Tampico. The petroleum was so deep that water was cut off from the boilers, and the feed pump took in oil. The surface was like liquid glass, and did not make a ripple as the ship ploughed through it.

Catholic Church Again Assailed

Brandon, Man., July 17.—A meeting was held here in the interest of the Orange Order, addressed by Dr. T. S. Sproule, M.P., Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Association of North America.

Dr. Sproule went over the same ground as he has done in his addresses delivered at Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie. In proceeding, the doctor said:

Who are the warring element that is ever seeking to interfere with the constitution and the safeguards we enjoy today, who is that power?

We sometimes have one and sometimes another, but one we can count on always, and that is the Church of Rome. I do not want anyone to misunderstand, to think that I am unfriendly to the Church of Rome or any Roman Catholic. So long as the church teaches her religion, I have no quarrel with Rome, but it is because the Church of Rome does not always do this that we find it necessary always and to prevent inroads being made on our sacred rights.

GREAT SPORT NEAR THE CITY

Two Local Gentlemen Get A Very Fine Lunge

THEY REPORT THEIR FUN

A Fifteen Pound Fish Caught in Little Lake by Messrs Poussette and Irwin

Yesterday Messrs. Court Poussette and Geo. Irwin, Charlotte street, went fishing. "They got there." They was out! They actually caught a real alive (at the time of capture) fish in the Little Lake. It was not a mud-cat, sel, or bull pout, but a veritable maskinonge. Their maskinonge need not give Inspector Watt any spasms either, as to its legitimate length. This fish by actual weight went several different weights. By the idea of the fishermen it weighed, or possibly should have weighed 49 1-2 pounds. Quite a number of their friends almost swore to 43 1-2 pounds. However, to get down to facts, the fish which was captured just in front of the lumber mill turned a recently tested scale at 15 5-8 pounds.

Now whilst this is a good sized fish and big enough to put the average fisherman astray for fully a week, there is a story connected with its capture. Mr. Poussette held the line when it bit. Mr. Irwin felt a recession in the canoe's progress.

Said Mr. I. to Mr. P. "What in the ——, have you caught now?" Mr P. replied, "Paddle on you ——— ———, I have either hooked the wide, wide world or the biggest fish in the waters of Canada!" Then came another tug on the line but greatly modified. At the time of the first tug on the line, there canoe was being impelled swiftly through the water. After the second pull on the line, both fish and men got excited. He with the paddle started to get rid of superfluous muscle and tissue by digging in with his trusty blade. The other man, letting out several war hoops, frantically wound in his trolling line. As the fish was seemingly addicted to the use of dope of some kind, it came calmly and serenly to the surface, and thrusting its head above the water, exclaimed, "Good day gentlemen, I am glad to meet you. Good by, wifey, I'm going, to leave you now!"

Now it is hardly necessary, in this age of advanced knowledge, to say we are not trying to spring any old time miracles on our readers. We simply quote the words of another fisherman, a stranger to the lucky captors of the big lunge, and they, the strangers who had a corkscrew with them, which the lucky fishermen did not, gave us the part of the tale. We however saw the fish, which in fish stories is nine-tenths towards the tenth.

The fish caught by Messrs. Poussette and Irwin, is all nonsense apart, one of the handsomest and largest seen here in many years. A peculiarity of this big maskinonge was that its head and gills were large enough, on general average for a fish of twice its size. It is likely that the fortunate captors will have the head mounted so as to be able, in years to come, point it out to their children or grandchildren as "That is a little maskinonge I got in Little Lake. It only weighed 74 pounds but still there was not much doing that day so I brought it home. That little lunge reminded me of one I caught with a rod and line in English's creek. They looked almost like brothers. The real reason I kept that head was that it after was weighed 127 1-2 pounds and I caught it with a bent safety pin and my coat was a bunch of hair I picked up in a barber shop that came from an Examiner reporter's head."

Charlotte Street Bridge Torn Down

Making Ready for New and Up-to-date Concrete Crossing

Mr. Harry Evans, the Street Commissioner, has a gang of men at work tearing up the bridge on Charlotte street, just beside the W. English Canoe Co. This work is being pushed forward rapidly and in most thorough manner. Even the old stone filled piers are being done away with. In fact two men were yesterday morning busily engaged in throwing the rocks from the centre of the creek to make a better escape for the water. It was suggested by a bystander that as these men lifted the stones they should collect the crawfish exposed and sell them to the visiting fishermen, thus bringing in a revenue to the city. The present bridge is to be replaced by a solid and substantial concrete structure. The reconstruction of this bridge will probably stop street car traffic for several days.

Ottawa, July 17.—Word received by Mr. W. G. Parmalee, Commissioner of Chinese at Victoria, indicates a heavy movement of Japanese Canadawards. During the last month there were 1,118 arrivals from the Flowery Kingdom, 913 being males and 205 females. Of these 791 will stay in Canada, while 327 were bound for the United States and Mexico.

THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE

A writer in one of the leading United States weeklies pleads for an American language. He thinks the country has grown big enough to have words and idioms of its own, for that is all he proposes. He does not suggest that new words should be formed, at least not more rapidly than there is a demand for them. We fear the greatest difficulty would be to suggest what should be adopted as the standards. For instance, would it be considered correct American to say: "I want you should go," as they do in some parts of the land wherein eternal vigilance is the price of liberty? Would it be deemed good American to say "we-uns" and "you-uns" as dialect story writers allege the people of large sections do? All Americans, or at least the majority of them, say "Between you and I." "It wasn't me," "He ain't, and like a good many Peterborough folk they nearly all say "at" when they mean 'ate.' Shall these things be recognized as proper in the American language. It is fair to the writer referred to say that he does not mention matters of that kind. He would confine his Americanization of English to such changes as can be made without dislocating the language entirely. He protests against the use of the word 'tram' when what is meant is 'car.' He prefers 'automobile to 'motor.' He would drop the letter "u" whenever it can be conveniently got rid of as in color, rigor, and so on. He has not yet screwable to get his courage up to write "expres" when he means "expressed" probably because his ear is able to distinguish between the two sounds, which President Roosevelt's is not.

We are very much of the opinion that there will be no American language. Our writer proves it in his own article, for he finds it necessary to protest against a return to the discarded spelling of colour, valour and the like, confessing that intercourse with England is overcoming the prejudice which once existed against that method of spelling. There will be differences in some respects between the language as spoken on the opposite sides of the Atlantic, but they will not be great. At least such differences will not com efrom the usage of the educated classes. In the course of time there will be pronounced local dialects in the United States, just as there are in England. Certain sections of New York city speak a dialect of their own. If a man accustomed only to the language of educated society, should happen to overhear a conversation in the "restricted" district of Seattle or some other western city, he could not understand what was said. He might even be puzzled to know just what is meant by some of the paragraphs in the sporting columns of well almost any American paper you may choose to name. We quote: "The Rochester boys piled up 17 hits, Jay Smith filled with four safe raps; Hickingbottom and Mullen for three each; McGeure, Coyel and Hilton copped one. The Rochester boys went up in the air in the third inning, when Chicago piled up four runs for one hit. They got sane after that, however, and played the game right." Again we are informed that the pitching of the Cubs "is shot full of holes." Another game ought to be a "hummer" because Feeney, the big southpaw and Woodworth, the foxy little box man, are to play. We are also informed that "th efat one is ridding his system of a lot of harsh stuff," the exact meaning of which some one else will have to give. Our guess is that "the fat one" has been making some rather strong observations. Here we have the American language in the making, and the careful observer may perhaps note a disposition to recur to the phraseology of the Red Indian, although with other words.

But while dialects will undoubtedly develop, in these days of close intercourse between all sections of the English race, the parent language will remain unchanged except through slow processes of time, and the changes will be general. England will accept American variants in pronunciation and significance of words and America will accept English variants but the Yorkshire ploughboy and the New Yor katreet gamin will continue to speak a tongue of their own.

There is something magnificent about the calm dignity with which Judge Dunne of San Francisco, pursued his course in sentencing the scoundrel mayor of that city in spite of the exasperating effrontery of the criminal and his counsel in interrupting his judgment, acts for which both of them would in this country have been committed to jail. The cehee that went up upon the delivery of the judgment, although it was altogether out of place in a court room, as were also the cameras which flashed at the same time, is a token that San Francisco is not an absolutely rotten city, and that there are saving elements in it. The convicted mayor promises to be again a candidate for his late office. If he is, he will furnish to the world a fine opportunity of testing the moral calibre of the final civilization of our continent in its freest and furthest development.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

Catholics Are After Ald. T. G. Rigney

Kingston, July 17.—A writer in the Canadian Freeman, the Roman Catholic organ here, upbraids Ald. T. G. Rigney for his action in participating in the Orange demonstration on July 12. Ald. Rigney, a leading Catholic lawyer, was in attendance at the mayor's office when the visiting Orange masters were welcomed, and then drove with fellow members of the council in a cab at the end of the procession. His conduct is severely censured by the Catholics. The Freeman's correspondent characterizes the whole thing as "an attempt to win political and professional success." It is declared that his action will be duly considered and proper action taken by the Catholic societies to which he belongs.

Str. Canada Torpedoed

IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION

Give Up Cosmetics And Seek The Cause of Your Bad Color.

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics? Sallowed skin and fallen in cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal.

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone.

Dainty looks came to Miss Vrooman, a well known resident of Belfast, from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all. Today my skin is clear and never gets that murky, dull appearance, it had before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also."

Not only the complexion, but every organ of the body is strengthened, cleansed and made healthy by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Buoyancy, vim and a feeling of vigor invariably follow their use. Sold in yellow boxes by all dealers; 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Colds on the Chest

Ask your doctor the medical name for a cold on the chest. He will say, "Bronchitis." Ask him if it is ever serious. Lastly, ask him if he prescribes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for this disease. Keep in close touch with your family physician, and follow his advice carefully.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Was the Calendar Wrong or Lost?

Tuesday night a seemingly belated celebration of the 12th of July was in evidence at the residence of Mr. Armstrong, to the rear of the Hunter street, No. 67, blacksmith shop, near the bridge. Quite a number of Mr. Armstrong's friends had gathered there and, from about 8.30 to 9.30 p.m., the strains, so crudely and often recognized as "The Glorious Twelfth," were rendered in lusty and synchronous time. A large number of people passing east and west via the bridge waited, en route, to listen to the emphatic tone and fortissimo key in which the "Gates of Derry," "Rise William," and other tunes were rendered by fifes and drums.

SIREN WATERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms — the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" waters will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

This is a straight Business Undertaking.

The Smelting of Ore is the safest and most profitable business in the world.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estimate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

ARE YOU READY

To take advantage of the best offer ever made in a Neveda Mine?

Read the following Facts:

This company owns 6 claims (160 acres) carrying rich deposits of gold, silver, copper and lead. Recent assays show values as follows:—

Number.	Gold	Silver.	Per Cent. Copper.	Per Cent Lead	Total.
1264	$8.26	1.20	6.44	——	$ 45 24
1268	10.13	——	——	——	10.13
1269	17.98	87 97	——	24.25	178.35
1270	6.30	.85	4.10	——	27.25
1271	3.06	trace	49.66	——	261 21
1272	4.13	trace	70.65	——	57.93
1275	3.09	trace	30.16	——	153.34

There has been over $5,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated, and to make preparations for this the company has ordered me to sell 100,000 shares of the treasury stock at 15c. per share, and last week I sold 12,500 shares so at this writing there is only 7,500 shares left at this price, and when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 25c per share.

The property is at Goldyke, Nev., owned by the Goldyke Consolidated Mining Co., and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $500. ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore, and as the stock is being rapidly subscribed your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order at once for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 15c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all money received will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 40 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the rich values of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 15c per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from 50 to 75c per share, so I consider the investor is lucky to get some of this stock at the present price, 15c.

CAP AND THE CAT.

By Judson Welles.

Copyright, 1907, by Homer Sprague.

Hank Hinman sat on the front porch and gazed frankly and longingly across the neat fence to where Matie Forman worked in the garden and apparently gave him no heed. Hinman had yet to find that a woman may look north or south and yet be seeing east or west.

Matie very much approved of Hinman's attitude. The hunched up shoulders spoke eloquently of the good effect of her training. As a rule, those shoulders were accustomed to swagger, and it was the swagger to which Matie had objected. Just because they were engaged she did not concede his right to order her about, and the engagement had been broken.

Now that he was in this frame of mind she was quite willing to make up, but naturally to let the overture come from her would be a tactical error, and it did not look as though Hank would ever be enough himself again to make the first move. She was rather sorry for him and just a tiny bit contemptuous.

This might have been the end of the story had it not been for Miss Marsden's cat. Hank hated Miss Marsden, her cat and all else that was hers. Having failed to acquire a proprietary right to a man in her younger days, she was revenging herself upon the sex by leading the women's rights movement in Carrsdale.

It was she who had inculcated these advanced notions in Matie, and Hank cordially hated her for it. Captain, Hank's dog, looked up, with wagging tail and appeal in his soft brown eyes. Hank nodded.

"Get her, Cap," he urged, but Captain needed no urging. With a yelp of delight he was off down the side of the plot. Susan (her full name was Susan B. Anthony) looked up to find retreat cut off. There were no trees in the Hinman front yard, and she made for the next lot. She scrambled through the wide set pickets, and Captain took the fence with a leap, landing against Matie, who was just planting a bulb. He precipitated her into the middle of the tulip bed. Then he dashed on in pursuit of the cat, now comfortably intrenched up an apple tree.

Hank sprang to Matie's rescue, but before he could leap the fence she had scrambled to her feet and was facing him, her face white with anger save for the red spots that glowed on either cheek.

"You set the dog on me," she declared, with a stamp of her foot. "I never thought that you could be so—so"—

"I didn't," defended Hank before she could find an adjective commensurate with the offense.

"You did," she contradicted. "I heard you. You said, 'Get her, Cap,' and then he"—

"Nothing of the sort," protested Hank hotly. "Old Miss Marsden's familiar spirit came over into my yard. Cap wanted a run, and I told him to get after her. She ran into your yard, and there she is now up a tree, just like her mistress should be."

Cap's canine entreaties to the cat to come down and be annihilated were too vociferous to be overlooked. Matie took a fresh tack.

"Anyhow," she sniffed, "you were cruel to dumb animals. That's bad enough."

"She's not a dumb animal," insisted Hank. "She's a demon in a cat's skin. I think she puts her mistress up to all these tricks."

"What tricks?" demanded Matie truculently.

"These women's rights things and all that. I heard her telling you the other night that it was traitorous to the cause to stand my bullying. I heard her. I wasn't bullying. I was telling you for your own good that Jim Sears was not a fit person for you to know."

"And because you think that she influenced me you are taking it out on a poor little kitten?"

"Kitten!" he scoffed. "She's no more a kitten than is Miss Marsden."

"We shall all be old some day," she reproved. "It is not Miss Emmy's fault."

"It's her fault that she's a meddlesome old maid," he persisted. It's her fault that she keeps a cat that is a thorn in the flesh of all her neighbors."

"I love her," announced Matie just to be contrary. Hank whistled, and Cap came to his side, carefully picking out the walks in his approach.

"A love of cats is the second stage of spinsterhood," he said stiffly. "If that's the way you are getting to feel I guess Cap and I had better be going home."

"You are perfectly hateful this morning," she groaned.

"That statement is beginning to look frayed on the edges," he reminded. "It is what you said last night, also day before yesterday."

"Well, you are," she repeated. "Here I was enjoying the nice morning, and you race your dog after a cat and spoil my flower beds. Then because I am naturally annoyed you tell me that I am a confirmed old maid."

"Only a second degree old maid," he reminded. "The third degree is corkscrew curls and a pointed chin. There is still hope for you."

"I am grateful that you concede anything," she said stiffly.

"I am nothing if not honest," he retorted.

"Not always," she insisted. "What you said about Jim Sears, for instance."

"He was arrested last night for running a dog fight last week. That was my kick. I knew about it when I spoke. Both dogs were killed."

"Perhaps you were right," she shuddered. "I didn't care about Jim Sears, but I did not like your dictatorial manner."

"Thanks to Miss Marsden," he contended. "I'll bet she told you that if you gave in before marriage you would encourage a tyrant husband."

"Who told you?" she asked quickly.

"No one. I just know how she talks. She knows everything about husbands except how to get one."

"It wasn't that I am guided by her," declared Matie, with a toss of her head. "But I think she was right. Anyhow, you had no right to take it out on the cat."

"But she kills my chickens."

"Susan? Impossible!"

"Impossible?" he echoed. "Why, she is the worst"— The sentence was broken short, for with a growl Cap started for the fence, just in time to collar Susan, who was trying to slip through. There was a scurry, a howl and the cat lay dead on the grass.

With a cry of anger Matie sprang forward, Hank following more slowly. It was not like Susan to get caught in this fashion. Usually she could beat the ponderous Newfoundland. Then Matie, who had been stooping over the cat, straightened up and patted Cap's head.

"Good old dog," she praised. "Nice old fellow."

"What is it?" cried Hank, bewildered by the sudden change. She held out a little ball of yellow.

"I was cleaning Dicky's cage," she explained, "and left him out on the porch. That horrid brute knocked over the cage and killed him."

"So that's why she couldn't make her get away," he murmured. "I knew she was too fast for Cap."

"I'll call the bird Cap," she promised. "And there won't be any horrid cat to kill him."

He glanced at the solitaire restored to her finger.

"And if Miss Marsden interferes we'll set Cap on her," he promised. "Come, Cap. Good old boy."

"Good old Cap," echoed Matie as she kissed the precious ring.

Money and Kisses.

A man living for the time being in Columbus and who is in the habit of giving his wife a generous roll of bills the first day of every month for her pin money complained the other day that she owed him $2.80 for acting as her caddie while on the golf links during a visit to the sunny south. She demurred, but asked if he would be willing to take the pay in kisses. Although a Benedict of long standing, he still adores his wife, and he agreed to this method of payment.

While they were at breakfast on the first day of the following month he drew out his pocketbook and began counting out various bills of large denomination, while she, with hand outstretched, waited eagerly for the roll, remarking that her last month's allowance was all spent.

"Wait a moment," he said. "I believe I'll give you kisses instead." And the money was stuffed back in his pocket, much to her dismay.

It is only fair to say, however, that later she received both money and kisses.—Columbus Dispatch.

Too Low!

A well known sportsman had become very tired of listening to a series of shooting yarns that some friends had been spinning. At last he launched his first and only story that night. "I went into a field one day to have a shot," he said. "The only game in sight was an immense flock of blackbirds. I should say there were 10,000 in the flock. I fired both barrels, and how many do you think I killed?" Different guesses were made, ranging from twenty to a hundred birds. "Not one," said the stranger, "but I went out to look for results and picked up thirty bushels of legs. I had shot a little too low."—Tatler.

Early Pottery.

One of the principal territories of the potters for centuries was Kingte Chin the finest pieces being made during the Ming dynasty. It is stated that the fine specimens were made with so much care that out of 200 pieces they would sometimes destroy 190. It is recorded in 1615 that a titled man in Japan had one of his attendants of rank whipped for breaking a cup and then sent to China at his own expense to buy another.

One Girl's Romance

Sarnia, July 17.—Last summer Miss Ethel Eddy married Frank Scarlata, an Italian. They went to Parkhill and to Chicago, and from each place came stories of maltreatment of the eighteen-year-old wife. Scarlata was recently held on an attempted murder charge in Port Huron, and now his wife's body has been found in the St. Clair. Grief apparently drove her to suicide.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

APPEARANCE

Is such an important feature on the table. It makes a heap of difference to the pleasure of the meal whether you have a good or a poor looking Sugar on the table.

St. Lawrence Extra Granulated Sugar

is the whitest and best looking Sugar to be had and besides it has the advantage of being the best quality and greatest strength.

SINKING SENSATIONS IN THE STOMACH.

Do They Affect You?

These unpleasant feelings of weakness and collapse indicate that the sympathetic nervous system is out of order.

The cause is impairment of nerve tone, arising from failure of the stomach to perform its work.

Acute indigestion follows and the natural result is mental depression, and a feeling of collapse and extreme weakness.

The best, because the quickest and surest cure, is Ferrozone.

It acts at once upon the digestive and assimilative organs—it fortifies the stomach—makes the blood nourishing, gives it a rich, red color, the best evidence of health.

"For ten years I suffered acutely from stomach trouble," writes Mr. Maxwell Thompson, of Tyledo, "I always had a headache and full feeling after meals. My appetite was poor, and I didn't relish food. It was all due to a weak, defective stomach. I read about Ferrozone and ordered six boxes from my druggist. It was no time at all before I felt much better, and when all the Ferrozone was used I really took a new lease of life. I am stronger, brighter, and feel more like work than before trying Ferrozone. It is a splendid tonic, the best I ever used."

Ferrozone is unrivalled in curing stomach ailments, try it and be convinced. Sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

Mr. Dumble's Action Endorsed

Magistrate Dumble whilst against all kinds of illicit work, seems, very properly, to take a strong stand against such when the wrong-doing beastess too "rawl" He has the sympathy of the respectable element of the city and county in this matter.

Former Local Man Here

Rev. Jas. Campbell, a brother of the late Dr. Robert Campbell, whose death occurred in Buffalo some months ago, has arrived in the city from California, and yesterday left for Douro on a visit to his brother, Mr. John H. Campbell. (Rev. Mr. Campbell has not been in Peterborough for about 30 years. Still quite a number of Mr. Campbell's former friends recognized him and gave him the "glad hand."

Newmarket Kickers Squelched

The following, which appeared in the Toronto News, should put a gag on the Newmarket squealers;

"Referee Waghorne reports that the game in Peterborough was not as rough as reported. He states, "while the game was rought at times, the offenders were promptly penalized. Nine Peterborough men were sent to the fence and three Newmarket men. All the men on both teams with one exception, finished the game, which would tend to the belief that the 'slaughter' was not as great as has been depicted."

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

—Messrs. A. Y. Emerson, J. M. Carroll and A. Maynes, Toronto, are guests at the White House.

—Mr. David Crowe of Hall's Glen, was in the city yesterday on his way home after spending almost two years in the vicinity of Regina.

—Mr. A. C. Bell of Boston, a son of Dr. Bell one of Lakefield's best known citizens, who has been spending a month in the city, left last night for Toronto. Mr. Bell travels for the well known wholesale drug firm of Hess Co., Rochester.

—Dr. F. L. Robinson has added a fine matched pair of brown cob horses aged four and five years to his livery equipment. The team was purchased from Mr. W. Dean of Otonabee township.

Reid Street Bridge Finished

The bridge on Reid street, across the creek, in the vicinity of Wm. Hamilton's foundry, has been finished under the direction of Street Commissioner Evans. Yesterday a number of men were at work cleaning up around the structure, and already half is ready for traffic. The commissioner states that the whole bridge will be opened in a few days.

Port Hope Needs Houses

The Port Hope Guide says:—That Port Hope needs a number of small comfortable dwellings was clearly demonstrated last evening. The immigrants who arrived yesterday wandered aimlessly about town unable to secure a place of abode. At six o'clock the new arrivals were looking for some place to rest. The officers of the Salvation Army came to their assistance and they were treated to an open-air lunch on the green.

False Fire Alarm Fools

Still another fool lives, although that family is legion. The latest addition to the great fool family is the man or boy who on Tuesday night sent in a fire alarm when no fire existed, and gave the firemen an unnecessary run. Alarm box number 35 at the corner of Hunter and Park streets, was the spot where this particular idiot got in his work. The alarm rang about 11 o'clock and the firemen were promptly on the spot a few minutes later.

At The Mill Of Justice

At yesterday's session of the Police Court R. H. Tile was charged with having been drunk on July 16. R. H. admitted the soft impeachment and was fined $2 with $5.75 costs, said to be paid forthwith. A friend of Tile's came to his aid with the simoleons, thus saving the prisoner from spending 15 days on the heights of Victoria Park.

The next case was that of Harry Sedgen who was charged with vagrancy. Mr. Gordon appeared for the prisoner. A local scribe went into the witness box and said Sedgen could work if he would. Mr. Gordon explained that his client had taken to himself a wife, but had trouble over some notes. He then went on a spree. The Magistrate allowed him to go this time, adding "You will get your medicine next time."

The two women, Mrs. Davey and Miss Whittaker, and the two men, Cannon and Harry Thompson, were in court for sentence, after being found guilty of keeping a house of ill repute. Mr. Gordon asked that the women be allowed to go on their promise to leave town and that one of the men, a client of his, had a job open at the Cordage Co. His Worship, however, handed out a dose that was not palatable to those affected. Each of the women was given a year in the Mercer Institute, Toronto. The man Cannon was given three months in the county jail at hard labor and a $50 fine. Should the fine not be paid Cannon will have to put in three months more at Castle Nesbitt. Harry Thompson was given the option of paying a $20 fine or spending a month in the same local place of detention.

Alfred Pittsburg, Ernest Emmerson and David Smith were charged with having been disorderly in a public place on July 8th. Emmerson pleaded guilty while the others replied, "Not guilty." P. C. Newnall was at Jackson Park on the date named. The three men threw grass and dirt against people looking at the moving pictures. There were four together and they used fine language. Emmerson, at the request of Pittsburg, went into the box and said that he and one other threw grass. They used no bad language, only some slang expressions. The Magistrate found them guilty, remarking, "It is a shame that decent people cannot go out and enjoy an evening at the park without being bothered by hoodlums." He fined them each $2 with $1.50 costs in every case. The fines were paid.

A young married man was charged with non-support of his wife and family. His wife went into the box and told a pitiable tale of neglect and drunkenness. She has four little children and is in a delicate state of health again. The Magistrate gave the prisoner a heart to heart talk and told him to cut out the whiskey and look after his family. If this man ever comes before the court again it will be Central Prison for his.

William Richards was charged with having been drunk on July 9th. He was tried on this charge a week ago. His wife is in jail at present. The Magistrate said "You and your wife are public nuisances. I will let you go this time, if you ever appear here again you will go to Central Prison for a long term."

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, improved by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

—Magistrate D. W. Dumble whilst not as large in stature as a few other men are, has a mind that overbalances such discrepancies and displayed yesterday that the morals and decency of Peterborough must be maintained at any cost. "More power to his elbow!"

—It is said that Mr. C. Poussette dreamt last night that he was hauling in a whale and this fish (?) turned to him, whilst being landed, and remarked, "Say Court, what spite have you got at me! Don't you know I put Jonah ashore before that trip I took to Brazil!"

—Mr. S. Seymour representing the Toronto Globe is in the city looking after the subscription branch of that great journal. Mr. Seymour says The Times a fraternal call and noted that The Globe is now running its presses at full speed, full time, and that he is kept busy sending in new subscriptions.

—Market Clerk McIlmoyle was yesterday seen, at about the noon hour reclining on a sack of the weigh scales. In response to a question Mr. McIlmoyle said, "What's the use? The action of the council or police about bringing innocent farmers' wives to the police court has killed my business!"

—The moonlight excursion on Friday evening per steamr Otonabee will be a rare treat. Good programme and a sail down thir river several miles for only 25 cents. Proceeds in aid of Children's Aid Society and Sick Children's Hospital. Boat leaves Wolf Street Wharf at 7.30 and Street Railway at eight. Don't fail to buy your ticket and avoid the rush. Tickets for sale at all bookstores.

The Board of Works Busy

The Board of Works Committee of the City Council met last night to consider a number of items of business. Among other things the petition that has been circulated for a pool bridge across the C.P.R. bridge from the station to east ward was considered. Full particulars given on front page.

Who Won The Douro Prizes?

As foreshadowed in these columns the drawing for the gold piece, given for competition at the Douro picnic, has at last taken place. Mr. T. J. Dean of Norwood, was declared the lucky winner. The gold watch and chain donated to the young lady who sold the greatest number of tickets, was won by Miss Johanna Allen, a daughter of Mr. John R. Allen of Douro. Miss Allin sold $106 worth of tickets. Miss Maggie Sullivan was second, her record having been $83.

Fine Russian Wolf Hound Here

Dr. Poole the Water street veterinary surgeon has imported a thoroughbred Russian wolf hound. This is one of the handsomest canines, of its kind, in Canada, and its ancestry traces back direct to the Imperial kennels of the Russian Emperor. This dog stands about two feet high. The body is white and the long, intelligent head is black. The tail is bushy, almost as full in hair as that of a fox. Taken in its totality ensemble, this dog is one that would command attention from any one who saw attention from anyone who sees it.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strengthgiver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, NERVOUS, Weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

Street Cars May Not Be Stopped

Since writing an article for today's issue in which one of our representatives noted that the alteration of the Charlotte street bridge would involve stoppage of the street car service along that street for a few days, we have ascertained from Mr. Larmuth that whilst such stoppage is possible, it is highly improbable. The Street Car Company has built a permanent right of way across the creek covered by this bridge. Still the exigencies of the occasion may impel the stoppage of a day or two of street car service.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

THE JAPANESE QUESTION

In the British Colonies as Well as in the United States—Grave Forbodings of London Papers

London, July 17.—The weekly reviews comment gravely upon the Japanese-American situation. They express relief that the immediate tension appears to have been relieved, but they foresee that it is not impossible, in the more or less distant future, that the same problem should confront Great Britani that now confronts the United States.

A London paper contains an article in which, although it dismisses the idea that war between Japan and the United States is wholly incredible, it admits with reluctance that the situation contains many elements of anxiety, saying it is almost inevitable that there should come a conflict, some time or other, out of the Anglo-Saxon resistance to the landing of Japanese immigrants in the territories bordering the Pacific Ocean. The colonists of Australasia, Africa and Canada are as anxious as the people of California to exclude the yellow races.

With all respect towards Japan, the Spectator is unable to withhold its sympathy from the colonists. It says circumstances have forced the Americans to be the pioneers in working out the problems, but it is impossible to foresee how soon another series of accidents may not bring Great Britain face to face with similar difficulties. Consequently the paper expresses the most earnest hope that the British public and press will do the utmost in their power to assist in the promotion in a peaceful and enduring solution of the American-Japanese problem, the government by the tactful influence of an ally and the press by the avoidance of any comment that might prove to be an embarassing precendent in the future.

"With all sympathy and admiration for Japanese aspirations and the Japanese themselves, we must admit," the Review concludes, "that Great Britain's first and last duty is to her own flesh and blood."

Life May Be Prolonged

German Scientist Says He Has at Last Discovered Secret

London, July 18.—Inoculate the graybeard and make a toddler. Dr. Wolfgang Reichardt, a German physician, thinks he has found it. He made a number of guinea pigs work continuously on a sort of miniature treadmill until they dropped dead from exhaustion. Then from the fagged muscles of these animals a juice or sap was extracted and when this substance was injected into the blood of healthy guinea pigs they began to show all the signs and symptoms of extreme exhaustion and died in from thirty to fifty hours as if from overwork. Dr. Reichardt followed up his experiments and proved that a small quantity of the fatigue poison, as he calls it, when injected into the veins of a healthy animal acts as an antitoxin against fatigue. If it be true that old age, as Meichnikoff says, is the work of certain cells which he calls microphags, which attack the brain, liver, kidneys, etc., and if, again, as Dr. Snyder remarks, old age is in some sense merely accumulated fatigue, then the possible bearing of these experiments upon the future of the human race becomes vaguely apparent.

No Uniforms, No War

'Abolish the Gay Clothes and Peace Will Reign, Says British Officer

New York, July 18.—"Abolish uniforms and you will abolish war." Such is the remarkable dictum of Colonel the Earl of Euston, provisional grand master of the Order of Knights Templar in England, who, as the representative of King Edward, attended the grand encampment of the knights held last week at Saratoga.

"I have an idea that war can and will be abolished," he said. "Only one obstacle will stand in the way of peace when the small powers are wiped out and the great ones share the world between them The obstacle may be summed up in one word 'uniforms!' We are not yet educated above them. Man ardently desires a uniform, women ardently admires it. Were we to abolish uniforms, the abolition of war would follow as surely as day succeeds night.

"For countless centuries the horrors of war have been cloaked in purple and scarlet, in splendid armor and shining uniforms. Let the weak races, whose continued existence offends the moral sense of the strong, be swept away, let uniforms be abolished and a fresh peace conference decide that pajamas and skull caps are to be the costumes of all grades of soldiery, and within a generation war will be as scarce as snow in August."

GOOD SPECIMEN OF ANCIENT FISH FOUND

Extraordinary Sample of Long Deceased Link Between Animal and Vegetable Kingdom Found

Yesterday morning as the workmen employed by the city, in charge of Commissioner Harry Evans, were digging out a new and enlarged water way for the creek that runs from north to south, at Charlotte street, just to the west of the White House, a piece of limestone was turned up that caught attention from a Times man standing nearby the operations. This piece of limestone, was about two inches thick and some fourteen inches broad.

Now The Times man whilst no mologist of any standing; Still, the specimen unearthed demanded serious attention from any one with a smattering of pre-historic knowledge. The stone in question was, on its surface, flat. There was a distinctly marked remains of some pre-historic animal. The Times man consulted several local scientists to learn what in ——'s name this fossilized remains belonged to. Fortunately for The Times man, ex-Mayor Roger happened along. In response to questions put this specialist in petrefactology, at once recognized the petrefaction produced us that of an "Inchromite." (We do not guarantee the spelling.) Ex-Mayor Roger then went on, by request, to explain that, a few thousand years ago, when the process of evolution was in its infancy, and the vegetable world was being transformed to the animal kingdom, one link in this important chain of evolution was that of the "Inchromite." Now we do not guarantee as stated before, the correct spelling of this antediluvian beast of growth.

Still the specimen discovered by The Times man was of possibly international interest. The piece of limestone referred to was about 11 inches across with a thickness of, say, two and a half inches. Across the entire length of this stone would be probably about one foot or possibly more. Across the whole surface of the stone ran a marked ridge showing the distinct outlines of the back bone of a fish or some other member of that class or mammal. The Times man and Mr. Evans, on finding this important addition to the up-to-date findings of Canada's scientific discoveries, at once took a hammer and other tools to get the fossilized remains of petrefaction separated. The stone showed perfect and easily removed parts of the back bone.

It was decided, agreeing with Mr. Rogers that 'this was an antediluvian creature as perfect as when, possibly, 50 centuries ago the creature passed away. When the hammer was applied the 16-inch fossil came away but unfortunately, in pieces, the longest of which were only about two inches in length. Great care was taken whilst trying to release these fossil remains from the stone matrix retaining them. The matrix showed as perfect traces of the remains as though a stone had been thrown into a body of hot lead and then removed.

Mr. Roger explained that the creature whose petrified remains were found was of the name as given above and that it was, in the then process of evolution a connecting link between the animal and vegetable world. Mr. Roger has a perfect specimen of the head of one of these long gone "missing links" in his possession.

Girl Foils A Plot To Flee

Made a confident by Boy Prisoner, She Balks Plan to Escape

Youngstown, O., July 19. — A girl prisoner at the county jail prevented a wholesale jail delivery last night.

Edward Baker, aged fourteen years, who is waiting to be taken to the Boys' School, confided to her, that he had planned to climb over the cage leading to the jail, and when the turnkey was about to enter, hit him on the head with a piece of gas pipe.

When a favorable opportunity presented itself the girl told the turnkey of the plot. The pipe was found in the lad's cell.

Fears The Kidnappers

Special Detectives Guard Two Boys Who Will Inherit Large Fortune

London, July 19.—Telegrams from Windsor say that Lady Naylor-Leyland, widow of Sir Herbert Scarisbrick Naylor-Leyland, and a daughter of William Selah Chamberlain, of Cleveland, Ohio, fearing for the safety of her two sons, Sir Albert and George, who are students at Eton, has employed three detectives to guard the boys day and night.

The young men will inherit a large fortune at the age of twenty-one. This fact, it is alleged, has aroused the jealousy of relatives and Lady Naylor-Leyland fears they might be kidnapped.

Lady Naylor-Leyland declined to discuss the report, but said the matter was in the hands of her solicitor, Sir George Lewis.

Great War Airshid Tried

German Government Tested Craft With Great Secrecy at Night

Berlin, July 18.—A Berlin correspondent writes that the trial of the government airship, built under the supervision of Captain Von Kroh, was conducted recently with great secrecy, the experts going to a secluded spot at night. The gas-bag was kept aloft four hours and seemed to be under perfect control, at an average speed of forty-five kilometers an hour.

The greatest advantage of the airship lies in the stability of the cigar-shaped gas bag, which is obtained by two inner balloons, one at each end of the ship, which are inflated from gas machines on the platform. The airship can circle for hours within the space of a square mile at a height of 1,700 yards. The platform contains room for six men, two quick-firing guns and an apparatus to throw explosives into the lines of the fortifications of the enemy. Weights running along the shaft over the heads of the operators are used in balancing the ship after the discharge of explosives or ballast from any part of the platform.

Of the two motors of light but powerful construction, only one is operated, the other being the reserve for an emergency. Captain Hildebrandt, whose balloon is being built for the St. Louis race for the international cup, was one of the spectators at the trials and is enthusiastic over the result.

Great Work Done By Chief Roszel

Our Efficient Chief of Police Recovers Watch Held Under Suspicious Circumstances

Yesterday afternoon as Chief of Police Roszel was passing along George street, the suspicious actions of a boy at once attracted his attention. The boy in question was trying to dispose of a silver watch at a local jewellery store. The chief at once made enquiries and investigations. The boy and his sister had purchased the watch in Millbrook, and had given it to him for sale. For the protection of the public, and by request of Chief Roszel, we might say that the silver watch in question has 17 jewels, has the name across the dial of John Steele, Millbrook, and is stamped No. 12,711,012. It is up to the owner now to identify his property.

Mr. E. P. Attrill Has Passed Away

Centenarian Known Here Succumbs to Accident

The many friends of Mr. T. P. Attrell and his sister Mrs. Durand, of Water street, will extend their most sincere sympathy on the death of Mr Edward P. Attrill, the Goderich man, who was severely injured by falling from a hammock at Chemong a week ago last Sunday.

Mr. Attrill, we regret to say passed away yesterday at the Nicholls hospital.

It will be remembered that the deceased was staying at the cottage of his sister, Mrs. Barton, at Chemong, and on Sunday, July 7th, and received severe injuries by falling from a hammock. Mr. Attrill's spine was severely injured. He was taken to Nicholls hospital the same night. Everything was done for him, but he gradually sank until death came at noon yesterday. Deceased was a son of the Late H. Y. Attrill of Goderich, and is survived by one brother and two sisters. He was 56 years of age and unmarried. His home was at Goderich, where he was highly esteemed.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, as Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. HEART-BREAKING TASK FINISHED

Tons of Debris Removed By The Handful

HEROIC BAND OF RESCUERS

Worked Under Blazing Sun for Hours Before Mangled Remains of Miss Mullen Could be Reached

London, July 18.—There were not the same scenes enacted about the ruins on Dundas street yesterday, but to the devoted band of rescuers their self-allotted task was even more trying and heart-breaking than before. With a hot sun beating pitilessly upon their poor unprotected and half-bucked backs the heroes toiled manfully against almost insuperable odds.

Tons upon ton of debris they removed by hand or by instruments more or less crude and slowly they crept inch by inch towards the mangled body of Miss Mullin. Time and again a huge pile of debris sifted back into the hole made by the workmen much in the same manner as a hole in the sand fills with each incoming wave. A false move threatened at every stage to precipitate the menacing thick of mortar, bricks and stone upon the little band beneath, and only by preserving the greatest caution did they make any progress.

THE WORK SEEMED ENDLESS.

The merciless rays of the sun and agonizing thought of the poor crushed shell beneath combined to make some of the workers almost delirious. Only the frequent changes and relays saved the workers from an utter collapse. Probably fifty to sixty of them were wearily toiling to reach the battered body beneath, and at times it was almost maddening when the sides of that awful tunnel continued to feed the hole beneath. The workers would lift perhaps a handful, perhaps a shovelful of debris but for every piece that was lifted out another seemed to slide down. It seemed for hours as if they might as well try to sweep back the mighty ocean tide, but heroism like they displayed could not go unrewarded forever, and slowly but surely the exhausted workers made headway.

For hours it looked as if they could never lift the debris in the dressmaker basement until the Hamilton & Long and Reid buildings had been cleared. Blinded by the dust, choking and gasping for breath, and almost overcome by the excessive heat, they would occasionally stagger to the street, grimy, dirt-stained, some bleeding from small wounds. A bedraggled-looking crowd they were indeed, but heroes every one.

FORCED TO REST.

It was a task to make even the strongest men quail, but they never hesitated until tired nature exerted itself, and they were forced to climb with halting steps weakly from the ruins, with every nerve aching and every muscle crying them the greatest pain. Sometimes they had to be assisted out, but they generally went back again after a few minutes' rest. Coffee, cooling drinks and wiches and bottle stimulation were provided, and they all drank freely or ate hungrily when they scented momentarily from their hunger task. Many of them as they became exhausted, quietly slipped away around on adjacent corners and were not seen again until mid-day when they returned to again proceed to the work of rescue. A sight that made the pedestrian will not soon shake from it cooling shade trees, and inside the streets like unto a fiery furnace, and two tetrots for those doing the rescue, and the city should never forget their efforts.

After Miss Mullin was rescued they were ordered away, but many were loth to leave the spot. But they were assured that there were no more bodies in the ruins, and were finally persuaded to go, the firemen, who have been doing noble work, perhaps to their duty at the hall, while the others have melted away, east, west, north and south, tired but happy in the knowledge of a great humane work nobly, heroically done.

Local Man Hurt Near Port Arthur

Charles Sullivan Injured in a Railway Accident

Mr. Chas. Sullivan, formerly with Cottingham's barber shop, George street, but now at Fort William, has had an accident. It seems that Mr. Sullivan last Sunday was riding on a car from Port Arthur, when the car jumped the track running into a tree. Sullivan had his shoulder broken. He only got out of the hospital yesterday.

FIFTEEN MORE FOR THE LEGISLATURE

The Principles Which The Government Will Probably Follow In The Redistribution Bill

Toronto, July 18. — Preparations are shaping towards the appeal to the province by the Whitney Administration early in the autumn, next year. The Provincial elections will, it is reported, take place at the end of September, or during the early part of October, 1908. They may follow the completion of the harvest of that year.

The government, it is said, has practically decided that only one more session of the legislature will be held. This, of course, will meet in the early days of next year, and promises to be an exceptionally long and busy one. Among the important government measures to be submitted will be extensive reforms along the line of public and separate school legislation, and the consideration of the reduced prices of the new text books. A big program affecting the development of New Ontario is likely to be forthcoming. Important prison labor legislation will follow the work of the special legislative committee recently appointed. The attorney-general will submit the report of the committee on the revision of the statutes and his long-looked-for measure of law reform.

Moreover the Redistribution Bill will be brought down.

This bill will be much less radical in its changes than has been supposed. It is said that the prime minister, Hon. Mr. Whitney, has taken strong grounds against any wholesale gerrymander for purely party purposes. County lines will be closely followed, and where counties are sub-divided municipal or natural geographical lines must be observed.

An appeal for 105 members in Toronto will probably be denied. An understanding has been reached, it is thought, whereby the representation of the Queen City will be doubled within the present constituencies. The four ridings will each elect two members, instead of one, as at present.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of lands, forests and mines, will emphatically urge increased representation for northern Ontario. It is believed he thoroughly concurs in the plea, as many of the northern residents that they are entitled to more members. The ground is taken that it is unjust alike to members and constituents for a man to be called upon to properly and personally represent the people of a district extending hundreds of miles in length.

Throughout the rural constituencies comparatively little change is anticipated—in southwestern Ontario there is likely to be practically none.

It is anticipated that the government will confer with the individual members at the end of the present year, prior to the introduction of the bill, which will be committed to a special legislative committee composed of members on both sides of the house. The members will likely utilize the coming four months in determining upon their recommendations.

A total increase of about fifteen seats is predicted if the bill goes through according to the present outline of principles to be followed in its framing.

Coffin Plate Dug Up At Armouries

The Times was yesterday handed a sad reminder of man's mortality. This was a coffin plate made of tin, that was dug up yesterday by those excavating for the new armouries. The plate, which is pretty much worn around the edges, still retains the inscription as legible as the day it was printed. It contains the words, "James Condon, died April 27th, 1857, aged 15 years."

He Gives a Reason For His Statement

What a Coal Man Says About Coal Prices

The Hamilton Spectator says:

"The unusual story in the price of coal for the coming winter has been started. One of the leading dealers in the city when spoken to this morning said that he did not consider that the question should bother people very much. It was true that coal was a little dearer now than at the same time last year and that the price was a little in advance in other parts of the country, but the advance in prices was not due to a shortage of the dealers. To his knowledge there was plenty of coal in the city. There might be an advance on it about the first of September but that would only be an advance of a quarter the present price.

"If Hamiltonians have used a little more than last year and a little more in other parts of the country it is said that 'Coal might be saved' and that how would people of the Ambition City like to pay Pottsville coal prices.

A SMALL SECRET

Couldn't Understand the Taste of his Customers

Two men were discussing the various food products now being supplied in such variety and abundance.

"Does a grocer ever," I frequently ask a package of some new breakfast delicacy I am offering it to my trade, and in the 495 sometimes form a different idea than my customers have.

For instance, I thought I would try some Postum Food Coffee to see what reason there was for such a call for it. At breakfast I didn't like it and supper I disliked it more, so I naturally concluded that my taste was different from that of the customers who bought it right along.

A day or two after, I waited on a lady who was buying a 25c package and told her I couldn't understand how one could fancy the taste of Postum.

"I know just how you feel," she said. "You put the entire boiler on the stove for just fifteen minutes, and ten minutes of that you simmered, and perhaps five minutes it boiled, now if you will have it left to boil for fifteen minutes after it commences to boil, you will find a delicious beverage, rich in food value of gluten and phosphates, so choke that you will never abandon it, particularly when you see the great gain in health. Well, I took another trial and sure enough I joined the Postum army for good and life seems worth living since I have gotten rid of my old stomach and kidney troubles."

Postum is no sort of medicine, but pure liquid food, and this, together with relief from coffee worked the change. "There's a Reason."

Foresters' Excursion A Great Success

Many Citizens Went to Toronto and Niagara Falls

The Forester's Excursion to Toronto and Niagara Falls yesterday morning was a huge success. When the train pulled into the C.P.R. depot there were about four hundred people waiting, and these packed the coaches to their limit. Arrangements were made however, to put more cars on at Burketon, so that the journey would be made in comfort from that point on. When Toronto was reached the crowd divided, some staying in the city, but it was such a pleasant day that the majority took the trip across the lake to Niagara and the electric cars to Niagara Falls and Victoria Park. On their return, those who got back last night were unanimous in saying they had "the time of their lives."

Latest News In Lindsay Forgeries

It Seems That the Alleged Forgers in Scugogville are no Amateurs

A Lindsay despatch says:—Police investigation into the Lindsay counterfeiting case is now centering about the manufacture and circulation of Dominion Bank and Bank of Montreal notes in this section some years prior to the recent discovery of the manufacture of Trader Bank notes.

It is in connection with the trouble two years ago that George Miller, an employee of the Lindsay Watchman Warder office is held.

Some idea of the extent of the operations of the gang is had from the finding of 180 $5 Traders Bank notes upon Archibald Bryson and Richard Wynn, the old man arrested in the Soo and brought down on Monday. Also the same number it is claimed was handed over to John Eveleigh, the bricklayer caught in Montreal, and upon whose statement all the others were taken into custody.

Robert Logie, the farmer who was stopped in Toronto with the ticket for Black Rock upon him, was on the police case in Montreal with Eveleigh when the latter was taken into custody for passing the bad bills, the two lots representing $2000 in counterfeit bills.

Eveleigh left Montreal in charge of Provincial Detective J. F. Rogers. All the prisoners will be further remanded tomorrow until Monday, when the crown is expected to get and reveal some of the evidence they have on their possession.

Constable Osborn of the Soo, a former Lindsay man, is assisting Dominion Detective Parkinson here today. Although the two prisoners were well acquainted with Osborn, neither of them recognized him on the way down.

AERONAUT IN MIDAIR BURNED

Shot Like Meteor From Ascension of 5,000 Feet

Feet, Face, Hands and Neck Were Scorched—Landed in a Crowd of Souvenir Fiends

Passaic, N.J., July 15.—Edward Redmond, a[illegible] expert [illegible] with Leo Stevens' balloon [illegible] No. 401 West 26th [illegible], New York City, was burned by the explosion of a smoke [illegible] during a successful ascension at Hillside Park, Belleville, yesterday. Raymond is in the general hospital. His feet, legs, hands, face and neck are severely burned. His eyebrows and lashes and much of the hair on his head are also burned off.

Raymond's trip yesterday afternoon was his first this season. "Johnny" Mack, who usually handles the ascension at Hillside, [illegible] the towers of the park that the balloon not arrive in time to make the ascension. Raymond consented to take his place. Ten minutes before the ascension Mack arrived, but Raymond was permitted to make the flight. This is the story he tells about it:

THE MORTAR EXPLODED.

"The balloon went up all right. When I thought I was high enough I lit the fuse with my cigar and waited for the common discharge. The cannon is elaborately mounted and is twenty feet long. I lie in the cannon on my back, just as I lay in bed. The only hole through which I can see is where the fuse is. The cannon is ten feet long and runs through a small hole in front of my face, the bottom of the cannon reaching the mouth. It rubs to the mortar, a smoking pot. Its weight is fifty pounds. When it lights it shoots off the same way as a sky-rocket does—out one way. The mortar pot rests between my ankles, and has a solid brick so that it cannot shoot back. At my head is my parachute all bundled up. In one hand I hold a knife. This is to cut the rope which is attached to the balloon from the foot of the cannon."

The ascension yesterday was all right, but the mortar exploded. Sir. Raymond said: "My feet, face, hands and neck were burned by it, but I kept cool, and cut the rope in the usual way. I was five thousand feet in the air, and could see water below me. It must have been unbearable for fully ten minutes. The parachute was full of holes made by the explosion. I landed on the ground, I don't know where it was, but I remember seeing logs, where a tree had been cut down. I am told that it was in Nutley.

"When I landed I tore everything from my body. My tights were burning, and so was the parachute and the American flag which I had on my breast. The flag was given to me by President William McKinley at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. Hundreds of people were by me when I dropped, and they rushed to get souvenirs. The [illegible] as though of lead pencils, was taken from my [illegible] the crowd. They tore it to shreds. The parachute was the only [illegible] I don't see how I escaped. The parachute didn't work when I struck the air.

DOCTOR IGNORED HIM.

Raymond says that a doctor present for refused to attend him, saying that Raymond had no right to go up in a balloon. Raymond says he was in his private car when he received the ambulance. The doctors say that unless complications set in the wounds will soon recover. Hundreds were on the ground at the time of the ascension. Some people were injured in the rush. Among the injured was Mrs. Raymond, who fainted. Raymond has had other narrow escapes in Hagerstown, Md., two years ago he fell into a [illegible] factory yard. One leg was broken. He was for months in the hospital.

Philanthrophic Trip An Assuted Success

Church Ladies Hold Outing per Str Otonabee

The moonlight excursion down the river this evening promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The outing held under the auspices of a committee of young ladies from the leading churches and the proceeds are in aid of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society and the Sick Children's Hospital. The steamer Otonabee will leave Wolfe street wharf at 7.30 and will call at the Ashburnham and Street Railway wharves. A photograph of the Otonabee will be taken by Mr. R. M. Are You Often Bilious?

Read This and Learn How to Prevent Attacks.

Biliousness is merely a term applied to a condition that exists when the body is over-loaded with bile.

The complexion turns yellow, eyes look dull, pimples, itching and eczema break out, headaches are ever present.

Biliousness has two great causes, constipation and defective liver action.

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken they not only correct the bowels, but act directly on the liver, regulating its bile secretion.

Unlike ordinary medicines which purge and give temporary relief, Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the conditions which cause biliousness; thus permanent cures are effected.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure biliousness and liver ills under all circumstances.

We prove this by the statement of Mr. Fenwick Luddington, of New Harbor, N.S., who writes: "Three months ago I had no expectation of ever getting free from periodical bilious attacks. They were preceded by dizziness and dreadful headaches. If I stooped over my head would swim and a nauseous feeling crept into my stomach.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills fixed up my liver, drove all the bile out of my blood and made me a well man in a few months. Today I enjoy a good appetite, excellent digestion, and the best of health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. Sold by all dealers; 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Brantford, Conn, U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

IMPLEMENTS OF FRAUD

A fresh catalogue recently picked up in a hotel throws light upon an industry of a very interesting kind, says the Toronto Star recently under the above heading. A Chicago firm advertises that it manufactures cards, dice, and gambling outfits of every description, including some devices to fleece the unsuspecting public. "A word regarding loaded dice" is the attractive heading of one of the announcements. The reader is informed that it is essential that the weight be perfect, and the dice must roll like fair dice. Anyone can put a load in a dice to plug it, but it takes years of patience and skill to acquire the knack of making dice to act perfectly; come exactly for what is desired; and yet roll like a fair dice." Slight imperfections in language will, we are sure, be pardoned in view of the greatness of the object. "This is your chance to clean up all the money in your neighborhood, and you might as well get it as anyone else," says the writer, with homely wisdom and force.

You can also buy transparent dice that will defy detection. Or, if you want something more elaborately scientific, there is a magnet that can be hidden under the table, and connected with a current. "In order to make a big throw, all that you have to do is to press the secret squeeze, and throw the dice over the spot where the magnet is concealed, and you can beat almost any throw that your opponent might make, and this with the same dice he uses, without any plugging of dice or box. You just put the dice into a box and toss them out in a careless and natural manner."

A contrivance called a "haldout" seems to hold out fascinating possibilities of turning a dishonest penny. "It fits in the vest near the top, and requires an unnatural movements to work. Is worked by the foot, and cannot possibly be detected, working easily and without noise, and with a true 'snack' that gives and takes perfectly. This is a hard one to go against.

There are also face agents, roulette wheels, marked cards and various other devices for getting the money of the unwise—not all so palpably fraudulent as the loaded dice.

It seems hardly possible that such a business can be carried on in Chicago and advertised in this manner without the connivance of the authorities. The firm evidently has some customers in Canada, and the postal authorities and detectives might be able to put a stop to their operations here.

So many warnings have been given not to enter into so-called games of chance with strangers that further advice seems superfluous. But it might be well for them to realize that a regular trade is done not only in swindling them, but in manufacturing and selling the instruments of robbery. The manufacturer is evidently proud of his products, and describes their excellent qualities in language as loving and unctuous as if he were putting a breakfast food on the market.

AMERICANS BECOME BRITISH

Large numbers of people from the United States are not only crossing the border line and taking up land in Canada, but they come to stay, and become good British subjects, as all who get their living here should, says The Kingston News under the above caption. Statistics collected on this point by The Winnipeg Free Press [illegible] Press goes [illegible] five years, "with a jump back," it says, "it does not seem necessary to go [illegible] to find that the census of 1901 showed that there were in the Dominion 67,000 residents of United States origin who had taken out naturalization papers and become Canadian citizens, and 40,000 who had not.

In the year ending June 30, 1907, the homestead entries by returned Canadians from the United States numbered 461, and by other settlers from the United States 5,162. For 1905 the figures were 98 and 11,831 respectively. For 1904, they were 585 and 8,335; and for 1903, they were 483 and 9,015. And for the year ending June 30, 1906, they were 763 of returned Canadians and 13,186 of other settlers from the United States, the latter number embracing representatives from every State and Territory, Alaska included, except the district of Columbia and North Carolina. With all possible deductions on account of death and other causes, it is thus evident that the naturalization of these homesteaders of United States origin after their three years' residence, has been proceeding at an annual rate of nearly 10,000.

And these figures, it is to be remembered, say nothing of the settlers from the United States who bought farms in Western Canada, and the others, whatever may be their number, who have come to other parts of the Dominion than the prairie, taken out naturalization papers and settled down to be Canadian citizens.

Saving a Cab Fare.

Here's a pretty tale of domestic economy from an English paper. He had been brought up in the lap of luxury and extravagance, and when bad times came and he had to go down to the city and look carefully after his shillings it was his pretty and tender little wife who helped him and encouraged him by example in small savings. One fence he never would find. He balked at taking a bus. "It might pass the cloth, you know, dear, and the fellows at the office." ARE YOU READY

To take advantage of the best offer ever made in a Nevada Mine

Read the following Facts:

This company owns 5 claims (160 acres) carrying rich deposits of gold, silver, copper and lead. Recent assays show values as follows:

Number.	Gold.	Silver.	Per Cent. Copper.	Per Cent Lead.	Total.
1268	$5.20	1.20	0.40	—	$ 6.74
1269	10.15	—	—	—	10.15
1270	17.96	27.57	—	30.25	75.78
1270	5.20	.05	0.10	—	27.35
1271	2.05	trace	49.66	—	251.21
1272	5.15	trace	10.45	—	106.20
1273	3.60	trace	20.10	—	153.34

There has been over $6,000 worth of work done developing these claims and there is now on the dumps 410 tons of ore ready to be treated. The company owns the compressor, engine, boiler, etc., at the present time when this amount is sold the price will advance to at least 35c per share.

The property is at Goldyke. Sold by the Goldyke Co consolidated Mining Co. and adjoins the great Copper King claim that is shipping $100 ore. The Goldyke property is now being worked and will soon be shipping high grade ore and the stock is going up rapidly. This is your only chance to get stock at the present low rate is to send your order a Corner for the amount of stock you wish, inclosing money order at 10c per share, and if any stock is left I will forward your stock by return mail. The company reserves the right to return your money if stock is all subscribed when your order arrives.

Protection to stockholders is guaranteed as all the incorporators have pooled their stock, and all shares issued will be used in putting the mine on a dividend paying basis, and the company will be shipping ore within 45 days after machinery is installed.

Considering the amount of ore on the dumps, the cash assets of the property and the development work already done, this is the best offer I have ever able to make at only 10c per share, as usually when a mine gets to this stage the price is from one to five per share, but I consider the investment a very safe one at the present price.

Make all orders payable to, and for further information and prospectus, address.

Peterboro Mason in High Office

It is our pleasing duty to record that W. Bro. Duncan Walker of Corinthian Lodge, No. 401, A.F. & A.M., Peterborough, has been elected by Masonic Grand Lodge, now in session in Ottawa, to the position of district deputy grand master for Otonabee district No. 200.

SPECIAL NOTICE

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

Children's Shelter to Get New Home

The Peterborough Children's Aid Society has to secure a new shelter. The present home on Charlotte street, is owned by ex-Mayor Best, who for the past ten years has given it to the society at a very small rental. All the society had to pay Mr. Best for the use of the house and grounds during that time has been about $40 per year. Mr. Best is now desirous of selling the property and as it is worth considerably more than the society can afford to pay, it has become necessary to make arrangements to secure a new shelter.

For this purpose a meeting of the Board of Management has been held with President J. B. Trumbull in the chair, when the question was discussed and steps taken with a view to purchasing or in some other way procuring a new shelter. In addition to the members of the Board of Management, several prominent citizens were also present.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Another Fire at Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls seems to be in the grip of the fire fiend. After the big fire noted in these columns in a previous issue, fire has again wrought damage to this prosperous little village, its destruction being on the east side of the river between the locks and the railway bridge. Five boathouses were burned, but their contents were saved. Docked along the shore were two launches. Both were destroyed, and the loss will be considerable. The cause of the fire is not known.

Exoursionists Were rour of Regulations

Passengers For Steamer Monarch Changed Their Route

The steamer Monarch seemed to "be up against it" yesterday. This generally popular boat ran foul of government regulations yesterday after accepting a cargo of precious souls who took in the Park street S. S. excursion. It seems that a large number of would-be trippers to Jubilee Point, went down to the street car wharf and boarded the barge that was billed to take them down. Unfortunately for both captain and crew, not to mention would-be passengers, acting on instructions from the Marine Department, Mr. Robt. Hall, collector of customs, forbade Capt. Harris to take the barge out, as it had not been inspected. The barge could not leave the wharf and the excursionists were in a bad predicament. The Monarch could only carry about 185 persons and there were three hundred ready to enjoy the outing. It was decided to have the picnic at Chamber's grove, instead of at Jubilee as intended. The steamer carried as many as possible down on the first trip and then came back and took the remainder.

Police Court Calendar

At yesterday's session of the police court only one case was tried, that of two men named respectively Ryan and O'Brien, charged with disorderly conduct in front of a Hunter street store about two weeks ago. It seems that they were fighting. As the evidence showed O'Brien was the agressor and that Ryan did not want to fight, the latter was discharged, whilst O'Brien's little scrap set his bank account backward to the extent of $6.10.

Yesterday afternoon as P. C. Meharry was on duty he happened to see a few things that resulted in the arrest of a woman named Mrs. Drain of Norwood, at Jackson Park. With her was also arrested was a young man of the city, who spent the night in cell No. 1 at police headquarters. The charge to be laid at this morning's court is better left to the imagination of the elder members of society than put in print.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

John D. Rockefeller Was In Peterboro

American Multi-Millionair Now at Stony Lake

It may be of some interest to our readers to learn that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, the American multimillionaire, passed through this city the day before yesterday en route to Stony Lake. This wielder of millions wrung from the pockets of millions of American citizens, and, indirectly from our Canadian users of coal oil and its products, by illegal rebates from railroads and other methods adopted by the monetary powers that be, was easily recognized. His features so often depicted in the leading magazines, and his bald topnut, the proverbial wig having evidently been forgotten or held at the frontier for duty, were easily recognizable. We hope that Mr Rockefeller, with all his alleged crimes against humanity, will enjoy his outing at Kawartha Lakes. By special request we refrain from mentioning where Mr. Rockefeller is stopping at Stony Lake.

The Money That's Being Made In Western Canada

LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section he bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

Another Man Jumps to Death At Green Island

BODY MADE AWFUL PLUNGE

Many Onlookers, Powerless to Help, Saw a Suicide Sweep Down The Rapids to the Brink

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 19.—People who had last evening gathered in PProspect Park and in Victoria Park, were startled at 7.40 o'clock to see the body of a man come dancing down the rapids of the American channel and plunge over the American Falls. As the man came sweeping along with the currents and waves, it looked as though he was waving farewell to those on shore, but it is likely that the waves gave the motion they felt was a human effort to say farewell.

The latest suicide is known to have entered the bridge between the mainland and Greene Island from the island end. He walked out to the second buy on a crutch and a cane, and there he climbed over the wall of the bridge, and dropped into the rapids. He left his crutch and cane behind, also a note which reads; "Tell my friends that I have gone to glory." This note, as well as the crutch, bears the initials "J.D." and no doubt they will be a great help in identifying the man. Enquiry at the hotels does not reveal that any of the guests are missing, nor do any of them regret having a guest who was lame. It is thought that the man reached the city yesterday from some nearby place, and that the morning will reveal his name.

The body made the awful plunge over the brink about 20 feet out from Prospect Point, and when it was announced in the park that a human being was plunging down the rapids towards the falls there was a hurrying of many to the point to witness the terrible plunge into eternity. The rush was impulsive on the part of some, and many were saddened by the sight. Superintendent Perry has the articles left behind.

COLLAPSE OF A CHURCH ARCH

Mass of Bricks, Stone and Mortar Fell at The Building

Toronto, July 19.—Mirideno De Angeli, an Italian laborer, narrowly escaped death yesterday while working on an old wall of the St. Mary Magdalene church, at the corner of Ulster street and Manning avenue.

The walls of the edifice are being removed, and a new building being erected on the old site, much larger than the former building. While the work of building the new walls is in progress the old walls inside are being taken down.

The main entrance of the old church consisted of a heavy brick arch, resting on pilars of red sandstone. DeAngeli was on top of the arch picking off the bricks when the whole fabric collapsed. It is thought that the keystone of the arch became loosened by the inequality of the weight, as the work of taking down the wall progressed. At any rate, the brick arch went down between the stone pillars, with a crash that was heard for some distance.

The laborer was thrown to the floor below, fortunately far enough away to escape serious injuries. He was able to walk to a wagon, and go to his home. The mass of brick, mortar, and stone that fell weighed over a ton. One of the sandstone pilars was split by the weight of the mass falling. Several workmen were employed on the new walls near by, and laborers carrying bricks and mortar passed frequently by the now demolished wall.

Are Preparing for Strike

Many Beds and Cots Taken Into the Telegraph Office

New York, N.Y., July 20.—While the officers of Local No. 16, of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union in this city are waiting for the dispatch which peace or war from National President Small, the Western Union apparently began to prepare for a possible strike yesterday at the main office of the company, 195 Broadway. Toward evening two vans, one with fifty mattresses and the other with fifty cots, arrived at the Dey street side of the building. The beds and cots were stowed in one corridor. The janitor said he expected fifty more cots and fifty more mattresses today, but did not know what they were for.

Telegraphers expect that the order to strike here may be based on the discharge of Samuel Jolly, a prominent member of the union. Until recently Jolly was division chief. He was dismissed without any cause being assigned. Jolly worked in Canada some years ago.

Stupid Rumor Contradicted

Col. sam Hughes Was Not Arrested With Counterfeiters

As a sample of the hysterical ideas bred in a small town by an unusual sensation, it might be of interest to note what the Lindsay Post had in its last issue, viz; "The latest to suffer in this way is Col. Sam Hughes, Dominion member for Victoria and Haliburton. About 4.30 this afternoonn the editor of this paepr was called up on the long distance telephone by the editor of one of the Peterborough papers, who asked: "Is it true that Col. Sam Hughes has been arrested in connection with the counterfeiting case?" The man at the other end of the line didn't seem to understand the joke as we saw it in the light of other rumors, and added that the report of the arrest was spreading like wild fire in that city.

It is, we trust, almost unnecessary to state that we gave the false rumor the lattes' denial our vocabulary could frame. Although we look upon the Colonel as a bad man—in a political sense, of course,—we are willing to wager anything in our possession that he has never write this being desireYus of giving vent manufacturing of bogus money.

Common Sense After Scribe Charity

Correspondent Objects to Defendant of Several Criminals

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—In the Review of last night I saw what I consider a scurrilous attack upon Rev. Mr. Langfeldt. The letter in question is an attack also on this gentleman because he "has put up his war paint," and is grateful that the magistrate imposed severe sentences on women that occupied a house of ill repute. Now does the Review's correspondent claim that such a style of house as the evidence clearly showed was run by these women should be encouraged in our midst? If so, the correspondent is too low mentally and morally for attention by decent people. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, whilst differing from me in certain doctrinal points is fully justified in thinking, and a thousand fold more in saying that such places as referred to should be raided and the inmates arrested and sentenced. The police of this city are well posted and fully able to know when and how to treat such people. When a man is "get a cruck" at a minister of the gospel has to do it under cover of protecting keepers of not only a house of ill-repute, but a mighty bad one at that, he had better throw his job away and crawl under the bed for a time.

Yours truly,

Another Kick re Banana Skins

A Further Protest Against the Insane Throwing of Fruit on Walks

In your issue of yesterday I noticed you said that complaints had reached your paper concerning the throwing of banana peels and other slippery fruit on the pavement. Now, whilst this may seem to some people, a trivial matter for grave worry, let any intelligent man step on a banana peel and watch his actions and recall his words. I venture to say that the recording angel has a list of least a mile long against Peterborough people, alone, who have stepped on the treacherous banana peel and whose language entitled and gave them many black marks for said remarks. Now to save this angel a lot of work but more particularly to save our citizens from getting their heads, backs, legs, and arms broken, I would add my humble request that our City Council pass a bylaw prohibiting under penalty, the throwing of any kind of fruit or its skins on the sidewalks.

Yours truly,
ANTI-BANANA.

Good Work Done by Oddfellows Relief Association

At the annual meeting of the Oddfellows' Relief Association, held in Kingston this week, in which the organizing reports were presented Mr. J. A. Tully of Peterborough, was in attendance. The report of Mr. Tully, superintendent of agencies, showed that the growth in membership during the year had been almost as good as in 1906. The applications numbered 2,412, and it was predicted that within a reasonable time, the total would reach 25,000 His travels during the year covered a mileage of 16,579. The superintendent reported that in Ontario sixteen new lodges had been instituted, of which fourteen were started by officials of the Relief Association.

Less Cheese This Year

Reports received at the Agriculture Department show that the cheese production in Ontario will be smaller this year than last. The quality will be as good if not better than last year and the prices this year are higher. The decreased production is due to the backward spring and consequent scarcity of feed.

UNITED STATES TARIFF REVISION

No Changes Will be Made Before Presidental Election

SENATOR HOPKINS TALKS

His Announcement After a Visit to Presidenn Roosevelt at Oyster Bay

Oyster Bay, N.Y., July 20.—President Roosevelt, Senator Albert J. Hopkins, of Illinois, and H. E. Miles, representing the Wisconsin Tariff revision at a luncheon at Sagamore Hill yesterday. Senator Hopkins, on leaving Oyster Bay, said that the conclusion was reached that no tariff revision should be undertaken until after the next presidential election.

"It would be suicidal to the Republican party," the senator added, "to undertake a revision of the tariff during the next congress. After the presidential election I believe it will be the duty of the Republican party to revise the tariff, and that it will be done."

Senator Hopkins remarked that he believed such an argument would appeal to and be accepted by the Republican revisionists in all parts of the country.

Senator Hopkins was enthusiastic regarding the presidential boom of Mr. Cannon. He said, "Of course, if President Roosevelt was a candidate there would be not the slightest opposition in the convention to his nomination. But I am thoroughly convinced that Mr. Roosevelt will not consider the nomination, that he is entirely sincere in declaring himself not to be a candidate under any circumstances."

Oak Peg Drops From Leg After 25 Years

New York, July 20.—George Buckland, an electrical contractor of College Point, L. I., fell from a hay loft twenty-five years ago and an oak peg two and a half inches long was driven into his leg just back of the knee.

Buckland was compelled to walk three miles yesterday afternoon because his carriage broke down. When he had traveled half the distance he felt a sharp pain in his leg, looked down and found the peg had worked its way out. He picked the peg up and put it in his pocket, declaring he would keep it always.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

If you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine we know, Composition, sold by druggists for the cure of women's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, rundown, over worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of over nine-tenths of the ailments for which it is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CORNICE DOWN WALL PROPPED

Clearing Away London Ruins---Street Railway Resume Traffic---Board of Works Talks of a Building By-law

London, July 20.—Precisely at 5.30 yesterday afternoon six muscular men manned a heavy line which was passed about the corner of the Reid building. Contractor William Jeffry shouted, the men pulled and with a crash that could be heard all over the city the heavy metalled cornice fell into Dundas street.

The west wall of the Reid building is still dangerous, and it is the intention of Mr. Jeffrey to brace it as high as the third story, thus removing any danger. Considerable trouble is anticipated in getting down the fourth story as its position since Tuesday's collapse renders it difficult to handle.

A DANGEROUS JOB.

Thousands of interested citizens crowded into Dundas street to watch the further annihilation of the building. To prevent the entire wall falling at the same time as the cornice. Two large telegraph poles were were used to brace the wall at the third storey. Shortly after five o'clock, the men, McDonald, Teeple, and Bayce, employed by Contractor Jeffrey crawled along the edge of the trembling cornice and coolly proceeded through a part of the woodwork in order to prevent any more than the cornice falling. The spectators held their breath as the weight of the men caused the cornice to sway to a most sickening fashion. The men however, did not lose their heads and after accomplishing their errand, returned through the window and later in safety to the ground.

TARIFFIC RESUMED.

The city and street railway officials congratulated themselves on the quietness of the work. As soon as the cornice had fallen a gang of men set about removing the debris from the street. As ninety per cent. of the street car traffic passes along Dundas street the system has been badly demoralized since Tuesday afternoon.

Shortly after seven o'clock last night traffic was resumed. But Dundas east of Richmond presents a melancholy appearance. The block of stores which went under in the crash are now but a gaping pile of loose brick and broken timbers. Along both sides of the road lay tons of brick. Piles of lumber and quantities of broken glassware. The collapse of the Crystal Palace wiped out a representative block of business houses. Merchants on either side of the road complain of almost a complete suspension of business. It will be three weeks before the street comes a likeness to its normal condition.

INSPECTION OF BUILDINGS.

Mayor Judd presided at a meeting of the Board of Works last night at which was discussed the question of inspecting buildings in course of construction. The appointment of a building inspector was mentioned. A bylaw years old, empowering the city to inspect all buildings will be resurrected and probably enforced.

Ald. Cooper asked City Engineer Graydon why he did not inspect buildings. The engineer replied that he was not supposed to do so, and whenever he did offer advice he was not listened to with common politeness.

Mayor Judd thought that the city council was to blame for the lack of a competent inspector. The mayor put a motion to that effect, but it was dropped and the matter will be discussed by another committee.

Moonlight Excursion Was Big Success

The moonlight excursion held last night in aid of the Children's Aid Society and the Sick Children's Hospital was a high success, and the committee of young ladies who got the affair up were well reward for the work they had done in this connection. Everything was pleasant from start to finish. Rev. Mr. Potter as usual made an excellent chairman, and his address contained some very kind words for the management of the Otonabee Navigation Company, emphasizing the pride our citizens should take in a company who has the enterprise to place such a splendid boat as the "Otonabee" on the route of the beautiful Otonabee river.

The program was run off as arranged and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to those taking part. Expressions of appreciation were heard on all sides at the pleasant evening spent.

A full report from the Committee of the proceeds will appear in our Monday issue.

A lacrosse team from Peterborough will go to Bruce bridge on Tuesday of next week to play an exhibition game with a team of that place. A celebration is being held in the northern town that day and the lacrosse match will be one of the features.

Father and Five Children Poisoned

Herman Billik, a Chicago Fortune Teller, Killed Six Persons

Chicago, July 20.—Herman Billik last night was found guilty of killing with poison Adolph Vrzal, and five of his children. The jury fixed the penalty at death.

Vrzal and his children all died within a few weeks of each other, under suspicious circumstances. Billik had been a friend of the family for years, and in his capacity of fortune teller, had administered medicine to the children.

An investigation showed that Vrzal and his children all suffered from the same complaint before death. Billik was arrested on suspicion of having been responsible for the deaths. The day after his arrest Mrs. Vrzal committed suicide by taking poison.

During the trial testimony was submitted by the State charging Billik with having disposed of Vrzal and his children in order to collect the life insurance they carried. Mrs. Vrzal was shown to have been under the influence of Billik, whom she loved, and evidence showed that she had guilty knowledge of the murdering of her husband and children by Billik.

200,000 Immigrants This Year

Ottawa, July 20.—The immigration Department reports that the total arrivals of immigrants in Canada to date for the present calendar year totals two hundred thousand, a large increase over the total immigration of the twelve months of 1906. For the next month or so almost all the available space in Trans-Atlantic steamers sailing for Canada is already taken up, and indications point to a realization of the prophecy made last spring that this year's immigration would total in the neighborhood of three hundred thousand.

No Pressure Used On The Prisoners

Lindsay Police Deny "Sweating" or Giving 3rd Degree

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder in a long report of the sensational forgeries which has led to arrests in that town says; "The charge that the accused men were being "sweated" or given the "third degree" is most emphatically and flatly denied by Chief Vincent. Chief Vincent and Special Constable Thornbury were present at every interview the detectives have had with any of the accused and the Chief is very flatfooted in his denial of any undue pressure. The men he said are all being used courteously and decently and are not forced even to talk to the detectives or officers. Moreover, they are always given the customary warning, and anything they may say is wholly and solely on their own accord. None of them have been at all bothered by the detectives and some are even glad to see the officials, and are anxious to talk.

A Large Roll Of Bad Money

Five Dollar Bills on Traders Bank in Possession of Detective Rogers

The Lindsay Post says: The young Englishman, George Eveligh, who, it is alleged, "shoved the queer" in Montreal, and who was there taken into custody, arrived in town this morning on the flyer from Belleville, in charge of Detective Rogers. He was immediately taken to gaol, and will appear in court on Monday.

This morning Magistrate Moore remanded Miller, Gouttin and Logie until Monday. The proceedings on that day will take place in the Court House, in the afternoon at two o'clock.

There are only four corridors in Lindsay gaol. Murig, Miller and Logie occupy three of them, while Bouyea, Wynn, Gouttin and Eveleigh occupy the fourth. Detective Rogers exhibited a fat roll of counterfeit Traders' $5 bills this morning. They were expressed to Dominion Police headquarters at Ottawa.

FULL PUBLICITY IN NEW YORK LIFE

Darwin P. Kingsley Announces the Keynote

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION

He is Opposed to the Action of the State in Limiting New Business---Appeals to Policy Holders

New York, July 20.—Economy, the widest, fairest and fullest publicity and continuation of a world-wide policy is to be the keynote of the new administration of the New York Life Insurance Company as announced by President Darwin P. Kingsley, in the first letter to policyholders which was made public yesterday. Mr. Kingsley in his letter says he believes the State of New York has made an economic mistake in putting an arbitrary limitation upon the amount of new business which the company may do in a year. He believes that in the interest of policyholders the company should be permitted to do what business it can normally do within the limit of expenses fixed by law.

Mr. Kingsley appeals to the policyholders to do their share toward preventing the enactment of unfair legislation affecting insurance companies. He declares that the tax imposed upon policies of mutual insurance companies is unfair and asks the policyholders to aid the management to "secure from legislatures the square deal to which every man is entitled."

Throw Child to The Pavement

New York, July 20.—In a frenzy, John Hester, a negro, who had been drinking, seized the year-and-a-half-old son of Mrs. Samuel Fischer, at Long Branch, N.J., and swinging him high above his head dashed the child on the pavement. The baby may die.

The Fischer child, who was only able to toddle about, was playing in front of his home when an organ grinder came along. The baby's attempts to dance to the music caught the negro's eye. Hester caught him up and began to whirl around with the boy in his arms. Alarmed, Mrs. Fischer called to him to quit the baby down, whereupon he hurled him wrathfully to the stone pavement and run. The negro was caught.

A Good Game This Afternoon

Peterborough will have a strong team to meet the Oshawa nine at Riverside Park this afternoon. Quinlan and Burridge will be the battery for the locals, and the team will line up as follows;

The game starts at three o'clock and a fast snappy contest is assured.

"Reserve Force"

that's the word for

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

"I want to tell you about Grape-Nuts food, and my experience with it.

"I had for a year or two, felt general debility creeping on me, and also suffered from flatulency, piles, etc., that I began to think was due to advancing age, now being 65 years old. When, in the providence of God, as I believe, Grape-Nuts was brought to my notice, I tried it as an experiment.

"In a week I found a decided improvement in myself, and have kept improving ever since, and am now being congratulated on the great change in my appearance by all acquaintances. Not only so, but I feel I have reserve force so that I do not feel wearied at night, although I have worked continuously from 7.30 a.m. until 9 p.m.

"I recommend Grape-Nuts to my friends and acquaintances, and all my family use the food, and it is on the table at every meal whatever else is omitted. I write this being desirous of giving vent to the grateful feeling I entertain for the benefits received from the use of this incomparable food."

The particular element which produces the feeling of strength is the delicate particles of Phosphate of Potash, not the phosphate of the drug store, but that which is prepared by Nature and furnished in the field grains. This delicate element, not observed by the taste, is used by Nature in connection with the albumen of food, to rebuild the gray matter in the nerve centres throughout the body and in the brain and solar plexus, so that one thus nourished and rebuilt is very sure to feel the effects of this rebuilding within a week or ten days and the feeling grows and becomes fixed as one becomes a steady, every-day user of Grape-Nuts. Look For Blood Humors

They Crop Out Constantly, Showing the System Needs Purifying.

You're not satisfied with your looks. How can you be with such disfiguring pimples, such rough unclean skin!

Blood is full of humors, and it's no wonder you look and feel poorly.

You are languid,
Appetite is miserable,
Sleep is hard to get,
Snap and vim are lacking.

High time to improve matters—but what's the proper remedy?

Experience proves that Dr. Hamilton's give instant effect. They tone the entire system, fortify the blood, and impart a feeling of new life in a few days.

Unlike strong purgatives, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are exceedingly mild. They are made from concentrated vegetable extracts such as Mandrake and Butternut, and can be taken by young or old, with absolute safety.

"I learnt something very valuable after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes Miss Effie Thomson of Meriden. "I used to have ugly pimples that much embarrassed me. The tonic and purifying effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills completely restored me. My health is splendid and my complexion a great credit to this marvelous medicine."

Let your medicine be Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They do cure—no gr bor ouchly. Sold by All dealers, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1. by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 15, 1907.

THE BURDEN OF WEALTH.

A paragraph is going the rounds of the papers telling how unhappy rich New Yorkers are in their palatial residences. This is hardly a case for surprise. It is no great trick to make a few million dollars. If you are not very particular as to how you go about it; but it takes a good deal of agility to know how to spend it so as to derive any satisfaction from the pastime. It does not follow that because a man can have a good time on a hundred dollars, he would know how to have a good time on a hundred thousand, and he might be puzzled to know how to use a million satisfactorily. When it comes to having a million a year, the expenditure of it become a problem, which few men, who have worked in their shirt sleeves—and that is how the case is with most of the United States millionaires—can hope to solve satisfactorily. One very rich New Yorker had a palace built after the style of an old French baronial castle. Now the fellow, who is born in such a castle, and is brought up to the trick of putting up with its cumbrousness, may manage to extract some comfort out of it; but the other fellow, who began his business career in a half-bedroom, whose sole furnishings consisted of a cot bedstead and a washstand, is very likely to find the baronial hall an insupportable nuisance, and that was the way with the owner of the house in question. We are told that.

Stone walls do not a prison make

and it is equally true, that while it may be delightful to dream that we dwell in marble halls, marble halls will not make a home, even if we send to Europe and dismantle some ancient structure to secure them, unless we have the tastes that go with such things, and in addition to the tastes, what we called the trick of living in them. For a man who has worked hard all the days of his life, and whose wife, like as not, did her own, if not other people's, washing, to think that he will secure happiness by building a palace to rival that of eastern princes, seems to the other man, who cannot build such a structure, a very foolish piece of business.

The difficulty which the rich men of Gotham are experiencing in trying to live in their big houses illustrates another truth besides the principal that to appreciate life in a palace you must be born in one, and even then you may not, and it is that the mad race for wealth is a very silly thing. It is a reasonable thing for a man to want to get enough together to make himself and his family comfortable, but the limit necessary to permit of such an accumulation is quite near the bottom of the pile. Now we do not say that every man, who embarks in a great enterprise, does so because he wants to be rich. Many of them have no particular desire in that direction at all. They have within them an impulse to great achievements. To do things on a large scale is their very life. They want all the money they can get, just as a general wants all the troops he can get; but they want it not for the sake of being rich, but because they want to accomplish great things. And yet even to such men great wealth must at times be an intolerable burden, which they would gladly lay down if they could.

THE KING IN IRELAND.

Nicholas of Russia might well ponder the significance of the visit of King Edward to Ireland. Only a few weeks ago the great majority of the Irish people scornfully rejected a government bill that was supposed to be a step toward home rule. That action was followed by political hostilities between the Irish representatives in the commons and the liberal party. A policy of fighting liberal candidates and liberal measures has been decided on, and the last by-election, at Barrow, the liberal candidate was defeated by a socialist owing to the withdrawal from the former of over 2,000 Irish votes. Yet all these things do not in the least affect the attitude of the Irish people toward the sovereign.

He is outside and above party conflicts, and it is recognized that "government measures" are not "crown measures." The king reigns, but he does not make laws. He wishes Ireland well and rejoices in the evidence of her steady progress; but he cannot determine what shall and what shall not be granted to her by the "government."

There is no doubt, however, that the warm and affectionate reception accorded to the king in Ireland is to some extent the result of the decided economic improvement which the past several years have witnessed in that country, an improvement due among other things to the land purchase legislation of the recent government. The party now in power in its turn seeking to relieve distress and promote Irish welfare by its evicted tenants bill, which is intended as a supplement to the general land act. The bill proposes to reinstate about 2,000 evicted tenants, and provides for compulsory purchase of the landlords' estates, if that should be necessary, and for the fixing of the terms of purchase by the land commissioners. The measure has been making headway in the commons, and supposedly the lords will be advised by Mr. Balfour to accept it without much ado.

It is manifest to all that the material improvement in Ireland tends to temper and soften the political struggle for home rule—a fact upon which all parties may congratulate themselves and one another.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys is merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always and the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Koreans May Rise Against Japanese

Seoul, via Tokio, July 29.—Placards were posted today in one of the thoroughfares calling for the death of all Japanese officials in Seoul. The ministers are strongly guarded and every precaution has been taken to prevent riots and attacks upon officials. The Emperor is reported to be too worried to take food or sleep, but this report is considered to be on of his usual manoeuvres to enlist the sympathy of his people.

The Emperor's loss of loyal adherence of a large portion of his subjects will, it is believed, result in the gradual development of his policy to always play one minister or faction against another, so as to prevent the concentration of power in any single body. The Emperor himself is constantly distrustful of all about him, and haunted with the fear of an attempt on his life. The Ilchinhoi, a progressive society, claiming a membership of over a million, is now openly hostile to the Emperor, and it is doubtful even if the few now standing by him will continue their support and all the last.

The Japanese View.

Tokio, July 29.—As a result of urgent representations by the ministers, it is very probable that the Emperor of Korea will abdicate in favor of the Crown Prince as the first step toward reform in Korea. This will most likely be followed by the calling of a new convention which, while keeping Korea's national existence intact, will limit the sovereign power in some form whereby the ruler can exercise his powers only with the consent and approval of the Japanese resident-general. The present ministers in Seoul are understood to place the Korean government on a firm basis and free from court intrigues and selfish plots.

SUNBURST

Stock Advances Midnight August 10th from 15c to 50c a Share

Over 200 per cent. Profit to Shareholders

With this allotment all stock will be withdrawn from the market—last opportunity to participate in enormous profits of this producing lead and zinc mine.

The directors of the Sunburst Mining Company have authorized an advance of the stock of the Sunburst Mining Company from 15 to 50 cents a share. A clean profit of over 200 per cent. buying at the present price of 15 cents. The allotment to be sold at this price is limited and will be given to those who send their orders first. Advance takes place midnight, August 10. At this date the stock of the Sunburst Mining Company will positively be withdrawn from the market.

The mine is made. Dividends are the next thing to look for by the fortunate investors in Sunburst stock.

The steadily advancing price of lead and zinc in the world's markets, and the sensational rich development ore opened in opening up the Sunburst Mines, together with the milling of the last ore thrown on the dump, has created a tremendous demand for the stock.

We feel confident in predicting that Sunburst shares will go to par in less than 12 months time.

120 per cent. Dividends

The Baxter Mining Co. is Now paying dividends of 10 per cent a month. It is a sister company, operating in the same camp, and under the direction of the same officers.

If you are desirous of permanently increasing your income, of making an investment that is not only secure, but immensely profitable, and finally of buying on a RISING MARKET—reserve shares TODAY.

The next advance is to 50 cents a share, and the entire issue is subject to withdrawal from the market without further notice.

Such an investment opportunity can hardly be repeated. It is made possible only by extraordinary natural conditions. Companies in this field are paying all the way from 25 to 120 per cent to stockholders, millions of dollars of lead and zinc will be marketed from these mines—fortunes are being made now—and even greater ones will be reaped as a result of the prompt action of the opportunity offered by the mineral riches of Baxter Springs.

The Sunburst mine is no longer a prospect but a Producing Property—and bids fair to rank with the great dividend paying enterprises of the Southwest. Buy on the advance, and see your holdings steadily grow more valuable, your dollars grow into a fortune.

A Business Proposition

Sunburst stockholders are investors, not speculators. They are co-operating in a plain business proposition that should bring much larger returns than any other form of commercial enterprise. They know the property is proven. They know the supply is practically limitless and the demand forcing prices of lead and zinc upwards by leaps and bounds. They know that the Sunburst property is on an absolutely secure basis. They have the evidence of the actual milling of ore taken from mine and transformed into the commercial product. They have the expert and unbiased statements of men such as Mr. Watson, president of a prosperous concern operating in this district.

So much public interest has been awakened in this property that the Kansas City Post, a great newspaper, sent a special correspondent to Baxter Springs to investigate. His report as published in the Post is too long to be reproduced here. But a copy will be sent on application. It is a clean cut, vividly written thorough going INDORSEMENT.

He interviewed such men as H. L. Rice of Baxter Springs, who said, "The Sunburst is mighty rich. I'd like to have it, it will make good money."

The article should be read in full. It gives a plain, common sense review of the whole field.

Getting Out Rich Ore.

Baxter Springs, Kas., June 29, 1907.

To the President and Board of Directors,
Sunburst Mining Company, Baxter Springs, Kansas.

Gentlemen:—At the invitation of Mr. C. W. Craney, Vice-President of your Company, I visited the Sunburst mine with him and went carefully over the entire proposition. I have had a great many years of practical experience in lead and zinc mining, and I believe I know a promising property when I see one. The Sunburst mine impressed me as being exceptionally good. I went with Mr. Craney through all the different drifts and workings and in all places found good ore, the east and south drifts being particularly rich. The formation encountered is very similar to the sheet ground, which has made so many fortunes in the Webb City district.

I noticed that your equipment is very modern and that you are thoroughly prepared to take care of your development work, rapidly and inexpensively. The mine is now being opened up and handled in exact accordance with my ideas. After having carefully examined the No. 4 shaft, and the rich dump of ore which has been hoisted, we went over to the No. 5 shaft. The dirt which has been taken out of this shaft is identical with the dirt you are encountering in the No. 4 shaft. This, together with the other development around the property, leads me to believe that the greater portion of the property which you are now operating would yield a rich body of ore.

I beg to thank your Company for the courtesy it has extended me, and I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
LAFE GRIFFITH, Joplin, Mo.

Evidence From An Expert

Baxter Springs, Kas., May 24 1907.

The President and Board of Directors of Sunburst Mining Co.
Kansas City, Mo.

Gentlemen:—In reply to your question as to my opinion of the Sunburst mines, I wish to say that I consider the future of the Sunburst property as one of the brightest of any mining company in the Southwest field.

The ore that we ran through our mill this week coming from the Sunburst mine is a surprise to me. While I knew that it would run very high in lead and zinc concentrates, I was hardly prepared for the results that were secured. I was down in your mine the other day and found by examination that you have a large deposit below where you are working at the present time. Your foreman informs me that he is going deeper in order to get the full face to operate on.

Your plan of thoroughly opening up the ground before building a mill meets with my idea of how a mine should be developed. I believe you will have a great money maker.

Yours very truly, J. W. WATSON.
Pres. and Gen. Mgr. Nebraska Mining & Development Co.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER I.

A DRY snow had fallen steadily throughout the still night, so that when a cold, upper wind cleared the sky gloriously in the morning the Incongruous Indiana town shone in a white harmony—roof, ledge and earth as evenly covered as by moonlight. There was no thaw. Only where the line of factories followed the big bend of the frozen river, their distant chimneys like exclamation points on a blank page, was there a first threat against the supreme whiteness. The wind passed quickly and on high, the shouting of the school children had ceased at 9 o'clock with pitiful suddenness, no sleigh bells laughed out on the air, and the muffling of the thoroughfares wrought an unaccustomed peace like that of Sunday. This was the phenomenon which offered the opening of the morning debate of the sages in the wide windows of the National House.

Only such unfortunates as have so far failed to visit Canaan do not know that the National House is on the Main street side of the Courthouse square and has the advantage of being within two minutes' walk of the railroad station, which is in plain sight of the windows, an indisputable benefit to the conversation of the aged men who occupied these windows on this white morning even as they were wont in summer to hold against all comers the cane seated chairs on the pavement outside.

Mail time had come to mean that bright hour when they all got their feet on the brass rod which protected the sills of the two big windows, with the steam radiators standing like battles against the side wall. Mr. Jonas Taber, who had sold his hardware business magnificently (not magnificently for his nephew, the purchaser) some ten years before, was usually, in spite of the fact that he remained a bachelor at seventy-nine, the last to settle down with the others, though often the first to reach the hotel, which he always entered by a side door, because he did not believe in the treating system. And it was Mr. Bishop Arp, only seventy-five, but already a thoroughly capable cynic, who almost invariably "opened the argument," and it was he who discovered the sinister intention behind the weather of this particular morning.

The malevolence of his voice and manner when he shook his finger at the town beyond the windows and exclaimed, with a bitter laugh, "Look at it!" was no surprise to his companions. "Just look at it! I tell you the devil is mighty smart! Ha, ha! Mighty smart!"

Through custom it was the duty of Squire Backalew (justice of the peace in 1859) to be the first to take up Mr. Arp. The others looked to him for it. Therefore he asked sharply:

"What's the devil got to do with it?"

"Everything to do with it, sir," Mr. Arp returned. "It's plain as day to anybody with eyes and senses."

"Then I wish you'd print it out," said Backalew, "if you've got either."

"By the Almighty, squire!"—Mr. Arp turned in his chair with sudden heat—"if I'd lived as long as you"—

"You have," interrupted the other, stung. "Twelve years ago."

"If I'd lived as long as you," Mr. Arp repeated unwinchingly in a louder voice, "and had followed Satan's trail as long as you have and yet couldn't recognize it when I see it I'd get converted and vote Prohibitionist."

"I don't see it," interjected Uncle Joe Davey in his querulous voice. (He was the patriarch of them all.) "I can't find no cloven hoof prints in the snow."

"All over it, sir!" cried the cynic. "All over it! Old Satan loves tricks like this. Here's a town that's just one squirmin' mass of lies and envy and vice and wickedness and corruption"

"Hold on!" exclaimed Colonel Pilgcroft. "That's a slander upon our hearths and our government. Why, when I was in the council"—

"It wasn't a spot worse then," Mr Arp returned unreasonably. "Just you look how the devil fools us. He drops down this here virgin mantle on Canaan and makes it look as good as you pretend you think it is—as good as the Sunday school room of a country church, though that"—he went off on a tangent venomously—"is generally only another whited sepulcher, and the superintendent's mighty apt to have a bottle of whisky hid behind the organ and"—

"Look here, Bishop," said Jonas Taber, "that's got nothin' to do with"—

"Why ain't it? Answer me!" cried Mr. Arp, continuing without pause: "Why ain't it? Can't you wait till I get through? You listen to me, and when I'm ready I'll listen to"—

"See here," began the colonel, striking himself heard over these others, "I want to ask you"—

"No, sir!" Mr. Arp pounded the floor excitedly with his hickory stick. "Don't you ask me anything. How can you tell that I'm not going to answer your question without your asking it till I've got through? You listen first. I say, here's a town of nearly 25,000 inhabitants, every last one of 'em—men, women and children—selfish and cowardly and sinful if you could see their innermost natures; a town of the ugliest and worst built appearance in the world and governed by a pack of thieves hoopers, though I hope we'll never get down to whom the Volunteers can run it. And the devil comes along and in one night—why, all you got to do is look at it!—Yet'd think we needn't bother trouble to make it better. That's what the devil wants us to do—wants us to rest easy about it and pretend it up to look as good as you"—

"Why don't you get to the point?" asked Uncle Joe Davey impatiently.

Mr. Arp's grievance was increased. "Now, listen to you! How many more interruptions are comin'? I'll listen to the other side, but I've got to state mine first, haven't I? If I don't make my point clear, what's the use of the argument? Argumentation is only the comparison of two sides of a question, and you have to see what the first side is before you can compare it with the other one, don't you? Are you all agreed to that?"

"Yes, yes," said the colonel. "Go ahead. We won't interrupt until you're through."

The "argument" grew heated. Half a dozen tidy quarrels arose. All the augurs went at it fiercely except Roger Taber, who stole quietly away. The aged men were enjoying themselves thoroughly, especially those who quarreled. Naturally the frail bark of the topic which had been launched was whirled about by too many side currents to remain long in sight and soon became derelict, while the intellectual dolphins dove and tumbled in the depths. At the end of twenty minutes Mr. Arp emerged upon the surface, and in his mouth was this:

"Tell me, why don't the church—why ain't the church and the rest of the believers in a future life looking for immortality at the other end of life, too? If we're immortal we always have been. Then why don't they ever speculate on what we were before we were born? It's because they're too blame selfish; don't care a finnikin about what was. All they want is to go on livin' forever."

Mr. Arp's voice had risen to an acrid triumphancy, when it suddenly faltered, relapsed to a murmur and then to a stricken silence as a tall, fat man of overpowering aspect threw open the outer door near by and crossed the lobby to the clerk's desk. An awe fell upon the sages with this advent. They were hushed and after a movement in their chairs, with a strange effect of huddling, sat disconcerted and attentive, like schoolboys at the entrance of the master.

The personage had a big, fat, pink face and a heavily unshaven jaw, what whitish beard he wore following his double chin somewhat after the manner displayed in the portraits of Henry VIII. His eyes, very bright under puffed upper lids, were intolerant and tauntingly penetrating despite their small size. Their inclinability held a kind of humour, and yet the personage exuded trust, out of the woodiness all about him. You could not imagine being in danger (simply as great stuff being possible) either from him or to him. Without

"Mr. Bonner," he said, with gentleman heartiness, to a bull team in the chair—for what of value would have made an express train leave the track and go round the other way—"do you know me?"

"Oh, yes, judge!" the clerk replied swiftly in tones so unlike those which he used for strange transients as a collector's voice in his babytown's ear breathes that which he purports at the breakfast.

"Do you see that sweet?" asked the personage thunderingly.

"Yes, indeed, Judge Bee!"

"Then your employer, the manager of this hotel, pretty fine manager, I guess, the plantation, with a population of one speakable salmon canners.

"Yes, sir. I think so. Yes, sir."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those seed-like granules' wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real reason why anybody should suffer longer with any kind of Rheumatism. Try it, and in confidence recommend

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

Write for our Prospectus. Investigate to-day—to-morrow may be too late.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Something New in Souvenir Cards

The committee of the moonlight excursion in aid of Children's Aid Society and Sick Children's Hospital, which takes place Friday evening, 17th, request all girls who have tickets on sale to make returns not later than noon on Friday.

SPECIAL NOTICE

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

New Home For Children's Shelter

During the past week or so The Times has noted that it is possible that the city may grant the Children's Aid Society a free site on the Billiard farm for the erection of new home. This idea has met with favor from many of the members of the council and the mayor stated yesterday that it would be taken up at the next council meeting which will likely be on July 29th.

The July Rod and Gun.

Conspicuous amongst the contents of the July number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., is a story which surpasses in thrilling power and interest that of Hubbard's death in Labrador. The incident—one of the many Klondyke tragedies—took place in the other extreme of Canada, and is told with a simple pathos and force that is deeply moving, and brings vividly before the mind of every reader the fine heroism of many of our explorers. It is a story of wonderful human endurance under the most trying conditions, and Mr. W. H. Fisher, who has himself experienced many of the hardships of a frontier life, writes it under the double inspiration of personal knowledge of the conditions which made the grim tragedy possible and of close personal relations with the victim. The extracts from the dead man's diary require no setting and Mr. Fisher has wisely left them to carry home their own moral. The devotion of the explorer's dogs and their unsuccessful endeavors to bring him help adds to the touching nature of the story and is one more splendid testimony to the faithfulness of man's devoted friend. Lighter subjects take off the gloom of this story and readers will find the same variety in the magazine as ever. Dog hunters and still hunters continue to fight for their respective sides through Mr. C. H. Wilson, in quoting official experiences from authentic records, gives the dog hunters much to answer. In 'A Boy's Camp in the Laurentians, the story of how boys pass the whole summer in the backwoods is enough to make the youngsters who are city bound envious. Readrs will find the best of holiday and summer reading in this number.

Gas Extensions Common

The Peterborough Gas Company are extending their mains this season. The use of gas for cooking in summer is rapidly increasing in popularity. People find it convenient. So far this summer two hundred new consumers have been added, and there will be nearly as many more before the season is over. At the present time the company are putting their mains out Gilmour street, also on Water street between Dublin and Smith streets, on Charlotte street, and on Boswell and Pearl avenues.

Peterboro's Credit is Good

Mr. A. R. Taylor of the Heintzman Piano Co., Toronto, has been in the city for the past two days, a guest of the Snowden House. Mr. Taylor says that, after a long experience in his business, including many visits, through past years, to Peterborough, that this city is now in better financial condition than it ever has been since Sir Peter Robinson started the then infant city of Peterborough. He found that collections are easier and that more money is flowing about Peterborough than in any city or town in Ontario.

Through Boat From Orillia Here

The first boat from Orillia to reach Peterborough through the Trent canal, arrived in the city at noon yesterday. The boat was a gasoline launch, "The Idler," owned by Mr. Thompson of the northern town. He and Mrs Thompson are making a tour of the Trent canal from one end to the other. Everything went well all the way down. They crossed Lake Simcoe and up the canal to Kirkfield, over the lift lock. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson spent the night in Lakefield, and early yesterday morning started for Peterborough. They will journey through to Rice Lake.

Improvements in City Buildings

Architect John E. Belcher has completed the plans for remodelling the city hall, and they are now ready. The plans provide important changes in the building and if completed will occupy the entire floor space of two flats. The council committee room will be greatly enlarged, a sub-committee room added and the city clerk's office will be moved over to where the treasurer now is, while the treasurer will have part of the old fire hall along with the tax collector. The city engineer, plumbing inspector, assessors, street commissioner and other officials will be upstairs. Apartments are provided for the engineer.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Tuesday, July 30th, will be Millbrook's civic holiday.

—Read the new serial story in The Times which opens with this issue.

—The Port Hope canning factory will resume operations next week. Peas will be the first article to be canned.

—The annual Sunday school excursion of Bethany Tabernacle will be held down the river to Idyl Wyld on Thursday, June 25th.

—Mrs. J. H. Weese, late of Peterborough, has opened a restaurant in Jeff's block, adjoining the McMaster hardware store, Havelock.

—Still the crowds seem to think Jackson Park is the right place whereat to spend the evening. The cars are crowded every night.

—The Methodist Sunday school, of Millbrook, will hold their annual excursion on Tuesday, July 30th, to Orillia, by special train, leaving Millbrook station at 7.30.

—Lord, but it was hot yesterday; and hotter weather is to be handed out by the clerk of the weather. Were he responsible for such climatic conditions any jury would acquit the man who clubbed him.

—Herbert Taylor, of Peterborough, formerly of Havelock, was sentenced to one month in the Berlin jail at Galt on Friday last, for stealing a ride, along with four other youths, on the C.P.R. from London to Galt.

—The Presbyterian Sunday school of Millbrook, held an excursion to Stony Lake yesterday. It took four cars filled to their utmost capacity. They reached Peterborough in time to go to Lakefield on the morning train.

—The first instalment of taxes for 1907 are due on or before the 1st day of August. Tax Collector Greene has now delivered most of the tax bills. Those who have purchased property since the assessment was made and who have not received their tax bill are requested to call at the collector's office as soon as possible and get their slip.

A Good New Story

The Conquest of Canaan Begins in This Issue of The Times

As is known to our readers one of the most popular points of The Times is its serial stories. We have within the past year given some of the most eagerly sought for current stories of the day. With this issue begins the celebrated story of the Conquest of Canaan, written by Booth Tarkington, one of the brightest novelists of the age. Mr. Tarkington has written such world-wide read novels as "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," etc. The new novel in The Times is, however, one of the strongest placed before Peterborough readers.

Local Lady Leads List

Miss Thompson Now First in Toronto World Competition

In the Toronto World competition for the trip to London and Paris, which closes on July 22nd, one of the twenty-two candidates in district No. 3, which includes the Province of Ontario, Miss Birdie Thompson of Peterborough, now heads the list, having been advanced from sixth place. Miss Thompson now has 341,154 votes, being about 12,000 ahead of the next of the candidates. It is the intention of Miss Thompson's many friends to keep her at the head of the list and ensuring for her a trip abroad.

Police Court Session

That there are a large number of men who may or may not be looking for work but who are most assuredly praying Providence they won't find it, was demonstrated when the Police Court opened yesterday. There must have been 150 young men who eagerly listened to the somewhat unsavory evidence given there. The first case was that of Edward Herron, who was charged with being a vagrant, having no place of abode and not giving a satisfactory account of himself when questioned by the police. Herron pleaded not guilty. P. C. Newhall, in the box, said that on the afternoon of Friday he got information that took him, together with P.C. Mehary, to Jackson Park. He found Herron and the Drain woman, also in the dock, in the Park. Their actions were suspicious. There was a man named Sutherland with them at first. When the two saw the officers they left at full speed down the railroad track. Nellie Drain said, "I have done wrong, but give me another chance and I will get out of town. I have had a row with my husband and cannot stay at home." Herron, when searched at the station, had nothing in his pockets. He is a married man and has been in the court before. Herron went into the box and said that he is 27 years old. He is married but has not lived with his wife for five years. He has been driving logs all summer. He added, "If you let me go, I will leave today for Buckhorn where I am a guide the Americans." He has only been in jail once. The Magistrate said, "You have not any too good a character to save you, but I will give you a chance. Get out!" He got. Nellie Drain was then charged with being a vagrant. P. C. Newhall, in the box, said that the woman was at Jackson Park as noted in the former evidence. Her general reputation was decidedly bad. She had been sentenced formerly to a month in jail. The woman asked to be allowed to go and she would go straight to her home in Norwood. The Magistrate, however, replied, "Oh, I'm not going to send you to be a nuisance to the people there. I'm going to send you to the Mercer Institute for two years less one day."

The next prisoner, Harry Walters, was charged with being a vagrant. He pleaded guilty and asked to be sent to the Central Prison for six months. He was accommodated.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Coughs of Children

Especially night coughs. Nature needs a little help to quiet the irritation, control the inflammation, check the progress of the disease. Our advice is—give the children Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Ask your doctor if this is his advice also. He knows best. Do as he says.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our preparations.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small—club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards
Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

John D. Rockefeller Owns 27.4 Per Cent. of Stock

DIVIDENDS $364,000,000

Fourteen Others Besides John D. Are Heavily Interested in the Big Company

New York, July 21.—Fifteen individuals or estates, based on estimated holdings previous to the formation of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, control more than 90 per cent of the stock of the corporation. They have received over the last ten years dividends aggregating $364,004,000, or an average of $36,400,000.

The average yearly dividend over the last ten years was $40.40 a share, so that the entire dividends on the authorized capitalization of $100,000,000 for ten years ending December 31, 1907, will have reached $404,000,000, all but $39,996,000 being credited to the fifteen individuals or estates in question.

The following table gives holdings of the leading shareholders, based on the capitalization of $70,000,000 previous to the formation of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, and total dividends over the last ten years on an authorized capital stock of $160,000,000:

	Per cent stock	Dividends
J. D. Rockefeller	27.4	$111,696,000
W. C. Andrews	2.8	11,312,000
Charles Pratt	7.7	31,108,000
H. H. Rogers	2.6	10,504,000
Wm. Rockefeller	4.6	18,584,000
O B. Jennings	2.3	9,292,000
Estate J. Macy	3.5	16,100,000
J. A. Bostwick	4.9	19,796,000
xChas. Lockhardt	3.9	15,756,000
W. G. Warden	4.2	16,968,000
J. A. Harkness	8.4	33,936,000
H. M. Flagler	8.6	34,744,000
O. H. Payne	7.1	28,684,000
John Huntingdon	1.7	6,868,000
J. J Vandergrift	1.4	5,654,000
	90.1	361,004,000

xDeceased.

It is fair to assume that there has been a readjustment of Standard Oil holdings since the capital stock was increased to $100,000,000, through ordinary market channels, private transfers of stock, and the shifting of shares resulting from deaths.

John D. Rockefeller owned 2.74 per cent of the capital stock and apparently has received on an average more than $11,000,000 a year on the shares over the last ten years. It has been said that Mr. Rockefeller has largely increased his holdings since then, but no confirmation of this statement has been obtained.

H. H. Rogers is down for 2.6 per cent of the capital stock. Twelve of the above stockholders have received in dividends over the last ten years more than $1,000,000 a year; four have been receiving at the rate of more than $5,000,000 a year; one more than $2,000,000 a year, and three less than $1,000,000 a year.

Net earnings for some time have been far in excess of dividend requirements, and the company is supposed to have a large surplus. It has been said that the Standard Oil Company will make no change in its dividend policy until it has cleared itself of the chain of litigation surrounding it. If the corporation comes out victorious, stockholders expect to receive greater disbursements. It is admitted that the business has been breaking all records, which would indicate that it is in a better position to pay larger dividends than in 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, when dividends were respectively $48, $48, $46 and $44.

Bloodhounds on his Trail

Augusta, Ga., July 21.—A dispatch from Greenwood, S.C., says that much excitement prevails about the town of Troy over a murderous assault committed on the Rev. C. R. Bradley by a negro farmhand named John Suber.

The negro was ordered to do some farm work by Mr. Bradley and reprimanded for not attending to it, whereupon he attacked the preacher with a knife, gashing him once on each side of the throat and down the back. The negro escaped, and nearly every man in the community is scouring the woods in search of him.

Greenwood County bloodhunds are in pursuit, and Sheriff McMillan left Greenwood for the scene in an automobile. Mr. Bradley will probably recover. He is about sixty years old.

I'll stop your pain free. To show you first—before you spend a penny—what my Pink Pain Tablets can do, will mail you free, a Trial Package of them.—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Mr. R. W. Perks' Big Proposal

Want Methodist Bureaus All Over World to Deal With Local Problems

London, July 21.—At the annual conference of the Wesleyan Adherents, sitting in Wesley Chapel, Robert W. Perks, M.P., for Lincolnshire, presented the important proposition that the time had arrived when the Wesleyan forces throughout the world should bind themselves with a mighty band and grapple with the great economic and social questions of the day. He suggested the establishment of Methodist bureaus in all parts of the world to deal with the questions of immigration and unemployed labor, and to build up a practical loan society and savings bank and other kindred institutions for mutual aid. Mr. Perks declared that Methodism is a vast religious freemasonry, with world-wide riches and resources, only wanting the proper machinery to become a tremendous confederacy for mutual self-help.

No action was taken on the proposition thus presented, but the conference was greatly impressed with the possibilities.

Peace Prospects Have Disappeared

The Situation at Cobalt has Resolved Itself Into Fight to a Finish

Ottawa, July 21.—Mr. F. A. Acland has returned from Cobalt, where the situation seems to have settled down into a struggle spot where the dredge went down is the Mine Owners and the Western Federation, each party being confident of winning. Of the fifty or sixty mines which are serious factors in the labor gle between extreme members of situation ten have accepted the union terms. From thirty to thirty-five are firm in their hostility to the union and the remainder, while not accepting the union terms, are not as extreme in their attitude as the others, and are working with partial staffs. The government factor in the situation is the reluctance of the mine owners to make any concession to the Western Federation as such. As both parties are anxious to fight, and as neither is desirous of termination this struggle, the government seems to have no object in further efforts to bring them together.

Mr. Acland made a special reference to the orderly behavior of the strikers.

KING EDWARD LEADS LIFE OF ACTIVITY

Has Had a Strenuous Summer---Will Shortly Take a Vacation---Announcement of Visit to Him by Kaiser has not Excited any Enthusiasm

London, July 20.—The program of activities which King Edward is undergoing this summer marks him as one of the busiest and most hard working monarchs of his time. The German Emperor has a popular reputation for activity, and President Roosevelt's name is linked with the strenuous life, but when it is considered how much older the King of England is than his compeers, he may challenge comparison with either. The visit to Ireland last week was the last chapter in the King's work before an August vacation at Marienbad, and concluded a strenuous summer.

This week the king will go to Newmarket for racing, and after that to the Goodwood races and to the Cowes regatta, before his departure for Marienbad.

When abroad the king will meet the Emperor of Austria. In September the German Emperor will visit King Edward, while the court is in residence at Windsor. This will mean much entertaining, reviewing of troops, and formalities, but the recent announcement has failed to excite any enthusiasm in this country.

During the two months since the king returned from his journey to the continent and the Mediterranean, His Majesty had led a remarkably busy life, devoting his time to official functions, to society and race meetings.

In two months he has officiated at three levees, which impose considerable physical strain, attended every race meeting of the Ascot week, as well as the Derby, received hundreds of officials and disposed of quantities of routine official work. The amount of travelling and the change of uniforms and civilian suits involved constitute alone a severe physical effort for a man 66 years old.

There was much sighing in society during the years of Queen Victoria's widowhood for the splendors of court life. King Edward is giving the court and the country a memorable social reign, apart from his duties as a diplomat.

The C. P. R.'s Big Land Assets

London Paper Says They are Worth More Than $100 a Share

London, July 21.—The London Financial Times says editorially that the land assets of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are worth more than $100 per share of the capital stock to the stockholders. It infers that there will shortly be an apportionment of separate capital to represent the land assets of the stockholders of the company.

Women Abroad in Bathing Costumes

Bathers Can Walk the Streets in Semi-Nude Conditions

New York, July 21. — Corporation Counsel Ellison has sent an opinion to Police Commissioner Bingham which will delight the summer girls at the New York beaches. Mr. Ellison holds that the girls can parade not only on the beaches but through the streets of the seaside places and that the police have no right to stop them. The opinion was given in response to a request as to the authority of the police to prevent men and women from walking through the streets of Rockaway Beach in their bathing costumes. The Rockaway Beach Taxpayers' Association had made this complaint:

"The custom of our summer people in parading through our streets in their bathing suits is a thing that must be stopped at once, in the sentiment of all classes of citizens here, for it is something awful to see between 5,000 and 10,000 persons at one time going through our city without any concern.

LOCAL BALL TEAM DEFEAT OSHAWA

Peterboro Wins Base Ball Game At Riverside Park on Saturday by a Score of 16-2

At Riverside Park Saturday afternoon the local baseball team defeated Oshawa in a run-away game by a score of 16—2.

"Yebbie" Flaherty was on the rubber for the locals and although inclined to be a little wild on account of a sore shoulder, held the visitors at his mercy all through the game.

Peterborough started off with five runs in their first innings, while Oshawa was blanked.

In the second Oshawa got one, while Peterborough did not score.

The third inning the locals got three, while Oshawa got one, their last score of the game.

Peterborough got two in the 4th, three in the 5th and three in the 8th.

Smith who had been doing the twirling for the Oshawa bunch up to the 5th, got angry and wouldn't pitch no more, so not even if they coaxed.

Powers was then put in and noted like an unruly school boy, in fact because a decision did not suit him, took the team off the diamond, but was persuaded by some of the more sensible members of the team to continue the game.

Jack Corrowers, who has been named "Jack Tierney," played a great game both in the field and at the bat.

Harry Burridge as usual played a good game. Harry is one of the best amateur catchers in the business, and a few will miss their guess if he does not break into the professional ranks before long.

Be that the locals all played good ball, and outclassed the Oshawa bunch in every department of the game.

The crowd was quite a large one, a large number of the fair sex being present.

"Hunter" the little son of Manager Johnston, looked like the real goods being togged out in a Peterborough uniform, and made quite a hit with the crowd.

The locals lined-up was as follows:

WHOSE NEGLECT IS THIS

Citizens Denied Use of Victoria Park

Most Central Outing Spot in the City Again in Total Darkness Saturday Night

Peterborough has several parks, all of which are beautiful in the extreme. Some of her parks are somewhat distant from the center of the town and hence not always available for those who are pressed for time. Victoria Park is situated on Water street between Brock and Murray streets to the east side of Water street and to the west of the court house. It is a beautiful park, and most admirably taken care of by the Horticultural Society. Whilst these particulars may be known to most of our readers they seem to be a matter of ignorance or lack of care on the part of some of our civic officials. The Times has on various occasions called attention to the way in which hundreds of our citizens are several evenings out of each week debarred from the pleasure they would derive by visiting this park during the cool of the evening, simply because this the most easily accessible and most beautiful of our parks is in total darkness. On Saturday evening, the evening of all the week, when thousands of citizens of both sexes, their week's work being done, cannot enjoy it, this park was in total darkness.

Surely some one of our army of civic employes is responsible for this almost criminal neglect. The leaving of this park, situated right in the center of the city, in total darkness is a menace to the community. It does seem ridiculous that neither the aldermen nor the police are sufficiently interested in the welfare of the women and children of Peterborough to insist that this park be made safely accessible by them during the summer evenings.

Criminal Statistics Of Peterborough

Government Returns of What Local Law Makers Did

The Dominion Government has just issued the Criminal Statistics for the year 1905. From this we gather that in the County of Peterborough there were 4 charges of aggravated assault, 2 being convicted; assault and battery 4 charges, with 4 convictions; neglecting to support family, 2 charges with 2 convictions; house breaking 1 charge, 1 conviction; freight car breaking 2 charges, 2 convictions; false pretences 4 charges, 4 convictions; feloniously receiving or in possession of stolen goods 1 charge, 0 acquittal; fraud 1 charge, 1 acquittal; horse stealing 1 charge, 1 conviction; arceny 67 charges, 15 acquittals and 42 convictions; larceny from the person 1 charge, 1 conviction; injury to property 1 charges, 1 acquittal and 3 convictions; prison breach 1 charge, 1 conviction.

Summary Trials—

Assaults 26; breach of peace 7; cruelty to animals 4; disturbing religious meetings 2; breach of fishery act 2; gambling 2; liquor laws 7; selling in prohibited hours 4; selling liquor without license 1; violation of Indian liquor law 3; damage to property 2; offences against master 3; offences against medical act 1; municipal bylaws, breach of 40; want of license 4; offences against health act 4; highways 34; non-support of family 6; statute labor tax 13; abusive language 2; trespass 4; vagrancy 9; drunk 75; indecent exposure 11; profane language 10; bawdy houses 8; disorderly 13; insanity 4, or a total of 354 convictions.

Japs Are Buying Quebec Cattle

Sixty Head of the Finest Stock at Howick Acquired by Orientals

Montreal, July 21.—It was stated today at the offices of Rae and Donnelly, auctioneers, that three Japanese, evidently of high social position in the Flowery Empire, have been travelling through the province of Quebec in search of high-class stock. At Howick, according to Mr. Gregg of that place, they bought nothing less than sixty head of the finest obtainable cattle from the farms of Mr. Robert Ness and other residents. They paid excellent prices, and though reticent as to the nature of their errand, admitted that they were purchasing on behalf of the Japanese government.

The cattle were at once shipped to Japan, via Vancouver.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Government Wages Are Too Small

Men Will Not be Letter Carriers for $7.70 a Week to Walk 15 Miles Daily

It seems that the residents of the citizens of Peterborough are not having letters delivered at their homes is strictly and severely a financial one.

Some time ago all the extra distribution boxes for the post office, the uniforms for six men, and all the paraphernalia necessary for six letter carriers arrived. One delivery was to be given in all parts of the city and two in the central portion. Each carrier would cover about fifteen miles a day, a good day's work as he would have with him a big bag full of letters and papers.

Applications for the positions were asked for, and it is understood a number received. But any particulars in this regard are not forthcoming. Still it seems as though the delay is a matter of pay as carriers, who must be of a high class of men in education, etc., will not fall over one another looking for a job that pays $7.70 a week.

Hilliard Site For The Shelter

Mayor Best to Dispose of the Present Location

It is generally known that ex-Mayor B. Best has for some years passed, practically given their present large grounds and buildings at the corner of Stewart and Charlottte streets, to the Children's Aid Society for practically nothing. Mr Best paid $5000 for this corner lot and handed it over to the shelter for $50 a year, or less than one per cent. on his outlay. Mr. Best now has an opportunity to dispose of the property to advantage, so the society will have to secure new quarters. It is generally thought that the society will try to secure a site on the Hilliard Farm. Whilst this will not be as centrally located and conveniently situated as the present shelter, the society has to make their funds and expenditure balance.

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS AT ENTRANCE EXAMS

Creditable Showing Made by the Children of the Country Schools Throughout the County of Peterboro

Sixty-eight per cent. of the county pupils who wrote on the entrance examinations in this county succeeded in passing successfully, or 188 out of 204 who wrote passed. This is a record that is very encouraging to both masters and inspectors of the county. Candidates wrote as seven different centers, viz., Apsley, Ennismore, Hall's Bridge, Havelock, Keene, Lakefield, and Norwood.

PRIZE WINNERS.

The county prize of 10 dollars goes to Lillian Brock, of S.S. No. 9 Belmont.

A prize of five dollars given by Rev. Father Phalen, goes to Victor Bullock of Lakefield.

Another prize of five dollars by the same generous gentleman goes to Catherine Windsor of Young's Point.

A good second for the county prize was made by Clara Young of School Section No. 2, Smith. A good third was made by William Kerr of 11 Smith. Those who wrote on the entrance exams, with the respective places where they studied are as follows;

Fair Girl Stowaway Clad in Mail Attire

New York, July 21.—Hand over head in true sailor fashion a diminutive form in male attire came over the side of the Russian steamer Saratov, which is docked here, and at the end of the spring line dropped plump into the arms of an immigrant inspector. The bold front and stout heart that had brought their possessor through many perils failed under the searching inquisition of the officer and presently in a flood of tears stood revealed Miss Pauline Flaks, stowaway, 18 years old, bound from Kowna, Russia, for America and freedom. She will be sent back to Libau, her sailing port.

Back of the arrest of the Flaks girl is a story of immigrant smuggling that has made the immigration authorities especially vigilant recently. Some time ago report that undesirable aliens were being landed illegally from Russian steamers led special inspectors to hold up a party of Russians found in the Grand Central Station and later to return the whole party to Ellis Island, while a story secured from them could be investigated. These Russians declared that through an organized traffic, the prime mover in which had headquarters at Libau, a Baltic seaport, foreigners likely to be refused legal admission were smuggled into this country.

PATH TO SEA FOR THE POPE

Richard C. Kerens' Plan to Extend Vatican Grounds

PONTIFF LIVES A PRISONER

St. Louis Financier Seeks Method of Freeing Pius X. From His Irksome Imprisonment

Rome, July 21.—A new chapter in the history of the popes will be opened if the ingenious proposal of Richard C. Kerens of St. Louis for buying a strip of land to construct a papal land from the vatican to the sea is carried into effect.

The world knows, or, at any rate, generally believes that the pope pines for the freedom which is denied him by the politics of the vatican.

For the span of an average man's life Pius X. lived the life of a free man. As a lad he ranm barefooted seven miles to school every day. As a bishop he was free to wander about the Venice which he loved. But the moment he was elected pope Guiseppe Sarto became the "prisoner of the vaticang" and his heart must have sunk within him when he realized that in all probability he would walls. He entered the conclave a free never again set eyes on Venice, never even take one step beyond the vatican man. He emerged—the pope king of the Catholic world, but a king who might not cross the threshold of his palace without repudiating the policy of the church of Rome.

PRISONERS FORTY YEARS.

For nearly forty years the pope has remained the prisoner of the vatican, still refusing to recognize the new kingdom of Italy, still waiting the moment which never arrives when he may emerge once more as "pope-king" in fact as well as name.

When Pius IX. died Leo XIII. "inflexibly carried on the great battle of "passive resistance." At one time it was hoped by Rome that Germany would come to the assistance of the pontiff, but Bismark dashed those hopes to the ground with th ereply that he was "unaware that any such question existed" as the question of the papal claims to dominion over Rome.

Leo XIII died, Pius X. is pontiff, and still Rome waits, and still the thousands of woshipers in St. Peter's hail the pope as "Ilpape-rei" (the pope-king) and the pope remains the "prisoner of the vatican"—the third of his line.

WILL NEVER SEE VENICE.

Now and again it has been asserted that Pius X. intends to break down the barrier between himself and the world, and that he will go to Venice or to a country villa for a change in the summer. But the probability is that he will never go, and that he will die and be interred in his tiny kingdom.

The Italian government has left this three prisoners of the vatican, one after another, unmolested. At any hour, the pope chose he might ride forth a free man, for no one believes that the freedom of the pope would in any way endanger the Italian monarchy. The gorgeous scarlet and gold coach in which Pius IX. made his regal processions still stands at the vatican, a ponderous witness to this unchanging policy.

If there is something comic in Mr. Kerens' scheme for extricating the pope from the vatican without entailing the confession of the defeat of the papal claims, there is a good deal that is pathetic in the fate of the pope. It may be doubted if Mr. Kerens' or any other scheme for releasing the pope will be accepted by the vatican, for the simple reason that the forty years' objection to the Roman Catholic world of the "imprisonment" of the pope would be lost. The papal claims might still be put forth, but Rome would no longer hold the most eminent prisoner in the world.

"There's a Reason"

Sin Against Health

Why the Usefulness of All Organs is Destroyed by Costiveness.

Most important to health and comfort is the proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Habitual costiveness is best overcome by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which establish regularity that is exactly consistent with nature.

Not a drastic purgative—not even a pain or sensation of grip, because Dr. Hamilton's Pills are vegetable and free from irritating widely advertised remedies.

In every case Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure and bring sure relief from headache, biliousness and other manifestations of constipation.

Jas. McDonnell, of Walkerton, writes; "Since I was comparatively a young man I have not enjoyed real good health.

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong.

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was disordered, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings.

"Last winter I read through the Poison's almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

THE SITUATION IN INDIA

The firmness with which the Indian Government has dealt with the agitators and seditious characters in the Punjab has had a most salutary effect. The deportation of one of the most prominent of the agitators has greatly improved the situation. It was thought that the government would not venture on such a step and its actions has caused his followers to realize that a persistence in such a course may be disastrous to them. There is an Indian proverb that says in hunting a deer one may rouse a tiger, which applies to the possible result to those who may attempt to continue the agitation.

It is understood, however, that a secret propaganda is being carried on with the view of causing disaffection among the rural population and in the ranks of the native army. There is not, however, an unreason at present to think that these efforts will meet with much success. From different districts have come addresses of loyalty to the government and expressions of satisfaction at its determination to suppress seditious actions or speeches. While it is almost impossible for any community of sentiment to spring up between the people and their rulers, the former realize that they enjoy a peace and security that would be wanting under the rule of one of their own race. No one who knows India will venture to assert that self-government—on any large degree of it—is possible in India at the present time or for many years to come. The "white man's burden" is very heavy in India, but it has got to be borne at almost any cost.

ORCHARD'S MOTIVE

It was the natural belief of many when Harry Orchard began giving his testimony that he was trying to save his own neck. There was abundant evidence that he was the murderer of Gov. Steunenberg; many men, knowing that they could be held to the gallows or to prison, have made a bid for immunity by informing on others. Often they have told the truth, but sometimes they have tried to sweep away the lives of innocent men. The jurors as they heard Orchard recite the story of years of assiduous crime must have had their doubts as to how far a man who had nothing to lose by turning state's evidence but who might save his life by it could be trusted. They may have had a feeling of repugnance for him when he related with the utmost composure the details of murders he had committed or tried to commit. It may have seemed to them that a creature apparently so cold blooded would be as ready to commit perjury as to blow upon foreman or put strychnine in milk.

If the wish to escape the hangman's noose were the only apparent motive for Orchard's turning state's evidence the jurors would naturally ask to have his statements confirmed by much strong corroborative evidence before returning a verdict of guilty against anybody. Now another and a higher motive has to be taken into consideration.

Orchard says that when he came to think of his crimes and of the hereafter, and read the bible, he came to the conclusion that he would be forgiven if he truly repented and made a clean breast of his sins regardless of the consequences to himself or to others. He denies that it was the hope of immunity which made him a witness.

There have been men with lives as black as that of Orchard who have repented of and confessed their crimes. The jurors who can hear Orchard's voice and study his every motion are best qualified to decide whether he is a penitent or a hypocrite. Probably the counsel for the defence will contend that he is the latter. There are instances of trapped criminals who have professed penitence in the hope that it might help them out.

If the jurors shall believe that Orchard was governed exclusively by the motive he has assigned they will be more ready to believe him, especially if the defence shall be unable to impeach him in any material particular. The defence probably would give much to be able to that Orchard's alleged conversion is a perjurer's tale.

Condemned By An Inquisition

Rome, July 20.—The syllabus promulgated by the Pope yesterday with regard to the so-called modernism in the faith contains a preamble which sets forth that Roman Catholic authors, under the pretext of examining dogmas, explain them in the same of history in such a fashion that the dogmas themselves disappear. To prevent such errors, the preamble says, the pope has ordered a congregation of inquisition to note and reprove the principal errors, and with his approbation sixty-five propositions are condemned. These include the following:

Divine inspiration does not guarantee all and every part of the Holy Scriptures against error.

The resurrection of the Saviour is not an historical fact, but is purely supernatural. It can neither be demonstrated nor is it demonstratable.

The Roman Catholic Church became the head of all churches, not by divine ordinance, but by purely political circumstances.

The Church is the enemy of natural and theological sciences.

The Christian doctrine was first Judiac, then Pauline, then Hellinic, then universal.

The principal articles of the apostles' creed had not the same significance to the primitive Christians as they have to the Christians of the present time.

Died In The Catskills

Catskill, N.Y., July 20.—In the forest on top of Black Head Mountain, a high peak in the town of Cairo, Thomas Simpson, forty-nine years old, of Brooklyn, one of a climbing party from the Round Top Ravine House, four miles distant, dropped dead at the feet of his two sons.

Mr. Simpson, who was head bookkeeper for the Boynton Heater Company, of New York, with his two sons and a friend, Richard Doscher, early Monday morning, left the hotel, planning to climb Black Head Mountain.

Walking leisurely and stopping often by the way, it was mid-afternoon when they paused again to rest before making the final ascent.

Mr. Simpson was the first to rise and urge the others on, waving a small American flag, which he intended to erect upon the summit. "Come," said he, "let us be going," and with those prophetic words he fell dead.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. The Murder of Rodzyk

Hamilton, July 20.—The inquest into the death of Andrew Rodzyk, the Pole, who was murdered in his house last Friday, was concluded last night. The jury's verdict is that Jacob Sunfield fired the fatal shot. Several witnesses testified of violent quarrels, and of a recent shooting affray between Rodzyk and his murderer. A sensational piece of evidence was given by Andrew Budu, who told of being asked by Mrs. Rodzyk how she could get rid of her husband without arousing the suspicious of the police.

Never Spoke to a Man in Seventy Years

Lawrenceburg, Ind., July 20.—Miss Sarah Ann Daniel, ninety-five years of age, died at her country home, two miles north of this city. She is believed to have been the oldest maiden lady in Indiana and for nearly seventy years she has lived the life of a recluse.

Tradition has it that when she was sixteen years of age she was engaged to a young man who was teaching school in a distant part of the county but at the close of the school term he left the county without a word of explanation and Miss Daniel never heard from him again. She refused to meet any of the young men of the neighborhood and when her father died, and later her mother, she was so heavily veiled at the funeral that her face could not be seen.

She continued to occupy the old homestead, but all business in connection with the farm was transacted through neighbors of her own sex, and it is said that she never spoke to a man, save her own father, after her sweetheart proved false.

C.P.R. New Steamers

Montreal, July 20.—The C.P.R. have decided to build a new steamer for the Pacific service. She will be larger and faster than any of the boats now on the Pacific. Plans are complete, and work on her will begin immediately.

The two C.P.R. lake boats will be finished by the end of August. They will be brought over as far as Quebec under their own steam. At Quebec they will be cut in two and taken through the canals to the lakes.

SIREN WAFER DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms —the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" waters will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Do you think he fully understands that I am the proprietor of this building?"

"Certain, judge, sure!—

"You will inform him that I do not intend to be disconcerted by his presence as I pass to my office. Tell him from another source the alternative to that of this hotel door of snow I will cancel his lease. Their present condition is outrageous. Do you understand me? Outrageous! Do you hear?"

"Yes, judge, I do so," answered the clerk, hoarse with respect. "I'll see to it this minute, Judge Pike."

"You had better." The personage turned himself about and began a grim progress toward the door by which he had entered, his eyes fixing themselves angrily upon the conclave at the windows.

He nodded to the only man of substance among them, Jonas Tabor, and shut the door behind him with majestic insult. He was Canaan's millionaire.

Naturally Jonas Tabor was the first to speak. "Judge Pike's lookin' mighty well," he said admiringly.

"Yes, he is," ventured Squire Bucksalew, with deference; "mighty well."

"There's a party at the judge's tonight," said Mr. Bradbury—"kind of a ball Mamie Pike's givin' for the young folks. Quite a doin's, I hear."

"That's another thing that's ruining Canaan," Mr. Arp declared morosely—"these entertainments they have nowadays. Spend all the money out of town—band from Indianapolis, chicken salad and darky waiters from Chicago!"

A decrepit hack or two, a couple of old fashioned surreys and a few "cutunders" drove by from the 10:45 train, bearing the newly arrived and their valises, the hotel omnibus depositing several commercial travelers at the door. A solitary figure came from the station on foot, and when it appeared within fair range of the window, Uncle Joe Davey, who had but hovered on the flanks of the combat, first removed his spectacles and wiped them, as though distrusting the vision they offered him, then, replacing them, scanned anew the approaching figure and uttered a smothered cry.

"My Lord A'mighty," he gasped, "what's this? Look there!"

They looked. A truce came involuntarily, and they sat in paralytic silence as the figure made its stately and sensational progress along Main street.

It was that of a tall gentleman, cheerfully, though somewhat with ennui, enduring his nineteenth winter. His long and slender face he wore smiling, beneath an accurately cut plaster of dark hair cornicing his forehead, a fashion followed by many youths of that year. This perfect bang was shown under a round black hat whose rim was so small as almost not to be there at all, and the head was supported by a waxy white seawall of collar, rising three inches above the blue billows of a puffed cravat, upon which floated a large, hollow pearl. His ulster, sporting a big cape at the shoulders and a tasseled hood over the cape, was of a rough Scotch cloth, patterned in faint gray and white squares the size of baggage checks, and it was so long that the skirts trailed in the snow. His legs were lost in the accurately creased, voluminous garments that were the tailors' canny reaction from the tight trousers with which the 80's had begun—they were in color a polish russet, broadly striped with gray and in size surpassed the milder spirit of fashion so far as they permitted a liberal knee action to take place almost without superficial effort. On his feet glistened long shoes, shaped, save for the heels, like sharp racing shells. These were partially protected by tan colored low gaiters, with flat, shiny, brown buttons. In one hand the youth swung a bone handled walking stick perhaps an inch and a half in diameter; the other carried a yellow leather banjo case, upon the outside of which glittered the embossed silver initials "E. B." He was smoking, but walked with his head up, making use, however, of a gait at that time new to Canaan, a seeming superbly irresponsible lounge, engendering much motion of the shoulders, producing an effect of carelessness combined with independence, an effect which the innocent have been known to hail as an unconscious one.

"My Lord A'mighty,' he gasped, "what's this?"

With everything in sight he deigned to be amused, especially with the old faces in the National House windows. To these he waved his stick with airy graciousness.

"My soul," said Mr. Davey, "it seems to know some of us!"

"Yes," agreed Mr. Arp, his voice recovered, "and I know it. It's Fanny Louden's boy Gene, come home for his Christmas holidays."

"By George, you're right!" cried Pitcroft. "I recognize him now."

"But what's the matter with him?" asked Mr. Bradbury eagerly. "Has he joined some patent medicine troupe?"

"Not a bit," replied Eskew. "He went east to college last fall."

"Do they make the boys wear them clothes?" persisted Bradbury. "Is it some kind of uniform?"

"I don't care what it is," said Jonas Tabor, "if I was Henry Louden I wouldn't let him wear 'em around here."

"Oh, you wouldn't, wouldn't you, Jonas?" Mr. Arp employed the accents of sarcasm. "I'd like to see Henry Louden try to interfere with Gene Bantry. Fanny 'd lock the old fool up in the cellar."

The lofty vision lurched out of view.

"I reckon," said the colonel, leaning forward to see the last of it—"I reckon Henry Louden's about the saddest case of abused stepfather I ever saw."

"It's his own fault," said Mr. Arp—"twice not havin' sense enough not to marry. Him with a son of his own too!"

"Yes," assented the colonel, "marryin' a widow with a son of her own, and that widow Fanny!"

"Wasn't it just the same with her first husband, Bantry?" Mr. Davey asked, not for information, as he immediately answered himself. "You bet it was! Didn't she always rule the roost? Yes, she did. She made a god of Gene from the day he was born. Bantry's house was run for him, like Louden's is now."

"And look," exclaimed Mr. Arp, with satisfaction, "at the way he's turned out!"

"He ain't turned out at all yet. He's too young," said Bucksalew. "Besides, clothes don't make the man."

"Wasn't he smokin' a cigaret?" cried Eskew triumphantly. This was final.

"It's a pity Henry Louden can't do something for his own son," said Mr. Bradbury. "Why don't he send him away to college?"

"Fanny won't let him," chuckled Mr. Arp malevolently. "Takes all their spare change to keep Gene there in style. I don't blame her. Gene certainly acts the fool, but that Joe Louden is the orneriest boy I ever saw in an ornery world full."

"He always was kind of mischeevous," admitted Bucksalew. "I don't think he's mean, though, and it does seem kind of not just right that Joe's father's money—Bantry didn't leave anything to speak of—has to go to keepin' Gene on the fat of the land, with Joe gittin' up at half past 4 to carry papers, and him goin' on nineteen years old."

"It's all he's fit for!" exclaimed Eskew. "He's jow down, I tell ye. Ain't it only last week Judge Pike caught him shootin' craps with Pike's nigger driver and some other nigger hired men in the alley back of Pike's barn."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasting tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

¶ We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Even Her Blood Turned to Water

When Dying of Pernicious Anaemia Her Life Was Saved by

..Ferrozone..

Probably very few cases are on record in which an absolute cure has been made of pernicious anaemia.

But Ferrozone did cure Miss Elaine Stanhope—cured her absolutely, and her mother Mrs. G. Stanhope of Rothesay, Ont., says the following:

"My daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength till too weak to attend school. The doctors prescribed different bottles of medicine but Elaine kept getting worse instead of better. She had Anaemia and we were afraid for a while that she might never rally. We read of a similar case, that of Miss Descent of Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure, and I am convinced that there is no better blood-maker than Ferrozone. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits. The credit of her recovery is entirely due to Ferrozone."

Every young girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone.

It makes blood, nerve and tissue—makes it fast—makes it to stay.

Complexion soon becomes perfect, nerves get new strength, tiredness vanishes—perfect health is the reward for using Ferrozone, which is sold by all druggists—price 50c. per box; don't fail to try it.

Something New in Souvenir Cards

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

To Raise The Dredge

The dredge, Sir Wilfrid, which sank near Port Hope on October 24th, 1902 will be raised almost immediately. Mr. Polson states that the Reid wrecking company of Port Huron, left there on June 28th. He expected that the fleet would arrive in Toronto last week. The spot wher ethe dredge went down is known and there will be very little trouble in that respect. The dredge was built at the Polson ship yards and while en route to Montreal wherm the rope holding the dipper broke, causing it to swing to one side suddenly, which resulted in the sinking of it.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Chase's Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

Good Record of Norwood School

Mr. S. A. Smith, who is principal of the Norwood Public school sent 23 candidates up for the entrance examinations and 19 passed. This is eighty-three per cent, which is a splendid showing and reflects great credit on teachers and pupils.

Changes in a Local Creek

The creek that crosses Charlotte street would hardly be recognized by even "the oldest inhabitant." Street Commissioner Harry Evans' gang of men has scooped the bottom out of this local water way. It is now confined to a width of perhaps six feet. A statistician who was watching the operation computed that 31,317 crawfish lost their lives during the present operations.

Lindsay Slander Suit

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. Fremont Crandell, who has been in the West for some months, today issued a writ through Messrs. Weldon & Knight, against Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Mills, claiming two thousand dollars damages for slander and defamation of character for allegations said to have been made concerning Mr. Crandell by the defendants, arising out of the counterfeit case.

Good Fishing at Young's Point

The Lakefield News says: The lunge fishing has never been better at Young's Point for many years and many good catches have been made. Mr. Peter Phelan, a man of 80 years, succeeded in landing four fine specimens the other day and Messrs Jas. and Percy Pammett caught five while trawling through Lake Katchewanooka from Lakefield to the Point. Bass are apparently not hungry these days and few catches are reported.

Salvation Army Band Did Well

The Salvation Army Band turned out last some 35 strong. They marched up George to Simcoe street then turning up to the barracks. The band was led by an officer carrying their brand new and brilliant flag.

This band certainly deserves the support of our citizens if only as a musical organization. Their marching and wheeling was as well performed as could be done by any military body.

Arrested After Nine Months Absence

Richard Alfred was fined $2 in October last for being d. & d. He was given ten days in which to pay his fine but neglected to do so. On Saturday afternoon Pc. Constantine was, to use a slang expression, "Johnny on the spot," and seeing Richard on Water street, brought him to the station. At four p.m. Alfred was escorted to the stone residence that crowns the eminence to the rear of Victoria Park, where he will spend the next ten days in enforced seclusion.

He Slept Through a Good Excursion

A local wine clerk whose name, just for fun, we will say is Gusty, took in the moonlight excursion Friday night. He boarded the boat at the wharf and sat down on a bag of sawdust in the bow. A ten cent cigar was clasped between his teeth. Too close attention to business, however, had tired this dispenser of refreshment. He slept as the lines were being drawn aboard the boat. As the steamer was pulling into the dock on her return trip the hero of this story woke up and asked an employee of the steamer, "Say, when does this boat leave the wharf?" To which he was answered, "Why Gusty, what is the matter? Why this boat is just coming in on her return trip." It is only justice to the wine clerk to add that he was not in any sense the worse of the products he handles. It was simply a case of a tredman who went to sleep and lost the fun.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients — Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest indorsement from the leading medical writers and writers on Medical Science who recommend them as the very best remedies for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in The United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

THIS INDUSTRY A GROWING ONE

Cement Men Finding Their Own This Year

THE OUTPUT AT LAKEFIELD

Mills Are Running Night and Day to Meet the Increased Demand

An interesting contrast the cement industry of Canada presents today with its early difficulties of promotion, its struggles to get on its feet, and costly experiments.

At the present time the mills of Ontario are turning out in round figures ten thousand barrels of Portland cement per day. The aggregate output on this basis, allowing 300 working days to the year, is 3,000,000 barrels. The industry in this province at the mills and marl beds gives employment to 1,000 men, supporting, therefore, on the usual basis of computation, 5,000 people. It is probably one of the greatest consumers of coal among the manufacturing industries of the province. The combined mills are importing annually from 200,000 to 250,000 tons of stack and three-quarter lump bituminous coal from Pennsylvania. They pay for this from $2.80 to $3.25 per ton, or at an average of $3.50 per ton, over $700,000. The handling of this coal at the docks and sidings creates labor also for, probably, 200 more men during eight months of the year.

MILLS WELL DISTRIBUTED.

The cement mills are well distributed over the province. The following is the list, giving the location and daily output in barrels of plants in operation;

Owen Sound, Shallow Lake	1,200
National, Durham	1,200
Grey & Bruce, Owen Sound	600
Sun, Owen Sound	600
Imperial, Owen Sound	600
Hanover, Hanover	600
Atwood, Atwood	100
Ottawa, Ottawa	1,800
Lakefield, Lakefield	1,000
Canadian, Deseronto	1,600
Blue Lake, Brantford	700
Berthierville, Berthierville	900
Daily output in Ontario	10,000

There are other mills in Ontario nearing completion, and which should soon be in operation. These include the Colonial at Wiarton and Superior at Orangeville.

ELSEWHERE IN CANADA.

Elsewhere in Canada the cement business has been gaining a foothold. Among other mills might be mentioned the Exshaw plant, west of Calgary, which will soon be in operation; the Calgary mill which is again in operation, having been rebuilt after the fire some months ago, and the Todd inlet near Vancouver.

The west takes about 25 per cent of the output of the Ontario mills, which is as much as they can afford to take away from the home market. The business on the whole is now giving satisfactory financial returns, and dividends last year were the rule. The Canadian demand is ahead of the supply and the plants are nearly all in operation day and night. Prices range, according to quality, at from $1.60 to $1.70 per barrel at the mill, giving a satisfactory margin of profit. The value of the output at the average price is, in round figures, $5,000,000. Canadian marl and limestone is clearly a source of national wealth.

BUYING MACHINERY IN CANADA.

The manufacture of cement has created a new source of business for Canadian machine shops and foundries. American mills were so busy, looking after the local fields that orders have been undertaken by shops in this country for engines, dredges, pulleys and even the ponderous rotary kilns. The building of the mills has created work for the structural steel mills, for nearly all steel roof girders and supports are used.

The amount of capital invested in the cement plants of Canada would approximate $7,000,000, of which over $5,000,000 has gone into the mills in Ontario.

AN INCREASING MARKET.

A demand for cement has been created in many new directions. It is being used today for reinforced concrete buildings, cement walks, cement bridges, railroad culverts, cement arches, in foundations and floors for barns and cellars.

Among the novel uses to which cement has been put is the construction of reinforced telegraph poles. Such have been in use for years along the elWiland canal. They range in height from 45 to 60 feet and are indestructible.

SAD FIND AT THE PETERBORO LOCKS

Body Of Mrs. Frank R. Clarke Recovered Drowned

Supposed to Have Committed Suicide in the River Whilst Temporarily Deranged

The many friends of Mr. Frank R. Clarke, the George and Brock street jeweller yesterday demonstrated by expressions heard on the street the great sympathy they felt for him in his sad bereavement of yesterday.

It seems that as young Augustus Rose, son of Mr. Abraham Rose, Lansdowne street, was strolling south from the bridge, above the locks he saw a body in the water. It was floating face downward, close to the long concrete pier, about half way between the lock and the bridge. All the clothes were on the body, including a trimmed straw hat, a rubber raincoat, boots and rubbers. She had a gold wedding ring on her finger, and a gold brooch on her breast. The face showed signs of illness, and it supposed that she committed suicide.

This is somewhat verified by the undoubted reports that the deceased, Mrs. Clarke has for some time been afflicted with melancholia.

Young Rose communicated his discovery to Lockmaster Wm. Collins, who immediately notified the police station. P. C. Newhall quickly left for the scene, and at the C.P.R. station notified Coroner Gray, who was leaving to hold an inquest at Havelock, and the latter decided to hold inquest in the evening on his return. The unfortunate lady had only been in the water a few hours when found, and the remains were recognised as those of Mrs. Clarke, after they had been taken to Bellegham's undertaking establishment.

It seems that yesterday morning Mrs. Clarke had, before leaving her home on Bolivar street, attended to her usual household duties, even making the beds, and had arranged to meet Mr. Clarke uptown later on for lunch at a restaurant. The way in which Mr. Clarke found out about his sad loss was particularly distressing. About 10.30 he went to his residence and found the place locked up, but did not then suspect the sad fatality that had occurred.

The deceased was forty-four years of age, and is survived by her husband, Mr. Frank R. Clarke, and one son, Harry W., who is associated with his father in the business. Her maiden name was Jennie Whitehair, the family formerly residing on Sherbrooke street.

The general theory is that Mrs. Clarke got into the river somewhere near the C.P.R. bridge as several people saw what would correspondend with a floating body between that point and where the body was located. It is thought that the air contained between her outside rain coat and the body was sufficient to float the body.

No matter what the cause was the whole matter is of the saddest kind, and Mr. Clarke will have the general and sincere sympathy of the whole community.

NO INQUEST HELD.

As noted above Dr. J. W. Gray had issued papers for an inquest on the body of deceased, however, last night on his return to the city, on ascertaining full particulars, he withdrew the papers, deciding that her death was due to suicide by drowning.

Berlin, July 23.—The Empress, who is noted for her pluck on horseback, apparently is not so courageous while in an automobile. In her touring car Saturday she was within three miles of her destination when explosions in the motor caused her to believe that her life was in danger. Assurances by her chauffeur were of no avail, and the empress proceeded in a wagon to the railroad station.

Prominent Idaho Man Interviewed

Thinks Haywood's Stated Guilt Would Lead to Serious Trouble but That Orchard Will Possibly Get Off

A prominent Idaho mining superintendent now visiting Canada whilst passing east from Toronto was seen by a Times correspondent who asked his opinion as a man just from the spot, what would be the result should Haywood be convicted in the now famous Boise City trial. He replied emphatically that the result of a verdict of guilty by a jury would mean the taking up of arms in a miniature civil way by an enraged populace. He noted that the people of Idaho are greatly excited over this trial. From what he has seen in the Canadian papers, he judged that the public of Canada has been misinformed. In his part of the country there is no doubt but what Orchard has told a true story, that is in the main, and allowing for the man's misapplied egotism, but that Haywood is innocent. He further added that for some time the Western Federation of Miners claim there have been wrongs on both sides, but he would not commit himself to any marked opinion on this point. It is commonly asserted in Idaho that Orchard has been in the pay of the Federation of Miners, but that he was given the double cross by acting with the Pinkerton detectives. Whilst Orchard may escape the hand of justice, he will have to shake the dust of the West from his feet.

Mrs. Lowry, Water St., Has Diphtheria

Police Instructed to Place Water St. House in Quarantine

Yesterday afternoon a lady living in the Dunsford block, just to the east of the market square, called at the police station and noted that Mrs. Lowry, whose name is somewhat familiar, was very ill, in fact "out of her head," and probably dying. The policeman on duty, P. C. Adams, advised the caller to send to the patient's father who lives on Aylmer street. It was however, later ascertained that Mrs. Lowry, who is boarding in the same block with Mr. Dunsford, is ill with diphtheria. The police have been notified not to allow any access to or egress from the house in question, in other words it is strictly quarantined.

CHAMPION LONGBOAT TO RUN IN THIS CITY

Peterboro Turf Club Now Trying to Get Him

Howard, The Hiawatha Crack, Has Agreed To Enter—Others Likely To Run

Yesterday much excitement was caused over the easy victory of Longboat in Toronto, over the supposed crack long distance runner. It seems, however that comparitively more excitement was evident here yesterday among some of the local sporting men when it was divulged that the Peterborough Turf Club are in correspondence with Longboat in order to get him here to run in the Turf Club races at the Driving Park on August 12th. Yesterday Howard the Hiawatha Indian, who won the Marathon race at the Driving Park, May 24th, was in the city and was, during his visit, constantly interviewed by many of our leading local sportsmen. It is anticipated that should Longboat accept the invitation to run here at the Driving Park that both Howard, the Hiawatha crack, a noted Indian runner from Christian Island and still another Indian whose name was not available, will contest the honors and incidental prizes with Longboat. In any case a splendid foot race is assured, and the Peterborough Turf Club deserve great credit for their energetic and thoughtful management in providing such first-class and strictly "clean" sport for the public of Peterborough. Whilst not wagering that Howard can beat Longboat, we venture that he will give him a harder and closer run than did the U.S. champion, with whom Longboat seemed to simply play tag without any chance of the champion touching him and saying, "You're it!"

Mr. J. Nevin's Funeral Tomorrow Morning

Almost a Centenarian of Peterboro Has Passed Away

At 12.30 yesterday afternoon, one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected citizens, in the person of Mr. James Nevin, 213 Simcoe street, passed away. The late Mr. Nevin, who was 98 years of age, and who has been ill for only a few days, passed away with his death not expected so soon. The deceased was born in County Mayo, Ireland, and came to Canada 67 years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss, four daughters, and two sons, who all live in Peterborough, except one daughter, Mrs. Mantyjack of Detroit, Mich., and one son, Mr. P. Nevin, of Schenectady, N.Y., and another daughter Mrs. Mary Grady, whose address was not noted.

The late Mr. Nevin who was laid out in a handsome casket in the drawing room, was almost startling natural, retaining the tints of life. Mr. C. Rutherford, son-in-law of the deceased, is attending to the obsequies. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from the family residence to St. Peter's cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Excursion Date Has Been Changed

Bethany Sunday School Trip to Idyl Wyld on July 30th

As much interest is being taken in the excursion and picnic to be held by Bethany Sunday school per steamer Otonabee to Idyl Wyld, we might note that, by an oversight, the date of this outing as given in the original advertisement and posters was set down therein in error was originally billed for Thursday, July 25th. It has been found necessary, however, to change the date to the following day, viz., Friday, July 26th. This excursion promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season, and already quite a number of tickets have been placed. The steamer Otonabee will leave the Wholf Street Wharf at 8.45 a.m. and the Street Railway Dock at 9.15 a.m., returning at 5.30 p.m. Meals may be procured at Idyl Wyld Hotel.

Vandals Break Church Windows

Mischievous Boys Damage Bethel Church Property

Complaints have reached The Times that mischievous boys have recently been in the habit of throwing stones at, and thereby breaking windows of Bethany church, George street. If boys can find no better source of amusement than the malicious and unwarranted destruction of property, particularly that of a church, it is up to the police to watch the church and apprehend these vandals. Should they be caught, there is good reason to believe that the result too often heard in court of a lecture and suspended sentence will be cut out, and a penalty inflicted that will put these boys seriously thinking.

EMPEROR OF KOREA HAS BEEN DETHRONED

Representative of the Hermit Kingdom at Hague Peace Conference Hints that Japan is at the Bottom of it All

The Hague, July 20.—Yi Sang Sui, at one time premier of Korea, and now a member of the Korean delegation, whose presence at the Hague is said to have precipitated the present crisis in Korean affairs, was informed yesterday by the Associated Press of the abdication of the emperor of Korea and the forecasts of trouble in the Hermit Kingdom as a result. Yi Sang Sui said; "I have heard nothing directly, as the Japanese control in Korea prevents communications between me and my friends there. The Japanese are capable of everything. If they have imposed abdication, which in this case means dethronement, serious trouble soon will occurr."

THE JAPANESE VIEW.

The correspondent then spoke with Keinkiu Tauzuki, head of the Japanese mission to the Peace Conference, on this same matter. The Japanese statesman said; "I did not think matters had gone so far. Generally speaking we are more concerned for practical results than for the removal of the emperor himself, who, even though he has abdicated, will be responsible so long as he lives for the mischief he has stirred up against us. Evidently his remaining on the throne had become a serious obstacle to the carrying out of our program for the regeneration of Korea."

EMPEROR WAS EXCITED.

Seoul, Korea, July 20.—It is reported that a most dramatic scene occurred at the palace last night when the ministers, headed by Premier Y. Wang Yong, appeared before his majesty and made the cabinet's final representation in urging the emperor's abdication. His majesty was, in a high state of excitement but the premier in the most humble but firm tone dwelt at length upon want of precaution and prudence of the emperor in diplomatic affairs.

SUBMITTED TO ELDERS.

Unable to successfully combat the logic of the premier's representation the emperor sought a last refuge in the council of elder statesmen, doubtless anticipating their sympathies. The council immediately convened. Four elders quickly responded and appeared before his majesty at one o'clock yesterday morning.

The emperor's disappointment and surprise was boundless when they unanimously agreed with the ministers' advice. His majesty's mind was made up and he consented to the draft for an imperial receipt announcing his abdication, which was placed before him for his signature. The emperor's condition was indescribable. Greatly agitated and perturbed he signed the document and the seal was affixed amid an impressive silence.

CONSENTED TO STEP OUT.

Briefly the emperor in the imperial receipt of abdication expressed his regret that during the 44 years of his reign, national calamities have followed in rapid succession and the people's distress has become so aggravated that he deemed it now time to transfer the crown to the heir-apparent in conformity with ancestral usages.

NEW YORK FOG-BOUND

New York, July 21.—After two days of intense heat and high humidity, from which the stifling night afforded only slight relief, New York and its environs were today wrapped in wet and blinding fog, which upset the schedules on all means of transportation except the subway.

Ferry boats, bringing in thousands of office and shop employes from their homes in Long Island, New Jersey and Staten Island, poked hesitatingly across the rivers and the bay, occasionally bumping one another, but without serious result, because of the caution of the pilots.

While the pall of fog hung heaviest a steamer lighter crashed into the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry boat Baltimore, which was crowded with incoming passengers. Beyond scaring the nervous passengers, little damage was done.

Off Sandy Hook at least three of the big transatlantic liners were waiting for the fog to lift. They were the Lucania, on which William Fife, the yacht designer, was a passenger; La Savoie and the Celtic.

Free Lighting Of Streets

Public in Philadelphia May Ultimately Have 75 Cent Gas

Philadelphia, Pa., July 22.—The option of the city of Philadelphia to take back its gas works from the United Gas Improvement Company, to which it was leased for thirty years, expired at midnight, and for the next twenty years the gas company is secure in its possession of the great plant. During this time, the price of gas will be controlled by the terms of the lease.

The city will pay nothing for gas used for public offices and street lighting. To private consumers the council may reduce the price per 1,000 feet to 90 cents any time prior to December 1907, and then at five year intervals, may make reductions of five cents per thousand until 1927, when a minimum price of 75 cents per thousand feet may have been reached

Mrs. Londerville Again Being Chloroformed?

Poor Old Semi-Insane Lady calls at The Police Station

We have noted in former issues the peculiar eccentricities of a poor old good natured, but half-witted woman, by name Londerville, who periodically calls at the police station to lay all kinds of absurd charges against supposed (by her) would be murderers. The last time previous that the old lady laid such a complaint, she said in perfect confidence but accompanying her information by a smiling face, that people where she then boarded were in the nightly habit of "squirting chloroform" over the transom of her door and through the key hole. This nefarious practice, she protested, was made more deadly by poisoning the bread and other provisions she ate.

Yesterday afternoon as a Times man happened to be in the police station, the old lady entering, said in all seriousness, "Now I'm living on Lewis street and the other boarders are after me." The Times man said, "Why Mrs. Londerville, I am glad you are still alive and well. You remember some months ago you told me they were sure to kill you in two days."

Mrs. Londerville replied, "Why, Mr. Newspaper Man, I remember you well. You know the villians were fooled that last time. Still for three nights the boarders have followed me down the stairs and with syringes have squirted chloroform all over me." As this terrible tale of woe was—being related the old lady was smiling like the proverbial or comparitive "Basket of chips."

The poor old lady is perfectly harmless and seems to derive a lot of pleasure over relating the acts of her alleged murderers.

Toronto Globe Thinks The Times Correct

This Leading Liberal Organ on Mr. McNamara's Offer

Whilst some captious critics have seen fit in their (in this instance) unfounded ignorance to speak to at least one Times representative concerning certain articles that have appeared in these columns regarding the very magnanimous offer made by Mr. McNamara of his beautifully and advantageously located lots to the city, we can only add in partial substantiation of our suggestions, that the Toronto Globe of yesterday under the heading, "For the Greater Peterborough," has the following;

Mr. M. A. McNamara, well known as a contractor, believes that Peterborough is going to grow very fast and become a big manufacturing center. He has a large tract of land to the south of the city and has made an offer of a considerable portion of it free of cost to the council for manufacturing purposes in the belief that the coming of the factories will raise the value of all the land in the vicinity and make the section an industrial center.

It is to be hoped that the city officials will not be blinded by prejudice or fear that some one may make a cent or two at some one else's expense, but hasten to grasp an offer that would add thousands towards the value of the city's holdings.

Mr. Stratton's Yacht is Caught In The Weeds

WOUND ROUND PROPELLER

One Difficulty to Small Craft in Navigating The Trent Valley Canal

As Mr. Stratton's private yacht, the Alberta, was on her way to Stony Lake, she was caught in the weeds growing in the canal between the Norwood Road and Nassau. The weeds wound tightly round the propellor, which in the efforts of the power as applied by her engineer was broken off. Mr. Ryo, of the boat house at the street railway wharf was sent for to fix it. This took most of the morning, but the yacht succeeded in getting away.

Many complaints have been made by owners of small boats about the weeds in the canal and a number of the launches have had much trouble to get through. The superintendent of the canal, said when asked regarding this weed trouble, that if the boats would keep in the channel there would be no trouble.

This incident reminded more than one of our middle-aged local citizens of a trip some of them took a number of years ago in a then local yacht, since probably consigned to the junk shop, to Rice Lake, where they were shipwrecked at the delta of the river. Possibly they deserve the ship wreck as their trip began on a Sunday morning. After leaving the mouth of the Otonabee, en route to Gore's Landing, a Port Hope customs house officer, the guest of the day, undertook to steer the yacht through the weeds, making a short cut to destination. Unfortunately, his past experience with massing steamers made those aboard take his offer. When the yacht got some 30 or 40 feet within the weed bed there it stuck. Her propellor was enveloped in a bunch of some ten tons of closely wound weeds. After all aboard had helped overboard, sans clothes, with knives in hands, and had worked for some four or five hours, the boat was coaxed to be towed to the channel and proceed towards Gore's Landing, only to be once more wrecked in the bay just to the east of the wharf. Mr. Gore Gwynne, the engineer, pro tem, had hard work keeping his temper as the Port Hope officers would keep saying, "Why don't you reverse your screw, and the weeds will roll off." To this Mr. Gwynne would repeatedly reply, "How in the name of little fishes can I reverse with a thousand tons of weeds on the screw?" This little experience could well be understood by a number of prominent local citizens will make them extend some assistance to the oppressed crew and passengers of the Alberta.

Railway Company Fined $50,000.00

Raleigh, N.C., July 23.—The Southern railway Company was fined $50,000 yesterday and Thomas J. Green, local agent of the company, was fined $50 in the State Court here for selling railroad tickets at a rate in excess of that provided by the State law for a uniform rate of 2 1-2 cents a mile in North Carolina.

Proper Medicine For The Blood

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

The sensible person sets on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unfailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Chisboque Pt., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds; "A year ago my health began to fail. I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when springtime arrived I was in the "Blues." I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once.

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNDESIRABLE IMMIGRANTS

Investigations made by the United States Commissioner-General of Immigration confirm the soundness of the policy of excluding undesirable immigrants. He has found 20,000 alien paupers, including lunatics, in public institutions, besides 6,000 in private asylums. He also found about 10,000 alien criminals in jails and penitentiaries. Besides these there were also 65,000 naturalized foreigners in these institutions. Another interesting fact brought out by these inquiries was the circumstance that while in the United States there are 75 citizens to each alien, there are in the insane asylums and poor houses only six citizens to each alien. These facts seem to show the soundness of a policy of restricting undesirable immigration. Canada can learn a good deal from the experience of the United States on this subject.

NOVEL SOCIALISM

Knowledge about diseases has grown wonderfully of late. Afflictions not long since regarded as sent by heaven or the powers of darkness are now known to be similar in origin to measles and mumps. Drunkenness, for instance, has risen to the dignity of a true disease; likewise all forms of insanity. At the same time doctors have learned the difficulty of curing maladies rooted in an imperfect nervous system. Bones may be set and muscles healed, but lesions and abnormalities in the nerves defy detection in hundreds of cases. The incarceration of neurotics is universally advised and widely practised, but thus far under too narrow restrictions. Persons obviously a standing menace to the peace of a community are locked up in padded cells furnished by the state, and even many madmen who do nothing worse than threaten and dream wild dreams are gently excluded from ordinary society by asylum walls and keepers. But this is not enough, according to professional observers; everybody whose acts indicate either incipient insanity or the possibility of lapsing suddenly into acute mania must be segregated from the world of sound nerves. "The British Medical Journal" recently declared editorially, too, that drunkenness was incurable, and hence inebriates should be incarcerated for life. Half-way measures, the layman must infer, are regarded by the medical profession as compromises with the devil.

Let is not too abruptly challenge the wisdom of such proposals. They emanate from many high authorities who know far more about lunacy and intoxication than we do. But while accepting the verdict of banishment for all neurotics, we must mildly wonder what the effect upon society will be. It is not apparent that with the extension of neurological knowledge comes the extension of the neurotic class. Not that studying nerves gets on one's nerves; but the more the neurologist learns about nervous aberrations the more aberrations he finds in his fellow citizens. Every day brings forth the discovery of some hitherto unsuspected insanity. No sooner has the "brain storm" appeared and then vanished into the archives of medicine and law than "financial standing" or the inability to resist spending money, bobs up in a distant state. Already the textbooks on nervous diseases catalogue several hundred distinct varities of jimjams, pipe dreams, brain tangles and moth-eaten intelligences—all of which means that nearly everybody will surely be found suffering more or less acutely from some one or more of these listed insecurities. The man who falls into a blind fury when he hits his thumb with a hammer is already catalogued as a dilluted sample of insanity, while the same Latin name covers the intoxication of a football game and that caused by simple fluids. Now, if the doctors recommending incarceration are in earnest, as they seem to be, they are rank state socialists in thin disguise. For the end of their plan is to throw practically the whole population upon the government for board and lodgings. Probably the doctors, absorbed in the purely medical aspect of the problem, have overlooked its political bearings. They have not seen that their scheme dispels the old supposed antagonism between capital and labor and arouses a new, less soluble one between the Body Politic and the Body Neurotic. With every man liable to any form of inebriation or insanity living on the state, socialism will at last have triumphed. Doubtless the socialists' victory will be marred by the reflection that the children of the state are all neurotics; but then they would be under any socialistic scheme.

Vicar-General Routhier Sued for Libel

Ottawa, July 20.—A writ was issued today Ludovic Gillier and Amanda Gillier against Vicar-General Routhier.

The plaintiffs are suing for unstated damages for libel alleging that Rev. Father Routhier made libellous statements about them in letters to relatives of the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs, it appears, went to Father Routhier to get married. The latter would not marry them at the time, stating that he wanted proof that Mr. Gillier had not been previously married and had not a wife still living.

The plaintiffs then went to a Protestant minister and were married. Father Routhier is said to have then written to relatives of plaintiff stating, it is alleged, that they were living together without being married.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillier are both of the Catholic faith, and they state that Father Routhier refused to recognize their marriage because the ceremony was conducted by a Protestant minister.

Japan Orders More War Munitions

New York, July 21.—A Berlin despatch to the Herald says:

The Japanese commission of military experts sent here to order new guns and ammunition worth $10,000,000 has also ordered ten military balloons.

The firm which entered into the contract, Japan has been informed, has not acquired patent rights on any of the improvements which proved so successful at the recent trials at Tegel and which the Japanese commission demands shall be utilized in the construction of the balloons ordered. A legal fight may result.

The Japanese loan from Germany has not materialized. That an application would be made was predicted three weeks ago. It was also stated at that time that on account of the prejudice existing against Japan in Germany no bank would enter into negotiations.

CELEBRATION OF JULY FOURTH

Washington, July 21.—The fact that the celebration of the Fourth of July and other patriotic holidays frequently involves American consular officers abroad in friction with the local officials and even results in mob violence, has inclined some of the officials at the state department to the conclusion that it would be well to include in the consular regulations an expressed instruction to the consular officers as to the conditions under which the American flag is to be displayed at the consulate.

Especially in Canada has there been friction, and on more than one occasion indignant Canadians in the outburst of patriotic resentment have torn down the offending American flag leading to diplomatic protests and incidents.

It has been found that many countries have provided, in terms, for the regulation of the display of their flags, and it is probable that a study of the practices of these countries will lead to the formulation of some rule for the government of the United States consular officers.

Find Poison Bottles and Insurance Policies

Hamilton, July 21.—Following the sensational charge of Jacob Sunfield, who is accused of the murder of Andrew Radzyk, the police made another search of the house where the crime was committed.

Although Sunfield's story that he and Radzyk had been doped on the day of the murder by drugged whiskey sounds improbable to the police, P. C. Brannan found two bottles hidden in a cupboard. One contained a carbolic acid solution and the other morphine. The police found three other insurance policies on the lives of Eva Felix and Frank Chemuloswic, made out in favor of Mrs. Radzyk. Who these people are the police do not know.

SIREN WAFER DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms — the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"You ever hear that boy Joe talk politics?" asked Uncle Joe Davey, crossing a cough with a chuckle. "His head's so full of schemes fer running this town, and state, too, it's a wonder it don't burst. Henry Louden told me he's see Joe set around and study by the hour how to save $3,000,000 for the state in two years."

"And the best he can do for himself," added Eskew, "is deliverin' the Daily Tocsin on a second hand Star bicycle and gamblin' with niggers and riffraff! None of the nice young folks invite him to their doin's any more."

"That's because he's got so shabby he's quit goin' with 'em," said Buckalew.

"No, it ain't," snapped Mr. Arp. "It's because he's so low down. He's no more 'n a town outcast. There ain't ary one of the girls 'll have a thing to do with him, except that rip-rarin' tomboy next door to Louden's, and the others don't have much to do with her neither, I can tell ye. That Arie Tabor"—

Colonel Filtcroft caught him surreptitiously by the arm. "Sh, Eskew!" he whispered. "Look out what you're sayin'."

"You needn't mind me," Jonas Tabor spoke up crisply. "I washed my hands of all responsibility for Roger's branch of the family long ago. Never was one of 'em had the energy or brains to make a decent livin', beginning with Roger—not one worth his salt. I set Roger's son up in business, and all the return he ever made me was to go into bankruptcy and take to drink, till he died a sot, like his wife did of shame. I done all I could when I handed him over my store, and I never expect to lift a finger for 'em again. Ariel Tabor's my grandniece, but she didn't act like it, and you can say anything you like about her for what I care. The last time I spoke to her was a year and a half ago, and I don't reckon I'll ever trouble to again."

"How was that, Jonas?" quickly inquired Mr. Davey, who, being the eldest of the party, was the most curious. "What happened?"

"She was out in the street, up on that high bicycle of Joe Louden's. He was teachin' her to ride, an' she was sittin' on it like a man does. I stopped and told her she wasn't respectable. Sixteen years old, goin' on seventeen!"

"What did she say?"

"Laughed!" said Jonas, his voice becoming louder as the recital of his wrongs renewed their sting in his soul. "Laughed!"

"What did you do?"

"I went up to her and told her she wasn't to a decent girl and shook the wheel." Mr. Tabor illustrated by seizing the lapels of Joe Davey and shaking him. "I told her if her grandfather had any spunk she'd git an old fashioned hidin' for behavin' that way. And I shook the wheel again." Here Mr. Tabor, forgetting in the wrath incited by the recollection that he had not to do with an inanimate object, swung the gasping and helpless Mr. Davey rapidly back and forth in his chair. "I shook it good and hard!"

"What did she do then?" asked Peter Bradbury.

"Fell off on me," replied Jonas violently. "On purpose!"

"I wisht she'd killed ye," said Mr. Davey in a choking voice as, released, he sank back in his chair.

"On purpose!" repeated Jonas. "And smashed a straw hat I hadn't had three months! All to pieces! So it couldn't be fixed!"

"And what then?" pursued Bradbury.

"She ran," replied Jonas bitterly—"ran! And Joe Louden Joe Louden"—He paused and gulped.

"What did he do?" Peter leaned forward in his chair eagerly.

The narrator of the outrage gulped again and opened and shut his mouth before responding.

"He said if I didn't pay for a broken spoke on his wheel he'd have to sue me!"

CHAPTER II.

MAIN street, already muffled by the snow, added to its quietude a frozen hush where the wonder bearing youth pursued his course along its white, straight way. None was there in whom impertinence overmastered astonishment or who recovered from the sight in time to jeer with effect. No "Trab's boy" gathered courage to enact in the thoroughfare a scene of mockery and of joy.

And now that expression he wore—the indulgent amusement of a man of the world began to disintegrate and show signs of change. It became finely grave, as of a high conventionality, lofty, assured and mannered, as he approached the Pike "mansion."

It was a big, smooth stone faced house, product of the seventies, frowning under an outrageously insistent mansard, capped by a cupola and staring out of long windows overtopped with ornamental slabs. Two cast iron deer, painted death gray, twins of the same mold, stood on opposite sides of the front walk, their backs toward it and each other, their bodies in profile to the street, their necks bent, however, so that they gazed upon the passerby, yet gazed without emotion. Two large calm dogs guarded the top of the steps leading to the front door. They also were twins and of the same interesting metal, though honored beyond the deer by coats of black paint and sheline. It was to be remarked that these dogs were of no distinguishable species or breed, yet they were unmistakably dogs. The dullest must have recognized them as such at a glance, which was perhaps enough. It was a hideous house, important looking, cold, yet harshly aggressive, and it sat in the middle of its flat acre of snowy lawn like a rich, fat man enraged and sitting straight up in bed to swear.

And yet there was one charming thing about this ugly house. Some workmen were inclosing a large side porch with heavy canvas, evidently for festal purposes. Looking out from between two strips of the canvas was the rosy and delicate face of a pretty girl, smiling upon Eugene Bantry as he passed. It was an obviously pretty face, all the youth and prettiness there for your very first glance, elaborately pretty, like the splendid profusion of hair about and above it, amber colored hair, upon which so much time had been spent that a circle of large, round curls rose above the mass of it like golden bubbles tipping a coronet.

The girl's fingers were pressed thoughtfully against her chin as Eugene strode into view. Immediately her eyes widened and brightened. He swung along the fence with the handsomest appearance of unconsciousness until he reached a point nearly opposite her. Then he turned his head as if haphazardly and met her eyes. At once she threw out her hand toward him, waving him a greeting, a gesture which as her fingers had been near her lips was a little like throwing a kiss. He crooked an elbow and with a one, two, three military movement removed his small brimmed hat, extending it to full arm's length at the shoulder level, returned it to his head with life guard precision. This was also new to Canaan. He was letting Mamie Pike have it all at once.

The impression was as large as he could have desired. She remained at the opening in the canvas and watched him until he wagged his shoulders round the next corner and disappeared into a cross street. As for Eugene, he was calm with a great calm and very red.

He had not covered a great distance, however, before his gravity was replaced by his former smiling look of the landed gentleman amused by the innocent pastimes of the peasants, though there was no one in sight except a woman sweeping some snow from the front steps of a cottage, and she, not perceiving him, retired indoors without knowing her loss. He had come to a thinly built part of the town, the perfect quiet of which made the sound he heard as he opened the picket gate of his own home all the more startling. It was a scream, loud, frantic and terror stricken.

Eugene stopped, with the gate half open.

Out of the winter skeleton of a grape arbor at one side of the four square brick house a brown faced girl of seventeen precipitated herself through the air in the midst of a shower of torn cardboard which she threw before her as she leaped. She lit upon her toes and headed for the gate at top speed, pursued by a pale young man whose thin arms strove spasmodically to reach her. Scattering snow behind them, hair flying, the pair sped on like two tattered branches before a high wind, for, as they came nearer Eugene, of whom, in the tensity of their flight, they took no note, it was to be seen that both were so shabbily dressed as to be almost ragged.

The girl ran beautifully, but a fleeter foot was behind her and, though she dodged and evaded like a creature of the woods, the reaching hand fell upon the loose sleeve of her red blouse, nor fell lightly. She gave a wrench of frenzy. The antique fabric refused the strain, parted at the shoulder seam so thoroughly that the whole sleeve came away, but not to its owner's release, for she had been brought round by the jerk, so that, agile as she had shown herself, the pursuer threw an arm about her neck before she could twist away and held her.

There was a sharp struggle as short as it was fierce. Neither of these extraordinary wrestlers spoke. They fought. Victory hung in the balance for perhaps four seconds. Then the girl was thrown heavily upon her back in such a turmoil of snow that she seemed to be the mere nucleus of a white comet. She struggled to get up, plying knee and elbow with a very anguish of determination, but her opponent held her, pinioned both her wrists with one hand and with the other rubbed great handfuls of snow into her face, spurting neither mouth nor eyes.

"You will!" he cried. "You will tear up my pictures! A dirty trick, and you get washed for it!"

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, casts nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

RECURRING HEADACHES

Do They Bother You ?

You fine life a miserable affair because you have headaches, but you have neither nausea nor are you weak —You know if you could only prevent headaches you would enjoy perfect health.

Such headaches indicate a general lowered condition, because they arise from a general decay of the nervous system.

This depressed condition of the nervous system has its origin in the reduction of the quality and quantity of the blood.

The blood is thin—its red coloring is reduced—it contains no nourishment.

The digestive organs are not supplying it with sufficient nutritive matter.

The result—nerve weakness, nerve debility, ill-health.

If you had used Ferrozone you would know how powerfully all the digestive and assimilative functions of the body are stmulated.

Ferrozone does more—it supplies all the elements that are essential to the rebuilding of the body—supplies the reconstructive forces that contribute to the formation of rich, red blood.

You see, Ferrozone doesn't treat a symptom—it remedies a cause—and that's why a month's treatment will absolutely remove every vestige of recurring nervous headaches.

Nothing like Ferrozone to build you up, to give the reserve of force, that happy health that contributes so much to happiness and contentment.

Ferrozone will make you feel like new, try it—sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

Something New in Souvenir Cards

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

Barnardo Girls in City

Eighty-four Barnardo girls have have arrived in the city, and are now at "Hazel Brae." The girls, who range from 6 to 16 years came out in the steamer Kensington and landed in Quebec on Saturday morning. A large party of boys also crossed on the same vessel. Mr. Owen, superintendent of Barnardo Homes in Ontario, was in charge of both the boys and girls. They will leave for various points in Ontario this week.

Mr. Robert Fair in the City of Paris

Yesterday a friend of Mr. Robert Fair, the George street dry goods man, received a post card from him posted in Paris, France, in which Mr. Fair said, on the half of the front side, "Tell your brother I am getting along famously speaking French and can say "Bon Sante, I am having a splendid trip."

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew will meet this evening in the infant class room at eight o'clock.

The Woman's Auxiliary will hold an important meeting on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Turner, jr., Water street. A full attendance is requested.

Cytogram at Police Station

Yesterday a peculiar letter was left in the police station. The wording, whilst written plainly on a modern typewriter, contained nothing of intelligence to its reader. Whether it was some intelligence involving some deep and bloodly mystery conveyed by cytogramic characters or just an every day joke, or, "cod" is still unknown. If the writer will call and translate he may get a leather medal for his pains. The police are now shadowing a suspicious looking citizen living on Aylmer street.

Incidents at St. Andrews

The Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's church will meet tomorrow evening in conjunction with the weekly prayer meeting. This plan has been adopted for the summer months and a large attendance is asked for next Wednesday night.

In accordance with the request of the Presbytery of Peterborough the congregation of St. Andrew's church will meet on Monday evening, July 29th, for the purposes of considering the request of the families at Stewart's Settlement for a new church. The congregatino will also be asked to consider several matters connected with their own church.

Raspberry Crop Good This Year

Alderman Arthur Stevenson of Aylmer and Dalhousie streets, looking hale and hearty and with his ever ready smile aboard, has returned from an extended trip through the back country, where he was on the Ontario Government's business throughout the several lumber camps. He noted that the raspberry crop will probably exceed that of many years past.

Rev. Canon Davidson on Holiday

Rev. Canon Davidson leaves today for Wolfe Island, where he will spend a month's holiday's. Mrs. Davidson and family will accompany him. On Sunday next the services at St. John's will be taken by Rev. E. J. Sawers, of Christ Church cathedral, Montreal, a former Peterborough boy. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt has kindly promised to look after the spiritual needs of the congregation during the absence of Rev. Mr. Davidson.

George Street Church Gleanings

The Epworth League held a regular meeting yesterday evening.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening.

The pastor, Rev. E. A. Pearson, preached two splendid sermons on Sunday to large congregations. The singing of Miss Reesor was greatly enjoyed. She took the solo part in the anthem at night, and also contributed a solo during the offertory.

W. Hamilton Co.'s New Charter

The Ontario Gazette this week contains a notice of the fact that the Wm. Hamilton Co., Limited, had been given a charter. The company has been undergoing reorganization for several weeks and the capital of the new company has been placed at $300,000. A meeting of the shareholders will be held on Tuesday night, July 30th, when the permanent board of directors will be appointed and the organization completed.

Daddy Haskill's Route Changed

Commencing today there will be several changes among the conductors on the local division of the Grand Trunk. "Daddy" Haskill, one of the best known and most popular conductors here, who has been in charge of the Peterborough-Belleville train, will commence work on the "flyer" between Peterborough and Toronto today. He will be replaced on his old route by Conductor Chas. Adams who has been running out of Lindsay.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Children's Aid Helped by Trip

The Children's Aid Society will, from net proceeds of the moonlight excursion last Friday night, and a very kindly donated cheque of $10 given by the Ontario Navigation Co., gratis, get $28.999. This sum however is divided between the shelter and the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto. The young ladies under whose auspices and work the excursion was run have done well.

Local I.O.O.F. Brethren for Orillia

It is anticipated that about fifteen members of the Oddfellows' lodges from Peterborough will attend the Grand Lodge meeting, which will be held in Orillia during the second week in August. Grand Lodge met in Peterborough last year. The Orillia triple-linked brethren are making big preparations to entertain the visitors. The local delegates will take a tent with them and will spend several days under canvas.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $16.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men there are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes. Minimum $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

IRISH HOME RULE NOT YET DEAD

Redmond Says Ireland is Still Hopeful and Bound to Win

AIDS CAUSE DEFEATED

Liberalists More United in Determination to Overthrow House of Lords ---People Eager For Fray

London, July 24.—The wave of disappointment and depression which spread over Ireland on the breakdown of Mr. Birrell's bill on Irish government has spent its force and is subsiding rapidly. On the whole I believe what has occurred is goo dfor home rule. If the council's bill had passed the house of commonsmost unquestionably it would have been rejected by the house of lords, and it would then have passed into the program of the liberal party as its Irish policy. That and that alone would have been the Irish policy submitted to the electors at the next general election and home rule would have been still further from the purview of the near future.

WANT NO HALF MEASURES.

No such misfortune cana occur. No policy of evolution or of hal fmeasures can or will be part of the liberal program or be submitted to the electors at the next election. That ploicy is dead and buried. The Irish party of the liberal party must be home rule or coercion, and as inasmuch as the overwhelming majority of the present liberal party and the entire cabinet, except five men, is made up of those who believe in Mr. Gladstone's policy, I have little doubt that the next time the electors are appealed to home rule for Ireland will be a foremost and an openly avowed portion of the liberal program.

Let it be remembered that the time for this appeal is not far distant. The resolution adopted by the house of commons by a majority of 256 calling for the practical abolition of the veto of the house of lords will be followed next year by a bill to carry it into effect. That bill will be passed by the lower house by enormous majorities and will be rejected sans phrase by the house of lords.

In an autumn session next year in all probability it will be again passed by the house of commons and again rejected by the peers. That will be the beginning of the end, and it is not taking much risk to prophesy that January, 1909, will witness a general election on the question of the house of lords.

Should the liberals return with a substantial, even though largely reduced majority (for it must be remembered that their present majority is in the nature of a freak) than most undoubtedly we will be on the eve of such a modification of the constitution as will make the will of the representative assembly supreme and enable home rule for Ireland and a score of other great measures to be enacted.

PEOPLE EAGER FOR FRAY.

Meantime in Ireland the people are girding up their loins for a period of renewed and vigorous agitation.

This winter will see a home rule propaganda carried in both Ireland and Great Britain on as great a scale as that which marked the intervals between the two home rule bills of 1886 and 1893.

Here and there we hear the voice of discontent and of dissension. When has Ireland, or, for the matter of that, any country, been free from it? William O'Brien still remains at arm's length from his old colleagues and friends and refuses to re-enter the ranks of a pledge-bound party. A few young men, most of them quite sincere, are calling for the withdrawal of the national party from the house of commons because with the impatience of youth they chafe at the delays and disappointments and entirely overlook the enormous and steady advances and concessions of the past twenty-five years.

But speaking of Ireland as a whole, the people, lay and clerical, are united and hopeful and determined. They believe in the old policy of Parnell— a strong agitation at home, a pledge-bound and inndependent party in parliament— and they have learned in bitter experience that the one calamity greater than any other conceivable is serious disunion in the national ranks. Every one concerned may take it from me that there is and there will be no such calamity.

The collapse of the recent bill was but a passing cloud and all goes well with Ireland.

Invitations By Education Board

Cards are out for Ceremony of Laying Collegiate Inst. Corner Stone

Handsomely gotten nout cards of invitation are now being issued by the Board of Education asking prominent citizens to attend "The Laying of the Corner stone of the New Collegiate Institute" on Wednesday, July 31st, at 4 p.m. It will be remembered that Mr. Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P., was asked by the Board to perform this ceremony. The function will be a most interesting one and will probably be witnessed by many hundreds of our citizens.

Cetewayo Defrauds The Freemasons

Pseudo Lulu Chief Beats People of Longford Mills

It will be remembered by readers of the local press that some three weeks ago a full blooded Lulu claiming to be a son of the late Cetewayo, formerly king of the Lulu Nation who was instrumental for several disasters to British troops, was in this neighborhood. Yesterday Chief Roszel received the following letter from Lindsay, which tells its own story:

Geo. Roszel, Esq.,
Chief Constable,
Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—Some time ago you mentioned you wanted a Lulu called Cetawayo for stealing a nugget. I find that before he came to your neighborhood he was at Longford Mills, and he seems to have got into the good graces of the Freemasons there and finally cleared out leaving several debts behind, and I am told, took $40 of the funds of Longford Mills edge and also an outfit of drills, hammers, etc.

Did you ever get him? Perhaps it would be as well to get the daily press dogive warning about the man. What do you think?

Your obedient servant,
RALPH C. VINCENT.

A Thrilling Experience

Girls Describe Meeting of Moorish Sailors

New York, July 23.—Following an exciting experience in the Mediterranean sea on a storm racked vessel with a mutinous crew, four western young women returned here today on the steamer Arabic. The young women who told how the captain of the steamer had to use his revolver to subdue his crew were Miss Ruth Haynes, daughter of Mayor J. C. Haynes of Minneapolis; Miss G. W. Lavayea, formerly of Minnieapolis, but now of Los Angeles; Miss Clara C. Smith, and Miss Mossbacker, also of Los Angeles.

They left Boston on Feb. 2 for a trip through Spain. After visiting Madrid they embarked on a 700 ton steamer for Tangier. What happened after that was told by Miss Haynes as follows:

"When we arrived off Morocco a great storm was going on and the steamer could not go into port, so we had to be dropped into a small boat and caught by Moor sailors. We went to the Sultan's palace and there we met the queen. We re-embarked on the same ship to go back to Spain and were scarcely out of the harbor when a great storm came up. The sailors blamed the captain for the storm and attacked him. He had to draw his revolver to subdue them."

Saves His Wife May Lose Eyes

Man Rushed Into Burning Building Receives Serious Hurts

Chicago, July 24.—Because he rushed into his burning home to save his wife from death, Walter Alett, 306 West Congress street, may never see again.

Mrs. Alett was in bed ill with pneumonia. Alett wrapped blankets around her and succeeded in carrying her through the flames, but was unmindful of his own safety. He was badly burned about the head and face. At the County hospital it is said both his eyes are seriously injured.

The blaze was extinguished soon after the fire department arrived, the property damage being only normal. It was started from sparks in the forge from the blacksmith shop underneath the Aletts' apartments.

Popular Pastor Resigns

Rev. Jonathan Bastow of the Baptist Church, Renfrew, to Leave

The Renfrew Journal of last issue contains a long report of the resignation of Rev. Jonathan Bastow, pastor of the Baptist church there. The reverend gentleman, who has been some three years in his pastorate at Renfrew, has materially advanced the interests of his church and flock. The church debt has been wiped out and a material fund collected towards the erection of a parsonage, which latter will be built next summer, also the church membership has been very much increased during his incumbency. Mr. Bastow's resignation, which was quite unexpected, will be greatly missed in the village.

Only Leader Necessary

For a Widespread Rebellion in the Canton District

New York, July 24.—A letter has just been received at the headquarters of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church from one of the missionaries of the board, now in China, describing the conditions around Canton. According to Dr. J. M. Swan, the writer of the letter, only a leader is necessary for a wide spread rebellion in that part of China. He says that certainly before twelve months have passed a decided change in the government may be expected, and that whether it will be accomplished by force of arms or not is yet to be determined.

LOCAL TEAMSTER KILLED IN RUNAWAY

Mr. James Allen Dies In St. Joseph's Hospital From Injuries Received Yesterday

A teamster named James Allen, who was drawing gravel to where the repairs are being made at the corner of Douro and Concession streets, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. It seems that he was unloading his wagon when the team took fright and ran away. Allan fell between the horses and the whiffletree, and received such serious injuries that he had to be taken to St. Joseph's hospital in the Dan Spence.

It has been ascertained that one of the horses got its foot caught in the reins. Mr. Allen was dragged a very considerable distance, and his escape from death was almost miraculous.

MR. ALLEN DIES.

Last night The Times telephoned St Joseph's hospital, and our representative was horrified to learn that Mr. Allan passed away at six o'clock last night. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. The funeral arrangements had not been settled at the time of going to press.

Thought Harry Evans Was After Gold

Yesterday as a Times representative happened to take about one minutes and twenty-two seconds rest from his arduous labors of gathering the news of this city, he stopped at the Charlotte street bridge to watch operations in force there. As he gazed at Mr. Harry Evan's gang at work and wondered what a three-inch stream of water was being poured, from a nearby hydrant into the down stream creek, he was accosted by a gentleman, who not meaning any discourtesy, seemed to be anywhere between 90 and 150 years old and by his accent evidently a subject of Uncle Sam. This Venerable one said to The Times man, "Say, stranger, pardon me stopping you but what in h— is them men trying to do hydraulic mining there for. Say, stranger, you may or not be posted in placer or any other kind of mining, but them fellows will never get no gold out of that crick."

The Times man then, after making sure about "where he was at!" informed this stranger from California that the men simply had the stream from the hydrant on to force a current in the bed of the creek as they built a coffer-dam. The American then said, "Well Stranger, I was plumb wrong. I was dead sure there fellers was trying to wash gold outen them rocks, and thinks it only proper for me to say that no gold was ever washed outer rocks like them there in that crick."

Good Time Made By Local Boys

As the bus from Chemong to the city yesterday morning, two local boys got tired of waiting and decided to travel per "Shank's mare." This resulted in Ernie and Roy Best starting out afoot, and whilst not trying to break any past records or beat either the Hamilton Marathon winner, to hurt Longboat's feelings or put Howard of Hiawatha in the shade the boys did the 61-2 miles in one hour 19 minutes. It was 8.45 when they left Chemong and the clock with two minutes after eight when Peterborough was reached.

Seek Reprieve For Barrington

Jefferson City, Mo., July 24.—Many communications have been received by Governor Folk urging executive clemency for "Lord" Seymour Barrington, under sentence to be hanged at Clayton, Mo., Thursday for the murder of James P. McCann. Two were received last night from Judges Valliant and Graves, of the Missouri Supreme Court, asking for a commutation of sentence.

The first was the following telegram from Judge Valliant; "In my opinion, the State of Missouri cannot face the world with that record and say she gave Barrington a fair trial."

The second is the form of a petition signed by Judges Valliant and Graves. It says: "We believe the ends of justice will be better served by a commutation of the death sentence imposed upon F. Seymour Barrington to imprisonment for life than would be his execution and we therefore recommend such commutation."

Judges Valliant and Graves were the judges who handed in a dissenting opinion when Barrington's case came before the court. Governor Folk promised a decision in the matter today.

RESPITE IS GRANTED.

Later—Governor Folk today granted a respite of thirty days to "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, under sentence to be hanged at Clayton, Mo., on July 25, for the murder of James P. McCann.

Blacks Lynched Negro

Olive Branch, Miss., July 24.—Thirty negroes today lynched Andrew Trice, colored. Trice was charged with the murder of Susan Williams. The lynchers, after killing him, threw his body into the river at the same spot where the woman's corpse was found.

—Mr. Geo. Shepherd, the popular day clerk at the Showden House, who has been ailing for the past two weeks with sciatica, yesterday, under medical advice, went to Nicholls Hospital for treatment. His many friends will hope for his speedy recovery.

The Bogus Lord Near Gallows

Friday Will Probably End His Earthly Career Unless Paroon Is Granted

St. Louis, Mo., July 23.—Once again the bogus Lord Barrington, convicted of the cowardly murder of James P. McCann, his friend and patron, stands face to his face with the horrors of the black cap. Every twist and turn known to the law having been exhausted in his behalf, his only hope now lies with Governor Folk. Should the Governor fail to exercise his powers of clemency the convicted murderer will be executed in the county jail at Clayton, a suburb of St. Louis, next Friday.

For nearly four years Barrington has successfully fought the death sentence, and it is the opinion of many persons that he may yet escape paying the full penalty for his crime. Strong efforts are being made to have Governor Folk commute the sentence of death to one of life imprisonment. Barrington is an English subject, and the British consul in St. Louis has strongly interested himself in the case. Bishop Tuttle of the Episcopal church is among the many persons of prominence and influence who have petitioned the Governor for clemency. Even if the Governor does not grant these petitions it is not improbable that he may decide upon a short reprieve in order that he may have more time in which to consider the matter.

EXTRAORDINARY CRIMINAL CAREER.

Barrington's execution, if it takes place, will bring to an end an extraordinary criminal career, extending throughout England and half way across the American continent. Barrington is about 46 years old. His real name is George Frederick Barton. The records show that he began his unique saunter through the calendar of crime when a 7 year old boy, by setting fire to a number of cottages near Brighton, England, where he was born. At the age of 16 he was given a ten years' sentence for burglary. Four years later he escaped, deceiving the police who apprehended by producing a forged pardon. The next year, in 1871, he was arrested for the murder of an army officer, whose valet he had been, but although circumstances established a moral certainty of his guilt, no evidence could be secured against him, and he was released. Then he wandered in many lands, always leaving behind him a black trail of misdeeds, yet baffling suspicion by his semblance of good breeding. Women proved easy victims of his charm and his romantic tales an dbigamy sat as easily upon his conscience as lying or stealing.

WEDS AMERICAN GIRL.

In 1889 he came to America for the second time, with a draft for $90,000, and rapidly acquired a reputation in New York city for possessing all the flashy virtues that Broadway esteems. In 1896, when his money began to run low, he selected the daughter of a wealthy widow in Brooklyn, Miss Celestine F. Miller, as his prey; wooed and won her, persuaded the girl and her mother to sell their property in order that he might invest it in England, and then took them across the Atlantic and deserted them. He was recognized by the police on the other side and brought up on an old charge. After serving seven years in English prisons, he returned to the United States. He married Miss Margaret Rafferty, daughter of a wealthy coal dealer in Philadelphia, and abandoned her in Pittsburg one week afterward, having robbed her of $4,000. Then he came to St. Louis, in 1902, pretending to be an emissary of the British government to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. He was accepted in many homes as a genuine English nobleman, and captivated Miss Wilhelmina Grace Cochrane, of Kansas City, who was visiting here. They were wedded on Jan. 31, 1905, but Miss Cochrane's brother discovered that "Lord" Barrington was an imposter, and administered a public horse-whipping. His wife left him three days afterward, and then he was sent to the workhouse for vagrancy and disorderly conduct.

KILLS FRIEND AND PATRON.

When he was released from the workhouse James P. McCann, owner of race horses and man about town, took him up, and Barrington began a flourishing parasitic existence. McCann drank heavily, hobnobbed with a fast set, and never worked. He lived upon the residue of a large fortune which he had largely dissipated, and by gambling. He trusted Barrington implicitly and had arranged to back him in a hotel venture. On the night of June 15, 1905, the protege enticed his patron, who was in the habit of carrying large sums of money upon his person, to Bonfils, a suburb twenty miles out of the city, to this lonely place, in the Missouri river bottom lands, Barrington murdered his protector. One week later the nude body of McCann was found floating in a pool in an abandoned quarry near Creve Coeur lake. Barrington was at once arrested. He was wearing the dead man's hat when taken into custody, and had a considerable sum of money, for which he could not give a satisfactory accounting. He was tried, convicted and given the death penalty. The case was carried up to the highest tribunal in the land, which upheld the verdict of the trial court.

CONDUCTOR MEETS TWO OF HIS WIVES

They Get on The Same Street Car With Him The Result is Trouble

Chicago, July 23.—A street car is a perpetual menace to a bigamist by the very nature of things. When the alleged bigamist is a conductor, well—

The two wives of Conductor Peter Updegrove met each other in his car and the result was that warrants were sworn out today for his arrest. Now Conductor Updegrove knows that it doesn't pay to speak harshly to one's wife—or to one of one's wives. The principal object lessons that will impress the moral on Mr. Updegrove's memory are those warrants for his arrest on a charge of bigamy which were obtained by his second wife who lives at 7442 Ingleside avenue, from Judge Girten, at the South Chicago police court.

SCENE STAGED IN HIS CAR.

Mr. Updegrove has been supporting his spouses by collecting fares for the Calumet Electric Railway Company. The scene which was the fulcrum for the prying out of his domestic life occurred on his car as it hummed and bounced along 75th street yesterday.

At a certain point in the trip the car was hailed by the Mrs. Updegrove who must be classified as wife No. 2. She lives at 721 82nd street. She paid her fare without a word, as she didn't want to disturb her busy spouse in his work of pocketing nickels, changing $5 bills, jerking the cash rope, poking switches, ringing the signal bell, ventilating transfers, helping off children and chasing the trolley whenever it got the wanderlust.

Two blocks were traversed in this manner, Mrs. Updegrove maintaining silence in order not to disturb, an dMr. Updegrove holding his peace because he wished to hold some transfers in his mouth.

WIFE NO. 2 POCKETS HER NICKEL.

Suddenly the car stopped again. A woman mounted the car and entered the coach. When Mr. Updegrove went up for his nickel he saw in consternation that this was wife No. 3. He hastily changed her quarter and made good time to the platform without waiting to return her sunny smile.

But, woe, he had to come back! A little girl, with a basket got on and went straight for the centre of the car. Mr. Updegrove, of course, had to go back to where the two wives were seated, each in unconscious bliss, but with a terrible array of hatpins and sharp tongues in evidence.

"F-are p-please," the conductor meekly requested of the child with the basket.

GIRL HUNTS FOR QUARTER.

While the girl was excavating her mother's hand-bag for a nickel, wife No. 2 began to smile with twenty-four candle power affability. The conductor blushed to the summit of his ears. But his face wore the expression of the Greek tragedy masks on the "opry house" curtain.

Then a horrible thing happened. Wife No. 2, amazed at his coldness and having no scruples about impeding the nickel harvest, rose from her seat and walked towards him. Her lips parted for speech.

In a desperate effort Updegrove leaned forward and spoke in a low tone:

"Don't flirt with me in the car."

Wife No. 1 had not been admiring the scenery nor reading the car advertisements. When she saw her husband lean forward and speak to this strange woman she leaped from her seat and got in the game.

"I'M HIS WIFE," HER WARNING.

"Woman, do you know you are flirting with a married man?" she demanded of wife No. 2, her eyes flashing pitch-forks and cross-cut saws. "I'm his wife."

Updegrove's breath escaped in splinters and his knees wobbled without rhythm.

"You his wife!" cried wife No. 2. "I would have you know that that man is my husband."

The car was filled with exclamation points. The two Mrs. Updegroves were filled with perplexity and a faint glimmer of the awful truth; Updegrove was filled with the hope that the floor of the car would cave in.

FRIGID LOOKS ONLY SOLACE.

Slowly, but with terrible sureness, the situation was made clear to the two women. Each got off the car afire with a dozen emnotions; each parted with a frozen, backward look that made Updegrove's horizon a cloud centre.

Today the warrants were obtained by wife No. 1. She says she was married to Updegrove, June 30, at Hammond, Ind., and that her maiden name was Marie Labelle.

New Wharf For Otonabee Nav'n Co

Operators will be inaugurated this week on the new wharf at the end of the street car line for the Otonabee Navigation Company, and undoubtedly this will be the main landing place for the steamers plying up and down the river. The wharf will be 40 feet long by 30 feet wide, and will be constructed so that it can be extended further at any time. An appropriation of $1200 was put in the estimates last session, and plans were prepared some time ago. Mr. John Robson has received the contract for the work and it is understood that actual operations will be commenced today.

Ribs Broken By A Fall

Yesterday at about 1.30 p.m., Mr. Jas. Goodwill of the firm of McFadden & Goodwill, had the misfortune to fall off a scaffold. It seems that Mr. Goodwin with three other men were working on a scaffold on Weller street, on a private residence belonging to Mr. C. Fitzgerald, when the attachments holding the scaffolding broke. The four men fell 16 feet. Mr. Goodwin had several ribs broken and was ordered by Dr. McColleugh to be taken by the Dan Spence ambulance to his residence on Sherbrooke street. The other men were somewhat bruised.

Lindsay Post on Peterboro Prices

Why The Prices for Cheese In This City are Higher Than Elsewhere

Reporting yesterday's meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board, the Post says:

At this morning's sale of Victoria county, Cheese Buyers Flavelle and Brown of town, and Gillespie, of Peterborough, gazed on some glum looking countenances among the salesman for the different factories when it became known that the price they were prepared to offer was 10 11-16 beneath the ruling figure of 11 1-4 paid at last week's Peterborough sale. For a time it looked as if an adjournment would be in order, but finally a better feeling prevailed and the board was cleared.

When the president called on the buyers to make an offer, Mr. Gillespie called 10 1-4 and the salesmen emitted audible gasps of astonishment, some of them having expected that the initial bid would be 11c. at least. Mr. Brown called the half, and Mr. Flavelle made it 10 5-8c. Mr. Gillespie then raised to 10 3-4c. Mr. Flavelle 10 13-16c., and Mr. Gillespie 10 7-8c.

President Robertson —"Gentlemen you are evidently forgetting the price paid at the last two Peterborough sales was 11 1-4c., and 11 5-8c."

Mr. Flavelle—"I'll venture to say that when the settlements are made for the last Peterborough sale, the price received will be a quarter lower than was quoted."

President Robertson —"They must be mean buyers then. It looks terrible bad to see Peterborough so far ahead of us every time."

Mr. Gillespie—"I've seen the time when Lindsay Board got better prices than Peterborough."

President Robertson—"Yes, we did for one season."

Mr. Gillespie—"The price in Peterborough last week should not have gone over 11 1-4c."

Steamer Otonabee Busy

The steamer Otonabee yesterday yesterday afternoon, under orders of Mr. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, was engaged in cutting the weeds out of the channel in the canal above the lift lock to Nassau. This steamer with her powerful twin screws spent the whole whole afternoon in this reach, and her work will result in the channel being pretty well cleared of the troublesome weeds.

WED AGAIN TO PLEASE MOTHER

St. Louis, Mo., July 24.—To satisfy the bridegroom's mother, who was ill, Robert Elliott Chamberlain and his wife who had, until a few hours before been Miss Maude Cronhardt, were married a second time, a few hours after their return from Alton, Ill., where the first ceremony was performed. No license was obtained in St. Louis, the second ceremony being regarded by the young people and the minister as merely a ratification of the first.

Can Women Become Angels?

Chester Heights, Pa., July 24.—One of the liveliest debates ever held at the Methodist camp meeting took place today on the pentecostal services on the question as to whether or not a woman can become an angel. The subject came up when some one wanted to know if it was right to worship the angels. This was amusing to some of the ministers present and Rev. George M. Broadhead remarked:

"There is no record of any angels of the female sex, so the women had better look out when they approach the regions unknown."

A number of the earnest Methodist sisters took exception to the remark, but Mrs. Jane Wilson declared they had no reason to feel aggrieved, for angels held the office of servants, and women were good enough anyway, even if they could not be angels.

Three Murdered By Madman With Axe

Muscle, Mich., July 23. — Henry Scutcheon, a farmer about 60 years of age, living near this village, ran amuck with an axe yesterday, killing his fo'wild son, his wife, and her foster father.

Scutcheon was afterwards shot by Henry McClellan, a neighbor, whom the crazed murderer also attacked.

The dead are, Henry Scutcheon, Polly Scutcheon, his wife, and the 18-year-old son, George Anning. Mrs. Scutcheon's foster father.

The Scutcheon family had always been a happy one except for the cloud which the son's invalidism cast over the family.

Yesterday with no warning, as far as known, Scutcheon murderously attacked his son with an axe. He crushed the boy's head frightfully. When his wife interfered he turned on her and pursued the screaming woman from their house to the road where he knocked her down with the implement. He then rushed back to the house and murdered Anning.

Next he tried to destroy himself. He gashed his throat and wrists with a razor and took paris green. His wounds did not weaken him, and the poison did not take immediate effect. Axe in hand he returned to the road, where he had felled his wife a few moments before. The first blow did not kill her, and she had been carried into the house of Henry McClellan nearby. McClellan rushed to another neighbor's for help.

When Scutcheon found that his wife was in the McClellan home alive he smashed in a window with the axe, jumped through it, and again attacked her. This time he crushed her skull. He left the McClellan home and returned to his own home, but when McClellan returned from his search for help the crazed man came out and started toward him, saying "I want you, too."

"I will shoot you if you come across the road," replied McClellan, who had armed himself with a shotgun.

Despite the warning, Scutcheon came across with murder in his glance. Thereupon McClellan shot him dead.

FEDERATION OF SOUTH AFRICA

Most Unfortunate Step Yet Taken in That Direction

SOME OF THE DIFFICULTIES

Lord Selborne Prepares a Memorandum on the Subject---Historic Causes of Disunion

London, July 23.—The most remarkable step which has yet been taken in regard to the Federation of the different parts of South Africa is represented by the publication as a State paper of a memorandum on the subject, drawn up by Lord Selborne, at the request of the Governments of all the separate States. Particulars are sent from Cape Town as follows.

An important official pamphlet has been issued bearing on the question of South African Federation. It includes an exhaustive memorandum edited by Lord Selborne reciting the historic causes of disunion in South Africa, and dealing with the evil effects of the existing system of five disconnected Governments, with the consequent dangerous conflicts of policy in dealing with the most vital political and economic problems.

The memorandum asserts that the state of affairs is such that the political position of the country as a whole must, within the present year, be deliberately discussed between all the British South African Governments.

"In November" last Sir Walter Hely Hutchinsonm received a request from Dr. Jameson and other Ministers, that in view of the multiplicity of problems which demanded joint consideration and action on the part of the several Colonies, Lord Selborne should be invited to review the general situation in order to give the people of South Africa an opportunity of expressing their views regarding federation.

The Governments of Natal, Orange River Colony, and the Transvaal endorsed the invitation, and thereupon Lord Selborne, assisted by certain experts, whose identity has not been revealed, drafted the comprehensive note which has now been published.

POSITION OF DELAGOA BAY.

The memorandum conveys the impression, inter alia, that union is necessitated by the position of Delagoa Bay, which is reaping inordinate railway and other advantages ruinously affecting the British ports, and the idea is that a consolidation of the railway and other British interests terminating this state of things, though with scrupulous fairness to our ally Portugal, becomes increasingly pressing.

General Botha and his Government point out that the memorandum was drawn up before they took office. While cordially approving of federation, they dissent from what is said in the document regarding Delagoa Bay, declaring that their attitude towards the Portuguese will always be sincerely friendly.

Lord Selborne strongly deprecates retarding federation. The Colonies, it is pointed out, possess full self-government, but South Africa as a whole does not possess it, because there are constant inter-Colonial divergencies which necessitate the intervention of the High Commissioner, who is controlled by the Imperial Government. Consequently, in extreme cases, the ultimate authority in is strictly internal affairs of South Africa is the Imperial Parliament.

South Africa, the memorandum adds, can only be wisely and successfully governed by a Government responsible to a Parliament representing the whole of South Africa.

As an instance of the unity of feeling upon this question the Times correspondent notes that "while the original request for some statement of the kind came from Dr. Jameson and his colleagues, th emotion for its publication came from Mr. Melan, a prominent member of the Cape Opposition."

SOME DIFFICULTIES OF THE PRESENT.

The same corresponden tsays in regard to thos eportions of the memroundum dealing with native and labor questions: "While self-government is regarded as a farce till South Africa assumes the duty of maintaining a single adequate police force, the existence of five separate native departments and policies is shown to be fatal to a solution of the larger problem of a sound native administration."

In regard to railway, the memorandum shows that State ownership under present conditions has produced a system of rates which does not respond to the natural demands of trade, which is highly unstable, and which defeats the intention of the Customs Union. The union of railways means that the railways must cease to be used as an instrument of taxation or local protection, and be run as a whole at cost price on their merits.

Lord Selborne no longer thinks that railway union can precede political union. "The difficulties of South Africa, he is now convinced, are inter-dependent and must be faced as a whole. In conclusion, the High Commissioner points out that decisions for or against union cannot be postponed. Railway quarrels are only in abeyance for the moment, thanks to the forbearance of the Cape and Natal during the transition of the new Colonies self-governing institutions. Within a few months another conference must meet and a definite step must be taken one way or the other. Meanwhile, political union, which is one of those few matters upon which every government must take every Opposition into its confidence without reserve, will do more than anything else to break down the present racial barrier and to merge two strong peoples into a single South African nation."

WHY SWEDES LEAVE HOME

The king of Sweden is seeking information. He wishes to know why Swedes leave home. His agents have published what is equivalent to a personal addressed to his former subjects abroad to come home and all will be forgiven. If there is anything they would like to have changed in Sweden will they please mention it and an effort will be made to satisfy them.

There is some reason to be alarmed at the constant exodus of able bodied men and women. In the first five years of this century the excess of births over deaths in Sweden was 277,500, while the loss by emigration was 142,500. In 1903 one-sixth of all persons born in Sweden or both of whose parents were Swedish were living in the United States. Of the twenty-five cities in Sweden which have more than 10,000 inhabitants only three contained more Swedes than Chicago, six more than New York, and ten more than Minneapolis. The consequence of the constant movement of population toward the United States is that there is a scarcity in Sweden especially in skilled mechanics. Yet the circular sent out by the Swedish government gives it as the belief of the commission having the matter in charge that the principal reason for emigration is the lack of opportunities for work at home. These two things, lack of laborers and lack of work being coexistent is the opinion of the commission is correct, there is need of a readjustment to conditions so that the work and the worker may find each other.

There will be some difficulty in stopping the flow of emigrants at this time, because in many families a majority of the members are in America, and the hope of a family reunion lies rather in bringing over those who are left than in the return of the emigrants to the home land. The old people are supported on many a farm by the earnings of the children in America, while the younger children in Sweden are looking forward to the time when they shall be old enough to cross the ocean and join their brothers and sisters. Wages are higher here, there is complete political independence. The Swedish government would have to offer inducements quite beyond the range of possibility to secure the return of these former subjects who have become American citizens, and whose children are American born. The flood may be checked a little, but it cannot be turned backward.

There are other countries in Europe which might to advantage follow the example of Sweden and try to find out what they can do to make their people happier at home. There are other countries whose inhabitants part from the old surroundings with greater regret and cross to this land almost under compulsion instead of with a joyful hope. Even a slight amelioration of conditions would keep them from emigration. Presently the chief rulers of Europe will wake up to the knowledge which the king of Sweden has reached, that the wealth of a land lies in its people, and that emigration is not necessarily the sign of superabundant vitality. It may be a sign of dissolution.

Sir Frederick Treves, the distinguished physician who treated King Edward during his serious illness in 1903, prophesies that the bottles on the doctors' shelves will soon be reduced to a very small number and correct living be more relied on than medicine. The statement is conservative. It is probable that in the near future the array on the shelves shall have been reduced to one, and that will be empty. Already rational treatment is replacing dosing, which in its best is mostly experimental, outside of a few drugs whose effect is less curative than anodyne. General hygienic living, however, is yet in the future, but the coming therapeutics will probably consist wholly in the mechanical removal of obstructions to health.

New Headquarters For C. P. R. Line

Montreal, July 22.—That Liverpool will in the future be the headquarters of the C. P. R. Steamship trade, is stated by Mr. Arthur Piers, manager of the C. P. R. Atlantic Steamship lines, who arrived in the city, having come over from Liverpool on the Empress of Britain. The change, Mr. Piers states, is merely the result of the drift of travel. There are more passengers coming west than going east and so there is naturally a better opportunity to direct operations from a British than a Canadian point. Then, too, any building of new steamships must be done in British yards. Mr. Piers therefore will shortly leave for England to make his headquarters permanently at the Mersey Port.

No statement was made as to the building of new vessels. An announcement was made some time ago that there would be an order placed for one or two liners for the Pacific, but both on this and on the possible need of others for the Atlantic, Mr. Peers was not disposed to say very much.

As to making Three Rivers the St. Lawrence terminus of the Empress vessels, Mr. Piers was equally non-committal. Neither at Quebec nor Montreal, he said, were conditions very satisfactory, but a thorough investigation of the possibilities at Three Rivers would have to be made before any change could be decided on.

A Fight to a Finish

A prominent Montreal citizen, who has just returned to the Canadian metropolis, when asked as to the strike at Cobalt, where he has been for some days, stated that the trouble there is not so much between the employers and the miners as between the Western Federation of Miners and the workers at Cobalt. He says that most of the miners at Cobalt have no serious cause for complaint. The miners there work and live under far better conditions than miners elsewhere. They are well fed and their quarters are comfortable. The work so far is not of a very difficult character and does not require highly trained and expert workmen, for the miners are not deep enough yet to make the work hard. It is very clearly proved that the men have no serious cause of complaint by the absence of anything like personal hostility to the employers. Mine owners and mine managers go about their work there in Cobalt and mix with the men without eliciting any expression of hostility from the men. This is very remarkable and suggestive under the circumstances. He went on to say that he had no hesitation that any trouble extant is attributable to intimidation by the Western Federation. The mine owners at Cobalt, whilst using their men well, are determined not to concede to demands made as they would thus recognize the authority and power of the Western Federation, which engineered the strike. They will rather fight matters to a finish.

EVADED LAW AS DEPUTY

Rome, July 22.—An Italian Socialistic agitator named Jodeschini, who some time ago was sentenced to a long term of imprisonment for insulting an Italian general but escaped over the Austrian border, has returned triumphantly to Italy under remarkable circumstances.

His political followers in a small Italian constituency succeeded in getting him elected a deputy, in which capacity the person of Jodeschini became unassailable. The exile at once started for Italy by motor car. Arriving at Ponte Sant Gemo he mounted a gaily decorated donkey cart, and waving a red banner made his entry into Italian territory followed by a cheering procession of 20,000 people.

Steel-Coal Suit May Now Go On

Halifax, N.S., July 23. — Judge Longley filed his decision yesterday on the application for a postponement for the trial of the Steel-Coal Companies' suit. His honor concluded a judgment of about 1,000 words by saying: "The applications for a continuance are refused with costs, but regarding a settlement as eminently desirable I shall be glad at the beginning or any stage of the trial, to grant a reasonable adjournment upon an intimation to me by the parties that any fair prospects of a settlement existed."

The judge, in discussing the change of the date of the annual meeting, said that on examination of the by-laws of the company satisfied him that the making of the by-laws was within the competency of the directors and he certainly could not go behind its approval by the governor in council, and he was unable to discover any trace of illegality in this step.

The defendants company supported application for a continuance upon the ground that settlement might result from delay as the defendants are deeply interested in this. The judge said he could not help regarding such a proposition by one of the parties as open to serious question. "Indeed, I can find no authority for granting a continuance upon such a ground nor any principle upon which it could rest. On the contrary I should regard it as introducing a principle which would be revolutionary if not demoralizing in litigation."

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON.
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Half suffocated, choking, gasping, she still fought on, squirming and kicking with such spirit that the pair of them appeared to the beholder like figures of mist writhing in a fountain of snow.

More violence was to mar the peace of morning. Unexpectedly attacked from the rear, the conqueror was seized by the nape of the neck and one wrist and jerked to his feet, simultaneously receiving a succession of kicks from his assailant. Prompted by an entirely natural curiosity, he essayed to turn his head to see who this might be, but a twist of his forearm and the pressure of strong fingers under his ear constrained him to remain as he was, therefore, abandoning resistance and, oddly enough, accepting without comment the indication that his captor desired to remain for the moment incognito, he resorted calmly to explanations.

"She tore up a picture of mine," he said, receiving the punishment without apparent emotion. "She seemed to think because she'd drawn it herself she had a right to."

There was a slight whimsical droop at the corner of his mouth as he spoke, which might have been thought characteristic of him. He was an odd looking boy, not ill made, though very thin and not tall. His pallor was clear and even, as though constitutional; the features were delicate, almost childlike, but they were very slightly distorted, through nervous habit, to an expression at once wistful and humorous; one eyebrow was a shade higher than the other, one side of the mouth slightly drawn down; the eyelids twitched a little, habitually; the fine, blue eyes themselves were almost comically reproachful—the look of a puppy who thinks you would not have beaten him if you had known what was in his heart. All of this was in the quality of his voice, too, as he said to his invisible captor, with an air of detachment from any personal feeling:

"What peculiar shoes you wear! I don't think I ever felt any so pointed before."

The rescuing knight took no thought of offering to help the persecuted damsel to arise; instead he tightened his grip upon the prisoner's neck until, perforce, water—not tears—started from the latter's eyes.

"You miserable little muff!" said the conqueror. "What the devil do you mean making this scene on our front lawn?"

"Why, it's Eugene!" exclaimed the helpless one. "They didn't expect you till tonight. When did you get in?"

"Just in time to give you a lesson, my buck," replied Bantry grimly. "In good time for that, my playful stepbrother."

He began to twist the other's wrist, a treatment of bone and ligament in the application of which schoolboys and even freshmen are often adept. Eugene made the torture acute and was apparently enjoying the work when suddenly, without any manner of warning, he received an astounding blow upon the left ear, which half stunned him for the moment and sent his hat flying and himself reeling, so great was the surprise and shock of it. It was not a slap, not an open handed push—nothing like it—but a fierce, well delivered blow from a clinched fist with the shoulder behind it, and it was the girl who had given it.

"Don't you dare to touch Joe!" she cried passionately. "Don't you lay a finger on him!"

Furious and red, he staggered round to look at her.

"You wretched little wildcat, what do you mean by that?" he broke out.

"Don't you touch Joe!" she panted. "Don't you"— Her breath caught and there was a break in her voice as she faced him. She could not finish the repetition of that cry, "Don't you touch Joe!"

But there was no break in the spirit, that passion of protection which had dealt the blow. Both boys looked at her, somewhat aghast.

Eugene recovered himself. He swung round upon his heel, restored his hat to his head with precision, picked up his stick and touched his banjo case with it.

"Carry that into the house," he said indifferently to his stepbrother.

"Don't you do it!" said the girl hotly between her chattering teeth.

Eugene turned toward her, wearing the sharp edge of a smile. Not removing his eyes from her face, he produced with deliberation a flat silver box from a pocket, took therefrom a cigarette, replaced the box, extracted a smaller silver box from another pocket, shook out of it a fusee, slowly lit the cigarette—this in a splendid silence, which he finally broke to say languidly, but with particular distinctness:

"Ariel Tabor, go home!"

The girl's teeth stopped chattering, her lips remaining parted; she shook the hair out of her eyes and stared at him as if she did not understand, but Joe Louden, who had picked up the banjo case obediently, burst into cheerful laughter.

"That's it, Gene," he cried gayly. "That's the way to talk to her!"

"Stow it, you young cub," replied Eugene, not turning to him. "Do you think I'm trying to be amusing?"

"I don't know what you mean by 'stow it,'" Joe began, "but if"—

"I mean," interrupted the other, not relaxing his faintly smiling stare at the girl—"I mean that Ariel Tabor is to go home. Really we can't have this kind of thing occurring upon our front lawn!"

The flush upon her wet cheeks deepened and became dark. Even her arm grew redder as she gazed back at him. In his eyes was patent his complete realization of the figure she cut, of this bare arm, of the strewn hair, of the fallen stocking, of the ragged shoulder of her blouse, of her patched short skirt, of the whole disheveled little figure. He was the master of the house, and he was sending her home as ill behaved children are sent home by neighbors.

The immobile, amused superiority of this proprietor of silver boxes, this wearer of strange and brilliant garments, became slightly intensified as he pointed to the fallen sleeve, a rag of red and snow, lying near her feet.

"You might take that with you?" he said interrogatively.

Her gaze had not wavered in meeting his, but at this her eyelashes began to wink uncontrollably, her chin to tremble. She bent over the sleeve and picked it up before Joe Louden, who had started toward her, could do it for her. Then turning, her head still bent so that her face was hidden from both of them, she ran out of the gate.

Ariel ran along the fence until she came to the next gate, which opened upon a walk leading to a shabby, meandering old house of one story, with a very long, low porch, once painted white, running the full length of the front. Ariel sprang upon the porch and disappeared within the house.

Joe stood looking after her, his eyelashes winking as had hers. "You oughtn't to have treated her that way," he said huskily.

"Pick up that banjo case again and come on," commanded Mr. Bantry tartly. "Where's the mater?"

Joe stared at him. "Where's what?"

"The mater!" was the frowning reply.

"Oh, yes, I know!" said Joe, looking at his stepbrother curiously. "I've seen it in stories. She's upstairs. You'll be a surprise. You're wearing lots of clothes, Gene."

"I suppose it will seem so to Canada," returned the other wearisomely. "Governor feeling fit?"

(To be continued)

"Don't you dare to touch Joe!" she cried.

EMIGRATION FROM VICTORIA

Sydney, July 31.—For some months there has been a steady overflow of the agricultural population of Victoria. Farmers are giving up their holdings and are seeking new lands and new homes in South Wale and Queensland. It is no common thing to read in the newspapers of fifty or sixty departures daily or even more.

Several reasons are assigned for this migration. One is the high price of land in Victoria as compared with that of New South Wales and Queensland, the high valuations put upon the land representing the high rates of taxation for irrigation and other purposes, and the fact that most of the best land had been sold by the Government, so that the young farmers have little chance for securing suitable country for agricultural purposes or for grazing. The distance they have to go is from 1,500 to 2,000 miles, often an emigration as distant as that which marked the flow of the tides of population from the eastern part of the United States to the western half a few years ago.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—makes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful; gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

A Big Strike of Gold

Just made on one of the claims owned by

DENVER BULLFROG CO-OPERATIVE MINING CO.

We told you about one month ago we would eventually open up one of the best mines in the Bullfrog District, and we tried to sell you some of our stock at 5 cents a share. If you had taken our advice you would have doubled your money. We give you another chance, but this time you will have to pay

10 CENTS A SHARE

But this is not one-third of the value of this stock, for we have discovered at a depth of twenty feet

Rock Literally Sprinkled With Gold

visible to the naked eye. We want to raise the money quick to put up a necessary hoisting plant to sink the shaft and get this rock out and turn it into a stream of gold to run into the pockets of THE LUCKY INVESTOR.

We offer only a small bunch of stock at this price. This stock is likely to quadruple in price in thirty days. Take our advice.

DON'T DELAY Don't put this off for later consideration or you will lose out again as you did before.

Severe Pains in the Groin

Trying Experience of a Well Known Citizen in St. John, N.B.

The case of Mr. Chas F. Olive, for years foreman in the "Gazette" of St. John, N. B., is a striking evidence of the power of Ferrozone.

No remedy has such a record for restoring sufferers from acute stomach and kidney trouble; it invariably does cure.

"For several years" writes Mr. Olive, "I have had kidney trouble and until quite recently I suffered torture. A few months ago my condition assumed a very serious form. I consulted several city doctors, used different pills, but without the slightest benefit. I suffered from an intense pain in the groin, and the increasing seriousness of my trouble prompted me to try Ferrozone. It gave me quick relief, and a half-a-dozen boxes cured. Ferrozone I can recommend as a specific for disordered kidneys."

Won't you try Ferrozone too. 50c. per box at all dealers in medicine.

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

Prices Of Beef Have Gone Down

There will not be more than 1711 suicides in this city when we note that the price of beefsteak has been reduced by some of the meat merchants the decrease having already gone into effect. Sirloin and porterhouse steak which has sold for some weeks at 20 cents per pound, is now going at 17 cents, while round steak is now 15 cents, whereas it has been 17 cents. Shoulder steak is selling at 12 1-2 cents per pound the same as before.

Mr. Gardiner in Agriculture

Mr. Jas. Gardiner the local auctioneer yesterday afternoon undertook a new treatment for a too plentiful prosperity in business. To get down to facts, Mr. Gardiner decided to combine a summer outing with a slight attack of exercise. This genial dispenser of the other fellow's goods or his stock decided to "get to work" in the strictest sense. He started in late in the afternoon at Mr. W. Snowdon's farm, in North Monaghan to pitch hay. The way Gardiner threw that fodder would make the average Salvation Army immigrant on a farm commit suicide from envy.

It will interest the many friends in the city of Mr. H. Cyril Hill, to learn, that at the Canadian Cricket Association meeting held Monday night at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, he was included amongst those selected for the team for the international match against the United States for week after next at Rosedale. The names of the men selected are given below, in alphabetical order; L. Black, of Grace Church; M. G. Bristow, of Ottawa; F. C. Evans of St. Alban's; C. Gausden, of St. Simon's; H. C. Hill, of Peterborough, and others.

Steamer Otonabee At Good Work

Yesterday afternoon the fine new twin screw steamer, Otonabee, owned and operated by the Otonabee Navigation Co., was in the employ of the Dominion Government. This is possibly partly a result of the report contained in a former issue of The Times, regarding the weeds that have obstructed traffic for screw steamers in the Trent Valley Canal. It was noted in a former issue that Mr. Stratton's yacht had her propelling screw blocked by weeds in that stretch of the canal between the city and Lakefield. Mr. McClellan the energetic superintendent of the Trent Valley canal, secured the services of this powerful steamer. During the afternoon she was busy extracting the weeds from the canal so as to make navigation not only safe but assuredly easy.

Boy Walks From Rice Lake Home

On Sunday evening a boy of 12 years of age, arrived at his home on Lewis street, covered with dust, sweat and other signs of a strenuous outing. It seems that the boy went down to Rice Lake on Saturday and missed the boat on her return trip. Whether this possible candidate for a future premiership was away chasing butterflies, catching crawfish or frogs, or had "borrowed" a rod and line and gone fishing, The Times communicant sayeth not. However the little fellow found himself Saturday night on the shores of Rice Lake, sans bed, sans money, and sans credit. He then pluckily set out on foot for the city and by possibly 5.30 Sunday night arrived tired and hungry. His people first threatened to whip him for the anxiety caused but soon wept and smiled over the prodigal returned. There is no reason however to expect that the price of veal will raise over this occurrence.

Police Court Doings

At yesterday morning's session of the Police Court City Clerk S. R. Armstrong acted as Magistrate in the absence of the Police Magistrate. The only case tried was that of Campbell Hodgins, a young man charged with having assaulted Samuel Anglesea. The first witness called was George Avemore, who said that as he was going home from work Monday night he heard prisoner and Anglesea quarrelling at his house. They were both drunk, but the prisoner was very, very drunk. He had ordered prisoner to leave his place several times. He will not have a drunk man at his place. The prisoner then asked witness, "How do you know assaulted Anglesea?" Anglesea was then called but was not present, so the case was dismissed. It seems that Avemore laid the information, but he had no evidence to prove any assault. Magistrate Armstrong advised the prisoner to cut out the booze and behave himself or a charge would be laid that would stick."

Mr. Gardiner told a Times representative yesterday that these horses are "corkers" and that some one has a bargain to make in horse flesh.

More About The Lindsay Forgeries

Mr. Edward Bayley, solicitor to the attorney-general, had a conference Monday morning with the magistrates and the local crown attorney, Mr. A. P. Devlin. The maximum penalty for the crime charged is fourteen years in Kingston penitentiary. There is little sympathy expressed in Lindsay for any of the prisoners except Miller. Col. Sam Hughes, who expresses Lindsay opinion pretty accurately, regards the whole affair as a foolish escapade.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 31 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

He was working from a pole on Bank street when he touched a live wire and fell 30 feet to the ground. He is in the hospital.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts, being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

Is The "Safety Valve" Too Big?--They Might Spare $5,000,000

NORTH-WEST NEEDS FUNDS

Its Recognized That Big Loans In the States Are a Very Necessary Evil

Montreal, July 25.—To the end of time Canadian banks will probably be assailed because they lend so much money outside of the country. Especially are these attacks more noticeable when money is tight here.

The Canadian west is pinched for money (who isn't) at the present time, and the Winnipeg Commercial says:

"Among the business men of this part of Canada considerable indignation is being expressed at the action of the chartered banks. The latter are accused of cutting off credit in legitimate business, and investing their funds in New York and other outside places. The banks of Canada take millions of money on deposit from the Canadian people and take it over to the boundary line to use in the large markets there, where they can secure a high rate of interest on calls.

"At the same time they refuse to loan money in the western cities and towns for municipal debentures, which are good substantial security. Their right to call a halt in loaning for speculation is not questioned; but it is reckoned rather unfair that they should refuse to invest Canadian money in legitimate Canadian business, especially when they have it to invest in foreign interests."

ARE BANKS JUSTIFIED?

This charge is both just and unjust. Possibly the banks are sending more money to the States than is necessary, yet at the same time it has become an established principal with our banks that loans there are essential.

Money in the States is a quick reserve, in that big bread-market it can be withdrawn at a moment's notice without disturbing Canadian conditions, and can be brought back here to meet emergency calls.

At the present time our banks have $66,298,000 on call outside of Canada and $29,383,269 in current loans. Some of this money is in England.

It is recognized that the banks are protecting our interests by sending this money to another market.

However, they might bring back $6,000,000 or so without overstepping the safety mark. Even $5,000,000 would help.

A Prosperous Concerne Is The Shovel Company

Rapid Development of Business Demands Increased Capital—Mr. Jas. Davidson Elected a Director

The directors of the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company met yesterday morning. The paid up capital of this concern is now $52,500, represented largely by building, machinery, patterns, etc.

The business of this industry is increasing to so great an extent that the company find it absolutely necessary to keep from $50,000 to $75,000 worth of manufactured goods and raw material on hand in order to keep apace with their growing business. Therefore, at yesterday morning's meeting the directors and shareholders present agreed to increase their paid-up capital to $75,000, and an additional $10,000 was assured before the meeting adjourned. The balance of the $75,000 will be placed at the earliest possible moment.

The company have now on hand more orders for their goods than can be, under existing conditions, manufactured in four months. Hence the necessity for increased capital.

Mr. Wm. Irwin's resignation as a director was accepted and he will be succeeded by Mr. James Davidson, who is one of the company's largest shareholders.

PLANS FOR THE NEW BRIDGE FOR OTONABEE

Now Being Prepared By C. P. R. Bridge Superintendent, and Will Reach City in a Few Days---Railway Co. are Acquiescent in this Project

The City Board of Works met last night. There were present, Mayor McWilliams and Chairman Ald. Duncan, Aldermen Johnston and McIntyre.

FOOT BRIDGE OVER RIVER.

Mr. James Oborne, general superintendent of the C.P.R. bridges, wrote saying that in a few days he would forward plans and specifications for a foot bridge across the Otonabee on east side of the C.P.R. bridge.

STREET NUMBERING.

Thos. R. Weir of Stratford, wrote, asking when the city would be prepared to proceed with street numbering the town.—Received.

MEDICAL EXPENSES.

Mr. Haywood, who was hurt at the diversion of the creek in east ward, asked that his doctor's bill, $2 50, be paid by the city. This was granted.

TO OPEN OUTLET.

Ald Johnston asked that the engineer be instructed to open the water outlet at corner of George and Brock streets, which is continually plugged up. This will be attended to at once.

On motion of Ald. McIntyre the engineer was instructed to examine the water hole at corner of London and Bethune streets, with power to act if necessary.

Marked For Death No Victim Escaped

That Opponents of the Federation are Alive is Proof that They Were Not Condemned

Boise, Idaho, July 25.—With the assertion that the prosecution had failed to connect the defendant with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, Attorney Richardson began his closing night for the life of W. D. Haywood.

Mr. Richardson described the feeling which the murder created throughout the country, and paid respects to President Roosevelt, who, he said, took occasion to decide in advance of the trial the desirability or undesirability of certain citizens, including the officers of the Western Federation of Miners. He declared that there never has been any doubt as to who actually was responsible for the commission of the crime, as the assassin was caught red-handed, and he has not yet been brought to trial.

The most extraordinary thing that has occurred in all the eleven weeks of the Haywood trial took place yesterday, when Richardson, in the course of his argument to the jury, declared that the fact that Governor Peabody, Judges Gabbert and Goddard, General Sherman Bell and other opponents of the Western Federation of Miners, are still alive, is conclusive proof that the Federation leaders never marked them for death. So, too, he declared, was the fact that Steunenberg had lived for six years after Jack Simpkins suffered in the Coeur d'Alene bullpen, complete proof that Simpkins had had no motive for killing him, because Simpkins was a determined man, who would have accomplished his purpose long before the close of 1905 if he had ever intended to murder the former governor.

Mr. Darrow, who follows Mr. Richardson, will argue for two days, and it seems probable the case will go to the jury Friday, as Senator Borah has announced that he will require but four hours to sum up for the prosecution.

Auto Makes Mad Plunge

Pittsburg, July 23.—John J. Wallace, a well-known business man of this city, is dead with a broken neck, his wife is dying at her home with internal injuries, and J. S. Henderson and wife, friends of the Wallaces are in a serious condition as a result of an accident to their motor car, which plunged over a 150-foot embankment on the road to Butler last night. About five miles out from this city the chauffeur stopped the car to enquire as to the direction to Butler. The car started without apparent cause, and the chauffeur jumped upon the side step of the machine but before he could get control the machine, with the entire party plunged over the embankment and landed in a big tree. Wallace was dead when picked up. The others were unconscious.

Sir Wilfrid Is To Make Tour

Ottawa Report Says He Will Visit Ontario and Quebec Points in Fall

Ottawa, July 24.—Although, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's return to Ottawa will enable him to dispose of some of the matters that claim his instant attention, there are many others, including the filling of his cabinet vacancies, that will stand over until he has time to allow his mind and body the rest of which they stand in sore need, and until, moreover, the prime minister has had full opportunity of consulting the views of his friends. The balance of the present week he spends in Ottawa and will then visit his old home in Arthabaskaville amid whose pleasant surroundings and pleasant memories Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier find time to spend a short vacation every summer.

OPPOSITION IS MUEETERING.

Here, among his old friends, now, alas, growing fewer by death almost every year, the premier is free from the cares of state and of party and is able to give himself over to the enjoyment of nature and of his favorite authors from which duty, however will soon recall him to the tempestuous care of federal politics. Later on he may make a brief tour of Ontario and Quebec, and in November parliament will resume its sitting with loud mutterings from the opposition camp of scandals that they claim to be prepared to uncover in the Public Accounts Committee. What these threats will amount to remains to be seen, but unless the exposures are of a more serious kind than those of last session, the government has little to fear from them.

The rival aspirants to cabinet honors from New Brunswick were fully represented in the gathering that greeted the prime minister on his arrival in Quebec Mr. F. B. Carvell, M.P., for Carleton, who has the support of the other Liberal members from New Brunswick, was there in person, and report says that Hon. Mr. Emmerson's following, having been unable to secure the return of the late minister of railways to the cabinet, are prepared to lend the weight of their influence in favor of Mr. Calvell.

IT LOOKS LIKE CARSTELL.

On the other hand Dr. Pugsley, the late premier of New Brunswick and Liberal nominee as M.P. for the city of St. John, is no mean opponent, and although he has neither pledge nor implied promise of cabinet preferment from Sir Wilfrid when he gave up Provincial politics to enter the Federal arena, Dr. Pugsley is well known to be in the running for the vacant portfolio, to be a man too, of such ability and experience in public affairs it would make him a useful minister. But if the government's following of New Brunswick is of the same kind as it was last session, the portfolio will undoubtedly go to Mr Carstell, who, by his work in the house and by his record among his own people, is a man of excellent character of much industry and of sound business sagacity.

Both upon the New Brunswick situation and the cabinet vacancy from Ontario Sir Wilfrid will avail himself of the counsel of his party supporters. It seems taken for granted that Mr Hyman will not be able to return to public affairs for some time to come.

Lawyer Fasted 61 Days

Chicago, July 24.—For the first time in sixty-one days George E. Hufford, a lawyer, joined his family at the breakfast table yesterday. For all of two months Mr. Mafford listened to the tinkling of the breakfast, the luncheon and the dinner bell with stern resistance and determination, and contented himself with a glass of water.

He undertook the fast first to cure himself of chronic stomach and throat trouble, catarrh, biliousness and nervousness, and claims these ailments have been routed by his long refrain from eating. Mr. Hufford's weight has decreased from 194 pounds to 159 pounds. He is forty years of age, and was formerly an attorney of Austin, Texas.

HAYASHI EXPLAINS JAPAN'S PROGRAM

Korean Throne Has Nothing To Fear From Japanese

IF GOVERNMENT IS FIRM

Japanese Are Wholly Engaged With Restoration of Order---Anti-Japanese Outbreaks Continue

Seoul, July 25.—Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese foreign minister, describes his visit to Seoul on an excursion during the government holidays for communicating to Marquis Ito the demand made by public feeling in Japan for rectification of existing conditions in Korea, and to consult with the marquis as to what should be done. In view of the grave state of the present crisis, Viscount Hayashi has consented to say that the abdication of the Emperor occurred simultaneously with his arrival in Seoul, and was a surprise and disappointed his plans. Neither Marquis Ito nor Japan had any part in the abdication, but on the other hand if consulted they would have not advised it.

Regarding the report that he came to Korea on a special mission, Viscount Hayashi admitted that it was true that he came entrusted with his government's program. Japan's position here was delicate, and its responsibilities were great.

An intriguing government was impossible, and the plan to murder all the cabinet ministers, which was reported to be a scheme of the Emperor for his restoration to power, with a cabinet wholly anti-Japanese was unthinkable.

Regarding possible plans for the future government, Hayashi said that the Korean throne had nothing to fear from the Japanese, but there must be a competent administration. Japan's program would be executed only with regard to due forms, with the consent of the constituted sovereign, and was subject of modification according to conditions. It had already modified its plans, and if the Korean throne established a competent government, Japan would deal with it.

At present the Japanese authorities were wholly concerned with the restoration of order. Until this was accomplished they were unable to proceed, and his mission must await normal conditions for the future promotion of the welfare of the people was his foremost consideration.

FORMER EMPEROR RESPONSIBLE.

The former Emperor is responsible for four anti-Japanese conspiracies since his abdication. The first conspiracy consisted in ordering the Imperial guard to rush the palace on the night of July 19. The second is found in the defiance of the minister of war by the Korean army. The third was the attack on the police at the Great Hill, which the Japanese have proof to show was led by an army officer, and the fourth consists in his direct manipulation of the functions of the present Emperor.

One Japanese was wounded during the encounter in front of the Great Hill. The villas belonging to deposed members of the former cabinet were burned down. The electric plant is now under guard, and all night the Japanese town was under the vigilance fo fire patrols.

Police reserves have arrived here from Taiku.

Sensational rumors are current that three cruisers, with ability to land one thousand bluejackets are making their way to Chemulpo.

A Big Timber Limit Deal

Vancouver, July 25.—A syndicate of Iowa capitalists has just completed the purchase of a hundred and seventy-square miles of timber limits in central Vancouver Island. The amount involved will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The syndicate will erect mills on the Island and will cut lumber for the export trade. The acquisition of limits on the Mainland is contemplated, and negotiations for large area is now in progress. Mills will also be erected on the Mainland, and the product will be sold to the domestic trade. The Iowa syndicate expects to make investments of two million dollars in British Columbia.

The Verdict on Saturday

Boise, July 24.—Lawyer Richardson began the argument for the Haywood defence yesterday afternoon. Most of the lawyer's talk consisted of an attack on the authenticity of the crimes Orchard said he committed, and an argument that the Federation inspired them.

The last word will come from Senator Borah, who will speak probably on Friday, closing up the State's side of the case. Judge Wood will charge the jury on Friday afternoon, or on Saturday morning, and a verdict is expected by Saturday night. Opinion is divided as to the probable result.

The Girl Gave Him Away

Kingston, July 24. — Constables from Glen Falls, N.Y., came here last evening seeking Charles Smith, 23 years of age, on a charge of stealing a horse and rig from Leaven's livery. The young man says he left the horse with a livery man at Huffman's Ferry, and gave him $10 to return it. Smith's whereabouts were given to Glen Falls police by the girl he had taken driving.

APPOINTMENT OF ENGINEER FOR FIRE HALL

Not Yet Made---Wire Inspector To Report on Strength of Street Lights---Light for Hunter Street Bridge

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met last night when there were present, Mayor McWilliam, Chairman Ald. Johnston, Aldermen Morgan, Bradburn, Duncan and McIntyre.

A communication was received from Arthur Wringer, a fireman hurt at the Peter Hamilton fire, asking for payment of his medical expenses, $5. On motion of Alderman Duncan, it was decided to pay this account.

The water commissioners wrote, asking for a hydrant on the north-western corner of Bethune and King streets. The committee found that on King street, there was a hydrant at Aylmer street, and one at Stewart street, and decided not to grant this request, as sufficient fire protection is already furnished this locality.

ELECTRIC LAMPS OUT.

Four electric lamps were reported not burning during contract hours during last quarter. The company will be charged up for the time these lamps were out.

COST OF WATER TOWER.

The committee were in receipt of prices for water towers for the fire department, ranging from $5,300 to $7,000, approximately, for towers 60 to 65 feet high. This matter was left in abeyance.

MORE LIGHTS WANTED.

Ald. Morgan urged once again that Hunter street, from Water street to and over the bridge should be better lighted than at present. It is, he said, a dark hole there.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by the mayor,—That an incandescent lamp be put at the corner of the Hunter street bridge.—Carried.

POWER OF LIGHTS.

Ald. Morgan moved, seconded by the mayor,—That Electrical Wire Inspector Pakenham be asked to report if the street lights furnished by the Peterborough Light and Power Company, are of the power called for in the contract.—Carried.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That the engineer be authorized to instruct the Peterborough Light and Power Company, to remove the pole at the corner of Stewart and Simcoe streets, to a more convenient position immediately.—Carried.

This pole is in the way of crossing construction.

PAY FOR TELEPHONE.

Foreman Pakenham of the fire hall, has installed a telephone in his house on his own responsibility, and asks the council to pay for it.

It appears that when Pakenham approached Ald. Johnston on this matter he told him should he think it desirable to have a phone in his house, he, Ald. Johnston, would see what he could do in the matter of getting the city to pay for it.

Ald. Bradburn replied that he did not object to Pakenham having a phone in his house at the city's expense, providing the committee are agreeable. But he did object to any city official incurring additional expense without authority from the committee having control of his department.

The opinion of the committee was that the city should not pay for phones in any of the firemen's houses, not excepting the foreman or chief.

APPOINTMENT OF ENGINEER.

The committee here took up the question of appointing an engineer for the fire hall from the applications read at last council meeting, and reported on this paper. In the meantime the old engineer, Sam Wainwright, has been filling the position, his application for re-appointment at $700 a year, an increase of $100 over his previous salary, being under consideration.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the chairman interview Sam Wainwright, and ascertain if he will accept the reappointment at his old salary, $600 a year; if he will do so, then the committee recommend this appointment.—Carried.

Trouble Feared at Brest

Clash Between American and Japanese Officers Anticipated

Brest, July 25.—The Japanese squadron is expected to reach this port tonight. This delay in arriving is generally attributed here to the desire of the Japanese commander to make as short as possible the time that the Japanese and American warships will be together in the harbor, in order to reduce the chances of an untoward incident between the sailor-men. The sailors from the American cruisers Washington and Tennessee now here, seem to hold some grudge against the Japanese on account of a fancied grievance at Jamestown, and there has been some threatening talk.

Rear-Admiral Stockton, in command of teh American vessels, has decided to grant no shore-leave after the Japanese arrive.

The American officers are preparing to treat the Japanese visitors with great cordiality. They will be shown every courtesy.

Death Threatened Men Filling Strikers Places

American Labor Union Bosses Operating in Montreal

Montreal, July 25.—Threatened with death in various forms, workers on steel structural construction in Montreal have been compelled to face a method of intimidation new in Canadian labor troubles.

In one instance a revolver was flourished to prevent men from going to the aid of the foreman who, at the time, was being brutally assaulted by half a dozen desperate characters.

In another case the gunnion pin was removed from a derrick with the result that when the crew began to operate it, the boom slipped from its place, and it was only by rare good fortune that the workers nearby escaped from death or serious injury.

The local members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers have been on strike for two weeks, and it is asserted that sympathizers of these men have been using unlawful means to aid the cause of the strikers.

AT WINDMILL POINT.

A gang of men who had just knocked off some work being done at Windmill Point by the Dominion Bridge Company for the Dominion Coal Company, were attacked. One man held back the workmen while his fellows got after the foreman. The latter was knocked down, struck and kicked by three men. Meanwhile one man with a revolver held back the foreman's gang.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Yet other outrage was at some work being done at Molsons Brewery.

Some one gained access to the yard during the night, and removed from the derrick the steel pin which holds the boom in place.

A piece of wood was fitted into the derrick and this bit of wood was carefully smeared with grease and daubed with black stuff so that it would seem as part of the apparatus.

The thing was so well done that the derrick crew was deceived. They started to work and when the boom swung out, carrying a piece of material, the wood snapped and the big timber crashed down. No one was injured, but had any of the workers been under the boom when it fell to earth nothing could have saved them from serious injury or death.

Corey Speaks of Strike

New York, July 25.—After his first meeting with the operative heads of his subsidiary companies yesterday, since he went abroad on his wedding trip, President William Ellis Corey, of the United States Steel Corporation, made a statement giving the company's side of the strike troubles in the Lake Superior ore fields.

Corey laid the whole blame on the Western Federation of Miners, which he accused of calling its men out without notice for no other apparent purpose than obtaining recognition of its organization and so intimidating a large percentage of men who are not members of the Federation as to cause many of them to quit.

If the strike continues for any length of time it will entirely shut off the supply of ore for the steel works during the coming winter.

Armament Limitations

The Hague, July 25.—Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, one of the German delegates to the peace conference, has received instructions from Berlin to oppose the wording of the British proposition regarding the limitation of armaments.

Germany does not admit that this question is more urgent today than it was in 1899, when the first peace conference was in session, and she contends that it is impossible to acknowledge the urgency of disarmament when no practical scheme has yet been devised for the reduction of military burdens.

Jap Demands in Korea

Tokio, July 25.—The elder Statesmen held a council today, and it is understood that the Korean question was the subject of their deliberations. It is reported that it will be a week or more yet before the Japanese demands are formulated, and in final form presented to the Seoul government. The reply of the new Korean Emperor to the Emperor of Japan, congratulating him on his ascension to the throne, expresses a the minister of war by the Korean assincere hope of a growing friendship between the governments.

GIVES MAN HARD JOLT

Savage Attack on the Worthless Males of Aristocracy

ARE SUPPORTED BY WIVES

Novelist Says They Permit Spouces To Live Loose Lives For The Sake Of Gold

London, July 24.—Marie Corelli makes one of the most ferocious of her many savage attacks on "mere man" in the short story she has just been writing. The heroine, a beautiful novelist, marries a worthless earl of ancient lineage. The purpose of the story, she declares, is "to expose the lazy noodles of aristocrats who spend their time first in accumulating debts, and then in looking about for a woman with money to pay them; a woman upon whose income they can afterward live comfortably for the rest of their worthless lives."

NOBLEMEN IN DISGRACE.

Miss Corelli speaks of "the miserable position voluntarily held by certain noblemen, who, because they have placed themselves in the unnatural and unbecoming condition of owing everything to their wives' money, permit these wives to play fast and loose with their honor and good name and apparently shut their eyes to shameless infidelities which make them a byword of contempt to all self-respecting commoners."

"It would be a wholesome and refreshing stimulus to society," she continues, "if such blueblooded lackeys could awake to the fact that manhood is better than money and of their own free will and choice would go out to hard labor in the goldfields or elsewhere and own their own livelihood bravely and independently instead of lounging and frittering away their days as silent, inactive spectators of their wives' open and wanton degradation."

SHOWS DESTINY OF WOMAN.

Further on she writes: "It is certain that the true intention of woman's destiny has not yet been carried out. She is fighting toward it, but is using her weapons wildly and in various directions. It is not by opposing herself to man that she can be his real helpmeet, neither by supporting him on her money, whether such money be earned or inherited, and not by adopting his pastimes and aping his manners. It is by cultivating and cherishing to the utmost every sweet and sacred sentiment of womanhood; every grace of refinement and beauty; by taking her share of the world's intellectual work with force as well as with modesty; by showing a faultless example of gentle reserve and delicate chastity.

"When man begins to understand that woman is not meant to be a toy or a drudge, but a comrade, the closest, best and truest God has given him, then the clouds will clear and marriage will be a blessing instead of a curse."

Steamer Otonabee Beats Local Records

A Large and Delighted Crowd Visit Stony Lake

Yesterday morning the largest crowd, and we use the word advisedly in its most favorable sense, boarded the splendid twin screw steamer, Otonabee, en route for Stony Lake. The writer of this article took his first trip on the Otonabee, and his one fear in life is that he might not take another. The officers aboard treated each and every one on the boat as though each were a long lost but recently found uncle who had a large fortune to leave and no other relatives available.

In telling the account of this trip the Times scribe is going to be candid, strictly candid. He had a memo of the time made between the Hunter dock and Young's Point. This unfortunately was left in an overcoat pocket and the latter garment was forgotten (at his home on arrival), owing mainly to the fierce appetite to be appeased and the strenuous work done whilst satisfying said hunger. Thus, we cannot give the exact time between the points mentioned. But memory reminded our scribe that all former records were lowered by nearly two hours. Speaking of records, we might add that on the return trip the Otonabee ran from Mothercham's Landing to Young's Point, according to the word of the captain, in 19 minutes. This is we believe correct. In any event the steamer Otonabee, especially whilst running through Clear and Stony Lakes, eat up the miles quicker than a starved mouse could eat through a half-inch partition of cheshire cheese that stood between it and a guaranteed through ticket to paradise.

To get back to facts, the Otonabee was crowded, not certainly to its utmost capacity, but it is a large boat, but better than ever this year. The crowd was a representative one, embracing some of our best citizens. Did we not hesitate to throw bouquets at the Otonabee Navigation Company we would mention a few of the complimentary expressions passed by our scribe concerning the boat but we will refrain.

Stony Lake is too well known to require detailed description, we can only say that our representative on the trip, is contemplating the use of bromide of potassium to stop visions of wonderful vistas of beauty, verdure clothed islands of granite snuggling in the bosom of uncounted acres of blue water appearing in his dreams. Still to get down to facts again. To one who wants to get away from people, particularly people one knows, and the marks of modern buildings, the south-bound trip appeals to many. In conversation with Mr Henderson, traffic manager of the O.N.C., The Times representative was told that this company is contemplating running a "Once a week" trip to Stony Lake to suit those who prefer this route.

Beware of Mercury

You May be Using this Harmful Drug and Not Know it.

A favorite method of administering this deleterious drug is in cathartic pills. Beware of "quick-result" articles, they may do more harm than good.

Drastic cathartics will weaken the strongest. With old people they are a positive menace to life.

Merely to restore normal bowel action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends.

To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so efficacious, as the vegetable pills of Dr Hamilton, which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, butternut and dandelion; they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr. Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels; this is nature's own method and the best one.

Mr R. Hambly, of French River, Ont., writes as follows; "I was inclined to bilious attacks and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills gently stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been just splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper, 25c per box or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco has recently just received another intimation that it is in the earthquake belt, though fortunately the shock was slight and no damage was done. All who are actuated by humane impulses would regret to hear of another calamity overtaking a city sorely tried in the cauldron of human woes, but there is unfortunately only too much reason for believing that should San Francisco be seriously stricken again, there would not be that ready disposition to render succor to its inhabitants as was manifested on a previous occasion. Public sympathy has been almost completely alienated as a result of the astounding exposures of graft in the administration of the relief fund, the carnival of crime in which the prime figures were Mayor Schmitz and Abe Ruef, and the reign of terror and lawlessness engendered by the disputes between capital and labor. When one closely studies the situation he is forced to the conviction that what is happening in San Francisco is only the breaking out of an ulcer indicating that the whole body politic of the great nation to the south of us is in certain respects diseased. The Almighty Dollar has been set up as the god of the American people; the principles of truth, honesty and decency have been ruthlessly trampled under foot in the mad race for wealth and position; and as it is certain that "as a man soweth, so shall he reap," so it is inevitable that a nation must pay for its misdeeds. The United States is in some respects the most wonderful nation on the face of the globe. It has absorbed monster armies of alien immigrants of the least desirable type and admitted them to full citizenship; it has grown in respect to population, faster than any other country in any similar period of time, and it has developed the raw resources of a vast country on a scale of marvellous magnitude. But with it all there has been a lowering of the moral principles which are the chief bulwark of a nation; and the scandals which from time to time shock the world in their monumental ramifications indicate all too surely that with its growth the nation has imbibed heavily of the dangerous dregs of Europe is constantly pouring westerly in an effort to relieve itself of the task of feeding to great a population. As an earthquake indicates that all is not right within the bowels of the earth, so do the shameful scandals which have besmirched the fair fame of San Francisco portend that the nation of which it is one of the chief cities is suffering from a grave malady.

The people of Canada ought to profit by the lessons that are being taught by events in San Francisco. There is time yet to check dishonesty in public life before it has attacked the vitals of the nation. We are drifting in the Dominion along a dangerous shore. It is strewn with rocks and shallows. Let us combine and steer the ship of state out into safe waters.

ORGANIZED LAWLESSNESS

There is an organization known as the Industrial Workers of the World. We are not aware that there are any branches of it in Ontario, and if what is said about it is only half true, it is most earnestly to be hoped there never will be any. A despatch to the Los Angeles Times from Goldfield announces that M. H. Preston has just been sent to the penitentiary for twenty-five years and Joseph Smith for ten years. The offence for which these men were punished was the murder of a restaurant keeper, who was killed because he allowed some carpenters to dine at his table, who had refused to join the Industrial Workers of the World. The despatch says that while these men were in jail the I. W. W. paid them wages regularly. They acted under the direction of Vincent St. John, with whom were associated some others, all of whom will be put on trial. The judge, who sentenced the prisoners, has been threatened with death.

The existence of such an organization is an exceedingly serious matter, not so much because of what it may itself do, as because of the spirit which makes its existence possible. The assignment is made that this organization is behind Haywood, now on trial in Boise, Idaho, but the despatch does not connect it with the murder of the Idaho ex-governor. There is abundant evidence that it carried out plans which aim at the establishment of a reign of lawelessness and violence. Nothing can be conceived that is more tyrannical than such a body. It charges a law-abiding citizen with some offence against what it is pleased to regard as its principles, tries him without his knowing it, sentences him to death, while he is in utter ignorance of the fact, and executes him without mercy. When its members are caught red-handed, and are put upon their trial with all the facilities of making a defence which the most lax system of criminal jurisprudence in the world permits, its members cry out against the tyranny of capital. The most tyrannical act ever committed by capital or by organized government pales in contarst with the course followed by the abominable organization.

We do not upspoe for a ingle smoment that such an organization has in the least degree the sympathy with honest, industrious workingmen. Indeed we know of no people who have more to dread from it. If influenced by the necessities of those who look to them for support, they do an act, which to those in control of this band of assassins seems contrary to certain arbitrary rules, they may at any day find that they have been tried and condemned without their knowledge, and that the first notice they have of the sentence of death that has been passed upon them may be a pistol bullet. It is surely time for the real workingmen of the country to divorce themselves forever from such organizations.

THE WORLD FEARS JAPAN AND ALLOWS KOREA GRAB

Nations Afraid to Interfere, While Mikado Makes Over the Map of Asia—Hard Fighting in Seoul.

London, July 25.—A chapter in the world's history of deepest significance is being written in the far East. All Europe is watching the development of events with keenest interest. Reports from Seoul show that a large number of persons were killed there recently in the struggle between the Koreans and the Japanese. Soldiers are mutinying. An attempt was made to murder the entire cabinet, and there is not one minister whose life is safe.

The people are demanding death to every Japanese in the country, and the killing has begun on a large scale Meanwhile Japan is rushing troops into the country and is preparing to pour a rain of shot from machine guns into the mobs to complete the work of subjugation of the ancient empire.

No accurate estimate of the number of dead has been given in the despatches, but it is known that it is large. The greater part of the number consists of Japanese.

WAR BEING MADE OVER.

Although the powers realize that Japan is doing boldly what no other nation has dared to do, in disturbing the integrity of the Orient by the confiscation of Korea, Europe is passive. While it is evident that the complexion of the map of the eastern hemisphere is being changed, the situation is such that no protest has been made. England, as Japan's ally, is content to view the situation complacently, for the time at least. The other powers are in such a position that they cannot well act, even if they should desire to do so.

Students of world politics believe that, whatever the outcome of the struggle now going on between a weak nation and a strong one, Korea never will be able to shake off the relentless grip of the mikado. At present the unrest is confined largely to Seoul, but when, in a few days, the story of the emperor's abdication becomes known throughout the country, the struggle may develop into a national uprising against Japan as the bully of the East. The Korean troops are discontented with the turn which affairs have taken. The people as a whole have been ill at ease ever since Japan's heavy hand has been felt. In the event that the country rises against the mikado, Japan doubtless will pour in troops by the thousand, and, though blood flow freely and many fall in battle, Japan in the end must be master.

KOREA IS WAR PRIZE.

The conquest of Korea is regarded as one of Japan's prizes of her war with Russia. While the Japanese representatives in Korea protest that the emperor's abdication was none of their doing, it is felt that it was largely owing to pressure from Tokio, exerted in a subtle, hidden manner, that there is now on the throne a man as weak as his father, and who will be more completely subject to the influence of the Japanese.

European statesmen, looking over the events which have taken place since the memorable day in November, 1905, that Japan forced the emperor to sign the treaty by which he agreed to the appointment of a Japanese representative to govern the country under himself, believe that the mikado has been acting with only one end in view—complete dominionm over the hermit kingdom. Japanese diplomacy and Japanese prestige acquired in the Russian war have won the country and have accomplished what no other nation would have dared to do. It is realized that a world struggle would be precipitated by the attempt of any European nation to interfere, and in all probability none will be made.

Once secure in Korea, Japan's next step onward in the march of conquest will be awaited with an anxiety which the whole world will feel.

JAPAN TO BUY ISLAND.

London, July 24.—A despatch to the Globe from Brussels brings a report that negotiations are in progress between the Netherlands and Japan looking to the purchase by the latter of an island in the Dutch East Indies for a coaling stationn. The island is said to be close to the Philippines.

SIREN DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms —the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"I never saw him," Joe replied, then caught himself. "Oh, I see what you mean! Yes, he's all right."

They had come into the hall, and Eugene was removing the long coat, while his stepbrother looked at him thoughtfully.

"Gene," asked the latter in a softened voice, "have you seen Mamie Pike yet?"

"You will find, my young friend," responded Mr. Bantry, "if you ever go about much outside of Canaan, that ladies' names are not supposed to be mentioned indiscriminately."

"It's only," said Joe, "that I wanted to say that there's a dance at their house tonight. I suppose you'll be going?"

"Certainly. Are you?"

Both knew that the question was needless, but Joe answered gently:

"Oh, no, of course not." He leaned over and fumbled with one foot as if to fasten a loose shoestring. "She wouldn't be very likely to ask me."

"Well, what about it?"

"Only that—that Arie Tabor's going."

"Indeed!" Eugene paused on the stairs, which he had begun to ascend. "Very interesting."

"I thought," continued Joe hopefully, straightening up to look at him, "that maybe you'd dance with her. I don't believe many will ask her—I'm afraid they won't—and if you would, even only once, it would kind of make up for"—he faltered—"for out there," he finished, nodding his head in the direction of the gate.

If Eugene vouchsafed any reply it was lost in a loud, shrill cry from above, as a small, intensely nervous looking woman in blue silk ran halfway down the stairs to meet him and caught him tearfully in her arms.

"Dear old mater!" said Eugene.

Joe went out of the front door quickly.

CHAPTER III.

THE door which Ariel had entered opened upon a narrow hall, and down this she ran to her own room, passing, with face averted, the entrance to the broad, low ceilinged chamber that had served Roger Tabor as a studio for almost fifty years. He was sitting there now, in a hopeless and disconsolate attitude, with his back toward the double doors, which were open, and had been open since their hinges had begun to give way, when Ariel was a child. Hearing her step, he called her name, but did not turn, and, receiving no answer, sighed faintly as he heard her own door close upon her.

Then as his eyes wandered about the many canvases which leaned against the dingy walls he sighed again. Usually they showed their brown backs, but today he had turned them all to face outward. Twilight, sunset, moonlight (the courthouse in moonlight), dawn, morning, noon (Main street at noon), high summer, first spring, red autumn, midwinter, all were there, illimitably detailed, worked to a smoothness like a glaze and all lovingly done with unthinkable labor.

After a time the old man got up, went to his easel near a window and, sighing again, began patiently to work upon one of these failures—a portrait in oil of a savage old lady, which he was doing from a photograph. The expression of the mouth and the shape of the nose had not pleased her descendants and the beneficiaries under the will, and it was upon the images of these features that Roger labored. He leaned far forward, with his face close to the canvas, holding his brushes after the Spencerian fashion, working steadily through the afternoon and when the light grew dimmer, leaning closer to his canvas to see. When it had become almost dark in the room he lit a student lamp with a green glass shade and, placing it upon a table beside him, continued to paint. Ariel's voice interrupted him at last.

"It's quitting time, grandfather," she called gently from the doorway behind him.

He sank back in his chair, conscious for the first time of how tired he had grown. "I suppose so," he said, "though it seemed to me I was just getting my hand in." His eyes brightened for a moment. "I declare, I believe I've caught it a great deal better. Come and look, Ariel. Doesn't it seem to you that I'm getting it? Those pearly shadows in the flesh"—

"I'm sure of it. Those people ought to be very proud to have it." She came to him quietly, took the palette and brushes from his hands and began to clean them, standing in the shadow behind him. "It's too good for them."

"No," he murmured in return. "You can do much better yourself. Your sketches show it."

"No, no!" she protested quickly.

"Yes, they do, and I wondered if it was only because you were young. But those I did when I was young are almost the same as the ones I paint now. I haven't learned much. There hasn't been any one to show me. And you can't learn from print, never! Yet I've grown in what I see—grown so that the world is full of beauty to me that I never dreamed of seeing when I began. But I can't paint it. I can't get it on the canvas. Ah, I think I might have known how to if I hadn't had to teach myself, if I could only have seen how some of the other fellows did their work. If I'd ever saved money to get away from Canaan—if I could have gone away from it and come back knowing how to paint it—if I could have got to Paris for just one month! Paris for just one month!"

"Perhaps we will. You can't tell what may happen." It was always her reply to this cry of his.

"You're young, you're young." He smiled indulgently. "What were you doing all this afternoon, child?"

"In my room, trying to make over mamma's wedding dress for tonight."

"Tonight?"

"Mamie Pike invited me to a dance at their house."

"Very well. I'm glad you're going to be gay," he said, not seeing the faintly bitter smile that came to her face.

"I don't think I'll be very gay," she answered. "I don't know why I go. Nobody ever asks me to dance."

"Why not?" he asked, with an old man's astonishment.

"I don't know. Perhaps it's because I don't dress very well." Then, as he made a sorrowful gesture, she cut him off before he could speak. "Oh, it isn't altogether because we're poor. It's more I don't know how to wear what I've got, the way some girls do. I never cared much and—well, I'm not worrying, Roger. And I think I've done a good deal with mamma's dress. It's a very grand dress. I wonder I never thought of wearing it until today. I may be"—she laughed and blushed—"I may be the belle of the ball—who knows!"

"You'll want me to walk over with you and come for you afterward, I expect."

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, as Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

HE FINED THE COW

Denver, Col., July 24.—There was a panic in the police court when Lenhartz a policeman, who won his star but three days ago, led a cow in, and the animal charged toward the judge's desk.

An hour before this the case of Mary Ann Rogers, charged with disturbance, was called. Lenhartz said he had served a warrant on the woman. The court ordered him to produce the Rogers woman and he returned with the cow. The policeman explained that when he went back he was told by a neighbor that the only Mary Rogers was a cow which bothered the neighborhood and he had taken her in.

As he was leaving with the cow Mrs. Charles Rogers appeared and claimed the cow, which was identified by the complainant. She was tried and fined.

Act Held Up Circus

Woodstock, July 24. — Hargreaves railroad circus and menagerie arrived in the city early Sunday morning from Ingersoll. The circus was scheduled to arrive in the city Sunday morning, and the merchants who held contracts to supply the organization with provisions had made all arrangements, when they received word that, owing to the new Lord's Day Act, their arrival would have to be postponed till Monday. The act provided that trains cannot be operated on Sunday unless they are in motion before midnight Saturday, and, of course, this was impossible in the case of the circus, which was forced to stay in the pork packing town until after midnight Sunday.

A Pen-Knife Amputation

Fort William, July 24.—J. Pinkerton had his foot badly mangled last week by a train, and it was amputated immediately by a doctor, who hacked it off with his pen knife. Pinkerton, who is employed in a store here, was returning from a fishing trip, and boarded the Imperial Limited a few miles east. He dropped part of his tackle and jumped off the then moving train to recover it. He picked it up and made a flying leap for the train, but missed his grip, stumbled, fell and the front wheel of a truck passed over his foot, crushing all below the ankle.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian figtone, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingredients and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

Tired, Off Color; Lacking in Strength

You feel real seedy.
No snap, ambition or spirit.
You've noticed your color is miserable.
Noticed that your blood is thin, that you feel the cold, that trifles bother and worry you.
You ought to be vigorous and ruddy—you eat enough, sleep fairly well—but still that listless feeling hangs right on.
To overcome this condition all the vital functions must be stimulated.
You accomplish this by taking Ferrozone.
How it makes the appetite jump.
There follows as a natural consequence an abundant supply of rich, red blood.
Vitality and strength you'll soon find throbbing within you, because your food is digested so thoroughly that it's readily assimilated.
You soon notice that your color is coming back, and endurance too, and soon the joy of life, health, vigor, strength—and with these come the old-time zest for everything that makes life worth living.
Ferrozone is a marvelous body-builder, blood-former and strength-giver.
Ferrozone, by supplying the aid the body needs to build up, gives the recuperative power that will enable you to do your work easily, and to maintain strength.
Try it for a month.
See if you don't find it just the thing you need to make you strong. No a man, woman or child who needs more strength, better nerves and surer health who won't find it in Ferrozone. This nourishing tonic makes you feel like new—brings back the feeling of spirit and ambition you had years ago. Try Ferrozone, sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

The secretary-treasurer, of the Congress, is Mr. P. M. Draper, of Ottawa.

The Latest Souvenir Card

Mr. Roy was successful in taking an extra good picture of the Otonabee just as she was leaving the dock on Friday night with moonlight excursion. Souvenir cards are now on sale at The Times Bookstore, who has exclusive sale of this view. Be sure and get one of the new cards.

Tennis Club Tournament

The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club will hold a tournament, in which play will be commenced next week. The arranging of the schedule was left in charge of the executive committee who met at the Y.M.C.A. last night. It is confidently expected that this event will prove successful in every way.

Ernie Taylor Doing Nicely

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, who are decorating Ottawa for the Old Boys' celebration received word yesterday that Ernie Taylor, one of their employes, who sustained injuries through falling from a pole is not seriously hurt. He is in the hospital, but will be out again in a day or so. No bones were broken in the fall, and the young man was not injured, except for the shaking up.

Something New in Souvenir Cards

See our new line of souvenir cards entitled "Hands across the Sea," "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," and "Far away but not forgotten." These are very unique as one half of the card opens and inside shows a beautiful view of George street. Price only five cents each or six for 25 cents.

Baseball Superstitions

Baseball players, especially those of the old school, believe that their bats either are lucky or unlucky. Many players hold their favorite bats in reverential awe, and some of them if they suddenly crease to make hits believe their bats are hoodooed, and cut them up or paint them, or scrape them to restore their efficiency.—Lindsay Post.

Will Build Fifty Giant Locomotives

The C. P. R. have decided to construct fifty giant locomotives, exceeding in size any engine ever built in Canada heretofore, for use in the mountain division. They will have a drawbar pull of 40,000 pounds, where as the greatest traction effort of present locomotives is 31,000 pounds, which will move a trainload of nine hundred tons.

At St. John's Sunday

Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, is spending a month's vacation at Wolfe Island, on the St. Lawrence. On Sunday next, Rev. Fred Sawers, of Christ Church cathedral, Montreal, will officiate in the rector's place. The Rev. Fred Sawer's home is in this city and he received his boyhood spiritual education in St. John's church, where one of his brothers, Mr. H. Sawers, is a valued member of the choir.

A Chapter on Capstans

One of the marvels in connection with the canal is how the boatmen go on year after year wasting time and fuel in towing up the canal. Three men on a windlass at the dock pull six cribs into the lock and lower approach. The boats will snort and puff and exhaust for two hours and a half getting one crib out of the upper canal. Any man with ordinary skill with the axe would take a few poles and make a capstan in a few hours. With two capstans on the upper reach two men could warp the boat and crib through the canal as fast as they could walk around the capstan. The interruption to navigation is an irritation to the boating public, and unnecessary snorting day and night of the boats is a nuisance to the village. If the steamboat men prefer wasting time and fuel to making a couple of capstans perhaps the superintendent of the canal might have winches placed in position if it were suggested to him in a proper way.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—All Saints' choir, Sunday school teachers and Bible class will take an outing down the river this afternoon.

—The Str. Otonabee will run her regular Thursday afternoon trip today leaving Wolfe street wharf at 1.30.

—The annual excursion of the Durham Old Boys' takes place to Toronto and Niagara Falls today. Several will attend from Peterborough.

—Mr. Frank Kano of the firm of Jame & Kano, Hunter street, while alighting from a rig in their yard yesterday morning injured his foot. He is quite lame as a result of the mishap.

Tenders are being called for the purchase of the present Park street Baptist church. Tenders can be sent in up to August 8th. Operations on building the new church will be commenced shortly.

—Mr. Roy was successful in taking an extra good picture of the steamer Otonabee just as she was leaving the dock on Friday night with the moonlight excursion. Souvenir cards are now on sale at The Times Bookstore, where they are exclusively sold. Be sure and get one of the new cards.

—Counterfeits of Dominion two dollar notes have recently been put in circulation in the Maritime Provinces. At St. John they were offered to the ticket sellers of a circus, and were refused, but reported. They have been detected at other places in the east. The alleged Lindsay counterfeiting gang are held responsible for these fraudulent bills.

Excursion Here Friday

Friday next is Campbellford's civic holiday, and an excursion is coming here on that date. A large crowd of pleasure seekers is expected.

Steamboat Swells Dangerous

So powerful is the government steam dug "Bob Hall," that when traversing the Otonabee at full speed her swell is a menace to the safety of canoeists even should they be close to shore. On more than one occasion have canoeists experienced a narrow escape from upset when this powerful dug has been passing. It would be a considerate act were the captain of the "Bob Hall" to slacken speed somewhat when in the vicinity of canoes, especially so when several of these small craft are bunched together.

Appeal May Be Asked For Annie Davey

Richard Davey, husband of Annie Davey, who was sentenced to a year in the Mercer reformatory, as a result of the raid by the police at 24 Parnell street, has arrived in the city from Winnipeg. He was a caller at the police station yesterday, and also saw a lawyer in connection with the matter. It is learned that he will endeavor to have Magistrate Dumble's opinion set aside as he is of the opinion that she did not deserve the sentence that was imposed on her.

The lawyer whom Davey consulted was as dumb as the proverbial oyster when spoken to regarding the matter but it was learned from an outside source that the above action was likely to be taken.

James Hardy Charged With Vagrancy

James Hardy was charged before Acting Magistrate Armstrong yesterday morning with vagrancy. His appearance did not bespeak for him the character of a desirable citizen; His clothes were worn thread-bare, boots were of the variety that would stand a good deal of pressure against the earth, and his old faded, brown hat would suggest the appearance of the thoroughbred tramp.

He pleaded not guilty of vagrancy and having no visible means of support (however Constable Adams testified that he had been hanging around the city several days, and in company with several other "Weary Willy" suspects was chased through the western section of the city a day or two ago Constable Adams had also seen Hardy loafing around in the east ward. He was arrested on Tuesday.

Acting Magistrate Armstrong remanded the prisoner until Monday to secure other witnesses of Hardy's suspicious actions.

Power Committee Visit Looks Dam

The city having a proposition from the J. M. Irwin estate, to take over the locks dam at a purchase price of $25,000, the Power Committee were authorized to look into the matter. Accordingly, yesterday morning, this committee, consisting of the mayor, Aldermen Stevenson and Bradburn, in company with Mr. Burnham, the solicitor for the estate, visited the dam. They examined the flow of the water and took its height below and above the dam for the purpose of supplying information to the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission and for preparing their report for the council. The city has already made application to the commission to examine all the water powers in the locality, and this, of course, will be done without cost to the city.

Should the city acquire this dam it is estimated that thereat some 2000 electrical horse power could be developed for manufacturing and other purposes. And the more power the city have under control the better the outlook for securing other industries to ensure a continued growth of this the electric city.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

Old Glory Not Wanted At Ottawa

American Flag Hung for Decorating Purposes Had to be Removed—The British Flag Good Enough for Our Capital

Ottawa, July 24.—The Peterborough firm that is doing the decorating here for the Old Boys' celebration put a huge American flag in front of the city hall. It swung there from a street intersection, but this morning it was removed, and a Union Jack has replaced it. It is felt that when Americans do not place the Union Jack up any too prominently on American streets, Ottawa could hardly be expected to have one that would cover the front of a two-storey building, flying right in front of the municipal buildings. So it was thought wise to make the change. Now the British "Old Glory" is doing duty. In other parts of the city, however, amongst the really magnificent decorations, the Stars and Stripes can be seen occasionally flying with the British and Canadian emblems. No one objects to this, and it but inaugurates a great welcome for the Americans that are coming back to the city of their birth.

There was no trouble nor really formal protesting, but it was thought wisest to make the change. Possibly the same flag may be used elsewhere in connection with the decorating.

Earle Taylor of Peterborough, who fell to the ground while on a telegraph pole doing some decorating, is getting along well at the Protestant Hospital. At noon a nurse said, "He passed a comfortable night, and seems to be out of danger."

Mining Company Applies for Charter

The Kenora Mines Company, with headquarters in this city, have applied for a charter, and there is little doubt but that it will be granted. The company is incorporated at $40,000, and the stockholders and directors are practically all Peterborough men. The company have control of the Wyndigo mine in the Lake of the Woods district.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Public Notice!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough intends, after this notice has been posted up for one month in six of the most public places in the immediate neighborhood of the land hereinafter mentioned and described and published weekly for four successive weeks in the Morning Times Newspaper, being a paper published in the City of Peterborough, to pass a bylaw for opening and establishing the following street in the City of Peterborough and for that purpose to authorize the entering upon taking and using the following land necessary therefor, namely 1. A street sixty-six feet in width as an extension southerly of Aylmer street from Lake street to Westcott street; the land necessary therefor being Lot Number 14 and the easterly sixteen feet of Lot Number 13 on Registered Plan No. 25 for the City of Peterborough; and Lot Number 10 on Registered Plan No. 41 for the said City, and shown on a plan thereof, filed with the City Clerk.

2. AND TAKE NOTICE that the said Council will at the meeting thereof to be held on the third day of September, 1907, at 8 o'clock p.m., hear in person or by counsel or solicitor anyone whose land might be prejudicially affected thereby and who petitions to be heard.

Dated this 16th day of July, 1907.

S. R. ARMSTRONG
Clerk.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards

Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

John E. Redmond Says The People of Ireland

ARE UNITED AND HOPEFUL

The Collapse of The Birrell Bill Was But as a Passing Cloud--A Vigorous Agitation

New York, July 26.—"The collapse of the Birrell Bill was but a passing cloud, and all goes well with Ireland."

John E. Redmond, the Irish leader in the British House of Commons, is optimistic. He declares that in Ireland the people are girding up their loins for a period of renewed and vigorous agitation.

"This winter," he states, will see a Home Rule propaganda carried out in both Ireland and Great Britain on as great a scale as that which marked the intervals between the two Home Rule Bills of 1886 and 1893.

"While with the return to office of the Liberal Government the leaders and rank and file of the Irish parties hardly expected Home Rule, but they did expect an instalment; that is to say, they expected a limited measure, no doubt, but one which so far as it went, would be estimated by trust in the people and would confer upon them real control of a portion at any rate of Irish government.

"Instead of that they were offered a measure which enormously increased the power of the central government authority in the hands of the lord lieutenant in Dublin Castle, and did not trust the people with absolute control of any Irish matter, large or small. Everything the council did, even to the appointment of a junior clerk, was subject to the veto of the lord lieutenant—that is, of Dublin Castle.

GOOD FOR HOME RULE.

"On the whole, I believe what has occurred is good for Home Rule. If the Councils Bill had passed the Commons, most unquestionably it would have been rejected by the lords, and it then would have passed into the program of the Liberal party as its Irish policy.

"Incidentally this great movement will push to the front a number of other causes which have recently sprung into vigorous life in Ireland. A great industrial revival and a great literary revival are on foot. A movement passionate in its intensity for further educational facilities is spreading among all classes of our people.

"The remaining problem in connection with the land, namely, the breaking up of the great grazing ranches and the resettlement of Connaught, is rapidly being solved by the action of the people themselves, who are not content to wait for legislation promised for next session, but who, by somewhat rough and ready weapons, but, I am thankful to say, without outrage or crime, are enforcing the edicts of public opinion. The whole country is full of active, vigorous life, and the depressing effects of the failure of the Councils Bill have almost completely disappeared.

THE VOICE OF DISCONTENT.

"Here and there we hear the voice of discontent and of dissension — when has Ireland, or, for that matter any country, been free from it? Mr. William O'Brien still remains at arm's length from his old colleagues and friends and refuses to re-enter the ranks of a pledge-bound party. A few young men, most of them quite sincere, are calling for the withdrawal of the National party from the House of Commons, because with the importance of youth they chafe at the delays and disappointments and entirely overlook the enormous and steady advances and concessions of the past twenty-five years.

"But speaking of Ireland as a whole, the people, lay and clerical, are united and hopeful and determined. They believe in the old policy of Parnell, a strong agitation at home, a pledge-bound and independent party in parliament, and they have learned in bitter experience that the one calamity greater than any other conceivable is serious disunion in the National ranks. Every one concerned may take it from me there is and there will be no such calamity."

Procured Shotgun and Then Killed His Wife

A Farmer Near Sunderland Shot His Wife While She Lay Beside Her Infant

Sunderland, Ont., July 23.— Adam Lodwick, of Vallentyne, about 4 1-2 miles west of this place, shot and killed his wife early Saturday morning. It seems Lodwick had been in a low state of health during the last few months, and while his wife was in bed with a four-weeks'-old infant in her arms, he procured a shotgun and placed the muzzle almost close to his wife's face and literally blew off the top of her head. Strange to say, the baby was not injured.

T. H. Glendinning, J.P., and County Constable Davidson, of Sunderland, were telephoned for, and on arriving found Lodwick in an unconscious condition, seated in an armchair. Dr Eberhard was sent for and after a few hours Lodwick recovered sufficiently to acknowledge taking the entire contents of a bottle, which the doctor found to be a preparation he had left for the man for his nerves, with which he had been troubled.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr Philip St. John, a highly respected farmer of Vallentyne, and leaves a family of five to mourn her terrible death.

WORKMAN'S PICK MAKES TROUBLE

Superintendent Henderson Takes Quick Action To Relieve Shortage of Water Along Charlotte Street and Its Supply Service

Yesterday afternoon Superintendent Henderson of the local water works department, ably assisted by his lieutenant Mr. Dick Martin, had their work cut out. In the first place, a good part of the aforesaid work was the satisfactory answering of all kinds of questions asked by consumers along Charlotte street.

It seems that during the operations in force replacing the old wooden bridge on Charlotte street, by a modern and up-to-date concrete structure, a workman, yesterday morning incidentally thrust the steel point of his pick through the ten-inch water main running from east to western distributing points on Charlotte street. At once the water flew in all directions. Harry Evans, the street commissioner, in charge of the bridge operations, quickly realizing the trouble his gang of men would have and foreseeing the difficulty water consumers would experience, had one of his men plug the hole in the main as quickly and as well as possible. This temporary plug however would not work satisfactorily owing to the immense pressure of the passing water. After a time a telephone message was sent to Mr. Henderson, who, with his lieutenant and all round good water works expert, Dick Martin, were soon on the spot. A gang of the water works men were at once placed on the job and a hole was bored round the pick puncture. When this was accomplished and a thread bored therein, a plug was inserted. This stopped the escape and provided nearby residents with water.

The Strikebreakers Are Living In Clover

Machinists Brought In at Fitchburg, Mass., are in Luxurious Quarters

Fitchburg, Mass., July 25.—Strikebreakers who have been brought here in an attempt to break the strike of 300 machinists are living in clover. They are quartered in the fifty-thousand-dollar Fitchburg Athletic Club gymnasium and have all manner of luxuries. The kitchen is presided over by a French chef. They have the free run of the place, and at night the billiard and card rooms are in constant use by them.

The striking machinists want better pay and shorter hours. The master machinists have determined to resist the demands.

A Hero In A Flooded Sewer

Forman Saves The Lives of His Forty Workmen at New York

New York, July 25.—Forty laborers ran, swam and fought for their lives when the new sewer in West 46th street was flooded last night and but for the coolness and determination of Foreman Ben Connors all must have perished.

The men were working in the tube, which is eight feet in diameter, a block in length and 40 feet below the surface.

Connors, swinging a club, ordered them to form four abreast and march. Some marched but more swam, as by that time the water had reached the necks of the taller, while those of lesser height had been swept from their feet. One by one they gained the shaft and climbed the ladder to the street. Connors was the last to leave the sewer and when he did he rose from six feet of water.

An Executioner Is Now Wanted

French Jury has Condemned to Death Cruel Murderer of a Little Girl

Paris, July 25.—In spite of the fact that the use of the guillotine in France was suppressed two years ago by the refusal of parliament to continue the appropriation for a public executioner, a jury in this city yesterday condemned to death a man named Soleilhant for the murder of a little girl under atrocious circumstances.

The grewsome details of this case have been filling the papers for months past, and have caused such a degree of public indignation that parliament postponed final action on the bill to abolish the death penalty in France. But in spite of the circumstances of the case, President Fallieres, in view of the fact that there is no public executor, probably will have to commute the sentence to hard labor for life.

Murder Of A Rich Recluse

Found Dead in his House With Eight Stab Wounds

Amsterdam, N.Y., July 25.—William E. McLachlan, a recluse living on a small farm in Cranes Hollow, a few miles from this city, was found lying dead on the floor of his home by a neighbor, with eight stab wounds in his body, three of which had reached vital parts.

McLachlan, who was estimated to be worth $75,000, lived alone in a miserly way and made something of an income from repairing clocks and guns. Two women, who had a clock to be repaired, but who were unable to get any response to their calls at the McLachlan home, summoned a neighbor, who entered the house and there discovered McLachlan lying in a pool of blood. There were indications of a conflict.

McLachlan was eccentric, and for a long time was a justice of the peace. His conduct of the office and frequent disputes with residents of the neighborhood aroused considerable enmity against him, with the result that he had few friends and no associates, yet so far as the authorities know, no one was sufficiently bitter toward him to murder him.

Accident To The Steamer Otonabee

Yesterday afternoon as the steamer Otonabee was about to leave Idyl Wyld on her return trip, the spindle of a two-inch valve connecting the water feed pipe with the boiler blew out, causing a panic amongst the passengers, owing to escaping steam from the boiler. The passengers rushed ashore and in a short time the force of steam in the boiler was exhausted—when the cause of the trouble was located. There was no actual danger at any time, except from the panic caused by the escaping steam.

The passengers were at once transferred to the steamer Water Lily, which made the return trip, arriving home shortly after eleven o'clock.

The boiler is known as a Thornycroft water tube boiler, and is one of the best marine boilers made. The boiler and connections were recently put under a test of about 400 pounds to the square inch by the government inspector.

There was only about 125 pounds pressure at the time of the accident. Capt. White and Engineer Lorden stated to The Times last night that there was no defect—not in the boiler, because that is perfect—but apparently in the brass valve attached to the water feed pipe. They are at a loss to account for this valve blowing out under so comparatively light a pressure, as it was an experience they never encountered or heard of before.

The damage was repaired in an hour or two, the steamer arriving home a couple of hours after the Water Lily.

A new valve will be placed in position this morning, and every precaution taken so that there will be no possibility of any further trouble. The steamer will leave as usual on her trip at 8.45 this morning.

We might add, for the information of those who were on board at the time, that the accident is one that might have occurred to any steamer. The boat is one of the steamboat and safest on our inland waters. The machinery is of the very best, and money can buy, the company having spared no expense in this respect. The boiler alone cost about $5000, while the engines and equipment is also of the highest grade. The public, therefore, need have no fear in regard to the absolute safety of the steamer.

The score and the winner of each game must be certified to by an umpire. Players must arrange for an umpire, unless mutually agreed to play without such an official.

Games in the different rounds not played within the time specified above will be void.

Every player on the club is asked to turn out and play the games scheduled. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners.

A temporary secretary will be elected to fill that position while the regular secretary, Miss Birdie Thompson, is a moment in the Old Country. Scores must be handed in to the acting-secretary as soon after the games are played, as possible.

It would be well if each member of the club kept a copy of the schedule as it appears here.

$300,000 FIRE AT THE CAPITAL

The Edwards Lumber Mills Destroyed---Foley's Hotel, No. 6 Fire Station and the Ottawa Car Sheds Were Also Burned

Ottawa, July 26.—Now [illegible] lumber were destroyed the portion of Ottawa city [illegible] logs situated at in the direction of [illegible] at an early hour yesterday morning visited by the most destructive fire which has occurred in Ottawa since the burning of the Gilmour Hotel last autumn.

DISCOVERED AT 5.40 A.M.

The fire was discovered at 5.40 a.m. in the machinery hall of the W. C. Edwards lumber mills on Sussex street by the night watchman and before they were under control at 9 o'clock damage was done to the extent of $300,000.

For a time it was feared that all of New Edinburgh and Lower Town would be destroyed, and such would probably have been the fate of these sections of the city had the flames once got a start in the large wood yards in the vicinity of the Edwards mills.

THE BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

A strong wind was prevailing from the northeast, which saved the main portion of the W. C. Edwards mills, located on the west side of the Rideau River, but the machinery and planing department, the sash and door factory, the library bureau and [illegible] CAR SHEDS BURNED.

The fire also wiped out No. 6 fire station, Blackburn's [illegible] warehouse, the W. C. Edwards club rooms, Foley's hotel and Charlie Neate's grocery establishment, and partially destroyed the residences of Mr. Russell Blackburn, Miss Juliette Grey, Mr. Arthur Gilbault, Dr. K. McLaurin and the Ottawa car sheds.

LOSS $300,000.

Apart from the damage sustained by the W. C. Edwards Company, the loss is estimated at $50,000, or a total loss of $300,000. The insurance is about $200,000 divided among seven or eight companies.

LIGHTNING THE CAUSE.

Two hundred and fifty men are out of work as a result of the fire.

Mr. Gordon Edwards, manager of the Edwards interests, says that the destroyed structure will be rebuilt. He is of the opinion that the fire was caused by lightning.

Big Crowds at St. Anne's

Owing to the excitement created by the exodus from Peterborough to St. Anne de Beaupre, it is of interest to learn how many have gone to that sacred shrine this year.

The Grand Trunk acknowledges an increase of thirty per cent. in the number carried. Last year the number of pilgrims to the village shrine on the banks of the St. Lawrence numbered nearly 200,000. This year the visitors will nearly total a quarter of a million.

The Canadian Pacific gives as the full number carried over their system to the shrine 14,000. Between 5,000 and 6,000 were from the city of Montreal. It is expected that before the close of the season the total will aggregate 22,000.

Woman Hanged At Sunrise

Moscow, July 26.—With the observance of the greatest privacy Madame Fronskaia, who on March last attempted to assassinate General Rikhmont, the ex-chief of police, and who is duly on record as an attempt to murder the director of the political prison here, committing [illegible] pistol which was given mysteriously smuggled into her cell, was hanged in this city at sunrise yesterday.

The authorities made every effort during the past fortnight to persuade the woman to plead for the mercy of the emperor, but this she resolutely refused to do.

This is the first time a woman has been executed in Russia since Anna Benedictova was put to death at Cronstadt last October for complicity in a plot to blow up a public building.

Church Register Lost Her Case

Kingston, July 26.—The charge of abortion laid against Joseph McCormick [illegible] but yesterday morning in the police court, where a criminal charge had been laid.

The evidence went to show that the accusing young woman, Miss Dougherty, was 23 years of age, though she wore vigorously that she was but nineteen. The document from the Roman Catholic church register, produced by the defendant, could not be gainsaid. The magistrate in dismissing the case spoke of the increase of perjury apparent in criminal cases.

Japs Raid the Rookeries

Victoria, B.C., July 26.—News has been brought by the steamship Empress of China of a fatal attempt by Japanese seamen to land upon Island where the Russian [illegible] quarantined. A Japanese schooner from [illegible] number of the latter [illegible] armed with rifles.

When part of the [illegible] was scaling seals the [illegible] opened fire. The Japanese returned fire, took to their boats and were taken on board their vessel, leaving [illegible] killed and several wounded.

Was Seized With Cramp

Brockville, Ont., July 26.—Claude, the second son of Charles Boyd of Duncan was seized with cramps while bathing in Delta pond, and was drowned. Wade, another brother, made a plucky attempt at rescue.

"Molly Darling" Author Is Dead

Colonel Hays, of Louisville, who said He Wrote "Dixie Land

Louisville, Ky., July 26.—Colonel Will S. Hays, the veteran river editor of the "Courier-Journal," song writer and poet, died at his home here yesterday of vertigo, caused by a stroke of paralysis suffered in the Iroquois Theatre fire in Chicago, December 30, 1903. He was 70 years of age.

Col. Hays always claimed the authorship of the original words of "Dixie," and that he was responsible for the arrangement of the music. His version of "Dixie" was written at the outbreak of the civil war, but the words were considered so seditious that the writer was arrested and compelled to change them. By that time it is said, Dan Emmett, the minstrel, had written his song, and his publisher had it copyrighted.

Colonel Hays most famous song was "Molly Darling," the sales of which reached two million copies in Europe and America. Among his other songs were "Keep in de middle ob de road," "The old log cabin in the lane," and "Signal bells at sea."

Miners Invade Two U. S. Towns

Federation Men Promptly Dealt With At Western Mesaba

Duluth, Minn., July 26.—Mass meetings were the rule of the Mesaba Range yesterday to open the strike situation. At Hovey and Coleraine, on the western Mesabi, a crowd of Western Federation miners invaded the two towns and were promptly bundled into wagons and were driven into Grand Rapids, with the promise that if they returned it would be made uncomfortable for them.

The strikers at first directed their movements against the United States Steel Corporation alone, but now the miners at the independent mines have been told to lay down their tools. This they did in many instances. The United States mines on the Vermillion range are working as usual, but early yesterday notices were posted at all of them ordering the men to quit work.

At Eveleth three thousand strikers marched to the various properties in the vicinity, and the result was a complete shut down.

Japan Retains The Coal

Vancouver, B.C., July 26.—According to foreign naval officers who arrived from the Orient on the Empress of China on Wednesday night on their way to England from the China station, the Japanese government has placed an embargo on export of coal from Japan.

Adverting to [illegible] article in yesterday's Times regarding [illegible] of Peterborough [illegible] that this officer arrived in Toronto Wednesday night and returned on the 7.55 a.m. train yesterday, bringing with him Wm. Cartmill, who was arrested at Lambton on Tuesday by County Constable Burns. Cartmill is wanted in connection with the Moss and Henry case, in which complicities to defraud [illegible] alleged. Henry and he [illegible] to have appeared to defraud Moss. Henry escaped from [illegible] Richmond, and negotiated the [illegible] to Moss, alleging that it contained [illegible] of gold and some of [illegible] Cartmill is said to have put his signature and seal to certain documents which were deposited as security in the deal, and in this way became involved in the matter.

Bad Boys At Sherbrook Street Wharf

Police Should Stop Naked Bathing and Bad Language

[illegible] young man employed at [illegible] stopped a Times representative and complained that as he was pedalling a young lady past the old wharf on Sherbrook street that a number of boys, from ten to eighteen years of age, were bathing at that spot. Some of them were clad in short trunks but some of them [illegible] on the shore were clad in only the thin atmosphere surrounding them. Now, this kind of garb is too transparent to authorize either men, women or children in bathing in public, when people travelling by water are compelled to pass near by.

Again, this indignant handler of "Filthy Lucre" found fully as much fault with the loudly and frequently expressed terms of filth and blasphemy perfectly and too often heard by his friend. It is now up to the police to see that such blackguard conduct, in so prominent a spot is stopped up short.

Snowshoes In The Month of July

The Times Man Got Information as to Anachronons Load

Yesterday afternoon a scene was in evidence at the corner of Charlotte and George streets, that baffled human comprehension or belief. A man passed down Charlotte street towards the G.T.R. station loaded with (incidentally a jag) and a pair of snow shoes. Such a sight was too much for the Times representative who saw it. He, at once, tackled the carrier of these midwinter implements and, after due [illegible] gies, asked, "Why and wherefore." The jagged one explained that he was not on a North Pole expedition, but simply going out to Sponiel River with Mr. Jim. Lang's gang. Along with him of the snow shoes, were several others, some 15 or 20 of them, some of whom carried a jag and all of them bags, bundles, sacks and "such," as used by people making an honest living in the bush.

Bad Results From A Spider's Bite

Local Englishman Has His Arm Terribly Swelled

A young Englishman, who some years ago was employed at the American Cereal Works, but now with the Cartridge Company, is laid up with an arm swelled much above normal size. By request we withhold the individual's name.

It seems that a few nights ago he was awakened, whilst just dozing off to sleep by a tickling sensation on his right arm. He gave a start on seeing a large black spider running along the first or lower part of the arm. As he went to knock off the unwelcome intruder from his person, he felt a sudden bite or sting, and the spider ran away so quickly that its life was saved. The next day the Englishman, who had almost forgotten the occurrence, saw what looked like a unusually bite on his arm. In a day or two later the bite gradually showed signs of gas gathering and soon resembled a terrific abscess. The spot in question has swelled to almost the size of a hen's egg. It is hardly necessary to state that the young man is prevented from attending to his work. The main thing to be hoped for is that the arm may escape a doctor's scalpel and saw.

TAKE A RECORD

See How Many Friends Are Hurt By Coffee

It would be just as reasonable for a temperance advocate to drink a little diluted whiskey as to drink coffee, for one is [illegible] as the other, and physicians in the use of coffee [illegible] a variety of chronic diseases, notorious among which are dyspepsia, heart palpitation, extremely heart failure, frequent constipation, kidney troubles, [illegible] and trembling condition of the nerves.

There are only a few of the many variety of diseases [illegible] from an undermined nervous system, caused by the persistent daily use of the drug, caffeine, which is the active principle of coffee. Another bit of prime facie evidence about coffee is that the victims of the habit find great difficulty in giving it up.

They will solemnly pledge to themselves day after day that they will abandon the use of it when they know that it is undermining their days, but nothing after morning they fall, until at last they begin to despise themselves for their lack of self control.

Any one interested in this subject could be greatly surprised to make a systematic inquiry among prominent [illegible] workers. There are hundreds of thousands of our most prominent people [illegible] have abandoned coffee, Hiawatha and are using Postum Food Coffee in its place and for the most exacting [illegible] in the world. Many of them testify that ill health, nervous prostration [illegible] quite frequent difficulty to work, [illegible] times past, pushed them back [illegible] out of their proper standing in life, which they have been able to gain by the use of good health, strong nerves, and steady brains, since coffee has been thrown out and Postum put in its place.

"There's a Reason." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. It has been called "a health classic" by some physicians.

About Female Ailments

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated.

Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female disease, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better off the system is without the poisonous accummulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good?

Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes today; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Gravels, Port Au Port, Newfoundland; "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was 'female trouble' and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so.

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

"WHITE LIES"

Theologically a lie is never defensible. According to the inflexible standard of the Christian religion it is in every conceivable case a sin to tell a lie; although the heinousness of the sin may vary according to the malignity of the falsehood.

To admit that a lie is ever justifiable as a matter of principle is to adopt the doctrine that the end justifies the means; a doctrine that we all affect to abhor as a precept, although for most of the population of Christendom it is the unacknowledged working rule of morality.

While society affirms outright as the only true principle the commandment against falsehood as it does the commandment against sexual immorality, and does not explicitly admit that there may be any exceptions to the flat prohibition, society, nevertheless, in the case of lying, as in the case of sexual immorality, tacitly and illogically concede the privilege of breaking the rule within a certain latitude.

Theoretically, it is always wrong, always dishonorable, for a man to tell a lie; but, in practice, society not only tolerates a very wide variety of lying, but in at least one case seems to bind men in honor to "lie like a gentleman."

In many respects, moreover, society has become altogether too lenient toward the liar. Not only is a man expected to "lie like a gentleman" to save a woman's good name, but he is expected to "lie like a gentleman" merely to avoid hurting some person's feelings or as an ordinary matter of politeness. Apart altogether from perjury to protect a woman, the amount of lying that a modern gentleman is required to do would stagger Ananias.

Mendacity appears to be the peculiar vice of the age. It pervades commerce, politics and society. The merchant lies in his advertisement and in praising his goods, the politician lies to his constituents, the lawyer to his juries, the physician to his patients; and all of us, men and women, rich and poor, high and low, utter without a scruple multitudes of these social falsehoods which we euphemistically call "white lies."

We have become a race of expert and unblushing liars. We lie coolly, we lie impudently to one another, even when the man who tells the lie knows that the one to whom he tells it knows him to be lying. So inveterate is the habit of mendacity in modern society that people are no longer ashamed of it. To be caught in a "white lie"—and to an easy conscience all lies are white unless they are of the profoundest black—does not cause the modern man or woman an

Yet, so strong is the tradition and so slavish are we to custom in matters of honor and etiquette, that society still requires a gentleman to strike a person that gives him the lie, even when the gentleman thus insulted by being called a liar has in fact been lying. The circumstance that the gentleman accused of lying may happen to be guilty, as charged, does not in any manner affect his obligation, as a man of honor, to resent the accusation instantly with a blow. We are an amusing generation.

PAPA IS THE BESTEST

(Published by request.)

I like to play with Cousin Frank and Willie Watson, too;
And wouldn't I be glad if I could do what they can do!
My Cousin Frank can run as fast almost as any man,
And very few can jump as high as Willie Watson can.
But I can't jump the way they do or hardly run at all,
Because the nurse, when I was just a baby, let me fall.

I can't go out and hitch when sleighs are goin' down the street,
For boys can't do those things unless they're lively on their feet;
But nearly every day or so when snow is on the ground
My papa puts me on my sled and takes me all around,
And prances like a horse, and builds me snow men out of snow,
And all the time my papa he's the best-boy I know.

I like to play with other boys, they're all so kind to me,
And all the toys they get they bring around for me to see;
And one time when a boy who lives down by the railroad track
Came past and called me names and said I dassen't sass him back,
But when he saw I couldn't walk it seemed to make him sad
And then he tried to give me all the marbles that he had.

But when it's Sunday morning that's the best of all the days,
Because my papa always stays at home with me and plays,
And nearly every game we have it happens that I beat,
And he pretends he's angry, then, and says he thinks I cheat;
You couldn't hardly help but see he never means it, though,
And papa he's the bestest boy of all the boys I know.

Doukhobors May Remove to Alberta

Winnipeg, July 25.—Will the Doukhobors of Saskatchewan remove to Alberta and enter upon the work of the production of beet sugar, in which the Mormons are largely engaged, was the question raised by the arrival in the city of a committee of that community, headed by Peter Verigin.

The travellers were accompanied by C. W. Speers, colonization agent of the Dominion Government, and they had just completed a trip through a portion of Southern Alberta, where they inspected lands especially in the vicinity of Lethbridge and Raymond. In the west they also made most careful inquiry into the various processes connected with the extraction of sugar from the sugar beet and were through the plants which have been established by the Mormon settlers. Lands are being offered to the Doukhobors at low rates in the States of Washington, Oregon and Montana, but the leaders of the community have paid little attention to these offers, owing to the fact that there were now thousands of people coming into Canada from the United States, who would certainly never come to Canada if good lands were available in that country.

WOMAN DIES OF FRIGHT

Bethel, Ohio., July 25.—Mrs. Fanny Mercier died early yesterday morning from an attack of heart disease brought on by sudden fright, when the huge head of an elephant loomed up during a flash of lightning under a covered bridge Tuesday night.

A circus was in town, and just before the show ended a thunderstorm ripped some of the canvas and knocked a few of the tent poles down. A great many of the spectators sought refuge from the downpour under the covered bridge, and among them was Mrs. Mercier, who was in an automobile with some friends.

The circus men started the elephants and camels for the train as soon as the spectators left the grounds, and the line of animals filed into the bridge unseen by many of the people who sought refuge there. The biggest elephant of the herd found the automobile in front of him, and putting his head against it, pushed it to one side to make a passage for himself.

The occupants of the machine did not know what was happening until a glare of lightning dispelled the gloom and when Mrs. Mercier saw the head of the elephant she gave a scream and fainted. Two physicians attended her during the night, but she did not recover consciousness.

Camden, N.J., July 23.—Following a quarrel, Mrs. Alice Bruce, aged 18 years, a bride of several weeks, was shot and killed at her home here yesterday by her husband, Frederick Bruce, who then turned the revolver upon himself and inflicted probably fatal injuries.

Bruce quarreled with his wife because she remained away from home until late at night without his consent.

Army of Workmen Painting Largest Ships

London, July 25.—Under ordinary circumstances the ships of the largest and most carefully managed lines are painted at the end of every voyage. Every time a Cunarder, for instance, arrives in port she is repainted. This is no light task, for every inch of the vessel's outside area above the water line—sides, deck works and funnels—from stem to stern is carefully gone over by an army of painters. The area thus covered is about two and a half acres.

Curiously enough, the funnels are regarded as the most important item of the whole undertaking, as these great pipes are susceptible to injury and must be carefully handled. On no account is any hammering or pounding allowed, and the men work from staggings suspended from a rail on the top of the mouth of the huge funnel. The old paint and dirt are carefully scraped and scaled off before the actual painting begins.

There are now 120 large passenger ships constantly crossing the Atlantic. Assuming that the average area of each ship is two and a quarter acres, and that each vessel is painted, say, ten times in one season, we have an area to be covered with paint of 2,700 acres every year. Such a job, requiring the services of nearly a hundred men working steadily, would cost about £50,000. Although this seems an immense sum to spend upon paint alone, it is essential to keep the vessels in spick-and-span condition.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by all dealers.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms —the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Only to take me. It may be late when I come away—if a good many should ask me to dance for once. Of course I could come home alone. But Joe Louden is going to sort of hang around outside, and he'll meet me at the gate and see me safe home."

"Oh!" he exclaimed blankly.

"Isn't it all right?"

"I think I'd better come for you," he answered gently. "The truth is, I—I think you'd better not be with Joe Louden a great deal."

"Why?"

"Well, he doesn't seem a vicious boy to me, but I'm afraid he's getting rather a bad name, my dear."

"He's not getting one," she said gravely. "He's already got one. He's

"If I could have got to Paris for just one month!"

had a bad name in Canaan for a long while. It grew in the first place out of shabbiness and mischief, but it did grow, and if people keep on giving him a bad name the time will come when he'll live up to it. He's not any worse than I am, and I guess my own name isn't too good—for a girl. And yet, so far, there's nothing against him except his bad name."

"I'm afraid there is," said Roger. "It doesn't look very well for a young man of his age to be doing no better than delivering papers."

"It gives him time to study law," she answered quickly. "If he clerked all day in a store he couldn't."

"I don't know he was studying sow. I thought I'd heard that he was in a lawyer's office for a few weeks last year and was turned out for setting fire to it with a pipe."

"It was an accident," she interposed. "But some pretty important papers were burned, and after that none of the other lawyers would have him."

"He's not in an office," she admitted. "I didn't mean that. But he studies a great deal. He goes to the courts all the time they're in session, and he's bought some books of his own."

"Well, perhaps," he assented, "but they say he gambles and drinks and that last week Judge Pike threatened to have him arrested for throwing dice with some negroes behind the judge's stable."

"What of it? I'm about the only nice person in town that will have anything to do with him—and nobody except you thinks I'm very nice!"

"Ariel! Ariel!"

"I know all about his gambling with darkies," she continued excitedly, her voice rising, "and I know that he goes to saloons and that he's an intimate friend of half the riffraff in town. And I know the reason for it, too, because he's told me. He wants to know them, to understand them, and he says some day they'll make him a power, and then he can help them!"

The old man laughed helplessly. "But I can't let him bring you home, my dear."

She came to him slowly and laid her hands upon his shoulders. Grandfather and granddaughter were nearly of the same height, and she looked squarely into his eyes. "Then you must say it is because you want to come for me, not because I mustn't come with Joe."

"But I think it is a little because you mustn't come with Joe," he answered, "especially from the Pikes'. Don't you see that it mightn't be well for Joe himself if the judge should happen to see him? I understand he warned the boy to keep away from the neighborhood entirely or he would have him locked up for dice throwing. The judge is a very influential man, you know, and as determined in matters like this as he is irritable."

"Oh, if you put it on that ground," the girl replied, her eyes softening, "I think you'd better come for me yourself."

"Very well, I put it on that ground," he returned, smiling upon her.

"Then I'll send Joe word and get supper," she said, kissing him.

It was the supper hour not only for them, but everywhere in Canaan, and the cold air of the streets bore up and down and around corners the smell of wiings frying. The dining room windows of all the houses threw bright patches on the snow of the side yards. The windows of other rooms, except those of the kitchens, were dark, for the rule of the place was Puritanical in thrift, as in all things, and the good housekeepers disputed every record of the season with unhappy gas collections.

Those unsatisfied housekeepers in town than Mrs. Louden, nor a thriftier, but hers was one of the few houses in Canaan that evening which showed bright lights in the front rooms while the family were at supper. It was proof of the agitation caused by the arrival of Eugene that she forgot to turn out the gas in her parlor and in the chamber she called a library on her way to the evening meal.

Joe escaped as soon as he could, though not before the count of his later sins had been set before Eugene in detail, in mass and in all of their depth, breadth and thickness. His father spoke but once after nodding heavily to confirm all points of Mrs. Louden's recital.

"You better use any influence you've got with your brother," he said to Eugene, "to make him come to time. I can't do anything with him. If he gets in trouble, he needn't come to me! I'll never help him again. I'm tired of it!"

Joe's movements throughout the earlier part of that evening are of uncertain report. It is known that he made a partial payment of 45 cents at a secondhand book store for a number of volumes, "Grimdstaff on Torts" and some others, which he had negotiated on the installment system. It is also believed that he won 28 cents playing seven-up in the little room behind Louis Einbach's bar, but these things are of little import compared to the established fact that at 11 o'clock he was one of the ball guests at the Pike mansion. He took no active part in the festivities, nor was he one of the dancers. His was, on the contrary, the role of a quiet observer. He lay stretched at full length upon the floor of the inclosed porch—one of the strips of canvas was later found to have been loosened—wedged between the outer railing and a row of palms in green tubs.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is trenting the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoops Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restoratives are sold by all dealers.

A TOWN WITHOUT MEN

Budapest, July 25.—The lure of the United States and Canada as lands of opportunity and wealth to the people of Hungary has brought about a curious state of affairs in the little village of Kerisova, near Lugos, that at the last census had a population of 3,500 souls. One by one the male residents felt the call, and emigrated in batches until the mayor was the only adult male to remain by the village. Finally he also succumbed to the reports of good wages and golden chances in America. As a result of this exodus of males the women of Kerisova have just elected a young woman to the position of mayor, and other female residents have been elected to fill the remainder of the municipal offices. The statutes in Hungary provide that no female shall hold public office.

Revolvers in Strike

Montreal, July 25.—Striking steel workers seem to have adopted methods of intimidation new in Canadian labor troubles. In one instance a revolver was flourished to prevent men from going to the aid of their foreman who was being brutally assaulted. In another the gunmen ran was removed from a derrick, with the result that the boom slapped from its place, and it was only by rare good fortune that the workmen nearby escaped serious injury.

The local members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers have been on strike for two weeks, and it is asserted that sympathizers of these men have been using unlawful means to aid their cause.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in fact, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these Nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

Write for our Prospectus. Investigate to-day—to-morrow may be too late.

WEAK WOMEN READ BELOW

One woman in three is struggling against weakness.

Are you one of the weak ones?

Not exactly sick, but oh, how miserable!

You discharge your daily duties, but who can measure the burden, the trial?

Talk of bravery, where find a finer spirit than among half-sick women, fighting, struggling to do their duty against terrible odds—and they never give up until they drop.

If you could put a drop of blood under the microscope the cause would be revealed.

You would find the blood thin and watery, red cells far too few, the carrier of life very greatly reduced in vitality, and this means slow death.

Ferrozone cures weakness by fortifying both appetite and digestion, and making plenty of blood.

Ferrozone cures weakness by supplying nutriment and building material, by giving the body the constituents it requires for restoring tired organs.

It gives vim, vigor and endurance.

Ferrozone is a tissue builder.

It adds force to all the vital functions—the stomach, liver, kidneys.

Ferrozone gives sound sleep, sound digestion, promotes perfect removal of all the body wastes.

Ferrozone makes the body glow with health.

Any weak, pale or sickly woman that Ferrozone won't cure—why she must be hopeless. Wonderful power in Ferrozone, wonderful cures it makes, and this you can prove by trying it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Sugar Beet Company Pays Up

Now that the Peterborough Sugar Beet Co., matters have been definitely settled, cheques were issued yesterday to all creditors of the company for the full amount of their accounts with interest from Jan. 1st, 1904. The total amount of the claims is $22,830, and the creditors, who once thought their accounts were no good, are now rejoicing.

Local People For the Falls

Yesterday some sixty local citizens left yesterday morning on the Durham Old Boys' excursion to Niagara Falls. The train started from Lindsay and passed through Peterborough shortly after five o'clock. It consisted of fourteen coaches and it was expected that big crowds would be taken on at Millbrook, Port Hope and other stations to the south.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Rev. Dr. Marsh Gets Good Shots

—Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, succeeded in getting six excellent photographs of the moon during the eclipse Wednesday night. The first photograph was taken at 10.9, the exposure being 15 secs.; the second at 10.25, exposure 15 secs.; third at 10.48, exposure, 47 secs.; fourth at 11.22, exposure 40 secs.; fifth at 11.53, exposure 47 secs.; sixth at 12.23, exposure 17 secs. The eclipse was at its height at 11.22, when the fourth photograph was taken.

Another Case of Naked Bathers

Complaints were made by those on the steamer Otonabee on the trip to Burleigh Falls Wednesday. When the steamer was making the turn around Burnham's point, there were many men and boys in swimming, and very few of them had bathing suits on. Information was furnished the police force, and P. C. Adams noted yesterday that he would watch the river and endeavor to bring some of these indecent exposers before the magistrate.

Local Men Go A Fishing

Yesterday afternoon the Snodelade Club took an outing. They went out about three p.m. to dam No. 3, in every kind of conveyances from bicycles, auto-mobiles to Shanks's mare. On arrival the first question asked, as the various members met, was, "Say, who's got the corkscrew?" It might be mentioned incidentally that the last outing of this club was held a week ago, and resulted in the River Otonabee being depleted of 24 fine bass and some three muskinonge. This statement however is not given under bonds as to veracity. The chef of the party whilst not a professional and whose name is Barthur Lade, is a "corker." He got out the frying pan, in preparation for cooking the fish to be caught. As the active diciples of St. Peter approached the resting place, having sundry burdens, Mr. Lade put the butter into the frying pan and placed it above the fire. One of the fishers noticing this, slipped behind him and threw three frogs, caught for bait, into the pan. When Mr. Lade saw these in the pan he took a sudden step to the rear and remarked, "You fellows think you're mighty smart, but I don't cook frogs' legs with the head and body attached."

Mark St. Parsonage Improvements

Important and permanent improvements are to be inaugurated at the Mark street church parsonage. A new pavement has been put down on the street in front of the church and as it is outside the tree line it is necessary that the walks leading to the church and the parsonage be added. The fence between the church and the pastor's residence will also be taken down and the lawn surrounding the premises fixed up generally.

Miss Thompson's Success Appreciated

When it became known aboard the steamer Otonabee, Tuesday morning that Miss Birdie Thompson had attained second place in this district, in the Toronto World's free trip to London, there was much enthusiasm. Her brother who was on the steamer, was the recipient of much and hearty congratulation. We are pleased that a Peterborough girl should have made a very close run for first place and hope that Miss Thompson will thoroughly enjoy her outing to the world's metropolis.

Honor For Mr. Fred Roy

Mr. Fred Roy of this city, has been elected third vice president of the Canadian Photographers' Association during their annual meet in Toronto. The president elected is Mr. A. M. Cunningham of Hamilton. Mr. Roy's many friends, whilst congratulating him on being elected to this important office can only regret that his acknowledged abilities, and as the delegate from Peterborough, did not pull a riper plum. However, the Roy family are well able to not only satisfy the public by good work, but to look after themselves. Next year there will be an upward step.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, that, through them, the whole system is built up. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, but even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

—Last night the Review cup was presented to the West End Baseball champions.

Mr. Soden a Generous Employer

It is said that Mr. R. J. Soden, the George street bookseller, has grown 2 ft. 2 inches since Miss Birdie Thompson, of his employ, won out so well in the World's trip to England competition. Mr. Soden was one of the hardest workers, and most ardent backers of, his employe. The Times yesterday got it on good authority that Mr. Soden has arranged to pay Miss Thompson full salary during her absence in London and Paris. It is such reciprocity of interest between employer and employed that makes the wheels of trade turn without friction and with good results to each concerned.

The Times Is Applauded

Ratepayer Pleased That The Lights At Victoria Park Are Lit

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I am glad to notice that since your dast calling attention to the disgraceful inattention paid to Victoria Park, so that the lights there were out two or three nights a week, this trouble and danger to the women and girls of this city have been eliminated. The Times seems to be the only paper in Peterborough that has taken the trouble or had the moral courage to place the danger involving our girls by the lights being out at this park, in plain English before the public and you deserve all credit for your acts in this connection. I chappened to learn on good authority that P. C. Newhall this week has had one or two watching the park at night so as to ascertain whom it has been that have turned the lights out at the park. Should this officer find out who has thus been making a place, of possible public pleasure into a danger spot for respectable women, I hope your paper will give him all credit and that the magistrate will impose such sentences on any persons detected that will effectually deter others from interfering with the rights and privileges of the public.

Yours truly,

RATEPAYER.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

HUMBER BAY WATERS CLAIMED THE LIVES OF NINE YOUNG MEN

Ten Residents of Toronto Junction, Overloading a Cranky Gasoline Boat Caught in the Storm of the Early Morning--The Craft Upset By a Squall--Only One Swam Ashore--Singing Suddenly Changed to Cries for Help--Two Brothers Among The Lost.

Toronto July 26.—Ten young men overloading an eighteen-foot gasoline launch, a midnight storm, a vain fight with the furious elements in pitchy darkness; for nine, death; for one, an escape almost miraculous—and Humber Bay awoke to the morning sun. But in Toronto Junction there was wrecking and sorrow for the nine who would not return. The waters had claimed their fee.

Ten young men from the Junction left Humber's Point at 12.30 yesterday morning, having waited there that late so as to escape an evening storm. They were homeward bound for Humber River, where their craft was usually anchored. The night was dark, but the storm was apparently past.

Singing and making merry, they neared their destination. The people on shore heard them—then their cries turned to shouts of terror, for the wind rose up, and a storm came. The rain poured down upon them. They cried for help, but no one was nigh.

Then their engine suddenly stopped. It was a cranky engine and again and again it had caused laughter at the Humber by its noisy workings, and frequent sulkings. This time it stopped for good.

The boat was home-made, the work of two of the young men, Daly and Irvine, whose combined names gave it the title of "Divine." It was not fitted for heavy seas. It was overloaded. Its engine was "dead." Meanwhile the waves grew higher, and the storm did not cease.

Nobody could tell with accuracy how far from shore the little boat upset. It was somewhere east of the Bolt Works, for the launch was finally found beneath a willow at that point. The dads were upset into the lake. Only one escaped. The dead body of another was found by a policeman beside the stranded craft. He was half buried in the sand. The coat of still another floated in the water nearby. Indeed, the accident may have happened quite close to the shore.

It was George Shields who escaped. In the night and the storm he managed to cling to the boat, and floated inshore with it until his feet touched land. Then he struggled forward, battling against the waters. He reached the shore.

The boy—for he is only nineteen years of age, and the second youngest of the party—was number almost unconscious, after his prolonged struggle for life amid the raging waves. He stood upon the beach in shivering terror, looking in vain for his comrades. He believed he was the last to land. He thought they were already safe. He waited in vain. Covered with sand, drenched through and through with water, he was in a pitiable condition. A little longer, and the watchers would have found him, but he finally crept off to his home. He got there—about two miles—and how he did it he cannot tell. He was so weak when he arrived that he could tell nothing. He said his companions were drowned, and then he fell into a deep sleep. It was four o'clock when he got home. It was about 12.05 when the storm came up. Dundin, whose body was found near the upturned launch, had a watch on him which had stopped at 3.12, likely a minute or so after the disaster.

Several people on shore had heard the shouting of the young men, and finally their cries for help. But shouting is a common thing on Humber Bay at night. It was not until the storm was over, and a policeman found poor Dundin's body, that it was plain how terrible had been the night's work. Even then, the catastrophe was not known in its fullness. Only two or three had left the Humber on the but trip, and it was believed that only four, at the most had been in the boat. It was, indeed, a late hour in the morning when it became known that there had been nine victims, and the search for their bodies went on all the day all day.

The unfortunates were all from the Junction. They were all or nearly the same age, the death of the nine means desolation in eight homes. The disaster is one of the worst boating fatalities which has ever taken place in Toronto waters.

Following is the list of dead;

Leonard Daly, 49 Ontario street.
Frank Daly, 49 Ontario street.
Walter Dundin, 88 Quebec avenue.
John Irvine, 75 Clendenan avenue.
Joseph Irwin, 88 Quebec avenue.
Frank Kyle, 19 Union street.
Reginald Miller, 39 Clendenan ave.
Gordon Laroque, 143 Vine street.
Dawson Niehrgang, 82 Hoskin St.
George Shields, 45 Van Horne St., was the only one who escaped.

Philadelphia Girl Exhausted When Life Guards Reached Her

Atlantic City, N.J., July 27.—Miss Pauline Day, an athletic eighteen-year-old Philadelphia girl, won the plaudits of thousands of persons who saw her as she kept the heads of her small brother and a little girl cousin above water in a boiling, turbulent sea until the life guards reached them and pulled all three safely ashore.

Had it not been for Miss Day's presence of mind, cool head and athletic training, the other two must have been drowned. The trio had gone bathing near Young's Pier. The strong south-west wind worked up a heavy sea, and the tide was a source of danger a short distance from the pier.

Miss Day and her companions were caught by the tide before they realized its presence, and were carried out from the shore by the strong current. They called for help, while Miss Day grasped her brother and cousin by the collars of their bathing suits and held their heads upright. The waves beat over them, however, and they struggled so that Miss Day was exhausted when Guards Hall and Mills relieved her.

Miss Day soon recovered from the effects of her experience, but the youngsters are still sick as the result of the quantity of salt water they swallowed.

Trouble In Sicily

Over the Arrest of a Popular Politician

Rome, July 27.—Three hundred marines were landed at Messina yesterday from the battleship Sardegna. The authorities are thus preparing to cope with any further disorders which may arise from the recent arrest of Nunzi Nasi, ex-minister of public instruction, on a charge of embezzlement. Nasi is popular in Sicily and his arrest has been followed by several demonstrations.

Artillery has been mounted in the streets of Palermo and other warships will be sent down. The ranks of the followers of Nazi were swelled by the coming in of the adherents of other political leaders, and the situation throughout Sicily is causing growing apprehension.

Cetiwayo a Crook or Honest Guest

Lindsay Post and Lindsay Chief of Police does not Agree Seemingly.

Lindsay Post does not seem to follow their local police news closely. In The Times of a few days ago we noted that the Lindsay Chief of Police had written Chief Roszel of this city regarding the way in which the so-called Zulu, Cetewayo had neatly done the freemasons of Longford Mills, as well as leaving a number of bad debts and stealing certain tools. Bro. City Editor of The Post, wake up!

The Post of Thursday's issue says; The Post had the pleasure of a call the other day from a distinguished Zulu mining expert, Mr. D. W. Cetewayo, son of ex-King Cetewayo, who was deposed after putting up a stiff fight against the British troops. The son has been in Canada several years, part of which was spent in the Cobalt district, and seems to have acquired a lot of information about mines and mining which he is turning to good use in our own north country. About two weeks ago he made a discovery of gold on the farm of Mr. A. J. Ford, a farmer living between White and Devil's Lakes, about 14 miles from the village of Kinmount. The sample assayed $38 to the ton. Mr. Cetewayo is in the employ of the Cobalt Mining Development Company.

Mr. J. D. Tilley's Idea of the Forgers

Lindsay Telephone Agent is Interviewed by The Times

Yesterday afternoon a Times representative had the pleasure of meeting Mr P. J Tilley, the efficient Lindsay manager of the Bell Telephone Co., at that town. In conversation Mr. Tilley was asked as to Lindsay's most recent sensation, the forgery case there. Mr. Tilley seemed to think that the whole trouble, when condensed, resolved itself into a few farmers (or people who should be segregated from the maddening crowds of urban life) being made "suckers" by a good (!) smart confidence man who made tools of them. He thought that the amounts the victims of this swindle got away with was not only ridiculous, but evidently displayed the green ignorance of the law breakers.

Mr. Tilley's many friends in the city were pleased to meet and greet him.

GOVERNMENT BUYS LAND

Fredericton, N. B., July 27.—The provincial government has completed the transfer of 50,000 acres of land from the New Brunswick Railway Company. The deed is ready for the Government and the title will be taken within a few days. The price which the government is paying is 75 cents per acre and it will be sold to settlers in 100-acre lots at the original cost plus cost of survey and interest on money. The land is situated in Victoria County and is known as the Blue Bell tract. It is the same tract of land which Lord Elphinstone tried to colonize 15 or 20 years ago.

It was for the purchase of this land that Premier Robinson has been endeavoring of late to raise $50,000.

Lakefield Cop Withdraws Remarks

Dr. Johnson, V.S., Withdraws Suit for Slander

The Lakefield News says: We are informed that the suit for slander which was to have been instituted by Dr. Johnston, V.S., of Lakefield, against Mr. Doidge, our worthy constable has been withdrawn without costs to the latter. Mr. Doidge regrets that owing to an error of judgment on his part he should have caused the arrest of a horse which had been under Dr. Johnston's care. As two veterinary surgeons have given an opinion regarding the ability of the horse to travel, in direct opposition to Mr. Doidge's ideas on the subject, he willingly defers to their superior knowledge.

Former Local Man Succeeds at Cobalt

Mr. R. G. Williamson is a Richly Paying Cobalt Mine

It will be of interest to our readers to learn that Mr. R. G. Williamson, of Toronto, formerly of this city, president of the Casey Mountain Cobalt Mining Co., is in Peterborough, and reports his company have struck the greatest vein of low grade silver ever discovered in the Cobalt region.

The lode is 48 feet from wall to wall. The shaft was sunk about 50 feet, when the miners came upon one or two cross veins of silver, and when about forty feet along the drift, came upon an immense lode. Work is now being prosecuted night and day.

Harp Player's Reason Is Misunderstood

Mr. Jos. Romanelli of Toronto, the expert manipulator of the harp, who delighted the hundreds aboard the steamer Otonabee on her trip round Stony Lake on Thursday, is still in the city. Mr. Romanelli is waiting here and will, if those interested give his price, be will play on this steamer through the season.

Mr. Romanetti told a Times' man that on the Stony Lake round trip he played the harp till some (six) seven inches of epidermis were worn on his fingers and that all he gathered in whilst passing the hat was $1.30. Whilst not giving Romanelli or any other man free advertising in these columns, there is no doubt but what those aboard who heard his playing and thought he was employed on salary, would have paid better had they known the facts of the game. Mr. Romanelli will be in the city for a day or two and it is up to those who like music by the harp hear him play.

POLICE COURT

At yesterday's session of the Police court, Thomas Mahoney pleaded guilty to having created a disorder at a house on Downie street. Acting Magistrate H. E. Armstrong imposed a fine of $5 to be paid forthwith or in default ten days in jail. Mahoney asked, "Isn't that a pretty hard penalty for a first offence?" "Well," replied the Magistrate, "that is the judgment of the court. The prisoner then said, "I want to lay an information re. assault against my brother-in-law." "If you lay the information and bring the case you will have to pay the costs of the court or go to jail for a longer time." Mahoney said, "Well, I'll go ahead." The Magistrate remarked, "Now Mahoney, I saw you yesterday when you were drunk." Mahoney then went into the box and told his little story going into the house and how his relative hit him. He seemed to have lost all memory of what did occur in response to questions put by his brother-in-law his sole answer was "I don't remember." The defendant then said that the trouble was a continuation of trouble of some standing. Mahoney has been going to the dad for some time. Were it not for the disgrace there would have been a police court case long ago. On Thursday evening Mahoney came to his house drunk. He called his mother unmentionable names. His mother wanted the police called. Witness did not want the publicity. At dinner Mahoney frightened the children and dropped the baby on the floor hurting its head. He also used filthy language. Witness warned Mahoney to behave and at last struck him. He then telephoned the police.

The Magistrate then dismissed the case. Mahoney sent out where he works and raised the $5.

Lindsay Men Sentenced --Burke Gets 3 Years

Logie's Punishment, Two Years' Confinement; Wynn and Bouyea One Month Each; George Miller Acquited Amid Cheers of Spectators

A Lindsay despatch received yesterday regarding the alleged counterfeiters, who are noted in yesterday's issue of The Times were up for sentence, says:

Magistrates Moore and Jackson were on the bench. The lawyers who defended the prisoners pleaded for their clients as to previous good character.

After hearing the addresses, the magistrates sentenced the prisoners as follows;—

Charles Burke to three years hard labor, Kingston Penitentiary.

Robert Logie to two years at Kingston.

Archie Boyeau and Richard Wynee to one month in county jail, Lindsay.

Eveleigh was let off on suspended sentence.

Miller, the pressman in the Watchman-Warder office, was honorably acquitted.

Add Lindsay

When Miller was discharged the crowd rose and cheered lustily. Miller's hand was wrung by many as he left the court room a free man.

The case of George Miller was taken up first. Miller was present, looking buoyant and self-confident. Very carefully Magistrate Moore went over the evidence. The evidence drawn against Miller, his denial, and lack of anything in his story out of which the crown could make evidence was gone over. The evidence of Sergeant Parkinson did not connect Miller in any way. The only evidence produced by the crown was that of Logie and Burke, and neither swore that Miller ever passed forged notes or had any in his possession, quoting the exact charge, forged fifty-eight notes in January 25th, 1905.

The contradictory evidence of Logie and Burke was also dwelt on.

"It is not possible to reconcile the two statements," he said.

"Burke says the Bank of Montreal and Dominion Bank notes were made three or four years ago, and the crown says two and a half. Burke says they were made in the fall or summer, Logie in the spring, the crown during the winter on January 25th."

Burke's evidence, in Magistrate Moore's opinion, was not at all satisfactory.

He had said, "I can say what I like out of court and it is not evidence." Adding all this together and taking into consideration the prisoner's straight story, the magistrate pronounced Miller to be not guilty, and discharged him.

CHIEF ROSZEL IN OFFICE.

Peterboro's Head Peace Guardian with Mrs. Roszel, Enjoy Their Trip.

Yesterday afternoon a Times representative with others, gave Chief Geo. Roszel a welcoming hand after his absence in Montreal as a delegate to the Chief Constables' Association meeting. The chief expressed in most emphatic terms his appreciation of the way in which he and the other delegates were received and treated in Montreal. Mrs. Roszel, who accompanied him, was used, to use a slang expression, "white." The lady visitors were used as well as the high and mighty police. They were taken in autos to the various parks and other places of amusement.

Chief Roszel was elected vice-president of the association, which will meet next year in Quebec. After the morning session on Tuesday the delegates were driven, after business was over, to the mountain, and dinner was enjoyed at the Montreal Club. On Wednesday a business session was held and officers elected. In the afternoon a special car ride around the city was taken.

On the same evening the visitors were given a banquet at the Windsor Hotel, while the ladies of the party spent the evening at Dominion Park. On Thursday morning another business session was held. Chief Roszel presiding.

London, July 27.—A Danish civil engineer has succeeded in producing beer in the form of tablets. These are dissolved in hot water. When cooled the beverage is a beer of excellent quality and flavor.

NEW ISLAND IS FORMING

Stone Thrown a Distance of Thirty Miles

Not the First Occurence of the Kind —A Violent Earthquake In Italy.

Sydney, N. S. W., July 27.—Reports from the Tonga Islands say that seven columns of volcanic eruption were visible at sea for two weeks recently from the island of Tongatabu, within an area of two miles. The eruption has been accompanied by a continuous roaring noise and frequent explosions. Black pummice stones in large quantities were thrown as far as Nukualoffo, the capital of Tongatabu, a distance of thirty miles.

The Tongan government Gazette states that land is forming around the scene of the eruption, and it is believed that a new island is in the process of formation.

The Tonga, or Friendly Islands, are in the South Pacific Ocean, lying southeast of Fiji. October, 1885, a violent submarine volcanic eruption took place about 48 miles east of Nukaloffa, resulting in the emergence of an island nearly three miles in length by one in width.

The Fleets of The World

Britain Below the Two-Power Standard---Useless Ships in the Navy List.

London, July 27.—The admiralty has issued a return which shows that Great Britain in point of numbers is not only below the two-power standard of safety, but that many obsolete battleships are still included in the effective strength of the navy.

The return, which includes ships both built and building gives a list of the fleets of Great Britain and various foreign countries.

In regard to battleships, on which the two-power standard is based, the figures for the various countries are as follows;

	Built.	Building.
Great Britain	59	6
France	41	10
Russia	19	4
Germany	32	3
Italy	15	5
United States	24	7
Japan	15	2

From these figures it will be seen that while Great Britain has only sixty-five battleships built and building, France and Germany combined have 51 battleships. This preponderance over British ships is serious, but not so overwhelming as would appear from the table.

In the first place, the return of British ships does not go beyond the ships being built under the 1906-7 programme—the two Lord Nelsons and the three Dreadnoughts, which are shortly to be launched. No mention is made of the two (or three) Dreadnoughts to be laid down under the 1907-8 programme.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

On the other hand the French returns include the Jena, which was badly damaged by the explosion in the magazine; the Neptune, which will probably be condemned, and six ships ordered to be laid down in 1906 and on which work has been begun, although it is uncertain if all the keels have been actually laid.

The German returns of ships building include the Ersatz Sachsen (of the Dreadnought type) which has been begun; her sister ship, the Ersatz Bayern, which was to be laid about April, 1907," and two other Dreadnoughts of the 1907-8 programme.

But even if the eight French ships referred to and the two German Dreadnoughts which have not yet been begun, are excluded, Great Britain still shows an inferiority in point of numbers, the actual figures for battleships built and building being;

Great Britain	65
Germany	35
France	51
	151

As a matter of fact, however, the return is misleading, inasmuch as it fails to distinguish between effective and non-effective vessels.

For instance, of the sixty battleships built, five—the Anson, Camperdown, Benbow, Howe and Rodney—are not kept in readiness for war, because, as the secretary of the admiralty explained in the House of Commons last November, they are to be removed to the dockyard this year.

CORPORATIONS AT WAR HURT MICHIGAN SAULT

The Struggle Between Rival Power Companies Retards The City's Growth

Desperate Attempts to Block the Clergue People are Made by the Chandler-Dunbar Concern

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 26. — The struggle for supremacy between two great water power companies owning plants here, involving the right to use only a small part of the power running to waste, is grinding the life out of the American Sault.

When Mr. F. H. Clergue was induced to come over from the Canadian side some years ago he bought the rights of a defunct power company for $65,000, invested about $200,000 more for a right of way, and at once began the construction of a great water power canal; the work was pushed toward completion and more than $6,000,000 expended.

When the company was about ready to turn the water into the canal a claim was made by the Chandler-Dunbar Company, the water power company owning nine acres of land by the rapids, that all the water on the American side was its property. The Clergue Company, which had become the Michigan-Lake Superior Power Company, would have to pay $1,000,000 before an opening could be made and the waters of Lake Superior directed into the Michigan-Lake Superior Power Company's canal.

The Lake Superior Power Company could not make an opening into Lake Superior and divert the water into an artifical channel until a permit was given by the secretary of war. This official discovered that a statute had been passed through congress providing that the secretary of war upon the advice of the United States engineers.

Much delay in getting water for the big canal was caused by this provision and not until Congress passed an act for diverging waters and the building of compensating works at the head of the rapids by the Lake Superior Power Company to stop the flow of its much water over the rapids as was used by the big canal could the canal be filled and the wheels started.

While the canal was building the Lake Superior Power Company acquired title to a small island near the foot of the rapids, which it is now asserted controls one-sixth of the power in the falls.

Soon after the water was turned into the canal by the Lake Superior Power Company the Chandler-Dunbar Company began suit for damages for the use of water in the river. The Chandler-Dunbar Company had enlarged its canal to a development of about 8,200 horse power.

There are five islands in the rapids, one ceded to the Indians, Chief O-Shawana, by the United States Government. The other four were set aside about twenty-five years ago for public improvement by an executive order of the president. The islands at the head of the rapids are near the Chandler-Dunbar Company's land, and this company lay claim to them by right of riparian ownership about six years ago. The government is now contesting this claim and the case will in due time be heard in the United States Supreme Court.

Strike Paralyzes Belfast Industry

Belfast, July 27.—Unable to obtain coal as a consequence of the continued strike of the dock laborers here, one of the largest spinning mills in this city shut down today. Almost all the other mills give notice that they will be forced to close down at the end of the week for the same reason. Scores of thousands of men will then be without work. The police are becoming disaffected because of the extra work entailed by the strike and are demanding additional pay.

Great Baseball Game This Afternoon

Manager Johnson Expects His Team Will Win Out

Today's game with the Cobourg nine is attracting a lot of interest and a big crowd will see the contest. "Prunes" Quinlan will be on the firing line for Peterborough, and will endeavor to repeat his performance against Port Hope, when he pitched a no-hit game, while that star catcher of the league, Harry Partridge will perform behind the bat. The other members of the team are in good trim, and will put up an argument that will make the Cobourth bunch go some to keep in the travelling.

Cobourg is bringing up the strongest team that can be got, and they are determined to win. It is likely that they will have an imported battery as they want to win this game.

Weeks of Bowmanville will umpire. Follow the crowds to Riverside Park this afternoon, and see the game of your life. The game will start promptly at 3.30.

MRS. LESLIE SENTENCED

London, July 27.—Mrs. Josephine Leslie was yesterday found guilty in the Old Bailey on the charge of defrauding members of well known families by false pretences, and sentenced to five years' penal servitude. It was her custom to represent herself as a friend of J. Pierpont Morgan and declare the guided her investments. The hearing of the case was concluded in two hours. Mr. Morgan appeared in court and testified briefly that he did not know the prisoner and never had any dealings with her.

Mrs. Leslie was arrested at Newmarket, July 4. She was formerly Josephine Eastwick, of Philadelphia. She was married to a Mr. Leslie, an Englishman, a little more than a year ago, at Geneva, Switzerland. This union was of short duration.

Dr Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Catharties.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Lueders, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better They at once relieve and pervent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. THE NEXT NAVAL WAR

A writer in the Nineteenth Century draws attention to the importance of the cruise of the British fleet in the Baltic. It is a sign, he says, that the Admiralty has at last waked up to the strategic value of this body of water, which is the key of Germany's sea power.

Germany has two war ports, one on the North Sea coast, which is small, shallow, and has to be continually dredged, and the other Kiel, on the Baltic, which is large, deep and commodious enough to shelter all the battleships that Germany has built or will build. More than that, Kiel is difficult of access to an enemy, the approach being guarded by a network of islands with which the Cattegat is here studded. These islands are surrounded with rocks and shoals, and though there are three channels through them, the Great Belt, the Little Belt, and the Sound, it takes some steering to bring a man-o'-war through. Needless to say, the German navy knows all the quirks and turns of these intricate waters—the acquirement of such knowledge having been its business for years. On the other hand, the British navy, knows very little about it, and it is to remedy this deficiency that the fleet makes its present cruise. The German newspapers are fully aware of the significance of this manoeuvre, and some of the more indiscreet of them have openly urged that Germany proclaim the Baltic a closed sea, and warn Britain to keep outside.

Militant as the Kaiser is, he does not seem to have been willing to accept this advice, at least until further preparations have been made. The Baltic and North Sea Canal, the short cut which overcomes the Danish peninsula, and makes Germany's navy doubly effective has to be deepened, widened and generally fitted up to accommodate the largest ships going at the highest speed. When it is finally in shape it will have cost the country ninety-five million dollars, but the twenty Dreadnoughts that Germany is now building will slip through it as easily as ducks through a pond. As an instrument either of war or commerce the canal is worth many times its actual cost.

There will be no war between Germany and England, so the writer thinks, for eight years, that being the time required to improve the canal, and build the battleships. After that war is a question which depends largely on the attitude of Denmark. This little country sentinels the Baltic. To her belong the islands in the Cattegat several of which would have to be in possession of Germany to make Kiel impenetrable to the enemy. If Denmark wishes to remain an independent nation, and to clipped of none of her territory, she will side with Great Britain. If she is indifferent or short sighted she will line up with Germany.

Found Dead In A Pool Of Blood

Amsterdam, N.Y., July 25.—William E. McLachlan, a recluse living on a small farm in Crane's Hollow, a few miles from this city, was found dead on the floor of his home last evening by a neighbor, with eight stab wounds in his body, three of which had reached vital parts.

McLachlan, who was estimated to be worth $75,000, lived alone in a miserly way, and made something of an income from repairing clocks and guns. Two women who had a clock to be repaired, but who were unable to get any response to their calls at the McLachlan home, summoned a neighbor, who entered the house, and there discovered McLachlan lying in a great pool of blood and with bloody stains upon the door, and other indications of a conflict.

McLachlan was eccentric, and for a long time was a justice of the peace. His conduct of the office and frequent disputes with residents in the neighborhood aroused considerable enmity against him, with the result that he had few friends and no associates; yet, so far as the authorities know, no one was sufficiently bitter toward him to murder him.

No motive for the crime can be found, as the little money and several watches which were in the house were not disturbed. McLachlan, who was 62 years of age, never married, and his only survivors are two brothers, Simon of Schnectady and Milton of Walkill, N.Y.

Death Was Announced But Is Still Alive

Warsaw, Ind., July 26.—Elijah Hays a philanthropist, aged 90 years, whose death was announced last Sunday from a local pulpit is still alive. At this home Saturday he walked to a window, fell, and cut a severe gash in his head, but last night was said to be much alive, in spite of the obituary printed on Monday.

Monday morning an undertaker went to embalm the body, and found that Mr. Hays was alive but in a comatose condition. The nonogenarian revived somewhat, and yesterday was able to leave his bed unassisted.

I.C.R. Seaside Excursion

The seaside excursions by the Intercolonial Railway are announced this year for August 12th, 13th, 14th, and 15th, the time limit for return being extended to August 30th, as will be seen by the announcement in another column. These annual excursions afford splendid opportunities for those who wish to journey from Canadian inland centres to the places of most interst along the route of the I.C.R., and permit of most enjoyable vacation trips at remarkably low rates from Montreal. These rates are arranged so as to cover practically all portions of the territory served by the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways. Enquiries at the Montreal ticket office, 141 St. James street, will be furnished with all particulars.

WON BY A HAIR.

John Morrissey's Bet With Oakey Hall and Hubert O. Thompson.

When the offices of the New York corporation counsel were lately moved from the Staats Zeitung building and were finally installed in their new quarters much of the ancient furniture which had been in the building since the time of Delafield Smith was sent to the junkshop and replaced with new.

Among these pieces of furniture was an old horsehair sofa which had a history all its own, for on it in both the days of Delafield Smith and William C. Whitney those people who wished to obtain an audience of the corporation counsel were invariably invited to sit.

Among other strange tales which this ancient piece of furniture could tell is of a meeting which took place upon its broad surface of three men, now long passed away, who were in their time inveterate gamblers, though only one of them was professionally engaged in that business. One day John Morrissey, Hubert O. Thompson and Oakey Hall all arrived in the outer office at the same time.

The three men exchanged greetings, and all three sat down on the old sofa. Morrissey was fingering the horsehair cloth when he came across a hair. His betting instinct at once manifested itself.

"I will bet either of you gentlemen," he said, "a thousand dollars that I can pull a longer hair out of this sofa than either of you."

Oakey Hall took it up. "I will bet you a thousand," he replied.

Not to be outdone, Hubert O. Thompson said he would take a hand in the game also.

The stakes, $1,000 each, were produced from bulky pocketbooks and then and there handed over to an employee of Mr. Whitney's department. Each man then took hold of a hair, while the other employees of the office gathered around in breathless excitement to witness the result of the strange bet.

Jim Powell, the head stenographer of the department, was the man who held the money. He died many years ago. But there are others still alive who remember the shout of boyish glee with which Morrissey held up a hair nearly two feet long. He was easily first in the betting, for neither Oakey Hall nor Thompson came within six inches of him.

Just as Morrissey tucked the $3,000 away in his wallet the bell rang, and John McCann, Mr. Whitney's messenger, came out.

"Mr. Morrissey, will you step inside, please?" he said.

"The luck is John's today," growled Oakey Hall, who was in a hurry. "He'll be there an hour at least."—New York American.

WHEN YOU CATCH A COLD

Always Take a Few Doses of Pe-ru-na It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

Mr. George A. Nicholas, 76 Wellington street, Launceston, Tasmania (Australia), is a prominent grocer, having been in the business about 18 years. He writes as follows:

"I have on several occasions, when afflicted with a cough or cold, used Peruna with the best of results. I believe it to be a splendid remedy for such ailments."

MR. GEORGE A. NICHOLAS.

A LARGE per cent. of chronic ailments begin with a neglected cold. A cold produces congestion of some internal organ. The congestion at last becomes chronic and organic disease is the result.

When an organic disease becomes thoroughly established, it is absolutely incurable. Thus it is dangerous to neglect a cold.

A remedy should always be at hand that can be relied upon to promptly relieve a cold.

There is no better remedy in the world for this purpose than Peruna, which has been in use for a great many years.

It has been the standby in a multitude of homes as a remedy for colds, coughs and catarrhal ailments of summer and winter.

We will give a few specimens of the many testimonials we have received from different parts of the world as to the efficacy of Peruna as a remedy for colds:

"I contracted a severe cold, and became afflicted with a bad cough. I began taking Peruna. In a short time my cough and cold were gone."—Mr. Louis Monpetit, 251 St. Elizabeth Ave., St. Henry, Montreal, Canada.

"I have received great benefit from Peruna, and hope to see it in my country, Cuba. The home protected by Peruna is free from catarrh."—Mr. Jose I. Soler, President Cuban Fruit Co., 2018 Jerome Ave., New York, N. Y.

"As soon as I get a cold I send for Peruna, and it drives it out of my system."—Mr. L. Clifford Figg, Jr., 2329 E. Marshall street, Richmond, Va.

Chinese Carpenters.

There are few more skillful workmen in the world, according to Mr. Barrett Smith's statements in the Engineering Magazine, than the native Chinese carpenters. This is hardly surprising, considering the extensive use of wood for all kinds of construction in China. But more surprising is the fact that for countless generations the Chinese have not changed the form of their tools. The Chinese carpenter's favorite tool is a little hatchet, with which he can cut surfaces as smooth as those produced with a plane. Only recently has the hammer of the western world begun to find a place in the Chinese carpenter shop. Heretofore the Chinaman has universally used the back of his hatchet for hammering. The gradual introduction of iron nails has brought the hammer with them.

An Athletic Poet.

Theodore Tilton—not long before his death was speaking to a friend about some of his former literary friends and acquaintances and was asked if he had known William Cullen Bryant.

"Yes, indeed," he replied. "Bryant had the finest head and beard of modern times. One day, it must have been in 1872 or 1873, I had an engagement to meet him at his private office at 8 o'clock in the morning. I arrived about ten minutes before the hour, and what do you think I found him doing? Practicing athletics, hoisting himself up and down from the lintel of the door by his arms and touching the lintel each time with his chin. He was then almost an octogenarian!"

Hall Caine's Autograph.

Hall Caine has a great horror of the autograph hunter, but during his visit to America he was trapped by a wily collector in a very curious way. One day a porter at the hotel brought him a registered letter. He signed the receipt and was then asked to sign a second paper, which he was told had to be returned to the sender of the letter. New to American ways, he did so, and when he opened the letter he found it to be a note of thanks for his autograph, which he had, of course, appended to the paper.—London Tit-Bits.

The Plains of Abraham.

The historic plains of Abraham will be dedicated as a national park at the celebration next year of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Quebec, provided those most prominent in the commemoration are able to have their way. At present the plains are marred by a rifle factory, and instead of listening to the demand that they remove to another site the owners of the plant demand more room.

Seals Are Following the Buffalo.

From latest reports it is clear that our great seal herd is rapidly disappearing as the result of poaching and in spite of the efforts of the United States authorities. Today there are only 180,000 seals, where there were 7,000,000 fifty years ago. The history of the buffalo is about to be repeated.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders Bank, Winnipeg.

SIREN WAFER DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard at sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms—the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

It was not to play eavesdropper that the uninvited Joe had come. He was not there to listen, and it is possible that had the curtains of other windows afforded him the chance to behold the dance he might not have risked the dangers of his present position. He had not the slightest interest in the whispered coquetries that he heard. He watched only to catch Ariel and then over the shoulders of the dancers, a fitful glimpse of a pretty head that flitted across the window—the amber hair of Mamie Pike. He shivered in the drafts, and the floor of the porch was cement, painful to elbow and knee, the space where he lay cramped and narrow, but the golden bubbles of her hair, the shimmer of her dainty pink dress and the fluffy wave of her lace scarf as she crossed and recrossed in a waltz left him apparently in no discontent. He watched with parted lips, his pale cheeks reddening whenever those fair glimpses were his. At last she came out to the veranda with Eugene and sat upon a little divan, so close to Joe that, daring wildly in the shadow, he reached out a trembling hand and let his fingers rest upon the end of her scarf, which had fallen from her shoulders and touched the floor. She sat with her back to him, as did Eugene.

"You have changed, I think, since last summer," he heard her say reflectively.

"For the worse, ma cherie?" Joe's expression might have been worth seeing when Eugene said "ma cherie," for it was known in the Louden household that Mr. Bantry had failed to pass his examination in the French language.

"No," she answered. "But you have seen so much and accomplished so much since then. You have become so polished and so"— She paused and then continued: "But perhaps I'd better not say it. You might be offended."

"No. I want you to say it," he returned confidently, and his confidence was fully justified, for she said:

"Well, then, I mean that you have become so thoroughly a man of the world. Now I've said it! You are offended, aren't you?"

"Not at all; not at all," replied Mr. Bantry, preventing by a masterful effort his pleasure from showing in his face.

"Then I'm—glad," she whispered, and Joe saw his stepbrother touch her hand, but she rose quickly. "There's the music," she cried happily. "It's a waltz, and it's yours."

Joe heard her little high heels tapping gayly toward the window, followed by the heavier tread of Eugene, but he did not watch them go.

He lay on his back, with the hand that had touched Mamie's scarf pressed across his closed eyes.

The music of the waltz was of the old fashioned swingingly sorrowful sort, and it would be hard to say how long it was after that before he could hear the air played without a recurrence of the bitterness of that moment. The rhythmical pathos of the violins was in such accord with a faint sound of weeping which he heard near him presently that for a little while he believed this sound to be part of the music and part of himself. Then it became more distinct, and he raised himself on one elbow to look about.

Very close to him, sitting upon the divan in the shadow, was a girl wearing a dress of beautiful silk. She was crying softly, her face in her hands.

CHAPTER IV.

ARIEL had worked all the afternoon over her mother's wedding gown, and two hours were required by her toilet for the dance. She curled her hair frizzily, burning it here and there with a slate pencil heated over a lamp chimney, and she placed above one ear three or four large artificial roses, taken from an old hat of her mother's, which she had found in a trunk in the storeroom. Possessing no slippers, she carefully blacked and polished her shoes, which had been clumsily resoled, and fastened into the strings of each small rosettes of red ribbon, after which she practiced swinging the train of her skirt until she was proud of her manipulation of it. She had no powder, but found in her grandfather's room a lump of magnesia that he was in the habit of taking for heartburn and passed it over and over her brown face and hands. Then a lingering gaze into her small mirror gave her joy at last. She yearned so hard to see herself charming that she did see herself so. Admiration came, and she told herself that she was more attractive to look at than she had ever been in her life and that perhaps at last she might begin to be sought for like other girls.

It was in the Pike dressing room that the change began to come. There was a big cheval glass at one end of the room, and she faced it when her turn came—for the mirror was popular—with a sinking spirit. There was the contrast, like a picture painted and framed. The other girls all wore their hair after the fashion introduced to Canaan by Mamie Pike the week before on her return from a visit to Chicago. None of them had "crimped" and none had bedecked their tresses with artificial flowers. Her alterations of the wedding dress had not been successful; the skirt was too short in front and higher on one side than on the other, showing too plainly the heavy soled shoes, which had lost their polish in the walk through the snow. The ribbon rosettes were fully revealed, and as she glanced at their reflection she heard the words, "Look at that train and those rosettes!" whispered behind her and saw in the mirror two pretty young women turn away with their handkerchiefs over their mouths and retreat hurriedly to an alcove. All the feet in the room except Ariel's were in dainty kid or satin slippers of the color of the dresses from which they glimmered out, and only Ariel wore a train.

She went away from the mirror and pretended to be busy with a hanging thread in her sleeve.

Ariel sat in one of the chairs against the wall and watched the dancers with a smile of eager and benevolent interest. In Canaan no parents, no guardians, no aunts were haled forth o' nights to duenna the junketings of youth. Ariel sat conspicuously alone. There was nothing else for her to do. It was not an easy matter.

Once or twice between the dances she saw Miss Pike speak appealingly to one of the superfluous, glancing at the same time in her own direction, and Ariel could see, too, that the appeal proved unsuccessful, until at last Mamie approached her leading Norbert Flitcroft partly by the hand, partly by will power. Norbert was an excessively fat boy and at the present moment looked as patient as the blind. But he asked Ariel if she was "engaged for the next dance" and, Mamie having flitted away, stood disconsolately beside her waiting for the music to begin. Ariel was grateful for him.

The orchestra flourished into "La Paloma;" he put his arm mournfully about her and, taking her right hand with his left, carried her arm out to a rigid right angle, beginning to pump and balance for time. They made three false starts and then got away. Ariel danced badly; she hopped and lost the step, but they persevered, bumping against other couples continually.

She caught her partner making a burlesque face of suffering over her shoulder and, turning her head quickly, saw for whose benefit he had constructed it. Eugene Bantry, dying expertly by with Mamie, was bestowing upon Mr. Flitcroft a condescendingly commiserative wink. The next instant she tripped in her train and fell to the floor at Eugene's feet, carrying her partner with her.

There was a shout of laughter. The young hostess stopped Eugene, who would have gone on, and he had no choice but to stoop to Ariel's assistance.

"It seems to be a habit of mine," she said, laughing loudly.

She did not appear to see the hand he offered, but got to her feet without help and walked quickly away with Norbert, who proceeded to live up to the character he had given himself.

"Perhaps we had better not try it again," she laughed.

"Well, I should think not," he returned, with the frankest gloom. With the air of conducting her home he took her to the chair against the wall whence he had brought her. There his responsibility for her seemed to cease. "Will you excuse me?" he asked, and there was no doubt that he felt that he had been given more than his share that evening, even though he was fat.

Ariel sat through more dances, interminable dances and intermissions, in that same chair, in which, it began to seem, she was to live out the rest of her life. Now and then if she thought people were looking at her as they passed she broke into a laugh and nodded slightly, as if still amused over her mishap.

After a long time she rose and, laughing cheerfully to Mr. Flitcroft, who was standing in the doorway and replied with a wan smile, stepped out quickly into the hall, where she almost ran into her greatuncle, Jonas Tabor. He was going toward the big front doors with Judge Pike, having just come out of the latter's library, down the hall.

Jonas was breathing heavily and was shockingly pale, though his eyes were very bright. He turned his back upon his grandniece sharply and went out of the door. Ariel turned from him

Japan Retains The Coal

Vancouver, B.C., July 26.—According to British naval officers who arrived from the Orient on the Empress of China on Sunday, night on their way to England from the China station, the Japanese government has placed an embargo on export of coal from Japan.

Operators have been instructed to load no coal for export, and steamers can obtain only sufficient amounts to complete the return voyage to Japan. This is said to be the reason why the Canadian Pacific Railroad, which had several shiploads of coal ordered during the Canadian coal strike, received only one.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

WEAK WOMEN READ BELOW

One woman in three is struggling against weakness.

Are you one of the weak ones?

Not exactly sick, but oh, how miserable!

You discharge your daily duties, but who can measure the burden, the trial?

Talk of bravery, where find a finer spirit than among half-sick women, fighting, struggling to do their duty against terrible odds—and they never give up until they drop.

If you could put a drop of blood under the microscope the cause would be revealed.

You would find the blood thin and watery, red cells far too few, the carrier of life very greatly reduced in vitality, and this means slow death.

Ferrozone cures weakness by fortifying both appetite and digestion, and making plenty of blood.

Ferrozone cures weakness by supplying nutriment and building material, by giving the body the constituents it requires for restoring tired organs.

It gives vim, vigor and endurance.

Ferrozone is a tissue builder.

It adds force to all the vital functions—the stomach, liver, kidneys.

Ferrozone gives sound sleep, sound digestion, promotes perfect removal of all the body wastes.

Ferrozone makes the body glow with health.

Any weak, pale or sickly woman that Ferrozone won't cure—why she must be hopeless. Wonderful power in Ferrozone, wonderful cures it makes, and this you can prove by trying it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

Absurd Rumors on Otonabee's Accident

An Unavoidable Molehill Made to be a Monstrous Mountain.

It seems that the old saying that "A rolling stone gathers no moss" does not apply to rumors once set in motion by irresponsible and really disinterested persons. We were somewhat amused yesterday by the absurd rumors current concerning the little accident that occurred to the new steamer Otonabee as she lay at the Idyl Wyld wharf Thursday afternoon. To illustrate our initial contention, it might be mentioned that, in all seriousness people blandly heard and carried to others a report that the Otonabee had "blown up." Again, others had a dire tale of woe about a woman who had been "almost scalded to death." On investigation we found the one authority for this latter canard was that one lady's dress was wet. The whole truth is that one man, Mr. Burrage, the baseball expert, who happened unfortunately to be near the defective valves was a little bit scalded but will soon be on the diamond again.

This accident is most unfortunate in view of the rumors that started on their mossy gathering journey like a boy's snowball rolling along in wet snow. Still the whole thing when sifted down to exact truth is that an unfortunate and unavoidable accident occurred that might occur anywhere the steam is confined under pressure. Fortunately the public of these days are too broad minded and too intelligent to let their minds be biased by such stories as were current yesterday.

Peterboro Hotelman Has Good Time

Mr. R. J. Munro, one of Peterborough's most respected bonifaces has written to a friend in the city, saying that he and others with him on his trip abroad, had a fine voyage across the ocean, and had the pleasure of seeing some big icebergs. The party are attending the Dublin exposition and incidentally viewing the beautiful scenery in that part of Ireland, including the Lakes of Killarney.

Journeyman Baker Injured.

Yesterday morning as Chas. Cheverill, of 514 Water street, a journeyman baker, who was employed by Messrs. Stock at their bakery, was at work he had the misfortune to get one of his hands caught in the machinery. Fortunately the belt was slack and the machine stopped. Had it not been for this Mr. Cheverill's injury would have been most serious. He was taken to Nicholl's hospital, where the injuries were dressed by Dr. Frederick.

Harry Burrage Will Play

Notwithstanding the absurd rumors spread abroad yesterday concerning the alleged severe scalding of Peterborough's crack baseball expert on the steamer Otonabee, Thursday afternoon, we are able to assure his many friends that Harry Burridge will be "Johnny on the spot," in the game against Cobourg today. Burridge may not be able to run the bases owing to his injuries, but his pluck, determination and desire to help out Manager Johnston and Peterborough in general, will impel him to get busy with the bat.

English Visitor in the City

Yesterday Mr. W. H. Ponton of England, was a visitor in our midst and registered at the National Hotel Mr. Ponton is an Englishman of wealth, who is travelling around the world. He had heard of Peterborough and the hydraulic lift lock and stopped off to see this, now, world renowned mass of concrete and iron. He left England some weeks ago stopping off and Japan and then crossing the Pacific Ocean to British Columbia. From Peterborough he will go eastwards to the Atlantic and thus to the shores of Ambion.

Otonabee Girl Hurt in Runaway

On Thursday evening Miss Birdie Grey, daughter of Mr. J. Grey of Otonabee, displayed a great amount of pluck when she tried to stop her father's runaway team. It seems that one of the horses trampled upon her, and as a result she will be confined to her room for several days. Miss Grey received a bad cut over her right eye, her right ear was also cut and she was otherwise badly shaken up and bruised. A Peterborough physician, put ten stitches in the opening over the eye and also several in the ear.

Large Excursions in this City

About five hundred excursionists were in Peterborough yesterday, about 350 coming from Campbellford, and 150 from Lindsay. The Campbellford visitors arrived about 9.30 on a special train. The excursion being under the auspices of the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The Lindsay excursion came in about a half hour later, being run by the Sunday school of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. The special train consisted of four cars with about one hundred and fifty on board.

Hastings Commissions Reient

Tweed News says; At a meeting of the Board of License Commissioners from North Hasting held at Marmora Mr. Thos. P. Hogan, proprietor of the hotel at Bridgewater was granted a license to the end of the present year placing him upon an equal footing with any other license holder. It will be remembered that in accordance with a decision of the North Hastings License Board at a meeting in May last the license for the hotel at Bridgewater was to have been cancelled at the end of the present month.

City Topics

IN SHORT FORM FOR BUSY READERS

—Those Campbellford girls who paraded George street yesterday are the limit in style and feminine beauty.

—The Ladies' Aid of Mark street church will hold a special meeting tonight, at the home of Mrs. Hutchison, 27 Sheridan street.

—It seems that the counterfeiters of bank notes in Lindsay is punished about the hard there as a vagrant gets it on the neck in Peterborough.

—"One month" in the Lindsay jail for making or "shoving the queer," is Lindsay trying to get increased population of any kind, at any rate, price or condition!

—Yesterday a Lindsay party put up at the Snowden House. This party included, N. Larmont, Mrs. N. Larmont, Miss G. Larmont, Miss S. Larmont and Gordon Larmont.

—Large crowds still pour in gathering numbers to Jackson Park. The car service is most thorough and passengers make quick time to and from this popular place of amusement.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sheridan left yesterday for Ottawa, where they will attend the Old Boys' Reunion. A masquerade carnival will also be held in the Arena roller rink, of which Mr. Sheridan is one of the owners.

—People who talk about accidents that might happen anywhere to anyone under any circumstances, in any old way, irrespective of any results to any one affected, should get two months twice and old year.

—Mr. F. H. Buck, son of ex-Warden W. T. Buck, slipped off a load of hay last Wednesday, and falling upon a beam fractured one or more of his ribs. He will be laid up for a few days.—Norwood Register.

—Mr. George Payne, of Lakefield, who has been appointed foreman on the construction of the new wharf at Wallace's Point, is now making preliminary arrangements for starting the work at an early date.

—The general opinion about Peterborough, when the Times announced the sentences awarded the Lindsay counterfeiters became known was ——— well, we don't want to run chances of contempt of court —but ——— ill ill ••••• ——— ad lib.

—Mr. France of the International Hotel Register Co., who has been in the city for some days left yesterday afternoon for Toronto on a business trip. Mr. France thinks The Times is the brightest and best condensed conveyor of news he has seen.

—Mr. L. W. Speer of Toronto, has obtained an option of the gold mine owned by John and A. J. Seabrook, three miles east of Havelock. Mr. Speer has a number of workmen engaged in going over the property and testing it. The purchase price named in the option, will put the Messrs. Seabrook on easy street," if the deal goes through.—Havelock Standard.

—The Times emphatically denies the rumor current, as reported, that the Gold Lake Hunt Club, are placing a mortgage on their property. This hunt club is composed of men who don't have to place mortgages on their outfit. It is much more likely that an order for seventeen gallons of buttermilk will attach to the property. N.B.—This article is a joke suggested by one of the members.

I'll stop your pain free. To show you first—before you spend a penny — what my Pink Pain Tablets can do, I will mail you free, a Trial Package of them—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Period pains, etc., are due alone to blood congestion. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets simply kill pain by coaxing away the unnatural blood pressure. That's all. Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all dealers.

Myers Cave a Bete Noir

We notice that the Tweed Weekly News, in their country correspondence columns contains about half a column headed "Myer's Cave." It would take seventeen issues of 117 columns each to give vent to the feelings of some four local citizens who placed their good hard dollars in the Meyer's Cave "silver mine." Great Caesar! don't mention Myer's Cave round the electric city or bloodshed will be in evidence!

Mr. H. Long Back After Good Trip

Mr. Harry Long, one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected manufacturers of wedding cakes, and other articles of confectionery, after an absence of some months in the West, has returned home. Mr. Long is looking the picture of health and reports having had a most enjoyable time. He left Peterborough on the 4th of March and went to Strathcona, where he visited his brother. Then he took a trip to Portland and Seattle. While away Mr. Long met many Peterborough people who were all glad to see him. The majority of them are doing well. At the coast he was a guest of Mr. Herbert Kent, formerly Bell telephone agent here.

Charlotte Street Building Progressing

The work on the Charlotte street bridge is being rapidly pushed forward by Street Commissioner Harry Evans. Already at the south end of the bridge, on the west side the concrete work has been completed to a height of possibly two feet. On the east side the semi-siphon method of diverting the water of the creek is being continued as practised on the west side. A line of hose from a Simcoe street hydrant is run into the bed of the creek, as is done in placer mining claims, and the force of the current carries off the gathering waters of the creek, so that workmen may keep busy without wading through any depth of water from a few inches to what might detract their attention whilst wondering whether that plug of tobacco or pocket flask might be injured by watery contact.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT LAKEFIELD MILLS

Cavandish Lumber Co's. Yards Swept by Fire on Saturday.

Local Fire Brigade Help to Distinguish the Fire

Saturday one of the most serious fires that has startled the pretty little village of Lakefield, swept away into smoke tens of thousands of dollars worth of new lumber belonging to and in the yards of the Cavendish Lumber Company.

Shortly after three o'clock fire alarm number 57 was sent in from east ward, the brigade returned without turning on water. A second alarm rang out at 4.30 p.m., from box No. 23, at the corner of Hunter and George streets. This called attention of the brigade to the serious fire raging at the Cavendish Lumber Company's mill or rather yards, and asking that assistance be lent by the Peterborough Fire Brigade at once. The brigade quickly assembled at the Aylmer street fire hall. A special train was quickly secured and the new fire engine, in charge of Engineer S. Wainwright together with six members of the brigade, with sufficient hose and other appliances got aboard and were quickly run to Lakefield. It was decided in the interests of and for the protection of the city that more of the firemen could not leave as the city had to be given adequate protection against danger in case of fire here in the meantime.

On arrival at Lakefield the engine was quickly run to the lumber yard situated on the Douro side of the Otonabee river just below the iron bridge in that village. By the time they arrived the fire in the yards below the mill was blazing merrily. Piles and piles of lumber were ablaze and dense clouds of smoke filled the sky. The village engine and brigade assisted by the mill staff were doing their best but were unable to make any certain impression on the fire which covered a large area and was quickly spreading. The Peterborough firemen quickly limbered up and soon had four streams of water on the flames. A stubborn battle between trained firemen and water propelled by the most modern type of fire-fighting machinery was waged against this already vigorous and wide spread conflagration. It was only after several hours hard and hot work that the fire was gotten under control and even then the inflammable lumber piles would break out again. Pile after piles of valuable lumber, in most places piled as high as an average private residence was was consumed. The only way in which the continuous piles were saved from total destruction was by pulling down piles as near as the heat would allow workers to approach the flames and then keep them drenched with the water. As the company's cut this season has been about 8,000,000 feet, it is probable there will be enough insurance to cover Saturday's loss.

The fact that lumber is piled, not board on board in a solid mass, but with a space the thickness of a board between each row enabled every breath of wind to pass through these natural draught ways. At times the roar of the fire and the tongues of flame and volcanic like volumes of smoke made the scene most impressive.

It was generally rumored that the fire was started by an incendiary in the lath piles, and that the breeze soon carried it to the lumber when it had made considerable headway before being discovered. The loss is not yet known, but it was estimated at anywhere from $25,000 to $50,000. Up to going to press the amount of insurance was only conjectural. The firemen and engine returned to the city about one p.m. Mr. R. M. Roy, the Hunter street photographer, who happened to be passing in his yacht, took several snap shots at the fire during the various stages of its progress. The results turned out well as is usual with this artist's work. Three photographs were on exhibition at the entrance to his studio. They show the fire shortly after starting, at its worst and as partly under control.

Peterboro Lost to Cobourg Saturday

By a Score of 6 Runs to 3---Lakeshore Nine a Strong Aggregation

The Midland League ball game at Riverside Park, Saturday afternoon, Cobourg vs. Peterborough, resulted in the defeat of the locals by a score of 6—2. The game was one of the fastest seen here this season. The Cobourg club, is alleged to have had six imports playing on their team Saturday, their battery and four other men on the team belonging to Rochester, N.Y. Downs, who pitched for the Lakeside aggregation, although hit often, kept the singles well scattered, and was accorded good support by his team mates. "Prunes" Quinlan for the locals, pitched a good game, but a few errors behind him at critical periods, proved disastrous. Haliburton and Cheetham for the locals, also played good ball, their fielding being a feature of the game.

Harry Burridge was right on the job behind the bat, but was not up to his usual form with the stick.

The visitors were the tidiest bunch of ball players seen here for a long time, every man played his position well.

Not a player of either team got around the sacks until the last of the fifth, when Peterborough got one run. That started the fans in the grandstand, and the bunch got busy. Cobourg came up in the first of the sixth, and counted for three, adding three more in the eighth. Peterborough getting one in the ninth.

A large crowd of spectators witnessed the game.

Toronto won both games from Rochester on Saturday.

Jersey City defeated Providence.

Baltimore won two from Newark.

It was the greatest of all games Saturday at the Toronto Island, when Tecumsehs and Shamrocks met to decide the leadership of the National Lacrosse Union. The Indians secured first, the only one in the first quarter, while the Irishmen took the only two in the second and at half time Shamrocks were ahead 2—1, and at full time 4—3.

Fully 10,000 people were on the grounds and several thousands more were unable to crowd through the

The Young Torontos defeated Newmarket by 4 to 3 on Saturday in a C.L.A. game on the former's grounds.

Woodbridge defaulted a Junior C.L.A. game to Toronto Junction.

At Brantford the Guelph Junior C.L.A. team was trounced by the locals by 18 to 6.

At Acton, in the intermediate C.L.A., Galt won by 6—5. At full time the score was 5—5, and 10 minutes' overtime had to be played.

ALLEGED DIPS ON TRIAL THIS MORNING

Phelps And His Gang (sic) Will be Tried Before Judge Weller

Police Claim They Will Produce Strong Evidence.

This morning Phelps, Bradford, Lewis and Goldfield, arrested on June 25th on the charge of having appropriated the pocket books and sundry coin of the realm, without the immediate knowledge of the owners of said property will come up for trial before his Honor Judge Charles Weller. These men will have, if the evidence adduced at the several police court trials is corroborated and especially made more strong, a hard time to establish their innocence.

It will be remembered, as noted in future issues that on circus day, June 25th that a large number of citizens returned from the circus and when digging down to their pockets for money to pay for anything from baby carriages, ice cream or lager found that thing in their pockets that mature dates, viz., a vacuum. The police were notified and P. C. Newhall and P. C. McDonald got busy, hot on the trail of those who had created these vacuums. They succeeded during the afternoon, in grabbing four young men, who have their home as New York City. It will be remembered that during the preliminary trials in the police court, the wife and mother of the prisoner Bradford were present in court, but have since returned home. It is alleged that the young man Phelps, whose portrait in this issue shows a man with white tie holding a straw hat is the leader of the gang. His portrait has been identified by the police of Detroit as being that of a man arrested there for picking pockets but who was not convicted. Another of the prisoner's photos has been also identified as a pickpocket who in Detroit, was fined $50 and given 30 days in the city prison. There is now in the city a man from New York who is a friend of the prisoner Lewis, and who intends to leave no stone unturned to secure the latters acquittal. Lewis it is contended is an expert boxer who has sparred in Buffalo and Montreal.

As the gathering in of a supposed bunch of practical skilled pickpockets in Peterborough is fortunately of rare occurrence of need, we present the portraits of these men herewith.

No doubt there will be a large attendance at this morning's court.

A NOBLEMAN'S DIRE POVERTY

Poor Baronet Dies in House of Servant

Sir John William Honywood, Former Wealthy Kentish Landowner Passes Away in Mean Folkestone Cottage.

London, July 27.—A very favorite character in fiction is the old family servant who, when adversity overtakes his master, offers him a home where he can spend the evening of his life.

An instance in which truth was at least as strange as fiction was brought to light by the death of Sir John William Honywood, formerly a wealthy Kentish landowner, whose death in the cottage of a former servant at Folkestone was reported yesterday.

The entailed family estates at Evington, near Ashford, cover about 6700 acres. Sir John Honywood succeeded to these as the eighth baronet when 21 years of age; but heavy charges on the estate and the great agricultural depression of recent years caused the revenue to be reduced almost to vanishing point.

The last few years were particularly unfortunate ones for the baronet. Broken in health by his struggle with adversity and possessing only the merest pittance, he went to Folkestone and took up his quarters with an old family servant, in a cottage in a small back street. The servant is Mrs. Bevis, who, with her husband, resides in Garden Road.

She stated, in an interview yesterday, that she was in the service of the Honywood family for some years, and as a child lived in the neighborhood of Evington. She spoke with the greatest sympathy for Sir John Honywood and his family.

"He came here thirteen months ago with the intention of stopping for a month," she said. "We made him as comfortable as we could, but it was sad to see the old master brought so low. He had been in bad health for some time, and continued to live with us. He was only 50 years old."

Sir John Honywood was a county alderman for Kent until recently.

Japan's Naval Plans Now Formulated

Paris, July 29.—Gil Blas this morning publishes an interview with Vice-Admiral Ijuin, commander of the Japanese navy. Asked if Japan had not decided in view of recent happenings, to enlarge her programme of naval construction, the Vice-Admiral said:

"We have a naval programme for several years ahead and we shall execute it punctually and rigorously as do the great nations of Europe. But this programme has not been enlarged in recent months and it stands as it did when originated by the admiralty last year."

Continuing, the Vice-Admiral said it was inexact to declare that the Japanese loan would be used for the increases of naval power, and explained this money would be devoted to the construction of railroads and other construction in Manchuria. "We are satisfied with the navy," Vice-Admiral Ijuin went on, "and we believe this branch will be able to cope with all eventualities. The Japanese parliament while refusing nothing for defence holds us rigorously to the naval appropriations and these we never exceed. We are to build three warships of the type of the Tsukuba, but more powerful, and they are to be constructed in Japanese yards, from material furnished by Japanese industry."

Vice-Admiral Ijuin knows nothing of any intention on the part of Japan to build warships for China. "We are interested in all things concerning the grandeur and welfare of the Asiatic races," he said, "but up to the present time we have not had to concern ourselves with Chinese matters. China has not yet seriously [illegible] the reorganization of [illegible]

Michigan Man on a Murder Charge

Married Stenographer After Wife's Death--Is Now Accused of Murdering First Wife.

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—With the return of Frederick A. Magill and his young bride from San Diego, Cal., where they were arrested, to their old home in Clinton, this state, to answer to the charge of administering poison to Magill's first wife, interest in the case has greatly increased and a large section of Illinois is eagerly awaiting further developments. Opinion in the home town of the former banker is divided on the question of his guilt. While his past record has not been altogether creditable, he was never known to be guilty of any serious offence, and his former friends are of the opinion that his present predicament is due wholly to his disregard to public opinion in marrying his former stenographer so soon after the death of his wife. On the other hand, there are many persons who do not hesitate to declare their belief in the truth of the grave charges brought against Magill, and it is not to be denied that there is strong circumstantial evidence against him.

The letters purporting to have been sent by the dead woman are peculiar features of the case. To Mrs. Magill's night dress was pinned a note saying she had killed herself with strychnine, and giving directions as to the funeral. There were three other communications found. One of these was addressed to Magill, another to his daughter, 19 years old, and a third to Miss Fay Graham, the second Mrs. Magill. The tenor of these letters were the same. They exonerated Magill and Miss Graham from all blame. Miss Graham was mentioned as the best friend Mrs. Magill had. The father, daughter and Miss Graham were advised to stick to each other, and the daughter was told to approve everything her father did. Magill read these letters to many friends, but no one outside of the coroner's jury has seen them. The coroner's inquest, at the request of Magill, was conducted with secrecy, the coroner refusing to make any of the details public. It is the theory of the state's attorney, that Magill aided by Miss Graham, concoted the letter scheme and that the woman wrote them at his dictation.

After the death of his wife and his decision to marry Fay Graham, Magill, who had already squandered a fortune, made a final stand in the direction of money matters. He sold his house and lot, it is said, drew his last dollar from his father's estate and got together $5,000. With this money he and Miss Graham and his daughter, Miss Marguerite, left Clinton secretly on June 30th last. No one knew the destination of the trio. Miss Graham, who is the daughter of respected residents of Clinton, led them to believe she was going to Chicago to secure work as a stenographer. Magill and Miss Graham were married in Denver on July 5th. They then proceeded to make a leisurely tour of the West. On July 13, the pair were arrested in San Diego, Cal. Both declared that their trouble was the result of a conspiracy on the part of the family of the first Mrs. Magill.

PUBLIC SUSPICION AROUSED.

The sudden death of Mrs. Magill, the departure of Magill and Miss Graham from Clinton and the news received of their early marriage caused no end of gossip in their home town. The pressure of public opinion became so strong that the state's attorney felt forced to take radical action. He ordered an investigation to be made into the circumstances of Mrs. Magill's death and in the meantime ordered the arrest of Magill and his bride on what he considered sufficient evidence to warrant their being taken into custody. Magill is specially charged with administering poison to his wife, and his bride is charged with being an accomplice. The action of the state's attorney in bringing the charges is being supported by nearly the entire population of Clinton.

JAMAICAN FAMINE

Governor Learns of 10,000 Victims—Starving People Paying Taxes.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 27.—The famine in the St. Elizabeth district is growing in seriousness. The local government is blamed for not taking proper measures to prevent to suffering. Governor Olivier, who is investigating the situation, learns that there are 10,000 victims.

A scandal has been disclosed in the Newton district of St. Elizabeth, where starving people, naked, without schools and ignorant of all religion, have nevertheless been paying taxes.

One of the newspapers here predicts that Jamaica will become part of the United States, which will give Great Britain the Philippines in return for the island.

Mother of Kittens

Bloomington, Ill., July 27.—A hen at R. Elmen's farm near Tampico, has adopted a litter of kittens, the mother of which was killed on account of her insatiable appetite for young poultry. An old hen who had been denied the privilege of sitting decided to look after the kittens.

SUGAR CO. CREDITORS GET THEIR CHEQUES

Those Who Compromised at 40 Cents on the Dollar Get No More.

The liquidator of the Sugar Company has mailed cheques to the creditors of the company in settlement of the claims held against it. A few of the creditors will receive the full amount of their claims, though one hundred per cent. is being paid, the great majority of them had previously assigned their claims to the promoters of the company for 40 cents on the dollar. The shareholders who have paid their money for stock will be dealt with now, and it is expected that they will receive about five per cent. of the amount they paid in. At this they consider themselves fortunate in not having to pay additional calls on their stock to pay the creditors. The large sum received for the sale of the land to Hon. Geo. A. Cox enabled the liquidator to realize enough to give the creditors the 100 per cents., and still leave a small return for the shareholders.

Following is a list of creditors whose claims have been settled. The first list embraces those who have been paid the whole amount of their claims, and represents those who did not assign their claims, while those who accepted the 40 per cent. are named below;

FREIGHT CARTED ON THE PAVEMENTS.

Police Should Debar Boys With Express Waggons From Sidewalks

The small boy with an express wagon or delivery cart, on our city pavements is as bad a nuisance both audibly and in contact with the legs of pedestrians as can be imagined. We have called attention several times to boys who recklessly either coast down George street pavements on these wagons or drag them at high speed irrespective of the nerves or understandings of passersby.

Yesterday afternoon however the limit was reached when a boy with an expressed wagon loaded with lumber projecting fully six feet each way ran down the west side of George street. Pedestrians had to dodge both the charging foe, if in time our police force relegate these carts to the road where they belong. It is bad enough to have baby carriages run into pedestrians. In this case however, the carriages are driven by women who, whilst not possibly caring about the public, are too afraid of their precious cargoes to do much damage. The irresponsible boy and his express wagon is however a different proposition.

TO BUILD WALKS OF CEMENT BLOCKS

Experiment in Sidewalk Building Will Be Tried in Port Hope

The experiemtn of building sidewalks cement blocks, which has been successful in many cities, is to be tried in Port Hope says The Times. Mr. W. R. Chislett is building the moulds and, will make the test. He has selected for making the blocks a spot at the beach where sand and gravel are convenient. The blocks are about 6 inches thick, the same thickness as the ordinary cement walks, and will measure 4 feet by 6 feet. They may be laid either way, according to the width of walk. It is claimed that the cost of laying walks in this manner is 50 per cent less than he old method. In laying a walk all that is necessary is to have the ground graded after which the blocks are set in place. Cracked walks caused by frost are unknown where blocks are used. If a block becomes broken it can easily be replaced.

314 FEET LONG

One Would Fancy This Tale Was Stretched a Little.

Baggs, Wyo., July 27.—The most important discovery ever made in the great fossil beds of Wyoming is the skeleton of an animal of the lizard type, just found, which shows a length of 314 feet.

It is by far the largest prehistoric animal yet discovered. The skeleton, which was found by an expedition from the Wyoming State university, is in a perfect state of preservation, every bone seeming to have been in place when petrifikation set in.

The skeleton is in the side of a hill of shale and has not been torn entirely from the slope in which it is imbedded, but the whole length can be seen.

One vertebra, which has been removed, weighed more than 1,000 pounds. The skeleton will be placed in the Wyoming State university, which has the greatest collection of fossils in the world.

Child Takes Trip From Russia

New York, July 27.—Adorned with a motley array of tags which were pinned on his coat, shirt and trousers in many cities on the route from Taroff Minsk, Russia, to this city, seven-year-old Benjamin Meyerson is quartered in the Hebrew home for immigrants in this city. He is bound for Omaha, where his parents, who left Russia several years ago, now reside.

At Montreal on Monday 1,500 fountain pens were impounded by customs officers for non-payment of duty.

WOMAN TOOK LEAD IN PLOT AGAINST CZAR

Information for Conspirators Was Supplied by Milkmaids

St., Petersburg, July 27.—The authorities will very soon be in a position, as a result of their investigations, to issue indictments in the matter of the recent plot against the life of Emperor Nicholas.

It is now known that women took the leading parts in this conspiracy. The principals are Madame Prodossnik, wife of a well known St. Petersburg lawyer, a woman called "Comrade Nina," alias Petrova, who took the most prominent part in the activities and who succeeded in making her escape to a foreign country; Boris Nikitenko, a retired naval lieutenant; Nasonoff, a mail clerk; Meinne, an instructor in the Imperial Lyceum, and three lawyers, Brussoff, Chabroff, and Zavadsky.

The man actually chosen to kill the Emperor is named Klossovsky. The plans of the conspirators was to have this individual make his way into the presence of the Emperor while clad in the uniform of a sergeant of the Imperial Convoy. The indictments detail the various stratagems employed by the plotters to obtain the desired information of the habits and movements of the Emperor, and show that espionage to this end was conducted in part through the medium of milkmaids who supplied the Royal kitchens.

A BIT OF LAW

Dentists Trying To Discover Just Where They Stand

Hamilton, July 29.—A summons with a story behind it was issued by the police magistrate against James Henry, of Toronto. The Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario are behind the move, although Acting-Chief Prentice was ostensibly the informer. The man summoned, although living in Toronto, is the proprietor of the Painless Dental parlors, this city. According to the law, any man who does dentistry work without graduating from the college is liable to be prosecuted. Mr. Henry, it is stated, is not a graduate of thecollege and neither does he do any actual dentistry work. His employes, however, are graduates, and the question at point is whether Mr. Henry, not being a graduate, can make his living by employing men holding certificates to do his work. It is somewhat of a test case, andwhether the proprietor of the parlors would be liable for his employes' work in another point at issue.

These Medical Facts

You Can Study With Profit

How few realize that twenty-five per cent. of all disease has its origin in some interference with the function of elimination.

The whole body exists by reason of the transfusion of fluids through its component parts.

Up to a certain point the body has power to reject to destructive elements, but this power is limited.

When it happens that the body is loaded with wastes and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and germ life run riot through the blood.

Serious illness is the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury, no bismuth, no injurious metallic ingredient of any kind.

Such a medicine is the greatest possible assurance to every man and woman of health, spirits and contentment.

Grand results are achieved and famous cures made every day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, as this letter proves.

From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Upper Gullies, Conception Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I must say that I have used them with grand success for three years. They never fail to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples, but now my complexion is clear and ruddy. In more ways than I care to mention have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use."

Insist on having only Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 29, 1907.

A CANADIAN MESSAGE TO ENGLAND

A recent issue of one of the leading English monthly reviews, the Nineteenth Century and After, contained an advertisement of "The Philanthropic Society's Farm School," which makes reading more thought-provoking than pleasant. The advertisement is an appeal for subscriptions to the "Emigration Fund," of the society. It states that the School "receives the worst type of juvenile delinquents"; and adds that "the boys are thoroughly trained in farm work and useful trades and emigrated to English colonies."

Now this is just the class of immigrants that Canada does not want, and it is important that we should help the charitable workers of the home land to realize our point of view. That they do not do so is eminently clear in this case. Obvious it should be necessary only to place the facts before them and they would see the impolicy, the grave risk involved in sending such children out to Canada.

There should be no misunderstanding as to exactly what our attitude is. We recognize that the object of the charitable workers in this class of work in England is the eminently commendable one of saving these children from lives of crime and making them useful members of society. With that object we entirely sympathize, only we think that the English people should not ask us to bear the risk of the experiment. And upon consideration they must undoubtedly see that there is risk in sending out to a new country and away from any restraint there might be in familiar surroundings, "the worst type of juvenile delinquents," even though they have been "thoroughly trained in farm work and useful trades." Canada is anxious to receive settlers of English blood to help her citizens in building up here a nation within the British Empire. But we want England's strong in morals as well as in muscle. Her criminals and her charitable experiments, at least, when their subjects are drawn from the criminal classes we think she should keep at home. We have problems enough of this kind of our own.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Possibly the public do not stop to consider the value of the work being accomplished through the medium of these societies in Ontario. The chasm that exists between the results obtained by rescuing a child and placing it on the road to useful citizenship, and those which follow in the wake of neglect and even abuse, is a mighty one. The work and influence of a good citizenship cannot be estimated, and the very reverse fitting type of the unworthy citizen.

Years ago the Ontario Government took this question of child rescue up in a practical way and placed Mr. J. J. Kelso in charge. The movement, like all such radical departures from the old beaten path, met with considerable opposition. It was not unnatural that prejudice should exist, for the public had been taught to believe that the only way to rescue a wrongdoer, either aged or juvenile, was through the rugged road of punishment. The idea, too, of forcibly removing children from their parents' jurisdiction, was also looked upon with scant approval. Even this spirit was not absent from the Legislature.

However, the appointment was made, and at once Mr. Kelso proceeded to apply the humane doctrine of kindness to the little offendors and held out a hope to them of a useful life, surrounded by kindness. The result has been most gratifying, and hundreds of bright, though neglected children have been placed in homes in Ontario where in nearly every instance they have remained true to the confidence reposed in them. Still the work continues and the harvest of good results is a most bountiful one.

The Peterborough society is doing excellent work, and citizens can find no broader or more useful field in which to interest themselves than this very one of assisting in adding to the wealth of the country's good citizenship by helping the waifs on the way thitherward.

Contest Gave Great Satisfaction

Mr. Somerville's Visit Resulted in Appreciated Result

The Times has since its inception always taken a deep interest in what affects directly or indirectly the interests of our farming community. Some time since we noted that the Cow Testing Association, as represented by Mr. Somerville of Brockville, was going to hold tests in this district. Mr. Somerville has visited the Pine Grove and Shearer associations.

There were good attendances each time, and a great deal of interest was shown in the discussion. All the farmers who have been connected with the association expressed delight with the system, as it gave them positive records of what each cow of their herds was doing every month.

Mr. T. H. Binnie, who has been attending to the work in the local district, was present at both meetings and gave a review of what he had accomplished.

Troops Orders Are Withdrawn

Duluth, Minn., July 27.—Unless conditions attending the strike of ore miners become more aggravated than they are at present State troops will not be mailed to the Mesabi range. This was decided by Governor Johnson after an inspection of conditions at Hibbings, Virginia, and Eveleth, the three principal towns in the strike area.

Whether the strike will be settled soon depends in large measure on the action of a conference between representatives of the new Ore Handlers' Union and Railway Officers. It is believed by those in close touch with the situation that if the corporation recognizes the new union and the men go back to work, the miners strike will cease.

SAD END OF GREAT TENOR

Allentown, Pa., July 27.—Once a great song genius of Europe, but in this country only a character made unique by disappointment, Charles Weiss died in the county poorhouse yesterday. Before becoming a ward of the county, Weiss had lived the life of a hermit on the Lehigh mountains for years.

Born in Germany 79 years ago, Weiss came of a prominent family and he associated with the most brilliant musical geniuses of that country. He was a personal friend of Mendelssohn. He possessed a fine tenor voice and he sang in grand opera in all the principal cities of Europe. Among his intimates were Standigl, the basso, who sang the part of Elijah when that oratorio was first produced in England, Jenny Wagner, in her day the greatest alto in Germany, and Herr Steger, the great German tenor.

Weiss came to this country to seek his fortune. He never found it, and disappointed, he retired to the mountains of Lehigh and became a hermit.

NEWEST APRONS.

They May Be Daintily Trimmed With Lace and Ribbons.

The dainty aprons which appeal so strongly to a woman can be made to be both useful and ornamental. Both for fancy work and afternoon tea or for a chafing dish party a pretty apron is a very necessary as well as an attractive addition to one's dress.

Every one likes a novelty, and even the work apron can be cut in a new shape, while those for afternoon tea or to be used with the chafing dish can be made as charming as possible.

They may be very elaborate with lace and embroidery and bright ribbons to add to their beauty or quite simple of fine sheer material, with a featherstitched ruffle, edged with valenciennes lace, as the only decoration.

Some women wear fancy aprons when they are dressed for an afternoon at home, and a fine white one can be changed in appearance by having several shades of delicate ribbons to use on different occasions.

These aprons are tiny affairs, just large enough to serve the purpose and preserve the name. The more useful work apron should be of generous proportions, as it is not generally used for dressy occasions.

Colored embroidery is used frequently upon fancy aprons with dainty effect and is a welcome change from the all white embroidery.

Attractive little aprons of colored lawn or dimity are shown to be worn with light dresses. One of pale blue lawn, embroidered with white mercerised cotton, will be quite effective. The ruffle on this is graduated in shape and lies perfectly smooth along the sides.

The hem is finished with featherstitching, also in white, and edged with valenciennes lace. Large polka dots are embroidered around the edge of the apron where the ruffle is joined, and this hem may also be finished with featherstitching.

The band for the top is of wide cambric beading, through which pale blue satin ribbon is run for the strings.

Any light color, also white, can be used for this apron.

FILTERING WATER.

A Cheap Method of Purifying Drinking Water.

As efficient a filter as can possibly be secured may be made in a few minutes by any one at the cost of a few cents.

Take a new flowerpot, close the opening in the bottom with a piece of sponge, on top of which place a layer of small stones, previously well cleaned. The layer should be about two inches deep. The upper stones should be smaller.

Next procure some freshly burned charcoal, which has not been kept in a damp or ill aired place. Reduce this to sarpowder and mix it with twice its bulk with sharp, cleanly washed sand.

With this mixture fill the pot to within a few inches from the top, cover it with another layer of small stones and place a piece of flannel around the rim. The flannel should be large enough to tie around the pot and also to leave a little hollow in the center.

The charcoal should be renewed about twice a month.

SEWING ROOM NOTES.

If a yoke is not desired on the back of the waist, it is always advisable to put one of muslin across the shoulders on the inside. The waist wears much better, for the strain is lessened.

Tucked shirt waists are much more satisfactory in appearance and fit if the tucking is done before the waist is cut out. Tuck a long strip for the two fronts. In this way they are sure to be alike without so much tiresome measuring.

The temptation to keep one's thimble on when not in use is a great one, but it is one which should be resisted. The constant pressure will partially change the shape of the end of the finger, and the heating and consequent moisture will soften the nail.

Home Dressmaking.

To get a child's skirt perfectly even at the bottom let the child kneel on a table; then turn the skirt up and pin or mark the exact length with a piece of tailor's chalk. Another way which will be found to simplify the dreaded ordeal of hanging a skirt, but which should not be depended on as final, is to baste the waistband of a finished skirt and that of the one being made together and hang the skirt on a skirt hanger; then mark the new skirt at the bottom according to the length of the old one. Baste the skirt up and try on. It will be quite easy to make any little alteration that may be found necessary.

Finger Cakes.

Beat two eggs very light, add one tablespoonful of vanilla and a cup of sugar, reserving two tablespoonfuls. Stir in one cupful of cream of tartar and one-half teaspoonful of soda, adding a half saltspoonful of salt. Add flour to make stiff dough. Roll into a thin sheet, dredge with reserved sugar, pressing it in lightly with rolling pin. Cut into strips a finger in width. Bake light brown in a quick oven, being careful that the strips do not touch one another.

Tomato and Cucumber Salad.

Put lettuce on plates. Peel tomato carefully, cut out the top and scoop out some of the seeds. Dice cucumbers and mix with the dressing. Fill the tomatoes if preferred. Put more dressing over all. Do not put cucumbers in salt water, as they get too soft.

Think They've Found The Real Holy Grail

London, July 26.—The Express prints a story of the discovery, near Glastonbury Abbey, of a glass vessel of beautiful workmanship and apparently of great antiquity, which the discoverers believe is the Holy Grail of the Arthurian legend. The Holy Grail is the cup which Christ is reputed to have drunk of at the last supper, and, according to ancient British tradition, that was brought to England by Joseph of Arimathea, after the crucifixion.

The vessel is of bluish green glass of some kind, cunningly inlaid with of some kind, cunningly inlaid with silver leaf. A number of eminent persons, including some peers with ecclesiastical interests have examined it. It is now in the possession of Prof. William Crookes, who has undertaken to solve its history.

CURTAIN CLEANING.

The Proper Way to Wash Handsome Lace Curtains.

Great care should be taken to remove all iron rust or mold stains with oxalic acid before the curtains are wet. The curtains should be placed in cold water to soak about twelve hours and should then be squeezed out and placed in a fresh lot of water for some hours, repeating this until no more dirt comes out. They should then be thoroughly washed in warm water with plenty of soap. After washing it improves the looks of the curtains to boil them. They should then be passed through blued water to avoid the yellow appearance and afterward dried out of doors in the bright sun.

After the curtains are dried they should be starched, using raw starch if they are to be ironed and boiled starch if they are to be dried in a frame or pinned to the floor.

If the curtains are to be ironed, they must be rolled in a clean cloth for some hours, and if they are to be dried by pinning out flat they should be pinned to a sheet and pulled out evenly, so that the pattern and shape appear all right. Ironing should always be done on a board of such length that the full width of the curtain can be ironed at once. Moderately hot irons only should be used, and the curtains should be kept square as the work proceeds. After they have been ironed the frills, if there are any, should then be attended to.

A GIRL'S OWN ROOM.

She Should Remember an Overcrowded Bedroom Is a Horror.

It is natural for every girl to want her own little nest to look as attractive as possible, and she should be encouraged in it.

Let her learn to have around her the books that are really hers, the photographs of her special friends, the little pieces of bric-a-brac which she has picked up here and there and which were given to her at different times.

But remember that there must be sufficient space to move around comfortably and not to lumber the dressing table with trifles of no moment when the room should be saved for the brushes and the numerous boxes and bottles that hold the toilet belongings.

An overcrowded bedroom is a horror and an inconvenience. Have one or two big easy chairs with a view of not only the comfort of today, but of the time when it is possible one may be a bit of an invalid and want a comfortable chair to be enshrined in.

The chairs need not be richly upholstered ones, but of rattan or of wood, made delightful with great soft cushions.

Try to make the nest as pretty as a girl's bedroom should be, and it will help materially in developing the sort of woman all mothers wish their daughters to be.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 600,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

This is a straight Business Undertaking.

The Smelting of Ore is the safest and most profitable business in the world.

We have fifteen mining properties, located in Kern County, California, carrying good values in Gold, Silver and Copper.

The smelter nearest to us is at Needles, 250 miles distant.

We propose to install on our properties a smelter to treat the ores from our own mines and to do custom smelting for others.

50 per cent. per annum is a moderate estmiate of the profits we can earn. If you want to make a safe and profitable investment send for full information and investigate our proposition.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

quite as abruptly and re-entered the room whence she had come. She laughed again to her fat friend as she passed him and, still laughing, went toward the fatal chair, when her eyes caught sight of Eugene Bantry and Mamie coming in through the window. She went to the window and looked out. The porch seemed deserted and was faintly illuminated by a few Japanese lanterns. She sprang out, dropped upon the divan and, burying her face in her hands, cried heartbrokenly. Presently she felt something alive touch her foot, and, her breath catching with alarm, she started to rise. A thin hand, issuing from a shabby sleeve, had stolen out between two of the green tubs and was pressing upon one of her shoes.

"Sh!" said Joe. "Don't make a noise! What were you crying about?"

"Nothing," she said, the tears not ceasing to gather in her eyes.

"I want to know what it was," he insisted. "Didn't the fools ask you to dance? Well, what do you care about that for?"

"I don't," she answered; "I don't." Then suddenly, without being able to prevent it, she sobbed.

She gave way all at once to a gust of sorrow and bitterness. She bent far over and caught his hand and laid it against her wet cheek. "Oh, Joe," she whispered brokenly, "I think we have such hard lives, you and I! It doesn't seem right while we're so young! Why can't we be like the others? Why can't we have some of the fun?"

He withdrew his hand with the embarrassment and shame he would have felt had she been a boy. "Get out!" he said feebly.

She did not seem to notice, but, still stooping, rested her elbows on her knees and her face in her hands. "I try so hard to have fun, to be like the rest, and it's always a mistake, always, always, always!" She rocked herself slightly from side to side. "I am a fool, it's the truth, or I wouldn't have come tonight. I want to be attractive. I want to be in things. I want to laugh like they do."

"I'll tell you something," Joe whispered, chuckling desperately. "Gene made me unpack his trunk, and I don't believe he's as great a man at college as he is here. I opened one of his books, and some one had written in it, 'Prigamaloo Bantry, the Class Try-to-Be!' He'd never noticed, and you ought to have heard him go on! You'd have just died, Ariel. I almost bust wide open. It was a mean trick in me, but I couldn't help showing it to him."

Joe's object was obtained. She stopped crying and, wiping her eyes, smiled faintly. Then she became grave. "You're jealous of Eugene," she said.

He considered this for a moment. "Yes," he answered thoughtfully, "I am. But I wouldn't think about him differently on that account. And I wouldn't talk about him to any one but you."

"You must go away," she said anxiously. "Oh, please, Joe!"

"Not yet. I want"—

She coughed loudly. Eugene and Mamie Pike had come to the window, with the evident intention of occupying the veranda; but, perceiving Ariel engaged with threads in her sleeve, they turned away and disappeared.

They made three false starts and then got away.

Other couples looked out from time to time and, finding the solitary figure in possession, retreated abruptly to seek stairways and remote corners for the things they were impelled to say.

And so Ariel held the porch for three dances and three intermissions, occupying a great part of the time with entreaties that her obdurate and reckless companion should go. When for the fourth time the music sounded, her agitation had so increased that she was visibly trembling. "I can't stand it, Joe," she said, bending over him. "I don't know what would happen if they found you. You've got to go!"

"No; I haven't," he chuckled. "They haven't even distributed the supper yet."

"And you take all the chances," she said slowly, "just to see her pass that window a few times."

"What chances?"

"Of what the judge will do if any one sees you."

"Nothing, because if any one saw me I'd leave."

"Please go."

"Not till"—

"Eh?"

A colored waiter [illegible] came out upon the [illegible] of salad, [illegible] oysters and coffee. Ariel shook her head.

"I don't want any," she murmured.

The waiter turned [illegible] was re-entering the window, when a passionate whisper fell upon his ear as well as upon Ariel's.

"Take it!"

"Ma'am?" said the waiter.

"I've changed my mind," she replied quickly. The waiter, his elation restored, gave of his viands with the superfluous bounty loved by his race when distributing the product of the wealthy.

When he had gone, "Give me everything that's hot," said Joe. "You can keep the salad."

"I couldn't eat it or anything else," she answered, thrusting the plate between the palms.

For a time there was silence. From within the house came the continuous babble of voices and laughter, the clink of cutlery on china. The young people spent a long time over their supper. By and by the waiter returned to the veranda, deposited a plate of colored ices upon Ariel's knees with a noble gesture and departed.

"No ice for me," said Joe.

"Won't you please go now?" she entreated.

"It wouldn't be good manners," he responded. "They might think I only came for supper."

"Hand me back the things. The waiter might come for them any minute."

"Take them, then. You'll see that jealousy hasn't spoiled my appetite"—

A bottle shaped figure appeared in the window, and she had no time to take the plate and cup which were being pushed through the palm leaves. She whispered a syllable of warning, and the dishes were hurriedly withdrawn as Norbert Flitcroft, wearing a solemn expression of injury, came out upon the veranda.

He halted suddenly. "What's that?" he asked, with suspicion.

"Nothing," answered Ariel sharply. "Where?"

"Behind those palms."

"Probably your own shadow," she laughed; "or it might have been a draft moving the leaves."

He did not seem satisfied, but stared hard at the spot where the dishes had disappeared, meantime edging back cautiously nearer the window.

He Meant Well.

Not long ago a young Irishman was seeking work in western Illinois, and among those to whom he applied was a farmer near Cairo.

The farmer was attracted by the Celt's frank, pleasing manner, and while he was not in need of help he asked after a time:

"Can you cradle?"

"Cradle!" repeated the Irishman. "Sure, I can! But sir," he added persuasively, "couldn't ye give me a job out of doors?"

The Canadian Magazine

The holiday equipment would be well supplemented with a copy of the August number of The Canadian Magazine, which contains a good supply of short stories and excellently illustrated travel articles. The art features are exceedingly good this month, the wash and pen drawings being above the average. With one or two exceptions, for instance, an article entitled "Party Government," by Prof. Goldwin Smith, the number contains light, warm-weather reading.

New Gas Works Building

The Peterborough Light and Power Company, are building a "governor" house just at the entrance to their works on Simcoe street. In the past the "governor" or apparatus for regulating the flow of gas from the holder to the city mains has only been six inches in diameter, whilst the new one will be twelve inches in diameter and thus have a far more comprehensive control over the gas supply exit. The new house covering the governor is being made of brick.

Kingston People After Cheap Power

Mr. Wm. Monds, C.E., of the firm Kingston News says:

Mr. Wm. Mons, C.E., of the firm of Connor, Clarke & Monds, consulting engineers, of Toronto, is in Kingston today with Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of the Northumberland and Durham Power Company, who propose to supply power to the lake front towns from Healey's Falls. They first consulted with Ald. Joye, chairman of the Light, Heat and Power Committee, and afterwards made a tour of the power users of Kingston, in order to form an estimate of the quantity of power used, with a view of submitting later a low rate for power from Healey's Falls. A low rate for Kingston would be out of the question if the power had to be brought direct from Healey's Falls to Kingston, but by the plan to supply it to intermediate points it is hoped the problem of cheap power for Kingston will be solved

Local Burglar Disturbed

Peterboro Man Found Thief After His Silverware.

On Friday night, after the weary [illegible] scribes of The Times had gone to their "downy beds of ease," a real live burglar was getting in his nefarious work. It seems that this gatherer of coin without accompaniment of the sweat of his brow, was caught red-handed searching the contents of sideboard drawer in a residence in the north-western part of the city. An inmate of the house came face to face with the thief, causing the latter to vacate the premises quicker than a feather would scorch in Gehenna, and leaving nothing behind to expose his identity. The owner of the residence whose duties cause him to be out late at nights arrived home about two o'clock and went to bed.

Awakening a couple of hours later for reasons of his own the householder went down stairs. On his way down he switched on the hall lamp and entered the dining room where he turned the dining room where he turned on another light. His footsteps were unheard by the burglar.

Opening the door leading to the kitchen and turning on the electric light, the owner saw a man standing—but only for a moment—in front of the sideboard with his hands in one of the drawers. The burglar gave up his search and made for the door opening into the woodshed to the rear. He ran out into the night through a back door he had left open and disappeared down the sidewalk.

Venezuela Declines to Agree to U. S. Terms

Caracas, Venezuela, July 28.— The foreign office yesterday handed over to the American minister, W. W. Russell, the answer of the Venezuelan government to the second note from Secretary Root regarding the arbitration of five American claims.

The government persists in its refusal to arbitrate the claims in question. The reply is a lengthy document and answers in detail the arguments advanced by Mr. Root.

The opinion is held here in some quarters that this answer may lead to the severing of diplomatic relations between Venezuela and the United States.

Is Steamship Engine To Pass Away?

Washington, July 29.—Auxiliary to its investigation of the problem of the best utilization of the fuel resources of the country and the eradication of the smoke evil in cities, the technologic branch of the United States geological survey has developed some remarkable results tending show the passing of the steam engine in the near future and the rise in its stead of the gas engine, or, it is now more familiarly termed by engineers, the internal combination motor.

The result of the experiments which have been under way at the fuel testing plant at St. Louis for several years, and which recently, have been continued by the government experts at Norfolk, Va., have just been made public by the geological survey. Manufacturers throughout the country are taking an intense interest in the work of the government, as a better utilization of fuel means economy in the production of goods that will give Americans larger opportunities in the trade of the world.

MAY SAVE $200,000,000.

The people as a whole will be interested, moreover, in the prediction of the experts that eventually the tests will effect a saving of between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 annually in the country's coal bill. In 1905 this aggregated $1,500,000,000. It is estimated that $500,000,000, or one-third of this vast amount, was spent for coal to produce power, so the economy involved on the part of those buy fuel to make steam is a matter of momentous consideration.

On the other hand, the ordinary consumer of fuel will be interested to know that experiments with internal combination motors show that low grades of coal and ignite heretofore useless as producers of steam power, can be utilized to better advantage than high grade coal under steam boilers, the result being that increased demand will open the low grade bituminous and lignite sections to mining operations, and even create a market for what is now a power producing fuel, and thus reduce the price of soft coal and anthracite used for household and other domestic purposes. In short science is coming to the aid of the consumer in his fight against the coal baron and his high prices.

Franklin's Theory

What Was Called a Delusion May Have to be Accepted

More than a hundred years have elapsed since Benjamin Franklin, employing a phraseology now superseded, put forth a theory of matter. It was pronounced "a delusion" by the physicists of the nineteenth century, but the scientists of the twentieth century, according to Sir Oliver Lodge, may be forced to rehabilitate it as the only means of issue from the labyrinth in which all physical study is now involved. Stripped of technical verbiage and put briefly, the Franklin theory is that electricity and matter in combination form a neutral substance, which is the atom of matter as we known it.

The most interesting part of the problem for ourselves, says Sir Oliver, is the explanation of matter in terms of electricity, the view that electricity is, as Franklin seems to have supposed, the fundamental "substance." What we men of today have been accustomed to regard as an indivisible atom of matter is thus built out of electricity. All atoms—atoms of all sorts of "substances"—are built up of the same thing. In our day, to put it more clearly, the theoretical and proximate achievement of what philosophers from Franklin's day to ours have always sought—a unification of matter—is offering itself to physical enquiry.—Current Literature.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

SAM WAINWRIGHT IS RE-APPOINTED

Engineer of Fire Department, Road Roller and Related Duties at His Old Salary--The City Will Not Pay for Telephone in Foreman Paokenham's House--T. A. S. were Granted Remission of Taxes.

The city fathers met in regular session last night, the last meeting before September 1st. There were present, Mayor R. F. McWilliams and Aldermen Johnston, Elliott, Leary, Stevenson, Bradburn, Morgan, Duncan, Wilson, McIntyre, Morrow and Phelan.

TAXES EXEMPTED.

On motion of Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. Leary, the T.A.S. were granted remission of taxes as in previous years.

$40 DAMAGES.

Thos Barrie & Co., asked $40 in reimbursement for property damaged through their cellar being inundated on June 19th, with street surface water. This was referred to the Board of Works.

QUESTION OF DRAINAGE.

Mr. Hickey asked that the extreme north end of Bethune street, be opened up so as to permit of draining that locality, and thus avoiding injury to private property. This was referred to the Board of Works with power to act.

EXTENSION OF WATER.

Mr. Pollock asked that the water service be extended to Dufferin St., on Concession street, east ward. A petition for this work had been forwarded the council.

The mayor explained that the water commissioners would not extend the water main further than Hazlitt street, as they claim that heir would not be sufficient call for the service to warrant them so doing.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That this matter be referred to the Fire, Water & Light Committee with power to act should they find the city is entitled to another hydrant in this locality.—Carried.

FINANCE REPORT.

The Finance Committee's report as below, including recommendation for payment of a number of accounts, was submitted by Ald. Bradburn;

That the collector of taxes be paid $100 a year to cover the expenses of his guarantee bonds and postage.

That the city treasurer be paid $1000 a year from June 1st, 1907, on the same basis as at present, and that the question of having all assistance required employed by the council be taken up later.

That the salary of the city clerk be increased $150 per annum from from June 1st, 1907, and that the question of engaging assistance for his office be dealt with later.

That the annual membership fee of $15 be paid to the Ontario Municipal Association.

That the city assessors be paid $100 each on account of their salary for this year.

Ald McIntyre objected to the increase of salaries above alluded to on the ground that city teamsters when asking a commensurate increase with the present purchasing power of the dollar should have received the same consideration as the Finance Committee purpose extending the above city officials.

Ald McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the three clauses referring to increase of salaries for the clerk, treasurer and tax collector be struck out.

Ald. Morgan offered that he seconded Ald McIntyre's motion on the ground that in a few moments a report will be submitted, recommending Sam Wainwright's re-engagement, but beating him down to a salary $600 a year Wainwright is entitled to the $700 he asked as much as other officials are worthy the increases proposed.

Ald. Bradburn contended that the system of city officials' engagements would never read satisfactorily to the public until the appointment and payment of their assistants rest entirely with the council. The public apparently do not realize that out of the salaries reported in the auditors' reports against the clerk and treasurer these officials pay their own assistants.

Ald McIntyre's motion was lost, and the report adopted as read.

WAINWRIGHT RE-ENGAGED.

Ald Johnston submitted the report of the Fire, Water & Light Committee Amongst other clauses already published, the report recommended that S F Whinwright be re-appointed engineer of the fire department and road roller and related duties at the same salary as he was paid before, namely, $600 a year.

The report was adopted as read.

NO PHONE FOR PAKENHAM.

Ald Johnston moved, seconded by Ald McIntyre,—That a phone be supplied in Foreman Pakenham's house at the expense of the city.—Lost, only the mover and seconder and Ald Morgan voting for the resolution.

PAY FOR TIME LOST.

Ald Morgan offered that Haywood, who was injured through the collapse of scaffolding used for diversion of the creek in that ward, should be paid for the three days he lost through the accident. It was he contended, manifestly unfair to dock the man when he was injured through the oversight of a city official. The chairman of the Board of Works was authorized to pay Haywood for his lost time.

NAMING OF STREETS

Ald. Stevenson offered that the naming of streets on the pavements is confusing to strangers at cross streets; one cannot tell to which streets the names allude. A more intelligent method should be employed. He would also advocate that street naming be abolished altogether, and that the streets be numbered as in most American cities. He will bring these matters up at a future meeting in the way of motions.

ADVERTISE PETERBOROUGH.

Ald Elliott urged that steps be taken to advertise Peterborough abroad in the interest of securing new industries. No action was taken.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw authorizing the increase of salaries to city officials as above referred to, passed its several readings.

A bylaw to authorize local improvements, in the way of sidewalks, passed its requisite readings.

A bylaw to authorize the construction of sewers also passed its several readings.

A bylaw granting $400 to Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was adopted.

A bylaw to aid the Colonial Weaving Co., received its third reading.

STREET WATERING.

Ald. Morrow complained that George street, was not watered on Saturday from two till seven. He wanted this matter attended to.

His worship replied that this was occasioned through the fire hall teams being called out to the fire.

Ald. Wilson contended that a foot of water lies on Murray street opposite the drill shed. This is occasioned through the approaches made by the government, and steps should be taken to provide drainage at this point.

The Board of Works will attend to this matter.

STREET LIGHTING.

Ald. Johnston offered that a great number of our street lights are obscured by foliage; they should be suspended over the streets so as to get dollar for dollar out of the lighting system. Action will be taken in this matter in the near future.

New Mill for Rathbun Co?

The Bancroft Times says: We have it on good authority that the Rathbun Company of Deseronto, are contemplating the erection of a big factory — one of the biggest of its kind in Ontario—in this village. They have not yet decided on a site, but it will be either near the dam, or close to their sawmill. They inten to close up their business in Deseronto and move all the machinery away.

Exoursion Train in a Bad Wreok.

Butler, Pa., July 28.—In a wreck of an excursion train at Isle Station, about ten miles from here, on the Allegheny & Western Railroad, a part of the Bessemer and Lake Erie system, three persons were killed outright and a score or more injured.

The dead are; Fireman O. M. Bates, who was buried under his engine; Charles Neal of Dubois, Pa., passenger, and Ralph Dawson of Dubois, a trainmaster for the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad.

The most seriously injured are, Henry Harkins of Dubois, both legs broken; Alberts Lister, engineer, pinned beneath his engine, bones broken and scalded, recovery improbable, and a passenger named Smith of Dubois. The wreck is said to have been caused by a rail breaking beneath the engine drawing a heavy train of picnickers, who were employes of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad, on their way from Dubois to Newcastle. There were four or five hundred on the train.

A train with seven physicians started for the wreck.

A Review Reporter Was Shipwrecked

The Crew for Fully Ten Long Minutes Hung Desperately to Capsized Craft

A Review reporter has hardly recovered from a shipwreck he was in a couple of days ago. It seems that whilst out yachting in the five-ton sailing craft of a friend, with others, was making for Sandy Point, Clear Lake. Just as the gallant brig arrived into the clear stretch of the lake of that name, either the man saw a crane sitting on a log and forgot to watch his cowpas or the type got piped. Anyhow the approaching squall struck the t' 'gallant stun sails or the rudder mizzen, mainsail halliards or some such complicate part of their motive power and McGinty went to the bottom of the sea. However, as there is no killing a member of the 4th estate, our hero and his friends hung to the ship until a life boat arrived and rescued them in a very wet condition.

One-Legged Man Swims Mississippi

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—Charles G. Kilpatrick, a one-legged bicycle rider of Danville, Ill., swam the Mississippi at Alton, making his start from a point near the Alton waterworks pumping station. The swim is long and hard, because of the swift current and amount of drift wood floating.

Kilpatrick had not done any swimming in many years. Notwithstanding his handicap of being minus one leg, he was successful. Accompanied by a party of eight boys in rowboats, he landed scarcely an eighth of a mile lower down than the start. Kilpatrick used the overhand stroke all the way.

RUSSIA'S PLANS TO SETTLE SIBERIA

Movement From Russia to Far East Assuming Vast Proportions

GOVERNMENT HELPING IT

Peasants Sent to Remote Points in Empire to Check Expected Yellow Invasion.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—The emigration movement from Russia to Siberia has, since the beginning of the year, attained vast proportions. This sudden activity is due to desire to settle the Russian far east with Russians before the yellow wave breaks over it, and a desire to show that the government is working hard on the problem of agricultural distress. It will be impossible, however, to even partially solve the agrarian problem in any reasonable time by the settlement of Siberia, for there is not enough available land there and the settlers have neither the money nor the mental habits necessary for successful pioneers. Many of those who set out with a light heart and a lighter purse get stranded en route or return to tell stories of Siberia that effectively stop emigration in their village for a whole generation.

I have interviewed here M. Dmitrius Yanchivetsky, one of the Siberian emigration officials. According to this authority three expeditions are to start this year from Khabarovsk in order to find suitable spots for new settlements. One party goes east of Khabarovsk, in order to explore the mountains lying between the railway and the sea. These mountains have up to the present remained almost unexplored, and the population of this enormous region consists of a few Russians and Gilkyaks. The second expedition goes west of Khabarovsk, and the third goes along the north bank of the Amur as far as the sea.

M. Yanchivetsky is not too enthusiastic about finding an agricultural Eldorado in the district which he has to traverse, for it has been discovered that owing to the bad climate and the wet soil the wheat grown there acquires a peculiar property which has led the people to bestow on the loaves made from it the name of "drunken bread." This bread causes sickness, headache, and some of the effects of intoxication, and good bread probably cannot be produced till the country is properly cleared and drained.

"It is possible then," said I, "that this country cannot at present be cultivated."

M. Yanchivetsky said that in this case they would leave the country uncultivated. Thus it would be almost as great an obstacle to an invader as if it were thickly inhabitants. The fortifications at Nikolaivsk were not at present strong.

Col. Philip Figylemessy Expires

Philadelphia, July 27.—Col. Philip Figylemessy, Hungarian patriot and soldier of fortune, and friend of Kossuth and Garibaldi, is dead at his home in this city. He was born in Budapest in 1822, and early in life became imbued with the revolutionary spirit. He served in the Hungarian War of Independence, 1848-49; with Gen. Kossuth in Northern Italy, 1859; with General Garibaldi in Sicily and Naples, 1860; in the Italian regular army, 1861. During the American Civil war he served as colonel and additional aide de camp in the U.S. regular army, on the staff of General Fremont as Inspector-General, 1862-65.

For his services to the United States he was made consul to British Guiana in 1865, remaining in office till 1868, and while he was making a new record for himself in America the Austrian Government set a price on his head.

Young Man's Sad Death in the Water

Fred L. Fiss of Montcagle Killed During Illicit Hunt

A strong young life was suddenly cut off when Fred L. Fiss of Montcagle was drowned at noon on Tuesday, July 9, in what is known as Sylvan Lake. The unfortunate young man was in company with Mr. Wm. Best, Sr., on a prospecting tour, when they started to deer. Some excitement prevailed, and Fred was separated from Mr. Best, having gone to the north shore of the lake, while his companion remained on the south shore.

After the deer disappeared, the young man attempted to start a pine float, and, failing in this, began swimming the bay, and when Mr. Best last saw him he was making good headway, but cramps apparently left him helpless, and his lifeless body sank in 48 feet of water. Mr. Best gave the sword, and in spite of dilligent search by the neighbors, the body was not recovered until noon on Wednesday, July 10.—Bancroft Times.

"Leave the Music in the Saloons"

Hartford, July 27.—"Boolish anything else you please from the saloon," pleaded Senator McGovern yesterday in the senate, when the question of adhering or not to former action turning down the bill which gave local authorities the option as to whether there should be music in saloons, "but leave the music. Music hath power to soothe even a breast somewhat confused by liquor. Leave the music; it's elevating. Some time ago the city of Hartford was about to abolish the hand organ and the street piano, but so unpopular was this move that it was called off."

WILLIAM HAYWOOD WAS DISCHARGED

After a Year and a Half in Prison--Verdiot Was Returned at an Early Hour Sunday Morning--Governor Gooding Surprised, Will Press the Other Cases--Freed Man Sees His Mother--Orohard Says He Did His Duty and is Ready to be Hanged.

Boise, Idaho, July 30.—After eleven weeks on trial, charged with the murder, or complicity in the murder of Governor Frank Steunenberg, William D. Haywood, secretary treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, stepped out of the court room yesterday a free man. The jury had given its verdict—not guilty. After an all night session, the twelve good men and true declared that they were not convinced that the prosecution had shown that by any overt acts of his own the prisoner had sought to carry out the alleged conspiracy to murder. The verdict was given by twelve plain, blunt, uncultured farmers of Idaho, who formed the jury in this sensational case. Darrow's plea and Richardson's argument won over the logic of Senator Borah and the careful analysis of Hawley. The fighting secretary treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners escapes the martyr's crown which Darrow pictured him as willing to wear if need be, and goes back to Denver, where, to quote Borah, "he will raise more trouble."

COMMENTS ON RESULT

Governor Gooding: "The verdict is a great surprise to me, and I believe to all citizens of Idaho who have heard or read the evidence in the case. I have done my duty. I have no regret as to any action I have taken, and my conscience is clear. As long as God gives me strength, I shall continue my efforts for government by law and for organized society.

"The State will continue a vigorous prosecution of Moyer and Pettibone and Adams, and of Simpkins, when apprehended. There will be neither hestitation nor retreat."

Harry Orchard: "Well, I have done my duty. I have told the truth. I could do no more. I am ready to take any punishment that may be meted out to me for my crime, and the sooner it comes the better."

TWENTY LIVES ENDED

Flames Swept Through Tenement Building Before Oooupants Could Escape--Bodies of Dead Were Found in All Sorts of Unexpected Places by Rescuers.

New York, July 30.—After an all night search of the ruins of the six-storey tenement at No. 222 Christie street, which was burned shortly after midnight, the police announced that there were twenty victims of the fire. The bodies of the dead were found in all sorts of unexpected places, to which persons had fled when the fire broke out. Almost all of the bodies were burned beyond recognition many to such an extent that it was impossible to distinguish the sex. A majority of the victims, the police believed were women and children.

Only five of the victims had been identified up to an early hour today. They were Marlite Di Delico, his wife, Amelia, and their two infant children, and Frank Shields, a bed-ridden cripple, who was carried out alive by the firemen, but who succumbed to his injuries soon after his rescue.

The burned building was one of those old fashioned tenements common to the east side, with a store on the ground floor and the apartments upstairs crowded with tenants, mainly Italians. The fire started in the store and swept through the building with such rapidity that a fifth of the hundred tenants in the place met a horrible death. Another score, though they escaped with their lives, were more or less burned or otherwise injured.

MONEY NOT CLAIMED.

Many Peterboro and County Citizens Have Unclaimed Balances in the Banks of Canada --List of Names with Amount Due Each Person Will be Found Below.

The Annual Report issued by the Dominion Government of unclaimed money in various chartered banks of Canada is to hand. This report is for five years and upwards prior to Dec. 31st, 1906. Last year we published a list of unclaimed balances seemingly belonging to people in estates of this city as well as of surrounding villages and nearby townships. We note that the list of such local sums is considerably shorter in the current report than in that we presented our readers last year. It is possible that our report may thus have called attention to several owners of such unclaimed funds and that they have secured their money. In this issue we give a list of persons, with date of last transaction with such respective banks and the sum due opposite each name and date. This list of unclaimed balances fill a book over 600 pages thick, and shows unclaimed monies owned in nearly every country in the world from Labrador to Brazil and Alaska to the Philippine Islands. We note that in the National Bank's statement that Le Comple de Travault has an unclaimed balance of 6 francs thus showing that European noblemen are not all "broke" yet. Also we find that T. J. Cithers, whose last known address was the "Poor House," had $66.17 in 1899, the transaction being made that year at Skagway by the Bank of Commerce. Is this some unfortunate to whom this money had been sent by some possible lucky winner and that the untended recipient had died before its receipt?

The list of local unclaimed monies is as follows;

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood an dmucous surfaces of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

PERMANENT HOME FOR CHILDREN'S AID

Committee of Whole Council Express Their Willingness to Cooperate with City Trust in the Matter of a Site for This Purpose.

The city fathers met in Committee of the Whole last night, when there were present, Mayor McWilliams and Aldermen Stevenson, Leary, Morrow, Elliott, Wilson, Bradburn, Morgan, McIntyre and Phelan.

Mr Denham, of the Quaker Oats Company, asked that the line of Hunter street, at the west end of the bridge be changed, so that the street line parallels the Quaker Oats building. This would mean the transfer of a small triangular piece of land at the south of Hunter street in this locality, now owned by the company, to the city in return for an equal portion of property at the north side of Hunter street, now owned by the city.

Such a transfer would apparently not entail any loss to the city, and would be a matter of considerable convenience to the Quaker Oats people. At the same time the north sidewalk line of Hunter street, to the bridge would remain the same as at present, but the company should they acquire the triangular portion of land between their building and the walk, would then be in a position to pave and otherwise fix up the land surrounding their up-to-date buildings on presentable lines.

HOME FOR CHILDREN'S AID.

The mayor raised the question of the city taking steps to offer an acceptable home for the Children's Aid Society. The farm building on the Hilliard property, at a nominal rental, was suggested by Ald Leary as a decent proposition for the city to make. The city is now granting this society $300 a year toward their praiseworthy operations, which contribution should still remain in force even should the city give the society a lease of the buildings in question free of rental, urged Ald Leary.

The county gives an annual grant of $75 to the society.

Ald Wilson moved, seconded by Ald Duncan,—That this council express its willingness to cooperate with the commissioners of the city trust with a view to conveying or leasing to the Children's Aid Society, a portion of the Hilliard farm for a site for a permanent shelter. And that this matter be left in the Property Committee's hands.—Carried.

GRANT FOR EXHIBITION.

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition be given a grant of $400 this year.

Ald Leary moved in amendment, seconded by Ald Johnston,—That the grant be $500.

Ald Leary offered that the society are not asking any subscriptions from merchants this year, and he thought a grant of $500 little enough from the corporation considering the benefit reaped by the city in general from this fair.

The motion carried, and the Agricultural Society will get a grant of $400.

MORE LIGHT.

Ald. Wilson suggested that the Fire, Water and Light Committee have four incandescent lamps placed on Brock street, between St. Andrew's church and Aylmer streets.

This matter was left in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, with power to act.

MILK TESTS.

Ald. McIntyre objected that the tests of milk have not yet been published by the Board of Health. Such tests he claimed could be made in Peterborough, by Mr Downham, and he wanted authority to have this testing of milk enforced.

Ald Stevenson pointed out that Mr. Downham is not going to make milk tests for his health, he will want to be paid for such work.

Ald. Johnston thought the Board of Health too slow, and he moved that this matter be referred to the Property Committee with power to act.—Carried.

PROSECUTION HAS A VERY STRONG CASE

Evidence Against Alleged Pickpockets So Far Seems to be Much Against Them--Deep Interest Is Taken in the Case.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the county court room was crowded almost to its capacity with a crowd interested, directly or indirectly in the trial of the four alleged pickpockets, Phelps, Bradford, Lewis and Goldfield. At the hour specified, his honor Judge Weller, ascended the rostrium Mr. W. G. Johnston, the well-known local barrister, acted as scribe. Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., carried on the prosecution, whilst O'Connell & Gordon, and Mr. Kerr of Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, acted for the prisoners.

Wm. J. Hurley, the first witness in the case of the pickpockets, went into the box, and said he lives at Young's Point, and was in the city on June 25th (Sunday) and his daughter after dinner went to the circus by street car, from Simcoe street.

Here Mr Kerr for two of the prisoners objected to the presence of other witnesses, especially P. C. Newhall. Mr Wood, prosecuting attorney, however, required the presence of this witness in an advisory capacity.

Mr. Hurley went on to say that his daughter got aboard the car first and as he got aboard, a man whom he recognized in court as Phelps, pushed into him (he felt something feeling at his pockets, and then at Charlotte street got off, as he had felt a bag containing this money was gone. It contained $13. Phelps, as he got on, when pushing him said, if you were not smoking they might let you on."

To Mr. Kerr, he got $10 out of the bank at 11 that morning. He put the money into his pocketbook and did not pull it out again till paying for his dinner. He had a drink with a friend after dinner, but the friend paid for it. He then took his daughter to see the procession. There was not much of a crowd about him whilst watching it. When crowded by Phelps he felt what seemed a hand in his pocket and at once thought he was being robbed, but he could not grab the supposed hand as his arms were crowded up. If he had met Phelps later on in Toronto, he would not have sworn to him. He again met Phelps that same evening in the police station, when he had been told by someone that the pickpockets had been caught. He could not swear which cell Phelps was in, but thought he was with another prisoner in the second cell.

Mr. O'Connell, counsel for two of the prisoners, after cross-examining witness for some time, was asked by Judge Weller whether the prisoner Phelps was his client, and if not he was not going to allow two lawyers to cross-examine the witness.

P. C. Newhall then went into the box, and said that at two o'clock, with plain coat and vest he jumped on a car, at Lansdowne and Lock streets, he saw the four prisoners acting suspiciously on a car. They entered the circus grounds but separated two and two but did not enter the circus. At the corner of George and Lake streets, he saw the four prisoners got in a car and rode to Brock street. Here on old man with parcels was on the corner of George street near the G. T. R. & P. Co. office. Phelps deliberately blocked the old man's way to a car. He has since recognized the old man Prisoner Bradford, put his hand into the old man. Mr Hartley's coat tail pocket and took something out. Prisoners then jumped on a south-bound George street car, and were jostling everyone. At Charlotte street they got off and walked up as far as the White House. Witness then lost sight of them and went to the station to report. The officer then went on and gave a long and detailed account of the prisoners' actions on the day in question.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

When the court opened at three p. m. P. C. Newhall went into the box for cross-examination by the defence, but the counsel for the defence were not ready.

Chas Mitchell, a G.T.R. conductor, recognized Phelps, Lewis and Goldfield, as having come from Toronto to Peterborough in a smoking car on June 25th. He thought Bradford was asleep in the passenger car but could not swear to him. The first three seemed to know one another.

To Mr. O'Connell, he saw photographs of these prisoners and recognized them; he had a particular reason for remembering two of the men.

Mr Wood here asked, "What were the circumstances you referred to as particularly remembering two of these men?"

Mr O'Connell objected, but his honor said, "What we want is to get at

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue!

Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red.

Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated.

Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness; this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo. O'Hagarty, of Amherst, N. S., writes: "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be without the pills for ten times their price."

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

TYRANNY OF THE MOSQUITO

A method for ridding the world of mosquitoes seems but a tame achievement in comparison with many others of modern science, yet it is one that presents more difficulties. In spite of all that has been accomplished along this line the tiny pest continues its pace destroying man and man still flees before it. Screens and nets, smudges and ointments seem to fail of their purpose, and if one swallow does not make a summer at least one mosquito will make a summer's misery.

It is curious what power for evil lies within these hated insects. They can break up a lawn fete, put an end to scientific discussion, and make a lover's avowal a thing not worth listening to. The most beautiful landscape is rendered unattractive by their presence, and the sweetest of music loses its charm when accompanied by the till too familiar hum. Magic wands have been waved before these evil things, but they seem to be powerless, or, perhaps, are not tipped with the right poison. But no one doubts the fact that some benefactor is to arise who will know how to cope with these abhorred pests and who will give to summer a peace and serenity now unknown.

ONTARIO WHEAT AND FLOUR

A few years ago before wheat-growing in the Great West had reached anything like its present proportions, Ontario farmers bartered their own wheat to the nearest mill, and during the grinding talked politics with their neighbors till the time to return contentedly with feed or flour for home use. If at that time some soothsayer had predicted that in some sections of the province wheat growing would be abandoned on account of Western competition, and that farmers would refuse to accept flour made from their own wheat when Manitoba flour was available, they would have smiled pityingly on the poor deluded pessimist.

But this decline in the market is exactly what has happened to the Ontario farmer. Millers are now able to run only eight or ten hours a day, with the result that feed costs nearly double what it did in the days before the Western competition had cut into the market. It is safe to assert that during the last twenty years farmers of Ontario have lost millions through the decline in the demand for Ontario flour in this province.

While here in Ontario Western flour has gained an enviable ascendancy, enterprising Ontario millers have been able to compete successfully with Western flour in the Maritime Provinces where Ontario blended flours have captured the market. Enough Western wheat is added to the finely flavored, nourishing Ontario wheat to bring up the percentage of gluten to the proper strength, and now, even in Ontario the most popular loaf sold by the largest firm of bakers is made of Ontario blended flour, and the public have been quick to respond wherever the new bread is put upon the market, as it is now shipped daily to a number of towns throughout Ontario.

What has won the unprejudiced approval of the Eastern Provinces ought to be well worth the attention of the Ontario farmers, whose interests are best served by doing all in their power to encourage the sale of Ontario wheat. As the new flours find their way into general use throughout the homes of Ontario, the wheat market will improve, and stockmen may expect to secure bran and shorts at a more reasonable figure. Increased demand for Ontario blended flour will doubtless have a great deal to do in evening up the difference in prices between Ontario and Manitoba wheat.

Six-Year-Old Children Work in Nottingham

London, July 27.—"It is said that children in Nottingham start lace work at four years of age, and I myself have seen six-year-old children at work," said Miss Squire, an inspector of factories, in giving evidence yesterday before the House of Commons committee which is investigating the question of home work.

"It is quite a common thing at the dinner hour to see children busy at home with lace work," she continued. "They do not even wait to take off their hats or jackets before beginning. They are given something to eat on the way back to school.

"They also work in the evening, sometimes with their mothers and sometimes in neighbors' houses. Children 12 years old are found earning several shillings a week.

"In the Birmingham metal trade children are also employed at home sorting out small articles. In the past they were largely employed in the matchbox trade, and they still make boxes for tintacks and other small things."

Dealing with the very low prices paid for home work, Miss Squire said one case which came under her notice was that of a widow with two children. This woman made shirts at 3 3-4d a dozen, and she had to provide her own cotton, a 4d reel being used in making three dozen shirts. Her earnings varied from 5s to 8s a week.

Russian Regiment Ignores the Czar

St. Petersburg, July 28.—While Emperor Nicholas was reviewing the troops encamped at Krasnoye-Selo on Wednesday the Seminovsky regiment refused to participate in the manoeuvers, and broke up the order of parade. They demanded the retirement from their command of General Reiman, who, with Gen. Min, whom Reiman succeeded as command of the regiment when Min was assassinated at Peterof in August, last year, ruthlessly put down the Moscow uprising in December, 1905.

The regiment was immediately dismissed from parade, and its barracks searched. Much illegal literature and papers were found, and four soldiers of the regiment were placed under arrest. The authorities are trying to keep the matter secret because of the disaffection that exists in the remaining companies of the Preibrajensky regiment quartered here.

Will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, foul breath or complexion, as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. BASEBALL PLAYERS HURT

Haverhill, Mass., July 29.—During a storm yesterday afternoon lightning passed through a trolley car on which the New Bedford and Haverhill teams of the New England League riding in the stampede of passengers which followed Edward De Lave, catcher on the New Bedford team, was thrown headlong to the pavement and suffered concussion of the brain.

Nearly all of the 75 persons on the car suffered more or less serious injuries. Manager Jas. Canavan, of the New Bedford team was badly scratched and bruised, and two of his fingers were broken. Manager Hamilton and President Clohery of the Haverhill Club, also were hurt.

RUSSIA'S PLANS TO SETTLE SIBERIA

but though they could soon be taken, it must be remembered that the river was open for only four months each year, so that it was unlikely that an invading army would ever be sent down the Amur, as its line of communications would be soon cut off by the ice, and, even in summer time, it would experience the greatest difficulty in marching through this soft, boggy country. The only prize that could fall to such an army would be the town of Khabarovsk, which would be difficult to take, however, owing to its strong natural position. Gunboats could, of course, come down the Amur with a few troops on board, but could do little damage and would be exposed to a fearful risk from mines and shore batteries. In short, it is impossible that cautious fighters like the Japanese can ever dream of sending an army down the Amur.

Regarding the provision made for intending settlers, M. Yanchivetsky says that each emigrant gets 100 rubles ($50) in cash, is freed from taxes and from military service for a certain time, gets agricultural implements free, has the benefit of watching the work done in the experimental gardens that the government is establishing throughout Manchuria, and gets a cheap ticket on the railway.

AMUR DISTRICT FIRST.

The Amur district is to be settled first, owing to its critical position, in view of the overbearing Japan and an awakened China. Then the Zabaikal is to be settled, and lastly, Middle Asia. It will thus be seen that recent events in the Far East have entirely withdrawn all pressure from the Indian frontier. Russian jingoists and alarmists would hardly know what you were referring to if you spoke of Herat and the Pamirs. All their thoughts are fixed on Kamchatka, the Amur, the maritime province. The book store of the General Staff in St. Petersburg is full of works on Mongolia, Manchuria and Japan, but it would be impossible, I think, to purchase in it any recently published book on the near east save perhaps a thin official account of the project for joining the Turkestan and Sibirian Railway systems—a project which is not intended as a menace to India, but rather to facilitate the reinforcement of the Russian troops in Eastern Siberia.

Kamchatka is, according to M. Yanchivetsky, to be explored next year. Of course settlers cannot expect to live there by agriculture alone, but there and in the great province of Yatutsk the grass in some places is very good for two or three months in the year—sufficiently good to make cattle-raising profitable. But the settler in Kamchatka would have to be also a good hunter and fisher and if he had money enough to go in for fishing on a large scale, he could quickly become a millionaire.

M. Yanchivetsky finally remarked that the Amur Railway will not be so difficult a piece of engineering as the Baikal Railway, for the reason that it can be made to zigzag or go around obstacles, whereas the Baikal line had to go straight through them. This remark had been previously made to me by an engineer who has lately been in the Far East.

There is no doubt that the Russian Far East will ultimately be settled, but I am in doubt as to whether it will be settled by yellow skins or white skins, for, against all the elaborate preparations of the Russian government of which I have just spoken, must be put the indifference and suspicion of the Russian people. The average muzhik says: "You are trying to hustle me out to the Far East so that I may not press my claim for a slice of these fat monastic and seignorial lands which belong by right to the peasantry. Thanks, I think I'll stay."

Of course the bureaucratic Novoe Vremya is a strong supporter of the emigratio policy. It points out that according to very careful calculations there is ample room in Siberia for 15,000,000 families, each family having fifteen dessiatins (about forty acres). Then there still remains to be colonized, of course, the Caspian district which, with Siberia, will yet, in the opinion of the Novoe Vremya, make Russia a formidable rival of America, the Argentine and the other great agricultural countries of the world.

The Novoe Vremya thinks the Russian peasant's reluctance to go to Siberia is due to his ignorance of it or rather to the false impression he has formed of it as a sidn of eternal cold, fit only for convicts and savages. It points out that Siberia is inhabited almost entirely by Russians, native races being very few. The mineral wealth of the country is unlimited. The climate is severe, but when the axe and plough have done their work the climate will undoubtedly improve. The 50,000 settlers who pass every month through Tcheliabinsk are wiser than their brethren who go to foreign countries like America and lose their nationality.

The Money That's Being Made in Western Canada LAND

In October, 1906 we sold 5,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands to an Indiana party of men at $8 per acre, and resold it this year at $12, making just about 100 per cent. on the money invested.

A Montreal party of men who bought 10,000 acres from us at $8 per acre last September, resold through us within three months at $10.00 per acre.

A Chicago client writes us, that after making some improvements on a section she bought near Regina, one year ago, she sold out recently for exactly twice what she paid for the land.

We resold a section of land located near Lipton for a man at $18.00 per acre last April, which we sold him in December at $12.00.

Western Canada Lands offer the greatest opportunity this continent has ever known

Men here are growing wealthy who never knew success in any other line. You can make money here too, if you think your amount too small club it with a few friends. Some of the most prominent financial men in the United States and Eastern Canada are now interested in this country heavily.

We own about 200,000 acres of the finest wheat and mixed farming lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Picked lands on which we are prepared to give accurate trustworthy information, and these tracts being portions of extremely large purchases, we can sell them at prices that cannot be equalled, quality of land considered, by any firm in this country.

Prices range from $6.00 per acre upwards Reasonable Terms in every case

Write us for further information but when doing so tell us the class and amount of an investment you desire, and whether you want the land for your own use or for investment purposes purely. $1,000 is about the minimum we can handle. References Union Bank and Traders' Bank, Winnipeg.

SIREN WAFERS DEVELOP THE BUST

SHE'S A QUEEN! SHE'S A SIREN!

Is an expression that is always heard in sight of a well developed woman. If you are flat chested, with a BUST undeveloped, a scrawney neck, thin lean arms —the above remark will never be applied to you. "SIREN" wafers will make you beautiful, bewitching. They DEVELOP the BUST in a few weeks from 3 to 6 inches and produce a fine firm, voluptuous bosom. They fill out the hollow places. Make the cheeks plump and rosy, and arms handsome and well molded and the neck and shoulders shapely and of perfect contour.

Send for a bottle today and you'll be pleased and grateful. "SIREN" wafers are absolutely harmless, pleasant to take and convenient to carry around. They are sold under guarantee to do all we claim or MONEY back.

Price $1.00 per bottle. Inquire at good drug stores or send DIRECT to us.

FREE!

During the next 30 days only—we will send you a sample bottle of these beautifying wafers on receipt of 10 cents to pay cost of packing and postage if you will mention that you saw the Advertisement in this paper. The sample alone may be sufficient if defects are trivial.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"They want you," he said, after a pause. "Some one's come for you."

"Oh, is grandfather waiting?" She rose, at the same time letting her handkerchief fall. She stooped to pick it up with her face away from Norbert and toward the palms, whispering tremulously, but with passionate urgency, "Please go!"

"It isn't your grandfather that has come for you," said the fat one slowly. "It is old Eskew Arp. Something's happened."

She looked at him for a moment, beginning to tremble violently, her eyes growing wide with fright.

"Is my grandfather—is he sick?"

"You better go and see. Old Eskew's waiting in the hall. He'll tell you."

She was by him and through the window instantly. Norbert did not follow her; he remained for several moments looking earnestly at the palms; then he stepped through the window and beckoned to a youth who was lounging in the doorway across the room.

"There's somebody hiding behind those plants," he whispered when his friend reached him. "Go and tell Judge Pike to send some of the niggers to watch outside the porch, so that he doesn't get away. Then tell him to get his revolver and come here."

Meanwhile Ariel had found Mr. Arp waiting in the hall talking in a low voice to Mrs. Pike.

"Your grandfather's all right," he told the frightened girl quickly. "He sent me for you, that's all. Just hurry and get your things."

She was with him again in a moment and, seizing the old man's arm, hurried him down the steps and toward the street almost at a run.

"You're not telling me the truth," she said—"you're not telling me the truth!"

"Nothing has happened to Hoge," panted Mr. Arp. "Nothing to mind, I mean. Here! We're going this way, not that." They had come to the gate, and as she turned to the right he pulled her round sharply to the left. "We're not going to your house."

"Where are we going?"

"We're going to your Uncle Jonas'."

"Why?" she cried in supreme astonishment. "What do you want to take me there for? Don't you know that he's stopped speaking to me?"

"Yes," said the old man grimly, with something of the look he wore when delivering a clincher at the National House; "he's stopped speaking to everybody."

CHAPTER V.

THE Ossaan Daily Toesin of the following morning "ventured the assertion" upon its front page that "the scene at the Pike mansion was one of unalloyed festivity, music and mirth; a fairy bower of airy figures waltzing here and there to the throb of waltz strains; a veritable temple of Terpsichore, shining forth with a myriad of lights, which, together with the generous profusion of floral decorations and the mingled delights afforded by Minds' orchestra of Indianapolis and Caterer Jones of Chicago, was in all likelihood never heretofore surpassed in elegance in our city. Only one incident," the Toesin remarked, "marred an otherwise perfect occasion, and out of regard for the culprit's family connections, which are prominent in our social world, we withhold his name. Suffice it to say that through the vigilance of Mr. Norbert Flitcroft, grandson of Colonel A. A. Flitcroft, who proved himself a thorough Lecoq (the celebrated French detective), the rascal was seized and recognized. Mr. Flitcroft having discovered him in hiding, had a cordon of waiters drawn up around his hiding place, which was the charmingly decorated side piazza of the Pike mansion, and sent for Judge Pike, who came upon the intruder by surprise. He evaded the judge's indignant grasp, but received a well merited blow over the head from a poker which the judge had concealed about his person while pretending to approach the hiding place casually. Attracted to the scene by the cries of Mr. Flitcroft, who, standing behind Judge Pike, accidentally received a blow from the same weapon, all the guests of the evening sprang to view the scene, only to behold the culprit leap through a crevice between the strips of canvas which inclosed the piazza. He was seized by the colored coachman of the mansion, Sam Warden, and immediately pounced upon by the cordon of Caterer Jones' dusky assistants from Chicago, who were in ambush outside. Unfortunately after a brief struggle he managed to trip Warden and, the others stumbling upon the prostrate body of the latter, to make his escape in the darkness."

Not quite a mile above the northernmost of the factories on the water front there projected into the river near the end of the crescent bend above the town a long pier, relic of steamboat days, rotting now and many years fallen from its maritime uses. About midway of its length stood a huge, crazy shed, long ago utilized as a freight storeroom. This had been patched and propped, and a dangerous looking veranda attached to it, overhanging the water. Above the doorway was placed a sign whereon might be read the words, "Beaver Beach, Mike's Place." The shore end of the pier was so ruinous that passage was offered by a single row of planks, which presented an appearance so temporary as well as insecure that one might have guessed their office to be something in the nature of a drawbridge. From these a narrow path ran through a marsh left by the receding river to a country road of desolate appearance. Here there was a rough inclosure or corral, with some tumbledown sheds which afforded shelter on the night of Joseph Louden's disgrace for a number of shaggy teams attached to those decrepit and musty vehicles known picturesquely and accurately as night hawks.

By 3 o'clock joy at Mike's place had become beyond question unconfined, and the tokens of it were audible for a long distance in all directions. If, however, there is no sound where no ear hears, silence rested upon the countryside until an hour later. Then a lonely figure came shivering from the direction of the town not by the road, but slinking through the snow upon the frozen river. It came slowly, as though very tired, and cautiously, too, often turning its head to look behind. Finally it reached the pier and stopped as if to listen.

Within the house above a piano of evil life was being beaten to death for its sins and clamoring its last cries horribly. The old shed rattled in every part with the thud of many heavy feet and trembled with the shock of noise, an incessant roar of men's voices, punctuated with women's screams. Then the riot quieted somewhat. There was a clapping of hands, and a violin began to squeak measures intended to be oriental. The next moment the listener scrambled up one of the rotting piles and stood upon the veranda. A shaft of red light through a broken shutter struck across the figure above the shoulders, revealing a bloody handkerchief clumsily knotted about the head and beneath it the face of Joe Louden.

Joe opened the door and went in. All of the merry company (who were able) turned sharply toward the door as it opened. One or two nearest the door asked the boy, without great curiosity, what had happened to his head. He merely shook it faintly in reply and crossed the room to an open hallway beyond. At the end of this he came to a frowzy bedroom, the door of which stood ajar. Seated at a deal table and working by a dim lamp with a broken chimney, a close cropped, red bearded, red haired man in his shirt sleeves was jabbing gloomily at a column of figures scrawled in a dirty ledger. He looked up as Joe appeared in the doorway, and his eyes showed a slight surprise.

AIDS TO BEAUTY.

At night apply to the nose an ointment made after this formula: One dram of powdered sulphur, two and one-half drams of powdered starch, one and one-half ounces of ointment of zinc oxide and three drops of oil of rose.

A red nose is often the outward sign of a deranged stomach, and the ruddy glow will disappear with the return of normal digestion. Drink hot water every morning before breakfast. Wear loose clothing, for tight lacing will produce this flamboyant condition almost invariably.

The following mixture has been found excellent for the blotting out of moth patches: Thirty grains of bismuth oxide, thirty grains of pulverized starch, one fluid dram of kaolini, two fluid drams of glycerin and two fluid drams of rosewater. Paint the spot with this at bedtime, bathing away next morning.

Living Room.

In a living room where all things receive constant use, and hard use at that, it is often something of a problem to know what to have as covering for the couch cushions, beauty being desired as well as durability. The materials that have proved most satisfactory from every point of view are the art tickings, cretonnes and chintzes. These all stand repeated laundering as well as hard wear. They are pretty and possessed of great variety as to color and design. Stripes, floral designs galore and beautiful Persian pat-

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell

This Company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing all kinds of Iron, Steel, Metal and Wooden Goods, Agricultural Implements, etc., and to carry on the business of a foundry.

They are now turning out specialties in Ornamental Iron Work, Fences, Crestings, etc., for which there is a great demand far in excess of the present facilities of the Company.

Winnipeg and the West offers an unlimited market for the products, guaranteeing a paying investment from the start.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, and this opportunity to purchase will not return.

The encouragement, coupled with the unexcelled opportunities open to such an enterprise, are in themselves sufficient guarantee of absolute safety and large profits.

Dainty Window Curtains.

One can have much prettier window curtains and with the expenditure of less money by making them oneself than by buying them.

Two pairs of beautiful curtains for a bedroom or dining room window may be made of bobbinet worked with luster thread. They are hemmed on both sides and one end with a three-quarter inch hem, but the luster, which is rather coarse, is run in and out through the holes of the net for three or four rows to give the appearance of a wider hem.

Papers Under Mattress.

Lay two thicknesses of newspapers on the bed springs and then lay the mattress on the papers. This keeps the mattress from getting black marks on it. Sometimes in rainy weather the springs get rusty and it gets on the mattress, but if you keep papers on the surface it sticks on all the most.

Watery Blood

Nerves are Weak
Face is Pallid
You Lack Strength
You Look Sickly.

Until You Ironize and Fortify the Blood There's No Hope of Cure

Thousands of tired workers need the invigoration, the strength, the nerve-force which Ferrozone can supply.

Ferrozone imparts strength because it nourishes.

Ferrozone is able to nourish because it supplies to the blood the elements it lacks.

Once the blood is vitalized, its tonic influence is circulated to every nook and corner of the blood, carrying new life with it.

Cases on record prove that Ferrozone builds up when else fails. Mr. Alonzo W. Douglas, of Woodbridge, Ont., says: "I desire to state the results I derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with pneumonia. So severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress towards recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable powers of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer inquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars about my recovery. Ferrozone deserves its great measure of success."

When a man in Mr. Douglas' low condition can be quickly cured, aren't the chances good for you? Don't fail to try Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

Local Fishermen to be Watched

It is rumored that some parties who come to the Kawartha Lakes district make very large catches of fish, contrary to the game laws, and that these fish are shipped out in boxes. The inspector intends to recommend that the guides keep the fishermen within the limit, and anyone who allows a larger catch than the law says will lose his license.

Local Plumber Gets Large Contract

Mr. C. J. A. Duranceau has just received and placed, four carloads of plumbing supplies. A large part will be used in the plumbing of the Collegiate Institute, the North Ward school, and the Lake-street school extensions. He claims that this is the largest single consignment of such goods ever received here.

Prominent Citizens at Trial

A large number of prominent citizens attended the trial of the alleged pickpockets yesterday. Among the hundreds present, were seen, License Inspector Stewart, Mr. T. Eastwood, Mr. Alex. Elliott, Mr. Jas. Bogue, Mr. Adam Hall, Mr. Thos. Rush, the pastor of a prominent Baptist church, Mr. G. K. Martin, Mr. Jos. Guerin, Mr. T. Delaire, Mr. Crowley the mining expert, and others too numerous to mention.

Baseball Club Mascot's Pictures

Members of the Peterborough baseball club have sets of post cards that they have been disposing of to the fans, and thereby raising a little money. They are pictures by L. Mendell, of Manager Johnston's little boy, the mascot of the club, and known to the players as "Buster." He is portrayed in three different poses, one with a catcher's mit, kneeling, and giving a sign in a clever manner, in another he is about to pitch a ball, and in the third he is standing in a watching attitude, with the word "Peterborough," plainly visible on the waist.
